

VENTION ANGES
URN
Ranges.
large tops, and all the holes are Booby's Regula-the five under the five most with all Mod.
WARDS
RT" WELL DONE."
den Stove
ST. se Buder Perfect Stove in ICES. and will guaranteer the quality of customers' trade.
ARE ng Goods.
d Stoves repaired SHEET LEAD in stock
a full stock of
at Prices.
BORN,
ST.
Market!
ER'S
ranconia
RANGES, is at the same respect. Also, elated
RT
OVES. and is prepared nd Office DS ATTERNS.
RATES. stock, will be ab-attended to.
OWS,
rect.
STUDIO
Russell,
ST.
TOGRAPHS
ription.
orally to call and sing elsewhere,
a specialty.
from the small-shop in EXHIBIT 2.
WALNUT and
and, Screw Eyes, STREET,
SAL CHURCH
ST.
SON,
Quincy.
LUMBER.
ards,
Pickets,
Laths, &c.
TO ORDER. with RICHARD
L. Quincy.
S IC US PEST OGERS
NEW YORK
1855
1856
AL BLOCK.
urn his friends
moved his stock
's Store, supply of getables
&c., SOLD LOW.
HICKS.
if

THE QUINCY PATRIOT,
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING
— BY —
N. ELIZABETH GREEN
— AND —
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT.
TERMS: $2.50 per year, in advance; $3.00, if not paid before the close of the year.
Office: 64 Hancock Street,
OVER MR. CLAPP'S STORE.
Posters, Cards, Billheads,
Circulars, Labels, Programmes, &c.
PRINTED PROMPTLY.
On the Most Reasonable Terms, and Greatly Below Boston Prices.

W. H. SHERMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon.
WILLIAM SHERMAN, M. D., is a physician and surgeon, and is permanently located at Room C, Whitcher's Block,
Quincy, and is prepared to treat both surgical and medical diseases either at his office or at the homes of his patients.
N. B. Wednesday of each week, from 9 A.
M. to 1 P. M., Dr. Sherman will give his services free of charge.
Quincy, Sept. 29

MARY K. GALE, M. D.
HOMOEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN,
Woburn Heights.
OFFICE—Residence of Mr. Geo. W. B.
Quincy, Newbury Ave., near railroad depot.
Office Hours—7 to 9 A. M., 3 to 6 P. M.
Quincy, March 1.

L. F. BUTLER, M. D.
HOMOEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN,
GRANITE STREET (Cor. Hancock St.),
QUINCY.
OFFICE HOURS: 8 1/2 to 10 A. M.; 1 1/2 to 4 P. M.; Quincy, March 13.

Dollars and Cents
In the Pockets of the People
SAVED!!
1500 BOTTLES OF MEDICINES AND FAN-TASTIC GOODS at the Peoples Drug Store,
WHITCHER'S BLOCK, TEMPLE ST.
EGGINS & WELB.
Quincy, Sept. 13.

Charles S. French,
DENTIST.
Cor. Hancock and Chestnut Streets.
All operations in Dentistry skillfully performed. Either on Nitrous Oxide Gas Anesthesia. Office open day or evening.
Quincy, Nov. 14.

DR. F. J. BONNEY,
DENTIST!
HAWKS BLOCK - - - DIRECTOR STREET
All operations in Dentistry skillfully performed. Teeth extracted by the use of the Nitrous Oxide Gas.
Office open Day and Evening.
Quincy, Feb. 23.

FRANCIS W. PARKER,
Superintendent of Schools.
OFFICE HOURS.
Sundays and Saturdays.
From 8 to 12 A. M.
Office in the National Granite Bank Building,
Quincy, May 8.

Wm. G. A. PATTEE,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
25 BERNBORN SQUARE,
BOSTON.
Office: 25 Bernborn School Street, Quincy.
Quincy, Jan. 14.

J. B. CHAFFIN,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
In John Q. Adams' Office.
Quincy, March 15.

A. W. HAYES,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
Office in the National Granite Bank Building,
Quincy, May 8.

JOHN O. HALL,
ACCOUNTANT.
Office: 107 North Street, Quincy.
Quincy, Jan. 14.

JOS. W. LOMBARD,
Architect and Real Estate Agent,
Hancock Court.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

CHARLES HATCH,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor.
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE 68
RAILROAD ST., near Quincy Station.
Quincy, Aug. 23.

WHITMAN & BRECK,
Civil Engineers & Surveyors
CORNER OF DEVONSHIRE & WATER STREETS,
BOSTON.
Extraordinary 35 Devonshire and 10 Water St. (at
Quincy, March 1.

The Quincy Patriot.

ESTABLISHED IN 1837.
A Family Paper devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.
NUMBER 40. QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1879. PRICE, 5 CENTS.

C. S. WHITTING,
DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF
FRESH FISH,
— AND —
OYSTERS,
QUINCY AVENUE, QUINCY
Quincy, Jan. 23.

BENJ. F. CURTIS,
— DEALER IN —
Hemlock, Spruce and Pine Lumber.
A full assortment constantly on hand.
CIVIL WHIRVES!!
Quincy, Jan. 19

ROBERTSON HOUSE,
QUINCY, MASS.
This new brick hotel, on Hancock Street, is now open for the accommodation of guests. It is provided with all modern improvements, such as Steam Heat, Bath Rooms, Water Closets, &c., and is the IDEAL PLACE for a family or for a party.
PLEASANT PARTIES can find here all the comforts home life enjoyed at an hotel. Location, near Quincy, Dec. 16.

H. FRENCH, JR.,
House and Sign Painter,
IN EVERY VARIETY.
Washington Street, Quincy.
Feb. 10

FREDERICK & FIELD.
Granite Monuments,
Cemetery and Building Work,
OF ALL DESCRIPTION.
Light, Medium and Dark Blue
QUINCY GRANITE.
FROM OUR OWN QUARRIES.
Or any other variety New England Granite furnished.

STEAM POLISHING WORKS.
Granite Statuary executed in the most Artistic Manner.
Bronze Statuary furnished to order.
Quincy, July 12.

P. H. GAVIN,
PLUMBER.
28 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Store formerly occupied by T. G. Emerson, in Adams' block.

AIR SLACKED LIME
— FOR SALE BY —
J. Loud & Co.,
— AT THE —
QUINCY GRAIN STORE.
The best Disinfectant for Purifying
Stables, Privies, Cesspools,
AND SPRINKLING IN CELLARS.
Quincy, July 26.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
Carpenters and Builders
DORNER SCHOOL AND PLEASANT STS.,
Quincy, Jan. 4

ISAIAH WHITE,
DEALER IN
FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC FRUIT
OF ALL KINDS.
Jellies and Preserves,
CANNED GOODS, &c.
100 Tremont Street, Boston.
(Under Horticultural Hall.)
May 31.

IRA LITCHFIELD,
Carpenter and Builder,
PEARL STREET,
SOUTH QUINCY.
Feb. 11

NOTICE.
The Subscriber would inform the citizens of Quincy that he is prepared to do general spring work—carriage, digging, earthening,
&c.
Special attention given to cleaning vaults.
TERESAUS KIRKMAN.
Box 544, Quincy Post Office.
Quincy, March 29.

NOTICE!
S. V. MELLOVEY,
STONE MASON AND CONTRACTOR,
would inform the public that he is ready for business again. Stone Work of all kinds. Wells dug and stone laid in order—
Particular attention given to setting Cemetery
Work of all kinds. Work done in a skillful manner. All orders left at his residence, Bol-don Street, West Quincy, Mass., or at P. O.
Box 75, will receive prompt attention.
Quincy, March 1.

FOUND DEAD.
Flies and other Insects, Bed
Bugs included, all killed by that Genuine Persian Powder.
Sold by J. H. YEAZIE.
N. B. Get the genuine at Yeazie's.
Quincy, June 28.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
50 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
5-year policies, 25 per cent. on 3 years, and 25
per cent. on all others.

This Company has been in operation over
24 years, has paid over $1,300,000 in losses
(250,000 of which was at the "Boston Fire"
of Nov. 1873) and over $200,000 in dividends
to policy-holders.
None but the safer classes of risks taken.
I. W. MUNROE, Pres. and Treas.
CHARLES A. HOWLAND, Sec'y
Quincy, April 1, 1879

Insurance Agency,
Established in Quincy in 1849
W. PORTER.
INSURANCE EFFECTED IN reliable and safe. STOCK AND MUTUAL OFFICES—by
W. PORTER & CO.,
At No. 27 STATE STREET, BOSTON.
Residence, Quincy, corner Adams and Hancock Streets
Quincy, April 26.

JOHN HARDWICK & CO.
Real Estate & Insurance
AGENTS.
Granite Street, Quincy.
Insurance secured in any reliable office.
Quincy, Feb. 10.

DORCHESTER.
Mutual Fire Insurance Company.
P. O. BOX 105, MASS.
WARD 13, BOSTON, MASS.
E. J. BAKER, Pres.; W. F. TEMPLE, Sec'y.
STATEMENT, JANUARY 1, 1879.
Amount Insured by 6,721 Policies, $10,854,126.00
Cost to Re-insure, 1,748.08
Unpaid Losses.

Cash Assets.
Real Estate, (Brick and Stone Dwellings), $2,400.00
U. S. Bonds, 4,800.00
U. S. 4 1/2 per cent Bonds ($20,000), 2,500.00
Old Colony Railroad Bonds, ($8,000), 1,000.00
Boston & Lowell Railroad Bonds ($5,000), 625.00
21 Shares Boston & Albany R. R. Stock, 2,500.00
148 Shares Old Colony Railroad Stock, 12,500.00
100 Shares Boston National Bank Stock, 17,125.00
Policies in course of collection, 12,500.00
Cash deposited in E. T. Davis & Co., 2,100.00
Furniture of Office and Halls, 1,000.00
Loan to Town of Quincy, 6,000.00 Amount of Deposit Notes available to pay losses, 38,500.41
$102,941.48
$102,941.48 available assets over and above required to reimburse all our risks.
The Company continues to insure the safe deposit of property at current rates, and to pay Return Premiums on terminated policies at 40 per cent. on five-year policies, 25 per cent. on three years, and 10 per cent. on all other policies.
— Separated, Feb. 2.

Hancock Street
DINING ROOM,
In Old P. O. Building.
THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the Public, that he has purchased the Dining Room recently conducted by Mr.
McHILL, and is prepared to furnish meals at all hours of the day, or board by the day or week, on the most reasonable terms. He will also keep for sale.
Oysters, Fruit, Ice Cream,
Confectionery, &c.,
J. H. JONES.
Quincy, Aug. 9.

Quincy Bakery.
THE subscriber would inform the citizens of Quincy and adjoining towns that he will continue to manufacture at his establishment Bread, Cake, and Pastry,
and all other articles usually found in any Bakery. Keeps constantly on hand all kinds of GINGER SNAPS, &c.
WM. A. HODGES.
Quincy, Jan. 21.

GENTS'
Blue Flannel Suits!
JUST RECEIVED.
A Large Lot of Middlesex and Assabet Indigo Flannel Suits, Warranted
Fast Colors.
— ALSO —
A Good Assortment of BUSINESS SUITS!
In Light and Dark Shades, — SELLING AT —
VERY LOW PRICES!
— AT —
George Saville's,
90 Hancock Street.
Quincy, May 17.

Poetry.
If You Should e'er get Married.
If you should e'er get married, John,
I'll tell you what to do—
Go get a little tenement,
Just big enough for two!
And one spare room for company,
And one spare bed within it—
If you begin love's life all aright,
You'd better thus begin it.

In furniture be moderate John,
And let the stuffed chairs wait;
One looking-glass will do for both,
Yourself and loving mate;
And Brussels, too, and other things,
Which make a fine appearance,
If you can better afford it, they Will look better a year hence.

Some think they must have pictures, John,
Superb and costly, too;
Your wife will be a picture, John,
And let the stuffed chairs wait;
A tent and love within it,
Is better than a splendid house,
With bickerings e'er 'ry minute.

And one word as to cooking, John—
For love, to make the biscuits, rise,
Is better far than yeast.
No matter if each day you don't Bring turkey to the table,
'Twill better relish by and by,
When you are better able.

For all you buy pay money, John,
Money earned every day;
If you would have your life run smooth,
There is no better way.
A note to pay is a ugly thing
(If thing you choose to call it),
When it hangs o'er a man who has
No money in his wallet.

And now when you are married John,
Don't try to ape the rich;
It took them many a tedious year
To gain their envied niche;
And if you can the summit, John,
Look well to your beginning,
And then will all you win repay
The care and toil of winning.

Receipts, Wit, &c.
APPLE PUDDING. One cup milk, one egg, one teaspoon cream tartar, one-half teaspoon soda flour to make a batter—Pour this over quartered apples and steam two hours. Sweet sauce.

JOHNNY CAKES IN CUPS. Three cups of Indian meal, one cup of wheat flour, three cups of this sour milk, two tablespoons of shortening, one teaspoon of soda, one teaspoon of soda; bake in a quick oven twenty minutes.

CROW-CROW. One-fourth peck green tomatoes, large head cabbage, six large onions, one dozen cucumbers, two dozen small onions, one-fourth pint grated horse radish, one-half pound white mustard seed, one-half ounce celery seed, one-fourth teaspoon ground pepper, three tablespoons tumeric, and two tablespoons brown sugar. Cut the cabbage, onions and cucumbers in small pieces and pack in salt over night; then drain and mix all the other ingredients; pack in a jar and pour boiling vinegar over to cover well; do this three mornings. Then have one box of good mustard mixed with one-fourth pint salad oil; mix very smooth and pour the boiling vinegar slowly over, stirring it to keep from lumping; then pour it over the crow-crow.

CROW-CROW. One peck of green tomatoes chopped fine; sprinkle one cup of salt over them and let stand over night; in the morning drain in a colander, add eight green peppers chopped fine, one cup of white sugar, cover with vinegar and boil twenty minutes. Chop fine, six large onions; two bunches—the white part—of celery, with three or four red peppers. Add to the other ingredients, when cool and drained, a cup of mixed mustard, whatever spice you like, and a pint of grated horse-radish.
Put into a stone jar, cover with cold vinegar and tie down tightly.

A Detroit crier a long and severe attack of neuralgia by falling down stairs. That's nothing. Some years ago a Norristown youth was cured of a bad habit of swearing by falling off a cherry tree. Not a single oath has escaped his lips since. The fall broke his neck.

A fellow, notorious for untruth-fulness, being advised to lay aside such an evil habit, said, "I can't help it."
"Poh!" said his adviser, "begin by telling one truth a day."

The "old-fashioned bucket" can still be found at thousands of wells, and no man can drink from it without slopping a pint of water down behind his vest.

The peculiarity of the fly is that he always returns to the same spot; but it is the characteristic of the mosquito that he always returns to another spot.
Thus he differs from the leopard which does not change his spots. This is an important fact in natural history.

A bright little girl not long since was urging her mother to go up stairs and hear her say her prayers before retiring.
Her mother, not finding it convenient, told her that Jesus could hear them just as well. "Jesus can't turn off the gas."

An exchange declares that the man who sat down in the middle of the pasture expecting that a cow would come to him and be milked, is not more foolish than the man who stunk a store and expects the people to hunt him out and buy his goods without advertising.

Miscellany.
ALBERT MERRITT.
We take pleasure in giving the following interesting biographical sketch of one of our Quincy boys, which was published in the Confectioners' Journal, a paper, printed in Philadelphia. In his early boyhood, Mr. Merritt was one of the carriers of this paper, and we feel some pride in noting his honorable career—Eds.

The United States has been prolific in men of genius in all the walks of life—
The growth and institutions of the country have both been favorable to the development of talent; differing in this respect from the older countries of Europe, where the occupation of the father usually descends to the children from generation to generation, without much, if any, regard to their fitness.

Versatility is certainly a plant of American growth, for in no other country in the world do men change their professions with so much ease. The secret of this aptitude to turn with the tide is, perhaps, due to the fact that fortune is rarely inherited in a country as young as ours, but has to be built up by persistent hard work, often for years—
In this respect New England comes out boldly to the front, and can fairly lay claim to the title of being the nursery of great men, their history filling many of the brightest pages in our national annals. There is something in this of which every New Englander may be proud. Descending from the grand old stock which landed from the Mayflower in 1620, on the granite boulder of Plymouth, they have carried the seeds of American civilization into all the States and Territories of the Union. From Maine to Florida, and from the shores of the Atlantic to those of the Pacific, descendants of the Pilgrim fathers who laid the foundation of this great western republic are to be found; and, to their credit be it said, they are generally worthy of their history and ancestry.

Philadelphia has a large sprinkling of this New England blood, and many of them, it is well known, rank among the best and most successful of our citizens.
Among these Albert Merritt deserves a distinguished place; not only on account of his wonderful success as a merchant, but still more for his sterling merit as a man and a citizen.

Mr. Merritt first saw the light at South Scituate, Plymouth County, Mass., on New Year's day, 1844, and is consequently only 35 years of age. His parents were in moderate circumstances.

When young Merritt was about six years of age his parents removed to Quincy, Mass., about eight miles from Boston, and the birthplace of two Presidents of the Republic. Here was the scene of his early struggles to qualify himself for the stern realities of life which lay before him in the dim future.
Even in these early days he showed an earnestness of purpose and a determined will to advance. He paid for his school books by running errands and selling papers.

As he grew up he found many friends and sympathizers among the refined citizens of Quincy, and to their encouragement and many kindly acts Mr. Merritt attributes much of the success which has since attended his remarkable business career.

This brings him up to his sixteenth year, when after graduating from school with honors and enjoying the esteem of his teachers and all who knew him, his parents changed their residence to South Boston. Soon after their arrival young Merritt obtained a position in the grocery store of Thomas A. Greenwood, first as a canvasser and delivery clerk and afterwards as bookkeeper, and after three years of faithful service he was intrusted with the entire management of the establishment.

In these positions he was ever faithful to the trust imposed in him, and watched over the interests of his employer with as much zeal as if they were his own.
But this was not a sphere suited to his ambition or business talent.

He was now in his nineteenth year, and felt that the time had come when he owed to himself and those dependent on him to seek a larger and more profitable field; so he retired from Mr. Greenwood's services with his best wishes for success, and following the advice of honest Horace Greeley, went West.

His first venture was in Chicago, where he succeeded in obtaining a situation in a railroad office. Here he remained a year, when he "picked up his stake," and went to Mount City, where he soon received the appointment of assistant paymaster in the Mississippi squadron. This rather important office he held till the close of the war, and he beat his steps eastward, and we find him next within the walls of Eastman's College at Poughkeepsie, New York.

After going through a full course in this institution, he was induced by the Principal to accept the position of Professor of Mathematics, and this he held for a year, when he resolved to return to the scenes of his earlier days. This was in 1866.

His first position, on his return, was in the fruit and produce store of Messrs.
Furber & Conant. Here, as elsewhere, he won the esteem and confidence of the firm, who placed implicit reliance in his industry and integrity, and his subsequent course proved that that confidence was not misplaced.

A year later we find him embarking in business on his own account, and opening a fruit and produce store in the city of Philadelphia, and here he has since remained, and on his way to this port amounting to the estimated value
of $200,000.

The outlet for these large importations extend all over the United States. They have correspondents and consignees in all the principal cities, and many of their cargoes of tropical fruit are sent direct from the place of growth into the

in business on his own account, and Philadelphia was the place chosen for his first venture. This was a fortunate choice for himself and our city. Messrs. Davis & Warner were then carrying on the produce business on a limited scale on Dock street, and with them he formed a partnership under the name of Davis, Warner & Merritt, contributing a capital of $2,500, which were the savings of nearly ten years of hard labor and frugal living.

This was nearly the entire capital of the concern at this period, but there was in the trio what is even more precious than capital—brains, industry, and determination to succeed, if it was "in the wood." And it was, as the sequel will show.

They had just taken a store on North Delaware Avenue, and here they laid the foundation of a business which, in their line, has no rival or equal in this country or the world. For three years Messrs. Davis, Warner & Merritt conducted their operations exclusively to produce, but the younger member of the firm, during this period, had been quietly laying up a store of knowledge and experience which was destined to lead to still more important events.

Mr. Merritt was the first to observe that Philadelphia was entirely dependent on New York for her supply of foreign fruits, as for many other commodities, and he saw no reason why this should be. Happy thought, which was really the turning point of the firm's fortunes. The scheme being laid the execution followed. They were not rich, but they had excellent credit, abundance of grit, and sufficient capital to try the experiment.

Their first vessel was dispatched to the West Indies in 1871, and four others followed in that year, each returning with full cargoes. Their profits on these ventures, to use a familiar phrase,
"did not pay for the candle." It would be foolish to say they were not heartened, for they were, but they were not the men to be cast down. Their "grit" came to their assistance just when it was most wanted, and they determined "to try again."

The next year they imported eight cargoes, and though their profits were not "worth talking about" they lost nothing, and the subsequent year they imported thirteen cargoes with rather better financial results; and to them, this was encouragement enough to persevere. With each succeeding year since, their operations have been extended, until last year, their importations of tropical fruit furnished freight for the enormous aggregate of 150 vessels largely exceeding those of any other house in the United States, or any other country in the world. We are assured that last year they brought to this market 300,000 bunches of bananas; between 3,000,000 and 4,000,000 coconuts; over 2,000,000 pine-apples; many thousand boxes of oranges and lemons, and from 10,000 to 20,000 barrels of Almeria grapes.

They are the heaviest dealers in Florida fruit in Philadelphia, and have built up and control the trade in California fruits, handling annually hundreds of tons of grapes and pears from that State.
The single item of freight for one week alone last year on California grapes amounted to over $3,000. In addition to their immense business in foreign green fruits, they deal in and import largely tons of every description, figs, dates, &c. In order to facilitate and carry forward successfully this tremendous importing business, they are at present running a fleet of twenty-three fast sailing vessels in their West India fruit trade. They have recently purchased and fitted up an iron steamship, and chartered another to run between Philadelphia and Jamaica, and it is their intention to add still another during this present year. At this writing we are informed on authority, that they have cargoes aloft and on their way to this port amounting to the estimated value
of $200,000.

The outlet for these large importations extend all over the United States. They have correspondents and consignees in all the principal cities, and many of their cargoes of tropical fruit are sent direct from the place of growth into the

ports of New York, Boston, Baltimore, Charleston, and Savannah. They recently filled a very large order for fruit to go to Winnipeg, Manitoba.
So rapidly has this business grown on their hands as to far exceed their present facilities for handling, so that they were compelled recently to add thereto. A new storehouse is now well under way on Delaware Avenue below Arch street, and which, when completed, will be the largest building devoted to this business in the world. It has a frontage of fifty feet, and runs back 186 feet to Water street, and is five stories in height to the roof. It is the intention of the owners to devote the whole of the first floor to the storage of coconuts, of which they make a specialty. Half the second floor will be fitted up for offices, and the other half, at the back, to bananas, which will be suspended on hooks for their better preservation. The third floor will be set apart for ripening fruit by means of steam. This portion of the building is laid out in rooms, and will be filled with bananas and other tropical and semi-tropical products in various stages of maturity, thus enabling the firm to supply them in perfect condition all the year round. The building is fitted up with steam elevators on an improved model, and is supplied with all the modern appliances for removing goods of this perishable character to any portion of the building, with as little handling as possible.

Last year Mr. Davis retired from the firm, with ample means, reducing its members to two, namely, Silas Warner and Albert Merritt. The senior member was born in Burlington county, N.
J., in 1835, and is therefore 44 years of age. His parents were of the good old Quaker stock, but becoming an orphan when less than a year old, he was necessarily thrown on his own resources to a greater extent than usually falls to the lot of mortals. His early days were spent in the society of farmers, and he followed that calling until he was nearly 29 years of age, when, tired of quiet country life, he turned his steps toward this city. Bringing with him the little means he had accumulated by his industry and economy, he opened a small produce store in the Dock street market.
After remaining there a short time he removed to 232 Dock street, and remained there until the freight depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company compelled him, and Mr. Davis who was then in partnership with him, to seek a new field of operations. This they found at 29 North Delaware Avenue, where they continued for several years. Mr.
Warner is a gentleman of more than ordinary ability. He is endowed by nature with excellent business qualifications, is a superior salesman, and is, withal, polite, engaging and unostentatious. It would be difficult to find two men better adapted to work together, and the admirable harmony existing between them has contributed not a little to the remarkable success which has attended all their mercantile enterprises.
Each has a department of the business allotted him, Mr. Warner attending to the sales and Mr. Merritt to the finances and correspondence.

The above sketch is a striking illustration of what two men can do to build up the trade and commerce of a city, and their own fortunes, when possessed of ability, industry and integrity. These qualities Messrs. Warner & Merritt have in a pre-eminent degree. They have been rewarded with a degree of success which rarely falls to the lot of men—
They have reason to be proud of it, but still more of the fact that they are the architects of their own fortunes.

We may add in conclusion, that the portrait given above is a faithful likeness of Mr. Merritt, and we offer no apology to our readers for having given it a place here.
A man in St. Paul, Minn., is so economical that he had a coffin and tombstone made for his deceased wife out of her marble-topped bureau.

If a little cat is a kitten, isn't a little mat a kitten? If this be so we know several gentlemen who have recently been presented with small-sized mats by young ladies of their acquaintance.

CONDITIONS.
No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary rates, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of annual Advertisers is limited
to their own immediate business.
Advertising Agents.
The following gentlemen are authorized Agents to receive Advertisements for the Patriot.
BOSTON.—S. M. PATTINSON & Co., S. R.
NILES, HORACE DODD and T. C. EVANS.
NEW YORK.—S. M. PATTINSON & Co.
Geo. P. ROWELL & Co. and FRANK & Co.
ST. LOUIS, Mo.—ROWELL & CHESSMAN.

Too Earnest by Half.
A venerable clergyman was riding to a district conference, his companion in the buggy being a young, zealous, and indiscreet minister, not long stationed in that part of the country. As they jogged past a little cross-road tavern the old gentleman indicated with his whip and said, "Many and many a day I've been at that tavern years ago." "Yes," said his companion, with indifference. "Yes,"

Short communications and items of news earnestly solicited from friends and patrons.

FIKE. A small wooden building used as a tool house, in the Mount Wollaston Cemetery, was wanted on fire last Sunday night, by some mischievous chap who could have been better employed in the Concord State Prison. The alarm was given about 2 o'clock Monday morning and the fire department turned out promptly, but it was nearly consumed before they arrived. The Chemical Engine Company put out the burning timbers. Capt. E. A. Spear, the Superintendent of the Cemetery, estimates the loss on building, tools, &c., at $300.

BIRTHDAY PARTY. Quite a number of the relatives, friends and neighbors of Mrs. Newell Adams, met at that lady's residence on Pearl street on Thursday afternoon to congratulate her, it being her eighty-fourth birthday. The occasion was a pleasant one, and Mrs. Adams was much pleased to meet her friends, who after enjoying an afternoon of pleasant converse, partook of a bountiful supper. At an early hour the party separated leaving their best wishes for the continued good health of the lady.

BEHAVEMENT. Charles A. Miller, a smart and intelligent youth, son of Mrs. Ellen M. Miller, died quite suddenly on Thursday afternoon, after a few days' sickness. He is spoken of in the highest terms by all who knew him and is a great loss to a devoted mother. His schoolmates and teacher have contributed a beautiful pillow of flowers with his name in the center, and his desk and seat at the school house are trimmed with crape.

WEDDING. At 2 o'clock P. M. on Thursday a large number of friends of the contracting parties gathered at the residence of Dr. Geo. W. Bird, in Brookline, to witness the marriage of his daughter, Stella, with Mr. Alfred F. Woodbury of this town. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Ruen Thomas, pastor of the Congregational Church, and a reception followed. The presents were numerous and valuable. Mr. and Mrs. Woodbury started in the evening for New York by boat, and will be absent ten days.

STATISTICS. We gather from the Assessors, the following statistics of this town. The number of houses owned in Quincy this season is larger than ever before:

|                                |             |
|--------------------------------|-------------|
| Number of houses, - - -        | 690         |
| Number of cows, - - -          | 507         |
| Number of oxen, - - -          | 16          |
| Number of horses, - - -        | 1716 1-2    |
| Number of acres of land, - - - | 8,875       |
| Total valuation, - - -         | $7,290,295 |
| Value of real estate, - - -    | 5,639,700   |
| personal property, - - -       | 1,763,595   |
| Number of polls, - - -         | 2,571       |

GUARDIANSHIP CASE. In the Probate Court, at Dedham, on Wednesday, a hearing was held on the petition of Minott Tirrell, Jr., for an increase of bonds in the case of John Q. A. Field of Quincy, who last March was appointed guardian of Minott Tirrell of Weymouth, adjudged insane. A bond of $150,000 was at that time given, and an inventory of the property now shows a value of over $500,000. A petition has also been filed for the removal of the guardian, on the ground of the incompetency to discharge the duties of so great a trust. A hearing will be had at a probate court to be held in Quincy on Wednesday next.

JUVENILE OPERA CO. Bennett & Moulton's Juvenile Pinafore Company give an entertainment at the Town Hall, on Tuesday evening: The Salem Observer says of them: "The juvenile orchestra of six pieces is a curiosity in itself and plays exceedingly well. As to the company of thirty children who take the several parts in this amusing opera of Pinafore, their performance are very spirited, and the principal characters are sustained with remarkable success. The singing by Miss Liebsch, as Josephine, is very effective, pleasing and accurate, while Miss Upton, as little Buttercup, not only sings well but acts naturally and presents a pretty picture. Master Smith, as Dick Dandey, was very entertaining and in one part was twice encored. The whole entertainment was one of unusual interest."

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH. We take pleasure to-day, in presenting our readers with a biographical sketch of Mr. Albert Merritt, one of our Quincy boys, who, by his own industry and enterprise has made an honorable record. We hope that many of our younger readers may learn a lesson.

A CURIOSITY. Mr. C. B. Tilton has an immense gourd hanging in his shop which was raised by Dr. Joseph Underwood. The seed of this gourd was brought from Ninevah, and is supposed to be over three hundred years old.

NEW GOODS. G. T. Deffees calls the ladies' attention to his large stock of goods which he has just received from New York; also to a nice line of gents' furnishing goods, which he offers at low prices.

DISTRICT COURT. The following cases have been brought before the District Court the past week: James Murray of Randolph, for breaking glass, and an assault on Charles T. Sumner. Found guilty, and fined $20 and costs. Joseph W. Rush, of Abington, for keeping a liquor nuisance, fined $50 and costs. For non-payment, was committed to the House of Correction. James Whalan of Milton, for an assault on Martin Gibbons. Discharged. John Delaney of Quincy, for the larceny of wagon. Case continued until Monday next. Charles G. Idthwaite of Weymouth, for being drunk. Fined $3 and costs.

Local Items.

This has been a hot week. Mosquitoes have been plenty and anxious for a bite.

A Republican rally at the Town Hall this evening.

Tuesday was a very warm and pleasant day.

A Pinafore club has been formed in West Quincy.

The Public Library will not be open on Monday next.

Mr. G. F. Wilson has been on a tour to Maine this week.

Mrs. John C. Hensworth has just entered on her eighty-fifth year.

Mr. William P. F. Meserve has been quiet sick the present week.

There are several cases of diphtheria on the plains at South Quincy.

We are glad to learn that Mr. J. Q. A. Wild has recovered from his late serious illness.

Don't fail to note the change in the running time of the Old Colony cars next Monday.

Experienced crocheters will find something in our advertising columns of interest to them.

The new millinery store opened by Mrs. Lapham in Robertson's Block attracts the ladies' attention.

Probate Court will be held in Quincy next Wednesday morning, at 9 o'clock.

Tick, tick, tick! Pettengill has a fine new stock of clocks, and they go tick, tick, tick.

Columbus Dunn and Terence Boyle, granite contractors, have dissolved co-partnership.

A runaway and smashup occurred on Willard street, West Quincy, on Tuesday evening last.

A modern built house, with hot and cold water, is advertised to let cheap, at Wollaston.

The St. Mary's C. T. A. Society have voted to hold their annual ball on Thanksgiving eve.

Gen. N. P. Banks will speak at the Town Hall this evening upon the political issues of the day.

Another new stone yard is soon to be started in the west part of the town under the firm name of Burke Bros.

Stetson has received a new stock of fall goods, and is offering good bargains. Read his notice.

The hand-ome fence finished this week in front of Dr. Gordon's residence, was executed from designs by J. L. Faxon, architect.

Officer French seized this week one gallon of whiskey and two of lager beer, from Patrick and John F. Garvey of Quincy.

Workmen have been busily engaged the past week removing the large boulders in front of the residence of Mr. John Hardwick on Granite street.

Butler's headquarters are at the Robertson House. A fine portrait of the old general fills one of the front windows.

Hosie must sprinkle the streets well this forenoon, or the ladies will take the business into their hands this afternoon.

Mr. John Gordon has just completed a new wheelwright shop on Hancock street, and invites our readers to give him a call.

There is to be a change of landlords at the Robertson House. Mr. Stewart of the Pine Point House is to be the "mine host."

Our distinguished townsman, John Quincy Adams, Esq., will preside, it is said, at the Faneuil Hall convention in Boston, on Tuesday next.

At a Court of Insolvency held at Dedham on Wednesday, Horace A. Pinkham of Quincy was granted a discharge.

At a Probate Court held at Dedham on Wednesday, Sarah V. Kelley was appointed executrix of the will of Sarah V. Willey; bond $2,000.

Smelts are beginning to bite and those of our citizens who have a complete outfit should call at S. H. Spear's store.

The Universalist Ladies' Aid Society will hold a harvest festival on Thursday, Oct. 16th. For full particulars read their notice in our columns.

Miss L. W. Hayward has taken the store recently kept by Miss L. M. Johnson, and has quite a stock of new goods. She invites the ladies to give her a call.

Joseph W. Lombard will sell a lot of household goods, carpenter's tools, trunks and groceries on Monday evening at the store under Russell's Photograph Studio.

A house, which has stood for a score and a half of years near the centre of the town is this week being supplied with a well of water. How convenient it must be.

Mr. Alex. Vining and family returned to Quincy on Tuesday from their summer residence. They have moved to their beautiful new house on Washington street.

Eliza Williams has sold to Henrietta Holbrook 33,750 feet of land on the corner of Lincoln and Grand View avenues, Wollaston, for $4,500. Also, land on Broadway and Eliot avenues, for $1,800.

A correspondent asks "which are the genuine BUTLER delegates to the coming conventions? The list chosen on Thursday evening last or the ones on Saturday of which Peter Butler, Esq., is chairman?"

At a meeting of the Democratic Town Committee elected on Thursday evening last Joseph A. Bass was chosen chairman and J. J. Malone Secretary. The committee will meet on Wednesday evening next to commence business for the coming campaign.

A very handsome barouche, drawn by four dashing black horses, passed our office on Thursday forenoon. Mr. Joseph T. French, the owner and driver of the team was accompanied by his wife, daughter and son-in-law, and they were on their way to Brockton to attend the Fair.

Officers Locke, Fernald and Pettengill visited Costello's saloon on Temple street on Wednesday last, and seized a quantity of whiskey, rum and lager beer.

Russ B. Walker, the genial and popular teacher of dancing, so well known, is coming to give a course of lessons, and all who wish to learn this important accomplishment should embrace this opportunity.

Mr. Wm. Badger, a young man of this town has erected a new switch on the West Quincy branch of the Old Colony Railroad, near the West Quincy depot. Mr. B. is the inventor and the switch is said to be a valuable invention.

St. Paul's Lodge had a very pleasant meeting on Wednesday evening last. Mr. William Levitt made a fine speech giving a pleasant and interesting account of a visit to the Delphi Lodge at Weymouth.

The Fireman of Quincy have accepted an invitation to attend the Universalist Church to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Perry having "run with the machine" in his early years will preach an appropriate discourse. All are invited.

How fast the days are decreasing in length. It is now dark at 6 P. M., and we are obliged to seek for a light. A splendid stock of lamps has been received this week by S. H. Spear, under the court room, to meet the demands of our citizens.

The scale mentioned last week as being put in by Geo. W. B. Taylor at Wollaston is a platform scale of the Fairbanks make, capable of weighing 16,000 pounds and is now all completed, and on Tuesday, the 7th inst., the public can be accommodated free.

Railroad Damages. The following cases have been before the Supreme Judicial Court in Boston this week:

John E. Green sued the Old Colony Railroad to recover $20,000 for personal injuries received at the Wollaston disaster last October. The plaintiff alleged that he was beneath the car after the accident for the space of three hours, and that his leg had to be amputated. The company did not deny its liability, and the only question involved was as to the amount of compensation. Verdict of $16,633 for plaintiff.

John O'Brien sued the same company for damages occasioned by the same disaster, in which the plaintiff's leg was broken and he was otherwise injured, preventing him, as he claims, from pursuing his usual occupation. The defence made no contest and the only question as to the amount of damages. On trial.

Dennis Kearney of Braintree, who undertook to imitate his namesake of California notoriety in smashing things generally, was arraigned on complaint of Constable Locke, for smashing in particular several lanterns belonging to the Old Colony Railroad corporations, and connected with the depot at said Braintree, for which offence he was sent to the House of Correction for thirty days.

The Double Strike.

To the Editors of the Patriot:

My name having been used in a communication in your issue of the 13th ult., and a serious charge made by "A Journeyman," will you give me a chance to state a few facts that will aid you and the public in determining the truth of some of the statements made.

Journeyman says: "In the first place it was not because Mr. Cannon was not a member of our Union, that the cutters left Mr. W. H. Mitchell's yard, but because he was what has been vulgarly called a scab, and proved an enemy to the interests of our trade in the strike of last year."

I am informed and believe, that a few days before I went to work for Mr. Mitchell, he was told by Mr. Law, a union man, and apparently a self-constituted leader, that if he hired me, a non-union man, there would be trouble."

Now both of these men know whether that statement is correct; I do not, but believe it to be.

Having no knowledge nor information about this, I went there to work. Before I began, Mr. Law notified me to join the union, and that if I did not join they were all going to strike, for the reason that I was a non-union man. "He said, 'all we want is your name and a dollar; and it is our salvation for you to join.'"

This, Messrs. Editors is a fact, and I do not think it will be denied. I know it is the truth. This meets fully the first part of the sentence given above, and shows its value. I told Mr. Law that I never joined the union, and had never done anything against the union, and I did not wish to join.

If Mr. Law represents the union, as he claims to, it counts just as much for me as for the union, since they were willing to take in one vulgarly called a scab. Who uses this vulgar term? any one but they? "And one who proved an enemy to the interests of our trade last year." That is not true, and I defy "Journeyman" or any one of them to prove that I ever did an act against the interests of any trade. I have not joined the union because I do not think I shall be benefited at all by joining. Others may be. But, if I have not joined, I have never tried to keep a fellow-workman from work, either by cutting under in price, or any other way.

When the strike took place last year in July, I was in Scotland, and though I came home four weeks before it was over, I did not go to work till the fourth day of October, at least one day after the union men had gone to work. My idea is and has been to make my own contract with my employers, getting as good prices for so doing as I could, and to work in fair competition with my fellow-workmen; letting the best man win.

I beg leave to add, that any man who thinks to deprive another of a chance to earn an honest living, or dictates to his employer whom he shall hire, had better wait till he has been long enough in this country to become a citizen, and by that time he may learn enough of the true spirit of its institutions to know, that while labor ought to have and insist upon, its fair share of the profits, a war between Labor and Capital ruins both.

F. B. CANNON.

EXTRA.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION.

FIREMEN'S DAY.

GRAND PARADE OF THE DEPARTMENT.

Trials of the Various Machines.

SPLENDID MUSIC.

A Large Gathering!

5,000 SPECTATORS.

THE BOYS DID NOBLY.

The Handsome Pipe was won by

THE GRANITE.

An Exciting Contest.

GRANITE 202 3 1-2.

VULTURE 202 3-4.

TIGER 198 7 1-2.

The cool and bracing atmosphere this morning, gave the promise of one of those lovely days of October, which everybody so much enjoys. It was the Firemen's gala day, and the "ladies" were early on the stir, making active preparations for their grand parade in the afternoon. About one o'clock the several companies marched into the Square, ready to form into line in the order they had drawn positions for.

A large concourse of people gathered from this and surrounding towns to witness the grand turnout.

The procession began to move at 2:00 down Hancock street to W. Porter, Esq., countermarching up Hancock street to School, through School to Franklin, down Franklin to Water, through Water to Quincy Avenue, down the Avenue to Elm, through Elm to Washington, up Washington to the Square, where they were reviewed by Chief Engineer, John W. Hall and his Assistants.

The decorations throughout the town were not very elaborate. The W. M. French Hose house was very tastefully trimmed. Among the private residences decorated along the route of the procession were J. Edward Spear, Jacob H. Hersey, Mrs. Henry Edwards, James Newcomb, William A. Hodges, Samuel Turner, Edward Whichey, Charles Mitchell, Tiger Engine House, Washington M. French, D. B. Stetson, Henry O. Studley, Miss Sarah Palmer, Public Buildings Town Hall, Hardwick's Hall, Bent's Hall.

A trial of the steam pump was had in the first place. It was simply to see what time it would take to get up steam force water through 1400 feet of iron pipes in the ground, and through 100 feet of hose. Time, 3:45.

Among the incidents along the route might be mentioned the three rousing cheers the Hook and Ladder Company gave to Mr. George Vezie, one of the old members, as they passed him and his wife.

Mr. Samuel Pope, the old hero of the pitchfork, who was at his gate, was also loudly cheered by the Hooks.

The time occupied in marching over the route was one hour.

Time Keeper, - Peter B. Turner.

During the time that the engines were playing Brown's Brigade Band gave a concert in the rear of the Stone Temple.

The following was the order of procession:-

POLICE.

William Parker, Chief, and 9 Assistants.

ENGINEERS.

John W. Hall, Chief, and 6 Assistants.

HINGHAM BAND, 20 PIECES.

T. J. Evans, Leader.

VULTURE ENGINE COMPANY, Quincy Point.

CAPT. THOMAS F. CLEVELY, 50 Men,

Red Shirts and Dark Pants,

Assisted by

ACTIVE ENGINE COMP'Y, No. 2,

North Weymouth,

CAPTAIN F. J. BARNES, 25 M. N.

VULTURE ENGINE.

Very handsomely decorated, Drawn by two horses, Driven by Mr. David Newcomb.

HOOK AND LADDER COMPANY, No. 1, of Quincy,

CAPT. JOHN L. MAXIM, 23 Members,

White Shirts and Black Pants

HOOK & LADDER CARRIAGE, Drawn by two handsome horses,

Owned by H. B. Ellis

Driven by Mr. Henry Newcomb,

Brown's Brigade Band, 21 pieces, of Boston,

W. M. FRENCH HOSE COMPANY, No. 1, of Quincy,

CAPT. JAMES E. MAXIM, 22 Men,

Red Shirts and Black Hats.

HOSE CARRIAGE, Very prettily decorated.

Drawn by two handsome black horses, Driven by George A. Ordway.

Delegation from M. A. Pickett Co., of Marblehead.

5 men and

MR. MOSES WOODMAN, As't Eng'r.

Belknap Brass Band, 20 Pieces, West Quincy,

Charles Badger, Leader.

GRANITE ENGINE CO., No. 3, West Quincy,

CAPT. WM. L. BARRY, 40 Men,

Dressed in Black Pants, White Shirts, and Knickerbocker Hats.

Assisted by

BUTCHER BOY ENGINE CO., South Braintree,

CAPT. EDWARD SHAY, 24 Men,

White Uniform, Blue Shield, with figure 2, Black Hats.

GRANITE ENGINE, Handsomely decorated with flowers,

Drawn by two horses,

Driven by Mr. William Loud.

Weymouth Band, 20 Pieces, Weymouth,

C. L. Stetson, Leader.

TIGER ENGINE CO., No. 2, South Quincy,

CAPT. LEWIS G. MCINTYRE, 35 Men,

Dressed in Red and White Shirts, Dark Pants and Hats.

Assisted by

TORRENT ENGINE COMPANY, of Hingham,

CAPT. WILLIAM F. HARDEN, 50 Men,

Red Shirts, Dark Pants.

TIGER ENGINE, Drawn by two horses,

Driven by Lawrence P. Garrity.

A little boy, son of Mr. John Capacioli, was seated on the Tiger Engine with a bunch of flowers in his hand, and made a very attractive appearance.

The Quincy Patriot.

ESTABLISHED IN 1837.

43D VOLUME.

A Family Paper devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

NUMBER 41.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1879.

PRICE, 5 CENTS.

CONDITIONS.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the Publisher. Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary rates, and will be charged until ordered out. The privilege of annual Advertisements is limited to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents to receive Advertisements for the PATRIOT.
BOSTON.—S. M. PETERSON & Co., S. R. STILES, HORACE DODD and T. C. FRANK.
NEW YORK.—S. M. PETERSON & Co.
GEO. F. ROWELL & Co. and FRANK & CO.
ST. LOUIS, Mo.—ROWELL & CHESMAN.

New!
ANCHOR
FREE
FORE, NT!!
Post Office
SPECIALTY.
rd, Flour,
OBACCO.
NT OF VERY!
STRY
Breads!
ICES CREAM
Also by the with supplies at
THE GOODS.
ED CROSS.
the Market!
ER'S
ranconia
RANGES, into at the same request. Also, celebrated ART
TOVES. and is prepared and Office ES
AT CHERNS, RATES.
stock, will be at attended to.
LWS,
street.
ENTION
ANGES
UBURN Ranges.
large tops, and
all the holes are
th. Every thing up the line under round in the most with all the WARDS
ART
OVES!
"WELL DONE,"
Open Stove
BEST.
Base Burner
The Perfect Stove in ICES.
it, and will guaran-
teer the quality of the Stoves. Prices at our own cost.
ARE
ing Goods.
and Stoves repaired
reputable.
SHED LEAD
in stock.
up a full stock of Cook Pot.
ANBORN,
TREET.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT,
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING
BY
N. ELIZABETH GREEN
AND
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT.
PRICE: $2.50 per year, in advance; $3.00, if paid before the close of the year.
Office: 64 Hancock Street,
OVER MR. CLAPP'S STORE.
POSTERS, CARDS, BILLHEADS,
Circulars, Labels, Programmes, &c.
PRINTED PROMPTLY.
On the Most Reasonable Terms, and Greatly Below Boston Prices.

JOHN HARDWICK & CO.
Real Estate & Insurance
AGENTS.
Granite Street, Quincy.
Insurance secured in any reliable Office.
Sept. 10. tf
Insurance Agency,
established in Quincy in 1840
by
W. PORTER.
Insurance effected in reliable and sound STOCK and MUTUAL OFFICES—by
W. PORTER & CO.
31 No. 27 STATE STREET, BOSTON.
Quincy, Quincy, corner Adams and Hancock streets, April 28. tf

DORCHESTER.
Mutual Fire Insurance Company.
P. O. NEPHEW, Mass.
Ward 16, Boston, Mass.
J. BAKER, Pres.; W. F. TEMPLE, Sec'y.
STATEMENT, JANUARY 1, 1879.
Assets: $10,854,125.00
Liabilities: $10,854,125.00
Cash Assets: $10,854,125.00
Real Estate: $10,854,125.00
Stocks and Bonds: $10,854,125.00
Loans: $10,854,125.00
Deposits: $10,854,125.00
Total: $10,854,125.00

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

THE PLACE TO BUY
YOUR
Boots and Shoes,
— IS AT —
Saville's Shoe Store,
No. 90 HANCOCK STREET,
WHERE you will always find a larger and more varied stock than can be found in Quincy or vicinity.
Ladies' Kid Button & Side
Lace Boots; French Kid
Goat, Grain, Foxed &
Plain Serge But-
ton Boots.

W. PORTER.
Insurance effected in reliable and
sound STOCK and MUTUAL OFFICES—by
W. PORTER & CO.
31 No. 27 STATE STREET, BOSTON.
Quincy, Quincy, corner Adams and Hancock streets, April 28. tf

DORCHESTER.
Mutual Fire Insurance Company.
P. O. NEPHEW, Mass.
Ward 16, Boston, Mass.
J. BAKER, Pres.; W. F. TEMPLE, Sec'y.
STATEMENT, JANUARY 1, 1879.
Assets: $10,854,125.00
Liabilities: $10,854,125.00
Cash Assets: $10,854,125.00
Real Estate: $10,854,125.00
Stocks and Bonds: $10,854,125.00
Loans: $10,854,125.00
Deposits: $10,854,125.00
Total: $10,854,125.00

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

FOR SALE,
Granite Quarry
IN QUINCY.
THE Well-known Granite Quarry situated on Willard Street, owned and worked the past Forty Years by
O. T. ROGERS & Co.,
Containing about Twelve Acres, with Derricks,
Sheds, Shops, Office and Two Dwelling Houses.
A fine outlay having recently been made upon the quarry, the whole establishment is now in complete working order. A rare chance is offered to succeed the old firm of O. T.
ROGERS & CO.
For further information, please inquire of either of the remaining members.
JESSE BUNTON,
SAMUEL BARCOCK.
Post Office Address, East Milton, Mass.
Sept. 13. tf

A. KEATING'S
New & Second Hand
FURNITURE STORE.
Head of the CANAL.
Having bought the entire FURNITURE of a family, (deceased,) in Quincy, I offer some good bargains in Stoves, Carpets, and all kinds of Household Goods.
Repairing & Upholstering.
Door Bells Hung and Repaired.
FURNITURE and PIANOS carefully moved at short notice.
Cash paid for Second Hand Furniture,
Stoves, Carpets, &c.
Storage for Furniture.
A few good Second Hand Parlor Stoves for sale now.
Quincy, Sept. 13. tf

J. R. WILD,
Manufacturer and dealer in
CARRIAGES,
Express Wagons,
SLEIGHS, PUNGS, &c.
ALL BRANCHES OF
REPAIRING!
neatly and promptly done.
— ALSO, THE BEST
HORSE - SHOEING
— BY —
SKILLED WORKMEN.
Lameness, Stumbling,
Interfering,
Overreaching,
Quartercracks,
Corns, &c.
46 and 48 Hancock St.
Quincy, March 22. tf

B. JOHNSON,
Souther's Wharf, Quincy.
DEALER IN —
LONG AND SHORT LUMBER.
Frames,
Worked Flooring,
Covering Boards,
Shingles,
Clapboards,
Pickets,
Laths, &c.
FRAMES SAWED TO ORDER.
Orders may be left with RICHARD
NEWCOMB, Washington St., Quincy.
Aug 2. tf

REMOVAL.
ROBERTSON'S BLOCK.
THE Subscriber would inform his friends
and the public that he has moved his stock
to ROBERTSON'S BLOCK.
Under Lombard's Store,
Where he will keep a good supply of
Provisions & Vegetables
Also, Pastry, &c., &c.
Which will be sold LOW.
A. W. HICKS.
Quincy, March 29. tf

HANDSOME
SHELF PAPER
DIFFERENT SHADES.
Two Sheets for 1 Cent.
— AT THE —
Quincy Patriot Office.

THE PLACE TO BUY
YOUR
Boots and Shoes,
— IS AT —
Saville's Shoe Store,
No. 90 HANCOCK STREET,
WHERE you will always find a larger and more varied stock than can be found in Quincy or vicinity.
Ladies' Kid Button & Side
Lace Boots; French Kid
Goat, Grain, Foxed &
Plain Serge But-
ton Boots.

W. PORTER.
Insurance effected in reliable and
sound STOCK and MUTUAL OFFICES—by
W. PORTER & CO.
31 No. 27 STATE STREET, BOSTON.
Quincy, Quincy, corner Adams and Hancock streets, April 28. tf

DORCHESTER.
Mutual Fire Insurance Company.
P. O. NEPHEW, Mass.
Ward 16, Boston, Mass.
J. BAKER, Pres.; W. F. TEMPLE, Sec'y.
STATEMENT, JANUARY 1, 1879.
Assets: $10,854,125.00
Liabilities: $10,854,125.00
Cash Assets: $10,854,125.00
Real Estate: $10,854,125.00
Stocks and Bonds: $10,854,125.00
Loans: $10,854,125.00
Deposits: $10,854,125.00
Total: $10,854,125.00

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Poetry.
My Precious Gem.
Once I longed for gems and jewels, Wished that I queen might be,
Dressed in velvets, silks and laces,
All the world to envy me.
Years passed on—I wished and waited,
Then at last God on me smiled,
Gave to me a priceless jewel,
Vanished then my wish so wild.
Do you wish to see my treasure?
Come with me, I'll lead the way,
Where my precious gem lies hidden
From the glancing light of day;
To my chamber I will lead you,
There I keep this jewel rare,
On a cushion as soft as velvet,
White as snow, as pure and fair.
I will gently raise the curtain,
Let the glorious sunlight in,
Then look on my precious darling,
Guileless, pure and free from sin;
Look upon this heaven-sent jewel—
Pillowed is that baby's head,
Crown of golden brown surrounds it,
Pouting lips like rubies red.

A. KEATING'S
New & Second Hand
FURNITURE STORE.
Head of the CANAL.
Having bought the entire FURNITURE of a family, (deceased,) in Quincy, I offer some good bargains in Stoves, Carpets, and all kinds of Household Goods.
Repairing & Upholstering.
Door Bells Hung and Repaired.
FURNITURE and PIANOS carefully moved at short notice.
Cash paid for Second Hand Furniture,
Stoves, Carpets, &c.
Storage for Furniture.
A few good Second Hand Parlor Stoves for
sale now.
Quincy, Sept. 13. tf

J. R. WILD,
Manufacturer and dealer in
CARRIAGES,
Express Wagons,
SLEIGHS, PUNGS, &c.
ALL BRANCHES OF
REPAIRING!
neatly and promptly done.
— ALSO, THE BEST
HORSE - SHOEING
— BY —
SKILLED WORKMEN.
Lameness, Stumbling,
Interfering,
Overreaching,
Quartercracks,
Corns, &c.
46 and 48 Hancock St.
Quincy, March 22. tf

B. JOHNSON,
Souther's Wharf, Quincy.
DEALER IN —
LONG AND SHORT LUMBER.
Frames,
Worked Flooring,
Covering Boards,
Shingles,
Clapboards,
Pickets,
Laths, &c.
FRAMES SAWED TO ORDER.
Orders may be left with RICHARD
NEWCOMB, Washington St., Quincy.
Aug 2. tf

REMOVAL.
ROBERTSON'S BLOCK.
THE Subscriber would inform his friends
and the public that he has moved his stock
to ROBERTSON'S BLOCK.
Under Lombard's Store,
Where he will keep a good supply of
Provisions & Vegetables
Also, Pastry, &c., &c.
Which will be sold LOW.
A. W. HICKS.
Quincy, March 29. tf

HANDSOME
SHELF PAPER
DIFFERENT SHADES.
Two Sheets for 1 Cent.
— AT THE —
Quincy Patriot Office.

THE PLACE TO BUY
YOUR
Boots and Shoes,
— IS AT —
Saville's Shoe Store,
No. 90 HANCOCK STREET,
WHERE you will always find a larger and more varied stock than can be found in Quincy or vicinity.
Ladies' Kid Button & Side
Lace Boots; French Kid
Goat, Grain, Foxed &
Plain Serge But-
ton Boots.

W. PORTER.
Insurance effected in reliable and
sound STOCK and MUTUAL OFFICES—by
W. PORTER & CO.
31 No. 27 STATE STREET, BOSTON.
Quincy, Quincy, corner Adams and Hancock streets, April 28. tf

DORCHESTER.
Mutual Fire Insurance Company.
P. O. NEPHEW, Mass.
Ward 16, Boston, Mass.
J. BAKER, Pres.; W. F. TEMPLE, Sec'y.
STATEMENT, JANUARY 1, 1879.
Assets: $10,854,125.00
Liabilities: $10,854,125.00
Cash Assets: $10,854,125.00
Real Estate: $10,854,125.00
Stocks and Bonds: $10,854,125.00
Loans: $10,854,125.00
Deposits: $10,854,125.00
Total: $10,854,125.00

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00.
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
10 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20
per cent. on all others.

Miscellany.
The Doctor's Patient.
Nearly twenty years ago, in one of the Western states, very near the limits of civilization, stood a small village which boasted of several hotels, three or four stores, a blacksmith shop, a lawyer's office and a doctor's residence, besides a dozen or so log houses. The physician's office was situated at one end of the town; a rude log cabin, with a huge, broad door, over which hung a rude sign which was painted, in large letters, the words "Dr. Nutton, Doctor and Physician." Why the sign had painted "a both" "physician and doctor," was no doubt from the reason that these words widely differed in their meaning to the unsophisticated mind of the back-woodsman; as in the case of a huge ox driver who entered the town one day and inquired for a physician. The doctor's office was pointed out to him, when turning to the speaker, he said, with a look of wisdom, "Tarnation with yer doctor; I've taken a heap of doctor stuff to kill the ager, but nary a kill it made. I wants a real physician, that's what I wants, and none o' yer humbug!"
So you see, reader, the sign was really useful, and contained no redundancy to the mind of our friend, the ox driver.
It was a cold, windy day, and the doctor's sign went crackling in the wind as it blew to and fro. The doctor sat in his office before the fire, his feet elevated above his head and resting on a table while he was eagerly devouring the contents of one of the weekly newspapers which had reached the village, and which was ravenously read by the population; for nearly the only thing which broke the monotony of the village was the weekly arrival of the mail carrier, who brought all the news the inhabitants ever got, except that which they obtained from an occasional new settler or passing traveller.
Doctor Nutton read on in silence, except for a casual grumble at the unpleasant weather, when he was suddenly interrupted in his reverie by the unexpected entrance of a great raw-boned Hoosier, who carried in his hand a huge ox whip, while a large red handkerchief was fastened around his jaw; his pants were tucked in his boots, and he wore a large overcoat, which nearly reached his knees.
"Waal, stranger," said the Hoosier,
"be you the doctor of this yere place?"
"Yes, sir, I am a physician. Is there anything I can do for you?" replied Nutton.
"You be a physish? No, sir; I wants a doctor," angrily said the back-woodsman.
"Well," said Dr. Nutton, with a merry twinkle in his eye, "physician and doctor mean the same things—they are synonymous."
"They're what?" exclaimed the Hoosier. "Synonyms, synonyms—what's synonyms?"
"Synonyms," said the doctor, "are words which have the same meaning, or nearly the same meaning; thus, doctor and physician are synonyms, for they mean the same."
"They, do, eh? Look a here, stranger," continued the Hoosier, grasping the whip tightly and shaking it significantly, "I don't want any of yer foolishness."
"Well, my man," asked the doctor,
"what's the matter—any of the folks sick?"
"Waal, no, doc, not zackly; but I've got a tarnation toothache; feels as if it were going to split my jaw."
"Wants pulling out," said Nutton.
"Don't know but what she dux, but can't stand it to have her pulled out.
I tell yer—I tell yer, doc, it would kill me; the ternal thing's been aching for nigh three weeks. Couldn't stand it, doc, to have her pulled out at once!"
"But," said the doctor, "it would take me but a short time to pull out the tooth, and then the pain would be all over."
The Hoosier shook his head, and said,
as his face brightened up, as a suggestion crossed his mind, "No, doc; but look a here—couldn't yer pull it out by—by—
by—"
"Degrees?" suggested the doctor, as he suppressed a smile.
"That's the word, doc; now could ye pull her out by degrees?"
"I don't know," said Nutton, smiling, though he tried hard to hide it; "but it would," continued he, "hurt you more that way than to pull it out at once."
"Can't

thing, for when private correspondence is left carelessly around in wood lots as I am informed the "private correspondence" mentioned was, and when such correspondence goes to prove conspiracy on the part of the writer and receiver to injure certain parties, I think such parties are perfectly justified in using such correspondence to prove such conspiracy, especially when the writer and his clique are representing themselves as real Simon Pure's. And as "Rex" pretends to have no desire to enter into a personal controversy, yet he does so, I would suggest that he put his theories into practice, and show by practical demonstration his desire to promote harmony between the employer and employee.

I may be wrong as it is human to err, but if I am right in my supposition it would have more influence if he signs in future his real name, and not write one week as "Contractor" and the next as "Rex," as to me the sentiments are so much alike that I should be glad to find out my mistake before, and not "after making myself ridiculous," but if the "laugh might come in" against me, it will be excusable, as one of the "respectable" (?) employers of Quincy elegantly said last week that I was "a fool" and being so on such authority this thing will out of his charity, pray for the repose of my soul, and put in practice what he preaches, and not preach what he is ashamed to practice, for "Blessed are the peacemakers."

Yours respectfully,
JOSEPH B. DYER,
Sec. G. C. I. U.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1879.

Short communications and items of news earnestly solicited from friends and patrons. Anonymous communications are not published.

The Firemen's Parade.

The parade on Saturday last was one of the finest the Fire Department of this town has ever had. The day was lovely for the occasion, and all the companies, with their guests from abroad, looked unusually well. There were four bands of music present, and some five thousand persons turned out to view the procession as it passed through some of the principal streets. The whole Fire Department was present on this gala day, namely: the three suction engines, the Chemical engine, two hose carriages, and the Hook and Ladder carriage, and the companies, as well as the spectators, seemed to enjoy the occasion.

After the review and march the Vulture, Granite and Tiger Companies had an opportunity to try their tubs in throwing water horizontally. All did exceedingly well, as will be seen by the following result:

|          |                         |
|----------|-------------------------|
| Granite, | 202 feet, 3 1/2 inches. |
| Vulture, | 202 " 3 3/4 "           |
| Tiger,   | 198 " 7 1/2 "           |

The Tiger would probably have thrown water as far as either of the others, if she had not broken her air-chamber; but, unfortunately, on the third heat it burst, which would put the playing for this occasion.

The prize was taken by the Granite. It is a nickel-plated pipe with two nozzles, and cost about $250. The Granite can hold it until the next trial of engines, when if she again leads the van it is hers, if not it goes to the smartest tub on that occasion, and so on until some tub has won it twice in succession, then it is captured for all time.

Before the hand engines had their trial, an opportunity was given the engineer of the steam pump to try the capacity of his tubular boiler in getting up steam, forcing water through fourteen hundred feet of iron pipe in the ground to the hydrant near the reservoir in the Square, and from there through one hundred feet of hose. At the striking of the bell, the match was touched to the kindling under the boiler, and in three minutes and forty-five seconds steam was generated and water was forced through the long line of hose and out of the nozzle, which must be admitted as a big feat. The steam pump is certainly a big institution, and affords great protection to the heart of our village.

ENTERTAINING. Owing to largely increasing business, Mr. George Saville has been obliged to improve and enlarge his premises. He has taken a store adjoining his, which now gives him ample facilities to display his immense stock of goods, and he has now the most extensive and complete assortment in his line, to be found in this vicinity. It is gratifying to see this evidence of success in our friend.

HARVEST FESTIVAL. The ladies of the Social Aid Society, connected with the Universalist Church, will hold a festival and sale at the Town Hall, on Thursday next, both afternoon and evening. The lovers of an antiquarian super will find all the old-time favorite dishes served in the best style. One hour will be given in the evening to a promenade concert, and the festivities will close with dancing.

ARRIVED IN TOWN. We take pleasure in announcing the fact that one of the most talented and competent teachers on any kind of musical instrument, either for land or home amusement, is now with his family residing in this town. We refer to Dr. Henri Perabean, late of Washington, D. C., who has assumed the duties of organist and director of St. John's Church Choir. In these duties he will be ably assisted by his two daughters, Misses Henrietta and Josie, who are to be the leading soloists.

Seldom is such an advantage offered of securing a professional teacher outside of Boston, and those who are desirous of having the services of one of the best in the country should call on the Professor.

The Republicans have secured the use of the hall over Sweetser's market on Granite street, for the present political campaign, and it will be used as their headquarters. It will be open every evening, except Sunday, until the day of election.

Local Items.

Ten mails are received at the Quincy post office daily, except Sundays.

An American married man is wanted immediately.

Help is wanted,—a married man on a farm; girl to do general work, etc.

Don't forget the Reform Club meeting to-night. Every member should be present.

Corned beef is sold for the low price of three cents at Sweetser's market.

Elegant French and American clocks, and nice watches are for sale at Holden's.

The Democratic Town Committee hold an adjourned meeting at Lyceum Hall this evening.

An auction of household goods will be held at the homestead of the late Mehitabel Nightingale, next Wednesday.

Miss Carrie, daughter of the Rev. Edward Norton, has been sick the present week, but we are pleased to learn that she is recovering.

The carpenters and other workmen are very busy on the handsome house of Mr. Wm. A. Hodges. It is fast nearing completion.

Persons desiring to have their hogs dressed at short notice and in the best manner are invited to call on William Holbert.

The Tiger engine is at the shop of Messrs. Hunneman for repairs. She was taken to Boston, Saturday night, after the muster.

Mr. Willie F. Smith, son of the late H. F. Smith, of Quincy Point, had his foot badly jammed by an elevator, at his place of business, in Boston, on Monday last.

Rev. Mr. Perry will speak to-morrow evening upon the Schools of Quincy. He speaks upon this topic in response to requests from a number of citizens of the town.

We would call the attention of our readers to the new grocery store opened at the corner of School and Granite streets, by the Stone Cutter's International Union. Goods are delivered promptly and at low prices.

The first grand rally of the Democrats and friends of General Butler will be held at the Town Hall this evening, Col. A. O. Brewster, one of the most eloquent of Democratic speakers, will be the orator of the evening.

Quite a flutter among our young ladies and gentlemen on account of Mr. Walker's dancing school which begins next Friday evening at Reform Hall. He has reduced the rates of tuition, and so good an opportunity to learn this fashionable accomplishment seldom occurs.

Our readers will find in the supplement this week, a lengthy and interesting political address, delivered by our townsman, E. W. Williamson, Esq., of Wollaston. It is the most able Republican document we have seen this season, and it will undoubtedly be read with great interest by those belonging to the Republican party.

The ladies Sewing Circle connected with the Congregational Church, held their regular monthly meeting in the Chapel on Wednesday. They extended an invitation to the society to meet with them and enjoy a social afternoon and evening. A very large number took tea with them and in the evening a pleasant time was enjoyed.

Officer Farnald and Locke Conductor Wm. H. Chipman, and Mr. Thomas Curtis went to Plymouth on the 3d instant and succeeded in recognizing a person by the name of Christine Steight as the one who had the stolen boots and shoes, taken from the manufactory of T. Curtis & Co., Franklin street, in this town, on the morning of August 15th. He had been arrested at Rockland, from a description given by Officer Farnald to an officer in that place, on another offence, and when he is given up at Plymouth jail will be brought here for trial.

SHAKESPEARE CLUB. At the annual meeting of the Quincy Shakespeare Club, which was held on Tuesday evening last, the following officers were chosen: President,—John O. Holden. Vice President,—Dr. W. L. Faxon. Secretary,—William H. Barker. Directors,—Frederick A. Clifton, Miss S. Addie Souther and Miss Lizzie E. Morse.

DISTRICT COURT. The following persons have been arraigned this week for criminal offences: James Kerrigan, of Quincy, was arrested for an assault on one Patrick Brannan, for beating a woman, and was committed until Monday next.

Edward J. Costello, of Quincy, for unlawfully selling intoxicating liquors, on complaint of Officer Farnald, was brought before the court, and for want of evidence was discharged.

A. Francis, of Weymouth, on complaint of Officer Lord, for keeping a liquor nuisance. For want of evidence was discharged.

Franklin Reed, of Weymouth, for unlawfully selling intoxicating liquors on complaint of Officer Lord. Case was continued until Monday next.

William H. Brady, of Weymouth, on complaint of Officer Lord, for keeping a nuisance. For want of evidence was discharged.

For The Patriot.

"Hold on There."

THE PRIZE IS YOURS.

One of the most exciting events that ever occurred in West Quincy, took place last Saturday night. The celebration was in honor of the Granite Engine Company, who with their machine attended the Firemen's parade and trial on that day. To the surprise of many they succeeded in taking the prize. As it is the first prize that was ever offered at a firemen's parade and trial in Quincy, the company may feel proud of the trophy.

The record of the Granite has been among the low figures for the past few years, and this year it was decided to experiment on her, which was carried out in a successful manner. Extension brakes were secured by Engineer P. F. Lacy, and placed on the "little warship," as she is called, and to the surprise of many she turned out to be a little hero, and played 202 feet, 3 1/2 inches.

As the company marched up Cemetery street on the eventful evening, the excitement was intense, and Capt. Barry, with his assistants, may well feel proud of the hearty reception they received, which consisted of illuminations, firing of guns, cheering, etc. After marching around Belknap Square the company—members of the Butcher Boy Engine Company of South Braintree, who had rendered valuable assistance, and invited guests—proceeded to the Band Hall, where a bountiful collation was served.

After supper singing, speeches, etc., were indulged in until a late hour when a slight noise was heard outside, and the Board of Engineers made their appearance and were received with rounds of applause. There was also present the Judges and members of the Tiger and Hose Companies. The audience were then entertained with remarks by the Engineers and other gentlemen.

The kindness of the members of the Butcher Boy Company in attending the muster with the Granites will long be remembered by the latter.

About half past eleven o'clock the crowd dispersed and everything was as quiet as though nothing had happened. This event will remain fresh in the memory of the residents of West Quincy for years to come. The prize a handsome nickel-plated pipe is a beautiful piece of workmanship and is just what the victorious company wanted, and nothing will be left returned to win it at the next annual parade; then it will become their property. We wish them success in their undertaking.

Reply to Mr. Cannon.

To the Publishers of The Patriot:

I notice in last week's Patriot a letter from Mr. Cannon, wherein he claims of my statement that it was not because Mr. Cannon was not a member of our Union that the cutters left W. H. Mitchell's yard, but because he was what he has vulgarly called a scab, and proved an enemy to the interests of our trade in the strike of last year. I now repeat that assertion and am sure here to work before the strike was settled in the yard wherein he worked immediately after the strike, and he was certainly aware of the fact, for some of our members informed him that the yard had not been opened, and he replied, "Well, I will open the yard. I have got a good job and don't mean to wait any longer."

As Mr. Cannon refers to Mr. Law, who is one of our members, and respected by all who know him for his manliness and integrity, I waited on Mr. Law and requested him to write a statement of what transpired between him and Cannon, which is a complete contradiction of Cannon's story.

MR. LAW'S STATEMENT. As Mr. Cannon, who has been the cause of the present difficulty between the stone cutters of this town and their workmen, has made statements in which he uses my name freely, and also has the assurance to publish them, I beg permission to use the columns of The Patriot for the purpose of contradicting his misstatements. In the first place, Mr. Cannon says that he came to work for Mitchell, I notified him to join the Union; from which it might be inferred that I made it my business to wait on him for that purpose, which I did not, but when that gentleman first made his appearance, he came to me and jokingly asked "where was the rope with which I was to hang him," and I answered him in the same strain, "I will hang you if you very quickly if we wanted it."

He then commenced to talk more seriously, and explained that he had made up his mind some time ago to join our association, and that I might satisfy myself of the truth of his statement by referring to a mutual acquaintance, who at that time worked for McKenzie & Peterson. But I told him I had no reason to doubt what he said, that I was sure he had made up his mind to do so, as I thought it would do him no harm to be the means of avoiding trouble, and I then asked him if he had not gone in for the strike a little before he over, and he said that he had, but that it was only three days before, and that he hired with McKenzie & Peterson on Thursday, October 24, 1878, went to work on Friday morning, and that the Union men went to work on Monday following.

I then told Mr. Cannon that I would, if he had made up his mind to join the Union, and that if his statement was correct, I thought it probable that the matter of three days would be overlooked if he were willing to join the Union, and that it would not be likely to cost him more than one dollar, which was the usual initiation fee, but I said I would make sure about the matter of the three days, and at three o'clock the time the strike was settled, and did not wish to make any mistakes in this matter, whereupon he again assured me it was all correct. I then went to the shop steward of the yard, and told him what transpired between Mr. Cannon and me, and that I supposed matters would be all right, and there would be no trouble.

In the meantime, Mr. Cannon had been talking with Mr. Mitchell, and when he had finished he came to me again and said he had changed his mind, and that there had been so much talk about him, he guessed he would not join yet awhile.

This was about half an hour after our first conversation. I begged of Mr. Cannon to consider the matter well before he came to that conclusion, as it would probably cause a good deal of trouble, and I waited until ten minutes before noon before informing the shop steward of the turn the affair had taken. Thus it will be seen that so far from being a meddler in this affair, or as Mr. Cannon expresses it, a self-constituted leader, I only acted from the motive of friendship, and a desire to avoid trouble, and also, that Mr. Cannon was well aware of how he stood, and everything connected with it.

This is my recollection of my part in the affair, and wherein it differs from Mr. Cannon's story. And there was no third party, I shall leave it to those who know us both, to decide which they shall believe.

Among other things, Mr. Cannon claims as a reason for not joining the Union, that while it might be a benefit to others, it was not such to him; but, nevertheless, it is a fact that the firm he worked for paid considerably more for their work after the strike than they had been paying previous to it, and no one knows this any better than he does, but, perhaps, he would have the public infer that he is something wonderful as a mechanic; and altogether beyond being benefited by a trade's union. If such is his conceit, experience has proved that as the best workman's pay comes down, the best follows it in proportion, and we number many among our members who have proved themselves capable of cutting work that Mr. Cannon, if capable, at least has never been trusted with, and they can see their advantage in joining hands with us; and for his fling about citizenship, we are sure we have hundreds of members who are proud of their freedom, and whose claim to citizenship dates farther back than the last Presidential election, and who will not be compelled to work in the same sheds with men who for any reason are repugnant to them.

A JOURNEYMAN.

Adams Academy.

We call our fellow citizens particular attention to the following important proceedings in reference to this institution. At the town meeting of last March, a vote was passed, of which the following is an attested copy:

At a legal meeting of the inhabitants of the town of Quincy, held March 31, 1878, by adjournment from March 24, 1878, the following resolution was adopted, to-wit: That the Adams Academy, viz:—that the Managers may determine the qualifications, terms and conditions upon which persons may be admitted to enjoy the privileges of the school and of tuition in said Academy, and in their place, insert the following:—"but the entire net income annually derived from the lands given to the town by John Adams, shall after the payment of all proper charges for tuition, care, repairs and keeping up the property, be applied to the payment of the tuition fees, of the children of the town's people attending the Academy."

A true copy of record. Attest.

GEORGE L. GILL, Town Clerk.

To carry the above vote into effect, the Managers met early in September, and after reading a communication from the master, appointed Luther W. Anderson and Charles H. Porter a committee, who after due deliberation submitted the following report:

In order to carry out the instructions of the town as indicated in the above vote, it seems best to the committee to determine 1st, The tuition-fee that should be charged to residents of Quincy whose boys attended the Academy.

The fee for non-resident pupils is $100. As the fund was intended by the founders of the school to be for the benefit of the citizens of the town, it would seem proper that the lowest possible sum should be required from town residents.

As the actual cost of instruction cannot be less than $75 per pupil, the committee decided to fix upon this sum as the annual charge.

2d, The mode of distribution of the net proceeds of the fund.

Two courses of procedure appeared to be open. Either of which would satisfy the letter and spirit of the town's vote.

First, The net proceeds of the fund might be divided equally among the resident pupils. Second, Scholarships might be established. The number of resident pupils for example is twenty. The net income from the fund for the present year will be about $800. This sum divided among twenty pupils will require a tuition-fee of $40. To the parents of quite a number of pupils it would be as difficult to pay this as the larger sum of $75. Moreover there is no probability that there will be any great addition to the amount of the fund for years. The town is poor, and probably the number of resident pupils will increase from year to year. This being the case, the value of the bequest under the first method of distribution, would be less and less for individual pupils in view of these and other difficulties in the way of such a division of the proceeds of the funds, the committee deem best to adopt the plan of establishing scholarships open to competition.

The committee therefore recommend the passage of the following plan for the distribution of the fund. The net income of the fund, Adams fund, and fees for tuition from the town's people, shall be divided into two parts. 1st, The annual fee to be charged to residents of Quincy whose boys attend the Adams Academy shall be $75.

2d, The master shall report on the first of March in each year, to the Managers, the names of the pupils who have been the most distinguished in scholarship and conduct; and they shall proceed to devote the net income of the fund as reported by the supervisors on the first of April, to the payment of the entire tuition of as many boys as the fund will allow, in order of merit.

3d, Should the parent or guardian of any boy thus named by the managers, decline to receive his portion of this fund, it shall be transferred to the high-school, or to the boy who failed at the original assignment.

4th, For all boys not included in the assignment of the managers, the master is authorized to present and collect his bills on the first of May, in each year, and no boy shall be retained in the school whose fees remain unpaid on the first of June.

Signed, L. W. ANDERSON, CHAS. H. PORTER.

The foregoing provisions it will be seen enables any Quincy boy to obtain the full advantage of the Academy training by his own exertion as a scholar. Neither wealth nor poverty is considered in distributing the fund, but simply proficiency. In case however the parent of any boy prefer to waive any claim to the fund, the tuition may be paid, and a still wider opening made for good scholars of limited means. The school has opened, but it is by no means too late for boys of fidelity and intelligence to enter.

At a regular meeting of the managers of the Adams Academy held Friday, Sept. 12, 1879, the report of the committee was accepted, placed upon the records and the provisions of the report to govern the relation of the Quincy pupils to the School.

CHARLES H. PORTER, Secretary.

WEYMOUTH. At half past twelve o'clock on Thursday morning an alarm of fire was given at Weymouth. It was caused by the discovery of fire in the barn belonging to Mr. George Nash, on Front street which was entirely destroyed by its contents, consisting of about six tons of hay, three cows, two hogs, a mowing machine and many farm utensils.

Connected with the barn was the boot shop of Mr. John Tracy, who employed ten to fifteen men, and had under process of making twenty-two cases of boots belonging to Messrs. G. W. and E. Nash. Loss is about $1500, with little or no insurance.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

At a meeting of the Republicans of the second district on Thursday, in Boston, Chas. Marsh, Esq., of this town was chosen one of the District committee.

WANTED.

A NEAT Tidy Girl to do General Housework. For full particulars apply to Mrs. FAIRBANKS, on Central Avenue, first house on the right from Beal street, Wollaston. Quincy, Oct. 11.

WANTED.

IMMEDIATELY, an American married man, without children, who is a practical gardener and farmer, to do the work on a small place in this town. Address Box 252, Quincy, Mass. Quincy, Oct. 11.

Crocheters Wanted.

EXPERIENCED Hands preferred. Apply to ELLA BRACKETT, Elm Street, Quincy, Oct. 4.

NOTICE.

THIS certifies that I have given my son JOHN A. PAXTON, his time to transact business for himself, and that I shall claim none of his earnings or pay any of his debts after this date. WILLIAM PAXTON. Quincy, Oct. 8, 1879.

HOGS! HOGS!!

THE subscriber would inform the public that he is prepared to

DRESS HOGS.

in the best manner, and at short notice. Orders will receive prompt attention by being left with ELISHA HOBART, Pearl Street, or WILLIAM HOBART, Penn's Hill Quincy, Oct. 11.

MONEY WANTED.

ON first-class 6 and 7 per cent. Mortgages—better than bonds or stocks. A. W. SPRAGUE, 60 Devonshire street, Boston. Oct. 11.

Notice to Taxpayers.

I FIND in making my return to the Selectmen, a large number of voters have not paid their Poll Tax for two years. Consequently the names of those who are owing will be left out of the voting list. I will be at the Selectmen's Room, on SATURDAY, Oct. 4th and 11th, from 1 to 5 P. M., to receive taxes. GEORGE H. LOCKE, Collector. Quincy, Oct. 4.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT.

SUPPLEMENT.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1879.

SPEECH

AT MELROSE.

E. E. WILLIAMSON,

Wollaston Heights.

FELLOW CITIZENS:

In asking your attention to the discussion of national questions of public policy, I open a great subject of the most important and practical importance to the American people. The great battle for the vindication of the rights of all races and conditions of people on American soil, which began a half century ago, and which has been fought with unparalleled heroism by the liberty-loving of American citizens, in every form of discussion, through the press; in popular lectures; in Legislatures; in the halls of Congress, and on more than a hundred battle fields, at a cost of lives and treasure, the estimate of which is not yet made, is still being waged. For many years before the war of the Rebellion, the humane portion of the people of this country agitated the subject of slavery, and denounced in unmeasured terms its infamous and degrading oppressions, and its hateful wrongs to a race of beings numbering several millions. Slavery was either right or wrong, one of two. If it was right, it should have been upheld by the whole country, and, at least, the right has not been lost. If it was wrong, there was no position to take regarding it, and that was the position assumed by Mr. Garrison, who demanded the immediate and unconditional abolition of slavery. The almost entire control of the National Government in all its departments by the Democracy of the North, aided and abetted by the so-called propagandists of "the sum of all villainies," almost supreme power. The murder of Lovejoy; the assault on Charles Sumner in his seat in the United States Senate Chamber; the hanging of John Brown;—these were some of the crimes perpetrated against liberty which aroused the North to the necessity of governing the encroachments of slavery by congressional enactments.

Lovejoy's memory is held in fragrant remembrance; Sumner's fame is as evocative as the love of liberty in the human soul; and John Brown's soul "goes marching on," and his name will be always associated with the struggle for human freedom.

As late as 1852 the two great parties had declared in convention that the question of human slavery should not be agitated. But still the conscience of the North declared against the extension of the slave power, and a few of its best men demanded its utter extinction. In its attempts to make the American Republic a great slave-holding empire, and seeing clearly the growing spirit of freedom in the East and West, the South determined to appeal to the arbitrament of arms to settle the problem whether this union of States was to be severed at the behest of slavery. In the midst of this condition of affairs and at as dark an hour as history records in the life of the American Republic, Abraham Lincoln was chosen to the place once occupied by Washington.

You who know the anxiety of the North at this period will remember the reason of the Democracy of the South and the worse than treason of a secession from the Democracy of the North. The Democratic party, as a party, at the North, at once gave encouragement to the Rebels in the South who were preparing an assault on the life of the Government. The record of the Democratic party was as infamous as that of any party of which the history of the world gives us an account. Not only did it have for the encouragement of the administration; not a word to the oppressed; but its words of encouragement were to the enemies of the Government. I say these things in some regret, but they are true. When I recall the black record of the Democratic party, I wonder that any honest, intelligent man can be found at the North to defend its infamy. For many years before the war its entire policy and efforts were in the interests of human bondage, the enslavement of millions of human beings; the destruction of the family rights and ties; the separation of families; the denial of the privileges of religion and education; the blood-hounding of innocent persons; the hunting of fugitives who had escaped from bondage;—great heavens! with reverence I name the name of all that is good and just on earth what is there in the career of the Democratic party prior to the war, even, to excite the sympathy and respect of a loyal and progressive American?

Let us leave the ante-bellum story of this party which appeals to the country to place it in power, and glance at its course when the solid Democracy of the South assassinated the life of the nation. Every Rebel in the South was a Democrat. Buchanan and his cabinet were Democrats, and when Fort Sumpter was fired on, none of these men had a word for the Union. Buchanan said he knew of no power to coerce a state, and in this opinion he was no doubt reinforced by nine-tenths of the Democracy of the whole country. The war came.

First the war of arms on more than a hundred battlefields. Have the heroism of our soldiers, and the cause for which they fought and gave their lives been forgotten? Are Gettysburg, Vicksburg, Spottsylvania, Antietam, Petersburg, the Wilderness, Appomattox, and other historic fields blotted from our minds? Do we not remember with horror, Andersonville, Salisbury, Belle Isle and Libby?

Did Abraham Lincoln perish by the hands of an assassin, in vain? Did they die for naught who were with Sheridan in the valley; with Banks at Cedar Mountain and Port Royal; with Burnside on the Rappahannock; with Meade at Gettysburg; with Thomas at Chattanooga and Chickamauga and Nashville; with Hooker on Lookout; with Sherman in his march to the sea; with Farragut at New Orleans, when he lashed himself to the mast like Ulysses of old; with Grant at Vicksburg and Donelson and Appomattox? Are these great lessons in American history to be passed unheeded by the generations now on the stage of action, and by those to come after us?

During this period, when the tread of contending armies shook the continent, it was the settled policy of the Democratic party to apologize for the Rebellion; to discourage the efforts of President Lincoln to restore the Government; to refuse to vote money to carry on the war; to declare that every blow for the suppression of the Rebellion was a wound to the constitution; that there was no authority for the draft; that to issue bonds and greenbacks was in contravention of the constitution; that to confiscate slaves fleeing within union lines, was a great wrong. These were some of the manifold efforts of the Democratic party in the interests of the Rebellion during its early stages.

After the war of arms came the era of reconstruction. To provide for the return of a third of the population of the United States to their practical relations with the General Government was a great task which the war bequeathed to the Republican party. The great mistake which has been clearly shown by subsequent events, was in the leniency and magnanimity of the Government towards those who were in the Rebellion.

Unrepentant as the South is; treacherous as are its people and its public men, it must now seem plain that more vigorous measures should have been taken by the administration, and a few examples made, at least, by hanging, or by meting out some severe punishment to the leaders of the so-called Confederacy. Any other Government on the face of the earth would have strung them up as high as Haman, or other days. For the unparalleled generosity on the part of the people of the North, the South has returned absolutely nothing but the basest ingratitude and the most contemptuous rejection of the good offices and friendly overtures of the national Republican administration. With their people impoverished; their lands laid waste by the devastation of war; their ante-bellum constitutions crushed from the body politic; their civil polity overthrown; their homes filled with mourning; they presented themselves at the close of the war to the conquering hosts of the Union for whatever clemency the nation in its wisdom could bestow. Impartial history will record the unselfish and generous action of the government.

As a citizen who loves the whole country and believes in equal and exact justice to all, black or white, I hold up this dishonorable conduct of the South with scorn and contempt. The South was admitted into the Union with slavery abolished, and the Constitutions of their States in harmony with the amendments of the National Constitution. Thus was closed the era or period of reconstruction of the rebel States.

The diplomacy arising out of the war was conducted with great credit to the Republican party, and caused the American Government to be honored and respected abroad. The hydra-headed monstrosity of British neutrality found its legitimate sequence in the settlement of the Alabama claims.

Now then, what was the immeasurable sacrifice for the war? The great hosts of the Union dead will never be known, nor will it ever be ascertained how great was the number who died that the Republic might live, and the American people saved from an oligarchy reared on its colossal ruins. If I assert that half a million of men gave up their lives in the unholiest struggle of the rebellion, I shall not deviate far from the truth.—These men left thousands of widows and orphans. The more than three score and ten national cemeteries for the Union dead, with upward of three hundred local and post cemeteries, in their mute emphasis of the sacrifice, should arrest the solemn attention of every thoughtful mind. This was the cost in lives and mourning.

Let me briefly speak of the cost in dollars. Let us say that at the close of the war in 1865, the Government was in debt $3,350,000,000. This is $1,100,000,000 more than the total expense of the Government from 1775 to the breaking out of the rebellion, and $300,000,000 more than the amount by which the debt of England was increased in a twenty-two year war with Napoleon. When I think of the sacrifice for the preservation of the Union and the freedom of a race, I renewedly and highly resolve that for me I will neither by word or vote, permit this precious consecration to have been made in vain.

The United States Government by skillful financial management has caused its notes and bonds to be the equal of the standard currency of the world, and the resumption of specie payments, which must be maintained at all hazards, places the Government on a sound financial basis. The dying Democracy, before it plunged itself into the chasm of rebellion, found it difficult to negotiate a small loan at from 12 to 14 per cent.; but now the Government, just emerging from a great crisis, is offered the money of the world at one-third the rate James Buchanan was obliged to pay. Thus the question of national finance is assigned to congressional action, and withdrawn from the hackneyed debate of the crowd. The Greenback fizzle and craze is unworthy of serious attention.

From this picture of the affairs connected with the conflict in behalf of freedom, I turn to the great questions which we thought were settled for all time. Our fathers, when they laid the foundation of the Republic, solemnly announced the equal rights of all men, and that the Government rested upon the just consent of the governed. It was to form "a more perfect Union," into which should be incorporated the self-evident truths of the Declaration that our fathers pledged "their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor." Nowhere in all the declarations of the great men who founded this Republic, can there be found one word to justify the idea that this nation is simply a confederacy of States. In 1832, when the South Carolina Nullifiers undertook to ignore the customs laws of the United States, Andrew Jackson declared that "By the Eternal the Union must and should be preserved."

This was the doctrine of one of the historic characters of the Democratic party. At all events, the issues of the rebellion of 1861, if they settled anything, determined that the Union should be indissoluble. The next great proposition which the war settled, is that this Republic is to be forever free, and that the nation—the Central Government—has the power to enforce its own authority over every inch of its territory. This was the proposition upon which the war was fought. If the Government had not the Constitutional power to protect its own life from assassination, how could it send troops into Virginia to meet Lee and "Stonewall" Jackson in their desperate attempts to capture Washington and overthrow the Government? Asserting that these principles are fundamental in our form of Government, I pass to the consideration of some phases of national affairs growing out of the war.

In every effort of the Republican party in this great struggle, it has been confronted with the solid, unscrupulous, and unchristian opposition of the Democratic party. As a party, it opposed the war; but victory was won in spite of it.

The slaves were emancipated. To this they offered an unquenchable opposition; but the proclamation of emancipation, upon which President Lincoln invoked "the considerate judgment of mankind, and the gracious favor of Almighty God," will live in the history and in the hearts of mankind longer than the infamy which tried to thwart the freedom of a race, and to consign it to untold years of degradation and oppression. When the negro became free he was without the guarantee of civil rights, to the granting of which the Democratic party again interposed its unpatriotic objections; and when the crowning glory and justice of emancipation was about to be realized, by giving to the colored men their political rights, and placing them on an equal with the legion of the Rebel army, who could only make their marks for their signatures, the Democratic party had no words of congratulation and aid.

The negro got his political rights in spite of Democratic conservatism, and when the Republican party set out to make the notes of the Government as good as the standard of values prescribed in the National Constitution, it was again met by a fierce opposition by leading Democrats of the North, with the aid of the ex-Confederates of the South. The party which in its national Convention in 1864, resolved, that "the war was a failure," after Grant had given us Vicksburg and Meade had won the victory of Gettysburg, was ready to place the Government before the world, as a repudiator of its just obligations and its promises.

With this record, which I have only briefly sketched, it is constantly presenting itself to the people for endorsement, and for their suffrages, and is as often defeated. I am here reminded of the culprit who had murdered in cold blood his mother and father, and when upon the gallows, he was in the act of expiating his awful crime, begged the crowd to save him because he was a "poor orphan."

Gentlemen of the Democratic party, how can you enjoy yourselves with such a record?

I remember the story of the old Deacon who felt obliged to swear at his fractious cow. One day the Parson overheard him use profanity and reprimanded the Deacon, when the latter confessed that he should never enjoy religion as long as he kept that cow.

But after all, fellow citizens, the overshadowing political problem which is presented to the American people is what is termed the SOUTHERN QUESTION. There are sixteen Southern States, with 138 Electoral votes. Six of these States are by a fair count Republican.—In all the others there is a large Republican vote. Let us look at this subject a little more specifically. In Arkansas, in 1868, General Grant received 22,112 votes, and the Electoral College of the State. The Republicans elected two of the three members of Congress.

Again, in 1872, Grant received 41,373 votes, and the Electoral College of the State. In 1876, President Hayes received by the Confederate count, 38,669 votes. In 1878, a year ago, these Republican votes had entirely disappeared. Take Georgia, in '76, the Republicans polled for Governor Hayes, 50,446 votes. In 1878, this vote was reduced to about 5000. In Louisiana, the colored population is 84,431; the white, 45,199.—A Republican majority on the color line of 39,232. In 1872, Grant received 71,663 votes, and the Republicans elected a solid delegation to Congress. In 1876, the registration showed a Republican majority of 22,314. In 1876, even by the Confederate count, Gov. Hayes received 77,174 votes; but two years later this heavy Republican vote disappeared, and a unanimous Confederate delegation was returned to Congress.

What had become of the Republican majority from 1867 to 1876? What of the more than 70,000 votes for General Grant in 1872? The "Knights of the White Camellia" had suppressed this vote in terrorism, blood, and fraud.

Let me cite briefly the case of Alabama. With a Republican majority on the color line alone of 15,890. In 1868, Gen. Grant received 76,366 votes and the Electoral College of the State. In 1872, Grant received 90,272 votes and the Electoral College of the State. Even in 1876, under the manipulation of the Confederate count, 68,230 votes were counted for Governor Hayes; but in 1878, at the election of Governor, not a single Republican vote was counted.—What had become of Grant's majorities in 1868 and 1872? What of Hayes' vote in 1876 of 68,230 votes? The shot gun had wiped them out in blood.

South Carolina, in 1868, had a Republican majority on the color line alone of 47,010. In 1870, the State had a colored majority of 126,741.

In 1868, at the Presidential election,

Gen. Grant received in South Carolina 62,301 votes, and the Electoral College of the State. In 1872, Grant received 72,290 votes,—49,587 majority, and the Electoral College of the State. A solid Republican delegation was elected to Congress, and the Republicans had a majority of 95 on a joint ballot in the State Legislature. In 1876, Gov. Hayes received more than 91,000 votes. Tilden, supported by the rifle clubs, received only 90,996 votes. But in 1878, what had become of this large Republican vote? The Democratic vote was increased 30,000 votes, a solid Democratic delegation sent to Congress, and in the State Legislature there was a Democratic majority of 142. Where then were the majorities of 1868 and 1872? and, indeed, of Hayes' vote of 91,786, polled in 1876, only two years before? Assassination with shot guns, the terrorism of the Ku Klux, and of the Red Coats, had entirely suppressed them in blood and violence.

Mississippi has a Republican majority of nearly 70,000 on the color line alone. The majorities of 1872 and 1874, together with the large Republican vote of 1876, were in 1878 entirely overcome by the well-known "Mississippi Plan," and fellow citizens, what has been the result of these bloody intimidations of the Republicans of the South? Are you, can you, be unmindful of the result of this policy upon your interests, and the welfare of the North?

Before I close I hope to show the glaring wrong which the North is now suffering from the infamy, treachery, bulldozing, and fraud, of the people in the South, who contribute so little to the material aid of the Government.

In the Senate of the United States the Democracy count 42 votes,—30 from the South, and only 12 from the North. In the National House of Representatives they count 155 votes,—100 from the South, and only 55 from the North.

Turning to the Standing Committees of the two Houses, the wrong to the North becomes still more apparent. Fellow citizens, I am not giving you empty and meaningless rhetoric, which you often, I am sorry to say, hear in political addresses; but I am giving you vital statistics. In the Senate, of its twenty-eight Standing Committees, the Confederates have seventeen of the most important,—those on Privileges and Elections, Appropriations, Commerce, Agriculture, Post Offices and Post Roads, Indian Affairs, Pensions, Claims, District of Columbia, Territories, Education and Labor, Railroads, Civil Service and Retrenchment, etc. The Confederates not only have the chairmanship of these committees, but they control them. In all cases a majority of the committees are Democrats, and a majority of the Democrats on each committee are from the South. The Committee on Pensions has for its chairman, an officer—Gen. Withers—fresh from the rebel army; and the important position of Chairman of the Committee on the Commerce of the United States is no less a personage than A. H. Stephens, the late Vice President of the Rebel Confederacy. It makes one's blood boil to contemplate this condition of affairs, and to resolve to cause it to be reversed by a solid North and Republican triumphs.

In the House of Representatives the same rule and composition of committees govern. There are forty-two Standing Committees, twenty-two of which have Confederate chairmen,—those on Appropriation, on Banking and Currency, Commerce, Judiciary, Pacific Railroads, Railways and Canals, Coinage, Weights and Measures, Post Offices and Post Roads, Claims, Educational Labor, Accounts, etc. As in the Senate, so it is in the House, the committees are so constituted that the members of the South have a majority. The limits of a political address of this character will not admit of an analysis of this state of affairs in Congress. In a word let me say, the Confederates have captured Washington, Congress and its committees, and control the legislation of the country.

As a most serious part of this great usurpation of the South, through the instrumentalities of assassination and intimidation, the committees on the ascertainment and declaration of the election of President and Vice President of the United States, are in the control of those who so lately sought the destruction of the Government. This may be a very dangerous lodgment of power. In the Senate the committee is composed of four Confederates, one Northern Democrat and three Republicans. In the House the committee is composed of seven Democrats and four Republicans, with four of the seven Democrats from the South. No doubt that this committee was deliberately constructed with instructions to devise and report a scheme, no matter how revolutionary or unconstitutional the plan may be, to count out the loyal candidates, and count in the candidates who shall represent the Southern oligarchy. Let us now, fellow citizens, examine another phase of this momentous question. There are nineteen Republican States, representing 191 electoral votes, against nineteen States, including Indiana, Ohio and Oregon, with 178 electoral votes. Not including these three great States, which in a Presidential year are pretty sure to cast a Republican majority, the Republican party has a clean majority of thirteen in the Electoral College. Taking into account the popular vote in 1878 for Congress, without including California, with fraud and intimidations, the entire suppression of the Republican vote in all the States of the late so-called Confederacy, the nineteen Republican States embrace a total vote of 3,834,684 votes, as against 2,839,135 of the so-called Democratic States; and if we include as we should, the State of California, the Republicans have a majority of over a million votes.

I trust I shall not weary you with these most important and highly interesting facts. Now, fellow citizens, a word regarding the population of these States. The Republican States have 19,841,070 persons, as against 18,341,435 of the States in the Democratic reckoning,—a Republican majority of over a million and a half. Of the $30,942,778,443, the States claiming to be Democratic possess only $9,114,681,561. The Republican States possess $21,828,096,882, or $12,713,415,321 more than the Democratic States. Nearly three-fourths of the total wealth of the nation.

Just a brief word about taxation. In 1878 the Custom Duties paid amounted to $130,146,847.18 of this vast sum $122,657,753.11 was collected and paid by Republican States. Barely $7,489,094.07 were paid by the Democratic States, or in other words, in the Republican States were paid over fifteen-sixteenths of the entire custom duties of the nation; so of Internal Revenue out of a total collection of $104,518,632 last year (1878) $57,638,192 were collected and paid over to the government in the Republican States. $10,757,754 in excess of the amount paid in the Democratic States, in whose list are included Indiana, Ohio and Oregon. Bear with me a moment while I summarize the amount of Internal Revenue taxes collected since the close of the war. The total amount in thirteen years reaches the enormous sum of $2,055,397,846.18. The eleven late Confederate States paid $201,906,696.15. The great state of Ohio alone has paid $215,010,620.54, in the same period, or $13,104,524.39 more than all the late Rebel States. Illinois paid $9,981,216.20 more than all the eleven Confederate States.

Now, then, I submit that with this great inferiority in wealth, population, tax payers, education and resources, this country ought not to be dominated over by this land of ku klux, shot guns, murder, outrage, fraud, bowie knives, ignorance and general cursedness. If the North submits to these outrages it will richly deserve to be called a people of "mudsills," and inferior to the Southerners, who hate the union as much to-day as ever, and show their contempt for the union and for the army by refusing appropriations and removing union soldiers from congressional positions.

The South, by assassination, bulldozing, ku klux, red coats, tissue ballots, &c., intends to get control of the Government. Alexander Stephens, in 1861, before the war, in a speech before the Georgia Convention, boasted of what the South had had in officers and patronage under the Government.

This subtle, treacherous, Rebel Statesman acknowledged the South had had control of the National Government in all its departments, before the war. Instead of to-day being a member of Congress of the union which Lincoln and Grant and Sherman and Sheridan, with their Compeers and the loyal North have saved, he should have been exiled, at least, and most Governments would have executed him without much ado. The idea of such a vacillating Rebel being Chairman of the Committee on Commerce! He ought to be a "fugitive and a vagabond" on the face of the earth, and that would be too good for him.

The South had controlled the Government. A majority of Presidents came from the South. They had had sixty years of Presidents to twenty-four of the North. Eighteen of the Judges of the Supreme Court were from the South, and eleven from the North, while four-fifths of the judicial business was in the free States. Twenty-four presiding officers of the Senate from the South and only eleven from the North. Speakers of the House, the South had twenty-three and the North twelve, of foreign ministers the South had had eighty-six, the North fifty-four, while three-fourths of all the Diplomatic business came from the North, on account of our greater commercial interests. The officers of the army and navy were from the South. So of clerks and auditors filling the Executive department of the Government. The South had previous to 1860 two-thirds of the same, while they had but one-third of the white population. Just one more item, that of the Post-office department. The expense for carrying the mails in the free states, was by the Postmaster General's report for the year 1860, over $13,000,000, while the income was $19,000,000. But in the slave states the transportation of the mail was $14,716,000, while the revenue for the same was $8,001,026, leaving a deficit of $6,714,974 to be supplied by the North for the accommodation of the South, and without which the South could have had no post-office department within its borders. The North was $6,000,000 ahead of expenses in the Post-office department, the South nearly $7,000,000 in arrear, and I have no doubt the same condition of things exists to-day. Will the North submit to such control by a dependant and treasonable minority?

Passing now to consider the question of political representation we find that the wrong is even, if possible, more atrocious. 106 Representatives were at the last election chosen in the Southern states, of these the Democrats elected 101 and the Republicans 5; of these 35 were assigned to the Southern states because of the negro population which had become free. But this political power of the colored people of the South has been cruelly and shamefully seized by the bullets of the assassin, and only one colored man is in Congress as the representative of his race—Senator Bruce of Mississippi—and he will soon be superseded by some one more in accord with the present Southern sentiment. Let me show you in a more comprehensive way the wrong to the colored race. By the last census in 1870, the 11 confederate states had a population of 9,500,000 of which 5,500,000 were white and 4,000,000 colored. On this aggregate population there were appointed to the South 73 Representatives in Congress, of these 42 or 43 were by reason of the whites and 30 or 31 by reason of the negro population. 70 districts out of the 73 have been seized by the shot-gun process. So then in the eleven states of the Confederacy 75,000 whites—the Rebels—elect a representative, while at the loyal North it requires 132,000 to elect a representative in Congress.

The Government was eager to secure the services of the black man during the struggle of the Rebellion. 250,000 colored men fought in the Union army, at Wagner; in the mines before Petersburg, and on other bloody fields the colored man bravely aided the Union cause. He was the trusty informer for the cause of "massa" Lincoln, and the North. How wickedly he has been treated. His right of suffrage is a hollow mockery, and he is the unwilling agency whereby the South increases its representatives, while he is defrauded and robbed of his dearest rights.

THE EXODUS.

Fellow Citizens:—As a result of the proscription course of the South—the policy of shot guns, assassination, bulldozing, tissue ballot, social ostracism and constant intimidation—the negroes, like God's chosen people of old, have in large numbers left their homes—humble as they are, having been established since the war—and have journeyed to distant states, where the spirit and laws of freedom will protect their lives, their families and their property. And as the Lord went before the children of Israel "by day in a pillar of cloud to lead them away; and by night in a pillar of fire to give them light," and as "He took not away the pillar of the cloud by day, nor the pillar of fire by night from before the people." (Exodus XIII, 21 and 22 vs.), so do I firmly believe that the God of Abraham, and of Isaac, and of Jacob, will not forsake these poor people—the creatures of his own hand—as they flee to a spot on their Creator's earth, where they can enjoy after years of bondage, the sweet comfort of personal protection, and the benignant influences of civil and religious liberty.

But the parallel between the Egyptians of old under Pharaoh, the hard-hearted tyrant, in the treatment of the Israelites, and the Confederates under the ku klux, can be carried still further. "But the Egyptian pursued after them all the horses and chariots of Pharaoh, and his horsemen and his army." (Exodus XIV, 9 verse). So in the case of the colored people fleeing from murder haunted Mississippi to Kansas, and other Western states, they have met with attempts to embarrass and thwart their plans and wishes. The Governor of Kansas states that in immediate adaption to the needs of the hour, the colored emigrants have shown a most remarkable readiness, industry and economy. I believe that the spirit of God is especially upon this poor down trodden people, and they have been moved to leave their little huts and log cabins, to seek a better place in which to live, and where they can at least die as other men die.

I regard the exodus as one of three great events in history. First, the appearance of our Saviour. Second, the landing of the Pilgrim Fathers. Third, the exodus of the negroes of the South. No man can measure the far-reaching consequences of this great event, which we, in our day, are privileged to witness. He whose pitying eye is ever watchful in the care of the oppressed and afflicted, will not, I faithfully believe, turn away from one of the most touching incidents in the human family's history. I recall one of Mr. Sumner's almost matchless periods of eloquence: "Aloft on the throne of God," said the great Senator, "and not below in footsteps of the trampling multitude of men, are the sacred rules of right, which no majorities can displace or overturn."

I hold up this great wrong before the people, and I denounce the South as a place worse than the heathen and despotic nations of the old world. Indeed, it is hell upon earth. You hear the case. What will you do?

STATE AFFAIRS.

Now, then, a brief discussion of State affairs, which are so intimately connected with those of the nation. Massachusetts cannot afford at this important hour to swerve one jot or one tittle from her ancient principles and declarations. The faithful servants of Massachusetts, Senators Dawes and Hoar, have solemnly and most earnestly warned our people of the great danger impending. Like faithful servants on the watch tower of liberty they have in the most vigorous tones called upon the old Bay State to remain true to herself and her past record, while the political storm is still lowering. They see the political sky more clearly than we are able to do, and the cloud no bigger than a man's hand, is noticed by these wise leaders, and they immediately warn the country.

For the sixth time, I think, Benj. F. Butler is before the people as a candidate for the office of Governor of this renowned commonwealth. He wants it badly, and has for the last twenty-five years. I greatly respect many things that General Butler did in the war. For these, history will do him justice, and the Republican party has repeatedly honored him. But I believe him a dangerous man, and in every case he has left the party to which he belonged, for the least chance of political preference from the opposition. No doubt he will repeat the same thing in the case of the Greenback and Democratic parties, so called, when the occasion presents itself. He betrayed the Democrats of Massachusetts in 1860, and voted about fifty times for Jeff. Davis in the Charleston, S. C. Convention. He has been on all sides of the public questions of the day, and advocates some of the most dangerous and unsafe of doctrines. His most severe arraignment is to be found in his own utterances, which would be considered insanity in an ordinary person, so great are the contradictions in his public declarations. Behind Gen. Butler are the most dangerous elements in society—Some good persons, no doubt, urge his election; but the great portion is the disaffected and reactionary part of the community. General Butler has a personal following which is not at all governed by principles of any party. He will not be elected, and I predict a very short life to the political elements which now support him.

The subject of Butlerism is not interesting, nor is it so important a factor in our politics as it was, possibly, a year ago. It is not Massachusetts that needs reforming, but Ben. Butler and his motley crew.

The Republican Party presents to the voters of Massachusetts, for the State offices some of its most honorable and honored citizens. For the two most prominent positions, the Republican party confidently endorses His Honor, Lieut. Gov. John D. Long of Hingham, and Capt. Byron Weston, of Dalton. Wherever these men are best known, they are most beloved and honored. Governor Long is a true man, honest and faithful, and desires to maintain the sterling character of our ancient Commonwealth and to gain for himself the approval of her good citizens. In every position in which his talents have been displayed, he has shown aptitude for executive affairs. He is an eloquent and scholarly man, and will be a worthy successor to John A. Andrew, Governors Bullock, Claflin, Washburn, Rice and Talbot. A vote for Butler is a vote for the worst elements of the Democratic party. A vote for Gov. Long is a vote for the best political organization of which history gives us an account. A vote for Butler will encourage the disaffected, sore-headed, reactionary portion of the country. A vote for Long will be aidful for every good element in society, and for the stability of the Government. A vote for Butler will encourage every hater of the Union and of the North; every ku klux and assassin in the South, and every opponent of the principles of the Republican party. A vote for Butler will lessen in that degree, the chances of a Republican victory in 1880, and imperil the great achievements of the costly sacrifice which was made necessary by the slave-holder's rebellion.

Fellow citizens, the situation is too grave for you to hesitate a moment.—Arise yourselves on the side of the great party which has done so much for the Nation, and be ready for the great conflict of next year, when all the political forces will be called into action, to ascertain whether the Government is to be turned over to those who sought its life; or to the administration of those who were its loyal defenders. For whoever shall be the candidate, whether it shall be the great Senator of Maine, Mr. Blaine; or the successful financier of the Treasury,—Secretary Sherman; or that noble and eloquent statesman of New York, Vice President Wheeler; or the hero of the late war, the greatest chieftain of history,—Gen. Grant,—let us show a solid front of loyalty at the North, to meet the solid mass of disloyalty at the South. Let our rallying cry in this campaign be Long and Weston! The Republican party and victory! Victory now, and victory in the great impending contest.

When "fighting" Joe Hooker was waging battle with the rebels above the clouds on Lookout, a soldier was borne tenderly down the mountain to the ambulance below. As he was being carried along, some of his comrades saw him and noticed his ghastly wounds. "Where were you hit?" said one. Said the dying soldier, "I was almost at the top, and we had almost won the victory, when there came a shot from the enemy which wounded me. Do you see where I was hit? I was almost at the top, and we had nearly driven the enemy," he again murmured, and closed his eyes in death.

So, fellow-citizens, one more effort by the Republican party and we shall have won a lasting heritage for the generations to come after us. "Almost at the top" are we, and the victory is nearly won. Close up the ranks, and let the North stand as it did in the dark days of the rebellion, a solid phalanx for justice; for protection of the ballot box; for national integrity and national supremacy; for the honor of old Massachusetts, and for her pure and upright citizens, Hon. John D. Long and Capt. Byron Weston.

Smelting Tackle

—AT—
S. H. SPEAR'S,
Hancock Street.
Quincy, Oct. 4.

Something New!

—BOSTON BRANCH—
TEA, COFFEE
—AND—
VARIETY STORE,
—AT—
QUINCY POINT!!

The undersigned would respectfully inform his friends and the citizens of Quincy and vicinity in particular, that he has opened a Variety Store, at Quincy Point, for the accommodation of the public, and shall sell first class goods at Boston prices.

TEAS & COFFEES MADE A SPECIALTY.
Choice Butter, Lard, Flour,
SPICES, &c., &c.
CIGARS AND TOBACCO.

A CHOICE ASSORTMENT OF
CONFECTIONERY!
BREAD, PASTRY
And Fancy Crackers.
Soda and Pilot Breads!

He has also connected an ICE CREAM OYSTER and DINING ROOMS.
Oysters served in every style. Also by the quart or gallon.
Picnic parties furnished with supplies at short notice.

CALL AND EXAMINE THE GOODS.
EDWARD CROSS.
Quincy Point, Aug. 13.

OLD PAPERS, FOR SALE.

A FEW hundred of old Newspapers, unprinted, suitable for wrapping and other purposes,—for sale at the Patriot Office.
Quincy, Nov. 3.

Boys' Clothing

A Full Line of SUITS,
—FOR—
BOYS and YOUTHS,
Selling at Prices to suit the Times.

GEORGE SAVILLE,
60 Hancock St.
Quincy, May 17.

MOVIE BUILDINGS
—FOR—
BOYS and YOUTHS,
Selling at Prices to suit the Times.
GEORGE SAVILLE,
60 Hancock St.
Quincy, May 17.

NOTICE!

THE Assessors of the Town of Quincy, give notice that they have delivered to GEO. H. LOCKE, Collector of Taxes, a correct list of the Taxes, together with a warrant, in due form of law, for collecting the same, and that by a vote of the town, all persons who shall pay their taxes on or before the 15th day of SEPTEMBER, 1879, a discount of four per cent. will be made. By a vote of the Town all taxes are due and payable on the first day of November, and the Collector is required to pay interest, on all taxes not paid before December 1st, 1879.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Assessors
WILLIAM N. EATON, of
CHARLES H. PORTER, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 13, 1879.

State Aid.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in the Town House, on the last MONDAY in each month, from 3 to 4 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions of the law of 1879.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Selectmen
WILLIAM N. EATON, of
CHARLES H. PORTER, Quincy.
Quincy, March 8.

Selectmen's Meetings.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in the Town House every SATURDAY from 2 to 4 o'clock, P. M., until further notice. Persons having business with the Town will leave present it on those days.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Selectmen
WILLIAM N. EATON, of
CHARLES H. PORTER, Quincy.
Quincy, March 8, 1879.

$15.00 Reward!

WHEREAS a large number of guide-boards and street lamps have been wantonly and maliciously broken in this town, the undersigned offer the above reward to any person who will furnish evidence sufficient to convict the person guilty of said offense.

Also,—For Breaking Glass in windows of buildings belonging to the town.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Selectmen
WILLIAM N. EATON, of
CHARLES H. PORTER, Quincy.
Quincy, March 8, 1879.

Scarlet Fever, Small Pox,

Diphtheria, Measles, &c.

Office of the Board of Health.
QUINCY, MARCH 5, 1879.

THE Board of Health issues the following notice:—That on and after MONDAY, March 10th, 1879, the following provisions of Chapter 26 of the General Statutes will be strictly enforced:

SEC. 47. When a household knows that a person within his family is taken sick of any disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the board of health of the town in which he dwells. If he refuses or neglects to give such notice, he shall forfeit a sum not exceeding $100.

SEC. 48. When a physician knows that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with any disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the board of health of the town; and if he refuses or neglects to give such notice, he shall forfeit for each offense a sum not less than $50, nor more than $100.

The Board considers the above sections to apply to scarlet fever, small pox, diphtheria, measles and whooping cough.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Board
WILLIAM N. EATON, of
CHARLES H. PORTER, Quincy.
Quincy, March 8.

HAIR WORK!

MISS M. A. BELLEW, invites her old customers and friends to call at the Fashionable Hair Dressing, in Pierce's Block, where they will find her ready to attend to the making of Hair Work, in all its branches. Ladies can have their hair combed or dressed in the latest style, at short notice.

M. A. BELLEW.
Quincy, Aug. 2.

Why will you be troubled

WITH FLIES.

Buy a POWDER GUN AND THE BEST (INSECT POWDER KNOWN.)
At Veazie's Apothecary Store.
Quincy, June 21.

HISTORY

OLD BRAINTREE
—AND—
QUINCY,
—BY—
WILLIAM S. PATTEE, M. D.

THE Publishers of this excellent work are pleased to announce that bound copies are now

FOR SALE AT THE PATRIOT OFFICE.

The history is being bound at the book binding establishment of AMOS K. ALLISTINE, in Chelsea, and the publishers are happy to say that he is doing this work in an excellent manner. On the cover is stamped in gold a view of Mount Wollaston as it appeared in 1840.

The book contains nearly 700 octavo pages, and is illustrated by numerous engravings.

PRICES:
In Cloth, $5.50
Extra English Cloth, bevel boards, 3.75
Half Turkey Morocco, and paper, 4.00
" " " cloth, 4.25
Half Turkey Morocco, gilt edges, 5.00

Copies will be sent by mail, postage prepaid, at the above prices.

GREEN & PRESCOTT,
Publishers

FOUND DEAD.

Flies and other Insects, Bed Bugs included, all killed by that Genuine Persian Powder.

Sold by J. H. VEAZIE.
N. B. Get the genuine at Veazie's.
Quincy, June 28.

ESTABLISHED 1830.

FREDERICK & FIELD.

Granite Monuments,
Cemetery and Building Work,
OF ALL DESCRIPTION.

Light, Medium and Dark Blue
QUINCY GRANITE,
FROM OUR OWN QUARRIES.

Or any other variety New England Granite furnished.

STEAM POLISHING WORKS.

Granite Statuary executed in the most Artistic Manner.
Bronze Statuary furnished to Quincy, July 12.

AIR SLACKED LIME

—FOR SALE BY—

J. Loud & Co.,

—AT THE—
QUINCY GRAIN STORE.

The best Disinfectant for Purifying
Stables, Privies, Cesspools,
AND SPRINKLING IN CELLARS.
Quincy, July 26.

ISAIAH WHITE,

DEALER IN
FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUIT
OF ALL KINDS.

Jellies and Preserves,
CANNED GOODS, &c.
100 Tremont Street, Boston.
(Under Horticultural Hall.)
May 31.

BAILEY & BAXTER,

Carpenters and Builders
CORNER SCHOOL AND PLEASANT STS.

CONTINUE to give attention to Carpenter Work of all descriptions.
All orders promptly attended to and faithfully executed.

Bells Hung to Order.
Door and Window Screens a specialty. Now is the time to get them ready for Summer use. Sashes, Blinds, Repaired in the best manner. Don't go to Boston for repairs when it can be done cheaper at home. Also, Light Turning and Scroll Sawing. Locks repaired. Keys fitted. Sashes ground and Saws filed.
H. BAILEY, J. S. BAXTER.
Quincy, Jan. 4.

P. H. GAVIN,

PLUMBER.
98 Hancock Street, Quincy.

Store formerly occupied by T. G. Emerson, in Adams Block.

Orders addressed to Box 73 Quincy Post Office, will receive prompt attention.

EVERY VARIETY OF PLUMBING WORK done at lowest prices.
Quincy, Jan. 28.

IRA LITCHFIELD,

Carpenter and Builder,
PEARL STREET,
SOUTH QUINCY.

Feb. 14.

NOTICE.

THE Subscriber would inform the citizens of Quincy that he is prepared to do general spring work,—carting, digging, gardening, &c.

Special attention given to cleaning vaults.
TERRANCE KEENEY,
Cor. of South and Main Sts.
Box 540, Quincy Post Office.
Quincy, March 29.

NOTICE!

S. N. JILLOVEY,
STONE MASON AND CONTRACTOR,

would inform the public that he is ready for business again. Stone Work in all its branches. Walling and stonemasonry. Particular attention given to setting Cemetery Work of all kinds. Work done in a skillful manner. All orders left at his residence, Robinson street, West Quincy, Mass., or at P. O. Box 76, will receive prompt attention.
Quincy, March 1.

ROBERTSON HOUSE,

QUINCY, MASS.

This new brick Hotel, on Hancock Street, is now open for the accommodation of guests. It is provided with all modern improvements, such as Steam Heat, Bath Rooms, Water Closets, &c., and a very fine DRAMATIC HALL or BALL ROOM.

PLEASURE PARTIES can find here all the comforts of home. In the dining room, W. P. F. RESERVE.

H. FRENCH, JR.,

House and Sign Painter,

IN EVERY VARIETY.

Washington Street, Quincy.

Feb. 10.

C. S. WHITING,

DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

FRESH FISH.

—AND—
OYSTERS,
QUINCY AVENUE, QUINCY.

June 29.

BENJ. F. CURTIS,

—DEALER IN—
Hemlock, Spruce and Pine Lumber.

A full assortment constantly on hand.

CARL WHARVES!!

Quincy, Jan. 19.

DR. F. J. BONNEY,

DENTIST!

FAXON'S BLOCK, - - CHESTNUT STREET

ALL operations in dentistry faithfully performed. Teeth extracted by the use of Ether or Nitrous Oxide Gas.
Office open Day and Evening.
Quincy, Feb. 28.

Charles S. French,

DENTIST.

Cor. Hancock and Chestnut Streets.

ALL operations in Dentistry skillfully performed. Teeth extracted by the use of Ether or Nitrous Oxide Gas.
Office open day or evening.
Quincy, Nov. 16.

J. B. CHAFFIN,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.

In John Q. Adams' Office.

Quincy, March 15.

A. W. HAYES,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M. and 4 to 6 P. M.

WHITCHER'S NEW BLOCK
Quincy, June 25.

Wm. G. A. PATTEE,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,

25 FEMBERTON SQUARE,
BOSTON.

Residence School Street, Quincy.
June 14.

MARY K. GALE, M. D.,

HOMOEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN,

Wollaston Heights.

OFFICE:—Residence of Mr. Geo. W. B. Taylor, Newport Ave., near railroad depot.

Office Hours:—7 to 9 A. M., 4 to 6 P. M.
Quincy, March 1.

L. F. BUTLER, M. D.,

HOMOEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN,

GRANITE STREET (Cor. Hancock St.)
QUINCY.

REFERENCES:—Prof. J. H. Woodbury, M.D.; Prof. David Thayer, M.D.; Prof. I. T. De Bol, M.D.

Office Hours: 8 1/2 to 10 A. M.; 12 to 2 P. M.; 7 to 9 P. M.
Quincy, March 31.

W. H. SHERMAN, M. D.,

Physician and Surgeon.

WOULD Respectfully inform the people of Quincy and vicinity that he is permanently located at

Room C, Whitcher's Block,

Temple St., and is prepared to treat both surgical and medical diseases either at his office or the houses of his patients.

N. B. Wednesday of each week, from 9 A. M. until 4 P. M. Dr. Sherman will give his services free of charge.

Quincy, Sept. 26.

Dollars and Cents

In the Pockets of the People

SAVED!!

BY Buying your MEDICINES and FANCY GOODS at the Famous Drug Store

WHITCHER'S BLOCK, TEMPLE ST.,

LOOMIS & WELD.

Proprietors.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

JOHN O. HALL,

ACCOUNTANT.

SETS OF BOOKS opened or closed.

ACCOUNTS examined and adjusted.

—ADDRESS—
Box 184, Quincy P. O.

July 19.

JOS. W. LOMBARD,

Auctioneer and Real Estate Agent,

Hancock Court.

Quincy, Sept. 21.

CHARLES HATCH,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor.

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE ON
Railroad St., near Quincy Station.

Surveys, Plans and Details made of Real Estate. Estimates furnished for the building of structures of all kinds.

Measurements of work made for contractors and mechanics.

Owner of notes and claims promptly belonging to ME J. E. SEABUCK.

All orders promptly attended to.

Poetry.

WORDS.

I have known a word hang starlike
Through a night of dreary years,
And often seemed the brightest
Through a blinding mist of tears;
And a weary wanderer gathered Hope and heart on life's dark way—
For it cheered him as he struggled Till the dawning of the day.

I have known a spirit calmer
Than the calmest lake, and clear
As the heavens that shone upon it,
With no wave of doubt or fear;
I have watched the storm sweep o'er it
Till its deepest depths were stirred,
Never, never more to slumber,
Only by a word.

Agricultural, &c.

Classifying Eggs.

The millions of eggs sent weekly to the Paris market are classified according to size and quality previous to their exposure for sale. The first point is determined by their passage or non-passage through rings of known diameter, and their comparative freshness is estimated by "mirage" or subjection to reflected light thrown out by powerful lamps. The difference between an absolutely fresh and a decidedly stale egg is readily settled by this test, but the intermediate distinctions are less easily noted. For this purpose the application of the brine test is recommended, the fact being well known that if eggs of different ages are put into a strong solution of salt, they sink more or less deeply in the liquid according to age, the freshest rise to the surface, an obvious source of fallacy in this method, if roughly applied, since an egg that would pass muster as tolerably fresh when immersed in a weak solution, would rise to the surface as a downright bad one in a stronger brine.

The difficulty could be partly met by the variable use of a standard solution of known strength, and such a one is now recommended by a Dijon chemist who has paid much attention to the subject. The proportions he advises are three and one-fourth ounces of table salt in a quart of pure water. Placed in brine of this strength, an egg just laid will exactly touch the bottom of the vessel; if twenty-four hours old, it does not quite reach it; if three days old it floats midway in the liquid; and if more than five, it rises to the top. Beyond this age, the shell rises above the surface of the fluid, protruding further and further, within certain limits, from day to day.

DR. LORING'S FARM. Dr. George B. Loring's farm, near Salem, contains 420 acres 125 of which are under cultivation, 245 in pasture and the rest in marsh. He has two barns, one 100 feet by 36, and the other 150 by 42 feet, each 20-feet posts. He keeps 80 cows and heifers, mostly Ayrshires, and has a milk route in Salem. He keeps 25 horses and colts, among them the white mare that Parson Murray denominated the "perfect horse," now upwards of 20 years of age. His stock horse Conway has been the sire of most of the colts bred on the farm. He has a yoke of oxen as reported weighing 7300 lbs. 275 tons of hay and 700 or 1000 bushels of roots in prospect. He employs four men in winter and seven in summer.

Owe no more than you are able to pay, and permit no man to owe you more than you are able to lose, is good advice. Such words heeded by young men will be found of great practical value. You may not thus become very rich, nor will you be likely to die very poor. Do not burden too heavily the present in prospective "futures." The evil of this practice may serve to increase the population of Concord, while it will diminish that outside of that home of convicts.

Persons who store harness "under foot" may like to know that a dressing of oil in which cayenne pepper is mixed, at the rate of a teaspoonful to a pint, is said to afford sure protection against gnawing by rats.

It is poor economy to employ poor labor, whether in the factory or on the farm, and no less so in one case than in the other. It is also injustice to individuals to pay a uniform rate, as many farmers have done with too little discrimination.

It is very unwise to compel stock to eat more salt than their appetite craves, by feeding it in their hay. Give them salt so they can go to it when they want it, and they will never eat too much. Large doses are laxative and dangerous irritants.

Mr. Alfred C. Hersey of Hingham, a few days since cut a heavy crop of grass the third cut from the same field this season.

Illinois farmers have forty-five millions of bushels of wheat, worth at the lowest estimate, forty millions of dollars.

Anecdotes.

"Pa," said Pet "may I det up and twot on your knees?"

"Certainly," was the ready reply, "let the little gallop."

A damsel was telling one of her admirers after church that she had been "trying all meeting time" to get him to look at her (very wrong in the girl), but without success. He feelingly replied, "I am very sorry, but really I didn't catch your eye dear."

Among a party who were visiting the beautiful country estate of a Boston business man, recently, was a gentleman considerably interested in ornithology. As they passed through the grounds he accosted a laborer and asked:

Has Mr. B.—any Macaws on the place now?

Resting from his labors the son of Erin replied: "McCaws, is it? Begorra, I don't remember any of that name, but there is the two Maguinnesses at woorrk fornist the barn."

THE PRIDE OF DETROIT. Felix Meier of Detroit, has devoted ten years and $7000 to the construction of a clock. It is eighteen feet high, 6 feet broad, and weighs two tons. It has a great variety of automatic devices, but the most remarkable are those connected with the striking of the time. At the end of every quarter hour an infant in a carved niche strikes with a tiny hammer upon the bell which he holds in his hand. At the end of each half hour a youth strikes, at the end of three-quarters of an hour a man, and at the end of each hour a gray-headed. Death then follows to toll the hour. At the same time a large music box begins to play, and a scene is enacted on the platform. Washington slowly rises from a chair to his feet, extending his right hand, presenting the Declaration of Independence. The door on the left is opened by a servant, admitting all the Presidents from Washington's time; down to President Hayes. Each is dressed in the costume of the time, and the likenesses are good. Passing in file before Washington, they face, raise their hands as they approach him, and walking naturally across the platform, disappear through the opposite door, which is promptly closed behind them by a second servant.

A young gentleman, six years of age, was partaking pretty freely of the things of this life at the dinner-table, immediately after his return from Sunday-school. An elder brother, eight years old, after eyeing him for some time, said: "Charlie, if you were to eat much more, and it should kill you, you would weigh so much that the angels could not carry you to heaven." Little six-year-old hesitated for a moment, and then, looking up, replied: "Well, if they couldn't do it alone, God would send Samson down to help them."

A man writes that it is matchless misery to have a cigar and nothing to light it with. It is still greater misery to have a match and no cigar.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS

FRESH BEEF
ROASTED BY STEAM.
BOSTON BEEF PACKING CO.,
157 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.
We have just received from the best sources, Pure Whole Salt Beef, Choice Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices.

ASK THE DOCTOR.
Dr. J. H. ZELIN & CO.,
157 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.
We have just received from the best sources, Pure Whole Salt Beef, Choice Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices.

ASK THE DOCTOR.
Dr. J. H. ZELIN & CO.,
157 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.
We have just received from the best sources, Pure Whole Salt Beef, Choice Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices.

ASK THE DOCTOR.
Dr. J. H. ZELIN & CO.,
157 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.
We have just received from the best sources, Pure Whole Salt Beef, Choice Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices.

ASK THE DOCTOR.
Dr. J. H. ZELIN & CO.,
157 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.
We have just received from the best sources, Pure Whole Salt Beef, Choice Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices.

ASK THE DOCTOR.
Dr. J. H. ZELIN & CO.,
157 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.
We have just received from the best sources, Pure Whole Salt Beef, Choice Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices.

ASK THE DOCTOR.
Dr. J. H. ZELIN & CO.,
157 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.
We have just received from the best sources, Pure Whole Salt Beef, Choice Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices.

ASK THE DOCTOR.
Dr. J. H. ZELIN & CO.,
157 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.
We have just received from the best sources, Pure Whole Salt Beef, Choice Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices.

ASK THE DOCTOR.
Dr. J. H. ZELIN & CO.,
157 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.
We have just received from the best sources, Pure Whole Salt Beef, Choice Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices.

ASK THE DOCTOR.
Dr. J. H. ZELIN & CO.,
157 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.
We have just received from the best sources, Pure Whole Salt Beef, Choice Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices.

ASK THE DOCTOR.
Dr. J. H. ZELIN & CO.,
157 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.
We have just received from the best sources, Pure Whole Salt Beef, Choice Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices.

ASK THE DOCTOR.
Dr. J. H. ZELIN & CO.,
157 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.
We have just received from the best sources, Pure Whole Salt Beef, Choice Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices.

ASK THE DOCTOR.
Dr. J. H. ZELIN & CO.,
157 Congress Street, Boston, Mass.
We have just received from the best sources, Pure Whole Salt Beef, Choice Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices. We also have a large stock of Corned Beef, and all other kinds of Beef, at the lowest prices.

CHILDS & LANE

116 Tremont Street, Boston,

OFFER A FULL LINE OF

CARPETINGS,

CONSISTING IN PART OF

LOWELL, BICELOW, BROMLEY, and HORNER'S

CROSSLEY'S, ROXBURY, MEDFORD, and HIGGINS'

KIDDERMINSTER, EXTRA-SUPER, TAPESTRY; SUPERFINE,

LINOLEUM, OIL-CLOTHS, CRUMBS-CLOTHS,

Rugs and Mats; at very low figures.

Sept. 20. SW—LOCUTIN.

CASH DOES IT!

Prices Lower than ever known in Quincy.

Now is the time to buy

FLOWER POTS, 30 different Styles and Sizes.

Best Goods.

Hardware, Builders' Material, Window Glass, Nails, &c., &c.

Estimates furnished upon application.

LOWEST CASH PRICES

5 cts. to $1.00.

GLASS WARE.

A Large Variety of Glass Ware of the Latest Styles, at prices to suit the times. Call and obtain prices, and examine goods, as I have the Largest Stock in Quincy.

Lamps and Lanterns,

Remember on the above Goods I will not be UNDERSED.

REMEMBER THE PLACE.

CHAS. B. TILTON, 19 Hancock Street,

Opposite Public Library.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Also on hand a large assortment of

Express and Milk Wagon, Double and Single Runners

Express Sticks, &c., &c.

REPAIRING OF ALL KINDS, TRIMMING, PAINTING, &c.

LOOK AT SHORT NOTICES AND AT REASONABLE RATES.

HARNESSES MADE TO ORDER.

NEW AND SECOND HAND CARRIAGES.

COMPREHENSIVE ASSORTMENT OF FURNITURE AND BEDDING.

FRANKLIN, EXTENSION, TOP AND BOTTOM BEDS, AND ALL KINDS OF FURNITURE.

EXHIBITS WAREHOUSE.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

MARVELOUS SUCCESS

STANDARD FOOD,

FOR

HORSES AND CATTLE.

Nothing has yet been discovered so fully adapted to the wants and General or Specific Improvement of

HORSES AND CATTLE AS

STANDARD FOOD!

From its first introduction it has had a most remarkable and uninterrupted success, as the following testimonials will confirm. It contains the best known condiments, (roots, seeds, &c.) so combined as to give Tone, Health and Strength to the system.

It greatly increases the Flesh, prevents Indigestion and Colic, removes Worms and Humors, softens and loosens the Skin, adds richness to the Color of the Coat, &c.

It may be fed freely and will put a horse in good condition, when other means fail. A faithful trial cannot fail to prove its Immediate and Permanent benefit. The following are samples of the Testimonials we are receiving, and are all from well-known and reliable men.

MESSRS. AME & CO., GENTLEMEN:—Please send me 200 lbs. of your Standard Food.

The fifty pounds I bought of you, has worked admirably. It not only restored a sick colt to good condition, but it is removing the humors from the other horses and they have greatly improved thereby. I remain sincerely yours,

WM. H. TOBY.

Brooklyn, Aug. 15th, 1879.

MESSRS. AME & CO., 91 Kilby Street, Boston.

GENTLEMEN:—We are using your "Standard Food" freely for our horses, and we are happy to say that we are much better pleased with it, than any other food we have fed to them.

Yours, respectfully,

LEWIS FLANDERS & CO., 53 Central Street.

Natick, Aug. 23d, 1879.

MESSRS. AME & CO., 91 Kilby Street, Boston.

GENTLEMEN:—In addition to my previous testimonial in regard to the result of feeding your "Standard Food" to my horses I have to say that it has proved a great benefit to my cows. Since I have fed it to them they have increased the quantity and quality of their Milk, and my pigs to whom I have also fed it have grown beyond all my expectation.

J. B. MESSENGER of Howe & Co's. Express.

Lowell, Mass., Aug. 23d, 1879.

MESSRS. AME & CO., 91 Kilby Street, Boston.

GENTLEMEN:—Having a horse out of condition, I was advised to try a bag of your Standard Food, and found it brought him up before the bag was half gone and he continues in good condition since.

JAMES P. PE.

Dorchester Lower Mills, Aug. 5th, 1879.

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

STANDARD FOOD,

SOMERSET
COAL COMPANY,
GRANITE ST., NEAR ROBERTSON'S BLK.
CHAS. H. WINSLOW, Ag't.

Coal, Wood, Hay & Straw,

BEST QUALITY OF

Lackawanna, Shamokin

Old Company's Franklin Coal,

LYKEN'S VALLEY,

A Specialty.

Coal delivered at lowest market rates in lots to suit customers.

HARD AND PINE WOOD.

Slabs & Kindlings.

Wood Sawn and Split to order.

Pressed Hay and Straw constantly on hand.

Office hours from 6 A.M. to 7.30 P.M.

Saturdays till 8.30 P.M.

CHAS. H. WINSLOW, Ag't.

Quincy, July 12.

CYRUS PATCH,

DEALER IN—

Short communications and items of news earnestly solicited from friends and patrons. Anonymous communications are not published.

A Republican Rally.

A large gathering assembled at the Town Hall on Monday evening, many were attracted undoubtedly by the fine music discoursed by the Belknap Brass Band of West Quincy. The gathering was called to order by Mr. C. H. Porter, who introduced our townsman, Charles A. Foster, as president of the meeting. On taking the chair, Mr. Foster made a short, stirring address, which was received with numerous applause. He then introduced the speaker of the evening, Hon. George F. Hoar, Massachusetts' able Senator, who spoke for about forty minutes in a very intelligent manner, and was listened to with marked attention.

After Mr. Hoar had taken his seat, Mr. Foster offered a few more words, and then the meeting closed by a few selections by the Band.

BUTLER RALLY. The first grand rally by the friends of Gen. Benj. F. Butler, in this town, was at the Town Hall on Saturday evening last. The large assembly was called to order by Mr. John H. Dee, who introduced Col. A. O. Brewster, the orator of the evening. Mr. Brewster, delivered one of his eloquent addresses, which was frequently interrupted by loud applause.

NOT TRUE. Mr. William H. Mitchell informs us that the statement about him in the advertisement of the Granite Cutters International Union, published in our columns last week, is false, and without the slightest foundation; therefore, we have removed with pleasure that portion of the advertisement, which referred to Mr. Mitchell.

We would also say in this connection that we have never published anything in our columns against any citizen, knowing it to be false; and what is more we do not intend to, either for money or friendship. Still, we believe in the utmost freedom of the press, to the humblest individual as well as to the genteel broadcloth gentleman; and to the poor as well as to the rich, and if a paper is conducted honestly and fearlessly it will give the greater good to the greater number.

A CLOTHING THIEF. Last Saturday evening a man registered his name at the Robertson House, where he stopped all night, as R. G. Moses of Framingham. After his departure from the hotel Sunday morning, one of the boarders, Mr. Albert C. Kenny, discovered that an overcoat, undercoat, vest and a pair of gloves were missing from his room. Officer Fernald was notified of the affair, and arrested and locked up a man, who gave the name of Robert Wilson of Fall River. Upon his person was found all the above named property, and he was identified by Mr. Meserve, as the man that gave the former name. He is 54 years old, and claims to have a wife and four children, the oldest 14 years of age and the youngest 3 months old.

He was taken before Judge Bumpus on Monday morning, where he pleaded guilty and received the full sentence of the law.

We should judge from what we learn that he is an old rogue at this business. The Sheriff of Fall River is anxiously waiting for him having a similar charge against him.

OBITUARY. We copy the following beautiful tribute to our late townsman, from the Boston Journal:—

John Faxon, of the firm of Faxon, Williams & Faxon, flour commission merchants in State Street Block, suddenly died at his residence in Quincy at an early hour on the morning of Monday, the 13th inst. He had been in feeble health during the past year, but was able to be at his office in State street as late as last Friday, the 10th inst. Several of his business friends who have known him somewhat intimately for more than a quarter of a century feel that they cannot suffer him to pass so suddenly from their midst without some slight notice of the loss which they, in common with the merchants of this city, and our citizens generally sustain in the death of one who has been an honor to the mercantile community, of which he has for more than twenty-five years been an active and esteemed member. Mr. Faxon, in connection with his brothers, commenced in the grocery and flour business at the South End, under the firm of Faxon Brothers; subsequently they removed to Commercial street, near Quincy Market, where for about twenty years they were successfully engaged in the flour business almost exclusively. Having amassed a competency his brother retired from business, and he formed a new house under the style of Faxon, Williams & Faxon, his son being the junior partner; for several years past they have been located in State Street Block; during all this period Mr. Faxon's unwearied industry and perseverance has only been equaled by his strict integrity and honesty, and his daily life has ever been marked by those sterling traits of character which have commanded the respect and esteem of his fellow merchants, who, while they mourn his loss, desire to offer this brief tribute of respect to his memory.

OBITUARY. Died very suddenly at Salem, N. H., on Friday last week, Mrs. Esther Kimball, wife of Oliver Kimball, and only sister of Rev. Samuel Kelley of this town, aged 72 years, 7 months and 21 days. She took her supper as usual with the family; following this an attack of severe coughing attended her till after retiring to bed. Medicine was administered to abate the attack, but in a few minutes she expired. Doubtless disease of the heart, aggravated by a cold, caused the termination of a worthy Christian life, which with her husband had been maintained between forty and fifty years.

Local Items.

- Two good boarders wanted.
- Thursday was the hottest day in this place, since Oct. 15th, 1863.
- Coat makers are wanted by F. A. Spear.
- Our readers will find many interesting articles in the supplement to-day.
- The weather has been very warm and dry until yesterday.
- Mrs. Carrie Baxter can furnish work for knitters and crocheters.
- Mr. P. McDonnell has a lot of nice apples for sale cheap.
- The furniture of the Robertson House is to be sold at auction on Tuesday next.
- Terrance Keenan can supply our citizens with hard and soft wood in large or small quantities, at short notice.
- Rev. Mr. Perry will lecture to-morrow night on "Secret Societies," their good and their evil features. All are welcomed.
- Hon. N. B. Bryant and Gen. F. S. Nickerson will address our citizens this evening. The Weymouth band will give choice selections.
- Those of our readers desiring to learn drawing or painting will find a pupil of the "Boston School of Fine Arts," competent to give instructions.
- There will be a meeting this evening of the members of the Quincy Reform Club to choose delegates to attend the eleventh reunion of the Red Ribbon Clubs, to be held at Waltham, on Wednesday next.
- Mrs. James E. Tirrell left here on Monday for Wisconsin to visit a sister whom she has not seen for nineteen years. She intends to make quite a little stay and will probably before she returns visit Dacotah, where Mrs. Joseph Arey resides.
- Mr. William A. Hodges, Miss Ella Wilson, Mrs. George J. Jones, Mrs. M. E. Green, Mrs. Rufus Foster, Mrs. Lemuel Dwyer, Mrs. John S. Freeman, Mrs. Joseph G. Brackett and Mrs. Seth Crane have been visiting New York city the present week.
- We learn from good authority that the Cantata of Esther, which as some of our readers will remember was announced at the performance of Ruth last spring, as in preparation, will be given in costume at the Town Hall about the middle of next month. Due notice will be given in this paper.
- Special Sabbath School services will be held in the Union Christian Church, Quincy Point, to-morrow afternoon, at 2:12 o'clock, consisting of singing, devotional exercises, reports of the officers of the school, and remarks on the Sabbath School work by Messrs. I. F. Hall and Edward Southworth. All are cordially invited. Bring Gospel Hymns, No. 3.
- The Dedham Transcript says,—"Butler's headquarters in Quincy are at the Robertson House. That's almost enough to make us smile, Billy."
- HARVEST FESTIVAL. The festival given by the Ladies' Aid Society, connected with the Universalist Church, on Thursday evening, was a very successful affair, and called together a very pleasant party. The old-fashioned supper was most excellent, and the music of the first quality.
- THE FOOLISH POST OFFICE ORDER. Residents of Wollaston Heights are feeling the effects of the recent postal law, many valuable letters having been sent to the Dead Letter office. Although the station on the Old Colony Railroad is called Wollaston Heights, yet all letters directed otherwise than to Wollaston simply are switched to Washington.
- Persons sending letters to German-towns must be particular and put on Quincy, Mass., or they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.
- THE QUINCY STATUE. Last Saturday afternoon the statue erected in front of City Hall, Boston, in honor of Josiah Quincy, by the city of Boston, was dedicated. The Quincy family was represented by the Hon. Josiah Quincy and General Samuel Quincy, son and grandson; and there was also present Mr. William Hayden, the sole surviving representative of Mr. Quincy's administration.
- DISTRICT COURT. The following criminal cases have been before the Court this week:—
- Robert Wilson of Fall River, for larceny. Sent to the House of Correction for six months.
- Edward Dunn of Quincy, for being drunk. Fined $3 and costs.
- John F. Garvey of Quincy, for keeping a liquor nuisance, on complaint of W. M. French. Numerous witnesses were called to the stand, but on their oath they swore that they had not bought any liquors of Garvey, and he was discharged.
- William H. Kennedy, of Holbrook, for being drunk. Fined $3 and costs.

For the Patriot.

The Moon Island Sewer.

It is to be hoped that our citizens have read the just and spirited remonstrances of Mr. Hasket Derby against a scheme which is to turn the waters bordering upon this town into a gigantic cess-pool. Had we been alive to our vital interest, we should have employed counsel to fight this plan before the legislature. Boston city government, or wherever it could be met, Mr. Derby fully exposed "the Quixotic enterprise of building a second Hoosac Tunnel to destroy the harbor." If, however, the people of Boston like to fool away their money, it is none of our business, provided they do not interfere with our rights. But, as citizens of the State, the harbor belongs to us as much as to them, and we should demand the protection of the legislature to avert an irreparable injury from this town. What are our citizens thinking about? It may not be too late to organize a vigorous remonstrance.

HOUSEHOLDER.

Wedding Anniversary.

To the Editors of the Patriot:—
The new and spacious residence of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Badger, of West Quincy, was on Monday evening made the scene of a highly festive occasion, it being the fifth anniversary of their marriage. The house was illuminated from cupola to basement and presented a very brilliant appearance. Nearly two hundred people from Quincy, Braintree, Weymouth and Boston, surprised them by their presence, and also by many elegant and costly presents. The gifts were presented formally, in a pleasing manner, by Mr. Jonas Shackley, and consisted of a large massive patent easy chair, with reclining back and foot-rest, a center table with Italian marble top, a splendid meerschaum pipe, given by the employees of his machine shop, a large and handsome basket of wax flowers with glass shade and lily pond, silver cake-basket, castor, bronze vases, and other valuable and useful articles.

A poem written for the occasion by Mr. C. T. Cole was read by Miss Nettie Handlett, a piano duet by the Misses Miller, Susie and instrumental music by Mrs. Susie Bullard and others helped to make the evening's entertainment complete. The decorations by Mr. C. T. Cole were simple but impressive, consisted of illuminated mottoes, bearing the words "Welcome," "Anniversary 1874, 1879," "Home is the Kingdom and Love is the King," etc. Perhaps the most suggestive of all was a motto suspended over the old fashioned clock near the library and shone forth in gold letters, "May the hands of time deal gently." Chinese lanterns were suspended in the conservatory and bay windows.

About eleven o'clock six young ladies appeared neatly dressed and with waiting caps of white, bearing refreshments on waiters, each plate being furnished with a French napkin neatly printed with the occasion, and the wish, "Many happy returns of the day." Afterwards ice cream was furnished, and at this point the Belknap Brass Band stationed in the front yard poured forth the strains, "Should old acquaintance be forgot," and several other tunes.

At a late hour the company repaired to their respective homes well pleased with their evening's entertainment, and we think we may safely say, it was the best arranged and nicest carried-out affair ever known in this place.

The following is the poem written by Mr. Cole for the occasion:—
Kind friends, we have gathered with best wishes to-night,
With feelings of pleasure, and social delight;
'Tis the meeting of friends near, and a distance away,
To congratulate you this anniversary day.

Five years are now passed, since with true loving aid,
You stood at the altar, as bridegroom and bride;
How much of true pleasure, and deep sorrow too,
You both must have known, and together passed through.

We would tender you both our best wishes of joy,
That life's future may pass without pain or alloy,
May the swift passing years touch but lightly each brow,
And the blessings of life crown your labor as now.

Thus onward o'er life's rolling waters you glide,
May the halo of peace shed its rays o'er the tide,
And though dark at times sweep the clouds
Through the sky,
Yet remember, the rainbow of promise is nigh.

Please accept these few tokens, to cheer on life's way,
And wish "Many happy returns of the day,"
'Till the treasures of Heaven its portion shall bring,
May "Home be thy Kingdom, and Love reign as King."

School Report.

The following is the report of the public schools in this town, ending Sept. 27th for the month:—

|             | Average Number. | Amount of Daily Attendance. | Amount of Monthly Attendance. | Amount of Term Attendance. | Amount of Term Attendance. |
|-------------|-----------------|-----------------------------|-------------------------------|----------------------------|----------------------------|
| High,       | 102             | 99                          | 97                            | 2                          | 1                          |
| Adams,      | 375             | 364                         | 97                            | 31                         | 8                          |
| Coddington, | 208             | 204                         | 96                            | 14                         | 477                        |
| Quincy,     | 159             | 152                         | 96                            | 38                         | 53                         |
| Washington, | 223             | 213                         | 96                            | 14                         | 105                        |
| Willard,    | 417             | 408                         | 98                            | 12                         | 153                        |
| Wollaston,  | 146             | 141                         | 98                            | 9                          | 82                         |
| Total,      | 1630            | 1581                        | 97                            | 121                        | 931                        |

A LARGE BUSINESS. The amount of business on the Old Colony road last month was unusually heavy. The following is the receipts at the Quincy Station, in this town, for September:—

|                  |            |
|------------------|------------|
| From passengers, | $2,663.17 |
| For freight,     | $150.61   |
| Total,           | $4,313.78 |

Braintree.

The dedication of the Catholic church recently built at the south part of the town will take place on Tuesday next, at 10 A. M. The ceremony will be performed by Archbishop Williams of Boston, assisted by a large number of clergy.

High mass will be offered by Rev. J. C. Murphy of Plymouth as celebrant, and Rev. James Kelley of Randolph, and Rev. John Colbert of Hingham as deacon and sub-deacon. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. James Chittick of Dorchester. The music will be in charge of Prof. Henri Perabeau, organist at St. John's Church, Quincy, assisted by a select choir. In the evening at eight o'clock, vespers will be sung by a choir composed of members of the Sunday School connected with the society, and a sermon delivered by Rev. D. R. Kennedy of Boston.

The National Granite Bank, OF QUINCY, MASS.

Oct. 14th, 1879.
At a special meeting of the Board of Directors held this day, the following resolutions were unanimously passed:
WHEREAS, John Faxon, for many years a director of this Bank, has suddenly passed from our midst, to a higher life, and we have been called to mourn the loss of a wise counselor and friend:
Resolved,—That we tender our heartfelt sympathy to his family in their great affliction, and as a mark of our respect and esteem, we will attend his funeral.

Resolved,—That a copy of these resolutions be presented to his family, and to the Quincy Patriot for publication, and entered upon the records of the Bank.

Adams Academy.

A QUESTION.

A communication appeared in the Patriot of last week, from a committee appointed by the Managers of Adams Academy, of considerable interest to those concerned in the action of the town at its meeting last March. At that time a vote of the town previously passed was so amended that the "entire net income annually derived from the land given to the town by John Adams shall, after the payment of all proper charges for collection, care, repair and keeping up the property, be applied to the payment of tuition fees of the children of the towns' people attending the Academy."

In the above quoted amendment there appears no discrimination whatever between the town's people—there is no proscription of any class, and no exclusive privilege allowed on any account.

In the course indicated by the committee, it is stated that there is an intention to discriminate in the favor of the brightest scholars, inasmuch as they propose that a certain number shall be permitted to attend school free, and the duller ones shall pay the full fee, charged to Quincy boys of $75.

As to the wisdom or folly of this course, as a policy of the school, there is no intention of saying anything—the question raised is, whether the Managers have a right to make a discrimination in favor of the brightest minds, at the expense of the less fortunate.

To place this question in a stronger light suppose the following case to occur:—Smith having voted last spring to apply the net income (after the payment of proper charges, etc.) to the payment of tuition fees of children of the towns' people and Smith having a boy attending the Academy, reasons that he will reap some benefit from the application of a surplus of nine hundred dollars which he is informed, there is on hand. However on the first of May his bill is presented for $75. He demurs and asks what has become of that $900. He is told that it has been distributed among boys of more proficiency than his son possesses. Again he demurs and says, I voted that the money be distributed among the towns' people's children attending the Academy.

To which the Managers reply, you are a poor man and we think that it would be as difficult for you to pay $45 as it would to pay $75, and furthermore there are other difficulties in dividing pro rata among Quincy scholars $900, so in conclusion they say, you must pay the $75 before the 1st of June, or else withdraw your boy from the school.

Now it may be asked if the indignation naturally felt by Smith would not be justified. If the answer is in the affirmative it would seem the part of wisdom, for the Managers of Adams Academy, to disregard the advice of the Committee, and acting in accordance with the spirit and letter of the vote alluded to in the beginning of this article, distribute said fund among all the children, pro rata, attending the Academy, and belonging to Quincy.

There is one other matter, of trifling importance to which attention may properly enough be called.

The Secretary of the Committee says, "The foregoing provisions it will be seen enables any Quincy boy to obtain the full advantage of the Academy training by his own exertions as a scholar." Supposing there are only twelve scholarships allowed by the fund (that would use $600 at $75 per scholarship) and there are thirteen bright boys attending school from Quincy, how is it possible for each one of the thirteen to obtain a scholarship and thereby secure the training through his own exertions. R. F. C.

For the Patriot.

Wollaston Items.

The cloud of business no bigger than a man's hand is reported by the newspapers to be gathering with big promises. Some think it is gathering from the exultations of the wholesale iron, leather and cotton trade, aided by the banks and speculators; some, that it is the legitimate result of resumption and wise political management; and a few of the common people outside of the circle of Scribes and Pharisees, think that Old Sol and Jupiter Pluvius, leaving Europe last spring and coming to spend the summer among the wheat and cotton fields of our country, have done as much as anything to help lift our prostrate industries.

We are all praying for a frost to kill the second crop of weeds growing on our two main streets, as another grub and rake contract would so exhaust the appropriation that the hope of travelling over certain miry streets next year would be ruin.

"Taxation without improvements," is becoming a common phrase here. O for a practical road builder who has no friends to care for. Why can't Quincy afford to be economical.

Report says we are soon to have an ex-warden of the Maine State Prison added to our community.

Rev. F. N. Zabriske is soon to leave for a more genial clime on account of Mrs. Z's health, which renders such a change necessary.

Second Conference.

In response to invitations issued by our townsman, Henry H. Faxon, a large and intelligent gathering of gentlemen met at Wesleyan Hall, in Boston, on Tuesday last. Hon. Winslow Battles of Randolph called the assembly to order, and Allen Coffin of Nantucket was chosen President. Very encouraging reports were presented to the conference from different parts of the State, showing conclusively that with active labor, and united action, John D. Long would be elected by a handsome majority, and that a majority of the members in the House and Senate would be in favor of temperance.

A list of resolutions in favor of temperance was presented by a committee chosen by the conference and adopted. Plans were presented by Mr. Faxon for active work during the coming presidential year, and committees chosen to carry out the work.

Our Boston Correspondent.

Trans-Atlantic news. Business press in Boston. The State political outlook. Animated campaign. Continued abuse of General Butler. A glance at his war record as a matter of history.

BOSTON, October 16.

Our latest European writers indicate that the war between Great Britain and Afghanistan, a benighted country east of Persia, is nearly at end. The "Czar of Russia seems as a kind of mediator. And the Emperor himself is much disquieted by the mysterious workings of the nihilists.

The crops in many parts of Europe have fallen short, and business operation is dull in England.

An immense tenants' rights meeting was held at Navon, Ireland, on Sunday. Over 20,000 persons being present for the reception of Mr. Parnell, their representative in Parliament. He delivered an eloquent speech, advocating the policy as he did in Parliament, of tenants paying no rent until the times mend. Also the abolition of the landlord system and the rooting of the people on the soil. In other words, that the people of Ireland may hold lands in fee simple, and not by landlord rents as now practiced under this oppressed and afflicted land. Mr. Parnell's views if carried out would make a glorious revolution in the civil matters of old Hibernia.

To the time of my writing the weather was mild, with many days of delightful weather. Our streets are thronged daily to as great an extent as ever was known in measure here, by the wonderful reaction of business in all its branches. In conversation with brokers of the oldest and most successful of Boston, he tells me his office is crowded daily by seekers for house rents, or for purchase of real estate, and the tendency continues upward for the demand for labor and the prices of commodities. The times are good, and every person of moderate means should try from the severe admonitions of the past to lay up something for a rainy day.

Politics run high here, and an intense interest prevails on the result of the approaching State election. The old maxim that no one knows who will be governor until after election applies with great force to the present campaign. There are indications that a great vote will be thrown, and it is certain that either Mr. Long or General Butler will be elected governor, yet notwithstanding we have at least four candidate in the field for that office, all of them talented and of good moral character. The record of Hon. J. D. Long meets with a moderate criticism. But General Butler is pronounced a demagogue of the worst species, unfit and unworthy for the humblest post of honor in our State. He may in the long course of public life have changed his political opinions. He has that right in common with all the voters of Massachusetts. It is no crime. Amid the tornado of vituperation against him, his opponents admit the purity of his moral character. That is something in a public man. His talents and qualifications for any office I believe are not disputed. His war record is attacked. But in many battles of the late Rebellion he was there in front. As a matter of history President Lincoln thought well of him. Thaddeus Stevens praised him. The Legislature of Massachusetts "Resolved,—that the thanks of the House are truly tendered to Major General Butler for the energy, ability and success of his administration of the Department of the Gulf." The following was unanimously adopted by the Congress of the United States:—"Resolved,—that the thanks of this House are hereby tendered to Major General B. F. Butler, for the energetic, able and humane administration during his command of the Department of the Gulf."

SHIPPING. Arrived at Quincy Point, Oct. 10th, Schooner Express, Captain Emery, from Clark's Island, with granite for McKenzie & Paterson.

Arrived, Oct. 14th, Schooner Addie John, Capt. A. W. Smith, from Weymouth, N. S., with Nova Scotia wood to D. Howard Bils.

Arrived, Oct. 14th, Schooner Helena E. Russell, Capt. McHaffey, to load with granite for New York.

Arrived, Oct. 15th, Schooner James C. Shindler, Capt. J. W. Lee, from Philadelphia, with Franklin coal to Cyrus Patch.

Sunday Services.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. Preaching by the Pastor at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Sabbath School and Pastor's Bible Class at 11:45 A. M. Prayer meeting every Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

FIRST CHURCH. Rev. D. M. Wilson, pastor; Sunday School at 9:30 A. M.; Church services at 10:50 A. M.; Vespers at 7:30 P. M.

CHRIST CHURCH. Rev. Thaddeus A. Snively, Rector. Services at 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M. The Sunday School will meet at 12 o'clock.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. by Rev. E. A. Perry, Sunday School immediately following. Evening service at 7 o'clock.

WEST QUINCY METHODIST CHURCH. Rev. H. W. Harlow, Pastor. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sabbath School at the close of the morning service.

UNION CHRISTIAN CHURCH, QUINCY POINT. Prayer meeting at 8:45 A. M. and preaching at 10:30 A. M. in behalf of the Sabbath School. Sabbath School immediately after the morning service. Exercises for the Sabbath School at 2:30 P. M. Preaching at 7 P. M. All are invited.

METHODIST CHURCH, WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M., by S. Kelley, pastor. Sunday School follows morning service. Parish service at 7 P. M. with a sermon.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Sermon by the Pastor, Rev. William Hague D. D. at 10:45 A. M. Sunday School and Pastor's Bible Class at 2:30 P. M. Evening service at 7:30.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH AT WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Services at 10:45 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Sabbath School at 2:30 P. M.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, QUINCY POINT. Sabbath School at 10:30 A. M. Preaching every Sunday, at 2:30 P. M. over Mr. Hall's store. Rev. George B. Lawton, Pastor. Prayer meeting Sunday evenings at 7 P. M. Tuesday evenings at 7:30.

Fourth Anniversary.

DEAR PATRIOT.—It was my pleasure to attend the fourth anniversary of the Wollaston Congregational Sunday school last Sabbath evening. The church was tastefully ornamented with flowers, and was filled with people both old and young, who were entertained by the children with recitations and singing, both of which were of the highest order and very enjoyable, and showed a marked improvement over any concert I have attended in Wollaston. The talent shown by the children is unsurpassed by any village in our Commonwealth.—The sentiment of the song by Miss Alice Prescott, and so beautifully sung, added much to the concert.

The Treasurer's and Librarian's reports show a decided and steady gain from last year of about one-third. I learn that the school was started four years ago with quite a large number, who were not founded on the rock, and soon dropped out of the ranks, which brought the school down to hard pan; and it has been gradually working its way upward and is destined ere long to be numbered with the first in the town.

One thing I have observed in my short residence in Wollaston, that there are but very few young men engaged in Sunday school work. There are a few that wonder from one school to the other, until no one is interested in them.

In the absence of Doctor Zabriske, remarks were made by Rev. Mr. Hazen of Boston, who supplied the pulpit in the morning, and A. A. Lincoln, the Superintendent. After the usual collection by Masters Lincoln and Wood the entertainment closed by singing the Doxology.

STATE ELECTIONS. The news from the elections in Ohio and Iowa, this week, is very encouraging to the Republicans, and they are feeling quite jubilant. Foster, the Republican candidate has a majority in Ohio of about 17,000. The Republicans claim a majority in Iowa of 25,000.

JOHN H. PRAY

SONS & CO.,

WHOLESALE

— AND —

RETAIL

CARPETINGS.

MOQUETTES,

AXMINSTERS,

WILTONS,

BRUSSELS,

TAPESTRIES,

INGRANS,

MATTINGS,

OIL CLOTHS

Our Assortment is the Largest to be found in New England, and our Prices will be found to compare favorably with any

New York or Boston quotations.

JOHN H. PRAY

SONS & CO.,

558, 560 Washington Street,

BOSTON.

Sept. 27.

Fresh

Tripe,

Every

Day,

Sweetser's Market.

Quincy, Oct. 18.

The Juice of the Grape,

FOR SALE!

THE Subscriber has the juice of eleven kinds of fruit, each and refined with sugar, call it what you please, Syrup or Wine. It is very nice for cooking purposes and will prevent or cure many complaints of the Human System, such as Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaints, &c., and will almost restore old age to youth.

G. S. PEARL.

Quincy, Oct. 18.

WANTED,

EXPERIENCED Coat Makers. Apprentices on Coat. Also an experienced hand to do repairs. F. H. A. SPEAR, Custom Clothier, 56 Hancock Street, Quincy, Oct. 18.

BOARD

FOR Gentleman and Wife, or two Ladies. Excellent place, — Two minutes' walk from Depot. Enquire at PATRIOT OFFICE. Quincy, Oct. 18.

Situations Wanted.

will give some to the speaker for ladies. VINING, 1w

m Sale are of the Quincy, A COST OF 21st, 1879, A. M., well-known house, Dining Room, Bed, Bedding, order, manu- Co. two years a cost of $5000. Mr. Meserve very article to be of Auction- Co., 65 Court 1w al Sale CAINS! Varieties. AS Pair. Pair. at the price. SETS Each. Curtains from $6 per win- exclusively our vers considered borders, r & Co., Boston. if

QUINCY ers' Associa- Men, and Provis- on the ANITE CUT- STORE, Members D OUT, 4 hom of all lov- Freedom, for us fought and us with their to supply them in be purchased on Prices. all parts of the orders to the of

ITE STS., 1m payers. return to the of voters have to years. Conse- off the voter men's Room, on 11th, from 1 to 5 KE, Collector. OGS!! form the public OGS, ert notice. Orders in by being left 1st Street, or T. Penn's Hill. if

OCK OME TIONS s in IES, nents HAIR, and are hard to get or keep. I sus- from moving if he chose to

THE QUINCY Patriot. SUPPLEMENT. SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1879. The Sunday School. We take pleasure in transferring to our columns, the following, taken from the Nantucket Journal, Sept. 17th, 1879: "The Sunday School, was the subject of an able and exhaustive address delivered on Sunday in the First Church, by Mr. George W. Penniman, of Quincy, Mass. The speaker announced his subject as 'the one grand reliance for the Christian culture of freemen, and the constitution of a pure, exalted statesmanship.' In the Mosaic dispensation are to be found the first principles of Sunday Schools. When Moses realized that the time of his departure was near at hand, Joshua, his successor, received from him his charge found in Deut. 31st, 12: 13. The Jewish synagogues were called schools, and on the Sabbath were attended by the children who received instructions as they could understand, and thus more than 1000 years B. C., were schools established in principle if not in name. The early history of the Christian Church shows that the apostles, the earliest teachers, and the earliest Christian societies enjoined and gave every encouragement to the principles of what we call Sunday Schools. Mr. Penniman made a fervid and eloquent allusion to the eminent founders of this great religious nursery of the young, citing the names of Martin Luther, of the Archbishop of Milan, Rev. Joseph Allen, referring briefly to the establishment of infant schools, by Rev. John Frederick Oberlin, in France, in the year 1767. Then followed a graphic account of Robert Raikes, and his noble work for the Sunday School in Gloucester, Eng- land. The address then embodied the significant fact that after the inception of the plans of Raikes and Fox, the principles of Sunday Schools were adopted throughout the world. Many instances are recorded of very old persons who went to Sunday Schools. A woman of ninety-eight in Manchester, England, went to a boys' school, and received instruction. A man of eighty, and his wife of seventy both learned to read, and said that the Scriptures gave them great comfort while lying awake nights. An old soldier entered the Sunday School in 1815 at the age of one hundred and seventeen, learned the alphabet, and how to connect monosyllables; but his sight failed him, and he was obliged to give it up. Important stress was laid upon the need of more competent and thoroughly qualified teachers in our Sunday Schools. The speaker believed that we should be less exacting of the minister, and not so indifferent in the requirements of the Sunday School teachers. I fully indorse every word that Mr. Penniman uttered concerning inspiration in each pupil, of a love for the Word of God—the Holy Bible—making him or her enthusiastic in the study of it; this earnest desire to explore the mines of Infinite Truth, as revealed in the Scriptures, and the training of a corresponding course of conduct conformable to that truth, he considered the very perfection of Sunday School teaching. There were brave words regarding the obligation of the Church to teach Christ and His Gospel; of the paramount importance of the Sunday School as the one sure basis of the religious superstructure; the one Church keeping before the one Throne of Grace, with one prayer to the one Father of us all. Him who is universal Light. His statistics give us in the Evangelical denominations alone, 78,049 Sunday Schools, 853,100 teachers, 6,504,054 pupils, making in all a total membership of 7,857,154. I have given only a synopsis of one of the very best of addresses. Its subject is a vital one. Its claims cannot be too strongly or vigorously urged. I venture the assertion that the "Sunday School" has no more eloquent advocate or defender than Mr. Penniman, a young man of great ability for the pulpit or platform. He is a forcible and gifted speaker, clear and distinct in his enunciation, and never fails to secure the undivided attention of his auditors. Those who heard his lecture on "The Sunday School" will not soon lose its good impressions, and wherever given, it will certainly be well received as it was on Nantucket. A. E. J.

When the dentists of this country can discover a way to pull teeth without making a man wish he had been born a lion, life will have twice as much brightness

THE DEPRESSION out of which the country is emerging began with a great reduction in the valuation of railroad property; it is closing with an equally remarkable appreciation of railroad values. Taking the price of railroad stocks and bonds a year ago and comparing them with the quotations in the present month, the stocks show an aggregate advance of $215,000,000, and the bonds of $231,000,000,—an advance in the total value of these securities of $446,000,000. This is an increase of about ten per cent on the total amount of the capital and funded debt of the railroads in the United States.

A BABY HELD FOR DEBT. The wife of Lewis F. Allen, of Baltimore, was so badly injured by the explosion of a kerosene lamp one evening that she died the next day. In the meantime her infant child was taken to the house of John Brooks, a neighbor. After the funeral Allen went for his child, but Brooks refused to deliver it up until a previously contracted debt for $15 was paid. The matter has been taken to the Courts for settlement.

THE SWALLOWS. The Boston Journal says,—“The swallows took their flight from Nantasket Beach and vicinity at an early hour Saturday morning last. The flock covered an area of a square mile, and surpassed in numbers any exodus of the feathered tribe ever seen. They go South as far as Mexico.

LUMBER. The Canada lumber trade, like our own, has become very active under an advance in prices. Such is the scarcity of transportation that there is not at present a single steamer at Chaudiere, the entire fleet being occupied in delivering lumber for American purchasers.

MATCHES. Digging potato matches are in order, and much more sensible than pedestrian feats, and far more likely to bring about another kind of matches so near to the hearths of many citizens.

A new city is springing up at the Chicago stock yards. A working population of 18,000 is now employed there. It is said to be the largest industrial population gathered in any single industry in one square mile in the world.

The question of admitting female physicians to examination for admission to the Massachusetts Medical Society has been settled, it is believed permanently, by the council in favor of such admission.

Georgia has a musical prodigy in the person of Mollie Powell of Worth county, a child not three years old. Her singing at a musical convention recently was very remarkable.

The excursion train on the Fitchburg Railroad to the Hoosac Tunnel, last week, took up some 900 persons in quest of pleasure and views.

Mr. William H. Vanderbilt, has, it is said, left with agents in the principal art centres of Europe, orders for some $400,000 worth of pictures.

Mr. T. J. Griffith, of Utica, New York, is the owner of the first greenback issued by the United States government. He has refused $700 for it.

How is it that trees can put on a new dress without opening their trunks? Because they leave out the summer clothing.—[Albany Journal.

THE PLACE TO BUY YOUR Boots and Shoes. Saville's Shoe Store, No. 90 HANCOCK STREET. HERE you will always find a larger and more varied stock than can be found in Quincy or vicinity. Ladies' Kid Button & Side Lace Boots; French Kid Goat, Grain, Foxed & Plain Serge Button Boots. A LARGE LINE OF Newport Button, Newport Ties and Sandals. Also, a fine stock of Fancy Slippers! A complete assortment of Goods for Misses and Children. MEN'S CALF BOOTS. Men's Calf, Grain & Buff English Balmorals, Waukenphast, Congress Boots, Strap Shoes, and Oxford Ties. KIP BROGANS! Men's & Boys' Base Ball Shoes. Together with a full assortment for Boys' and Youths' In all the Different Grades. Please examine our Stock and you will find Goods and Prices satisfactory. Repairing Done as Usual. GEORGE SAVILLE. 90 Hancock St. Quincy, May 3

A. KEATING'S New & Second Hand FURNITURE STORE. Head of the CANAL. Having bought the entire FURNITURE of a family, (deceased,) in Quincy, I offer some good bargains in Stoves, Capets, and all kinds of Household Goods. Repairing & Upholstering. Door Bells Hung and Repaired. FURNITURE and PIANOS carefully moved at short notice. Cash paid for Second Hand Furniture, Stoves, Carpets, &c. Storage for Furniture. A few good Second Hand Parlor Stoves for sale now. Quincy, Sept. 13.

HANDSOME SHELF PAPER DIFFERENT SHADES, Two Sheets for 1 Cent, AT THE Quincy Patriot Office.

TIRRELL & SONS, MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN EXPRESS and Milk Wagons, Double and Single Runner Express Sticks, &c., &c. REPAIRING OF ALL KINDS, TRIMMING, PAINTING, &c. DONE AT SHORT NOTICE AND AT REASONABLE RATES. HARNESSES MADE TO ORDER. Also on hand, a fine assortment of HORSES, BLANKETS, WHIPS, and other goods to be found in a well-regulated Harness and Carriage Shop. NEW AND SECOND HAND CARRIAGES. Considerable on hand, consisting of BIRMINGHAM, COGNACON, BIRTON, and BRIGGY PHANTOMS, EXTENSION TOP, SPRINGING TOP CARRIAGES, EXPRESS WAGONS, &c. No. 57 Hancock Street, Quincy, Mass. Quincy, April 12.

Political. For the Patriot. General Butler.

Every day I meet with good and true men who say they have never voted for Gen. Butler, but shall this time. Sorry to step out from the Republican or Democratic party, but feel that it is high time they should. All classes, all parties are falling into line. Reverend gentlemen, embracing all denominations are saying—some privately, some publicly—they shall vote for Gen. Butler. The ladies,—well if I had a dozen necks, I should have a new cravat for each neck, sent me by the ladies, since I gave my reasons for voting for Gen. Butler at a ladies' meeting. The ladies like the General because he would not allow secesh women to throw dirty liquids on the soldier boys' new uniforms. The preachers like the General because he taught rebel preachers how to pray, and what to pray for; and so on, all appear to have good and sufficient cause for giving up old parties; except a few colored persons who hold sweeping positions at the State House. One hundred and ten thousand was well for last year. Be it remembered that Rev. Joseph Cook, as well as other men of that class, talked with the people and the Lord last year about Gen. Butler, and recommended in prayer and sermon, that the General should not be elected. The old praying ground for that purpose, namely, Tremont Temple, has been destroyed. I was never more hopeful. BURNHAM WARDWELL. Boston, Oct. 10, 1879.

Hon. Samuel B. Noyes writes to the Norfolk County Journal,—“If the Republicans of Massachusetts ever had any misgivings as to the probable result of the present canvass, they must have been dispelled by the action of the 'straight out' Democratic convention at Faneuil Hall, on Tuesday, which nominated a State ticket, with John Quincy Adams at the head, for that is well calculated to bring the deluded members of the party who voted for Butler last year back into the Democratic fold. The convention was very large and very respectable. The committee on credentials reported 297 towns, represented by 1,014 delegates. There was some excellent speaking, by Judge Abbott, Hon. Charles P. Thompson of Gloucester, Mr. George M. Stearns of Chicopee, P. A. Collins of Boston, and others; and nobody stopped over. The convention was composed, in great part, of the solid men of the party,—life-long Democrats,—from all the cities and towns of the Commonwealth; and the earnest attention which they gave to the proceedings, showed that they meant business.”

The Republicans of Norfolk county assembled in Memorial Hall, Dedham, on Tuesday, to choose candidates for the different county offices. George E. Downs, chairman of the county committee, called the convention to order, and upon motion of F. A. Hobart, Daniel J. Pickering of Bellingham was chosen chairman, and D. T. V. Huntoon of Canton secretary. A committee on credentials reported twenty-four towns represented by sixty-eight delegates. After two ballots Jabez Talbot, Jr., of Stoughton, was declared the nominee for County Commissioner. John Q. A. Field of Quincy received nineteen of the sixty-eight votes. Upon motion of Mr. Hobart, John H. Burdakin was nominated by acclamation for Register of Deeds. Upon motion of Mr. Bradley, C. C. Churchill was nominated by acclamation for Treasurer.

At the "Regular" Democratic Convention, held in Boston last week, the following gentlemen were nominated for State officers:— For Governor,—John Quincy Adams, of Quincy. For Lieutenant Governor,—Wm. R. Plunkett, of Pittsfield. For Secretary of State,—Gen. T. Donahue, of Somerville. For Treasurer and Receiver-General,—D. N. Skillings of Winchester. For Auditor,—Charles R. Field, of Greenfield. For Attorney General,—Richard Olney, of Boston.

The Dedham Transcript, says,—“On Tuesday last, the Simon Pure Democrats, or their delegates, assembled in Faneuil Hall and nominated Col. John Quincy Adams of this county, for Governor. Notwithstanding that many so-called Democrats will vote for Butler, the prospect of Colonel Adams polling a large vote, is we are glad to say very flattering.”

SOMETHING NEW!  A MAN in the Carriage business, who dares to do work for a reasonable price at the cost of the displeasure and loss of friendship of men in the same business, who says he is running down prices. JOHN GORDON, Thanks his friends and the public for their very liberal patronage and encouragement which they have shown him for the very short time he has been in business, and begs leave to say that he is better prepared than ever before to give perfect satisfaction to all work intrusted to him, having just finished a two-story building next to Dr. GORDON'S and near the Academy, on HANCOCK STREET. I warrant all my work to give perfect satisfaction or no charge will be made. Do not think I do not mean what I say, but try and see for yourself, or ask some of your neighbors for whom I have done work. I have also employed one of the BEST HORSE SHOERS AND JOBBERS in the country who told me to warrant to stop (with twice shoeing) the worst case of interfering that can be produced or no charge will be made and he would bear the expense. Printing and Trimming also done. Work taken to and from shop at request of owner, free of charge. Quincy, Oct. 4. 3m

FOR SALE, Granite Quarry IN QUINCY. THE Well-known Granite Quarry situated on Willard Street, owned and worked the past Forty Years by O. T. Rogers & Co., Containing about Twelve Acres, with Derricks, Sheds, Shops, Office and Two Dwelling Houses. A large outlay having recently been made upon the Quarry, the whole establishment is now in complete working order. A rare chance is offered to succeed the old firm of O. T. ROGERS & CO. For further information, please inquire of either of the remaining members. JESSE BUNTON, SAMUEL BABCOCK Post Office Address, East Milton, Mass. Sept. 13. tf

OYSTERS Received FRESH EVERY DAY, and for sale By the Quart or Gallon. 30 Cents per Quart, $1.00 per GALLON. Oyster Cans, all sizes, furnished to order. Received fresh daily Fresh Pork & Sausages, AT G. F. Wilson's. Quincy, Sept. 29. tf

Tooth Powder! THE BEST KNOWN. Sold by the ounce or pound by J. H. VEAZIE. TRY IT!! Quincy, June 28. tf

HISTORY OF OLD BRAINTREE QUINCY, BY WILLIAM S. PATTEE, M. D. THE Publishers of this excellent work are pleased to announce that bound copies are now FOR SALE AT THE PATRIOT OFFICE. The history is being bound at the book binding establishment of AMOS K. ALLSTINE, in Chelsea, and the publishers are happy to say that he is doing this work in an excellent manner. On the cover is stamped in gold a view of Mount Wollaston as it appeared in 1840. The book contains nearly 700 octavo pages, and is illustrated by numerous engravings. PRICES: In Cloth, $3.50 Extra English Cloth, bevel boards, 3.75 Half Turkey Morocco, and paper, 4.00 " " " cloth, 4.25 Half Turkey Morocco, gilt edges, 5.00 Copies will be sent by mail, postage prepaid, at the above prices. GREEN & PRESCOTT, Publishers

The Quincy Patriot.

SUPPLEMENT.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1879.

POSTAL CARD. Oct. 1st, Mr. Charles P. Bausher, of New York received a postal card which had just made the circuit of the globe. He mailed it in New York on June 11, 1879. It returned to him Oct. 1st, having taken 111 days for the journey. It was addressed to the postmasters of San Francisco, Hong Kong, Singapore, Bombay, Constantinople, Paris, Liverpool and New York. On the other side was a request to the postmasters to forward it on its course. It bears the official stamp of all the post-offices named, and also that of Madras. Three 3-cent stamps were affixed to the card.

Among the parishioners of the late Rev. Dr. Storrs, of Braintree, was a well-to-do farmer. Mr. Samuel Capen, who, although living a considerable distance from the meeting-house, was always sure to attend church on Sundays. It was customary in old times to have the parish-tax a per cent. on the town assessors' valuation. Mr. Capen's parish-tax was fifty-two dollars per year—just one dollar a week! Mr. Capen, being complimented for his regular attendance at church, replied by saying he should lose a dollar every Sunday he staid away from meeting, and he could not afford it!—Commonwealth.

At the carnival in San Francisco in honor of General and Mrs. Grant on Thursday evening, Mrs. Grant was presented with a bouquet composed of the flowers indigenous to the various countries she had passed through in her tour round the world. The flowers were placed in regular order, starting from Philadelphia and ending with San Francisco. The bouquet-holder, five inches long was of pure California gold and inlaid with quartz and a collection of other metals found on the Pacific coast.

At a recent birthday party at Newport the guest were selected with a view to having, as nearly as could be, the young hostess and her guests of the same age. They were limited to seventeen, the number of summers Miss Violet had seen. The young lady wore a white silk dress adorned with apple blossoms, painted on the robe by hand. On a table in the refreshment room was a large cake lighted by seventeen diminutive candles, one of which was blown out by each guest as he or she entered the room, etc.

The city of Boston has advertised for proposals to build a tunnel one and a half miles long to Moon Island in the harbor, through which the entire sewage of the city will be discharged. It is intended that the tunnel shall rest about 130 feet below the bottom of the harbor, and the cost of the enterprise is estimated at half a million of dollars.

The city hall at Philadelphia, every thing considered, is probably the most expensive architectural folly on the continent. It has already cost $7,500,000 and they want $1,250,000 appropriated for the next year, and the outside walls as yet are but half way up.

A horse-shoe has been found imbedded in a sycamore, twenty-two inches from the bark, near Gov. Douglass' home in Middletown, Conn. and they think it has been there 110 years. It was probably nailed to the young tree to hitch horses to.

Half a century ago Emons Rudge, of Hartford, was fined $40 and cost for selling ice in the summer. The traffic was alleged to be dangerous to public health. The world is getting wiser than the law-makers of those "good old days."

The Gordian knot of ten-hour and eight-hour question has been cut in Holland, by the simple expedient of paying for all labor by the hour, leaving every man to work as many or as few hours as he pleases.

The New York Central railroad has an engine that ran 80,000 miles without repairs; the Hudson River one that ran 100,000 miles; and Delaware and Hudson one that ran 145,810 miles.

A ton of gold makes a fraction over half a million of dollars, and when a man says his wife is worth her weight in gold, and she weighs 120 pounds, she is worth $30,000.

During the month of September there were received in Boston 22,859 barrels of apples.

Hancock Street DINING ROOM, In Old P. O. Building.

THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the Public, that he has purchased the Dining Room recently conducted by Mr. McCrillis, and is prepared to furnish meals at all hours of the day, or board by the day or week, on the most reasonable terms. He will also keep for sale.

Oysters, Fruit, Ice Cream, Confectionery, &c.,

With experienced Cooks, and careful attention to the wants of patrons, the subscriber hopes to merit a liberal share of patronage.

J. H. JONES.

Quincy, Aug. 9.

Quincy Bakery.

THE subscriber would inform the citizens of Quincy and adjoining towns that he will continue to manufacture at his establishment

Bread, Cake, and Pastry, and all other articles usually found in any Bakery. Keeps constantly on hand all kinds of Plain and Fancy Crackers, GINGER SNAPS, &c.

Hot Rolls every Evening. WEDDING CAKE furnished to order at Boston prices. CHOICE FAMILY FLOUR for sale at lowest cash prices.

WM A. HODGES.

Quincy, Jan. 21.

VEAZIE'S Extract Jamaica Ginger. TRY IT!!

The Strongest sold in Town!

PRICE AS LOW AS ANY.

Quincy, June 21.

FRENCH AND AMERICAN CHINA!

A FULL assortment of these beautiful goods just received and for sale very cheap by

E. CLAPP.

Quincy, April 19.

REMOVAL. The Quincy Dye-House

—AND— STEAM LAUNDRY,

Has been removed to the Store formerly occupied by KEATING & SPEAR, on

Washington Street,

WHERE the subscriber is prepared to do all kinds of

DYEING,

in the best manner, at the shortest notice, and at reasonable prices.

CLEANSING OF ALL KINDS, done at short notice.

We are better prepared than ever to do

LAUNDRYING

IN ALL ITS BRANCHES,

in the highest style of the art, and hope by strict attention to business, to merit a liberal patronage.

ORDER BOX at E. B. Souther's, at the Depot, and at Wollaston Post Office.

C. W. GEORGE, PROPRIETOR.

Provision Store.

THE subscriber, thankful for past favors, would inform his friends and the public that a good supply of

FRESH MEAT, FISH,

—AND— PROVISIONS,

usually kept in a Country store, can be found at his establishment.

CANNED BAKED BEANS, just the article for Picnic Parties. Try them.

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

in their season, constantly on hand.

All orders attended to with dispatch.

CHARLES CRANE,

HANCOCK STREET.

Quincy, June 23.

NEW YORK SHOPPING.

LAMAR PURCHASING AGENCY.

Established. Reliable.

EVERYTHING bought with taste and discretion. New York fashion correspondence of PATRICK connected with this Agency. Best city references. Send for circular, with prices. Address,

MRS. ELLEN LAMAR,

877 Broadway, New York.

To Inventors and Mechanics.

PATENTS and how to obtain them. Pamphlet of 60 pages free, upon receipt of stamps for postage. Address,

GILMORE, SMITH & Co., Solicitors of Patents, Box 31, Washington, D. C.

Quincy, Dec. 14.

Funeral and Furnishing UNDERTAKER.

THE subscriber would respectfully inform the public that he is fully prepared to execute all orders in the Furnishing Undertaker's business, at his establishment.

No. 51 Hancock Street.

Constantly on hand, a FULL ASSORTMENT OF CASKETS, COFFINS,

Robes and Habits.

Having had several years experience in the Undertaking business, the subscriber hopes by strict attention to the wants of all callers to merit a share of patronage.

JOHN HALL.

Quincy, March 10.

BOOTS & SHOES, Made and Repaired.

THE subscriber would inform his friends and the public, that he has enlarged his shop, and is now better prepared than ever to do their work at short notice, and on reasonable terms.

PEREZ JOYCE,

Quincy Avenue, near Liberty Street.

Sept. 25.

NOTICE.

THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the Public that he has hired Rooms over the

Store of E. B. Souther,

And is prepared to do all kind of

BOOT and SHOE MAKING,

AND REPAIRING.

And would respectfully solicit its patronage.

Discarding the time-honored practice of appealing on the strength of age, experience in business, &c., he will let the work done be its own advocate.

Hoping by honest work and honorable dealing he may be worthy of your custom.

Entrance between Mr. Souther's Periodical Store, and Mr. Spear's Clothing Store, up stairs, left of the Billiard Room.

HUGH MUNDY.

Quincy, Jan. 25.

BOOTS AND SHOES, Made and Repaired.

THE undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has moved to the shop corner of

HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS

where he is prepared to Make and Repair Boots and Shoes, in a neat manner, at a reasonable price.

Prices for Repairing:

1-2 Soles, Heels, hand-sewed, $1.25
1-2 Soles, Heels, pegged, 1.00
Heels, 35
1-2 Soles, pegged, .65
1-2 Soles, sewed, .85

BOYS:
1-2 Soles, Heels, 85

LADIES:
1-2 Soles, Heels, .65
1-2 Soles, Heels, Misses, .50
1-2 Soles, Heels, Children, .40

PATCHES from 10 to 15 Cents.

NATH'L NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, May 8.

VEAZIE'S

Is the place to buy

Knives, Cards and other Fancy

Goods.

Quincy, June 28.

1000 GALLONS Pure Cider Vinegar,

FOR SALE AT

N. B. FURNALD'S,

Washington Street

Quincy, Aug. 25.

Golden Liniment!

White Label for the Human Family.

COLORED LABEL FOR

Horses, Cattle and Sheep.

INVALUABLE FOR

Rheumatism, Sprains,

Sciatica, Stiff Joints,

And Lameness of all Kinds.

Used with Great Success the last 5 years

It will Recommend Itself!

BY THE GROSS, DOZEN OR SINGLE BOTTLE.

W. C. DANIELS,

South Braintree, - - - Mass.

March 22.

NATIONAL HOTEL,

CORLANDT Street, Near Broadway, NEW YORK.

HOTCHKISS & POND, Proprietors.

ON THE EUROPEAN PLAN.

The restaurant, cafe and lunch room attached, are unsurpassed for cheapness and excellence of service. Rooms 50 cts. to $2 per day, $3 to $10 per week. Convenient to all ferries and city railroads.

New Furniture. New Management.

Feb. 8.

Summary of News.

Mr. Lorenzo F. Pierce, of Middleboro, has raised a pumpkin weighing fifty-four pounds and measuring over four feet in circumference.

A conductor on the steam railroad, in performing an ordinary year's work, rides 75,000 miles, or about three times around the world.

The local option law has closed the saloons in nearly 400 towns in Kentucky.

It is estimated that 20,000 more persons visited Saratoga this season than ever before.

Forty years ago there was 20,000 acres more of land under cultivation in Plymouth County than at the present time.

There are 185 letter-carriers in Boston.

A high agricultural authority estimates the loss on English crops at $125,000,000.

New York is the seventh largest city in the world.

A recent bridal present at Brunswick, Maine, was a pair of andirons which had been a wedding present to the bride's great grandmother.

Iowa raised 2,950,000 hogs the past year, leading all the states in the Union.

It is estimated that the first vote of women in Massachusetts will be about 2000.

A bill has been passed in the Georgia Legislature furnishing false limbs and arms to disabled Confederates.

The loss by failures in New York last month was nearly four millions of dollars less than for September, 1878.

The New York dry goods openings have been unusually brilliant, with heavy sales.

A three-months-old baby in Perry, Iowa, in full attire weighs less than three pounds.

James Gordon Bennett of the New York Herald is credited with an income of $1,500 a day from that paper.

The reduction of the tobacco tax has reduced the revenue at the rate of $9,000,000 a year.

Over 40,000 pounds of glycerine are used annually in the United States for mixing with beer.

A new pin manufacturing company, with a capital of $100,000 is being formed at Waterbury.

A trip around the world includes 23,580 miles. It requires 82 days to make it, at a cost of $1075.

Budget of Fun.

The dress circle—The belt.

The difference between a hen and a mouse-trap is that the mouse-trap can't set itself.

When a corner loafer dies in Tennessee the newspaper says: "Another old landmark gone."

Any body can catch cold now. The trouble is to let go again, like the man who caught the bear.

Don't sponge on your neighbor for his paper. Be independent and subscribe at once.—[Hancock's Republic.

A Nevada girl's love letter: "Dear Jimmy,—It's all up. We ain't going to be married. Ma says you are too rough, and I guess she's right. I'm so sorry—but can't you go to Europe and get fixed down?"

He had an auburn-haired girl and promised to take her out riding. She met him at the door when he drove up, and he exclaimed: "Hello! Ready!" She misunderstood him and they don't speak now. This slang makes another slap at love's young dream.

A Georgia colored debating society was lately discussing: "Which is best for the laboring man, to work for wages or part of the crop?" An old "uncle" spoke the sense of the meeting when he said: "Bof was de best of dey could only be brung togedder somehow."

Seven young ladies received the degree of A. B. at Northampton recently. "But," asked the Lowell Courier, "how can a young lady be a bachelor?" Pshaw! A. B. don't mean that in a lady's diploma. It means "after bachelors," and signifies that the young lady that receives the degree is qualified for matrimony.

"You made a fool of me," said an irritated man to his wife, "and that's the way you got me to marry you."

"My love," sweetly responded the wife, "you do yourself an injustice. Call yourself a fool if you please, but remember that you are in all respects a self-made one."

MILLINERY!

MISS S. H. HUSSEY,

HAS just received a beautiful assortment of fresh NEW GOODS, to which will be added

Straw and Felt Hats and Bonnets,

Velvets, Satins, Ribbons,

Feathers, Flowers & Jets.

All orders promptly and satisfactorily executed.

HANCOCK ST.,

Opposite Hotel.

Quincy, Oct. 4.

NEW MILLINERY

DRESS MAKING STORE.

THE Undersigned wishes to inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, that she has opened a

First Class Millinery,

—AND— Dress Making Establishment,

In the Store recently occupied by Mr. Joseph W. Lombard, in ROBERTSON'S BLOCK, on HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, where she will be pleased to suit all the ladies who may favor her with their patronage. Latest Imported Fashions always on hand.

Also, Dress Trimmings, Buttons and Fancy Articles.

MRS. F. A. LAPHAM.

Quincy, Sept. 11, 1879.

MISS C. S. MILTON

Is now prepared to furnish the Ladies with the latest styles in Hats, Bonnets and Frames, Velvets, Satins and Fancy Feathers. Hats made trimmed or trimmed to order.

Gossamer Waterproofs,

Warranted for $4, which cannot be bought in the city for less than $6.

STAMPING

—FOR— Embroidery and Braiding,

DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Over Spear's Furnishing Store.

Quincy, Sept. 27.

Bedsteads, - - $2.50

Mattresses, - - 2.50

Pillows, - - - 1.75

Comforters, - - 1.25

Oil Stove Rugs, - - .63

Flower Stands, - - 1.00

Spring Fixtures, - - .35

Ingrain Carpet, 25 and 75

Extension Tables, - 5.00

And a thousand other articles as low as they can be bought in Boston or elsewhere.

I shall keep in my five cent case, an assortment of useful household articles.

S. H. SPEAR,

Hancock Street.

Quincy, Oct. 4.

BOSTON STEAMED GRAIN COMPANY

F. R. R. Crossing, Somerville.

HAVING procured a license from the National Steamed Grain Company, of Boston, to manufacture and sell the steamed feed, would announce to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that they are prepared to furnish the feed, which is composed of nothing but first class grain, through their agents.

J. LOUD & Co., of Quincy.

They would be pleased to have the public call and examine this feed, as they believe it to be superior to any in the market.

Quincy, Dec. 7.

RALPH LOWE

RETURNS his thanks to the public generally, for their liberal patronage, and respectfully solicits a continuance of the same.

All orders left will receive prompt attention.

Collar and Harness Making,

—AND— Carriage Trimmings

IN ALL ITS BRANCHES

N. B. Every article in the trade made to order, and REPAIRING done in the neatest manner and at the most reasonable rates.

Quincy, Aug. 26.

BEST OF JOB PRINTING

AT THIS OFFICE.

OR THE HAIR,

ATTENTION
ANGES
UBURN
Ranges.
Large tops, and
all the holes are
with Red's Regula-the fire under ment in the most and with all Mod-ES
WARDS
ART
"WELL DONE,"
Open Store
EST.
Base Burner
Perfect Store in ICES,
it, and will guaran-
pattern of Stone Manufactures. Price of custom-made ARE
ing Goods.
and Stoves repaired
Repaired.
E. SHEETLEAD is in stock.
a full stock of Cook Prices.
ANBORN,
FREE.
the Market!
KER'S
Franconia RANGES,
over at the same very rapid, are collected.
ART
STOVES.
not, and is prepared and Office
ES PATTERNS
E. RATES.
in stock, will be attended to.
LWS.
Street.
NOS
easy month-
"Place to rent cheap or real amount paid
ment on the interest.
CUMSTON, NGTON ST.
arch & Co's).
4.00.
TER-PROOF
KS!
WARRANTED. can be bought at MILTON.
VAL.
HOLDEN.
TAILOR,
his friends and patronized to the building of his suits, forward stock of SIMERES.
Vestings, make into first-class
suits, guaranteed.
TABLE.
Fully furnished, and located at his
WOOD STREET.
THREE ROOMS,
with Horse and Car-rriage, and all the convenience to thank you, and to be reasonable prices in strange
JOHN HALL
Place to buy medicines.

The Quincy Patriot.

ESTABLISHED IN 1837.

A Family Paper devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1879.

43D VOLUME.

PRICE, 5 CENTS.

CONDITIONS.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the Publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary rates, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual Advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents to receive Advertisements for the PATRIOT.

BOSTON.—S. M. PETERS & CO., S. R. NILES, HORACE DODD and T. C. EVANS.

NEW YORK.—S. M. PETERS & CO. GEO. P. ROWELL & CO. and FRANKLIN & CO.

ST. LOUIS, MO.—ROWELL & CHESMAN.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT,
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING
BY ELIZABETH GREEN
AND
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT.
TERMS: $2.50 per year, in advance; $3.00, if not paid before the close of the year.
OFFICE: 64 Hancock Street,
OVER MR. CLAPP'S STORE.
Posters, Cards, Billheads,
Circulars, Labels, Programmes, &c.
PRINTED PROMPTLY.
On the Most Reasonable Terms, and Greatly Below Boston Prices.

Wm. G. A. PATTEE,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
25 FEMBERTON SQUARE,
BOSTON.
Residence School Street, Quincy,
June 14 1y

J. B. CHAFFIN,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
In John Q. Adams' Office.
Quincy, March 15. 1y

A. W. HAYES,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
Assistance rendered in Probate matters.
Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and 4 to 6 P. M.
WHICHER'S NEW BLOCK.
Quincy, June 23. 1y

MARY K. GALE, M. D.,
HOMOEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN,
Wollaston Heights.
OFFICE.—Residence of Mr. Geo. W. B.
Quincy, Newport Ave., near railroad depot.
Office hours—7 to 9 A. M., 4 to 6 P. M.
Quincy, March 1. 1y

W. H. SHERMAN, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
WOULD respectfully inform the people of Quincy and vicinity that he is personally located at
Room C, Whitcher's Block,
Quincy, and is prepared to treat all surgical and medical diseases either at his office or at the homes of his patients.
On Wednesday of each week, from 9 A.
M. to 4 P. M., Dr. Sherman will give his free consultation.
Quincy, Sept. 20. 1y

DR. F. J. BONNEY,
DENTIST!
105 BLOOMING, CHESTNUT STREET
Quincy, Sept. 13. 1y

Dollars and Cents
in the Pockets of the People
SAVED!!
BY BUYING OUR MEDICINES AND FAN-CY GOODS at the Peoples Drug Store, WHICHER'S BLOCK, TEMPLE ST.
LOUIS & WELLS,
Proprietors.
Quincy, Sept. 13. 1y

JOHN O. HALL,
ACCOUNTANT.
SETS OF BOOKS opened or closed.
ACCOUNTS examined and adjusted.
—ADDRESS—
Box 184, Quincy P. O.
Quincy, Sept. 13. 1y

WHITMAN & BRECK,
Civil Engineers & Surveyors
CORNER OF
DEVONSHIRE & WATER STREETS,
BOSTON.
Particular attention paid to Land Surveying,
the surveying of private grounds, and the general improvement of Real Estate. Plans and working drawings of public and private buildings carefully prepared.
C. E. C. BRECK,
Quincy, Sept. 13. 1y

CHARLES HATCH,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor.
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE ON GALLOP ST., near Quincy Station.
Plans and Specifications made of Real Estate. Estimates furnished for the building of houses of all kinds.
Drawings of work made for contractors
of all kinds.
Plans and specifications of public and private buildings carefully prepared.
C. E. C. BRECK,
Quincy, Sept. 13. 1y

AIR SLACKED LIME
—FOR SALE BY—
J. Loud & Co.,
QUINCY GRAIN STORE.
The best Discounted for Purifying
Stables, Privies, Cesspools,
etc. SPRINKLING IN CELLARS.
Quincy, July 26. 1y

C. S. WHITING,
DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF
FRESH FISH,
AND OYSTERS,
1830 AVENUE, QUINCY
Quincy, Sept. 20. 1y

BENJ. F. CURTIS,
—DEALER IN—
Lumber, Spruce and Pine Lumber.
A full assortment constantly on hand.
CUT WHARVES!!
Quincy, Jan. 19. 1y

IRA LITCHFIELD,
Carpenter and Builder,
PEARL STREET,
SOUTH QUINCY.
Feb. 14 1y

JOHN HARDWICK & CO.
Real Estate & Insurance
AGENTS.
Granite Street, Quincy.
Insurance secured in any reliable Office.
Quincy, Feb. 10. 1y

Insurance Agency,
Established in Quincy in 1849
BY
W. PORTER.
INSURANCE EFFECTED in reliable and
safe STOCK and MUTUAL OFFICES—by
W. PORTER & CO.,
At No. 27 STATE STREET, BOSTON.
Residence, QUINCY, corner Adams and Hancock Streets.
Quincy, April 26. 1y

DORCHESTER.
Mutual Fire Insurance Company.
P. O. NEPONSET, Mass.
Ward 10, Boston, Mass.
E. J. BAKER, Pres. W. F. TEMPLE, Sec'y.
STATEMENT, JANUARY 1, 1879.
Amount Insured by 6,722 Policies, $10,854,126.00
Liabilities, $92,841.83
Unpaid Losses, 1,746.08
Cash Assets, $24,000.00
Real Estate, (Block and Stone Dwellings), $24,000.00
Notes and Mortgages, 25,000.00
U. S. 5-20 Bonds ($400), 4,182.00
U. S. 4-1-2 per cent Bonds ($20,000), 21,050.00
Old Colony Railroad Bonds ($5,000), 6,250.00
Boston & Lowell Railroad Bonds ($5,000), 5,250.00
213 Shares Boston & Albany R. R. Stock, 2,500.00
180 Shares old Colony Railroad Stock, 2,500.00
167 Shares Boston National Bank Stock, 17,112.00
Cash deposited in N. E. Trust Co., 12,574.49
Interest due and accrued on above, 2,002.35
Furniture of Office, Stores and Halls, 1,000.00
Loan to Town of Boston, 6,000.00
Amount of Deposit Notes available to
pay losses, 246,567.44
$75,000 Cash Surplus, and $24,021.41 available surplus over amount required to reimburse all our risks.
The Company continues to insure the safe class of property at current rates, and to pay Return Premiums on terminated policies at 40 per cent. on five-year policies, 25 per cent. on three-year, and 15 per cent. on one-year policies.
Neponset, Feb. 8. 1y

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.
CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.
$367,000.00,
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.
50 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring
5-year policies, 20 per cent. on 3-year, and 20
per cent. on all others.
This Company has been in operation over
24 years, has paid over $1,200,000 in losses
(250,000 of which was at the "Boston Fire"),
Persons having business with the "Quincy Mutual"
to policyholders.
None but the safer classes of risks taken.
I. W. MUNROE, Pres. and Treas.
CHARLES A. HOWLAND, Sec'y
Quincy, April 1, 1879

Selectmen's Meetings.
THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in the Town House, every SATURDAY from
2 to 4 1-2 o'clock, P. M., until further notice.
Persons having business with the Selectmen will please present it on those days.
JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Selectmen
WILLIAM S. EATON, " " " " " "
CHARLES H. PORTER, " " " " " "
Quincy, March 8. 1y

NOTICE!
THE Assessors of the Town of Quincy, give notice that they have delivered to G. H.
H. LOCKE, Collector of Taxes, a correct list of the Taxes, together with a warrant, in due form of law, for collecting the same, and that by a vote of the town, all persons who shall pay their taxes on or before the 15th day of SEP-TEMBER, 1879, a discount of four per cent.
will be made. By a vote of the Town all taxes are due and payable on the first day of November, and the Collector is required to pay interest on all taxes not paid before December 1st, 1879.
JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Assessors
WILLIAM S. EATON, " " " " " "
CHARLES H. PORTER, " " " " " "
Quincy, Sept. 13, 1879. 1y

$15.00 Reward!
WHEREAS, a large number of guide-boards and Street Lamps have been wantonly and maliciously broken in this town, the undersigned offer the above reward to any person who will furnish evidence sufficient to convict the person guilty of said offence.
Also, for breaking Glass in windows of buildings belonging to the town.
JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Assessors
WILLIAM S. EATON, " " " " " "
CHARLES H. PORTER, " " " " " "
Quincy, March 8, 1879. 1y

State Aid.
THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in the Town House, on the last MONDAY in each month, from 2 to 4 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it
under the provisions of the law of 1879.
JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Selectmen
WILLIAM S. EATON, " " " " " "
CHARLES H. PORTER, " " " " " "
Quincy, March 8. 1y

ISAIAH WHITE,
DEALER IN
FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC FRUIT
OF ALL KINDS,
Jellies and Preserves,
CANNED GOODS, &c.
100 Tremont Street, Boston.
(Under Horticultural Hall.)
May 21 1y

P. H. GAVIN,
PLUMBER.
98 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Store formerly occupied by T. G. Emerson, in Adams's block.
Orders addressed to Box 75 Quincy Post
Office, will receive prompt attention.
EVERY VARIETY OF PLUMBING WORK
done at lowest prices.
Quincy, Jan. 28. 1y

NEW MILLINERY
—AND—
DRESS MAKING STORE.
THE Undersigned wishes to inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, that she has opened a
First Class Millinery,
AND
Dress Making Establishment,
In the Store recently occupied by Mr. Joseph
W. Lombard, in ROBERTSON'S BLOCK, on HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, where she will be pleased to suit all the ladies who may favor her with their patronage. Latest imported Fashions always on hand.
Also, Dress Trimmings, Buttons and Fancy Articles.
MRS. F. A. LAPHAM.
Quincy, Sept. 11, 1879. 1y

MISS C. S. MILTON
Is now prepared to furnish the Ladies with the latest styles in Hats, Bonnets and Frames, Valets, Satins and Fancy Easiers. Hats ready trimmings or trimmed to order.
Gossamer Waterproofs,
Warranted for $4, which cannot be bought in the city for less than $6.
STAMPING
—FOR—
Embroidery and Braiding.
DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.
Over Spear's Furnishing Store.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 1y

MILLINERY!
MISS S. H. HUSSEY,
HAS just received a beautiful assortment of fashions in hats, bonnets, and trimmings, which will be added fresh selections in all grades.
Straw & Felt Hats and Bonnets,
Velvets, Satins, Ribbons,
Feathers, Flowers & Jets.
All orders promptly and satisfactorily executed.
HANCOCK ST.,
Opposite Hotel.
Quincy, Oct. 4. 1y

OYSTERS
Received
FRESH EVERY DAY,
and for sale
By the Quart or Gallon.
30 Cents per Quart.
$1.00 per GALLON.
Oyster Cans, all sizes, furnished to order.

Received fresh daily
Fresh Pork & Sausages.
—AT—
G. F. Wilson's.
Quincy, Sept. 29. 1y

ESTABLISHED 1839.
FREDERICK & FIELD.
Granite Monuments,
Cemetery and Building Work,
OF ALL DESCRIPTION.
Light, Medium and Dark Blue
QUINCY GRANITE.
FROM OUR OWN QUARRIES.
Or any other variety New England Granite
furnished.
STEAM POLISHING WORKS.
Granite Statuary executed in the most Artistic Manner.
Bronze Statuary furnished to order.
Quincy, July 12. 1y

H. FRENCH, JR.,
House and Sign Painter,
IN EVERY VARIETY.
Washington Street, Quincy.
Feb. 10 1y

ROBERTSON HOUSE,
QUINCY, MASS.
This new brick hotel, on Hancock Street, is now
open for the accommodation of guests. It is provided with all modern improvements, such as a steam and cold water supply, gas, electricity, and a very large and comfortable hall or ball room.
PLEASURE PARTIES can find here the most comfortable and enjoyable accommodations.
W. F. F. MERRILL.
Quincy, Dec. 16. 1y

NOTICE!
S. V. MILONEY,
STONE MASON AND CONTRACTOR,
would inform the public that he is ready for business again. Stone Work in all its branches. Wells dug and stoned to order.—
Particular attention given to setting Cemetery
Work of all kinds. Work done in a skillful manner. All orders left at his residence, Edgemoor street, West Quincy, Mass., or at P. O.
Box 16, will receive prompt attention.
Quincy, March 1. 1y

A gentleman with an invalid wife went to a hotel. He ordered breakfast in his sitting-room, and then ordered a small waiter, so that breakfast might be carried to his wife in her bed-room. The servant was absent some time, but at length returned, saying: "There are no small waiters, but they've sent up a chamber-maid." Great relief was experienced when it was understood that the water wanted was in the form of a tea-tray.

Protect the Harbor.
The public owe their thanks to Mr. Derby for calling the attention of the mayor to the evils that must result from the proposed mode of disposing of the sewage. He shows from the report of the commissioners that it will be left at the close of ebb-tide between Thompson's and Gallop's and Lovell's and George's islands. If it would only return through the main channel to the wharves in Boston the inhabitants in the vicinity might have nothing to say. But it is not so. The rising tide taking it from that position would spread it over the flats in Quincy bay, in Weymouth and Hingham harbors and Nantasket roads. These flats, by the material that has been dumped near Hingham's island, have been greatly in-creased, which shows the place where the tide would deposit the lighter material.
There should be a universal remon-strance sent in from all the towns bordering on the harbor against an act that may render a residence in them an impossibility. Have the harbor com-missioners given authority to the city to thus injure the most valuable prop-erty of the State? By her laws no one is permitted to drive a pile or throw a spoonful of dirt into the harbor without their permission. Has it been granted? For twelve years the labors of their predecessors have been indefatigable. Through their personal application Con-gress granted hundreds of thousands of dollars for the improvement of this noble harbor. The rocks have been blasted, the shoals removed, and all the headlands protected by solid masonry. Vessels drawing twenty-three feet can enter and leave it at the low, and those drawing thirty-three feet at high tide, and it is pronounced by Professor Mitchell, of the coast survey, to be one of the finest in the world. To say nothing of the deleterious effects, are the harbor commissioners, after all that the United States has done, willing to risk the filling up by degrees of the chan-nels that it has cost so much to excavate? Even, if the legislature has granted the city a general permission to take land for the construction of a sewer, all the details of the execution, the man-ner it reaches tide-water, must, as in every case, be subject to the approval of a board of experts created by the State, to see that its most valuable prop-erty receives no detriment. If not, why need the city to obtain permission to cross Neponset river? A power to reg-ulate is a power to prohibit, if, in the opinion of such a board, a given plan is fatal to the best interests of the Com-monwealth. The citizens of all the towns bordering on the harbor have a deep interest in this question, and should unite in a petition to the harbor com-mission to prevent the city from fouling their, as well as its own, waters, by an injunction or otherwise. NANTASKET.
Petroleum.
When we are told at the present time over 1,800,000 gallons of petroleum or earth oil are brought to the surface every day in the oil regions of Pennsylvania alone, the mind is staggered by the contemplation of the magnitude of this comparatively new industry. So lavish is Mother Earth of her hidden stores of oil that it is sent to the surface much faster than it can be taken care of, or stored, and at the present time 300,000 gallons, at the lowest estimate, run to waste every day. The great United Pipe Line, and other methods of conveyance, utterly fail to convey the oil, to markets, and the enormous tanks for storage are full to overflowing. There are tanks owned by companies which hold 5,000,000 barrels of oil, and all of them are full. The wooden tanks owned by individuals and private concerns amount in their aggregate capacity to as large a number of barrels, and these also are full. Thus it will be understood that there are great lakes of oil above ground, as well as below; but there is good reason to believe that the subterranean deposits may with greater propriety be called oceans rather than lakes. The oil work-ers are evidently pumping from inex-haustible supplies in the rock chambers below, and what are called the "spouting wells" deliver their vast cur-rents with the same gushing force as when the drills first tapped the pent-up stores.—Scientific American.
Shipment of Bullion.
There are those who think that the large shipments of gold from England to the United States will embarrass the former country. If this gold cannot be saved from England why does it come? American custom house returns show that in the year ending June 30, last, this country exported five millions more gold than it imported. The British trade returns show that in 1878 England ex-ported to the United States gold and silver to the amount of $9,535,000, and imported from the same $12,400,000. During the last three years Great Brit-ain has gained in specie from this coun-try nearly $55,000,000. The Bank of England has more gold than it can uti-lize, and there is no large circulation of paper there to create a fear that the "specie basis" will drop out.
It's a game of bluff when you try to scale a precipice.

Ministers Have Their Fun.
A correspondent of the Louisville Courier-Journal, at Saratoga, writes as follows:—
The most genial people that one meets at Saratoga are the clergymen who come here for recreation. They have many amusing anecdotes, which they enjoy getting off at their own expense, or that of their colleagues. Among the distin-guished divines who are now here are Bishop Whipple of Minneapolis, Rev. Dr. Cuyler of New York, Drs. Schenck, Potter and Charles Robinson.
On the piazza of the United States a merry group was seen the other day. The laughter was louder than usually breaks upon the stiff conventional propriety which reigns among the fashion-able cliques who contemptuously survey one another. It was a group of clergy-men, and one was telling a racy story which he had just heard. The Arch-bishop Canterbury had a dread of paral-ysis, and made it a subject of prayer that he might escape the calamity. A grand concert was given in London, and a distinguished Duke and Duchess in- vited the Archbishop to accompany them and take a seat in their private box. The Archbishop occupied a seat between the Duke and Duchess. Before the evening was over the Duchess mani-fested great uneasiness. She not onlyidgetted, but she made grimaces. She would bound from her seat, and her manner was distrustful.
The Duke gave her reproving glances, and by his manner let her understand that her behavior bordered on the unde-corous. The attention of the husband and wife was now directed to the Arch-bishop, who meekly folded his hands upon his breast and said:
"It has come! at last it has come! O, Lord, give me patience to bear it!"
"Bear what, your Lordship?" in-quired the Duke.
"Paralysis," said the Archbishop.
"I have feared it and prayed against it." "But," said the Duke, "don't you think you are mistaken? I see nothing unusual in your looks."
"I cannot be mistaken," said the Archbishop, "for I have been pinching my leg vigorously all the evening, and I have no sensation in it."
"Oh!" cried the Duchess, "it is my leg that you have been pinching, and I did not know what to make of it!"
The telling of this absurd story cre-ated such merriment among the reverends that for the time they forgot all of the ailments which had necessitated a visit to Saratoga!
A Humming Bird's Nest.
Recently a humming bird's nest was found by some persons who had suf-ficient natural curiosity to overcome their compassion, and who captured the nest, two young hummers and the old one, took them home and had them stuffed. They are to be sent to a museum of natural curiosities in London. The nest is built on a little twig, and scarcely the size of half an English walnut. Both nest and twig are covered with little patches of lichen until it is almost im-possible to tell one from the other, and the nest looks like a kind of natural ex-crecence on the twig. The nest is plia-ble, like a tiny cup of velvet, and the in-side is lined with a white substance, as rich and soft as white silk. The little birds are about the size of bumble bees, very pretty and they sit on a little perch just outside the nest, with open bills, while the old birds hover over them to feed them.—Elizabeth (N. J.) Journal.
Those Who Have Received Him.
General Grant, during his famous tour around the globe, was happily en-tered by the following persons, potentates and powers of the earth, besides many others not mentioned:—
Queen Victoria of England.
King Leopold of Belgium.
The Khedive of Egypt.
The Sultan of Turkey.
King Humbert of Italy.
Pope Leo XIII.
President MacMahon of France.
The King of Holland.
Emperor William of Germany.
Prince Bismarck.
King Oscar of Sweden.
The Emperor Alexander of Russia.
The Emperor Francis Joseph, Austria.
King Alfonso of Spain.
President Grevy of France.
M. Gambetta.
Viceroy Lytton of India.
King Theobald of Bavaria.
Prince Kung of China.
The Emperor of Siam.
The Mikado of Japan.
Since January 1st the United States has imported $30,000,000 of gold, and produced $25,000,000—a solid in-flation of $5,000,000 in circulating medium.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1879.

Short communications and items of news earnestly solicited from friends and patrons.

GOLDEN WEDDING. Mr. and Mrs. William Field, having been united in the holy bonds of wedlock fifty years, propose to celebrate the anniversary of their marriage on Monday evening at their residence on Adams street. Invitations have been issued to their large circle of friends to be with them on this joyful occasion.

DELEGATES CHOSEN. At a meeting of the Quincy Revere Club, held in their building on Saturday evening last, the following gentlemen were chosen delegates to attend the eleventh reunion of the Red Ribbon Club, which was held in Waltham on Wednesday—John L. Maxim, John D. Nutting, George Veazie, Henry H. Faxon, George W. Pennington and John Q. Bent.

OBITUARY. One of our oldest citizens, Mr. John Kirk, died on Saturday evening last, at his residence on Quincy street, after a few days' illness. He had enjoyed his usual health up to Thursday forenoon, when he complained of feeling unwell, and from that time he continued to grow weaker, until he calmly and serenely passed from this to a more beautiful world.

Mr. Kirk had resided in this town over fifty years, and was loved and respected by all who knew him. His partner, with whom he had lived over fifty-four years, still survives him.

ROBBERY. The house of Mrs. Fanny Dasha, on Summer street, in this town, was entered through a window last Sunday forenoon, while the family were at church. A suit of clothes belonging to Frank Dasha was stolen. Officer Fernald was notified and traced the rogue to Boston, where he arrested George E. Dasha, with all of the stolen property on his person. He was brought before the District Court on Monday, and was held in $500 to appear before the Grand Jury in December, and in default was committed.

ORGANIZED. At a meeting of the Republicans of this town, held at Granite Hall, on Saturday evening last, a Young Men's Republican Club was formed with the following list of officers: President—Theophilus King, Jr. Vice Presidents—Three persons from each district were chosen and two at large.

TREASURER.—Washington M. French. SECRETARIES.—H. O. Fairbanks and John P. Bigelow. On Wednesday evening quite a number joined this club, which now numbers between fifty and one hundred persons.

ENTERTAINMENTS. It will be noticed by our advertising columns, that a fine course of lectures and entertainments have been arranged by Paul Revere Post for the pleasure and gratification of our citizens. The able talent they have procured is a guarantee that all who attend will get their money's worth.

The opening of the course falls to Miss Cuyah, a very popular reader, on Thursday, Nov. 6th. Tickets will be for sale on and after Wednesday next.

WOLLASTON. The Rev. T. N. Zabriske of the Congregational Church, Wollaston, intends leaving here for Plainfield New Jersey in about two weeks. His parishioners deeply regret his removal from among them.

PROLIFIC. Henry James and wife of Brockton have in 22 years been blessed with 33 children, including three sets of twins and one of triplets; however only five are now living.

NEFARIOUS BRIDGE. The recent dry weather tells upon the planking of Neponset Bridge, not long since a small fire was discovered on the bridge. Repairs on this ancient structure, like motions to adjourn, are always in order.

DISTRICT COURT. The following criminal business has received careful attention this week, at the district court room:—

George Carney, of Braintree, was arraigned for being drunk and was fined $3 and costs.

James Patterson, of Quincy, on complaint of Deputy Sheriff French for an assault, on Thomas P. Owens. Fined $10 and costs.

Local Items.

WARMEST OCTOBER FOR YEARS.

A lecture course ought to be supported this winter.

Even the bootblack says his business is brightening up.

State election one week from Tuesday next.

The days are short but they are quite fine.

Flour has advanced in Quincy, $1.50 and $2.00 per barrel this week.

About twenty teachers from Dedham visited our public schools yesterday.

The Republican caucus for the nomination of a Representative, will be held next Thursday evening.

The regular Democratic caucus will be held at the Town Hall, on Wednesday evening.

Charles W. Slack, Esq., will address the Republicans at the Town Hall, on Monday evening.

The weather continues dry. Brooks, wells, springs and rain water cisterns are very low.

The annual meeting of the Quincy High School Association will be held on Wednesday evening.

Several fashionable weddings are now the gossip of our citizens at the tea-table.

There has been a large sale of furniture, crockery, etc., at the Robertson House this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Field celebrate their golden wedding on Monday evening.

Seventeen hundred and seventy-six names are the voting list just printed.

Rev. Mr. Perry will lecture tomorrow night upon "Newspapers." All are welcome.

Mr. Escho, a Persian, will give an entertainment in the Methodist Church, Wollaston, on Monday evening. He will be dressed in Oriental costume.

A lecture will be given on Tuesday evening in the Congregational Church, Wollaston, by the Rev. T. N. Zabriske.

A class from the Coddington B Grammar school went to Brockton yesterday, to show their knowledge with the moulding board.

Edward A. Adams has raised a monstrous pear, which weighs twenty-eight ounces and measures fourteen and a half inches round. Who can beat this?

Rev. Mr. Perry will lecture on Temperance at the Methodist Church, Quincy Point on Wednesday evening next, at 7.30 o'clock.

A grand musical entertainment is soon to be given at Faxon Hall, by the ladies of the Rev. Mr. Norton's Society. Full particulars next week.

Read the Selectmen's notice to voters in our columns to-day. No name can be added to the voting list after 10 o'clock on Saturday evening next.

Examine the voting list which has been printed this week and if your name is missing call on the Selectmen to make good the deficiency.

We have had numerous calls during the last few days for tree links. It is probably the best article there is to stop the canker grub from crawling up the tree and laying her eggs.

Mr. George Saville has at the present time the largest stock of ready made clothing we have seen in Quincy for many years. The large room adjoining his store, which he has recently added, gives him a grand chance to display this line of goods.

MILTON. The new Town Hall in Milton is well arranged to accommodate large spectators. The large attendance of women at the annual town meeting last March, seems to have had a good influence, for up to Saturday last, forty-four women have registered their names as voters.

This is the time of year to enjoy a ride over Milton Hill. If you wish a good view of the river be sure before you start to consult Robert B. Thomas with reference to a full tide, which shows the serpentine course of this beautiful river.

THE HYDE ESTATE. The heirs of the several Hyde estates, will be pleased to learn that an Association has been incorporated in New York, for the mutual co-operation of the heirs of this vast estate. It is located at 186 Front street, and circulars will be sent on application to that office.

The beautiful display of Tulips, Hyacinths and Crocuses which adorned the Public Garden of the city of Boston last spring and summer, and were so commented on by the press and admiring thousands, was furnished by B. T. Wells, now the largest importer in New England. See his prices in another column headed "Bull Gardens."

Public Library.

The following books have been recently added to the Public Library:—

Adams, Henry. Life of Albert Gallatin. 4142

Alden, Mrs. G. R. Ruth Erskine's Crosses. 313.31

Atkinson, E. Labor and Capital Allied and Enemies. 62.24

Bessant, W. Gaspar and Coligny. 441.20

Burnett, C. H. Hearing, and how to keep it. 492.31

Diller, E. L. Life and Letters of Mm. Bonaparte. 436.12

Gladstone, W. E. Cleanings of Past Years, Vols. 5 and 7. 71.26.28

Green, J. R. Readings from English History. 376.20

Guthrie, Thomas. Autobiography, volume 2. 421.2

Inglis, Jean. Sarah de Berenger. 320.9

Tennyson, A. The Lover's Tale. 524.22

Warner, H. W. Recitations in Astronomy. 435.18

Wilson, J. C. The Summer and its Diseases. 492.3

Adams vs. Phillips Academy.

Last Saturday, the Quincy football eleven went to Andover, and for the third consecutive season, defeated the Andover eleven. In less than a minute after the game had begun, Woodward, of Quincy, forced his way through the midst of the Andover boys, and made a touchdown. Within three minutes, Wesselhoff, of Quincy, by a beautiful play, got the ball from a cluster of his opponents, and kicked a goal directly from the field. The sides were promptly changed, and the Quincy boys again crowded the Andover goal. After a sharp struggle, Woodward, of Quincy, made another touchdown, from which he kicked a goal. For the rest of the time the play was very exciting.

The Andover eleven showed skill in stopping the Adams rushers, their full backs, Barker and Medill, being particularly good. The Adams eleven, however, kicked better, passed the ball more skillfully, and seemed to understand the points of the game better. The ball gradually neared the Andover goal again by the exertions of Woodward and Geo. Adams, and before time was called, Hewitt, of Quincy, made another touchdown. Score, two goals and two touchdowns for Quincy.

The second three-quarters of an hour was a repetition of the first, except that the Andover eleven played better than before. Nickerson and Thompson, in particular, made some fine rushes, and several times were near getting a touchdown; once Nickerson got within four feet of the line.

The Adams eleven made equal efforts in return, and completely outplayed their opponents. Twice Kendall stopped Nickerson's rushes by throwing him heavily, and Hardwick, full back of Quincy, never failed to send back the ball if it came near his goal. George Adams and Homans, of Quincy, also showed brilliant play, each scoring a touchdown; from the latter of which Woodward kicked his second goal. Near the end of the game, Wesselhoff kicked another fine goal from the field. This, with a second touchdown by Hewitt, left the final score:

Adams, four goals and four touchdowns, to Phillips nothing.

The umpire for Andover was Mr. W. C. Coit, and for Adams, Mr. A. G. Merwin. Referee, Mr. O. S. Howard.

The Adams eleven consist of:—Kendall, Osborne, Hewitt, Scarborough and Adams, rushers; Woodward (captain); Wesselhoff and Coleman, full backs; Hackett and Hardwick, half backs.

There will be a game with the Harvard Freshmen next week.

Reply to "X."

To the Editors of the Patriot:

Readers of Sidney Smith who remember his account of the efforts of Dame Partington to arrest the onward trend of the ocean, with a mop, will be reminded of that interesting little story, in the attempt made by your Boston Correspondent to white-wash the character of "old Ben Butler." If your correspondent were writing to a community of Feejees among whom it may be supposed that General Butler's reputation is not particularly well-known, one could understand the meaning of such an assertion as this, "amid the tornado of vituperation against him, his opponents admit the purity of his moral character." But since he is writing to the intelligent people of this town, it must be supposed that he is attempting a huge joke, when he says that Butler is deemed by his opponents to be a man of upright moral character.

Did Gov. Andrew deem him a man of "pure moral character," when, as we learn on good authority, he called him a "scoundrel"? There may be some force in the moral law, but "Ben" does not violate. But to call a man of pure moral character, speaking generally is to be absurd or ridiculous. Is it morally right to delude, deceive, trick, spy on other people? Is it morally right to put your hand in the people's pocket, and filch out salary grabs? Is it morally right to tell people of the Middlesex District that if they elect you to Congress you will do certain things, and then when you are elected on the strength of that promise, to do diametrically opposite things? Is it morally right to address workmen with the views of creating enmity in their minds, towards other classes?

If "Uncle Ben's" moral character is all right, what is the trouble with him? Why is it the people of Massachusetts "spew" him out, with such energy, every election day? Something is the matter with him. Surely your enlightened correspondent does not mean to insinuate that the General is lacking in ability. It is not ability that the self-nominated candidate lacks. We all know better than that. What is it then, if not moral unsoundness?

The truth is, Ben Butler is so unworthy, so untrustworthy, as manifold acts in the past have shown, that his chance of being struck by lightning, is decidedly better than his chance of being elected Governor of Massachusetts.

XX

A SMART GIEL. In Grafton, Maine, the other day, Eva McAllister, Maine, 11 years old, hearing a disturbance among the geese near the house, went to ascertain the trouble, when she discovered that an eagle had one of the number and was trying to kill it, but the goose was so old and proved too heavy, whereupon the little girl seized a club and rushing upon the eagle, succeeded, after a desperate battle, in killing him. The eagle measured six feet two inches from tip of wings, two feet six inches from bill to end of tail and weighed over seven pounds.

ACCIDENT. John Long of Halifax, N. S., was found badly loused, beneath the covered bridge on River street, Dedham, on Tuesday evening. As he was slightly intoxicated, it is probable that he fell through the bridge.

The Boston Committee on Improved Sewerage has awarded the contract for the tunnel section to R. A. Malone of Lancaster, Pa., for $396,458.

Eight Cents a Dozen.

The following occurred at a well-known store on Washington street, Boston, on Thursday of last week. It will serve to illustrate the passion to cheapen goods, regardless of consequences, on the part of some people:—

Enter Lady.—"Do you keep postal cards?"

Clerk.—"We keep them, not for sale, however."

Lady.—"Can you sell me half-a-dozen?"

Clerk.—"Yes."

Lady.—"How much will they be?"

Clerk.—"Twelve cents a dozen."

Lady.—"Twelve cents a dozen! I can buy them down town for eight cents a dozen."

Clerk protests. Lady declares she can do it, and walks out of the store with the air of one who has the courage of her convictions, thus ending a charming interview.

Summary of News.

It is claimed that more than fifty per cent of this year's cotton crop in Mississippi was produced by white labor.

The peanut crop around Wilmington, N. C. will be about 100,000 bushels.

The stable belonging to A. W. Cobb, Deputy Sheriff of Mansfield, Mass., was entered Tuesday night by thieves, and his best harness stolen, valued at $50.

A wedding took place in Portsmouth, a few miles from the city, being but 18 years of age and the bride 15.

There are 24,000 French living in New York city.

The receipts for the Fair of the Weymouth Agricultural Society exceeded $4200.

Capt. Benn Gibbs, of Wareham, has about 3000 grape vines, mostly Concord. He will realize this year about $3000 from them.

The Dominion Thanksgiving Day will be Nov. 6.

Silver half-dollars are at a premium in San Francisco.

Talmage cleared $40,000 during his European engagement.

The elevated roads of New York city have half a million gallons of water a day.

There are many trees in California measuring over 300 feet in height.

There are now about 319 newboys in Boston and about 40 backboys. They are all under sixteen.

The chestnut crop is enormous, and this popular nut has not been so cheap in the season of the year for a very long time.

The Baltimoreans say that finer apples and pears have never been grown in Maryland than this season.

The Fall River strike has collapsed, the spinners voting to resume work at the old prices.

One of the Vienna lunatic asylums publishes a newspaper made up of articles contributed by its inmates.

James Gordon Bennett, of the New York Herald is credited with an income of $1800 a day from that paper.

The stained glass chancel window for Christ Church at Hartford has arrived from London. It represents the transfiguration, and is claimed to be one of the most artistic works that have ever come to this country.

VEGETARIANISM, &c. We have received from A. Williams & Co., a pamphlet written by Harriet P. Fowler, with the title "Vegetarianism, the Radical Cure for Intemperance. The author seeks to maintain the following propositions, that meat causes intemperance by its stimulating effect upon the nervous system, that meat perpetuates intemperance by its stimulating effect upon the diseased stomach of the drunkard. The latter portion of the pamphlet is devoted to showing that other food can take the place of meat in supplying the needed nutriment and yet have none of the evil effects of meat. This pamphlet is suggestive, throwing some new light upon the well known theory that a vegetable diet tends to temperance. It will be noted that the author urges the use of milk, butter and eggs, and hence is not a strict vegetarian.

A telephone line to Boston is being considered by the Brockton Telephone Co.

Sunday Services.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. Preaching by the Rev. T. A. Emerson at 10.30 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sabbath School and Pastor's Bible Class at 11.45 A. M. Prayer meeting every Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

FIRST CHURCH. Rev. D. M. Wilson, pastor; Sunday School at 9.30 A. M.; Church services at 10.30 A. M.; the Rev. Geo. A. Thayer of St. Boston will preach. In the evening the pastor will deliver a lecture upon "An arraignment of public opinion."

CHRIST CHURCH. Rev. Thaddeus A. Sullivan, pastor. Services at 10.30 A. M. and 7 P. M. The Sunday School will meet at 12 o'clock.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. by Rev. E. A. Perry, Sunday School immediately following. Evening service at 7 o'clock.

UNION CHRISTIAN CHURCH, QUINCY POINT. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. by the Rev. Geo. W. Coon. Sabbath School immediately after the morning service. Preaching at 7.30 P. M. All are invited.

WEST QUINCY METHODIST CHURCH. Rev. W. W. Barlow, pastor. Preaching at 10.12 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sabbath School at the close of the morning service.

METHODIST CHURCH, WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. and 7 P. M. by Rev. S. Kelley, pastor. Sunday School follows morning service. Parish service at 7 P. M. with a sermon.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, QUINCY POINT. Sabbath School at 10.30 A. M. Preaching every Sunday, at 2.30 P. M., over Mr. Hall's store. Rev. George B. Lawton, pastor. Prayer meeting Sunday evenings at 7 P. M. Tuesday evening services at 7.30.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH AT WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Services at 10.45 A. M. and 7.30 P. M. Sabbath School at 12.30 P. M. The Pastor, Rev. Dr. Babrick, will preach at both services.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Sermon by the Pastor Rev. William Hague D. D. at 10.45 A. M. Sunday School and Pastor's Bible Class at 2.30 P. M. Evening service at 7.30.

The Drama.

OSTON, October 24, 1879.

PARK THEATRE. Monday evening last the Emma Abbott English Opera Company made their first appearance here in Gounod's "Faust." Miss Abbott is, of course, the central figure, and she comes to us with criticisms much at variance. For myself, while I cannot accord her the exalted place which many of her zealous critical admirers have unwisely given her. I think her much above the adverse opinions of others—she has a sweet expressive face, pleasing figure, and a voice pure, full, and sympathetic, and under perfect control—sometimes too much so in fact, when she plays havoc with the score for effect—Her dramatic action is, for the most part, graceful and free from conventionalities; she however, lacks magnetism, a very important requisite in a lyric artist. At no time have I seen her thrill her audience. Her Marguerite is, on the whole, pleasing, in fitting words beautiful; but oft times marred by a too evil-talented desire to favorably impress, and want of spontaneity in action. Tom Karl as Faust, was decidedly uneven, not doing himself justice. W. H. Macdonald's Mephisto is not his best role, it lacks sufficient scenic flavor. Apprentice, in the Bohemian Girl, would gain a point should Mephisto drop the traditional make-up, and adopt one more in keeping with the time and individual—He is the demon homme rather than a person; also, the Valentine should prefer a more dramatic, and in which, as a person, they were quite pleasing.

This Saturday matinee, they appear in "Paul and Virginia," and "Chimes of Normandy" at the evening performance. Next week they repeat this week's repertoire.

GLOBE THEATRE. The erratic career of this house is now a thing of the past. Under John Stetson's management it opened last Monday night to a new and long career of life, and I wish it all success.

It has been redecorated, carpeted and seated, and presents a brilliant and attractive interior. The management were fortunate in securing for the opening attraction, Handman, the English tragedian, in the romantic historical drama, "Narcissa." Handman is of the stately robust school of actors, strongly reminding us of Forrest and Fechter.

Saturday he appears in "Shylock." Next week the attraction is Aubert's "Crown Diamonds," produced under the direction of Charles Adams, and his excellent troupe, are provoking much fun with "Variety," to good houses. Next week the bill is Scamian and Cronin, in a new comedy.

THEATRE. Bartley Campbell's new play, "My Partner," will be produced for the first time in Boston, Monday night next. The Dramatic News in a lengthy article of its first production in New York, said:—"It scored an instant and unqualified success."

MUSEUM. An evening of rare pleasure, dramatically speaking, was at last through "Emile Augier's Les Froufrou," did space permit, I would not reveal its argument, for it is one of those plays most enjoyed without previous knowledge of its plot. It worked out with consummate skill and interest to the end. Its characters are strongly individualized; its dialogue is of a picturesque brilliancy; its sarcasms keen and sharp as a well-honed razor; its pathos finds immediate response; and its sentiment elevates and purifies to that degree that it enables one for having known it; as a strong, noble, legitimate drama, it should be seen by every one.

Wednesday evening the house was beggarly compared with its merits; may they be full to overflowing next week.

CRIT—

JOHN H. PRAY

SONS & CO.,

WHOLESALE

— AND —

RETAIL

CARPETINGS.

We are now showing a Complete and Choice Variety of

MOQUETTES,

AXMINSTERS,

WILTONS,

BRUSSELS,

TAPESTRIES,

INGRAINS,

MATTINGS,

OIL CLOTHS.

Our Assortment is the Largest to be found in New England, and our Prices will be found

to compare favorably with any

New York or Boston quotations.

JOHN H. PRAY

SONS & CO.,

HOSTON.

558, 560 Washington Street,

Sept. 27, 6w

Answer to Problem.

We have received from Winfield S. Knowlton, A. W. Cole, A. H. Gilson, Henry Rideout, and Belle H. Burgess, the following answer to the problem in our last issue:

ANSWER:—42 children; 84 ladies; and 74 gentlemen; 200 in all.

SHIPPING. Schooner Helena E. Russell, Capt. McHaffy, sailed Oct. 20th, for New York, loaded with granite from J. Q. Wild and others.

Schooner Gustie Wilson, Capt. Floyd, arrived October 23d, to load for Philadelphia.

Wanted Immediately.

A GIRL for general house work in a small family. Apply at this Office.

Quincy, Oct. 25. 1w

Situation Wanted.

BY A Young Girl, to do second work, or to take care of a child. Apply at this Office.

Quincy, Oct. 25. 1f

WANTED.

EXPERIENCED Coat Makers. Apprentices on Coats. Also an experienced hand to do repairing.

FRANK A. SPEAR, Custom Clothier, 86 Hancock Street. Quincy, Oct. 18. 1f

BOARD

FOR Gentleman and Wife, or two Ladies. Excellent place,—"Two minutes" walk from Depot. Enquire at PATRIOT OFFICE. Quincy, Oct. 18. 1f

Situations Wanted.

BY Two sisters in the same family, or separate ones, to do general house work. Small families preferred; or would do second or nursery work. References given. Apply to this Office. Quincy, Oct. 18. 3w

NOTICE

TO VOTERS!

ALL Persons entitled to vote, whose names are not on the list of voters, will take notice that the Selectmen will be at their office Oct. 25th and 26th, from 7 o'clock P. M. to 10 P. M., to receive names of those who wish to be added to the list of voters, and no names can be added to the list after that hour.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Selectmen of CHARLES H. PORTER, Quincy, Quincy, Oct. 25th, 1879. 2w

HOT BREAD.

THE Subscriber would inform those desiring to purchase hot bread that they must send in their orders in the morning, to be accommodated. Quincy, Oct. 25. 1f

ORNAMENTAL PLANTS.

The Subscriber has on hand a fine lot of Chrysanthemum in Pots, READY TO BLOOM.

ALSO, 500 VERSAILLES GUERRANT BUSHES, PEONIES and quite a variety of hardy Ornamental Plants.

First Japanese and quite a variety of hardy

Rally!!
D RALLY with QUINCY EVENING
th, 1879.
MEN'S
AN CLUB.
e addressed by Black, Esq., STON.
for Ladies,
will provide.
ANKS, W., it
t Paradise.
00, Notarion, from entertainment in Qu.
ng, Oct. 27th,
ch, Wollaston.
lish fluently, and the
th a Lecture and Con-Pantheism and will sing and quiet
ers and audience of site of the "Audience" CHILDREN 15 CENTS.
of children, in advance,
ten, 10 cents.
URE.
N. Zabriskie
ecture on "The City Gospel Church."
TOSAL CHURCH,
ASTON.
Y EVENING,
28th.
LADIES' REVEREND 3th Lectures
INMENTS
es of st, 88, G. A. R., STH.
L. QUINCY.
Arrangements are being citizens of Quincy and secured for this course.
INGS,
HE CAYAN,
Y, Nov. 6th.
bee Troupe,
Nov. 14th.
Phillips
Y, Nov. 18th.
I. NILES,
AY, Dec. 4th.
A BAND,
e Solist
Y. Knowles,
Y, Dec. 11th.
A. HILL,
Y, Dec. 18th.
e Course, $1.50
D. Holden's of the Post.
V LINE or d Children's d Winter
ERY LSO DESIRABLE FELT SKIRT Received
AT Hubbard's
ock Street.

The Quincy Patriot.
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 25, 1879.
Single Copies 5 cents.
PUBLISHED AT
The Old Colony Railroad Depot, Boston,
T. G. Perry & Co., North Quincy,
E. H. Noble & Co.'s Store, West Quincy,
George Rich, South Braintree, Quincy's Periodical Office, and at
THE PATRIOT OFFICE.
WEEKLY ALMANAC. FULL SEA. Moon.
Morn. Eves. 2.00 A.M.
Saturday, Oct. 25, 8.00 8.15 3.03
Sunday, " 26, 8.45 9.10 3.03
Monday, " 27, 9.30 10.00 4.06
Tuesday, " 28, 10.15 10.45 5.07
Wednesday, " 29, 11.00 11.15 6.09
Thursday, " 30, 11.30 11.45 rises.
Friday, " 31, 12.00 12.15 5.27 P.M.
Full Moon, Oct. 29th, 8.38 P.M.
Secret Societies.
At the Universalist Church on Sunday evening last, the subject of Rev. Mr.
Perry's discourse was "Secret Societies," taking for his text, Gal. 6: 10.
In very ancient times there were secret societies, but modern secret societies are recent in origin. Free Masonry had its beginning in the Middle Ages, in a guild of church builders, who were by the Pope exempted from certain burdens, and hence called "free." Their ritual was written by Elias Ashmole, about the middle of the 17th century. Hence different societies furnished the material for this ritual, the guild of Free Masons, the Knights-Templars, and the Rosicrucians.
Since this time we find in history traces of Free Masonry in its modern form.
A little more than eighty years ago,
"free masons" in London, a social fraternity, known as Odd Fellows. A portion seceded and reorganized on a better basis as the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. The Order was introduced in the United States in 1819.
The question, "When organized?" is of little importance. These fraternities are good or bad, judged at the present time.
Some people are strongly opposed to secret societies. A portion are so because of ignorance. Supposing them bad they suppose them. Others are prejudiced against them without any reason whatsoever. Others have conscientious scruples which forbid their being friendly to them. These claim that under the cover of these societies conspiracies can be organized, and that membership costs more money than many ought to spend on such matters.
It is also said that justice is perverted, since a judge who is a member of one of these fraternities will favor a member brought before him for crime; that jurymen will bring in false verdicts in favor of brother members.
In response it may emphatically be said that no member of a secret society under any obligation to pervert justice for the benefit of another member. It is also claimed, with some shade of reason, that man ought not to take an oath not to reveal what in a court of justice he may be compelled to reveal to save the reputation or life of another. This might happen if a person should die in the process of initiation through excitement. It is also said that Free Masonry is responsible for the murder of Morgan. Nothing is, however, known about this, except that he disappeared after attempting to publish a book revealing the private work of the Order. But Free Masonry is stronger to day than ever.
Men people are indifferent towards secret societies, believing that they do little harm or good.
Still others are friendly to them, and believe in them. Some of these declare them perfect, the best institutions in the world. Others believe them to be of use, to be doing a good work, and yet they might be improved. In my judgment these have the right of it.
Of all secret societies there are various kinds. The Sons of Temperance, the Good Templars, the Templars of Honor, the Odd Fellows, the Masons, the Odd Fellows, the Knights of Pythias, &c., are benevolent. The Sons of Malta, &c., are a baroque fraternities.
The lodge-room affords a good place in which to spend an evening, far better than many would otherwise find. The meeting in all lodge-rooms is of a high tone. Many of the ceremonies are based on Bible stories. Each step of the initiation conveys some lesson. If a member wanders from the path of right, he will be kindly admonished by his brothers and brought back again. If a member be wicked, watchmen will be furnished at the expense of the Lodge. A number of these orders will always find fellow, though a "stranger in a strange land."
A large amount of charity work is done by these Orders. If a member be in need, he receives aid from his brothers as his due, not as a gift. Hence he does not feel degraded. In the Lodge men of different religious faiths, and of various faiths, work together in a common way, and for Christian purposes.
Giving full weight to all the objections that can justly be against secret societies, it seems true that the good they do overbalances the evil.
Reply to "Rex."
To the Publishers of the Patriot:
Your correspondent "Rex," the important (?) adviser of workmen, is supposed at my use of the word "scab," and forms the conclusion that because I saw our Union is managed by men who have much to learn of what constitutes the common necessities of an intelligent society. Yet this very courteous person proves his ignorance of "intelligent society" by the remarkable tentative lecture published in your last where he insinuates that all men who drink, must necessarily be untruthful, and unreliable; and we form the conclusion that he would be so unscrupulous as to call an intoxicated person—a drunkard.
If it is intolerant in our members to act as they consider for the best interest of themselves and our trade, what is the strangeness of "Rex" and his clique in the strategy of a Prohibitory law to compel those who drink to conform to their own temperance. I yield to none in my desire to see the promotion of the temperance cause, and can probably say more on that question more than "Rex" can, as I am a life-long temperance man, and do not know the taste of any

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS
ORGANS 13 Stops, 3 set Golden Tongue
Reeds, 3 Oct's, 2 Kne Swells
Warranted Case, warrant 10 years
Stool & Book, only $98. New 7
Oct. Piano, Solo Cover, only 125.00
Latest Illustrated Newspaper sent free. Address
DANIEL F. BEATTY, Washington, N.D.
Advertisers by GEO. P. BOWELL & Co's Newspaper Advertising Bureau, 10 Spruce St.
New York, can learn the exact cost of any proposed advertising in American Newspapers.
127-100-page Pamphlet, 10 c.
$25 to $5000—Individually treated in Wall Street, New York, the exact cost of any proposed advertising in American Newspapers.
127-100-page Pamphlet, 10 c.
$1200—Profits on 30 days investment of $100 Proportional returns every week on Stock Options of $20, $30, $50, $100, $500.
Address: T. W. WILSON & Co., Bankers, 35
Wall St., N. Y.
$10 to $1000—Invested in Wall Street stocks makes fortunes every month.
Long enough for an ordinary drinker to get dead-drunk. I could point out several who are well known to be the reverse of temperance men, but in my opinion that does not make them unreliable as business men; but if Rex's test is applied to workmen, it must also be applied to employers; and we must conclude that both sides are unreliable, because there are drinkers on both sides.
I am very much afraid that Rex is as inconsistent in his temperance principle as he is in his writings, that a search of his closet or cellar would discover a little liquor stowed away for emergencies; handy for his stomach's sake and his oft infirmities of mind, as it is evident to "almost any man of common intelligence," that a more inconsistent advocate could not be employed on any question, and instead of promoting good feelings, his homilies are calculated to widen, rather than close a breach. It will pay the employers to "reward" his services by relieving him from the rear, and keep him from further interference, for his charges and insinuations recoil on the side which he supports with greater force than the side it is hurled at.
Believing it would be only a waste of time, ink, and paper, to further argue with such a person on the other question, I leave him to the tender mercies of the "Journeymen," with the hope that he will deal gently with him, for "where nothing is given, nothing can be expected," as it is very evident that Rex is a deficient, not only of courtesy, but common sense as well.
Yours respectfully,
JOSIAH B. DYER.
Boston, Oct. 29, 1879.
Births.
In this town, Oct. 17th, a son to Mr.
and Mrs. Thomas Paley.
Marriages.
In this town, Oct. 15th, by the Rev.
C. D. Bradley, Mr. Edmund F. Snow of Boston, to Miss Cora A. Ruggles of Quincy.
Oct. 11th, by the Rev. E. A. Perry,
Mr. Thomas W. Beckwith of Somerville, to Miss Ida A. Smith of Quincy.
Oct. 23d, by the Rev. D. M. Wilson,
Mr. E. Frederick Carr to Miss Alice B. daughter of Edmund B. Taylor, Esq.
In Plymouth, Sept. 15th, by the Rev.
Isaac Rogers, Mr. Henry T. Burrell of Quincy, to Miss Rebecca S. Swift of Plymouth.
Deaths.
In this town, Oct. 17th, Ida A., daughter of Mr. John and Mrs. Christina Eric-son, aged 4 years, 6 months and 2 days.
Oct. 18th, Mr. John Kirk, aged 88 years and 4 months.
Oct. 19th, Carrie C., daughter of Mr.
Leonard M. and Mrs. Caroline F. Hersey aged 2 years, 3 months and 19 days.
In Milton, Oct. 21st, Annie, daughter of Mr. Cornelius and Mrs. Hannah O'Callaghan, aged 2 months and 24 days.
In Milton, Oct. 23d, Mrs. Rebecca E.
Humphrey, aged 56 years and 7 months.
Special Notices.
REPUBLICAN CAUCUS. The Republicans of Quincy are requested to assemble at the Town Hall, THURSDAY EVENING, Oct. 30th, 1879, at 7 1/2 o'clock, for the purpose of nominating a Representative to the General Court, from the 5th Norfolk Representative District.
Also to transact any other business that shall properly come before them.
CHAS. H. PORTER, Chairman.
JOHN P. BIGELOW, Secretary.
Quincy, Oct. 25. 1w
Assignment of Representatives
QUINCY AND WEYMOUTH.
At a meeting of Committees appointed by the Republicans of Quincy and Weymouth, to arrange for the assignment of Representatives to the General Court, it was voted that two Representatives be assigned to Quincy for the ensuing year.
CHAS. H. PORTER, Chairman.
JAMES HUMPHREY, Secretary.
Quincy, Oct. 25. 1w
REGULAR DEMOCRATIC CAU-CUS. The Democrats of Quincy, in favor of the election of the regular Democratic nominee for Governor, Hon. John Quincy Adams, are requested to meet at the Town Hall, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, Oct. 30th, 1879, at 7 1/2 o'clock, for the purpose of selecting two candidates for Representatives to the next General Court, for the Fifth Norfolk Representative District. Also to transact any other business which may come before them. Per order Democratic Town Committee.
W. G. A. PATTEE, Chairman.
JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Secretary.
Quincy, Oct. 25. 1w
G. A. R. The regular meetings of Paul Revere Post, No. 88, are held at Revere Hall, (over H. W. Gray's store), on the 24th and 4th Wednesday evenings of each month, at 7 30 o'clock.
F. W. FAIRBANK, Commander.
EDWARD A. SPEAR 2d, Adjutant.
Quincy, Jan. 11. 1f

SILVER WARE.
Sterling Silver Spoons, Butter Knives, Pie Knives, and Napkin Rings.
Suitable for Wedding Presents or Family Use.
In Stock or made to order by the best manufacturers.
For sale by JOHN O. HOLDEN.
Quincy, Oct. 18. 1f
$15.00 TO $75.00
Ladies' Gold Watches, Key and Stem Winding.
GENTS' GOLD WATCHES,
$30.00 to $125.00.
AT J. O. HOLDEN'S.
Quincy, Oct. 18. 1f
BUSSELL'S
PHOTOGRAPH
ROOMS !!
CHESTNUT STREET.
Quincy, Oct. 18. 1f
Corned
Beef,
—ONLY—
3 Cents Per lb.
—AT—
Sweetser's Market,
6 Granite Street.
Quincy, Oct. 11. 1f
Great Special Sale
—OF—
LACE CURTAINS!
100 Patterns and Varieties.
PRICES AS LOW AS
$1.25 Per Pair.
We call attention to an elegant chun pattern in white and ecru, at $2.50 Per Pair.
The best curtain ever sold at the price.
LACE BED SETS
At $2.50 Each.
Swiss Lace Curtains
in immense variety. Prices from $6 per window, upward. New Patterns exclusively our own.
Table Covers
On Broadcloth, with Silk embroidered borders, $1.25 EACH.
Whitney, Warner & Co.,
143 Tremont Street, Boston.
Oct. 18. 1f
The Celebrated
"PLANET"
BRIGHT & DARK TOBACCO.
And the Havana filled
Yacht Club & Corner Stone
5 CENT CIGARS.
I am having a big run on the above Brands
They are the best in the market.
S. H. SPEAR, Hancock St.
Quincy, Oct. 4. 6w
NOTICE!
THE Subscriber would inform the citizens of Quincy, that he has purchased a tract of land on South Street, Quincy, known as the Baxter Pasture, which will enable him to supply a variety of Wood, such as Oak, Pine and Chestnut. Also, small or large quantities of Cedar Posts. He still holds himself prepared to do general work, such as Digging, Draining, Clearing Cesspools, &c.
TERRANCE KEENE,
Cor. of South and Main Sts.
Box 546, Quincy Post Office.
N. B. All persons heretofore committing trespass on above land, and all others are hereby warned to cease from depredations.
Quincy, Oct. 18. 1f
FOR SALE,
Granite Quarry
IN QUINCY.
THE Well-known Granite Quarry situated
on Willard Street, owned and worked the past Forty Years by
O. T. ROGERS & Co.,
Containing about Twelve Acres, with Derricks,
Sheds, Shops, Office and Two Dwelling Houses.
A large outlay having recently been made upon the Quarry, the whole establishment is now in complete working order. A rare chance is offered to persons desiring to acquire a valuable interest in the Granite Industry.
For further information, please inquire of either of the remaining partners.
JESSE BUNTON,
SAMUEL BARBOCK
Post Office Address, East Milton, Mass.
Sept. 13. 1f
FOR $4.00.
GOSSAMER WATER-PROOF
LOAKS!
OF THE BEST QUALITY, WARRANTED.
Which is cheaper than they can be bought at retail in Boston.
Miss C. S. MILTON,
Over Samuel H. Spear's Store.
Quincy, May 17. 1f
Why will you be troubled
WITH FLIES.
Buy a POWDER GUN and THE BEST (INSECT POWDER KNOWN).
At Veazie's Apothecary Store.
Quincy, June 21. 1f

FALL GOODS
—AT—
GREAT BARGAINS.
20 Pieces Dress Goods,
12 1/2 Per Yard.
PLAID DRESS GOODS,
12 1/2 Per Yard.
WATERPROOF CLOTHS,
IN PLAIDS, ALL WOOL.
$1.00 Per Yard.
25 Different Styles,
CREPE DE LINNE,
New Patterns from New York.
Housekeeping Department.
A Large Line of Goods for the Ladies,
AT LOW PRICES.
Ladies and Children's Underwear,
For Fall and Winter,
VERY CHEAP.
New Styles of Buttons
SILK FRINGE.
Worsted Goods,
Plaid Trimmings.
THE BEST CORSET,
For 50 Cts.
Sewing Machine
NEEDLES.
The Eighme Patent
Shirts and Bosoms.
Agent for
Madame DEMOREST'S
Reliable Patterns.
G. T. DEFREES,
Robertson's Block.
Quincy, Oct. 4. 1f
SOMETHING NEW!

A MAN in the Carriage business, who dares to do work for a reasonable price at the cost of the disrepair and loss of friendship of men in the same business, who says he is running down prices.
JOHN GORDON,
Thanks his friends and the public for their very liberal patronage and encouragement which they have shown him for the very short time he has been in business, and begs leave to say that he is better prepared than ever before to give perfect satisfaction to all work intrusted to him, having just finished a two-story building next to Dr. GORDON'S and near the Academy, on HANCOCK STREET.
I earnestly ask my work to give perfect satisfaction or no charge will be made. Do not think I do not mean what I say, but try and see for yourself, or ask some of your neighbors for whom I have done work.
I have also employed one of the BEST HOISE, SHOES AND JORDANS in the country who told me to warrant to stop (with these shoes) the worst case of interfering premises or no charge will be made and he would bear the expense.
Painting and Trimming also done.
Work taken to and from shop at request of owner, free of charge.
Quincy, Oct. 4. 3m
Bedsteads, - - - $2.50
Mattresses, - - - 2.50
Pillows, - - - 1.75
Comforters, - - - 1.25
Oil Stove Rugs, - - .63
Flower Stands, - - 1.00
Spring Fixtures, - - .35
Ingrain Carpet, 25 and 75
Extension Tables, - 5.00
And a thousand other articles as low as they can be bought in Boston or elsewhere.
I shall keep in my five cent case, an assortment of useful household articles.
S. H. SPEAR,
Hancock Street.
Quincy, Oct. 4. 4w
MISS M. A. BELLEVUE, invites her old customers and friends to call at the Fancy Store of Miss JILLIAN, in Foster's Block, where they will find her ready to attend to the making of Hair Work, in all of its branches.
Ladies can have their hair shampooed or dressed in the latest style, at short notice.
M. A. BELLEVUE.
Quincy, Aug. 2. 1f

MONEY SAVED BY BUYING GOODS
—AT—
GEORGE F. WILSON'S.
Dealer in
GROCERIES and PROVISIONS
Look at our List of
FANCY GROCERIES!
Keen's Mustard, Sardines, Walnut Catsup, Mushroom Catsup, Tomato Catsup, Queen Olives, Chow Chow, Cauliflower, Mixed Pickles, Durham Mustard, Sliced Cucumber, Pickled Onions, White Pepper, Worcestershire Sauce, Canned Beans, Canned Beef, Canned Corn, Canned Fruit, Canned Meat, Canned Milk, Canned Potatoes, Canned Tomatoes, Canned Apples, Canned Peaches, Canned Pineapples, Canned Strawberries, Canned Raspberries, Canned Blackberries, Canned Currants, Canned Grapes, Canned Cherries, Canned Plums, Canned Peaches, Canned Apples, Canned Pineapples, Canned Strawberries, Canned Raspberries, Canned Blackberries, Canned Currants, Canned Grapes, Canned Cherries, Canned Plums.
Atlantic for Boston, 6.14, 7.92, 7.44, 8.07, 9.10, 10.00, 11.05, 11.24, 12.04, 13.41, 14.41, 15.41, 16.41, 17.41, 18.41, 19.41, 20.41, 21.41, 22.41, 23.41, 24.41, 25.41, 26.41, 27.41, 28.41, 29.41, 30.41, 31.41, 32.41, 33.41, 34.41, 35.41, 36.41, 37.41, 38.41, 39.41, 40.41, 41.41, 42.41, 43.41, 44.41, 45.41, 46.41, 47.41, 48.41, 49.41, 50.41, 51.41, 52.41, 53.41, 54.41, 55.41, 56.41, 57.41, 58.41, 59.41, 60.41, 61.41, 62.41, 63.41, 64.41, 65.41, 66.41, 67.41, 68.41, 69.41, 70.41, 71.41, 72.41, 73.41, 74.41, 75.41, 76.41, 77.41, 78.41, 79.41, 80.41, 81.41, 82.41, 83.41, 84.41, 85.41, 86.41, 87.41, 88.41, 89.41, 90.41, 91.41, 92.41, 93.41, 94.41, 95.41, 96.41, 97.41, 98.41, 99.41, 100.41, 101.41, 102.41, 103.41, 104.41, 105.41, 106.41, 107.41, 108.41, 109.41, 110.41, 111.41, 112.41, 113.41, 114.41, 115.41, 116.41, 117.41, 118.41, 119.41, 120.41, 121.41, 122.41, 123.41, 124.41, 125.41, 126.41, 127.41, 128.41, 129.41, 130.41, 131.41, 132.41, 133.41, 134.41, 135.41, 136.41, 137.41, 138.41, 139.41, 140.41, 141.41, 142.41, 143.41, 144.41, 145.41, 146.41, 147.41, 148.41, 149.41, 150.41, 151.41, 152.41, 153.41, 154.41, 155.41, 156.41, 157.41, 158.41, 159.41, 160.41, 161.41, 162.41, 163.41, 164.41, 165.41, 166.41, 167.41, 168.41, 169.41, 170.41, 171.41, 172.41, 173.41, 174.41, 175.41, 176.41, 177.41, 178.41, 179.41, 180.41, 181.41, 182.41, 183.41, 184.41, 185.41, 186.41, 187.41, 188.41, 189.41, 190.41, 191.41, 192.41, 193.41, 194.41, 195.41, 196.41, 197.41, 198.41, 199.41, 200.41, 201.41, 202.41, 203.41, 204.41, 205.41, 206.41, 207.41, 208.41, 209.41, 210.41, 211.41, 212.41, 213.41, 214.41, 215.41, 216.41, 217.41, 218.41, 219.41, 220.41, 221.41, 222.41, 223.41, 224.41, 225.41, 226.41, 227.41, 228.41, 229.41, 230.41, 231.41, 232.41, 233.41, 234.41, 235.41, 236.41, 237.41, 238.41, 239.41, 240.41, 241.41, 242.41, 243.41, 244.41, 245.41, 246.41, 247.41, 248.41, 249.41, 250.41, 251.41, 252.41, 253.41, 254.41, 255.41, 256.41, 257.41, 258.41, 259.41, 260.41, 261.41, 262.41, 263.41, 264.41, 265.41, 266.41, 267.41, 268.41, 269.41, 270.41, 271.41, 272.41, 273.41, 274.41, 275.41, 276.41, 277.41, 278.41, 279.41, 280.41, 281.41, 282.41, 283.41, 284.41, 285.41, 286.41, 287.41, 288.41, 289.41, 290.41, 291.41, 292.41, 293.41, 294.41, 295.41, 296.41, 297.41, 298.41, 299.41, 300.41, 301.41, 302.41, 303.41, 304.41, 305.41, 306.41, 307.41, 308.41, 309.41, 310.41, 311.41, 312.41, 313.41, 314.41, 315.41, 316.41, 317.41, 318.41, 319.41, 320.41, 321.41, 322.41, 323.41, 324.41, 325.41, 326.41, 327.41, 328.41, 329.41, 330.41, 331.41, 332.41, 333.41, 334.41, 335.41, 336.41, 337.41, 338.41, 339.41, 340.41, 341.41, 342.41, 343.41, 344.41, 345.41, 346.41, 347.41, 348.41, 349.41, 350.41, 351.41, 352.41, 353.41, 354.41, 355.41, 356.41, 357.41, 358.41, 359.41, 360.41, 361.41, 362.41, 363.41, 364.41, 365.41, 366.41, 367.41, 368.41, 369.41, 370.41, 371.41, 372.41, 373.41, 374.41, 375.41, 376.41, 377.41, 378.41, 379.41, 380.41, 381.41, 382.41, 383.41, 384.41, 385.41, 386.41, 387.41, 388.41, 389.41, 390.41, 391.41, 392.41, 393.41, 394.41, 395.41, 396.41, 397.41, 398.41, 399.41, 400.41, 401.41, 402.41, 403.41, 404.41, 405.41, 406.41, 407.41, 408.41, 409.41, 410.41, 411.41, 412.41, 413.41, 414.41, 415.41, 416.41, 417.41, 418.41, 419.41, 420.41, 421.41, 422.41, 423.41, 424.41, 425.41, 426.41, 427.41, 428.41, 429.41, 430.41, 431.41, 432.41, 433.41, 434.41, 435.41, 436.41, 437.41, 438.41, 439.41, 440.41, 441.41, 442.41, 443.41, 444.41, 445.41, 446.41, 447.41, 448.41, 449.41, 450.41, 451.41, 452.41, 453.41, 454.41, 455.41, 456.41, 457.41, 458.41, 459.41, 460.41, 461.41, 462.41, 463.41, 464.41, 465.41, 466.41, 467.41, 468.41, 469.41, 470.41, 471.41, 472.41, 473.41, 474.41, 475.41, 476.41, 477.41, 478.41, 479.41, 480.41, 481.41, 482.41, 483.41, 484.41, 485.41, 486.41, 487.41, 488.41, 489.41, 490.41, 491.41, 492.41, 493.41, 494.41, 495.41, 496.41, 497.41, 498.41, 499.41, 500.41, 501.41, 502.41, 503.41, 504.41, 505.41, 506.41, 507.41, 508.41, 509.41, 510.41, 511.41, 512.41, 513.41, 514.41, 515.41, 516.41, 517.41, 518.41, 519.41, 520.41, 521.41, 522.41, 523.41, 524.41, 525.41, 526.41, 527.41, 528.41, 529.41, 530.41, 531.41, 532.41, 533.41, 534.41, 535.41, 536.41, 537.41, 538.41, 539.41, 540.41, 541.41, 542.41, 543.41, 544.41, 545.41, 546.41, 547.41, 548.41, 549.41, 550.41, 551.41, 552.41, 553.41, 554.41, 555.41, 556.41, 557.41, 558.41, 559.41, 560.41, 561.41, 562.41, 563.41, 564.41, 565.41, 566.41, 567.41, 568.41, 569.41, 570.41, 571.41, 572.41, 573.41, 574.41, 575.41, 576.41, 577.41, 578.41, 579.41, 580.41, 581.41, 582.41, 583.41, 584.41, 585.41, 586.41, 587.41, 588.41, 589.41, 590.41, 591.41, 592.41, 593.41, 594.41, 595.41, 596.41, 597.41, 598.41, 599.41, 600.41, 601.41, 602.41, 603.41, 604.41, 605.41, 606.41, 607.41, 608.41, 609.41, 610.41, 611.41, 612.41, 613.41, 614.41, 615.41, 616.41, 617.41, 618.41, 619.41, 620.41, 621.41, 622.41, 623.41, 624.41, 625.41, 626.41, 627.41, 628.41, 629.41, 630.41, 631.41, 632.41, 633.41, 634.41, 635.41, 636.41, 637.41, 638.41, 639.41, 640.41, 641.41, 642.41, 643.41, 644.41, 645.41, 646.41, 647.41, 648.41, 649.41, 650.41, 651.41, 652.41, 653.41, 654.41, 655.41, 656.41, 657.41, 658.41, 659.41, 660.41, 661.41, 662.41, 663.41, 664.41, 665.41, 666.41, 667.41, 668.41, 669.41, 670.41, 671.41, 672.41, 673.41, 674.41, 675.41, 676.41, 677.41, 678.41, 679.41, 680.41, 681.41, 682.41, 683.41, 684.41, 685.41, 686.41, 687.41, 688.41, 689.41, 690.41, 691.41, 692.41, 693.41, 694.41, 695.41, 696.41, 697.41, 698.41, 699.41, 700.41, 701.41, 702.41, 703.41, 704.41, 705.41, 70

Poetry.

She Hath Fallen Asleep.

She hath fallen asleep: it is well
She hath thus laid her life burden down,
Long years did she bear the stern cross,
But it fitted her brow for the crown!
She may have forgotten a'en now
That ever earth taught her to weep—
Let us say, while in sorrow we bow,
It is well she hath fallen asleep.

She hath fallen asleep: fold the robe
O'er the meek heart so pulseless and still,
She hath gone to her Father and ours,
And our grief is his glory and will:
The rest which He gives His beloved
Is hers, the untrodden and deep;
And because we so loved her we say
It is well she hath fallen asleep!

She hath fallen asleep: it is well—
She will not be weary again;
We shall lie beside her ere long;
Then why should our weak faith complain?
We shall claim on the morn of our rising Victor palms which the seraphim keep—
Oh what glory will crown the beloved
In Christ, who have fallen asleep!

Agricultural, &c.

The "Census-Man" is Coming.

Next year will be 1880, and when the number of the year ends in a cypher, there is a great gathering of all sorts of statistics. In other words, the Decennial Census is taken by the United States Government. At some time during next year the home of every farmer, and of every other person, will be visited and the occupant called upon to give concise answers to a long list of questions. In order that these answers may be accurate—for the value of the census depends upon its accuracy—every farmer should "write down" while it is fresh in his mind, the number of acres of wheat and other grain grown "this year"; the yield, etc., etc., the number of head of live stock, the products of the dairy, and in fact all the results of this year's farming, and have them ready for the day when the facts are to be gathered. It is to the interest of the farmer that the census be accurately taken; so let each one be prepared beforehand, and not be forced to give hasty guesses upon important matters. There are peculiar people, not to say "crooked sticks" in the world, though we are glad to believe that these, though they exist among farmers, are not especially numerous. Yet even among farmers there will be those who regard the questions put by the census-taker as an impertinent inquiry into their private business, and either refuse to reply altogether, or to give blind and evasive answers. Such persons should know that the census-taker is an officer of the General Government, and represents, for this purpose, the will of the people as expressed in a law passed by both houses of Congress. Laws carry with them a penalty for their violation and evasion; those who resist the examination of the "Census-Man" may get into trouble.—American Agriculturist.

GRAPE VINES. Not only farmers, and those upon large lots, but even residents upon contracted city lots, should plant grape-vines, for from no species of fruit can so much be produced upon a given area of ground space. Planted along on the south or east side of the fence bounding the enclosure, they can be trained up on trellises to quite a height if desirable, and the amount of most delicious fruit that can be grown upon a well managed grape vine, of the right variety, is perfectly astonishing to those who have had no experience.

Young fall pigs should have plenty of milk, and if the food is made "milk warm," they will thrive the better for it. Small potatoes boiled and mashed in skim milk, with a little bran will make them grow rapidly. Feed a little at a time, and often. The young pig's stomach is very small, and over-feeding causes indigestion and prevents growth.

Stables and Pens should be made tight for the winter. Dry, tight floors, warm bedding, close doors and windows, and ventilation from the ceiling or over doors, are necessary to the comfort of animals.

Anecdotes.

"Are those genuine sausages?" asked he of the butcher.
"Ya," said the butcher, "they ish genuine."

"Made of dog and cat, and all that," observed the man.

"Nein, nein! they is not! indignantly replied the butcher. "I makes no dog's and cat's meat in mine sausages."
"Well, then," said the man, walking off, "I don't want them; I'm after the genuine article."

The butcher was perplexed to lose the customer, and, gazing wistfully after him, reproachfully muttered:

"Ya, ya—it ish somedime better if I toldt de truth."

"I'd like you to help me a little," said a tramp, poking his head into a country general shop.

"Why don't you help yourself?" returned the proprietor, angrily.

"Thank you, I will," said the tramp, as he picked up a bottle of pickles and two loaves of bread, and disappeared.

A friend of mine and myself came across a "snooping" couple the other night, and a remark we chanced to overhear, inspired him to relate this little story:

Not long ago, at a mansion on Murray Hill, a sentimental young lady strolled, with a gentleman on whom she had her eye, into the conservatory.

Looking up pensively into his face, she said, with tears in her voice, "Ah, no one loves me, Mr. Barnes!"

"Some one does,"

"Yes?" said the lady, dropping her head, and pressing his arm ever so little.

"Yes, Miss Nellie," said the wretch, "God loves you."

In scarlet fever cases warm lemonade may be given as a drink, in small quantities, when the patient complains of thirst. The acid assists in clearing the throat of mucus which gathers in unusual quantities at that point.

A poem commences, "Under the willows he's lying." He must be a tramp. They lie under all sorts of trees. One was discovered lying under an axletree the other morning. The owner of the wagon made him wheel-wright around and leave.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.
IN INSOLVENCY.

Messenger's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that Hon. George N. White, Judge of the Court of Insolvency in and for the County of Norfolk, has issued a warrant against the estate of
CHARLES H. BROOKS,
of Quincy, Insolvent Debtor, and the payment of any debts, and the delivery of any property belonging to said debtor to him for the use, and the transfer of any property by him are forbidden by law.

A meeting of the creditors of said debtor to prove their debts, and choose one or more assignees of his estate, will be held at a Court of Insolvency, to be held at Dedham, in said County of Norfolk, on the fifth day of November next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

WASHINGTON M. FRENCH,
Deputy Sheriff, Messenger.

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
JAMES ADLINGTON,
deceased, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bonds as the law directs.

Executor's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Executor of the estate of
MARGARET GIBSON,
late of Quincy, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bonds as the law directs.

Administrator's Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
PATRICK M'KAY,
deceased, in the County of Norfolk, deceased, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bonds as the law directs.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM REYNOLDS DIMMOCK,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
BENJAMIN GAY,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
JOSEPH J. GLOVER,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the estate of
WILLIAM STILES,
late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Probate Court.

CHILDS & LANE

116 Tremont Street, Boston,

OFFER A FULL LINE OF

CARPETINGS,

CONSISTING IN PART OF

LOWELL, BICELOW, BROMLEY, and HORNER'S;

CROSSLEY'S, ROXBURY, MEDFORD, and BRUSSELS;

KIDDERMINSTER, TAPESTRY; EXTRA-SUPER, SUPERFINE,

AND LOW-PRICED INGRAINS;

LINOLEUM, OIL-CLOTHS, CRUMB-CLOTHS,

Rugs and Mats; at very low figures.

Sept. 20. SW—DOCTRIN.

Made from the Original recipe of one of our most eminent physicians.

Pronounced by all who have used it to be the best.

More than 500 bottles sold last year. I can give a hundred testimonials to the efficacy of

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

A good article will be used in preference to a poor one.

After once tried will prove to be all I say and customers will have no other.

See! See! See!

Please give your attention to a few items of interest to you.

BOOTS AND SHOES,

Than all the stores added together in this part of the town, so that you can get almost any kind of Boot or Shoe that you may wish.

Our Goods are All Warranted.

WE HAVE RECEIVED OUR

FALL and WINTER Boots and Rubber Goods,

And are prepared to sell them at LESS PRICE than can be bought at any other place.

We Keep Constantly on Hand a GOOD ASSORTMENT OF

LADIES', MISSES' and GENTS' HOSIERY,

And sell at low prices.

Also,—Dressing for Ladies' Boots, Paste Blacking,

Shoe Brushes, Brazilian Gum Rubber Soling,

Patching, Leather Cement, Shoe Findings and a great variety of goods to numerous to particularize.

Our Biogans are Made to Order and GIVE PERFECT SATISFACTION

Come one, Come all, and see our goods and judge for yourselves.

N. B. RUBBER AND LEATHER BOOTS AND SHOES REPAIRED AT SHORT NOTICE.

D. B. STETSON, Washington St., Quincy.

CASH DOES IT!

Prices Lower than ever known in Quincy.

Now is the time to buy

FLOWER POTS, 30 different Styles and Sizes.

Best Goods.

LOWEST CASH PRICES

5 cts. to $1.00.

GLASS WARE.

A Large Variety of Glass Ware of the Latest Styles, at prices to suit the times. Call and obtain prices, and examine goods, as I have the Largest Stock in Quincy.

Lamps and Lanterns,

Remember on the above Goods I will not be UNDERSED.

REMEMBER THE PLACE.

CHAS. B. TILTON, 19 Hancock Street,

Opposite Public Library.

Quincy, Sept. 13.

BILLINGS' Quincy & Boston Express.

THE subscriber will personally attend to the prompt delivery of all orders or packages entrusted to his care.

Office in Boston, 45 Kingston Street, and 43 North Market Street.

Offices in Quincy, at Newcomb's Store on Elm Street, formerly Testman's, and at E. Clapp's Store.

Quincy, Aug. 9.

PETER MCCONARY'S Quincy & Boston Express.

Order Boxes at S. F. Newcomb's store, Quincy Neck; Post Office and Mr. Hall's store, Quincy Point; W. W. Ewell's and David Foster & Co.'s, Quincy; and in Laurel Hall Square, Boston.

Orders faithfully and promptly executed. Leave Quincy Neck at 8:30 A.M. Quincy Point at 9:00, and Quincy at 9:30 A.M. Returning, Leave No. 4 Central St., Boston, at 2:30 P.M. Quincy, Jan. 13.

WINSLOW'S Quincy & Boston Railroad Expre.

BOSTON OFFICES:

34 Court Square, leave at 10:00 and 3:00

75 Kilby Street, " 10:30 and 3:30

77 Bedford Street, " 11:00 and 4:00

ORDER BOX 10, Faneuil Hall Square, leave at 10:30 and 3:30.

Calls to be made or goods to be forwarded by this express should be left only at either of the above-named offices to insure prompt delivery.

QUINCY ORDER BOXES:

Railroad Station, E. B. Southers, E. Bent's, E. A. Adams' & Co. Quincy.

Leave Quincy Square at 8:30 and 12:30, sharp Quincy, May 18.

Quincy Bakery.

THE subscriber will inform the citizens of Quincy and adjoining towns that he will continue to manufacture at his establishment

Bread, Cake, and Pastry,

and all other articles usually found in any Bakery. Keeps constantly on hand all kinds of

Plain and Fancy Crackers,

GINGER SNAPS, &c.

Hot Rolls every Evening.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1879.

Founder's Day.

The thirtieth of October is known to the students of the Adams Academy as Founder's Day, and they celebrated it this year by athletic sports on their football grounds, on Greenleaf street. The games commenced at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. The first was a 100 yards dash, followed by a base jump, then a 220 yards dash, a long jump, a 1-4 mile run, a high jump, a three-legged race, a one mile run, and a potato race.

In the 100 yards dash there were five contestants. H. L. Coleman won the contest in 11 seconds.

There were five contestants in the base ball throw, and H. L. Coleman was again the winner, throwing the ball 326 feet.

In the 220 yards dash, there were four contestants. W. F. Wessell made the time in 26 3/4 seconds.

Seven of the young men struggled for the victory in the long jump, and H. R. Woodward was the successful winner, at 17 feet and 1 1/2 inch.

The 1-4 mile run was won by W. F. Wessell, in 1 minute and 5 seconds. Four young men entered for the race.

The high jump had five rivals, and was won by H. R. Woodward, at 4 feet and 3 3/4 inches.

Ten young men participated in the three-legged race. This was won by J. B. Frenkel and T. M. Osborne, who ran 100 yards in 14 1/2 seconds.

The one mile run was won by W. F. Wessell, in 5 minutes, 39 1/2 seconds. Five contestants took part.

The potato race had seven competitors, and was won by O. S. Howard, in 58 seconds.

A bicycle race on the programme, but was postponed to yesterday.

The judges on these games were John Q. Adams, Brooks Adams and W. R. Tyler. John O. Holden was time-keeper.

A large number of ladies and gentlemen were present to witness the sports.

BURGLARS.

Several houses were entered in this town last Saturday morning, and in most cases some plunder was secured. Entrance was obtained by turning the keys left in the lock with a pair of pliers.

At Mr. George Vezzie's on Mechanic street, the thieves were successful in getting about $105. They entered Mr. Vezzie's sleeping apartment and took his pants into an adjoining room, where they rifled his pocket-book of the money, leaving all of his papers.

Mr. Vezzie says it must have been somewhere between half past one and three o'clock when they visited his house. They left his back door open.

After gaining access to Mr. Edward Turner's house, on Canal street, they entered his chamber, but fortunately did not obtain much plunder.

At Capt. Samuel Crane's house, on High School Avenue, as in the case of the other places, the sleeping room was visited but only a pair of sleeve buttons, valued at $15, were taken.

The house of Daniel W. Boyce on burglarized was frightened away by a lady, who being sick, slept down stairs. She saw the sudden flash of the dark lantern, and called for help by rapping with a cane, and the rogues hastily took their leave.

The Cantata of Esther.

We would call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Esther, announced in another column.

This cantata has lately been given at the Academy of Music, Chelsea, and also at Allston, Malden, and Waltham, with great success.

The array of talent guarantees that the performance of it in this place will be equal to the best.

The Ruth Chorus showed by their performance last spring what they were capable of, and the solo talent, assisting them, is fully, if not more than equal to that of last spring.

Mr. King, who takes the part of Mordecai in this place, took the same part at both Chelsea and Allston, with great success in both places.

Miss King, who performed the part of Queen Esther at Allston, in a manner worthy of great praise, takes the same part here.

Of Mr. Elliot, there is no need of speaking. We can judge from his singing as Boaz, what his personation of King Ahasuerus will be.

Mr. Battison, and Miss Peakes, though strangers in this town, are well known in Boston, and will give their parts in a manner well worth seeing.

Mr. T. P. Ryder, whose piano playing in Ruth was such a treat, plays the piano this time, and is alone worth more than the price of the tickets.

We have not the space to say much of the gems of this cantata, of which there are very many, but especially noticeable among them are the following:

In the first act, solo by Haman, "Behold this Mordecai." In the second act, solo, duet and chorus, "Woe is me! Israel, O Israel!" by Mordecai, Esther, and chorus of Jews. In the fourth act, solo by Zerish, "Why should this Hebrew vex my Lord?" In the fifth act, solo by Haman, "Thus shall it be done," followed by a chorus and triumphal march. During this march there will be upwards of sixty voices on the stage, including a chorus of twenty-four children.

And the finale, "Do I wake, or am I dreaming?" quartette by the King, Esther, Mordecai, and Zerish, followed by a chorus, and winding up with the Gloria from Mozart's 12th Mass.

Arrangements have been made with the Boston Electric Company for some of their electric lighting burners, and it is expected that with their aid, brilliant tableaux effects will be produced.

We hope that all our readers will go and see the cantata, one or both of the nights, and we can safely promise that no one will come away disappointed.

Be on hand early Monday, if you wish to secure seats.

There is to be speaking and music in the Square on Monday evening.

Local Items.

Dr. Sherman has purchased the new drug store on Temple street.

Clapp advertises blankets for sale very cheap.

Mr. Joseph Ewell, one of our aged and most respected citizens is quite ill at his residence on Penn's hill.

The hotel is closed and so is the Town Pump, and many find it hard to get a drink.

There will be a public installation of officers of Granite Temple of Honor, on Monday evening.

Service will be held this afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in the chapel at Christ Church.

Mrs. William Emerson left here on Wednesday for Sanford, Florida, where she will join her husband.

Rev. Mr. Perry will lecture to-morrow evening upon the good things in Quincy. All are welcome.

There will be a collation at the Hook and Ladder house on election night, immediately after the political labors are over.

The Quincy Charitable Society will hold its annual meeting, Monday Nov. 3d at 3 P. M., at the residence of Mrs. Benjamin Curtis, School street.

A. G. Durgin invites the ladies and gentlemen to call and see what nice tooth, nail, hair, flesh, cloth and shaving brushes he has just received.

Stillman B. Allen, Esq., of Boston, and the Buckley Blacksmith, of Maryland, will speak at the Town Hall to-night.

Be sure and save up change enough to go to the concert at Faxon Hall. It will come off in a few days and will be a musical treat not often surpassed in this town.

The person who has borrowed the property of Deputy Sheriff French, had better return the same immediately, or he may find himself before Judge Bumpus.

We learn from the Plymouth County Journal, that the Rev. G. A. Litchfield and family of South Abington are about removing from that place, and will make their future home at Wollaston Heights.

The Grand Army boys propose holding a grand camp fire, some time during the present month, and intend inviting the Posts from Weymouth, Braintree and other towns to be with them.

Our readers should try Breed's chemical compound. It makes a better fire and the coal last longer; therefore it is very economical to use it. It is for sale by D. Howard Bills, sole agent for Quincy.

A Democratic rally will be held in the Town Hall on Monday evening. Col. J. Q. Adams will preside, and Judge Abbott, the nominee of the Democratic party for Governor last year, and Hon. P. A. Collins will address the meeting.

The call for tree ink at the Patriot Office last week was so great, that we got entirely out, but are pleased to announce a fresh stock this week, in cans from three to twenty pounds, some troubled by canker worms will please

NOMINATIONS. At the caucus held on Friday evening of last week, at the Town Hall, by the Butler party, Messrs. Patrick F. Lacy and William B. Worster were nominated to represent this district at the next General Court.

On Wednesday evening the regular Democratic party nominated Col. A. B. Packard and Patrick F. Lacy.

On Thursday evening, the Republicans nominated Edwin B. Pratt, Esq., who represented the town last year.

A Reception.

On Wednesday evening last "The Pickwick Club," a literary and social organization of this town, gave a formal reception and welcome home, at the house of the President, Mr. W. E. Simmons, Wollaston Heights, to Mr. Charles H. Hardwick, and his daughter, Miss M. Hardwick, who having lately returned from a pleasure trip across the water, were welcomed to the town.

Miss Hardwick has been the faithful and efficient Secretary of the Club for several years, and the occasion was one of rare enjoyment to her associates and friends.

The usual exercises of a regular Club meeting occupied the evening until half past nine, when invitation was given to partake of an elegant repast prepared by the members in honor of the invited guests.

After a few remarks, by the President, the order was given to fall to, which was order was faithfully obeyed, for the period of an hour or more.

"William Allen," who but a few months before was apparently in the last stages of consumption, seemed to take a new lease of life, and managed to Hall in everything with his reach.

"Dora," the quiet and unassuming Dora, would have worked upon the sympathies of a heart of flint, at the modest and gentle simplicity with which she made the good things disappear.

"Poor Mary," so long fed by charity, appeared to realize that at last she had a fair chance, and went in accordingly.

"Luke," the bashful youth, "watched his opportunity, and came in on quality of his side whiskers was visible to the naked eye.

"Little Willie" so stuffed himself, as fortified with two bottles of champagne, and one of Mrs. Winslow's, he braced up for the occasion, and Willie gave a most excellent performance.

The crowning effort of the evening was the speech of "Farmer Allen," who, after thoroughly satisfying every body's curiosity as to his "swell" was law, arose in his majestic robes, and in his usual elongated manner, and spreading himself over the remarks, in which he was ably assisted by a female relative, he presented to Miss Hardwick, on behalf of the Club, an elegant basket of flowers, as a token of the high esteem in which she is held by them, and to Mr. and Mrs. Hardwick a beautiful bouquet each. Mr. Hardwick was so much overcome by the eloquence of the "old man," as to be unable to respond, although he made a few "flowery" remarks.

The hour having now arrived "when church yards yawn," and various other queer transactions take place, the company reluctantly broke up and took their departure for their several homes, with the memory of a most successful and very fresh and green in the heart of every Pickwickian.

State Election.

On Tuesday next the State election occurs. The political labors of our citizens will then be brought to a close. Below will be found a list of candidates nominated by the Republicans, Butlerites and the regular Democratic party, for this district, viz:—

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Governor,—John D. Long of Hingham.
Lieut.-Governor,—Byron Weston of Dalton.
Secretary,—Henry B. Pierce of Abington.
Treasurer,—Charles Endicott of Canton.
Auditor,—Charles R. Ladd of Springfield.

Attorney-General,—George Marston of New Bedford.
Senator, 1st Norfolk District,—Nathaniel Wales, of Stoughton.
County Commissioner,—Jabez Talbot, Jr., of Stoughton.
Councillor, 2d District,—William O. Taylor, of Boston.

Register of Deeds,—John H. Burdakin of Dedham.
County Treasurer,—C. C. Churchill of Dedham.
Representatives, 5th Norfolk District,—Nathan D. Canterbury and Lewis A. Cook of Weymouth, and Edwin B. Pratt of Quincy.

BUTLER TICKET.

Governor,—Benjamin F. Butler of Lowell.
Lieut.-Governor,—Albert C. Woodworth of Chicopee.
Secretary,—Michael T. Donahoe of Somerville.
Treasurer,—D. N. Skillings of Winchester.

Auditor,—Davis J. King of Boston.
Attorney-General,—William D. Northcutt of Salem.
Councillor, 2d District,—William A. Hodges of Quincy.
County Commissioner,—James G. Scott of Woburn.

County Treasurer,—Henry S. Buntun of Hyde Park.
Register of Deeds,—John H. Burdakin of Dedham.
Senator, 1st Norfolk District,—Daniel Howard of Randolph.

Representatives, 5th Norfolk District,—Patrick F. Lacy and William B. Worster of Quincy, and George A. Cushing of Weymouth.

REGULAR DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

Governor,—John Quincy Adams of Quincy.
Lieut.-Governor,—William R. Plunkett of Pittsfield.
Secretary,—Michael T. Donahoe of Somerville.
Treasurer,—David N. Skillings of Winchester.

Attorney-General,—Richard Olney of Boston.
Councillor, 2d District,—William A. Hodges of Quincy.
County Commissioner,—James G. Scott of Woburn.

Senator, 1st Norfolk District,—Daniel Howard of Randolph.
County Treasurer,—Henry S. Buntun of Hyde Park.
Register of Deeds,—John H. Burdakin of Dedham.

Representatives, 5th Norfolk District,—Abner B. Packard and Patrick F. Lacy of Quincy; and one to be nominated at the Democratic Caucus to be held in Weymouth this Saturday evening.

Golden Wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. William Field celebrated their golden wedding on Monday evening last. Some fifty or more of their relatives, friends and neighbors assembled on this joyful occasion to congratulate them.

The event was filled with unalloyed pleasures, and one long to be remembered. Rev. D. M. Wilson made a few remarks, which were very appropriate and were received with joy. A beautiful poem, written expressly for the occasion, was read, which was followed by congratulations, music and feasting.

Two tables loaded with beautiful silver presents adorned one of the chambers. Miss Cora A. Tirrell presided at the piano, and performed numerous pieces much to her credit and the enjoyment of the assembly. The aged couple look young and seemed quite smart, and if they were to have been married on this occasion for the first time, a stranger would not have been surprised, because they retained the freshness and bloom of youth so remarkably well.

Below is the poem, which was read on this occasion:—
Looking through half a century's years,
To that far-past October day,
A bridal scene in view appears,
And wedding notes their anthem play.

The youthful pair repeat the sign,
That seals hereafter one destiny;
And friends congratulate the twin,
Who thus take up life's sweetest day.

Though many Summers since have fled,
And Winters too have held their sway,
Yet through them all with even tread,
And clasped hands they held their way.

Love, children, and prosperity,
Have blessed the union here renewed;
May kindly heavenly charity,
Preserve the merries now reviewed.

As golden sunbeams' wondrous scene,
Outgushes for the dawn of day,
So golden wedding's richer gleam,
Outshines that fifty years away.

Five generations all desire,
The lines of life may long unfold;
May evening time serenely light,
Illuminate the way to streets of gold.

INSTALLATION.

The following officers of Granite Temple of Honor, were elected on Monday evening, and will be publicly installed next Monday evening:

W. C. T. Charles A. Follett.
W. F. T. Thomas J. Snell.
W. R. George W. Pennington.
W. A. R. Richard King.
W. E. R. Charles F. Pettengill.
W. T. William Parker, 3d.
W. C. R. Rev. Samuel Kelley.
W. F. Samuel B. Turner.
W. D. F. George Curtis, 2d.
W. G. T. George W. Gould.
W. S. John O. Hall.

COURSE OF ENTERTAINMENTS.

Our readers will notice the advertisement of a course of lectures under the auspices of Rev. Mr. Post, G. A. R. A most excellent course of lectures, for each one of the names of the lecturers, &c., testify. If it were not for the fact, that each one will be of a high order, instructive, and entertaining. On this ground alone, the course should receive a generous support. The Post hopes to realize a few dollars, to be placed in its relief fund, which is now nearly exhausted. In this the citizens of our town ought to be interested. We bespeak for them a large sale of tickets. Many tickets must be sold if there is to be any margin, for the lecturers are of such a grade that the cost of the course is greater than common.

The Drama.

BOSTON, October 30, 1879.
"My Partner." The size and temper of the audience gathered in the Boston Theatre last Monday evening, to witness the first performance in this city, of Bartley Campbell's new play, clearly indicated that its fame as a dramatic piece had reached the best class of theatregoers, and so far as Boston is concerned, its popularity is assured. I do not mean by this that it can be ranked with such plays as Sardou's Dora, The Crisis, or even The Two Mothers; dramatically it is not as strong as either, and from a literary point of view, it is common place, meagre, talkative, and barren of wit. I have heard the same words from the mouths of others, and have seen the same characters in other plays.

To it we have two miners, one illiterate, with big heart, nice discriminations of honor, strong in love, and heroically self-sacrificing, who is falsely accused and convicted of the murder of his friend and partner, and saved in the nick of time by the John Chinaman of the play;—the other, learned, polished, and seemingly of true manhood, and yet who leads the woman they both love to sin and shame. The villain, of Uriah Heep pattern, why he is so villainous, and his character, we readily recognize. I would not charge the author of plagiarism, but his play is singularly like The Doctor, by M. Andre Fortier, and the Mighty Dollar.

The play is destined to be popular, and will surely please the major part of our audience. It will be presented throughout next week.

GLOBE. Manager Stetson deserves the liberal patronage of habitues of the opera for presenting the charming work, "Crown Diamonds," and on the whole, in a pleasing and acceptable manner. True the principals are not what we could wish to see in a work of this kind, but this deficiency is offset by what may be considered, in the present economical time of managers in presenting operas, as a large orchestra, and twenty-two vocalists, to render the music with spirit, and a unity and nicety of touch highly enjoyable; and the chorus is quite a revelation, as choirs, and has been well drilled.

It is many years since this opera was last performed in this city, and it has all the attractions of a new work—fine modern pieces contain so many brilliant numbers.

Saturday matinee and evening, are the last opportunities for seeing it. Monday the great spectacle, "The Black Crook," will be presented, its objectional features, it is said, have been eliminated.

PARK. This is the closing week of Emma Abbott's engagement. They give "Bohemian Girl" Saturday evening, for Miss Abbott's benefit. Monday, the comedian Southern begins an engagement, appearing as "Dunder."

MEXICO. The last performance of the highly meritorious drama, "The Crisis," will be given Saturday. Monday the musical talent of the company appear in "Pippins, or the First go as you please Match on record."

GAITEY. Scanlan and Cronin in the "The Great" leave Saturday night, and The Strategists appear Monday in their specialties. They are said to present a highly amusing programme.

For the Patriot.

In Memoriam.

Departed this life for a higher and better realm of existence, at East Milton, on Thursday, October 16th, 1879, Jeremiah William Babcock, Esq., Pastor of East Milton, aged 63 years.

His death was a sudden one, and that the angel of death had summoned him from this mortal state, and that so good a man has passed from our midst to be no more here forever. His pleasant countenance we never shall look upon more. Mr. Babcock was a native of Milton; coming from one of the oldest families of that pleasant town, and he sojourned there during the whole tenure of his honored and useful life.

The writer of this knew him intimately from his youthful days to the present, and can recount his many virtues with unlimited confidence. Of spotless reputation, a man indeed without guile, his prominent characteristics were worthy of all example. Modest, kind, and unassuming in disposition—uniformly upright and conscientious in all his dealings, with an extended circle of friends and acquaintance—diligent in every good work at hand, with all mankind—having no enemies, his pilgrimage through life of more than three-score annual suns, was serene and exemplary.

For more than the long span of forty years he was engaged at one location in methodical pursuits. The poet says:—
"An honest man is the noblest work of God;" and the saying, in all respects, is applicable to our lamented friend and neighbor, now no more of earth.

His obsequies took place on Sunday, the 16th inst., from the Church in East Milton, where he had constantly attended as a devout worshipper, and to which he was much endeared for many years. The funeral was numerously attended, and the services solemn and impressive.

The spirit of this most worthy man has joined its immaculate origin, to shine unsullied through the rounds of eternity. May kindly heavenly charity, preserve the merries now reviewed.

Sunday Services.

FIRST CHURCH. Rev. D. M. Wilson, pastor; Sunday School at 9:30 A. M.; Church services at 10:50 A. M.; Vespers at 7:30—subject: "The fading leaf."

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. Preaching by the Pastor at 10:30 A. M. Sabbath School and Bible Class at 11:45 A. M. Communion at 2:30 P. M. Service at 7:30 P. M. Prayers meeting every Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

CHRIST CHURCH. Rev. Thaddeus A. Snell, Pastor. Services at 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M. Holy Communion at morning service. Subject for evening sermon "The Communion of Saints." The Sunday School will meet at 12 o'clock. This Saturday, Nov. 1st, being All Saint's Day, service will be held in the Chapel at 3 P. M.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. by Rev. E. A. Perry. Sunday School immediately following.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH at Wollaston Heights. Services at 10:45 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Sabbath School at 2:30 P. M. The Pastor, Rev. Dr. Zabris, will preach at both services.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Sermon by the Pastor Rev. William Hague D. D. at 10:45 A. M. Sabbath School and Pastor's Bible Class at 2:30 P. M. Evening service at 7:30. Missionary Court, 7:30. Conference will be the outlook of the month.

METHODIST CHURCH, WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M. by Rev. S. Kelley, pastor. Sunday School follows morning service. Praise service at 7 P. M. with a sermon.

WEST QUINCY METHODIST CHURCH. Rev. R. W. Harlow, Pastor. Preaching at 10:12 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sabbath School at the close of the morning service.

Social Time.

The members of Prohibition Division, No. 9, of this town had a very pleasant and social time on Thursday last. The evening was most agreeably passed in singing, speaking, music and games, after which refreshments were served.

After amply indulging in the good things prepared for them the members returned to their homes well pleased with the evening's enjoyment and with the earnest wish that this Division may continue to live, and prosper many years, and be the means of saving many of our young men who are now walking the downward paths of intemperance. The following members have been elected officers for the present quarter:—

W. P. Wm. F. Leavitt.
W. A. Myer Greenberg.
R. S. Minnie E. Brown.
F. S. N. Nightingale.
Treasurer.—Wm. R. Brown.
C. Alice F. Brown.
A. C. George O. Clapp.
I. S. J. M. Brown.
O. S. Thomas Kelley.
P. W. F. Wm. Caldwell.

For the Patriot.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Vezzie of Boston, celebrate the twentieth anniversary of their marriage, this evening at their residence.

Communications from Weymouth and Braintree were received too late for this issue. Other communications are left out for want of room.

Potatoes sold in Cambridge, N. Y. last week, which is one of the great potato-producing centres of the country, at 18 cents per bushel.

Beautiful roses were in bloom in the garden at the residences of John E. Drake, Israel W. Munroe and Charles H. Mitchell, as late as Friday of last week. This is somewhat remarkable at this season of the year, and shows how warm and pleasant the fall has been.

John E. Green of Boston, a pressman 30 years old, has been allowed $15,633 by the Supreme Court for damages received at the Wollaston disaster on O. C. R. R.

CONVENTION. The W. C. T. Union of Massachusetts will hold their sixth annual convention, in connection with the meeting of Oct. 22, in Park Street Church, Boston, Thursday and Friday, Nov. 6, and 7, 1879, at 10 o'clock, A. M. and 2 P. M.

TOURISTS. Summit House, Mount Washington, was closed October 1, but the largest number of tourists for the White Mountain Railway visited the summit during the first week in October.

Advertisement.

Elegant Tooth Brushes at Durgin's Drug Store.

Hair Brushes, all prices, at Durgin's Drug Store.

Whisk, Cloth, Hat and Boot Brushes, at Durgin's Drug Store.

Infant Brushes and Flesh Brushes, at Durgin's Drug Store.

In fact the best assortment of Brushes ever shown in Quincy, at Durgin's Drug Store.

Gentlemen call and see my assortment of Shaving Brushes, whether you are in want of a new one, or shall be pleased to show them if you don't want one.

Durgin, Druggist.

LAND FOR SALE

THE Lot of land is situated at the corner of Hancock street and Glover avenue and contains

ABOUT 355,000 FEET.

Being a part of the estate of the late JOHN J. GLOVER.

For particulars apply to CHARLES HUNT, at Neponset, or E. J. BAKER, Trustee.

Milton, Nov. 1, 1879.

APPLES! APPLES!

FOR SALE!

100 Barrels of Picked Apples, Baldwin's, Russets, Greenings and Winter Porters. All of the best quality. Apply to P. McDONNELL, School Street.

ESTHER!

Business Change.

HAVING Purchased the PEOPLE'S DRUG STORE of LOOMIS & WELLS, its former proprietors, I beg leave to announce to the citizens of Quincy and vicinity that I have REPLISHED THE STOCK with a large assortment of

PURE DRUGS, PATENT MEDICINES, FANCY GOODS.

And all other articles usually found in a first-class Pharmacy, all of which will be disposed of at prices corresponding to the times.

A competent clerk will be on hand night and day, for the preparation of Physicians' Prescriptions and the dispensing of medicines of every kind, while the proprietor will attend as formerly to his constantly increasing medical practice. Respectfully,

W. H. Sherman, M. D.

Whitcher's Block, Temple St.

Quincy, Nov. 1.

Important to Consumers of Coal!

SOMETHING NEW.

Breed's Chemical Compound.

"FIRE KING."

IT heats coal last longer; increases the heat; prevents explosions, and is economical. For these reasons all persons using coal for heating, cooking and manufacturing purposes should try it.

FOR SALE BY D. Howard Bills.

Quincy, Nov. 1.

FOODS
N'S.
SIONS
S!
Crackers.
AS.
40 cts. per lb.
50 cts. per lb.
60 cts. per lb.
70 cts. per lb.
70 cts. per lb.
of QUORS.
Fee.
35 cts. per lb.
35 cts. per lb.
25 cts. per lb.
20 cts. per lb.
llon.
tables!
tbl.
N'S.
E.
FEET.
ness,
purchased a large
to show the Stock of BERS Clothing.
YLES OF NG GOODS
ES.
erally and the first submergence of his not only be profitable
He is therefore of all goods in the s and customers
Street.
See!
See!
nterest to you k of DOES
the town, so the Shoe arranted r bber Goods
at any other place.
OSIERY, ste Blacking
bber Soling edings and particulars satisfaction
SHORT NOTICE.
t, Quincy

THE QUINCY PATRIOT,
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING
BY
M. ELIZABETH GREEN
AND
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT.
TERMS: $2.00 per year, in advance; $3.00, if
not paid before the close of the year.
Office: 64 Hancock Street,
OVER MR. CLAPP'S STORE.
Posters, Cards, Billheads,
Circulars, Labels, Programmes, &c.
PRINTED PROMPTLY,
on the Most Reasonable Terms, and Greatly Below Boston Prices.
DR. F. J. BONNEY,
DENTIST!
Operations in dentistry faithfully performed. Teeth extracted by the use of Ether or Nitrous Oxide Gas.
Office: 107½ Commercial Street,
Quincy, Feb. 25. tf
Charles S. French,
DENTIST.
Office: Hancock and Chestnut Streets.
All operations in dentistry skillfully performed. Ether or Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. Office open day or evening.
Quincy, Nov. 16. tf
A. W. HAYES,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
Assistant rendered in Probate matters.
Office hours from 9 to 10 A. M., and 6 to 8 P. M.
WHICHES NEW BLOCK.
Quincy, June 23. tf
Wm. G. A. PATTEE,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
26 PEMBERTON SQUARE,
BOSTON.
Residence School Street, Quincy.
June 14. 1y.
J. B. CHAFFIN,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
In John Q. Adams' Office.
Quincy, March 15. tf
W. H. SHERMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon.
WOULD respectfully inform the people
of Quincy and vicinity that he is personally located at
Room C, Whitcher's Block,
Temple St., and is prepared to treat both surgical and medical diseases either at his office or the homes of his patients.
N. B. Wednesday of each week Dr. Sherman will give his services free of charge.
Quincy, Sept. 20. tf
FRANCIS W. PARKER,
Superintendent of Schools.
OFFICE HOURS.
Mondays and Saturdays,
From 8 to 12 A. M.
Office in the National Granite Bank Building,
Quincy, May 8.
JOHN O. HALL,
ACCOUNTANT.
SETS OF BOOKS opened or closed.
ACCOUNTS examined and adjusted.
ADDRESS—
Box 184, Quincy P. O.
July 25. 1y
CHARLES HATCH,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor.
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE ON
Railroad St., near Quincy Station.
Surveys, Plans and Deeds made of Real Estate.
Estimates furnished for the building of structures of all kinds.
Measurements of work made for contractors
and mechanics.
Erected or altered and plans recently becoming to ME J. E. STABBUCK.
All orders promptly attended to.
Quincy, Aug. 23. P. O. BOX 111. tf
WHITMAN & BRECK,
Civil Engineers & Surveyors
CORNER OF
DEVONSHIRE & WATER STREETS,
BOSTON.
Entrance 80 Devonshire and 16 Water Streets.
Particular attention paid to Land Surveying, drainage, private grounds, and the general improvement of Real Estate. Plans and working drawings of public and private buildings carefully prepared.
C. E. C. BRECK
J. C. WHITMAN,
April 15
BENJ. F. CURTIS,
—DEALER IN—
Hemlock, Spruce and Pine Lumber.
A full assortment constantly on hand.
CIVIL WHARVES!!
Quincy, Jan. 19. 1y
P. H. GAVIN,
PLUMBER.
38 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Store formerly occupied by T. G. Emerson, in Adams' Block.
Orders addressed to Box 75 Quincy Post
Office, will receive prompt attention.
EVERY VARIETY OF PLUMBING WORK
done at lowest prices.
Quincy, Jan. 28. tf
H. FRENCH, JR.,
House and Sign Painter,
IN EVERY VARIETY.
Washington Street, Quincy.
Feb. 10
ISAAH WHITE,
—DEALER IN—
FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUIT
OF ALL KINDS,
Jellies and Preserves,
CANNED GOODS, &c.
100 Tremont Street, Boston.
(Under Horticultural Hall.)
May 31. tf

SELECTMEN'S MEETINGS.
THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in
the Town House every SATURDAY from
2 to 4 o'clock, P. M., until further notice.
Persons having business with the Town will be present on that day.
JOHN CHAMBERLIN, } Selectmen
WILLIAM N. EATON, }
CHARLES H. PORTER, } Quincy, March 8. tf
NOTICE!
THE Assessors of the Town of Quincy, give notice that they have delivered to GEO.
H. LOCKE, Collector of Taxes, a correct list
of the Taxes, together with a warrant, in due form of law, for collecting the same, and that
by a vote of the town, all persons who shall pay their taxes on or before the 15th day of SEP-TEMBER, 1879, a discount of four per cent.
will be made. By a vote of the Town all taxes
are due and payable on the first day of November, and the Collector is required to pay interest, on all taxes not paid before December 1st, 1879.
JOHN CHAMBERLIN, } Assessors
WILLIAM N. EATON, }
CHARLES H. PORTER, } Quincy, Sept. 13, 1879. tf
$15.00 Reward!
WHEREAS, a large number of guide-boards and Street Lamps have been
wantonly and maliciously broken in this town, and the undersigned offer the above reward to any person who will furnish evidence sufficient to convict the person guilty of said offence.
Also, For Breaking Glass in windows of buildings belonging to the town.
JOHN CHAMBERLIN, } Selectmen
WILLIAM N. EATON, }
CHARLES H. PORTER, } Quincy, March 8, 1879. tf
State Aid.
THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in the Town House, on the last MONDAY of each month, from 3 to 4 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it
under the provisions of the law of 1879.
JOHN CHAMBERLIN, } Selectmen
WILLIAM N. EATON, }
CHARLES H. PORTER, } Quincy, March 8. tf
Scarlet Fever, Small Pox,
Diphtheria, Measles, &c.
Office of the Board of Health.
QUINCY, MARCH 5, 1879.
THE Board of Health issues the following notice:—That on and after MONDAY, March 10, 1879, the following provisions of Chapter 26 of the General Statutes will be strictly enforced:—
Sec. 47. When a householder knows that a person within his family is taken sick of any disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the board of health of the town in which he dwells.
If he refuses or neglects to give such notice, he shall forfeit a sum not exceeding $100.
Sec. 48. When a physician knows that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with any disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the board of health of the town in which he dwells;
and if he refuses or neglects to give such notice, he shall forfeit for each offence a sum not less than $20, nor more than $100.
The Board considers the above sections to apply to scarlet fever, small pox, diphtheria, measles and whooping cough.
JOHN CHAMBERLIN, } Board
WILLIAM N. EATON, } of Health.
CHARLES H. PORTER, } Quincy, March 8. tf
ESTABLISHED 1830.
FREDERICK & FIELD.
Granite Monuments,
Cemetery and Building Work,
OF ALL DESCRIPTION.
Light, Medium and Dark Blue
QUINCY GRANITE.
FROM OUR OWN QUARRIES.
Or any other variety New England Granite
furnished.
STEAM POLISHING WORKS.
Granite Statuary executed in the most
Artistic Manner.
Bronze Statuary furnished to order.
Quincy, July 12. tf
AIR SLACKED LIME
—FOR SALE BY—
J. Loud & Co.,
QUINCY GRAIN STORE.
The best Disinfectant for Purifying
Stables, Privies, Cesspools,
AND SPRINKLING IN CELLARS.
Quincy, July 26. tf
C. S. WHITING,
—DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF—
FRESH FISH,
—AND—OYSTERS,
QUINCY AVENUE, QUINCY
June 29. tf
IRA LITCHFIELD,
Carpenter and Builder,
PEARL STREET,
SOUTH QUINCY. tf
NOTICE!
S. N. HILLOVER,
STONE MASON AND CONTRACTOR,
would inform the public that he is ready for business again. Stone Work in all its branches. Will do and stand to order.
Particular attention given to setting Cemetery
Work of all kinds. Work done in a skillful manner. All orders left at the residence, Robertson street, West Quincy, Mass., or at P. O.
Box 75, will receive prompt attention.
Quincy, March 1. 1y
JOS. W. LOMBARD,
Auctioneer and Real Estate Agent,
Hancock Court.
Quincy, Sept. 21. tf

FALL GOODS
GREAT BARGAINS.
20 Pieces Dress Goods,
12 1-2 Per Yard.
PLAID DRESS GOODS.
12 1-2 Per Yard.
WATERPROOF CLOTHS,
IN PLAIDS, ALL WOOL,
$1.00 Per Yard.
25 Different Styles,
CREPE DE L'INSE,
New Patterns from New York.
Housekeeping Department.
A Large Line of
Goods for the Ladies,
AT LOW PRICES.
Ladies and Children's Underwear,
For Fall and Winter,
VERY CHEAP.
New Styles of Buttons
—AND—
SILK FRINGE.
Worsted Goods,
Plaid Trimmings.
THE BEST CORSET,
For 50 Cts.
Sewing Machine
NEEDLES.
The Eighth Patent
Shirts and Bosoms.
Agent for
Madame DEMOREST'S
Reliable Patterns.
G. T. DEFREES,
Robertson's Block.
Quincy, Oct. 4. tf
MILLINERY!
MISS S. H. HUSSEY,
HAS just received a beautiful assortment of
NEW GOODS, to which will be added
fresh selections in all grades.
FLY SPECKS. When these become set so that they will not wash or boil out, at the time of rinsing, turn a few drops of ammonia directly upon the spot and rub with the hand—they will almost entirely disappear.
"Johnnie, what is a noun?"
"Name of a person, place or thing."
"Very good; give an example." "Hand-organ grinder." "And why is a hand-organ grinder a noun?" "Because he's a person plays a thing."
"If we would have powerful minds, we must think; if we would have faithful hearts, we must love; if we would have strong muscles, we must labor.—These include all that is valuable in life."
Always water plants with a sponge. Get the large coarse kind and you will save yourself much annoyance and spattered walls.
An excellent wax varnish for furniture is made by dissolving over a gentle heat three ounces of wax in one quart of oil of turpentine.
A mob tarred and feathered a comic singer out West for eloping with another man's wife. His managers now bill him as the "Great Feathered Songster."
A Newark Sunday school boy, gave his teacher the illustrative definition of "responsibility." "Boys, has two buttons for their 'spenders,' so's to keep their pants up. When one button comes off, why, there's a good deal of responsibility on the other button."
When two couples of young people start out riding in a two-seated carriage, they are as happy as four loving clams until the shades of evening approach, and then the couple in the front seat begin to realize that the crying need of this great, free and majestic country of ours is a two-seated carriage with the front seat behind.
Youth and age have too little sympathy with each other. If the young would remember that they may be old, and the old remember that they have been young, the world would be happy.

Poetry.
Grandmother's Sermon.
The supper is over, the hearth is swept,
And in the wood fire's glow
The children cluster to hear a tale
Of that time, so long ago.
When grandmamma's hair was golden brown,
And the warm blood came and went O'er the face that could scarce have been sweeter then
Than now in its rich content,
The face is wrinkled and careworn now,
And the golden hair is gray;
But the light that shone in the young girl's eyes
Never has gone away.
And her needles catch the fire's light
As in and out they go,
With the clicking music that grandma loves,
Shaping the stocking toe.
And the waiting children love it too,
For they know the stocking song
Brings many a tale to grandma's mind,
Which they shall hear ere long.
But it brings no story of olden time
To grandmamma's heart to-night;
Only a refrain, quaint and short,
Is sung by the needles bright.
"Life is a stocking," grandma says,
"And yours is just begun;
But I am knitting the toe of mine,
And my work is almost done."
"With many hearts we begin to knit,
And the ribbing is almost paid;
Some are gay colored and some are white,
And some are ashen gray."
"But most are made of many a hue,
With many a stitch set wrong,
And many a row to be sadly ripped Ere the whole is fair and strong."
"There are long, plain spaces, without a break,
That in youth is hard to bear,
And many a weary hour is dropped
As we fashion the heel with care."
"But the saddest, happiest time is that We court, and yet would shun,
When our Heavenly Father breaks the thread
And says that our work is done."
The children come to say good-night,
With tears in their bright young eyes,
While in grandma's lap, with broken thread,
The finished stocking lies.
Ellen Jewett.
Receipts, Quit, &c.
PLUM PUDDING. One pound and a half of raisins, one pound and a half of currants, one pound and a half of bread crumbs, four ounces of citron, four ounces of lemon, four ounces of orange-peel, two rinds of lemon, grated, juice of one lemon, four ounces of sugar,
ten eggs, one teaspoonful of butter; leave out the whites of two of these eggs, and beat a stiff froth, with two heaping teaspoonfuls of sugar; spread it over the top and brown it.
SAUCE FOR PLUM PUDDING. Mix six yolks of eggs with four spoonfuls of sifted sugar and butter mixed together; have a pint of boiling cream, when you will mix with your yolks; afterwards put it on the fire, and stir it until it is of the consistency of sauce.
GERMAN PUFFS. Three eggs, one pint of milk, one large spoonful flour, a little salt, one teaspoonful of butter; leave out the whites of two of these eggs, and
beat a stiff froth, with two heaping teaspoonfuls of sugar; spread it over the top and brown it.
The clouds in the sky grew darker.
His poor husband met with nothing but failure, turn in whatever direction he might be saw only increasing darkness;
at last despair seized him. In a fearful moment, which his Maker alone understood, he put an end to his life.
For the first time Mrs. Hamilton stood alone. Her calamity was greater than she could realize. The thought that in all her future days she could never see her husband, never hear his voice, or be comforted by his again, was more than she could endure. In her weakness and misery, she clasped her little ones to her heart, and prayed that they might all die
together.
She was at last aroused from her lethargy of grief, by the necessity of earning money. What could she do? Nothing that required physical strength for since her husband's death she had grown very weak. At last she concluded to try and get pupils in painting and music. She cannvassed not only the village, but the country, and after the most persistent effort, succeeded in getting three pupils.
Mrs. Hamilton was obliged to leave the cottage in which her husband had settled, and to take back rooms in an old building. Her only hope rested on her son, Charlie. He was a noble intelligent boy of eighteen, very like his poor father, surely he would soon be able to take care of her. His employers had promised to advance his wages next year. Charlie declared that before five years had passed he would take his mother and little sisters back to their city home. Yes, her future depended upon him.
One evening Mrs. Hamilton sat in her empty, desolate room, waiting for her boy
to come to his supper of bread and milk.
He was late, but she could not afford to light a candle. An hour passed; so anxious had the poor mother become, that she would have gone in search of her child, had not the little girls begged her so piteously to remain with them. At last she could endure it no longer, and throwing a shawl about her shoulders,

she was about to open the door, when she heard heavy steps outside. The door was thrown open; two men stood before her, rough, degraded men, with a strong odor of tobacco and whiskey about them;
they were supporting the inanimate form of a boy. It was her Charlie! One of the men said:
"Don't be scared; he's only been drinking a little."
"Drunk!" The word fell on her like a terrible blow. A sickening sensation came over her. In an instant, like one dying, all the past flashed through her mind, from the time of Charlie's birth in the first blissful years
of her married life to the present moment. She saw the hope of all these weary months crushed by that one dreadful word; she felt that her noble, darling boy, her husband's pride, had been torn from her. With a white face she lifted her trembling hands to heaven and cried
in a voice of agony:
"Great God, if thou hadst only struck him with death, I could have borne it!"
The hardened men were touched.
Without a word they took him in and laid him upon the bed. Then making an effort to console the poor woman,
they asked if she was in "want of provisions." "Provisions!" The word had a foreign sound; could it be that she still lived in a world where such things were needed? She made a great effort to thank them. Was it her voice that spoke? It sounded strangely.
They left her alone. There was no thought of the untasted supper laid up on the pine table that night. The girls knew that some fresh calamity had befallen them, and thought their brother-in-law must be dead. The wretched mother walked the floor through the long night. She had known sorrow, but she had never passed a night like this. Her darling a drunkard! Mad, wild thoughts chased each other through her sleepless brain. Thoughts that must be felt to be understood. When the dawn looked in, it saw a woman from whose beautiful face happiness had fled forever.
I must not tell what followed that night. It is an old, old story. A woman's pleading, a man's failure. There is no royal road to the drunkard's grave. The rich and cultured go with the poor and vulgar. It is not necessary to describe the change that came over that once bright and beautiful boy. His employers did all they could for him. They retained him in their service long after he was unfit for business. His own mother often looked upon him and asked, "can it be possible that this is my child?" During the long, bitter winter that followed,
she learned, with many women here,
that it is a terrible thing to be
a woman, alone in weakness and poverty.
In vain she tried to earn money. She would willingly have gone into the streets and picked up rags if, by that means she could have made her children comfortable. They all knew what it was to endure cold and hunger, until life became one terrible, hopeless longing for food and warmth and rest.
It was eleven o'clock in the evening,
and Mrs. Hamilton was earning a few cents by making a coarse shirt. The girls were asleep. Her boy she had not seen since morning. The keen December winds rattled the loose windows and pierced the thin garments of the lone woman, who bravely struggled on with numb fingers. The scalding tears chased each other down her wasted cheeks and fell upon her work while she prayed to God to bring Charlie back
to her.
At last she could stand it no longer
and, dropping her work, she went to her boy's bed, and, burying her face in his pillow, she gave way to the agony she
had tried so hard to control.
A tap at the door aroused her. With a beating heart she hastened to open it.
Mrs. Copeland stood before her and cordially grasped her hands, and a voice
that was all sympathy said:
"My dear friend, I saw Charlie a few minutes ago. Shall we go and bring him home?"
The happiness that suddenly shone in
Mrs. Hamilton's face was something
Mrs. Copeland will remember to her dying hour. If, in the solitude of a black, moonless, starless night, the bright sun should suddenly shine forth in the heavens, the change would not be more wonderful. The day had been long to the anxious mother. She would see her darling boy at last; fold him again to her heart! The sudden joy was more than she could endure; she sank upon
a chair and hid her face in her hands.
Mrs. Copeland laid a gentle hand upon
the bowed head and said:
"It is very cold; do not try to go out;
I will bring him."
When Charlie was sleeping quietly in his own bed, Mrs. Hamilton tried to express her gratitude.
"Do not thank me," said Mrs. Copeland, as she was leaving, "but bring Charlie to our temperance meeting tomorrow evening."
The next night the little village church was crowded, among those who signed the Murphy pledge was a poorly clad woman, followed by her son.
When a general invitation to speak was given, the same woman arose. There was a strange pathos in her sweet voice
that thrilled the hearts of her listeners, and brought tears to their eyes. Her intense feeling, her simple and winning manner, held the audience spell-bound.

Miscellany.
A LADY.
"Charles, do you remember Mrs.
Copeland, whom we met at the Parsonage?"
"Yes, dear."
"She called to-day, and what do you suppose she tried to make me believe?"
"I cannot imagine."
"That it is my duty to unite with a band of women who are going about trying to close saloons and reform inebriates!"
"What impudence!"
"Charles how can a lady do such things?"
"You must remember, love, all women have not your refinement!"
Mrs. Hamilton's serene blue eyes rested trustfully upon her husband. He thought she had never looked so beautiful as at that moment. A happy smile parted her girlish lips, revealing even rows of pearly teeth. Tiny waves of golden hair crowned her full white forehead. Her robe of soft, rich black silk fell in artistic folds at her feet. A pale pink knot at her throat, a rose in her hair, and little pink shells in her beautiful ears, completed her simple toilet.
The fire burned brightly upon the hearth. Three merry children were playing "hide and seek," filling the room with shouts and laughter, which was sweetest music to the ears of the young father and mother.
"Charles, (her voice was low and sweet) is there any power over a man stronger than that of a wife and mother? When this fails, can another woman reach him?"
"No, love, if a woman is to do good her influence must be felt at home, not in public."
"That is what I told Mrs. Copeland;
she said I might sometime be awakened to the necessity of doing something outside of my home."
"Nonsense! she had better stay at home with her husband and children, than to be gadding about, trying to get other women to desert their homes!"
"Mamma, hide me, hide me!" cried little three-year-old Pussy gleefully.
Mrs. Hamilton quickly arranged her drapery to conceal the little form that nestled close to her side. There was a long search before Pussy revealed herself by popping up her head, in her eagerness to see where they were looking for her,
to the great amusement of the older ones.
And so the time passed with this happy group. What to them was the outcast in the street, upon whom the light from their very windows fell like rays from heaven upon a lost soul?
Mrs. Hamilton was called the most elegant woman in the city. There were those who used more money, and made greater display, but none who could compare with her in those nameless graces which made her what she was.
Who has forgotten the terrible state of our country in the fall of 1873, and the dark years that followed? Charles Hamilton was one of the many whose fortunes were suddenly swept away. He was not a man to grow rich by falling.
He gave up his beautiful city home, for a cottage in a little village where he could live cheaply. Mrs. Hamilton conformed to her changed circumstances without a word of complaint. She was the same beautiful, charming woman as of old.
The clouds in the sky grew darker.
His poor husband met with nothing but failure, turn in whatever direction he might be saw only increasing darkness;
at last despair seized him. In a fearful moment, which his Maker alone understood, he put an end to his life.
For the first time Mrs. Hamilton stood alone. Her calamity was greater than she could realize. The thought that in all her future days she could never see
her husband, never hear his voice, or be comforted by his again, was more than she could endure. In her weakness and misery, she clasped her little ones to her heart, and prayed that they might all die
together.
She was at last aroused from her lethargy of grief, by the necessity of earning money. What could she do? Nothing that required physical strength for since
her husband's death she had grown very weak. At last she concluded to try and get pupils in painting and music. She cannvassed not only the village, but the country, and after the most persistent
effort, succeeded in getting three pupils.
Mrs. Hamilton was obliged to leave
the cottage in which her husband had settled, and to take back rooms in an old building. Her only hope rested on her son, Charlie. He was a noble intelligent boy of eighteen, very like his poor
father, surely he would soon be able to take care of her. His employers had promised to advance his wages next year. Charlie declared that before five years had passed he would take his mother and little sisters back to their city home. Yes, her future depended upon him.
One evening Mrs. Hamilton sat in her empty, desolate room, waiting for her boy
to come to his supper of bread and milk.
He was late, but she could not afford to light a candle. An hour passed; so anxious had the poor mother become, that she would have gone in search of her child, had not the little girls begged her so piteously to remain with them. At last she could endure it no longer, and
throwing a shawl about her shoulders,

she was about to open the door, when she heard heavy steps outside. The door
was thrown open; two men stood before
her, rough, degraded men, with a strong
odor of tobacco and whiskey about them;
they were supporting the inanimate form
of a boy. It was her Charlie! One of
the men said:
"Don't be scared; he's only been drinking a little."
"Drunk!" The word fell on her like
a terrible blow. A sickening sensation came over her. In an instant,
like one dying, all the past flashed
through her mind, from the time of Charlie's birth in the first blissful years
of her married life to the present moment. She saw the hope of all these weary months crushed by that one dreadful word; she felt that her noble, darling
boy, her husband's pride, had been torn from her. With a white face she lifted
her trembling hands to heaven and cried
in a voice of agony:
"Great God, if thou hadst only struck
him with death, I could have borne it!"
The hardened men were touched.
Without a word they took him in and laid him upon the bed. Then making an effort to console the poor woman,
they asked if she was in "want of provisions." "Provisions!" The word had a foreign sound; could it be that she still lived in a world where such things were needed? She made a great effort to thank them. Was it her voice that spoke? It sounded strangely.
They left her alone. There was no
thought of the untasted supper laid up on the pine table that night. The girls knew that some fresh calamity had befallen them, and thought their brother-
in-law must be dead. The wretched mother walked the floor through the long night. She had known sorrow, but she had never passed a night like this. Her darling a drunkard! Mad, wild thoughts
chased each other through her sleepless brain. Thoughts that must be felt to be understood. When the dawn looked in, it saw a woman from whose beautiful face happiness had fled forever.
I must not tell what followed that night. It is an old, old story. A woman's pleading, a man's failure. There is no royal road to the drunkard's grave. The rich and cultured go with the poor and vulgar. It is not necessary to describe the change that came over that once bright and beautiful
boy. His employers did all they could for him. They retained him in their service long after he was unfit for business. His own mother often looked upon him and asked, "can it be possible that this is my child?" During
the long, bitter winter that followed,
she learned, with many women here,
that it is a terrible thing to be
a woman, alone in weakness and poverty.
In vain she tried to earn money. She would willingly have gone into the streets and picked up rags if, by that means she could have made her children comfortable. They all knew what it was to endure cold and hunger, until
life became one terrible, hopeless longing for food and warmth and rest.
It was eleven o'clock in the evening,
and Mrs. Hamilton was earning a few cents by making a coarse shirt. The girls were asleep. Her boy she had not seen since morning. The keen December winds rattled the loose windows
and pierced the thin garments of the lone woman, who bravely struggled on
with numb fingers. The scalding tears
chased each other down her wasted
cheeks and fell upon her work while she prayed to God to bring Charlie back
to her.
At last she could stand it no longer
and, dropping her work, she went to her boy's bed, and, burying her face in his pillow, she gave way to the agony she
had tried so hard to control.
A tap at the door aroused her. With a beating heart she hastened to open it.
Mrs. Copeland stood before her and cordially grasped her hands, and a voice
that was all sympathy said:
"My dear friend, I saw Charlie a few minutes ago. Shall we go and bring him home?"
The happiness that suddenly shone in
Mrs. Hamilton's face was something
Mrs. Copeland will remember to her dying hour. If, in the solitude of a black,
moonless, starless night, the bright sun
should suddenly shine forth in the heavens, the change would not be more wonderful. The day had been long to the anxious mother. She would see her darling boy at last; fold him again to her heart! The sudden joy was more than she could endure; she sank upon
a chair and hid her face in her hands.
Mrs. Copeland laid a gentle hand upon
the bowed head and said:
"It is very cold; do not try to go out;
I will bring him."
When Charlie was sleeping quietly in his own bed, Mrs. Hamilton tried to express her gratitude.
"Do not thank me," said Mrs. Copeland, as she was leaving, "but bring Charlie to our temperance meeting tomorrow evening."
The next night the little village
church was crowded, among those who signed the Murphy pledge was a poorly clad woman, followed by her son.
When a general invitation to speak was given, the same woman arose. There was a strange pathos in her sweet voice
that thrilled the hearts of her listeners,
and brought tears to their eyes. Her intense feeling, her simple and winning manner, held the audience spell-bound.

CONDITIONS.
No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary rates, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of annual Advertisers is limited
to their own immediate business.
Advertising Agents.
The following gentlemen are authorized Agents to receive Advertisements for the Patriot.
BOSTON.—S. M. PETTINGILL & CO., S. B.
NILES, HORACE DODD and T. C. EVANS.
NEW YORK.—S. M. PETTINGILL & CO.
GEO. P. ROWELL & CO. and PEARSON & CO.
ST. LOUIS, Mo.—ROWELL & CRESSMAN.
Our Schools.
(Continued from last week.)
THE SCHOOL BELL RINGS.
Just here the great bell rang, a boy seats himself at the old piano and the classes came filing up stairs to music, forty-five in each division, and six divisions in all. Two pretty little girls with a small bucket went from desk to desk wetting all the sponges. There was one colored boy in the line very well dressed, but apparently not marked among his neighbors in any other way.
"Now children, get your slates all clean," gave time to settle down a little the spirits brought up from the playground. After a vigorous rubbing, but no noise, the bell tapped and the school exercises began. In a very low voice,
"The Lord is my Shepherd," was recited, the teacher leading. Then, still in the same subdued and reverent tones, the Lord's prayer was sung, followed by a pretty childish hymn and school song.
Then holding up his hand, but without any other preface, a boy got up and said,
"On my way to school I saw two men digging. What do you suppose it was
for?"
(This, the pupil teacher whispered, was the conversation exercise, intended to teach expression and readiness, but also, as it appeared to use their eyes as they came along to school.) Instantly there was a volley of suggestions, not in disorder, but very much as if on the playground, each child rising, however, to give its opinion. The original boy, however, had to tell them that it was a hole for a flag pole, and where it was, at Mr.
—'. Then another boy had seen something else, and another, each little speech beginning with "I saw yesterday," or "last week," or "last summer," and occasionally there was a "long bow" drawn by a fanciful child. But, mostly, the talk was of the village matters. One boy had information that two vessels out in the bay, two "big steamships," were to be knocked to pieces for their old iron, and, instantly, half the class was on its feet, looking out of the windows. (The Quincy school-houses have the advantage of overlooking blue water and the harbor, and the hills in the distance also, which brought up references in another class, as will be seen.)
"They are Government vessels," put in another boy, "and they are going to burn them. They are all rotten, too rotten to go to sea." "Little worms," contributed another, "they are full of little worms in their walls!" "They're going to burn 'em; won't it be fun seeing the fire?" Then there was something said about "Revere beach," and a burned ship that another boy had seen. "Will the iron burn?" asked the teacher.—
"No; don't you see," explained a young philosopher, "the wood all burns and the iron falls right into the water and cools off. It was about a ten minutes' talk in all, the children entirely alert and at their ease, a correction only put in now and then, but entirely in a suggestive way, by the teacher. One notable part of it was that the little girls did not talk. Only one small female, towards the close, ventured a modest observation, but she had had all her themselves, as older politicians around the town pump and at the cross-roads are apt to have.
ORTHOGRAPHY MADE EASY.
At the end of the "conversation," which, with the singing, had occupied just fifteen minutes, the teacher, chalk in hand, stood by the black-board.—
"What day is this?" "The 30th of September." "Spell thirty," and she wrote it according to their direction, putting a twenty under it. "Now, what shall I do to make this thirtieth twentieth?" "Rub out the tail of the y!" directed a child, "do it for an i and then put e-h." "Is it the same as the y when I do that—why don't we keep it y?" "Because the long y is called 'y-doesn't look well—the i is better.' Following this she wrote "Mister and Mistress Holden were there." "Is that quite right?" "No; you must shorten it." "How? what letter shall I keep?"
"Keep the M and the r and put a dot after the r to show that there is something left out." Then a child dictated something else for the teacher to write, all the class following on their slates the dictation as they had the previous lines.
At the close—pointing to one word after another—"Anybody had 'those' any-other way?" "Two or three had left off the final e but their hands, looking cheerfully corrected but not ashamed!
M: It is evidently not accounted a crime here to make a mistake, and no child is ashamed to acknowledge his nor tries to conceal it.
Then an curved letter line was drawn:
"What am I going to make." It was only the first part of a T in script, but it was made by suggestion into an A, an F and S, and so on, the children copying. Picking up a slate and holding it up, "Johnny always has such a nice slate, clean and such straight lines."— From another slate, writing a crooked letter on the black-board—"What's the matter with this A?" Then a small i was rapidly changed on the board into many letters, a child pointing out that "you can see the i in almost every letter." "All except the o," said another.
"What's the matter with this r?" wri-tasting a very tall one on the board. "Too high a hat, more than its half above the line." Teacher, "clean slates." I am thinking of a nice holiday - spelling it out on the board - "one of the nicest we have. What is it?" Some voices went up for the Fourth of July, but the majority held it to be Christmas. "It's somebody's birthday." Then it was Christmas - decidedly by acclamation. "Christ's birthday mass," writing it out. "Do we write it that way? No! Why not? Ever so many holidays together makes a -?" "Vacation."

"My next word is among those berries on the table," pointing to a vase of bitter-sweet berries, orange and red - "Nice," "elegant," "delicious."

"Well - that is to taste. I don't mean to taste," writing on the board, however, all the suggested words. "Splendid," "pretty." "Yes, that's it. Give me another word for pretty." "Handsome," "beautiful." "You don't sound the d in handsome, remarked a youth, holding up his hand as the word was written down. "You don't sound the d in vacation, either," remarked another critic, looking at the blackboard and reminding of silent letters. Here a pencil fell. "What was that word?" "Drop." "Here's the next word," breaking the piece of chalk in half. "Break." "Here's the next," stepping out. "Stepped." All hands, meanwhile, writing very fast, to keep up with the class suggestions and the teacher's action. "If a child came to school after 9 o'clock we should say he was -?" "Tardy," in a chorus.

(To be continued.)

Beware, Teachers!

The schools at Quincy have become quite famous under the superintendence of Col. Parker, and with their growing reputation are receiving a good many visitors from out of town, teachers and others. One of the leading features of excellence at Quincy is said to be the improved methods in teaching language and grammar. Great, therefore, was the surprise of one of these out-of-town visitors the other day on hearing a Quincy teacher say to one of her pupils: "Yes you was," and "Don't copy from the girl side of you." - Congregationalist.

If our visiting friends would always do us such favors, we should thank them every time. F. W. PARKER.

The Quincy Patriot.

With Supplement

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1879.

Short communications and items of news are solicited from friends and patrons. Anonymous communications are not published.

Grand Army Lecture Course.

Notwithstanding the storm, the Town Hall was nearly filled with an appreciative audience at the opening of the Grand Army course of lectures and entertainments on Thursday evening.

Miss Cuyvan had a hearty reception, and read unusually well. She is evidently a great favorite with our people. She has few superiors as a reader.

We bespeak a liberal support of the G. A. R. course by our citizens. Every entertainment on their list is of the first order. They pay at least one hundred and fifty dollars more than we ever paid before for a lecture course in Quincy, and it is extremely doubtful whether their receipts will meet the greatly increased expense, unless our citizens rally to their support.

The tickets for the remaining five lectures and entertainments are to be put down to the low figure of $1.25. Let every man and woman in town who wish to support a good thing, and help our soldier boys, buy a ticket. The infinitely little Barnabee, with Miss Kellogg as soloist, and an excellent troupe, give the next entertainment on Friday evening the 14th inst.

We trust the people of Quincy will not pay four dollars and car fare for courses in Music Hall, when they can get just as good a course at their own doors for $1.25.

CONCERT AND READINGS. An excellent entertainment will be given on Thursday evening next, at Faxon Hall, by a select company, under the auspices of the ladies' sewing circle, connected with the Congregational Society. The Braintree Quartette and also Miss Edith Randall, Messrs. Marcus A. Perkins and William Packard will entertain the audience with fine selections of choice vocal and instrumental music. Mrs. L. P. Holbrook, of Braintree, will contribute to the entertainment by some fine readings. Her renderings are said to be of a superior order and she is a general favorite. Mr. Leslie E. Spear, as a soloist on guitar and harmonica, both of which instruments he plays at one time, has few superiors. The ladies are desirous of having a full house and invite our citizens to be with them on Thursday evening.

NUTRITION. On Wednesday evening last, Mr. Thomas Brown of Boston was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Miss Annie Brogan of Quincy. The ceremony was performed at St. John's Church, on School street, by the pastor, Rev. F. A. Friguglietti, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the happy couple. After being pronounced man and wife the young couple with invited guests adjourned to the residence of the bride's father on Mount Pleasant, where the usual congratulations, &c., were tendered. A beautiful collation was served during the evening. At a late hour the guests bade the newly married pair good-night, and wished them many happy years of married life.

FAREWELL DISCOURSE. To-morrow the Rev. P. N. Zabriskie of the Congregational Church, Wollaston, preaches for the last time as pastor of that Society. In the evening he delivers his farewell discourse.

The statement we made that he was going to Plainfield, N. J., was incorrect, as he informs that he intends spending the winter in or near New York city.

The weather since November put in its appearance has been decidedly cool.

Local Items.

Coddington schools had 1310 visitors last month; mostly from abroad.

First snow of the season fell on Monday.

Frank H. Russell has been appointed postmaster of Wollaston.

John E. Drake has retired from the firm of T. A. Whitcher & Co.

Board is wanted in a private family, by a young man.

The Barnabee Troup will be here next Friday evening.

The election returns will be found on the next page.

A large sale of cows, horses, hay, tools, &c., at Winslow's farm next Tuesday.

Hon. Charles Francis Adams and family removed to their city residence yesterday.

The President's proclamation for a day of thanksgiving will be found in the Supplement.

Taxpayers who have not settled their bills with the Collector will do well to read his notice in to-day's issue.

Probate Court will be held at the Town Hall, Quincy, on Wednesday next at 9 A. M.

Wednesday morning was the coldest of the season, - only eighteen degrees above zero.

We learn that a large boot factory is soon to be erected on Baxter Place, rear of Mr. Josiah Baxter's.

Winslow's Quincy express leaves Boston one-half an hour earlier now than in the summer, - 3.30 instead of 4 o'clock.

Thursday it snowed nearly all day, but the ground was barely covered at night.

Miss C. S. Hubbard has a fine assortment of warm and seasonable goods to which she invites the attention of our readers.

Mr. Jo'n Gordon, the new wheelwright on Hancock street, has erected two handsome signs on his new shop. - They look very attractive.

Those who are desirous of a teacher in vocal and instrumental music, should read the card of Mr. George T. Elliot.

Mr. S. M. King, the tenor, who is at present singing at Milford, in the quartette with Mrs. H. M. Smith, takes the part of Mordcaai, in Esther, at the Town Hall, Nov. 19th and 20th.

A fair is to be held at Quincy Point, next week, for the benefit of the Union Christian Church.

On Thursday evening an old-fashioned supper will be served. A pleasant time is expected.

The prices for the necessities of life are still advancing. Our storekeepers are charging as high as 33 cents per pound for choice butter; 13 cents for granulated sugar, and other things in like proportion.

Mr. Samuel Baxter, of Washington City, D. C., accompanied by a friend from that city made us a brief call on Friday last. We are pleased to say that Mr. Baxter was enjoying excellent health.

Mr. I. Hall Adams and his sister, Miss Elizabeth C. Adams, leave on Tuesday next for Europe, where they intend spending a year in pleasant enjoyment. A pleasant voyage and safe return are the wishes of their many friends.

First sleighing last Tuesday morning at sunrise. Mr. Alexander Felts had his fast trotter out, and the sleigh slipped along nicely. A few hours later and the middle of the street was nearly bare of snow.

The Hook and Ladder Company had splendid chowders on election evening. Chief Engineer Hall, Assistant Engineer Grover, Ex-engineer Penniman, Commodore Parker, Col. A. W. Russell, Capt. Richard Newcomb and other guests were present.

WIDE AWAKE. The interest in Esther is great in the towns surrounding us. We hear that large parties are being made up in Randolph, Weymouth, Milton, Neponset, (to say nothing of Boston), to attend the entertainments. If our citizens want good seats they should secure them at once at Mr. Holden's. A word to the wise is sufficient.

AUCTION. Joseph W. Lombard will sell at auction on Tuesday next, at the Willow house, Houghs Neck, cows, heifers, horses, hogs, and a large lot of farming utensils; also, harnesses, wagons, sleighs, open buggy, and household furniture. The sale will be positive, weather fair or foul.

In the income-tax suit of Samuel J. Tilden, in New York, on Monday, last, Judge Choate decided that the witness Colgate could not be compelled to produce his books before the commissioner, and ordered the examination closed. To this decision the attorney for the United States took exceptions, and the case was closed for the present.

CONVICTED. Caroline C. Goodrich and "Dr." Daniel F. Kimball, recently tried for causing the death by abortion of Jennie P. Clark of Boston Highlands, the victim of the Lynn trunk tragedy, have been convicted and sentenced, the former to ten years in the house of Correction and the latter to six years in State prison.

It is rumored that Gen. Grant was offered the presidency of the Texas Pacific Railway on Saturday last. The salary will be increased to $50,000 if he accepts.

SCHOONER WRECKED. The schooner Nellie Brown, owned by F. Brown of this town, was wrecked off Little Egg harbor, and is a total wreck. She has been abandoned by captain and crew. She was 281 tons burthen and valued at $8,000. She was insured for $1,000.

Quincy Charitable Society.

The annual meeting of this Society was held last Monday afternoon, when the following named persons were elected officers for the ensuing year:

President, - Rev. Samuel Kelley.
Secretary, - Mrs. C. A. Spear.
Treasurer, - Mrs. H. B. Brickett.
Directors, - Mrs. Benjamin Curtis, Mrs. E. A. Hersey, Mrs. E. B. Taylor, Mrs. Eben Peabody, Miss Ann Curtis.
The following report of the Treasurer was read and accepted:
Donation from Brackett fund, $95.00
Members fees, 76.93
Gratuitous donations, 40.00
$211.93
Disbursements, $204.95
Families assisted the past year, 32 - Americans, 19; Irish, 11; English, 2.
Mrs. CAROLINE A. SPEAR, Sec'y.

HIGH SCHOOL ASSOCIATION. The annual meeting of the Quincy High School Association was held at the Lyceum Room, on Wednesday evening last, and the following members were elected officers for the ensuing year: President, - John C. Randall. Vice President, - Fred. H. Smith. Treasurer, - Thomas Fenno. Corresponding Secretary, - Jesse F. Curtis. Recording Secretary, - Miss L. E. Morse. Directors, - Mrs. G. H. Field, Mrs. Henry C. Rogers, Mrs. F. F. Crane, Miss Abbie Taylor, Miss E. A. Curtis, Mr. John P. Bigelow, Mr. Edward Whitcher, Mr. Henry C. Rogers.

INSTALLATIONS. The following officers of Hancock Lodge, No. 56, I. O. G. T. were installed on Thursday evening, by D. G. W. C. T., C. H. Horton of Boston, assisted by D. G. W. M., H. E. Rich and D. G. W. S., Mrs. Eliza A. Penniman of Quincy:

W. C. T., Arthur C. Merritt.
W. R. H. S., Annie E. Penniman.
W. L. H. S., Alice B. Page.
W. U. T., Kittie L. Penniman.
W. S. George W. Penniman.
W. F. S. William T. Carter.
W. A. S., Joseph W. Whiting, 2d.
W. T. J. Q. Poole.
W. C. Daniel Flowers.
W. M., Warren Riddle.
W. D. M., Minnie J. Carter.
W. I. G., Warren S. Parker.
W. O. G., Frank Rodgers.

C. L. S. C. The course of reading prepared by the Chautauqua Literary and Scientific Circle, is being pursued by a number of ladies and gentlemen at the Point. They met on Thursday evening, Oct. 30th, and organized a local Circle, which now has fourteen members. The following officers were chosen:

Rev. Geo. W. Coon, President.
Mr. I. F. Hall, Vice President.
Miss E. M. Freeman, Secretary.

School Report.

The following is the report of the public schools in this town, ending Oct. 26th for the month:

|             | Average. | Number. | Per cent. | Proficiency. | Visitors. |
|-------------|----------|---------|-----------|--------------|-----------|
| High.       | 102      | 101     | 98        | 1            | 13        |
| Adams.      | 356      | 355     | 97        | 27           | 519       |
| Coddington. | 216      | 212     | 98        | 13           | 1310      |
| Quincy.     | 161      | 154     | 96        | 23           | 94        |
| Washington. | 222      | 213     | 96        | 12           | 133       |
| Willard.    | 424      | 410     | 97        | 11           | 410       |
| Wollaston.  | 143      | 139     | 98        | 3            | 93        |
| Total.      | 1624     | 1584    | 97        | 90           | 2572      |

The Scientific American is one of the best scientific periodicals published. It is handsomely illustrated, and is printed in the most beautiful style.

THE NURSERY. The November number of this charming magazine for young readers is peculiarly beautiful in illustrations, and the little stories in prose and poetry cannot fail of delighting the little ones. Published by John L. Shorey, Boston, at $1.50 a year.

UNITED STATES SENATOR, Zach Chandler was found dead in his bed-room at the Grand Pacific Hotel in Chicago, last Saturday morning. The deceased had delivered a great speech the night before, but was apparently in his usual health when he retired to his room. The cause of his death was undoubtedly apoplexy.

The Ohio river is lower than it has been for 20 years, and navigation between Pittsburg and Cincinnati is suspended.

The public debt was reduced $10,352,906, during the month of October.

DISTRICT COURT. The following sentences have stood before the bar of justice this week and received their sentences: Timothy Cronin of Quincy, was brought before the Court for being drunk, to which he pleaded guilty and was fined $3 and costs. In default he was committed.

Also, the same party, for assaulting Deputy Sheriff French, was sent to the House of Correction for four months.

Winslow T. Nash of Quincy, was arraigned for an assault on Thomas Faxon. He was found guilty and fined $10 and costs.

Andrew Tracy of Weymouth, on complaint of Constable Binney, for being drunk. Fined $3 and costs.

Gustavus Mann and Michael O'Keefe, both from Randolph, were arrested by Deputy Sheriff Loug for being drunk, and were each fined $3 and costs. O'Keefe not having the funds was committed.

John J. Flynn was arrested in Quincy, by Constable Garrity, for being drunk. He was fined $3 and costs.

Daniel Fitzgerald of Boston, for being a vagabond at Quincy. Sent to the State Workhouse for six months.

Edward Jones, Charles Lovett and John Myers of Boston, were arrested at Weymouth for vagrancy discharged.

"A friend in need, is a friend indeed." Such a friend is Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, which should be in every family. It costs only 25 cents a bottle and will save many a doctor bill. Give it a trial.

For the Patriot.

Our Boston Correspondent.

Prepare for winter. Activity and prosperity in business. Lively speculation in trade. President Hayes's proclamation.

NOVEMBER 6TH, 1879.

Since the incoming of November the weather has been very cold; the thermometer indicating in good earnest the early approach of a New England winter. On Wednesday it stood at 12 degrees above zero; the lowest temperature in November for many years past. The general impression is we are near the approach of a very cold winter and people would act wisely in preparing for the trials and sufferings incident to a winter season. Dress warm and prepare for the want of the family household.

The Fall business is wonderfully active in Boston. In commodities some prices have advanced one hundred per centum compared with the past summer, and many fortunes will be suddenly realized by the advance of goods and money stocks. The erection of edifices now will cost one-third more than they would have done six months ago, and there is no prospect of a decline of prices. Labor is in good demand; loafers and tramps growing scarce. Our whole country is realizing business recuperation, on a healthy basis. President Hayes in his proclamation for Thanksgiving day, on the 27th inst., says, "at no season has the material prosperity enjoyed by our whole country been more conspicuous, more manifold than during the past year. Also, unbroken peace with all nations; the general prevalence of domestic tranquility; the supremacy and security of the great institutions of civil and religious freedom have gladdened the hearts of our people, and confirmed their attachment to the government, which the wisdom and courage of our ancestors so firmly framed, and the wisdom and courage of their descendants have so firmly maintained to be the habitation of liberty and justice to successive generations." X

For the Patriot.

Brain-tree.

The State election passed off quietly. A variety of tickets were in the field. - The vote was smaller than last year. At the closing of the polls the vote stood for Long, 361; for Butler, 344; for Adams, 31, and for Eddy, 5. Compared with last year, this will show a loss for the Republican and also for the Democratic ticket, and a gain for Butler; and also, for the Prohibition candidate, the last party having more than doubled its vote of last year.

On Wednesday morning the driver of one of W. A. Hodges' bread teams left his team as usual in front of the store of P. D. Holbrook & Co., whilst taking order inside. The horse started on his turn up the wagon and run off with the forward wheels. Republicans and Butler men rushed to the rescue. Cakes, crackers &c., were picked up and sorted. The driver after thanking the crowd for their assistance, went on his way rejoicing to escape with so little damage.

The firm of Nute Brothers, gentlemen from Rochester, N. H., have taken the premises formerly occupied by Kane & Wait, and are fitting up the same for the manufacture of shoes. They have large orders on hand, and will soon be ready to make it lively on the corner. D

STANDARD FOOD. The enterprising firm of Ames & Co. have placed on the road from the shop of Messrs. Tirrell & Sons a well lettered order wagon. Their "food" is meeting with great success; large quantities have been sold in this town the last month and what is speaking well for the "food" in nearly all cases those who use it once buy again. Your attention is called to their advertisement in another column.

Sunday Services.

CHRIST CHURCH. Rev. Thaddeus A. Sively, Rector. Services at 10.30 A. M. and 7 P. M. The Sunday School will meet at 12 o'clock. Service in the Chapel Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. Preaching by the Pastor at 10.30 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sabbath School and Bible Class at 11.45 A. M. Prayer meeting every Friday evening in the Chapel at 7.30 o'clock.

FIRST CHURCH. Rev. D. M. Wilson, pastor. Sunday School at 9.30 A. M.; Church services at 10.50 A. M.; lecture at 7.30 - subject: "Is the world growing better?"

SPIRITUAL MEETING. Mr. Joseph D. Stiles will speak at Revere Hall, to-morrow, at 2.30 o'clock.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. by Rev. E. A. Perry, Sunday School immediately following. Evening service at 7 o'clock.

ATLANTIC UNION MISSION. Services in the School house, Atlantic. Preaching at 2 P. M. by Rev. W. L. Richardson of Hyde Park, followed by Sabbath School, Prayer and Praise meeting at 7 o'clock at C. H. Hall's, Squantum street.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH AT WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Services at 10.45 A. M. and 7.30 P. M. Sabbath School at 12.30 P. M. This will be the last Sabbath of the retiring pastor. Rev. Dr. Zabriskie will preach at both services. He will preach a Farewell Discourse in the evening.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Sermon by the Pastor, Rev. Wm. Hays, D. D., at 10.45 A. M. Sunday School and Pastor's Bible Class at 2.30 P. M. Evening service as usual.

METHODIST CHURCH, WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. and 7 P. M. by Rev. S. Kelley, pastor. Sunday School follows morning service. Praise service at 7 P. M. with a sermon.

UNION CHRISTIAN CHURCH, QUINCY POINT. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. by Rev. Geo. W. Coon. Sabbath School immediately after the morning service. Preaching at 7.30 P. M. All are invited.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, QUINCY POINT. Sabbath School at 10.30 A. M. Preaching every Sunday, at 2.30 P. M. over Mr. Hall's store. Rev. George H. Lawton, Pastor. Prayer meeting Sunday evenings at 7 P. M. Tuesday evenings at 7.30.

WEST QUINCY METHODIST CHURCH. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. and 7.30 P. M. by Rev. J. B. Babbar. School at the close of the morning service.

For the Patriot.

Drop the "Heights."

The recent post office order has caused much inconvenience by consigning to the dead letter department a number of letters addressed to "Wollaston Heights." These have turned up after many days with the curt remark that no such place is known to the managers of the mails. The post office address is simply "Wollaston," and this should be the recognized title of the flourishing settlement which before long is likely to figure as an independent town. The fact is the dwellers upon the so called Heights are in a decided minority, and as the majority ought to rule, Wollaston Plains would be several degrees less objectionable, were any tag wanted for the simple historical name. This, at all events would avoid the confusion with Mount Wollaston which is now so common. But tag or tail of any sort is superfluous. The name of the gallant captain who began a plantation in this town should be taken straight. It should be adopted by acclamation. WOLLASTON.

For the Patriot.

A Grand Surprise.

On Friday evening of last week a large party, consisting of ladies and gentlemen from Cambridge, Boston, Quincy, and Hyde Park, surprised Miss Mamie J. Shea, formerly of this town, at her home in Hyde Park. When all had assembled Mr. John H. Barden presented her, in behalf of her lady friends, with a very handsome ring. The presentation speech was ably delivered, and the response was neat and appropriate.

Dancing and singing were then indulged in until supper was announced. After which the amusements were again resumed, until the wee, small hours of the morning. After wishing the young lady many happy years, the party left for their homes, fully convinced that it was a Halloween long to be remembered. ONE OF THE PARTY.

SMART. Our people who are accustomed to meet Mr. Clement Bates, town sexton, as he passes to and fro with his alert footsteps, hardly realize that he is in his eighty-eighth year, and still in possession of much youthful vigor. One day this week, besides making his accustomed round of ringing the town bell four times, and walking nearly half a mile each way for that purpose, he picked thirty-one coots and dressed twenty-five of them for market. If any town about here can show a smarter or more vigorous man at that age, let us know it. Old's Long Memorial.

Mr. Samuel Pope of Quincy, who has been sexton of the Universalist Church for many years, retired from that duty last month. He is seventy-nine years old and has rung the bell and attended to the other duties; rising at 2 o'clock on Sunday mornings to build the fire in the furnace.

JOHN H. PRAY

SONS & CO.,

WHOLESALE

RETAIL

CARPETINGS.

We are now showing a Complete and Choice Variety of

MOQUETTES,

AXMINSTERS,

WILTONS,

BRUSSELS,

TAPESTRIES,

INGRAINS,

MATTINGS,

OIL CLOTHS.

Our Assortment is the Largest to be found in New England, and our Prices will be found to compare favorably with any New York or Boston quotations.

JOHN H. PRAY

SONS & CO.,

558, 560 Washington Street,

BOSTON.

Shoe Your Girls

AND

Boot Your Boys

REED'S SHOE STORE,

Quincy, Nov. 1.

Notice to Tax Payers.

TAXES are due and payable Nov. 1st, 1879. All that are not paid on or before TUESDAY, Nov. 11th, will be advertised for sale. All Poll Taxes that are then unpaid will be collected with a Warrant.

GEORGE H. LOCKE, Collector.

Quincy, Nov. 8.

Young Republicans

ATTENTION!

THERE will be a meeting of the YOUNG MEN'S REPUBLICAN CLUB, at the Headquarters on Granite Street, on Saturday Eve., Nov. 8th, 1879, at 7 1/2 O'CLOCK.

Let every member be present as business of importance will come before the meeting. Per order.

THEOPHILUS KING, Jr., President.

Quincy, Nov. 8.

WANTED.

A Teacher of experience would like a few more pupils in Wollaston or Quincy. Special care taken with beginners. Terms reasonable. Address, MISS H. A. C., 26 Commerce St., Boston, Mass.

TO LET.

HALF a Double House, containing five rooms, with good cellar, and a splendid view of water, on Chestnut Street. Apply on the premises.

Quincy, Nov. 8.

WANTED IN QUINCY.

Board by a Young Man. DOING business in Boston. Private family preferred. Terms moderate. Address, W. ADRIAN THORNTON, No. Weymouth, Mass.

WANTED.

EXPERIENCED Coat Makers. Apprentices on Coats. Also an experienced hand to repairing. Custom Clothing, 30 Hancock Street, Quincy, Oct. 18.

BOARD

FOR Gentleman and Wife, or two Ladies. Quiet place, - Two minutes' walk from Depot. Enquire at PATRIOT OFFICE.

CRAYON DRAWING

MADE EASY.

THE Under-igned would announce to those interested in drawing, that he is prepared to give instructions at residences in CRAYON DRAWING, -

KNOWNS AS

PEARLS ART CRAIO SYSTEM. Whereby any one with any talent for Drawing, can successfully learn in ONE TO THREE LESSONS to enlarge Photographs, Tintypes, Landscapes, &c. Instructions given singly or in classes at reasonable rates. No money required in advance. Satisfaction guaranteed. Drawings by pupils shown and particulars given at

REED'S SHOE STORE.

Chestnut St., Quincy. Or address H. REED, P. O. Box 7. Also, orders taken for enlarging Portraits from Photographs, Tintypes, &c., at 100 Quincy, Nov. 8.

The People's

DRUG STORE

HAS been replenished with a LARGE ASSORTMENT of PURE DRUGS, PATENT MEDICINES, FANCY GOODS, And all other articles usually found in a first-class Pharmacy, all of which will be disposed of at prices corresponding to the times.

A competent clerk will be on hand night and day, for the preparation of Physicians' Prescriptions and the dispensing of medicines of all kinds, while the present proprietor will attend to the business, and will be constantly increasing medical practice. Respectfully,

W. H. Sherman,

Whichever Block, Temple St.

Quincy, Nov. 1.

The Quincy Patriot.

SUPPLEMENT.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1879.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

President Hayes has issued the following proclamation for a day of thanksgiving.

"At no recurrence of the season which the devout habit of a religious people has made the occasion for giving thanks to Almighty God and humbly invoking His continued favor, has the material prosperity enjoyed by our whole country been more conspicuous, more manifold or more universal, than during the past year. Also unbroken peace with all foreign nations; the general prevalence of domestic tranquility; the supremacy and security of the great institutions of civil and religious freedom have gladdened the hearts of our people, and confirmed their attachment to their government, which the wisdom and courage of our ancestors so fitly framed, and the wisdom and courage of their descendants have so firmly maintained to be the habitation of liberty and justice to successive generations:

"Now, therefore, I, Rutherford B. Hayes, president of the United States, do appoint Thursday, the 27th day of November instant, as a day of national thanksgiving and prayer, and I earnestly recommend that, withdrawing themselves from secular cares and labors, the people of the United States do meet together on that day, in their respective places of worship, then to give thanks and praise to Almighty God for His mercies, and to devoutly beseech their continuance.

Relations Between Publishers and Subscribers.

Subscribers of newspapers should remember the peculiar relations existing between them and newspaper publishers. It is not a mere business relation; it is more. It is almost a personal friendship. On account of this friendship the most readers feel towards their favorite newspapers, and which in like degree is felt by publishers towards their readers, the enforcing of the collection of overdue subscription bills and the stopping of the sending the papers to delinquent subscribers are the most unpleasant and disagreeable parts of the business of printing. To tell an old subscriber you will not send your paper to him is as disagreeable as to refuse to shake hands with an old friend. To send the subscription bill to a lawyer is a serious mortification, to the publisher at least. Subscribers should remember these things. They should recollect that newspapers are printed not for friendship or fun, but to make money out of—for purely business purposes—and where the sum due from any one person may be only a few paltry dollars, yet when a like sum is due from hundreds of subscribers it amounts to a sum of great importance.

FINGER-POINTS OF TRADE. From the Aroostook, Me., valley comes reports of abundant harvest. The potato crop is immense. Cellars are full, and some farmers have large quantities buried in their fields. Starch factories are unable to use them up as fast as brought in, although run day and night. Farmers load up and start for the factory long before daylight, only to find others there waiting their turn to unload. One man reached the Presque Isle Factory at 1 A. M., and found so many in ahead of him that he did not get unloaded till nine o'clock, and when he left for home there were about one hundred and seventy-five loads waiting their turn upon the scales. Processions of potato teams half a mile long are seen.

A remarkable yield was obtained this year with two varieties of American potatoes—the Snowflake and the Eureka—in the gardens at Capesthorpe, England, the seat of Mr. Davenport, M. P. One pound of each was planted on the 13th of April. The Snowflake was lifted on the 13th of August, when the pound was found to have gained 638 other pounds. The Eureka, lifted in the following week, had produced 1082 1-2 pounds. This is the greatest weight recorded, exceeding by 64 1-2 pounds the greatest weight grown in this country, in the potato trial of last year, when H. C. Pearson, of Pittsford, N. Y., headed the list with 1018 pounds.

There is an air of business about Lee which has not been seen for years. The mills are all running on time, and the quarries are worked night and day.

The royal family of the Sandwich Islands have adopted peppermint as the royal perfume.

See!

See!

See!

See!

Please give your attention to a few items of interest to you.

We Keep a Larger Stock of

BOOTS AND SHOES,

Than all the stores added together in this part of the town, so that you can get almost any kind of Boot or Shoe that you may wish.

Our Goods are All Warranted.

WE HAVE RECEIVED OUR

FALL and WINTER Boots and Rubber Goods,

And are prepared to sell them at LESS PRICE than can be bought at any other place.

We Keep Constantly on Hand a GOOD Assortment of

LADIES', MISSES' AND GENTS' HOSIERY,

And sell at low prices.

Also, Dressing for Ladies' Boots, Paste Blacking, Shoe Brushes, Brazilian Gum Rubber Soleing, Patching, Leather Cement, Shoe Findings and a great variety of goods to numerous to particularize.

Our Brogans are Made to Order and GIVE PERFECT SATISFACTION

Come one, Come all, and see our goods and judge for yourselves.

N.B. RUBBER AND LEATHER BOOTS AND SHOES REPAIRED AT SHORT NOTICE.

D. B. STETSON, Washington St., Quincy.

GEORGE SAVILLE,

90 HANCOCK STREET,

Has in consequence of his largely increasing

Boot and Shoe Business,

Enlarged his Store to nearly double its old capacity,—has also purchased a large and desirable stock of FRESH GOODS, and is now prepared to show the

Largest, Finest and Best selected Stock of

BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS

Ever shown in Quincy or vicinity, and at the lowest prices. He has and will keep constantly on hand a large assortment of

Gents' and Boys' Ready Made Clothing,

To which he calls your Special Attention.

A VERY LARGE STOCK OF NEW AND NOBBY STYLES OF

Hats and Caps in great Variety.

Also a fine line of GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS

of New and Desirable Styles at VERY LOW PRICES.

The continued and increasing patronage from the Citizens generally and the flattering inducements presented, have assured him that an enlargement of his rooms and proportionate increase of his stock in trade, will not only be profitable to him, but advantageous to his customers and the public. He is therefore resolved to keep constantly on hand a full and complete supply of all goods in his line of trade, and solicits the continued patronage of his friends and customers, to all of whom he will endeavor to give entire satisfaction.

George Saville, 90 Hancock Street.

Quincy, Oct. 11.

J. W. LOMBARD,

— WITH —

VAN POND & Co.,

Men's, Youth's and Boys'

CLOTHING!!

No. 361 Washington St.,

(Near Old South Church.)

BOSTON.

Boys' Clothing a Specialty.

Boston, Oct. 11.

TRY THE

SOLID COMFORT,

5-Cent Cigar,

FOR SALE AT

POST OFFICE STORE.

It Beats All Others.

Quincy, Feb. 1.

NEW YORK SHOPPING.

LAMAR PURCHASING AGENCY.

Established. Reliable.

EVERYTHING bought with taste and discretion. New York fashion correspondence of PATRIOT connected with this Agency. Best city references. Send for circular, with prices. Address, MRS. ELLEN LAMAR.

877 Broadway, New York.

April 5.

Budget of Fun.

Little Billy has been taken to see his old uncle, who is so deaf that he cannot hear a single word without recourse to his ear-trumpet. Billy watches the movements of this instrument for some time with great interest, and then exclaimed: "Mamma, what does uncle try all the time to play the horn with his ear for, when he can't make it go?"

A fop asked a friend what apology he should make for not being at a party. "Oh, my dear sir," replied the wit, "say nothing about it, you were never missed."

A remarkable instance of a prompt proposal and a prompt acceptance was that of the Puritan who rode up to the door of the house where dwelt the young woman of his choice, and having desired her to be called out to him, said without circumlocution, "Rachel, the Lord has sent me here to marry thee," when the young woman answered with equal readiness, "The Lord's will be done."

"Doctor," said a patient, "I suffer a great deal with my eyes." The old gentleman adjusted his spectacles, and with a Socratic air replied, "I do not doubt it, my friend; but then you ought not to forget that you would suffer a great deal more without them."

"Have you any perfume in colors?" asked the young lady, smiling sweetly on the druggist's clerk. "Yes, miss, we have some in blue and green." "None in red?" she asked. "No, miss." "Then you have a poor assortment." "Yes, miss, very poor; we haven't a red scent."

How long Pat wore his shirt: An officer, who was inspecting his company one morning, spied one private whose shirt was sadly begrimed.

"Patrick O'Flynn!" called out the captain.

"Here, your honor!" promptly responded Patrick, with his hand to his cap.

"How long do you wear your shirt?" thundered the officer.

"Twenty-eight inches! your honor."

Disturbed parent and his five year old: "See here, sonny; what did your mother tell you?" "She told me not to jump." "What makes you jump then?" "I didn't hear her."

Your son, madam, persists in doing nothing," says the director. "Then," responded the woman, by no means disconcerted, "you should give him the prize for perseverance."

"What you been a doin'?" asked a boy of his playmate, whom he saw coming out of the house with tears in his eyes.

"I've been chasin' a birch rod round my father," was the snarling reply.

An egotistical clergyman of this county "in the good old days," when marrying a couple, invariably said,— "Whom God and I have joined together, let no man put asunder.—Turner's Falls Reporter.

"Don't show my letters," wrote a young man to a young lady whom he adored.

"Don't be afraid," was the reply, "I'm just as much ashamed of them as you are."

A maiden lady ordered her paper stopped, when she saw in it an editorial headed "measures, not men." She was not going to support a paper whose editor talked backwards, she said.

A Detroit restaurant keeper hangs out a sign of "Free Chops," and when the old loafers come around he shows them an axe and a woodpile.

"I don't take much 'stock' in this country," said an Englishman to a friend, just after the severe storm.

"Why, how is that?" was the startled inquiry. "It's watered too much," was the reply.

When a pretty girl is attired in a wine colored silk, is she an intoxicating beauty?

Pleasingly suggestive. Customer: "What do I want? I want a revolver!" Shopman: "How many barrels?" Customer: "For six persons!"

Cyrus Card was married the other day, and on his wedding notices were the words: "No Cards." But then he doesn't know what might happen.

TO THE PEOPLE OF QUINCY

The Granite Manufacturers' Association of Quincy, having

Locked out our Men,

And many of the Grocers and Provision Dealers have shut down on the Union Men, we the GRANITE CUTTERS' I. UNION, have

OPENED A STORE,

— FOR THE —

Supply of our Members

THUS LOCKED OUT,

And would solicit the custom of all lovers of the principles of Freedom, for which the Patriot Fathers fought and died. Should they favor us with their support we will guarantee to supply them with as good articles as can be purchased elsewhere at Lowest Boston Prices.

Goods delivered to all parts of the town, same day as ordered.

Give us a call, or send your orders to the Store, Junction of SCHOOL & GRANITE STS.,

QUINCY.

Quincy, Oct. 11.

1m

OYSTERS

Received

FRESH EVERY DAY,

and for sale

By the Quart or Gallon.

30 Cents per Quart,

$1.00 per GALLON.

Oyster Cans, all sizes, furnished to order.

Received fresh daily

Fresh Pork & Sausages,

— AT —

G. F. Wilson's.

Quincy, Sept. 20.

tf

Fresh

Tripe,

Every

Day,

— AT —

Sweetser's Market.

Quincy, Oct. 18.

tf

B. JOHNSON, Souther's Wharf, Quincy,

— DEALER IN —

LONG AND SHORT LUMBER.

Frames,

Worked Flooring,

Covering Boards,

Shingles,

Clapboards,

Pickets,

Laths, &c.

FRAMES SAWED TO ORDER.

Orders may be left with RICHARD NEWCOMB, Washington St., Quincy.

Aug. 2

tf

FOR SALE,

Granite Quarry IN QUINCY.

THE Well-known Granite Quarry situated on Willard Street, owned and worked the past Forty Years by

O. T. Rogers & Co.,

Containing about Twelve Acres, with Derricks, Sheds, Shops, Office and Two Dwelling Houses. A large outlay having recently been made upon the Quarry, the whole establishment is now in complete working order. A rare chance is offered to succeed the old firm of O. T. ROGERS & CO.

For further information, please inquire of either of the remaining members.

JESSE BUNTON,

SAMUEL BARBOCK,

Post Office Address, East Milton, Mass.

Sept. 13.

tf

The Quincy Patriot.

SUPPLEMENT.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1879.

Charles Francis Adams, Jr., thus addresses the Indianapolis Board of Trade: "I am fully persuaded, from all I see as I go over this country, that at no time was it so prosperous as it is to day, and that it is now going into a period of prosperity in the next ten or fifteen years greater than it ever had before. I could go further and say that we were getting into a period of prosperity greater than any people ever saw before—a period when all these great causes that are now working here in this room, the combination of telegraphs and railroads and other appliances, have got to work with greater energy and produce greater results than we have ever dreamed of in past history."

A young woman at Smyrna, N. Y., had a dream many years ago, of eight men standing in a row before her, with outstretched hands. She interpreted this to mean that she would have eight husbands. Her seventh husband died lately, and, although she is now 84, she is confident that the dream will be fulfilled.

Mrs. Polk, widow of President Polk, is now living at Nashville, Tenn. Her face is still handsome, the low forehead being covered with ringlets only partially gray. Her eyes are hazel, she has a straight, delicately-cut nose, small mouth and oval chin. Her expression is that of amiable rank, conscious yet kind. In her whole bearing there is something of the queen. She is now seventy-six years old.

France estimates the number of hens in that country at forty-five millions, and the number of eggs produced at three hundred millions. The estimated value of food consumed by them is $6,000,000, and the value of the eggs, $7,500,000.

Dr. and Mrs. Smith, of Newfield, Me., have a young child who can claim eleven grandparents and great-grandparents, but neither uncle, aunt nor cousin, and never can have, the parents having neither brother nor sister.

Stillman B. Allen, of Boston, offers one hundred dollars to the boy who raises the most corn in 1880 on one-eighth of an acre anywhere in the state of Maine; $50 to the next best, and $10 each to the next best. If the boy who wins the first prize is a resident of York county, he will receive a gold watch in addition thereto.

John Clancy, of advanced years, died in Lewiston, Me., recently. A little while before death he revealed to his friends that there was a pot of gold buried in his cellar. Search revealed $1000 in gold. Fifteen years ago a Mrs. Howe asked Clancy's advice in regard to what she should do with a thousand dollars in gold she had accumulated, and he advised her to bury it in her cellar. She did so, and soon after the money was gone. She suspected Clancy, and sued him for amount, and Clancy settled it.

Several gentlemen interested in the ornamentation of the city of Boston, propose to form a society having for its aim the erection of statues, tablets and other structures commemorative of the great events of our history.

The post office receipts for the first quarter of the present year, following upon the resumption of specie payment, were the largest in the history of the department, amounting to $7,930,068, nearly equalling the annual receipts before the war. The post office will soon pay expenses at this rate, and be able to give us a universal two-cent rate.

RAISINS. California raisins are so improving in quality that in time our importations from abroad will be largely affected. One house proposes packing 100,000 boxes the coming season, which will compare favorably with Malaga fruit.

It is noted by some shrewd workman that the Rockport granite companies are the only industries in the State which paid less wages in 1878 than in 1880.—Lowell Courier.

A LARGE ESTATE. The executors of the estate of Oakes Ames have filed a petition to the probate court to sell $1,300,850 worth of real estate of the deceased, to pay the charges and drafts.

MONEY SAVED BY BUYING GOODS

—AT—

GEORGE F. WILSON'S

Dealer in

GROCERIES and PROVISIONS

Look at our List of

FANCY GROCERIES!

|                       |                   |                  |
|-----------------------|-------------------|------------------|
| Keen's Mustard,       | Sardines,         | Walnut Catsup,   |
| German Mustard,       | Salad Oil,        | Mushroom Catsup, |
| French Mustard,       | French Peas,      | Tomato Catsup,   |
| Fry's Cocoa,          | French Mushrooms, | Queen Olives,    |
| Liquid Rennet,        | French Beans,     | Chow Chow,       |
| Prepared Cocoa,       | Baratari Shrimps, | Cailliflower,    |
| Curry Powder,         | Durham Mustard,   | Mixed Pickles,   |
| Slice Chutney,        | India Soy,        | Tamarinds,       |
| Capers,               | Anchorvies,       | Lime Juice,      |
| Salad Cream,          | Canned Salmon,    | Pickled Onions,  |
| Pepper Sauce,         | Canned Mackerel,  | White Pepper,    |
| Halford's Sauce,      | Canned Beef,      | Dry Ginger,      |
| Worcestershire Sauce, | Canned Beans,     | Deveiled Ham.    |

A large assortment of

Fruit, Confectionery, Pastry & Crackers.

PROVISIONS!

|             |             |                  |
|-------------|-------------|------------------|
| Mutton,     | Pork,       | Smoked Salmon,   |
| Lamb,       | Fresh Pork, | Smoked Halibut,  |
| Beef,       | Sausages,   | Smoked Herrings, |
| Veal,       | Hams,       | Smoked Beef,     |
| C. Beef,    | Codfish,    | Smoked Tongues,  |
| C. Tongues, | Tripe,      | Butter,          |
| Fowls,      | Pigs Feet,  | Cheese,          |
| Chicken,    | Eggs,       | Lard.            |

The Largest Stock of

CIGARS, TOBACCO, PIPES, AND CIGARETTES IN TOWN.

TEAS. TEAS. TEAS.

|                 |                 |              |                 |
|-----------------|-----------------|--------------|-----------------|
| Oolong,         | 40 cts. per lb. | Japan,       | 40 cts. per lb. |
| Formosa,        | 50 cts. per lb. | Japan,       | 50 cts. per lb. |
| Extra Formosa,  | 60 cts. per lb. | Extra Japan, | 60 cts. per lb. |
| Best Formosa,   | 70 cts. per lb. | Best Japan,  | 70 cts. per lb. |
| Eng. Breakfast, | 70 cts. per lb. | Young Hyson, | 70 cts. per lb. |

A Fine Assortment of

ALE, WINES AND LIQUORS.

Coffee. Coffee. Coffee.

|             |                 |               |                 |
|-------------|-----------------|---------------|-----------------|
| O. G. Java, | 35 cts. per lb. | Mocha,        | 35 cts. per lb. |
| Java,       | 30 cts. per lb. | Mocha & Java, | 35 cts. per lb. |
| Rio,        | 25 cts. per lb. | Cape,         | 25 cts. per lb. |
| Rio,        | 20 cts. per lb. | Cape,         | 20 cts. per lb. |

Kerosene Oil 10 Cts. per Gallon.

Oysters, Game and Vegetables!

FLOUR, $9.00, 10.00 & 11.00 per bbl.

—AT—

GEORGE F. WILSON'S

Quincy, October 18.

tf

The Celebrated

"PLANET"

BRIGHT & DARK TOBACCO.

And the Havana filled

Yacht Club & Corner Stone

5 CENT CIGARS.

I am having a big run on the above Brands. They are the best in the market.

S. H. SPEAR, Hancock St.

Quincy, Oct. 4.

6w

NOTICE!

THE Subscriber would inform the citizens of Quincy, that he has purchased a tract of land on South Street, Quincy, known as the Baxter Pasture, which will enable him to supply a variety of Wood, such as Oak, Pine and Chestnut. Also, small or large quantities of Cedar Posts. He still holds himself prepared to do general work, — Carting, Digging, Cleaning Cesspools, &c.

TERRANCE KEENAN.

Cor. of South and Main Sts.

Box 540, Quincy Post Office. N. B. All persons heretofore committing trespass on above land, and all others are hereby warned to cease from depredations.

Quincy, Oct. 18.

tf

HANDSOME

SHELF PAPER

DIFFERENT SHADES,

Two Sheets for 1 Cent,

— AT THE —

Quincy Patriot Office.

HAIR WORK!

MISS M. A. BELLEW, invites her old customers and friends to call at the Fancy Store of Miss J. Wilson, in Pierce's Block, where they will find her ready to attend to the making of HAIR WORK, in all of its branches. Ladies can have their hair shampooed or dressed in the latest style, at short notice.

M. A. BELLEW.

Quincy, Aug. 2.

tf

Youth's kip, tap sole, copper tip boots

ONLY $1.00

At Reed's Shoe Store.

Quincy, Nov. 1.

tf

Why will you be troubled

WITH FLIES.

Buy a POWDER GUN AND THE BEST (INSECT POWDER KNOWN)

At Veazie's Apothecary Store.

Quincy, June 21.

tf

JOB PRINTING.

EVERY VARIETY OF PRINTING neatly and promptly, and accurately executed, at the very lowest cash prices, at the

PATRIOT OFFICE

To Inventors and Mechanics

PATENTS and how to obtain them. Pamphlet of 60 pages free, upon receipt of stamps for postage. Address GILMORE, SMITH & Co., Solicitors of Patents, Box 31, Quincy, Dec. 14.

Washington, D. C.

tf

Summary of News.

A strong effort is being made for the abolishment of the compulsory pilotage act by which a pilot who speaks a vessel can collect half fees when his services are declined.

New York news girls smoke cigarettes.

A three-months-old baby in Perry, Iowa, in full attire weighs less than three pounds.

Postmasters everywhere are ordered not to mail or register letters addressed to lottery companies or their agents.

A negro woman, eighty-five years old, is going to school at Carsonville, Ga.

The Norfolk District Medical Society admits women on the same terms as men.

Don't sponge on your neighbor for his paper. Be independent and subscribe at once for the PATRIOT.

Georgia's gold mines now yield over a million dollars a year, and the Georgia papers look forward to the time when that State will rival Colorado as a gold producer.

Leadville already has three daily newspapers, four churches and a public school system; but there are also 108 gambling houses.

The tea plant will not grow satisfactorily in California. It has been thoroughly tried, and the experimenters have given it up as useless.

General Grant once lost all his money in a potato speculation.

It is reported that a novelty agent in Maine ate a gallon of oysters the other day for $100. He cleared $15, the funeral expenses amounting to $85.

It is claimed that Texas will have a population of nearly 3,000,000 in 1880, and therefore about twenty representatives in Congress.

There sailed from Liverpool recently, 267 farmers and their families, bound for Texas.

Japan, the land of the rising sun, lies 4000 miles west of our Pacific coast. Her area is about the same as the State of Texas, and she has 34,000,000 inhabitants.

A Reading, Pa., lady has an elephant-ear plant, with a leaf 14 inches long.

Great Britain, it is estimated, now holds $130,000,000 of the United States bonds, and Germany, France, and the rest of Europe about $70,000,000.

The tax on commercial travelers in Texas has already brought $44,000 to the State Treasury.

Keep your eyes open for counterfeit trade dollars bearing date of 1877.

A Louisville woman, wearing $4,000 worth of diamonds, was arrested for drunkenness.

A Baltimore creditor has seized a five months baby as security for a debt of $15.

A South Waterford, Me., boy was seriously poisoned by inhaling fly poison which his father was using about the house.

Ninety persons in Great Britain have incomes exceeding $250,000.

It is said there are 5,000 women and girls employed in the coal mines of Great Britain.

Woolwich, Me., was bought from the Indians nearly two centuries ago for one load of pumpkins and a quantity of rum.

E. Phillips & Son of Hanover, it is said, have received an order for forty tons of shoe nails.

A woman in Fitchburg has natural hair eighty-one inches long, seventeen inches more than her height.

A new-made Boston bride bought an olive plush bonnet at an opening, last week, because, as she said, "it just matched her drawing-room furniture."

It is estimated that American travelers expended last summer, in foreign travel, $17,000,000.

One family of four persons paid a bill of $280 per week at a Saratoga hotel for the past season.

A frugal and industrious young man in Rayburn is reported to have made $20,000 recently in the rise in stocks.

DYSPEPSIA. We have seen dyspeptics who suffered untold torments with almost every kind of food; no liquid could be taken without suffering; bread became a burning acid; meat and milk were solid liquid fires; and we have seen their torments pass away and their hunger relieved by living on the whites of eggs which have been boiled in bubbling water for thirty minutes. At the end of a week we have given the half yolk of the egg with the white, and upon this diet alone, without fluid of any kind, we have seen them begin to gain flesh and strength, and quiet, refreshing sleep. After weeks of this treatment they have been able, with care, to begin upon other food. And all this without taking medicine. Eggs boiled one hour are better than those boiled three or five minutes, and ten times as easy to digest as raw eggs.—Indiana Farmer.

FAMILY COAL

COAL, WOOD & HAY.

Genuine Franklin Coal,

OF LYKENS VALLEY.

SHAMOKIN,

White Ash and Cumberland Coals.

Nova Scotia and Pine Wood,

Sawed and Split

TO SUIT CUSTOMERS.

PRESSED HAY.

Orders left at E. A. Adams, George Saville's, or with the subscriber, will receive prompt attention.

D. HOWARD BILLS.

Quincy, March 22.

SOMERSET

COAL COMPANY,

GRANITE ST., NEAR ROBERTSON'S BLK.

CHAS. H. WINSLOW, Ag't.

Coal, Wood, Hay & Straw,

BEST QUALITY OF

Lackawanna, Shamokin

—AND—

Old Company's Franklin Coal,

—OF—

LYKENS VALLEY,

A Specialty.

Coal delivered at lowest market rates in lots to suit customers.

HARD AND PINE WOOD,

Slabs & Kindlings.

Wood Sawed and Split to order.

Pressed Hay and Straw constantly on hand.

Office hours from 6 A.M., to 7.30 P.M.

Saturdays till 8.30 P.M.

CHAS. H. WINSLOW, Ag't.

Quincy, July 12.

tf

CYRUS PATCH,

—DEALER IN—

FRANKLIN COAL,

OF LYKENS VALLEY;

LEHIGH, LACKAWANNA

And Best Quality of

SHAMOKIN COAL

—ALSO—

CUMBERLAND COAL,

For Blacksmiths' and Steam Purposes.

HARD AND SOFT WOOD,

SAWED AND SPLIT.

WHARF AT QUINCY POINT.

OFFICE.—At S. H. Spear's Furniture Store on Hancock Street, where orders, large and small, may be left at all hours of the day.

Small quantities of Wood and Coal will be kept at this Store to supply immediate demand.

All orders promptly attended to.

A share of public patronage solicited.

Quincy, May 1.

tf

CYRUS PATCH,

—DEALER IN—

Hancock Street

DINING ROOM,

In Old P. O. Building.

THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the Public, that he has purchased the Dining Room recently conducted by Mr. McCrillis, and is prepared to furnish meals at all hours of the day, or board by the day or week, on the most reasonable terms. He will also keep for sale,

Oysters, Fruit, Ice Cream,

Confectionery, &c.,

With experienced Cooks, and careful attention to the wants of patrons, the subscriber hopes to merit a liberal share of patronage.

J. H. JONES.

Quincy, Aug. 9.

tf

Small Blackboards for Children's use.

We don't advertise our prices but guarantee you will be well paid for a visit to the

FURNITURE STORE.

HEAD OF THE CANAL.

ALBERT KEATING.

Quincy, Nov. 1.

tf

either a patent can probably be obtained, by filing to Messrs. N. & Co. We also send free our book about the Patent Laws, Patents, Inventions, Trade Marks, their costs, and how secured, with hints for procuring advances on inventions. Address for the paper concerning lunn & Co., 37 Park Row, N.Y.

and Office, cor. Fifth St., Washington, D. C.

Small Blackboards for Children's use.

We don't advertise our prices but guarantee you will be well paid for a visit to the

FURNITURE STORE.

HEAD OF THE CANAL.

ALBERT KEATING.

Quincy, Nov. 1.

tf

all with Calves, Old Heifer, Horses.

THE BRAINTREE QUARTETTE.—Messrs. Hayward, Arnold, Thayer and Deering.

THE PATRIOT

WEEKLY ALMANAC

Saturday, No.

Sunday, "

Monday, "

Tuesday, "

Wednesday, "

Thursday, "

Friday, "

New Moon

STAT

The

THE QUINCY PATRIOT, PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING
— BY —
M. ELIZABETH GREEN
— AND —
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT.
TERMS: $2.50 per year, in advance; $3.00, if
not paid before the close of the year.
Office: 64 Hancock Street,
OVER MR. CLAPP'S STORE.
Posters, Cards, Billheads,
Circulars, Labels, Programmes, &c.
PRINTED PROMPTLY.
On the Most Reasonable Terms, and Greatly Below Boston Prices.

The Quincy Patriot.

ESTABLISHED IN 1837.

A Family Paper devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

NUMBER 46.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1879.

43D VOLUME.

PRICE, 5 CENTS.

CONDITIONS.
No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary rates, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of annual advertisement is limited
to their own immediate business.
Advertising Agents.
The following gentlemen are authorized Agents to receive Advertisements for the Patriot:—
BOSTON.—S. M. PETERSON & Co., S. R.
NILES, HORACE DODD and T. C. EVANS.
NEW YORK.—S. M. PETERSON & Co.
Geo. P. ROWELL & Co. and FRANKLIN & Co.
ST. LOUIS, Mo.—BOWELL & CHESMAN.

MONEY SAVED BY BUYING GOODS
— AT —
GEORGE F. WILSON'S
Dealer in
GROCERIES and PROVISIONS
Look at our List of
FANCY GROCERIES!

- |                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Koen's Mustard,German Mustard,Fry's Cocoa,Liquid Rennet,Prepared Cocoa,Curry Powder,Sage Chutney,Capers,Sliced Salmon,Pepper Sauce,Halford's Sauce,Worcestershire Sauce, | Sardines,Salad Oil,French Peas,French Mushrooms,French Beans,Baratani Shrimps,Durham Mustard,India Soy,Anchoovies,Canned Salmon,Canned Mackerel,Canned Beef,Canned Beans, | Walnut Catsup,Mushroom Catsup,Tomato Catsup,Queen Olives,Chow Chow,Cauliflower,Mixed Pickles,Tamarinds,Lime Juice,Pickled Onions,White Pepper,Dry Ginger,Devised Ham. |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

A large assortment of
Fruit, Confectionery, Pastry & Crackers.

PROVISIONS!
Mutton,
Lamb,
Beef,
Veal,
C. Tongues,
Pork,
Fresh Pork, Sausages,
Hams,
Coffins,
Pigs Feet,
Eggs,
Smoked Salmon,
Smoked Haddock, Smoked Herrings,
Smoked Tongues,
Butter,
Cheese,
Lard.

The Largest Stock of
CIGARS, TOBACCO, PIPES, AND CIGARETTES IN TOWN.

TEAS. TEAS. TEAS.
Oolong, 40 cts. per lb. Japan, 40 cts. per lb.
Formosa, 50 cts. per lb. Japan, 50 cts. per lb.
Extra Formosa, 60 cts. per lb. Extra Japan, 60 cts. per lb.
Best Formosa, 70 cts. per lb. Best Japan, 70 cts. per lb.
Eng. Breakfast, 70 cts. per lb. Young Hyson, 70 cts. per lb.

A Fine Assortment of
ALE, WINES AND LIQUORS.

Coffee. Coffee. Coffee.
O. G. Java, 35 cts. per lb. Mocha, 35 cts. per lb.
Java, 30 cts. per lb. Mocha & Java, 35 cts. per lb.
Rio, 25 cts. per lb. Cape, 25 cts. per lb.
Rio, 20 cts. per lb. Cape, 20 cts. per lb.

Kerosene Oil 10 Cts. per Gallon.
Oysters, Game and Vegetables!
FLOUR, $9.00, 10.00 & 11.00 per bbl.

— AT —
GEORGE F. WILSON'S.
Quincy, October 18.

THIRRELL & SON'S
CARRIAGES
OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS,
Express and Milk Wagons,
Double and Single Runners,
Express Sleighs, &c., &c.
Repairing of all kinds,
TRIMMING, PAINTING, &c.
Done at short notice and at reasonable rates.
HARNESSES MADE TO ORDER.
Also on hand, a fine assortment of ROCKS, BLANKETS, WHIPS, and other goods to be carried in sleighs and
carriages.
New and Second-hand Carriages.
Constantly on hand, consisting of BREMSTER, COMBINATION, BRITTON, and RUGBY PHANTOM, EXTENSION TOP, and STAND-ING TOP WAGONS, &c., &c.
Carriages and Sleighs Stored,
No. 57 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, April 11.

GEORGE SAVILLE,
90 HANCOCK STREET,
Has in consequence of his largely increasing

Boot and Shoe Business,
Enlarged his Store to nearly double its old capacity,—has also purchased a large and desirable stock of FRESH GOODS, and is now prepared to show the

Largest, Finest and Best selected Stock of
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS
Ever shown in Quincy or vicinity, and at the lowest prices. He has and will keep constantly on hand a large assortment of

Gents' and Boys' Ready Made Clothing,
To which he calls your Special Attention.
A VERY LARGE STOCK OF NEW AND NOBBY STYLES OF
Hats and Caps in great Variety.

Also a fine line of GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS
of New and Desirable Styles at VERY LOW PRICES.

The continued and increasing patronage from the Citizens generally and the flattering inducements presented, have assured him that an enlargement of his premises and proportionate increase of his stock in trade, will not only be profitable to him, but advantageous to his customers and the public. He is therefore resolved to keep constantly on hand a full and complete supply of all goods in his line of trade, and solicits the continued patronage of his friends and customers, to all of whom he will endeavor to give entire satisfaction.

George Saville, 90 Hancock Street.
Quincy, Oct. 11.

ESTHER!
FALL GOODS
— AT —
GREAT BARGAINS.
20 Pieces Dress Goods,
12 1-2 Per Yard.
PLAID DRESS GOODS,
12 1-2 Per Yard.
WATERPROOF CLOTHS,
14 PLAIDS, ALL WOOL,
$1.00 Per Yard.

25 Different Styles,
CREPE DE LISSE,
New Patterns from New York.

Housekeeping Department.
A Large Line of
Goods for the Ladies,
AT LOW PRICES.

Ladies and Children's Underwear,
For Fall and Winter,
VERY CHEAP.

New Styles of Buttons
— AND —
SILK FRINGE.

Worsted Goods,
Plaid Trimmings.

THE BEST CORSET,
For 50 Cts.

Sewing Machine
NEEDLES.

The Eighth Patent
Shirts and Bosoms.

Agent for
Madame DEMOREST'S
Reliable Patterns.

G. T. DEFREES,
Robertson's Block.
Quincy, Oct. 4.

ESTHER!

NEW MILLINERY
— AND —
DRESS MAKING STORE.

First Class Millinery.
Dress Making Establishment,
In the Store recently occupied by Mr. Joseph
W. Lombard, in ROBERTSON'S BLOCK
on HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, where she will be pleased to suit all the ladies who may favor her with their patronage. Latest Imported Fashions always on hand.

Also, Dress Trimmings, Buttons and Fancy Articles.
MISS F. A. LAPHAM.
Quincy, Sept. 11, 1879.

MISS C. S. MILTON
Is now prepared to furnish the Ladies with the latest styles in Hats, Bonnets and Frames, Velvets, Satins and Fancy Feathers. Hats ready trimmed or to order.

Gossamer Waterproofs,
Warranted for $4, which cannot be bought in the city for less than $5.

STAMPING
— FOR —
Embroidery and Braiding,
DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Over S. H. SPEAR'S STORE.
Quincy, Sept. 27.

MILLINERY!

MISS S. H. HUSSEY,
HAS just received a beautiful assortment of
NEW GOODS, to which will be added
fresh selections in all grades.

Straw & Felt Hats and Bonnets,
Velvets, Satins, Ribbons,
Feathers, Flowers & Jets.
All orders promptly and satisfactorily executed.

HANCOCK ST.,
Opposite Hotel.
Quincy, Oct. 4.

Poetry.
For the Patriot.
How We Caught The Widow.
— A NEW ENGLAND VILLAGE STORY. — By HARRY LEIGH.

It all came of a story told by little Bessie Green,
Of the strangely curious doings she one moonlight night had seen.
At the little gabled cottage which stood just upon the hill,
As she waited by her window in the night so calm and still.

Now the inmate of that cottage was a widow,
young and fair,
With the softest violet eyes, and rippling golden hair;
And she'd only lost her husband just two little months before.
Those actions had been witnessed at the ivy-covered door.

Now if the story Bessie told was really, truly so,
We thought it was our duty to let everybody know the matter over, till we hit upon a plan,
To catch that awful widow, and that horrid horror man.

And we all agreed together that 'twould work
just like a charm,
And we'd do it just so nicely without the least alarm.

So we started off one evening, without the slightest doubt,
That before the night was over we should find that widow out.

Not a single star was gleaming, it was dark as black could be,
And not a light before one could any of us see;
But we reached the widow's cottage, when we hid, and kept quite still.

Till at last we heard his footsteps, coming briskly up that hill.
Little Polly Peters had climbed up into a tree,
For she said the higher up you were, the better
you could see;

But the rest were quite contented to crouch
upon the ground,
Where we waited, listening patiently to detect the slightest sound.

Soon the door was softly opened, and there that widow stood,
Fair, and fresh, and smiling, a disgrace to womanhood;

For you see that woman smiling in the ivy-
covered door,
Had lost a kind, good husband, just two little months before.

Well we waited, and we heard him, "Were you watching for me?"
And then we saw, good gracious! how those lips in rapture met;

What with kissing and caressing and everything so sweet,
The most doubtful one among us deemed the evidence complete.

When the door was fairly closed we all rose up to go,
For now we knew the story told was really,
truly so.

But little Polly Peters in descending to the ground,
Broke a branch, which fell with an awful crashing sound.

For a moment we stood quaking, and then the lamp's full glare,
Fell upon us from the door, and revealed us
standing there;

And the widow came up to us in exceeding great surprise,
When suddenly a twinkling came in those lovely violet eyes.

And there wasn't one among us who had the slightest doubt,
That she'd turned the tables on us, and had fairly found us out.

Then Mrs. Betsey Peters in chagrin and furious rage,
With a temper never good at best and growing worse with age,

Screamed in angry accents, "I guess I'd be a widow now'n two months before, I'd kiss a new found lover till I got inside the door;"

And then though we were watching, there was not a single trace,
Of either shame or sorrow upon that widow's face;

But a deal of rippling laughter filled the still and solemn air,
And she looked so pure and innocent as she stood laughing there.

That on our minds quite dimly a light began to break,
And we all began to wonder if we'd made a great mistake.

When her merriment was over, in tones quite low and clear,
She said "I'm not the artful widow which to you I must appear,
I'm the widow's younger sister, and I'll tell you farthermore.

My husband was the lover whom I kissed outside the door."
When she kindly finished speaking we gladly turned to go,
For now we knew the story told was really
true and so;

And a cheaper lot of women 'twould be very hard to meet,
As we walked in shame and silence down the dark and gloomy street.

But when we reached the corner, and had safely shut the door,
You might have heard our voices a mile away or more.

There was Mrs. Betsey Peters and her cousin
Sally Head, Talked so loud and fast you couldn't hear a single word they said.

Miscellany.
THE DOUBLE LESSON.

"Have you told me the whole truth, now Lillian, about the gentleman I saw you talking with upon the bridge?—the whole truth, remember."

"Yes, indeed, indeed, Reginald," she exclaimed, looking at him piteously, with her forget-me-not eyes swimming in tears, and her childish hands clasped in supplication.

"I wish I could believe you, but I don't!" groaned Reginald Trevor, starting up and beginning to pace the floor angrily, while his fragile little wife sobbed aloud in her excitement and terror.

"If you did not meet that man by appointment, what made you pretend to have a headache, to get rid of coming down to tea; and what made you when we were all seated at the table, go stealing out the back way instead of the front, and walk straight there and nowhere else?"

And what made you look so frightened when you saw me? Tell me that, will you?"

"I—I thought the air would do me good, and I didn't want to disturb you.
Indeed, indeed; it is true, Reggie, dear."

"And what made your polite acquaintance turn and go off as though he had been shot out of a gun, the moment he saw me coming? No, no, Lily, it won't do. Your very terror now contradicts your story. Will you tell me the truth, or shall I write it out of that man?"

Lily rose to her feet trembling, her tender face waxen white, but strangely calm.

"If you will let me, I will go back to my aunt, Reginald. That is the best place for me now."

Reginald Trevor's stern handsome face grew a shade paler, and his hand clenched and unclenched nervously. If he could only believe her!—his little snowdrop, that he had sheltered in his bosom, and whose purity and truth he could have sworn to.

"Will you tell me that man's name,
Lily?" he asked, more gently.

"No, Reginald," was the firm reply.
"You have doubted me. I will not put it in your power to question another concerning me."

"I will find him nevertheless. I should know his speaking handsome face among a thousand," cried Reginald, passionately, as Lily, pale, but stately as a little queen, swept past him to the door.

She was back again very shortly, dressed for going out, and looking like a snowy water lily, in her soft white furs, with her dove eyes, and colorless face.

She passed beside the door.
"Have you any objections to my going to my aunt's?" she asked.

Reginald strode across the room, with his back to the door. He did not answer. She crossed the apartments and just touched his arm with her gloved hand.

"Have you any objection to my going to my aunt's?" she asked.

"Will you tell me that man's name?"
A faint tremor crept round Lily's lips, but she looked him steadily in the face,
and answered.

"No."

"The sooner you go to your aunt's then, and the longer you stay, the better
I shall be pleased," he said, with cold bitterness.

With a deep, inward sigh, the wife turned swiftly away, nor paused till she knocked at the door of a handsome residence a few streets off.

A sprightly little lady, whose resemblance to Lily Trevor marked her at once for that aunt who had almost since her babyhood supplied a mother's place to the orphan, rose eagerly from under the glow of the chandelier at sight of her.

"Why Lily!" was her dismayed ejaculation.

"Dear aunt, I can't be helped now, and I dare say I was just as much to blame as he was. Let it settle itself, won't you?"

Aunt Myra looked as though she doubted the chances of such an event; but she said no more. She knew something of Lily's firmness.

The matter, indeed, did not seem inclined to settle itself in a hurry. Lily waited in vain for some sign from her husband. So sent for her trunk in the course of the next day, and it came without a word.

A week passed, and then Lily grew paler day by day, and Reginald more desolate, neither gave one sign to the other. As Reginald was returning from his club one evening, he found himself between two men, who were talking in low but sufficiently distinct tones. It was some moments before he took enough note of their conversation to discover that they were talking of him.

man takes a woman to love, cherish, and protect, he do it to it, to my notion, by making his house so hot that she is very glad to stay out of it."

Reginald Trevor quickened his pace and passed the two gentlemen unrecognized. He had heard enough to irritate him excessively. There might be one particle of justification for these men speaking as they did of him; but as he paced angrily homeward, the words kept recurring to him. "Haughty, jealous, tyrannical!" Was that Lily's opinion of him, he wondered?

He walked around by Mrs. Ramsay's house, keeping upon the opposite side of the way, and regarding the mansion stealthily as he passed, though it was too dark for any one to see him. At the corner he even hesitated as a slender shadow crossed the blind which might be Lily's. Then murmuring, "No; I told her the longer she stayed the better
I should be pleased, and so I shall tell her she comes to her senses," he hurried gloomily home.

But his fate was not in his own hands.
That night his house was entered by burglars; and though he succeeded in routing them, he was severely injured by a blow upon the head from some heavy instrument in the hands of one of them, for that day's life was considered exceedingly doubtful.

The news came upon Lily without warning. She was bending over some work, but not sewing the stitches, for tears. She put down her work almost with a smile.

"Auntie," she said, "that means me.
He is better to Reggie and me than we deserve. He won't die, trust me for that."

Reginald Trevor did not die; and good Doctor Mortimer, who surmised something of the state of things, told him very plainly that he owed his life to his wife more than to his doctor.

"Was I haughty, jealous, and tyrannical?"
was Reginald's first question of Lily, as he feebly drew her little hands to his lips.

Those very words had haunted his delirium. Lily smiled through her tears.
"Not more than I was foolish and willful," she said gently. "The man you saw me talking with was the husband of my sister who lives in Jersey, as you know. I spoke to him reluctantly, and I did not want you to meet him. I had no idea of seeing him when I went out; and if you had not told your temper so soon, I should have lost you all there was to tell, though I didn't like to talk about it. Shall we begin again, Reggie?"

"My darling, yes."

Don't Fret.

One fretter can destroy the peace of a family, can destroy the harmony of neighborhoods, can unsettle the councils of cities and hinder the legislation of nations. He who frets is never the one who mends, who heals, who repairs evil;
more, he discourages, enfeebles, and too often disables those around him, who, but for the gloom and depression of his company, would do good work and keep up brave cheer. The effect upon a sensitive person in the mere presence of a fretter is indescribable. It is to the soul what a cold, icy mist is to the body—more chilling than the bitterest storm.

An "Agricultural Number" of Scribner's Monthly.

In addition to the usual variety in the contents of SCRIBNER, the November issue contains a half dozen papers of the highest interest to farmers, and others interested in rural life. "The Agricultural Distress in Great Britain," by P.
T. Quinn; "Farming in Kansas," by Henry King; "Success with Small Fruits," by E. P. Roe; "Rare Law-Trees," by Samuel Parsons, Jr.; "The Mississippi Jetties," and their effect on the prices of agricultural products, and
"How Animals Get Home," by Ernest Ingersoll.

There are two fine portraits of Bayard Taylor—an engraving by Cole, from the best photograph, and the other a reproduction by Juegeling, of O'Donovan's bronzes—busts of the poet, and the company a discriminating critique of Taylor, by Steadman. Clarence Cook, has a paper on "Morris Moore's Old Masters," with a reproduction, by Cole, of Raphael's "Apollo and Marsyas." There are poems, Stories and Sketches; "The French Quarter of New York," by Extracts from the Journal of Henry J.
Raymond, with interesting reminis-cences of Daniel Webster; a beautiful story, by Boyesen; an ingenious story,
"A Night," the fourth part of "Confession," by Henry James, Jr., begun in August; and the first part of a new American novel of Creole life, "The Grandissimes," by George W. Cable, of New Orleans, the author of "Old Creole Days," which has created such an excellent impression in the literary world.

"The reign of Peter the Great," by Eugenie Schuyler, is noted editorially.
This splendid series of Illustrated Historical papers, the greatest work of the sort yet undertaken by any popular magazine, will begin in the January issue, and will continue for two years.

All that enterprise and skill can do will be done to maintain the position of SCRIBNER as the leading popular periodical of America. With the revival of the agricultural and business interests of the country, increased attention will be paid to papers on great public enterprises and interests, already a notable feature of the magazine.

Price, $4.00 a year; 35 cents a number. Subscriptions should begin with the November number. Buy it of your bookseller or send the subscription price to the publishers.

SCRIBNER & Co.,
743 Broadway, New-York.

The Adams Statue.

In the statue by Miss Anne Whitney, at the Capitol, Washington, a duplicate of which, in bronze, has been accepted by the city of Boston, in order to commemorate the memory of Samuel Adams, the revolutionary patriot, Adams is represented as standing erect and with folded arms, his whole expression indicating of calm determination. The figure is seven and one-half feet in height, and the artist has evidently striven for a perfect simplicity. Adams is clothed simply in the costume of the period, Miss Whitney having closely adhered to the description of the man given in the writings of his contemporaries. The moment in the life of Adams which Miss Whitney has seized is an historical one, and is that wherein Adams, acting as the spokesman of the committee chosen by the people assembled in deliberation at Faneuil Hall, afterward at the Old South, on the 6th of March, 1770, demands of Lieut-Gov. Hutchinson the withdrawal of the British troops from Boston. It is at that moment when Adams, in reply to the remark of Colonel Dalrymple, commander-in-chief of the British forces: "The troops are not subject to my authority; I have no power to remove them;" drawing himself up to his full height, and stretching forth his arm, which trembled slightly with the energy of the moment, exclaiming, looking the British officer full in the face, "If you have power to remove one regiment, you have power to remove both. It is at your peril if you refuse.
The meeting is composed of 3000 people.
They are becoming impatient. A thousand men are already arrived from the neighborhood, and the whole country is in motion. Night is approaching.
An immediate answer is expected—Both regiments or none." History further records that the demand was complied with; the news went abroad, and created unbounded enthusiasm.

It is understood that the statue will be cast during the winter months, at the Adams foundry in Chicopee, and that it will be dedicated on the 4th of July next.—Boston Herald.

For the Patriot.
Recollections of the Old Meeting-House.

Some of the readers of the Patriot, no doubt, remember several very dull preachers who occasionally occupied the pulpit of the first parish fifty to sixty years ago. They were, no doubt, excellent men at home, in their relative parishes; more so, probably, than some of the sensational preachers of the present time, but their long sermons and prayers sometimes had an unfavorable influence on the youngsters who sat boxed up in the old-fashioned pews. Among the pulpit exchangers of the pastor, Rev. Peter Whitney, was Dr. Flint, of Cohasset.
The good old doctor was very slow in his delivery, and this made him very unpopular with the younger portion of the congregation. Mr. Whitney had made an arrangement one Sunday to exchange with Mr. Flint, and on his arrival at Cohasset that morning, he was very much surprised to find the Doctor at home. He had forgotten the appointment. The late Edmund Quincy, in a letter to a friend a few years ago, giving some of his experiences in the old church, said "the minister with whom Mr. Whitney was to exchange with on this occasion, did not come, and after waiting awhile, Deacon Spear dismissed the congregation." Writing, no doubt, from his boyhood impressions, he spoke of this as "a most delightful event," and said "it was too good to happen more than once."

The pew of Josiah Quincy was near the centre of the meeting-house, the one directly in front was occupied by Edward Miller's family, and the next one by Judge Thomas B. Adams. The pew of the Phipps family was a wall pew, situated not far from the south door. If I used to envy them because the old Doctor being deaf, only went to meeting on Communion Sundays, and the younger used to be called out during service.—
The monotony of the services," continued Mr. Quincy, "was one Sunday varied by the presence of a military company in uniform, in the gallery, which had come to return thanks for their not having to fight the British on a false alarm of a Sunday." H. W. B.

Could Not Lodge Them.

A good story is told here this season about an estimable Quaker lady who keeps a boarding house on Pearl street.
As everybody knows, the Friends are wont to speak of people without prefixing titles. Clara Hussey has had so many boarders that she has been obliged to lodge them out at other houses, belonging to Messrs. Bates, Joffis and Folger. The other day a party consisting of a dozen or so Baltimoreans, who had been recommended to go to this lady's, arrived, and at once repaired to her residence.

"I can give thee all board," said she to the Marylanders, "but these must sleep in Coffin's."

The Quincy Patriot.

With Supplement.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1879.

Short communications and items of news earnestly solicited from friends and patrons.

* Anonymous communications are not published.

Fashionable Wedding.

One of the most fashionable weddings that has stirred our quiet village for some years, occurred on Wednesday last. The event was the marriage of Peter B. Olney, Esq., of New York City, to Miss Mary S., daughter of Peter Butler, Esq., of this town.

Early in the morning, a group of colored waiters from the city arrived. An hour or two later, and Hancock street presented a lively appearance from the rapidly passing and fro of hacks from the city. As the 11 o'clock train from Boston arrived, a large delegation of invited guests made their appearance, and as they walked to the church attracted much attention.

At 12 o'clock, the time appointed for the nuptial ceremonies, the Episcopal Church was filled to its utmost capacity, and a large number were obliged to remain outside. Carpets were laid from the driveway to the entrance of the Church.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. T. A. Sively, the Rector; the couple standing under a handsome marriage bell of flowers. The bride was given away by her father, and the ceremony was the beautiful and impressive one of the Episcopal Church.

The Church was most tastefully decorated for the occasion by the many friends of the bride in the parish. On the wall at the left of the chancel, was the monogram B and O made of tiny white flowers—everlastings, and enclosed in a wreath of green leaves; near the organ was a horse-shoe and a horn of plenty combined. Besides these there were baskets of beautiful flowers in each of the windows, and evergreen garlands followed all the architectural lines of the Church, making a most beautiful effect.

The Church was so beautiful with these decorations that it was photographed after the ceremony.

The ushers were Mr. James Talmage Van Buren, Mr. Caldwell, E. Ogden, and Mr. Arthur Sedgwick, of New York; Mr. George R. Mott and Mr. Nathaniel Curtis, of Boston, and Mr. Seymour Butler of Quincy. The best man was Mr. James H. Fay, of New York. There were no bridesmaids, the bride being attended by her mother and sister.

The bride's dress was of white satin, and was richly trimmed with thread lace. The veil was of tulle, and was put on with ostrich feathers. The bride wore superb diamonds. In her hand she carried a large bouquet of white rose buds.

The dress of the bride's mother was of black velvet and satin; bonnet of feathers and lace. The sister of the bride wore a white Canton crepe dress over a silk skirt, trimmed with lace. She also wore a plush bonnet trimmed with feathers and lace.

After the ceremony at the church, the invited guests were carried to the residence of the bride's father, where a most brilliant reception was held.

The old mansion is one of the oldest, if not the oldest in the country. It was built for the original Quincy family; some parts of the house being 244 years old. An interesting feature of the place is the parlor, the paper of which was imported especially for the wedding of John Hancock and Dorothy Quincy, which wedding, however, took place in Connecticut, because a price had been placed on Mr. Hancock's head by the British Government. The rooms of Tutor Flint, of Harvard College celebrity, and the secret chamber for protection during the Revolution, are most interesting. The house has been repaired and repainted lately, but in entire harmony with the past.

The presents were not exhibited, but were both very numerous and costly.

Among the guests we noticed the Hon. Charles Francis Adams and wife, Col. John Quincy Adams, the Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, the Hon. Leverett Saltonstall, the Hon. F. O. Prince, the Hon. John P. Healey, late law-partner of Daniel Webster, Dr. William Everett, the Hon. Thomas Motley, the Hon. F. M. Weld, Messrs. Richard, George and Frederick Olney, the brothers of the groom, Josiah P. Quincy, Esq., the Hon. William Amory, Thos. C. Amory, Esq., and many other distinguished guests, too numerous to mention.

WEDDINGS. Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Phillips celebrated their golden wedding last Saturday, at their residence at Quincy Point. About one hundred persons were present, including children.

To make the occasion one of unusual interest, a granddaughter, decided to surprise the aged couple by having her marriage performed at this time, and Rev. Mr. Con, of the Union Christian Church, performed the ceremony which united Charles F. Ransom to Kate Shaw in the holy bands of wedlock. The elderly couple were induced to stand up afterwards and the reverend gentleman made some very appropriate remarks.

The presents were numerous and a collation was served. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips have spent the fifty years of their married life in the home where they now reside.

DARING ROBBERY. A man who was intoxicated, was robbed Thursday afternoon between three and four o'clock, while passing through Hancock street when nearly opposite Col. Packard's, by a companion, who put his hand into his coat pocket and snatched between forty and fifty dollars. The thief was seen by a young man who was working near by.

DRUNK. Officers Locke and Parker arrested two men in the south part of the town on Sunday afternoon for being drunk and carrying a loaded gun. They had a horse and carriage which had a very dilapidated appearance and the officers were compelled to handcuff the offenders. A large crowd followed the team, attracted no doubt by the groans of one of the miserable men.

Local Items.

* Esther, this coming week.

The wedding on Wednesday called out over ninety hacks.

* The 13th annual reunion of the High School Association will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 3d.

* Do not be cheated in buying eye glasses of pedlars, when you can buy the best in the market at John O. Holden's.

* The best place in town to buy hardware is at the store of Charles B. Tilton.

* Joseph W. Lombard, will sell a pair of and other furniture, on Saturday next, at N. B. Fernald's store.

* Our readers should all make it a point to see Esther at the Town Hall, this coming week. For personations, etc., see advertisement.

* Ebenezer Adams will sell a handsome lot of wood, on thirteen acres of land, about one-fourth mile from the Purgatory House, on Monday next.

* E. H. & T. W. Poor are closing out their stock of groceries and other goods. They are contemplating a change of business.

* The scenery for Esther is to be furnished by D. O. Story, and is said to be the largest travelling stage set in Boston.

* Arthur A. Morton left on Saturday last for California, for his health. He is accompanied by his brother, George.

* A new boot manufactory was opened on Monday over the store of Albert Keating on Washington street. John E. Drake has charge of the same.

* Rev. Mr. Perry was thrown from his carriage on Elm street, last Sunday evening, as he was returning from Weymouth, by a passing team coming in contact.

* The weather has been very changeable this month, but not a large quantity of rain has fallen. Several days this week have been very warm and mild.

* A slight change has been made in the programme of Paul Revere Post entertainments. Wendell Phillips will lecture on Tuesday the 25th inst., instead of next Tuesday.

* The costumes to be used in Esther, are entirely new, being used for the first time on this occasion. They are from the Essex Costume Parlor, Boston.

* Mr. Walker's Dancing School is largely patronized and the class is making fine progress. His "last half" is advertised in today's paper. The last half begins Nov. 24th, as will be noticed by our advertising columns.

* The attention of our lady readers is called to the notice of Miss Josie Flynn in another column. She will be permitted to attend to dressmaking at the residence of her customers or at her own home.

* The boot shop of N. Curtis & Co. on Granite street was broken into last Tuesday morning, by breaking a pane of glass and raising the window. The watchman, who was in the upper part of the building, hearing a noise, proceeded to investigate when the robbers leaped from the window and took to the railroad. The watchman saw three young men and fired when they quickly scattered.

* MUSICAL ENTERTAINMENT. A very enjoyable and pleasing entertainment was given on Thursday evening in Faxon Hall. Notwithstanding the unpleasant state of the weather, the hall was well filled with an appreciative audience.

The singing by the Brantree quartette was excellent, and elicited many encomiums. The duets and songs by Miss Randall and Messrs. Perkins and Packard, were rendered in a very artistic manner, and were greatly enjoyed.

The readings by Mrs. L. S. Holbrook were excellent, and called forth many loud cheers. Her selections were very pleasing; some of them quite comical, and she kept the audience in a general good humor.

The performance on four instruments at one time, by Mr. Leslie E. Spear, was a very novel and pleasing feature in the entertainment. His pieces were rendered in fine style, and the audience enjoyed them highly. Taken as a whole, the entertainment was one of rare pleasure and enjoyment, and great credit is due the ladies who planned the whole affair.

* The Grand Temple of Honor of this state will hold its semi-annual session with the Temple at East Weymouth next Thursday. Forenoon and afternoon sessions will be held, and in the evening there will be a public meeting, to be addressed by several prominent members of the order. It is expected a large number of Boston Templars will be there. There are forty-five temples in the State, with a membership of about 2000.

* PASSING AWAY. The unwelcome messenger has been busily at work among the elderly people in our midst the present week, and several pleasant homes have been filled with sorrow.

Mr. George W. Newcomb died on Sunday last. He had been failing for some months, but had been able to be around town until within a few weeks. A post-mortem examination disclosed a large cancer in the stomach, as the cause of Mr. Newcomb's sufferings.

On Sunday last, the wife of Mr. Perez Joyce, died after a week's illness. Mrs. Joyce was dearly beloved by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance, and her loss will be sorely felt, not only in her home but among her large circle of friends. A home has been bereft of its sunshine; a husband has lost an affectionate wife; a daughter a loving mother, and an aged sister the playmate of her youth and the kind sympathizer of her later years.

On Tuesday, the wife of Mr. Josiah Baxter died very suddenly. She was doing her fall cleaning, when death came and took from a pleasant home, an affectionate wife and mother.

Mr. Joseph Ewell died on Thursday morning after a short but severe suffering. He was a highly respected citizen, a kind husband, a loving father and an excellent neighbor.

FOOT BALL.

Harvard Freshmen vs. Adams Academy

On Wednesday last the eleven of Adams Academy played a match with the Harvard Freshmen, and for the second time in succession, defeated them.

The game began with a kick-off by Woodward, and for some time it did not seem that either side would get any advantage. At last, however, Cabot of the Freshman team, after a beautiful rush, succeeded in making a touch-down; they tried for a goal, but Keith failed to kick it. Things looked bad for the Adams eleven, but after a series of very fine rushes they had the ball-down near the Harvard goal, and Woodward touched the ball close to the post. He then kicked a goal, and the ball was taken to the middle of the field again for Harvard to kick-off.

Within three minutes Woodward took the ball, and, with one of the most beautiful rushes we have ever seen, touched it down directly behind the Harvard goal. In the hurry Woodward failed to kick the goal. There were but two minutes more before the usual rest of five minutes, in which neither side gained any advantage.

The second three-quarters began with some hard work on both sides. Harvard got the ball close to the Adams goal, and threatened to make a touch-down; but the ball was touched back and Woodward took a thirty-foot kick. Just then Harvard having got a fair kick placed the ball, and Keith tried for a goal, but the distance was too great, and though he made a fine kick, he failed in the attempt. Shortly after this the tables were turned, and Woodward by a brilliant rush, made another touch-down and from this kicked another goal. The Freshmen were now getting demoralized, and had the game lasted longer the Academy boys were likely to gain something more. It was, however, growing dark and it began to rain; so that both sides agreed to stop, though it lacked nearly a quarter of an hour of the time. So the game ended, leaving the score, two goals and one touch-down for Adams to one touch-down for the Freshmen.

A marked feature of this game was that there was no advantage which could be disputed, and it was clear that the Adams team out-played their adversaries. Those who played especially well were Woodworth, Woodward (Capt.), George Adams, and Coleman for Adams; and Merion (Capt.), Binny, Cabot, and Baxter for Harvard. The referee was Mr. de Windt, and Mr. Sedgwick was umpire for the Adams eleven, Mr. Sears for the Freshmen.

WILLS PRESENTED.—John Kirk of Quincy; Norton Pratt, of Braintree; Silas Canterbury of Weymouth.

APPOINTMENTS.—John Q. Adams, executor of the will of John Kirk of Quincy. William H. Faxon, administrator of the estate of John Faxon of Quincy; bond $10,000. Sarah G. Smith, administrator of the estate of John M. Smith of Milton; bond $1000. Lewis C. Thayer, administrator of the estate of James S. Thayer of Braintree; bond $2000. Samuel Babcock, administrator of the estate of Jeremiah W. Babcock of Milton; bond $10,000. Ann Canterbury executrix of the will of Silas Canterbury of Weymouth. Nathaniel F. Safford, administrator of the estate of Joseph Morton of Milton. Francis B. Pratt, Edwin Pratt and Luban Pratt, executors of the will of Norton Pratt of Braintree; bond $40,000. Jonathan Howe declined to serve longer as trustee of Poly Whitmarsh and others, named in the will of Susan Tufts of Weymouth, and John W. Pinkerton was appointed in his place; bond $6,000.

ACCOUNTS PRESENTED.—Ellen Garrity of Quincy; Elias Richards, executor of will of Lucy Chapman of Weymouth; Joseph M. Glover, administrator of estate of Benjamin Gay of Quincy; Joseph M. Churchill, administrator of estate of Elizabeth Peters of Richmond, Va.

INVENTORIES.—Estate of Urbane Cudworth of Quincy; George A. Barker, Peter B. Turner and C. C. Brackett, appraisers. Estate of Patrick McKay of Milton; Oran Bates, E. B. Andrews and Edward H. Adams, appraisers. Estate of William Hincks of Cohasset; Levi N. Bates, John W. Bates and Charles H. Willard, appraisers. Estate of Patrick McManus of Braintree; Lewis Dyer, Andrew Harvey and Patrick Maguire, appraisers.

PETITIONS.—Josiah Reed, guardian of Quincy I. Adolph S. and Betsey O. Loud of Weymouth, was granted leave to sell real estate of said wards. Belina W. Gay petitioned for a dower in the estate of Francis G. Gay of Dover.

Chelsea Sends Greeting.

To the Publishers of the Patriot: Being aware that one of the newly elected Representatives to the General Court from the city of Chelsea was Quincy boy, son of the late Peleg F. Jones at the Point, I write you to let the people of Quincy know, through your valuable journal, in what high esteem Alderman Thomas B. Jones is held by our citizens. Mr. Jones has served in the Chelsea City government several years, being now in the upper branch, and at the late election received the highest vote cast for either of the representatives elect. Mr. Jones is a successful merchant in Boston, and for sterling qualities as a business man and gentleman has been honored with the high trust of representing us in the next General Court. Chelsea sends greeting to Quincy. J. H. C.

Rev. F. N. Zabriskie preached his farewell sermon to a full house last Sunday evening, occupying the stand-point and using the remarkable language of Paul, calling God to witness to the fidelity of his labors in this vineyard of the Lord. The good wishes of many of the society go with him. The Baptists showed an excellent fraternal spirit by being present in a body. Their able and kindly pastor, Rev. Dr. Hague, participated in these closing exercises.

Several valuable acquisitions to our growing community have been made within the past few weeks, and a call for houses to rent is quite urgent.

Business with most of our people is said to be lively,—the only trouble seems to be to catch it.

Read the "Public Opinion," a non-partisan paper published by Wasserman & Morris, 261 South Fourth street, Phil.

DISTRICT COURT. The following criminal cases have been brought before this Court the present week:

Charles H. Deslaurers, of Weymouth, was arraigned for an assault on Jonathan Cullen. After a partial examination the case was continued to Monday next.

Timothy Fogarty, of Weymouth, for being drunk, was fined $3 and costs. Daniel Healey, of Quincy, for being drunk, was fined $3 and costs.

Warren Hatch, of Quincy, for a similar complaint, paid the same fine and costs.

John Campbell, of Randolph, for assault on Michael J. McLaughlin, by striking him in the face with brass knuckles. He was sent to the House of Correction for two months.

Walter Doane, of Brockton, was brought before the court on complaint of Deputy Sheriff French for the larceny of three geese, the property of one Charles L. Prescott of Quincy. It appeared in evidence the defendant with several parties were claiming on the Quincy beach, and discovered said geese a short distance from said beach and supposing they were wild geese captured them, and after keeping them several weeks, sold them to one Charles T. Sumner of Randolph. Found guilty, and paid $15 and costs, amounting to $38.45.

Grand Reception and Banquet.

We learn that a grand reception is to be given at the Town Hall in this place on Monday, the 24th inst., to the State Officers and others, elected on the 4th instant. Gov. Tilton, John D. Long, Governor elect, Byron Weston, Henry B. Pierce, Benj. W. Harris and many other popular and distinguished leaders of the Republican party are expected to be present.

After the speaking in the Hall the guests will be invited by the Young Men's Republican Club to a banquet in the Lyceum Hall.

A very pleasant and interesting time is expected. The gallery will be reserved for the ladies.

Probate Court.

Judge White held his regular monthly session of Prob. Court in this town, on Wednesday last, when the following business was transacted:—

WILLS PRESENTED.—John Kirk of Quincy; Norton Pratt, of Braintree; Silas Canterbury of Weymouth.

APPOINTMENTS.—John Q. Adams, executor of the will of John Kirk of Quincy. William H. Faxon, administrator of the estate of John Faxon of Quincy; bond $10,000. Sarah G. Smith, administrator of the estate of John M. Smith of Milton; bond $1000. Lewis C. Thayer, administrator of the estate of James S. Thayer of Braintree; bond $2000. Samuel Babcock, administrator of the estate of Jeremiah W. Babcock of Milton; bond $10,000. Ann Canterbury executrix of the will of Silas Canterbury of Weymouth. Nathaniel F. Safford, administrator of the estate of Joseph Morton of Milton. Francis B. Pratt, Edwin Pratt and Luban Pratt, executors of the will of Norton Pratt of Braintree; bond $40,000. Jonathan Howe declined to serve longer as trustee of Poly Whitmarsh and others, named in the will of Susan Tufts of Weymouth, and John W. Pinkerton was appointed in his place; bond $6,000.

ACCOUNTS PRESENTED.—Ellen Garrity of Quincy; Elias Richards, executor of will of Lucy Chapman of Weymouth; Joseph M. Glover, administrator of estate of Benjamin Gay of Quincy; Joseph M. Churchill, administrator of estate of Elizabeth Peters of Richmond, Va.

INVENTORIES.—Estate of Urbane Cudworth of Quincy; George A. Barker, Peter B. Turner and C. C. Brackett, appraisers. Estate of Patrick McKay of Milton; Oran Bates, E. B. Andrews and Edward H. Adams, appraisers. Estate of William Hincks of Cohasset; Levi N. Bates, John W. Bates and Charles H. Willard, appraisers. Estate of Patrick McManus of Braintree; Lewis Dyer, Andrew Harvey and Patrick Maguire, appraisers.

PETITIONS.—Josiah Reed, guardian of Quincy I. Adolph S. and Betsey O. Loud of Weymouth, was granted leave to sell real estate of said wards. Belina W. Gay petitioned for a dower in the estate of Francis G. Gay of Dover.

Chelsea Sends Greeting.

To the Publishers of the Patriot: Being aware that one of the newly elected Representatives to the General Court from the city of Chelsea was Quincy boy, son of the late Peleg F. Jones at the Point, I write you to let the people of Quincy know, through your valuable journal, in what high esteem Alderman Thomas B. Jones is held by our citizens. Mr. Jones has served in the Chelsea City government several years, being now in the upper branch, and at the late election received the highest vote cast for either of the representatives elect. Mr. Jones is a successful merchant in Boston, and for sterling qualities as a business man and gentleman has been honored with the high trust of representing us in the next General Court. Chelsea sends greeting to Quincy. J. H. C.

Rev. F. N. Zabriskie preached his farewell sermon to a full house last Sunday evening, occupying the stand-point and using the remarkable language of Paul, calling God to witness to the fidelity of his labors in this vineyard of the Lord. The good wishes of many of the society go with him. The Baptists showed an excellent fraternal spirit by being present in a body. Their able and kindly pastor, Rev. Dr. Hague, participated in these closing exercises.

Several valuable acquisitions to our growing community have been made within the past few weeks, and a call for houses to rent is quite urgent.

Business with most of our people is said to be lively,—the only trouble seems to be to catch it.

Read the "Public Opinion," a non-partisan paper published by Wasserman & Morris, 261 South Fourth street, Phil.

DISTRICT COURT. The following criminal cases have been brought before this Court the present week:

Charles H. Deslaurers, of Weymouth, was arraigned for an assault on Jonathan Cullen. After a partial examination the case was continued to Monday next.

Timothy Fogarty, of Weymouth, for being drunk, was fined $3 and costs. Daniel Healey, of Quincy, for being drunk, was fined $3 and costs.

Warren Hatch, of Quincy, for a similar complaint, paid the same fine and costs.

John Campbell, of Randolph, for assault on Michael J. McLaughlin, by striking him in the face with brass knuckles. He was sent to the House of Correction for two months.

Walter Doane, of Brockton, was brought before the court on complaint of Deputy Sheriff French for the larceny of three geese, the property of one Charles L. Prescott of Quincy. It appeared in evidence the defendant with several parties were claiming on the Quincy beach, and discovered said geese a short distance from said beach and supposing they were wild geese captured them, and after keeping them several weeks, sold them to one Charles T. Sumner of Randolph. Found guilty, and paid $15 and costs, amounting to $38.45.

A SWINDLE. The Denver Land Company whose advertisement was published in the PATRIOT last week turns out to be a swindle and we caution all who have been inclined to invest a dollar on reading the liberal offer of this spurious concern, not to do so. The advertisement came to us through a reliable agency in New York, which on finding how matters stood at once stopped the publication and notified us of the arrest of the parties concerned in it.

A GOOD DAY'S WORK. E. F. E. Thayer, the popular auctioneer of Braintree, sold at auction on Wednesday last, in about five hours, $928 worth of standing wood in Braintree.

APPOINTMENT. Mr. Josiah Babcock has received the appointment of Postmaster of East Milton, in place of Jeremiah William Babcock, deceased.

WILLS PRESENTED.—John Kirk of Quincy; Norton Pratt, of Braintree; Silas Canterbury of Weymouth.

APPOINTMENTS.—John Q. Adams, executor of the will of John Kirk of Quincy. William H. Faxon, administrator of the estate of John Faxon of Quincy; bond $10,000. Sarah G. Smith, administrator of the estate of John M. Smith of Milton; bond $1000. Lewis C. Thayer, administrator of the estate of James S. Thayer of Braintree; bond $2000. Samuel Babcock, administrator of the estate of Jeremiah W. Babcock of Milton; bond $10,000. Ann Canterbury executrix of the will of Silas Canterbury of Weymouth. Nathaniel F. Safford, administrator of the estate of Joseph Morton of Milton. Francis B. Pratt, Edwin Pratt and Luban Pratt, executors of the will of Norton Pratt of Braintree; bond $40,000. Jonathan Howe declined to serve longer as trustee of Poly Whitmarsh and others, named in the will of Susan Tufts of Weymouth, and John W. Pinkerton was appointed in his place; bond $6,000.

ACCOUNTS PRESENTED.—Ellen Garrity of Quincy; Elias Richards, executor of will of Lucy Chapman of Weymouth; Joseph M. Glover, administrator of estate of Benjamin Gay of Quincy; Joseph M. Churchill, administrator of estate of Elizabeth Peters of Richmond, Va.

INVENTORIES.—Estate of Urbane Cudworth of Quincy; George A. Barker, Peter B. Turner and C. C. Brackett, appraisers. Estate of Patrick McKay of Milton; Oran Bates, E. B. Andrews and Edward H. Adams, appraisers. Estate of William Hincks of Cohasset; Levi N. Bates, John W. Bates and Charles H. Willard, appraisers. Estate of Patrick McManus of Braintree; Lewis Dyer, Andrew Harvey and Patrick Maguire, appraisers.

PETITIONS.—Josiah Reed, guardian of Quincy I. Adolph S. and Betsey O. Loud of Weymouth, was granted leave to sell real estate of said wards. Belina W. Gay petitioned for a dower in the estate of Francis G. Gay of Dover.

Chelsea Sends Greeting.

To the Publishers of the Patriot: Being aware that one of the newly elected Representatives to the General Court from the city of Chelsea was Quincy boy, son of the late Peleg F. Jones at the Point, I write you to let the people of Quincy know, through your valuable journal, in what high esteem Alderman Thomas B. Jones is held by our citizens. Mr. Jones has served in the Chelsea City government several years, being now in the upper branch, and at the late election received the highest vote cast for either of the representatives elect. Mr. Jones is a successful merchant in Boston, and for sterling qualities as a business man and gentleman has been honored with the high trust of representing us in the next General Court. Chelsea sends greeting to Quincy. J. H. C.

Rev. F. N. Zabriskie preached his farewell sermon to a full house last Sunday evening, occupying the stand-point and using the remarkable language of Paul, calling God to witness to the fidelity of his labors in this vineyard of the Lord. The good wishes of many of the society go with him. The Baptists showed an excellent fraternal spirit by being present in a body. Their able and kindly pastor, Rev. Dr. Hague, participated in these closing exercises.

Several valuable acquisitions to our growing community have been made within the past few weeks, and a call for houses to rent is quite urgent.

Business with most of our people is said to be lively,—the only trouble seems to be to catch it.

Read the "Public Opinion," a non-partisan paper published by Wasserman & Morris, 261 South Fourth street, Phil.

DISTRICT COURT. The following criminal cases have been brought before this Court the present week:

Charles H. Deslaurers, of Weymouth, was arraigned for an assault on Jonathan Cullen. After a partial examination the case was continued to Monday next.

Timothy Fogarty, of Weymouth, for being drunk, was fined $3 and costs. Daniel Healey, of Quincy, for being drunk, was fined $3 and costs.

Warren Hatch, of Quincy, for a similar complaint, paid the same fine and costs.

John Campbell, of Randolph, for assault on Michael J. McLaughlin, by striking him in the face with brass knuckles. He was sent to the House of Correction for two months.

Walter Doane, of Brockton, was brought before the court on complaint of Deputy Sheriff French for the larceny of three geese, the property of one Charles L. Prescott of Quincy. It appeared in evidence the defendant with several parties were claiming on the Quincy beach, and discovered said geese a short distance from said beach and supposing they were wild geese captured them, and after keeping them several weeks, sold them to one Charles T. Sumner of Randolph. Found guilty, and paid $15 and costs, amounting to $38.45.

WILLS PRESENTED.—John Kirk of Quincy; Norton Pratt, of Braintree; Silas Canterbury of Weymouth.

APPOINTMENTS.—John Q. Adams, executor of the will of John Kirk of Quincy. William H. Faxon, administrator of the estate of John Faxon of Quincy; bond $10,000. Sarah G. Smith, administrator of the estate of John M. Smith of Milton; bond $1000. Lewis C. Thayer, administrator of the estate of James S. Thayer of Braintree; bond $2000. Samuel Babcock, administrator of the estate of Jeremiah W. Babcock of Milton; bond $10,000. Ann Canterbury executrix of the will of Silas Canterbury of Weymouth. Nathaniel F. Safford, administrator of the estate of Joseph Morton of Milton. Francis B. Pratt, Edwin Pratt and Luban Pratt, executors of the will of Norton Pratt of Braintree; bond $40,000. Jonathan Howe declined to serve longer as trustee of Poly Whitmarsh and others, named in the will of Susan Tufts of Weymouth, and John W. Pinkerton was appointed in his place; bond $6,000.

ACCOUNTS PRESENTED.—Ellen Garrity of Quincy; Elias Richards, executor of will of Lucy Chapman of Weymouth; Joseph M. Glover, administrator of estate of Benjamin Gay of Quincy; Joseph M. Churchill, administrator of estate of Elizabeth Peters of Richmond, Va.

INVENTORIES.—Estate of Urbane Cudworth of Quincy; George A. Barker, Peter B. Turner and C. C. Brackett, appraisers. Estate of Patrick McKay of Milton; Oran Bates, E. B. Andrews and Edward H. Adams, appraisers. Estate of William Hincks of Cohasset; Levi N. Bates, John W. Bates and Charles H. Willard, appraisers. Estate of Patrick McManus of Braintree; Lewis Dyer, Andrew Harvey and Patrick Maguire, appraisers.

PETITIONS.—Josiah Reed, guardian of Quincy I. Adolph S. and Betsey O. Loud of Weymouth, was granted leave to sell real estate of said wards. Belina W. Gay petitioned for a dower in the estate of Francis G. Gay of Dover.

Chelsea Sends Greeting.

Collector's Sale.

QUINCY, MASS. NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber will sell at Public Auction, On SATURDAY, Dec. 6th, 1879, At 4 o'clock P. M., at the residence of the Collector in said Quincy, for the payment of Taxes assessed thereon for the years 1877, 1878 and 1879, the following described Real Estates:

Lot 4, Section 8. Tax for 1877, $1.40 1878, $1.32

Plan Bellevue Park. Taxed to heirs of Charles F. Ellis. Lot 2, Section 7. Lot 2, Section 13. Tax for 1877, $2.80 1878, $1.80

Lot 3, Section 7. Lot 2, Section 13. Tax for 1877, $2.64 1878, $1.80

Plan Bellevue Park. Taxed to Charles Green. Lot 1, Section 12. Lot 2, Section 12. Tax for 1877, $2.64 1878, $1.80

Section 12. Lot 4, Section 12. Tax for 1877, $2.64 1878, $1.80

Plan Bellevue Park. Taxed to L. A. Lyon. Lot 1, Section 5. Tax for 1877, $1.40 1878, $0.90

Plan Bellevue Park. Taxed to C. C. Nortonson, or his home owned. Two Houses, Atlantic Street. Land with same. Tax for 1878, $15.30 Tax for 1879, $21.12

Taxed to John O'Brien. Home, Railway. 1-2 acre land with the same. Tax for 1878, $9.90 Tax for 1879, $14.52

Taxed to Patrick Sweeney. James, Main Street. 1-2 acres land with same. Tax for 1878, $17.10 Tax for 1879, $23.43

Taxed to John Coffey. House off Common Street. 1-2 acre of land with same. Tax for 1878, $15.50 Tax for 1879, $17.82

Taxed to Edward Dunn. Lot 4, Section 7. Lot 11, Section 7. Tax for 1877, $2.80 Tax for 1878, $1.80

Tax for 1879, $2.64. Plan Bellevue Park. Taxed to William S. Patten. Lot 5, Section 4. Tax for 1877, $1.40 1878, $0.90

Plan Bellevue Park. Taxed to A. O. Smith. Lot 13, Section 7. Lot 11, Section 7. Lot 5, Section 8. Lot 10, Section 14. Tax for 1877, $5.60 Tax for 1878, $3.60

Tax for 1879, $5.28. Plan Bellevue Park. Tax

The Quincy Patriot.

SUPPLEMENT.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1879.

William H. Vanderbilt, the richest man, and probably the largest speculator in the country, gives this as his opinion of the financial situation:—"Unless there is something to interrupt the progress of values upward, such as a foreign war or some unforeseen disaster at home, I can conceive no reason why good, healthy securities should not remain near the point they have attained, even if they do not ascend higher. The country is full of growth, enterprise and money. Those three words mean prosperity. We have entered on a fresh career. King all around me, I certainly am."

Mrs. Thankful Taylor is a remarkable Vermont lady seventy years old.—In her younger days she thirsted for a thorough knowledge of English, Greek and Latin, and, being poor, she worked for her books and then studied them as she stood at her spinning-wheel. In this way she not only educated herself in the languages, but she learned ecclesiastical and profane history, medicine, science and general literature.

DARING OUTRAGE. One evening recently a young lady was coming down the steps of Horticultural Hall, Boston, at the close of a performance, when she felt some one pull her hair, which was braided and looped up behind. She discovered subsequently that some rascal had cut the braid close to her head, but on account of the manner in which it was pinned had been unable to detach it.

The trial of Allen N. Adams, charged with being an accessory in the killing of Jennie Clarke, will probably take place at the November term of the Superior Court at Boston. The evidence to be put in against him will be entirely new to the general public, and it is possible that one or both of the defendants in the case just concluded may appear as witnesses.

A wealthy citizen of Hartford, Conn., who has an accomplished daughter, is causing her to be taught a regular trade. She enters heartily into the plan. This is creditable to both father and daughter. There idea is not new, but is often acted upon in Europe. Every member of the German royal family, for instance, is required to learn a trade, and the Crown Prince, we believe, is a skillful printer.

A few days ago, Isaac Cross, of Enfield, N. H., was chopping a big maple tree, 2 1/2 feet in diameter, and, in splitting the butt log, he found a braid of human hair near the heart of the tree, in a hole that had been bored and plugged. From the size of the tree it must have been placed there more than fifty years ago.

A gentleman employed on one of the Portland and New York boats makes quite a sum of money by his speculation in cats. He takes five or six cats to New York with him every time he goes there, and sells them to people who want pets or "movers."

The Temperance Alliance of Louisiana avers that in that State last year spirits worth $42,000,000 were drunk, or $2,000,000 worth more than the combined value of the sugar, cotton and rice crops of the State.

The past season, 70,000 baskets of peaches were raised on one farm in Maryland. The crop sold for about $42,000.

Wm. G. A. PATTEE,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
26 PEMBERTON SQUARE,
BOSTON.
Residence School Street, Quincy.
June 14. 1y

A. W. HAYES,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
—o—
Assistance rendered in Probate matters.
Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and 6 to 8 P. M.
WHICHER'S NEW BLOCK.
Quincy, June 23. 1f

J. B. CHAFFIN,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
In John Q. Adams' Office.
Quincy, March 15. 1f

W. H. SHERMAN, M. D.
Physician and Surgeon.
WOULD Respectfully inform the people of Quincy and vicinity that he is permanently located at Room C, Whicher's Block,
Temple St., and is prepared to treat both surgical and medical diseases either at his office or the houses of his patrons.
N. B. Wednesday of each week Dr. Sherman will give his services free of charge.
Quincy, Sept. 20. 1f

Charles S. French,
DENTIST.
Cor. Hancock and Chestnut Streets.

ALL operations in Dentistry skillfully performed. Ether or Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. Office open day or evening.
Quincy, Nov. 16. 1f

DR. F. J. BONNEY,
DENTIST!
FAXON'S BLOCK, - CHESTNUT STREET

ALL operations in dentistry faithfully performed. Teeth extracted by the use of Ether or Nitrous Oxide Gas.
Office open Day and Evening.
Quincy, Feb. 23. 1f

JOHN O. HALL,
ACCOUNTANT.
SETS OF BOOKS opened or closed.
ACCOUNTS examined and adjusted.
— ADDRESS —
Box 184, Quincy P. O.
July 19. 1y

AIR SLACKED LIME
— FOR SALE BY —
J. Loud & Co.,
— AT THE —
QUINCY GRAIN STORE.

The best Disinfectant for Purifying
Stables, Privies, Cesspools,
AND SPRINKLING IN CELLARS.
Quincy, July 26. 1f

BENJ. F. CURTIS,
— DEALER IN —
Hemlock, Spruce and Pine Lumber.
A full assortment constantly on hand.
CANAL WHARVES!!
Quincy, Jan. 19. 1y

NOTICE!
S. N. MALONEY,
STONE MASON AND CONTRACTOR,
I would inform the public that he is ready for business again. Stone Work in all its branches. Wells dug and stoned to order. Particular attention given to setting Cemetery Work of all kinds. Work done in a skillful manner. All orders left at his residence, Robinson street, West Quincy, Mass., or at P. O. Box 16, will receive prompt attention.
Quincy, March 1. 1y

Summary of News.

The Needle Works at Middleboro' turn out from 15,000 to 17,000 needles per day.

The Boston custom-house employes were paid off last week in gold and silver.

Frank Johnson is engaged, in Boston, in attempting to walk a mile and a half in every hour for a thousand hours.

In Salem, New Bedford, Chelsea and Fall River not a single Adams vote was cast.

Pocomoke City, Md., comes forward with a little negro child having one eye black and the other blue.

Queen Victoria reads the great papers of London every day before noon.

There is one estate in California just half the size of the State of Rhode Island.

The value of church property of all kinds in New York is estimated at $117,610,000.

A telephone was worked successfully the other day between Syracuse and Buffalo, a distance of 168 miles.

A Baroness de Rothschild is the happy owner of a private railroad car that cost twenty thousand dollars.

A young lady has been nominated for school superintendent for Green county, Wis.

At a meeting of the Executive Council the Governor appointed the 27th inst. as a day for thanksgiving in Massachusetts.

The annual conference of the Unitarian churches of Norfolk county met with the First Congregational Church, Rev. Solon W. Bush, Needham, Wednesday.

Twenty-five thousand gold eagles came over in one steamer recently. This is the kind of bird we want to come home to roost.

A pulpit telephone has been put into the church at North Dana, Mass., connecting with the sick chamber of Miss Luthers Weaver, who has been an invalid for twenty-five years, and proves a complete success.

A young lady of New York was married the other day in the wedding gown of her grandmother, made 70 years ago, without alteration, and so similar were the styles that no one knew but it was a new one "made for the occasion."

Four Hours in the Dark.

It is a humiliating confession to make—but geography is pitiless, and our national vainglory must bow to its decrees—that for four hours in every twenty-four the entire territory of the United States is deprived of sunshine. As the sun goes down on our farthest Aleutian islands its morning rays are just lighting up the hill tops of the western coast of Ireland and the breadth of the Atlantic lies between us and daylight. To our Fenian citizens this may be another and cogent reason for annexing the dear little isle of the harp and shamrock; but until it is done the exultant cry of the Rocky Mountain Presbyterian, that the sun never sets on the United States, must be admitted to be a trifle exaggerated. It does set every day, and, paradoxically, four hours before it rises.

In the depth of our humiliation we may possibly console ourselves with the reflection that—though our British cousin can say with truth what we cannot—the sun really shines on the United States when it is up. We have to submit to four hours of sunlessness a day; England is lucky to get four hours of sunshine. So life has its compensations, and existence in the United States remains endurable, though we do not (geographically speaking) make quite so great a spread as we thought.—Scientific American.

Mr. Henri Perabeau,
Organist at St. John's Church,
Has located in QUINCY,
AND WILL GIVE LESSONS ON THE
PIANO, CHURCH ORGAN, &c.

WITH the privilege of practising on the fine Hook's Organ in St. John's Church. Also.—Lessons given in HARMONY. Mr. Perabeau is a half-brother of Prof. Ernst Perabo, the celebrated Pianist of Boston, and also his teacher.
Residence, corner of Elm and Mechanic streets.
Quincy, Sept. 27. 6m

FRANCIS W. PARKER,
Superintendent of Schools.

OFFICE HOURS.
Mondays and Saturdays,
From 8 to 12 A. M.
Office in the National Granite Bank Building.
Quincy, May 8.

WHITMAN & BRECK,
Civil Engineers & Surveyors

CORNER OF DEVONSHIRE & WATER STREETS,
BOSTON.
Entrance 85 Devonshire and 16 Water Streets.)

Particular attention paid to Land Surveying, laying out private grounds, and the general improvement of Real Estate. Plans and working drawings of public and private buildings carefully prepared.
H. T. WHITMAN, C. E. C. BRECK.
Dec. 14. April 15

CHARLES HATCH,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor.

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE ON
Railroad St., near Quincy Station.

Surveys, Plans and Deeds made of Real Estate. Estimates furnished for the building of structures of all kinds. Measurements of work made for contractors and mechanics.
Owner of notes and plans recently belonging to MR. J. E. STARBUCK.
All orders promptly attended to.
P. O. BOX 141.
Quincy, Aug. 23. 1f

C. S. WHITING,
DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF FRESH FISH,
— AND — OYSTERS,
QUINCY AVENUE, QUINCY.
June 29. 1f

IRA LITCHFIELD,
Carpenter and Builder,
PEARL STREET,
SOUTH QUINCY.
Feb. 14. 1f

P. H. GAVIN,
PLUMBER.
98 Hancock Street, Quincy.
Store formerly occupied by T. G. Emerson, in Adams' block.

Orders addressed to Box 75 Quincy Post Office, will receive prompt attention.
EVERY VARIETY of PLUMBING WORK done at lowest prices.
Quincy, Jan. 28. 1f

JOS. W. LOMBARD,
Auctioneer and Real Estate Agent,
Hancock Court.
Quincy, Sept. 21. 1f

H. FRENCH, JR.,
House and Sign Painter,
IN EVERY VARIETY.
Washington Street, Quincy.
Feb. 10

Mr. W. H. Packard.
Mr. J. M. Hayward.
Mr. W. H. Packard.
Mr. J. J. Lord.
Mr. A. J. Preston.
Harry B. Sanborn.
Charlie Sage.
Miss Fannie Wood.
Miss Minnie Pratt.
Horns of Persians.
Children.

Pianist.
Organist.
Stage Manager.

CONDUCTOR.

ry, of Boston,
rooms of Messrs.
at Organ from the Hamlin Organ Co.
ge will be lighted by Boston Electric Co.

ed seats, 35 cts.
e Reserved.

Holden's

street, on and after seats to commence

if

ELLIO"

RO.

mental music!

MASS.

ton.

3y

CE!

HALF!

grateful for the very tended this season,
the Ladies and Gen-
nity, that the

HALF

SCHOOL.

HALL, commene-

34th, at 7 45 P. M.

ONS and TWO AS

GENTLEMEN, $2.00;

Pianist, MR. E. A.

the pianoforte.

2w

er's Notice.

that the subscriber

Administrator, of the

BABCOCK,

ity of Norfolk, de-

himself that trust

upon the estate of the same; and all

are called upon

OCK, Administrator.

15-3w

Notice.

that the subscriber

ated Executors of the

PRATT,

county of Norfolk, de-themselves that trust

upon the estate of the same; and all

are called upon

PRATT, Executors.

3w

A's Notice.

that the subscriber

Administrator, of the

SMITH,

of Norfolk, decessed,

that trust by giving

upon the estate of

the same; and all

are called upon

SMITH, Administrator.

15-3w

Sale.

ry, Nov. 14th, 1879.

and will be sold at

SATURDAY

the center next, at three at my office in Quincy,

the title and interest,

th William L. Pratt, of Norfolk, had on est, at 11 o'clock, A.

me was attached on dwelling-house and Colonsset, in said

described as follows,

athwest corner of the

of South Main and orth on South Main orthwesterly by the Pratt, thence south

and to Summer street,

ner street to the point

N. M. FRENCH,

Deputy Sheriff.

3w

of Real Estate.

of Sale contained in a

ed given by Sally C.

Abraham M. Alpaugh,

etc. and recorded

English hay and many other arti-

The sale commences at 9 o'clock A.

The Quincy Patriot.

SUPPLEMENT.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 15, 1879.

Both Mistaken.

Lord Seaforth, who was born deaf and dumb, was to dine one day with Lord Melville. Just before the time of the company's arrival, Lady Melville sent into the drawing-room a lady of her acquaintance who could talk with her fingers to dumb people, that she might receive Lord Seaforth. Presently Lord Guildford entered the room; and the lady taking him for Lord Seaforth began to play her fingers nimbly; Lord Guildford did the same, and they had been carrying on a conversation in this manner for about ten minutes, when Lady Melville joined them. Her female friend immediately said, "Well, I have been talking away to this dumb man." "Dumb!" cried Lord Guildford; "bless me, I thought you were dumb."

Good Advice.

Don't be discouraged if occasionally you slip down by the way, and others tread over you a little. In other words do not let a failure or two dishearten you; accidents will happen; miscalculations will sometimes be made, things will turn out differently from our expectations, and we may be sufferers. It is worth while to remember that fortune is like the skies in the month of April, sometimes cloudy and sometimes clear and favorable; and as it would be folly to despair of again seeing the sun, because the day is stormy, so it is unwise to sink into despondency when fortune frowns, since, in the common course of things, she may be expected to smile again.

BRAINTREE. The business at North Braintree is quite good, so says the Observer. The woolen yarn factory of Alva S. Morrison & Brothers is busy; and the business at the tannery is still good. Mr. Drinkwater is obliged to have two gangs of workmen, one to work during the day and another during the night.

MIDDLEBORO. They are making 300 pounds of confectionery a day at Bourne's establishment in Middleboro.

During the past season 1,200,000 bricks have been made at Sampson's yard in Middleboro, all of which have found ready sale. Twenty-four men have been employed, and nearly 600 cords of wood consumed.

PLYMOUTH. The jail and house of correction at Plymouth are greatly overcrowded. Captain Harmon has forty-two criminals on hand, including thieves, burglars and murderers. There are not cells enough for the safe keeping of this dangerous crowd, and ten of the less criminal are lodged in the corridors of the prison under guard.

It is claimed that it was not Robert Fulton but Capt. Sam Morey, a backwoodsman of New Hampshire, who first applied steam to navigation. Morey worked a little steam launch on the Connecticut river several years before Fulton's invention, and it was from him that the accredited inventor fashioned his model.

The largest cotton crop ever gathered in Texas in one year, before the war, was 200,000 bales. The crop this year will reach 1,000,000 bales, and the increase is due to white labor.

J. R. WILD,

Manufacturer and dealer in

CARRIAGES,

Express Wagons,
SLEIGHS, PUNGS, &c.

ALL BRANCHES OF

REPAIRING!

neatly and promptly done.

ALSO, THE BEST

HORSE - SHOEING

SKILLED WORKMEN.

RELIEF FOR

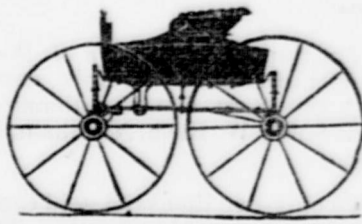

Lameness, Stumbling, Interfering,
Overreaching, Quartercracks,
Corns, &c.

46 and 48 Hancock St.

Quincy, March 22.

tf

SOMETHING NEW!

A MAN in the Carriage business, who dares to do work for a reasonable price at the cost of the displeasure and loss of friendship of men in the same business, who says he is running down prices.

JOHN GORDON,

Thanks his friends and the public for their very liberal patronage and encouragement which they have shown him for the very short time he has been in business, and begs leave to say that he is better prepared than ever before to give perfect satisfaction to all work intrusted to him, having just finished a two-story building next to Dr. GORDON'S and near the Academy, on HANCOCK STREET.

I warrant all my work to give perfect satisfaction or no charge will be made. Do not think I do not mean what I say, but try and see for yourself, or ask some of your neighbors for whom I have done work.

I have also employed one of the BEST HORSE SHOEERS AND JOBBERS in the country who told me to warrant to stop (with twice shoeing) the worst case of interfering that can be produced or no charge will be made and he would bear the expense.

Painting and Trimming also done.

Work taken to and from shop at request of owner, free of charge.
Quincy, Oct. 4. 3m

REMOVAL

ROBERTSON'S BLOCK.

THE Subscriber would inform his friends and the public that he has moved his stock to ROBERTSON'S BLOCK,

Where he will keep a good supply of

Provisions & Vegetables

Also, Pastry, &c.,

WHICH WILL BE SOLD LOW.

A. W. HICKS.

Quincy, March 29.

tf

NATIONAL HOTEL,

CORTLANDT Street, Near Broadway,
NEW YORK.

HOTCHKISS & POND, Proprietors.

ON THE EUROPEAN PLAN.

The restaurant, cafe and lunch room attached, are unsurpassed for cheapness and excellence of service. Rooms 50 cts. to $2 per day, $3 to $10 per week. Convenient to all ferries and city railroads.

New Furniture. New Management.
Feb. 8. ly

Budget of Fun.

On a certain American railroad a young man put his head out of the car window to kiss his girl good-by, when the train went ahead so rapidly that he kissed an aged African female at the next station. This is supposed to be the fastest time ever made on a railway train.

A school-boy spelled d-e-c-i-m-a-l and pronounced it dismal. "What do you mean by calling that dismal?" exclaimed the teacher.

"'Cause it is," answered the boy. "It's dismal fractions. All fractions are dismal. There isn't a bit of fun in any of 'em."

There are two men in Vermont who are so old that they have both forgotten who they are, and there is nobody alive who knows. Next.

Where's yer oldest inhabitant now?

Ebenezer Stone and his wife Flora, out in Illinois, were divorced not long ago, but afterward they came to an understanding, were remarried, and are now happy together as far as we know. It was a case of Eb and Flo, it would seem; at any rate they are tide now.

The Oil City Derrick asks this conundrum: "What is a gentleman?" A gentleman, old fellow, is a man who comes into a newspaper office once in a great while and pays for his paper in advance. We always thought you knew that, else we should have told you before.

A little girl heard some one say "Tempus fugit," and asked her mother what it meant. She was told that it was one way of saying "Time flies."—A few days afterward she said, very gravely: "Why, ma, how tempus does fidget!"

"I'm going on a journey, pa," the printer's daughter said; and as he thought of losing her, tears sad and salt he shed; but when he soon discovered her upon his workman's lap, "this is the jour-knee that I meant," she said unto her pap.—American Punch.

Some men make a great flourish about always doing what they believe to be right, but always believe that is right which is for their own interest.

A Quaker having sold a fine-looking, blind horse, asked the purchaser: "Well, my friend, dost thou see any fault in him."

"None whatever," was the reply.

"Neither will he ever see any in thee," said honest Broadbrim.

An Irishman was asked at dinner whether he would take some apple-pie.

"Is it houlsome?" inquired Teddy.

"To be sure it is; why isn't it?"

"Because," said Teddy, "I once had an uncle that was killed with appleplexy, and sure enough I thought it was something of the same sort."

"Bob, Harry Smith has one of the greatest curiosities you ever saw?"

"Don't say so—what is it?"

"A tree which never sprouts, and which becomes smaller the older it grows."

"Well that is a curiosity. Where did he get it?"

"From California."

"What is the name of it?"

"Axle-tree! It once belonged to a California omnibus." Scene closes by Bob throwing an inkstand at a half closed door.

POST OFFICE STORE.

A Fine Stock of

Fancy Goods,

Small Ware,

Stationery,

Confectionery,

Cigars,

Tobacco, &c.

Each and all are the

BEST

OF THEIR KIND.

Try Our BEST 5 Cent Cigar

Havanna Filled,

Made expressly for us, and sold over a Counter, but our own.

THE BEST CIGAR EVER SOLD FOR

5 CENTS

POST OFFICE.

MAILS CLOSE FOR

New York and South and West, 12:00
Boston and North, West and East 12:00
Cape Cod, direct by O. C. R. R. 12:00
Boston, and all other places, 12:00

Quincy Point, 12:00

Domestic and British Money Orders and

MAILS DUE FROM

Boston, and all other places, 12:00
New York, South and West, 12:00
Boston, and all other places, 12:00

" " North and East, 12:00
Cape Cod, direct by O. C. R. R. 12:00
South and West, 12:00

Quincy Point, 12:00

JOHN B. BASS, P. M.

Quincy, July 5

BAILEY & BAXTER,

Carpenters and Builders

CORNER SCHOOL AND PLEASANT STS.

CONTINUE to give attention to Carpenters Work of all descriptions.

All orders promptly attended to and faithfully executed.

Bells Hung to Order.

Door and Window Screens a specialty. Set is the time to get them ready for Summer use. Slaten Roofs Repaired in the best manner. Don't go to Boston for repairs when it can be done cheaper at home. Also, Light Truss and Scroll Sawing. Locks repaired, kept oiled. Skates ground and Saws filed.
H. BAILEY. J. S. BAXTER.
Quincy, Jan. 4.

ESTABLISHED 1839.

FREDERICK & FIELD.

Granite Monuments.

Cemetery and Building Work,
OF ALL DESCRIPTION.

Light, Medium and Dark Blue

QUINCY GRANITE.

FROM OUR OWN QUARRIES.

Or any other variety New England Granite furnished.

STEAM POLISHING WORKS.

Granite Statuary executed in the most Artistic Manner.

Bronze Statuary furnished to order.

Quincy, July 12.

BOOTS & SHOES.

Made and Repaired.

THE subscriber would inform his friends and the public, that he has enlarged his shop and is now better prepared than ever to do the work at short notice, and on reasonable terms.

PEREZ JOYCE.

Quincy Avenue, near Liberty Street.

Sept. 25.

A certain Mortgage Deed given by Sally C. David Warren to Abram M. Alphonso, of Quincy, was lost, and recopied.

The Quincy Patriot.

ESTABLISHED IN 1837.

A Family Paper devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

NUMBER 47

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1879.

43D VOLUME.

PRICE 5 CENTS.

CONDITIONS.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the Publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary rates, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual Advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents to receive Advertisements for the Patriot.

BOSTON.—S. M. PATTINGILL & Co., S. R. STILES, HORACE DODD and T. C. EVANS.

NEW YORK.—S. M. PATTINGILL & Co. GEO. P. ROWELL & Co. and FRANKLIN & Co.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—BOWELL & CHESMAN.

Our Schools.

A Morning in the Quincy Schools.

(Continued from last week.)

BOUNDARIES.

Were easy, because of the actual ridges of land and the blue broad ocean under their hands, and, of course, they were correct. To the minute observations of a child the small ridges and scallops of earth each had its own character, unlike its fellows, and to be named by its proper title. "Now make some really good sentences, to give me the boundaries of the great central plain." "It extends from the Rocky mountains on the west to the Appalachians on the east." "George, why do you say 'It' instead of 'the great central plain'?" "Don't want to say the same thing twice, and they know you are talking about the same thing until you stop." "Mean—Miss Morse had said laughingly in answer to my question, 'grammar' there is no grammar taught in town except what comes in with the other lessons," and here was a specimen of the Quincy way of getting at the pronouns. George goes on with his central plain—"It is the great central plain, the foot of the Rocky Mountains, but here it gradually slopes." "What do you mean by gradual?" "A little at a time," Teacher, pointing to a Northern river. "What's this?" "MacKenzie." "Going north?" "Yes; it must, don't you see, because of the height of land."

New York Fashions.

BONNETS AND HATS.

Just think of an owl's head—not a little one either—being perched on a bonnet; the great eyes staring at you. Yet this is what I have seen at more than one fashionable milliner's. As for bugs, if I were to tell you the number I saw on one bonnet, you would never believe me. Who could believe that more than one hundred were gathered together; old and young, big and little. But there they were, not only large as life, but quite as natural, inasmuch as they were real, genuine Brazilian bugs.

A charming bonnet was worn the other day by Miss Valeria as she came in from driving. It was of dark green satin antique, lightened by rich ostrich plumes shaded from dark green into gold. Drawing off her creamy white lace top gloves, she laid them carefully away with the bonnet upon her Weber piano, and seated herself for some moments' repose in an easy chair, when leisure was afforded for a survey of her dress, which was a Hortensia costume of green striped velvet made with untrimmed lower skirt and panier polonaise of green and gold brocade. She was won greatly upon the New York public, and is now, as we all know, a great favorite. I will add that not Valeria only, but all the other leading members of Mapleson's company are using the Weber piano.

BRIDAL AND EVENING COSTUMES.

White satin is the leading material for a bridal costume. An elegant one recently worn by a wealthy bride, was of white satin, made with long, square train, panier drapery extending from the plaited front; square-necked basque and elbow sleeves. It was finished with white jet passementerie and embroidered illusion. A bouquet of orange blossoms and white crushed roses was placed on the left side of the corsage, from which a spray of buds extended half way around the neck. The veil of illusion falling over the face was attached by orange blossoms and white crushed roses. The four bride-maids wore dresses of white illusion over white silk made demit-train. The corsage square necked basques, sleeves of illusion and silk reaching to the wrist. Two were furnished with sprays of blue flowers and two with pink. On evening toilets in general, flowers if used are disposed in bouquets or small sprays, and this to the disadvantage of garlands. But the introduction of gaily colored brocades and embroidered silks has greatly interfered with the employment of flowers. Hand embroidered satins, silks and velvets are indeed among the choicest novelties of the season, and are combined with plain material of like character.

FASHIONS IN FURS.

Sets of tiger cat and leopard skin in the natural colors are noticeable novelties, and they are very pretty. Pretty because they are in keeping with the present abundance in the way of color, and also because they are so very different from what we have been accustomed to. Prices too are moderate, since a muff may be bought for $15. I don't say anything about boas, for as it happens, boas are not the thing just now.

The rage for silk dolmans trimmed with fur has almost driven out anything around the neck, but if anything is desired it should be an echape, a sort of long scarf. Little fur bags are exceedingly cunning, and of course are worn attached at the side. A pretty set of tiger cat was worn the other day by Miss Vanderbilt—echape, muff and bag. Her costume was the new Clelia skirt and Romelia paillet of mixed cloth. For indoor wear the Marquise Wrapper is stylish, being three-fourths light and having a panier effect, given by a cut away jacket. The jacket can be omitted and the design will then be a plain Gabrielle.

THE SHABBY UMBRELLA.

Strange how shamed a man will be of a shabby umbrella—one of those slovenly, corrupt affairs, with the bleached out covering divorced from a third of the rib-rips, and a shoe-string clasped around its waist in lieu of the long varnished elastic! How he will hide as far as possible under his arm, run it up his coat sleeve, tuck it away beneath the folds of his coat, keep it between himself and the wall; and when he gets in the car how careful he is to dispose of it in the darkest possible corner! And if by chance, anybody spies it out, how quick

"Tough, madam—tough did you say?" said the irascible brother to the landlady, as he was trying to carve what was ostensibly a chicken—"Yes; and were I to give my opinion on the fowl, I should say it was old enough to have scratched up the seeds of original sin when they were first planted."

Miscellany.

MAXWELL'S GOOD FAIRY.

It would have been difficult to imagine a greater contrast than was presented by two women who were conversing together in a small cottage house at Pendleton, one summer day. One was pale and sickly looking, with woe-begone face, wearing close mourning, and speaking with a lugubrious whine. The other and much the younger, a girl of sixteen, was a brilliant blonde, neatly and becomingly dressed in a chintz suit of blue and white, with a coquettish chip hat with blue feathers. Her lips and cheeks bloomed with health, and her eyes were radiant with youth's happiness. Yet, as her companion spoke, a shadow came over the lovely face and fair, out-clouding the radiance there.

"I am sure I can never be thankful enough to dear Maxwell," the elder lady was saying; "but it breaks my heart to think how I've ruined his prospects."

"Ruined his prospects?"

"Yes! I will tell you all about it. You know he has been with Drewitt & Co. for ten years, and they have agreed to take him into partnership, but they required a thousand dollars from him. Young Newbold was very anxious to buy a partnership. The firm gave the preference to Maxwell. But oh! my dear, when he had the thousand dollars saved, and would have been a partner next week—only next week—my troubles came. Just as soon as he got the telegram that my poor husband was dead, he came to me in Omaha. I had not one dollar to put upon another. He paid for everything, and brought me here with all three children; and I never knew until today that he spent so much of his savings that he must give up the partnership and go on working as book-keeper."

"And you?"

"I do not mean to be a burden upon him. I have secured a situation at the seminary to teach German and music, and the children will be educated in part payment. I can easily meet my expenses in the future. Maxwell has furnished this house for me, and has paid a month's rent. There was never such a brother, never; and to think I had all that money! He never told me. Mr. Drewitt told me about the partnership; and when I congratulated Maxwell, the truth had to come out."

"But this is only a delay," said the pretty blonde Ida Hunt, "he will soon save it again."

"Not for this. Old Mr. Drewitt retired next week, and if Maxwell is not prepared to go in, Frank Newbold will take the place. Oh! if only some good fairy would drop a thousand dollars into Maxwell's hands!"

"Good fairies are out of date," said Ida, softly, with a little sigh in her voice. "But I must go. I will come again very soon."

Ida wanted to be alone. She wanted to think over this story Maxwell Hunt's sister had told her—the story that drew her heart closer than ever to him, yet which set him up so much further away from her. She knew that he loved her. He had wooed her frankly, in straightforward, manly earnestness; and she knew, too, that he had waited to secure this partnership before speaking the words that she so dearly needed to hear to read his heart. She had given him love for love, without unmanly boldness, but sweetly and shyly, from the womanly tenderness of her nature.

"And now, now," she thought, hurrying along the village streets, "he will never ask me. He is right. I cannot love him now for being so good to poor Laura; oh! Maxwell! Maxwell!"

She was at home nearly an hour when her uncle and guardian came in. He found Ida at her sewing in the sitting room. After she had brought his slippers and dressing-gown, she sat close beside him, laying her cheek against his arm.

"Uncle John!" she said, coaxingly, "how much money have I got of my very own?"

"About five thousand dollars, if it was all gathered in."

"Could I get a thousand dollars of it?"

"A thousand dollars! Bless my heart! what do you want of a thousand dollars?"

"Please don't ask me. I'll tell you some day. Can I have it?"

"Certainly you can. But really, Ida, it is all securely invested, and is not a large sum, my dear, all together. To take out one-fifth for some piece of extravagance—"

"But I want it so much—so very much, please, Uncle John; and I want it in money."

"Very well. It is your own, to keep, or waste. When do you want it?"

"To-morrow."

"I'll give you a check, then, and we will settle the matter after I sell some of your securities."

"Thank you! Some day I will tell you about it."

"Hm! Very well."

While Ida fully intended to make a free confession, Mr. Hunt more than suspected the destination of the money, and in his heart approved it.

The next day was a dull one; and Maxwell Hunt, coming into the little cottage had fitted up for his widowed sister, had a weary, despondent air, that went to her heart. He was a cheery-

Poetry.

Humanity's Hope.

In its evolutions, from first to last,
Humanity is a success;
For, in the remote ages of the past,
In the beginning, it was less!

The same law controlling you distant star,
Is in the whole of things we see;
In the central sun, and the worlds afar,
From the past, to eternity.

It never varies the breadth of a hair,
In the whole of things we see;
Henceforth, let no poor human soul despair;
The ripe fruit, succeeds the flower!

In Humanity are the living laws,
That made, and keep you, to the end,
Of all our happiness, they are the cause,
Your guard, your counselor, and friend.

Evolution has never failed above,
How can it fail us here?
It evolves all our good of life and love,
And, ignorance, alone must bear.

In childhood this fear comes most into play,
And in matters of the unknown,
When time to darkness, the light of day,
Ere to full manhood, we have grown.

Hence, these eternal laws that still endure,
And keep each comet in its place,
We must suppose sufficient to insure,
The final good of all its race.

Into this hope, Humanity is born,
A living light, and in each breast,
Our star, that leads us in each dismal storm,
By which, each living soul is blest.

—LARRY SENDERLAND
Collegeville, Pa., Nov. 14th, 1879.

OVERCOATS.

A large and fresh stock of

Overcoats for Men,

Overcoats for Boys,

Overcoats for Youths.

In Fine, Medium and Cheap Grades.

—ALSO—

A large stock of

Men's, Youths and Boys'

SUITS,

VERY CHEAP.

—AT—

George Saville's,

90 Hancock Street.

Quincy, Nov. 1.

NEW

FALL and WINTER

GOODS.

I HAVE now in stock a large supply of goods for gentlemen's wear, which were bought for CASH, and am prepared to sell the same at the very lowest prices.

SHAKER SOCKS,

From 15 cents upwards.

A FEW DOZEN PAIRS OF HAND KNIT

Socks, Mittens and Gloves.

— — —

ALL WOOL

UNDERSHIRTS AND DRAWERS.

— — —

LATEST STYLES

HATS AND CAPS.

— — —

White, Colored and ### Woolen Shirts.

— — —

CARDIGAN JACKETS.

Overcoats, Pants, &c.

— — —

CELLULOID COLLARS.

— — —

ARGROSSY SUSPENDERS.

— — —

C. A. SPEAR,

86 Hancock Street,

Quincy, Oct. 25.

BUSSELL'S

PHOTOGRAPH

ROOMS!!

CHESTNUT STREET.

Quincy, Oct. 18.

SECOND-HAND GOODS.

Received this Week!

TWO Good Chamber Sets,
1 Parlor Stove,
1 Seven foot Extension Table,
1 Mahogany Center Table,
1 Eight-foot Office Desk,
1 Washstand,
1 Clothes Wringer,
1 Hip Bath Tub,
Lot of Knives, Forks, Crockery and Glass Ware.

—ALSO—

New Oil Mats for Stoves.

The Best Kerosene Oil in town;
Small Barrels for Children's use.

We don't advertise our prices but guarantee you will be well paid for a visit to the FURNITURE STORE.

HEAD OF THE CANAL.

ALBERT KEATING.

Quincy, Nov. 1.

Boy's Buff Congress Boots

ONLY $1.00

AT REED'S SHOE STORE.

Quincy, Nov. 1.

THE JUICE OF FRUIT

FOR SALE!

THE Subscriber has the juice of eleven kinds of fruit, each and all preserved and refined with sugar, each it what you please, 50¢ up or Wine. It is very nice for cooking purposes and will prevent or cure many complaints of the Human System, such as Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaints, &c., and will almost restore youth to old age.

G. SPEAR.

Quincy, Oct. 18.

GEORGE T. ELLIOT,

TEACHER OF

Vocal and Instrumental Music!

WOLLASTON, MASS.

304 Washington Street, Boston.

Nov. 8.

DRAWING & PAINTING.

MISS E. MERRILL, a pupil of the Boston School of Fine Arts, will receive pupils in Drawing and Painting in Oil, Water Color, or on China. Apply at home on Edw. Street for information, or at the Boston Branch Store, Robertson Block.

Quincy, Oct. 15.

Mr. Henri Perabeau,

Organist at St. John's Church,

Has located in QUINCY.

AND WILL GIVE LESSONS ON THE

PIANO, CHURCH ORGAN, &c.

WITH the privilege of practicing on the fine Hook's Organ in St. John's Church. Also, Lessons given in HARMONY. Mr. Perabeau is a half-brother of Prof. Ernst Perabeau, the celebrated Pianist of Boston, and also his teacher.

Residence, corner of Elm and Mechanic Streets.

Quincy, Sept. 27.

JOS. W. LOMBARD,

Auctioneer and Real Estate Agent,

Hancock Court.

Quincy, Sept. 21.

IRA LITCHFIELD,

Carpenter and Builder,

PEARL STREET,

SOUTH QUINCY.

Feb. 14.

BAILEY & BAXTER,

Carpenters and Builders

CORNER SCHOOL AND PLEASANT STS.

CONTINUE to give attention to Carpenter Work of all descriptions. All orders promptly attended to and faithfully executed.

Bells Hung to Order.

Door and Window Screens a specialty. Now is the time to get ready for summer use. Stained Glass Repaired in the best manner. Don't go to Boston for repairs when it can be done cheaper at home. Also, Light Turning and Sewing. Looks repaired. Keys fitted. Saws ground and Saws filed.

H. BAILEY, J. S. BAXTER.

Quincy, Jan. 4.

ESTABLISHED 1839.

FREDERICK & FIELD.

Granite Monuments,

Cemetery and Building Work,

OF ALL DESCRIPTION.

Light, Medium and Dark Blue.

QUINCY GRANITE.

FROM OUR OWN QUARRIES.

Or any other variety New England Granite furnished.

STEAM POLISHING WORKS.

Granite Statuary executed in the most artistic manner.

Bronze Statuary furnished to order.

Quincy, July 12.

AIR SLACKED LIME

FOR SALE BY—

J. Loud & Co.,

—AT THIN—

QUINCY GRAIN STORE.

The best Disinfectant for Purifying

Stables, Privies, Cesspools,

AND SPRINKLING IN CELLARS.

Quincy, July 26.

ISAIAH WHITE,

DEALER IN

FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUIT

OF ALL KINDS.

Jellies and Preserves,

CANNED GOODS, &c.

100 Tremont Street, Boston.

(Under Horticultural Hall.)

NOTICE!

S. S. MOWLEY,

STONE MASON and CONTRACTOR,

would inform the public that he is ready for business again. Stone Work in all its branches. Willing to dig and stone to order. Particular attention given to setting Cemetery Work of all kinds. Work done in a skillful manner. All orders left at his residence, 100 Essex Street, West Quincy, Mass., or at P. O. Box 26, will receive prompt attention.

Quincy, March 1.

NOTICE!

THE Subscriber would inform the citizens of Quincy, that he has purchased a tract of land on South Street, Quincy, known as the Baxter Pasture, which will enable him to supply a variety of Wood, such as Oak, Pine and Chestnut. Also, small or large quantities of Cedar Fences. He still holds himself prepared to do general work, such as Carving, Hiccup, Cleaning Cesspools, &c.

TERRANCE KEENEAN.

Box 540, Quincy Post Office.

S. R. All persons heretofore committing trespass on above land, such as taking Pine and Chestnut, to come from depredations.

Quincy, Oct. 18.

Youth's kip, tap sole, copper tip boots

ONLY $1.00

At Reed's Shoe Store.

Quincy, Nov. 1.

WHITMAN & BRECK,

Civil Engineers & Surveyors

CORNER OF

DEVONSHIRE & WATER STREET'S,

BOSTON.

Entrance 85 Devonshire and 16 Water Sts.

Particular attention paid to Land Surveying, staking out private grounds, and the general improvement of Real Estate. Plans and working drawings of public and private buildings carefully prepared.

H. T. WHITMAN, C. E. C. BRECK.

Quincy, April 12.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT,

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING

—BY—

M. ELIZABETH GREEN

—AND—

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT.

TERMS: $2.50 per year, in advance; $3.00, if paid before the close of the year.

Office: 64 Hancock Street,

—OVER MR. CLAPP'S STORE.

Posters, Cards, Billheads,

Circulars, Labels, Programmes, &c.

PRINTED PROMPTLY,

on the Most Reasonable Terms, and

Greatly Below Boston Prices.

W. H. SHERMAN, M. D.

Physician and Surgeon.

Will 15 Respectfully inform the people of Quincy and vicinity that he is permanently located at

Room C, Whicher's Block,

Quincy, Mass., and is prepared to treat both surgical and medical diseases either at his office or at the homes of his patients.

A. B. Whicher, of each week Dr. Sherman will give his services free of charge.

Quincy, Sept. 20.

DR. F. J. BONNEY,

DENTIST!

CHESNUT STREET

Operations in dentistry faithfully performed. Teeth extracted by the use of the New York Oxide Gas.

Quincy, Feb. 23.

Charles S. French,

DENTIST.

The Quincy Patriot.

With Supplement.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1879.

Short communications and items of news earnestly solicited from friends and patrons.

Anonymous communications are not published.

Notice to Patrons.

According to our usual custom on Thanksgiving week, we shall issue the Patriot next week on Wednesday noon. All communications and advertisements must be handed in on TUESDAY MORNING to insure insertion.

A Grand Banquet.

There will be a grand reception at the Town Hall, on Monday evening next. Letters have been received by the Young Men's Republican Club, from the following gentlemen, elected on the fourth instant, signifying their intention to be present:—John D. Long, Governor elect; George Marston, Attorney General; William N. Taylor, Councilor; C. C. Churchill, County Treasurer; Nathan D. Canterbury, Louis A. Cook and Edwin B. Pratt, Representatives from this district. Hon. F. A. Hobart of Braintree, Hon. J. White Belcher of Randolph, and J. P. Jordan, Esq., of Boston have promised to be present and many other noted dignitaries are expected. Many fine speeches are anticipated.

Music will be furnished by the Belknap Brass Band, assisted by musicians from Boston.

The gallery will be reserved for the ladies.

After the speeches in the hall the speakers will be invited to a supper in the Lyceum Room. Caterers from the city have been secured to provide for the banquet. It will probably be one of the pleasantest gatherings of the season.

Bold Robbery.

The Bowditch house on Greenleaf street, in this town, occupied by Mr. James R. Wild and Mr. Robert Johnson was entered on Wednesday evening between six and seven o'clock, while the families were at tea, and between $200 and $400 stolen.

The robber entered by the front door, turning the key in the lock with a pair of nippers. On entering the thief went upstairs and entered the front chambers, where he found a large quantity of jewelry which he pocketed lively.

Among the articles stolen were a pair of gold bracelets, set of coral earrings, pair of earrings, entire set of coral, diamond ring, pair of gold earrings, lock and chain, neck chain with amethyst ring attached, two pair of gold cuff studs necklace, and many other articles.

Mr. Wild, his father, (John Q. A. Wild.) Mr. Johnson and others were in the house at the time of the robbery, and if the thief had been discovered he might have fared hard. We would caution our citizens about leaving the key in the lock, as many houses this season have been entered by turning the key from the outside.

The Next Lecture.

Wendell Phillips, the world's greatest orator, delivers the best of his lectures, on Daniel O'Connell, the celebrated Irish patriot, next Tuesday evening, Nov. 25th, in the Grand Army Course. Every man, woman and child in the town of Quincy should hear him. Many people regret that they had failed to hear when an opportunity occurred, the orator of the past, like Webster, Everett and Clay. Do not lose this opportunity. Our soldiers boys are giving the very best market affords, regardless of expense. If they fail to pay the greatly increased expenses they cannot afford to try again. Fill the house then for two reasons, to hear the genuine eloquence, and help our boys in blue to give us every year for $1.50 that which costs $4.50 in Boston.

We understand that Mr. Shea, a learned and enthusiastic teacher of the Irish language, will give an instructive lecture upon that subject, which will be free to the holders of season tickets.

Daniel O'Connell, Germania Band, Holland illustrated by a splendid stereoscopic, the Mount Builders and the Irish Language all for one dollar.

It is proposed if the "boys" clear expenses in this course, to give the Quincyites a cheap, instructive, interesting and educational course of lectures, especially adapted to those who are still learning.

CAPTURED. About two o'clock on Thursday morning last, as Mr. Walter H. Ripley, a police officer of this town, was returning home from duty, a team passed him. Mr. R. concluded to watch the movements of the occupants of the vehicle, as it was rather a late hour to be enjoying a ride, and very soon it stopped at the stone yard of Mr. Jesse Bunton, and the occupants took therefrom a large coil of rope and placed it in the wagon. They then started towards Milton, with the constable following in the rear; but after going a short distance they turned a consultation and immediately turned around and started towards West Quincy. Mr. R. also took up the line of march, intent on capturing his prey, and on arriving opposite the residence of Mr. P. F. Lacy, he summoned that gentleman to his assistance, and captured the thieves a short distance from the West Quincy depot. They denied at first having any property but what rightfully belonged to them, but seeing they were cornered they gave themselves up. They were taken to Quincy by Messrs. Ripley and Lacy and safely locked up. They proved to be two young men by the name of Piper, from "New State," Milton, and carried on the junk business. Their ages were twenty and twenty-three. They were sent by Judge Bumpus to jail for one year.

Read the new double column advertisement of Boston Branch store, in today's issue, and then call and order a Thanksgiving supply. Our readers will find a splendid stock at this establishment.

Local Items.

Thanksgiving next Thursday.

Crocheters wanted at Wollaston.

Business is said to be excellent at the iron foundry at Wollaston.

Sweetener has chickens and turkeys which he is selling cheap.

The Collector has another "batch" advertised this week.

John O. Holden has some splendid new designs in silver plated ware.

Rev. Mr. Sively held services in Hingham, last Sunday afternoon.

Who has a good second-hand piano for sale?

Pleasant rooms near the Quincy station are advertised to let.

The thermometer ranged yesterday morning from 10 to 14 degrees above zero. Coldest this season.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

The last half of Mr. Walker's dancing school commences next Monday evening at Faxon Hall.

Last Sunday was very warm and pleasant, and the churches were well filled.

Spear's shooting gallery has been engaged for the season by Carver's Rifle Club.

Workmen have this week commenced the building of a large boot factory on Baxter Place.

An Evening at Church.

One Sunday evening, not long since, I attended, for the first time, one of the many churches in Quincy. I went expecting to enjoy the services. From what I had heard of the pastor, I expected to be interested in the sermon, and a lady said to me, just before entering the door, "if you go once, you will want to go again, to hear the singing if nothing more." The usher in attendance kindly gave me a seat commanding a good view of both pastor and singers. As it was yet early for services to begin, I employed my time in watching the congregation, as one after another came in and took their seats. When all at once the atmosphere of the place was pervaded with a perfume, which was neither Frangipanni, nor yet extract of roses, and turning round, I discovered sitting at a little distance, and yet sufficiently near, what I thought must be a walking beauty shop. I thought at first I must change my seat, or leave the church; but as the service was about to begin, I concluded to make the best of the situation.

A young gentleman at a little distance was talking aloud, but of course would cease to do so, when the services began, but when even the words of prayer, falling from the lips of the pastor failed to lull him into silence, I concluded that the young lady beside him must be deaf, and the communication he was making something which could not possibly be deferred.

I had listened with interest to the Bible lesson read, as also to the singing, and the pastor was reading a beautiful poem, when my attention was attracted by a suppressed laugh; and I soon discovered the cause. A few seats away from me, and yet near enough to be plainly seen, a young lady was making use of a pocket knife to sharpen a lead pencil. I felt some curiosity to know what she was to make of it, and soon learned, to my astonishment, that she used it to write upon the fly leaves, and also several of the pages of the hymn book left in the pew.

I turned my attention again to the poem. At its conclusion the choir sang, and the good man in the pulpit had begun his sermon, when a crackling noise again disturbed me. I looked in the direction of the young lady who was so busily writing in the hymn book, when I saw her last, and found her breaking candy into small bits, with which she amused herself by snapping them over the congregation. Not satisfied with this, her next act was to tear up the slip of hymns left in the pew, to make spit balls, which followed the candy.

As I left the church as the close of service, I asked some friends who sat near me, how they liked the sermon? They replied that "they did not enjoy any part of the service, for the noise and perfume around them."

I approve of every one attending church somewhere, but if they will go to the beer shop as well, I advise them to take pity on those who must sit near them, and go after church is out.

The pastor's discourse was beautiful and soul-cheering, and the singing that evening, did credit to the praise I had heard of it; but I have this to say, when people are so ill-lit as to go to church to disturb the service and destroy the church property, they do not deserve the names of lady and gentleman.

J. B. M.

For the Patriot.

of Temperance Anniversary.

Members of Prohibition Division, No. 1, S. of T., celebrated their first anniversary at their hall, on Thursday evening. Visitors were present from Dorchester and Boston Divisions. After the usual routine of business, the members and visitors were invited to the ante room, where a bountiful oyster supper awaited them. After doing ample justice to the good things prepared for them, the meeting was again called to order. Interesting speeches were then listened to from Bro. Samuel Kelley, P. G. W. A., of Old Bay State Division, Boston; also from F. J. Kimball, Kimball, and Hutchinson, of Dorchester Division, Milton-Lover Mills; P. G. C. Arthur E. Noyes, of Massachusetts Division, Boston, favored the Division with some very interesting and encouraging remarks; also, a very pleasing declaration, which was well received. It was an evening long to be remembered by those present.

FAIR. At the fair held in Thomas' Hall, Quincy Point, for the benefit of the Christian Union Church, on the 12th inst., Mrs. A. F. Woodbury, of Brookline, entertained the audience with some very fine singing, which was highly appreciated. Her voice is sweet and sympathetic, and she sings with excellent tone and expression.

PERSONAL. We are pleased to notice the reelection of Capt. William Sanders as a Representative from New Bedford. As a clerk in the Post Office in this town, under the administration of Geo. L. Gill as Postmaster, and a soldier from this town in the late war, "William" made many friends, who will all heartily join in our congratulations.

CRANBERRIES. Sutton, Mass., is getting famous in the cranberry business. Rev. Fred N. Knapp, of New York and Henry R. and James W. Stockwell, purchased, 12 years ago, a piece of land and water privilege. In 1868 President Hill of Harvard College and Frederick Law Olmstead of New York, took an interest in the business, and in 1870 a company was organized with 191 acres of land, of which 80 acres are suitable for culture. In favorable years the crop averages 1200 bushels.

If you wish to subscribe for a paper that has no political axe to grind, and no favorite candidate, but one that tells both sides of the "Public Opinion" of Philadelphia.

The Weymouth Advance comes to us with a new heading and a general better appearance, than at any time since it was started.

For the Patriot.

The Drama.

POSTON, November 20, 1879.

PAIK. The David Garrick of Mr. Sothern is well worth an audience, presenting as it does a pleasing illustration of his versatility. The play is charming, containing many and varied emotions of the kind to rouse sympathy and admiration, love, honor, self-sacrifice, pathos, all these blended go to make up an ideal character, and Sothern's portrayal is, in the main, highly satisfactory, though he shows wear and nervousness, and lacks much of the gaiety and spirit of his Dundreary. His best scene is in the second act, when simulating the drunkard and imbecile that he may disgust the girl he truly loves, and who loves him, fulfilling a promise to the father, his passionate love flashes out in sparks conquering his honorable intentions, — this he does finely. His love-making in the fourth act is hard and passionate, and much of his dialogue is unintelligible. The balance of the cast is fair. Julia Stewart improves much upon acquaintance. Next week Dundreary's Brother Sam.

MUSEUM. "Dr. Clyde" is one of those plays which excite the question, Why was it written? Without plot, point of reason, conventional, silly, but with perfectly harmless and in spots amusing what may there be for existence hangs upon the marriage of a tradesman's daughter to a nobleman who lives in elegant indolence on father-in-law's money. He is reformed by Dr. Clyde, who makes him believe that father-in-law has been ruined by his extravagance, when he turns about, goes to work, and redeems his own mortgaged estates, much to the happiness of everybody. Papa-in-law shows his appreciation of this commendable scene, a young lady was making use of a pocket knife to sharpen a lead pencil. I felt some curiosity to know what she was to make of it, and soon learned, to my astonishment, that she used it to write upon the fly leaves, and also several of the pages of the hymn book left in the pew.

I turned my attention again to the poem. At its conclusion the choir sang, and the good man in the pulpit had begun his sermon, when a crackling noise again disturbed me. I looked in the direction of the young lady who was so busily writing in the hymn book, when I saw her last, and found her breaking candy into small bits, with which she amused herself by snapping them over the congregation. Not satisfied with this, her next act was to tear up the slip of hymns left in the pew, to make spit balls, which followed the candy.

As I left the church as the close of service, I asked some friends who sat near me, how they liked the sermon? They replied that "they did not enjoy any part of the service, for the noise and perfume around them."

I approve of every one attending church somewhere, but if they will go to the beer shop as well, I advise them to take pity on those who must sit near them, and go after church is out.

The pastor's discourse was beautiful and soul-cheering, and the singing that evening, did credit to the praise I had heard of it; but I have this to say, when people are so ill-lit as to go to church to disturb the service and destroy the church property, they do not deserve the names of lady and gentleman.

J. B. M.

For the Patriot.

Our Boston Correspondent.

The Presidency and Hon. Charles Francis Adams, City Election, Weekly Morning Advertiser.

Boston. Pulmonary Consumption the fatal disease of Massachusetts. Comments on this inevitable malady.

NOVEMBER 20, 1879.

The Presidential malady, says a recent dispatch from New York, "is not a surprising way. It has been currently rumored to-day, and the rumor finds many among the New York politicians, that Mr. Tilden is about to declare himself as heavily in favor of making the Hon. Charles Francis Adams of Massachusetts the Democratic candidate for the Presidency in the approaching election. Mr. Tilden is said to have declared in his belief that Mr. Adams could command the entire vote of the Democracy; that all differences would be settled by Mr. Adams' nomination, and that such a policy selection for second position on the ticket the Democracy would sweep the country." Mr. Adams is one of the purest and noblest of American statesmen, and of many decades in public life of exalted station. He never failed to combine with noblest honor the same. He combines an entire devotion to his country, capability and fidelity to that of his country, the Federal Constitution. In the evening shades of life, his good health and remarkable intellectual vigor remain unimpaired. The United States would be fortunate throughout its length and breadth in the election in 1880 of Mr. Adams to the Presidency.

Our municipal election is near at hand and politicians in each ward are buckling on the harness of warfare. We think Mayor Prince will be re-nominated and elected, but there will be a new deal on the Alderman tickets. The labor reform ticket will be quite an element in the canvass, holding the balance of power in some degree.

As winter approaches the city becomes less healthy, more especially from lung diseases; 125 persons were called to their last account in the week ending Saturday last. Thirty dying of consumption; 2 heart diseases, ten. Six were colored; 77 males and 78 females. Four were women; 80 and 90, and 3 were nearly 100 years of age. Consumption is a fatal malady in Massachusetts, taking off a large fraction of adults in the yearly mortality. In some measure it may be traced to the cold ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation, for we keep our houses too warm in the winter, are among the exciting causes of this great blight to our community. Intemperance is a frequent cause of its development. It is a hereditary and in the view of many, a skillful in medical science, contagious. Medicine fails as a prophylactic. The want of exercise daily in the open air, and the neglect of proper ventilation

The Quincy Patriot.

SUPPLEMENT.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1879.

Pictures of Leadville

We copy from the Arlington Advertiser the following interesting letter written by a Leadville correspondent. As a number of gentlemen of Quincy have gone there to seek their fortunes, we believe it to be of interest to many of our readers:—

"When I went to Leadville, last March, it was a city of about 7000 to 12,000 inhabitants, and at present it ranges from 25,000 to 30,000. The places that were in waste when I went there, and that were covered with sage bushes and timber, are now in the heart of the city.

"The luck of the camp is wonderful. I have seen a poor fellow on the street here uncertain where his next meal would come from, and in a few days be a millionaire and rolling through the streets in a carriage. This is literally true and the instances can be cited. The society of the camp is improving rapidly. Six months ago the ladies could be numbered within the twenties, while the women were within the hundreds. Now hundreds of families have taken up a permanent residence, giving to Leadville as good society as can be found anywhere. While the good society of the place does not differ with the society East, the lower class is developed to an abnormal degree. Gambling and all kinds of vice are as open as any legitimate business, and are open day and night. I can show you in Leadville a gambling saloon 200 feet long by 50 feet wide, in which can be seen at any hour of the day or night, crowds of men playing at all kinds of gambling devices. Miners, smeared with yellow clay of the soil, stand anxiously over the table by the hour, risking the results of their day's take. A band of music is always playing, and the door is as open, and the entrance of people as little noted, as is one of your churches.

It would take hours to tell what Leadville really is; it is the wonder of this and every other age; its marvelous growth, its sudden wealth and its high class of civilization, in so short a time, have never been equaled. The spectacle cannot be seen on the streets of Louisville, what is continuous in Leadville, especially Saturday and Sunday; masses of men rushing along, jostling with each other as if life was at the end of their journey. There is no Sabbath in the business world, and although there are four churches, but few men attend any of them, except the Catholics. There is a class of men known as bunko steers, which is a general term meaning to include all thieves, pickpockets, and confidence men. In the early history of the place their mode of operation was by means of the various confidence games, but the press and officials made it too warm for them at that, and their most approved method at present is by highway robbery, or, as it is known, the "Hand-up" manner. Frequently gentlemen are met, commanded to throw their hands up, and their valuables stripped from them. This has been known to occur in broad daylight. Almost every one carries arms of some kind, and the miners, as a general thing, carry them on the outside. Withal, however, Leadville is a quiet and orderly place, considering its rapid growth and the character of the people that are attracted to and frequent mining camps. In the amusement line three variety theatres are in operation seven nights every week, and by night I do not mean until 10 or 11 o'clock, but all night long. The audiences are composed of all classes, from the business man, who is strictly moral during the day, to the lowest scum of society. It is deemed allowable there for the business man to seek recreation from his toil at these places, as there is no other place for him to go. In addition to the duties of the actresses on the stage, it is their business to circulate through the crowd, and by their blandishments to increase the sales of liquor at the bar.

Daniel McFarland, who killed Richardson for the seduction of his wife, walks the streets seemingly a lonely and distressed old man. Thus thousands of others, with histories sprinkled with romance, may be seen mingling in the busy throng, all attracted by the prospect of wealth, and rushing in the race for gold. In this we have a city different from any other. It is a city of strangers, yet each bound to the other by the magic tie of one uniform purpose, seeking wealth, and all gather from this common sympathy, which, by the way, does not interfere with all the sharp intrigues and tricks of trade. Leadville has a sad side; many men have come there to get rid of griefs and troubles at home, and in this regard it has become a city of refuge. It pains me to see what is so evident in the countenances of many—that they have only brought to this wonderful city the remnant of a ruined life.

Money is made easily and goes easily in the reckless camp. The miner receives from $3.50 to $4.50 per day, while the salaries of clerks and business men range higher than Eastern salaries in the same proportion. One is reminded of the plentiful days of the war.

I think that men in the prime of life, willing to endure the hardships of pioneer life, having tenacity, will and energy, will succeed in Colorado. It may take years, and it may only take months or weeks, but the growth and prosperity of the State will certainly bring with it fortunes to those who persevere and endure. The cost of living does not greatly exceed the cost of living in the States. At the best hotels day board is from $10 to $12 per week, while persons may "bock" at a cost not exceeding $3 per week. All articles of merchandise can be bought at a cost very little in excess of the cost in the Eastern States, with the freight added. It is the luxuries of life that make living expensive in Leadville.

German

Leaf

Sage,

—FOR—

DRESSING,

—AT—

SWEETSER'S

MARKET!!

Granite St.

Quincy, Nov. 8.

LAND FOR SALE

NORTH QUINCY

THE Lot of land is situated at the corner of Hancock street and Glover avenue and contains

ABOUT 355,000 FEET.

Being a part of the estate of the late JOHN J. GLOVER.

For particulars apply to CHARLES HUNT, at Neponset, or E. J. BAKER, Trustee.

Milton, Nov. 1, 1879.

HOGS! HOGS!!

THE subscriber would inform the public that he is prepared to

DRESS HOGS.

In the best manner, and at short notice. Orders will receive prompt attention by being left with ELI-HA HOBART, Pearl Street, or WILLIAM HOBART, Town's Hill, Quincy, Oct. 11.

Seaweed for Sale.

DELIVERED to any part of Quincy and neighboring towns. Orders left at Post Office will be promptly attended to.

Quincy, Nov. 1.

GOOD Goods and LOW Prices

REED'S SHOE STORE.

Quincy, Nov. 1.

Golden Liniment!

White Label for the Human Family.

COLORS LABEL FOR

Horses, Cattle and Sheep.

INVALUABLE FOR

Rheumatism, Sprains,

Sciatica, Stiff Joints,

And Lameness of all kinds.

Used with Great Success the last 5 years

It will Recommend Itself!

BY THE GROSS, DOZEN OR SINGLE BOTTLE.

W. C. DANIELS,

South Braintree, - - - Mass.

March 22.

Quincy Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

CASH FUND, April 1, 1879.

$367,000.00.

Surplus over Re-Insurance, over $160,000.00.

50 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring 5-year policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20 per cent. on all others.

This Company has been in operation over 24 years, has paid over $1,200,000 in losses (256,868 25 of which was at the "Boston fire" of Nov. 1872) and over $500,000 in dividends to policy-holders.

None but the safer classes of risks taken.

I. W. MUNROE, Pres. and Treas.
CHARLES A. ROWLAND, Sec'y
Quincy, April 1, 1879

DORCHESTER.

Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

P. O. NEPONSET, Mass.
Ward 16, Boston, Mass.
E. J. BAKER, Pres't W. F. TEMPLE, Sec'y.

STATEMENT, JANUARY 1, 1879.

Amount Insured by 6,723 Policies, $10,454,126.00

Liabilities.

Cost to Re-insure, $92,841.83

Unpaid Losses, 1,746.68

Cash Assets.

Real Estate (Brick and Stone Dwellings), $74,000.00

Notes and Mortgages, 15,000.00

U. S. 5-20 Bonds ($4,100), 4,102.99

U. S. 4-1-2 per cent Bonds ($20,000), 21,000.00

Old Colony Railroad Bonds, ($6,000), 6,075.00

Boston & Lowell Railroad Bonds, ($5,000), 5,200.00

213 Shares Boston & Albany R. R. Stock, 27,000.00

140 Shares Old Colony Railroad Stock, 13,500.00

167 Shares Boston National Banks Stock, 17,112.00

Policies in course of collection, 5,254.49

Cash deposited in N. E. Trust Co., 12,078.69

Interest due and accrued to date, 2,129.46

Furniture of Office, Stores and Halls, 1,000.00

Loan to Town of Foxboro', 6,000.00

Amount of Deposit Notes available to pay losses, $172,641.88

$78,008.97 Cash Surplus, and $324,621.41 available surplus over amount required to re-insure all our risks.

The Company continues to insure the safer class of property at current rates, and to pay Return Premiums on terminated policies at 40 per cent on five-year policies, 25 per cent. on three years, and 15 per cent on one-year policies.

Neponset, Feb. 8.

JOHN HARDWICK & CO.

Real Estate & Insurance

AGENTS.

Granite Street, Quincy.

Insurance secured in any reliable Office.

Quincy, Feb. 10.

Insurance Agency.

Established in Quincy in 1840

W. PORTER.

INSURANCE EFFECTED in reliable and safe STOCK and MUTUAL OFFICES—by

W. PORTER & CO.,

At No. 27 STATE STREET, BOSTON.

Residence, QUINCY, corner Adams and Hancock Streets.

Quincy, April 26.

Funeral and Furnishing

UNDERTAKER.

THE subscriber would respectfully inform the public that he is fully prepared to execute all orders in the Furnishing Undertaker's business, at his establishment.

No. 51 Hancock Street.

Constantly on hand, a FULL ASSORTMENT OF

CASKETS, COFFINS,

Robes and Habits.

Having had several years experience in the Undertaking business, the subscriber hopes by strict attention to the wants of all callers to merit a share of patronage.

Quincy, March 10.

JOHN HALL.

J. W. LOMBARD,

—WITH—

VAN POND & Co.,

Men's, Youth's and Boys'

CLOTHING!!

No. 361 Washington St.,

(Near Old South Church.)

BOSTON.

Boys' Clothing a Specialty.

Boston, Oct. 11.

REMOVAL.

JOHN A. HOLDEN,

MERCHANT TAILOR,

WOULD announce to his friends and patrons that he has removed to the building, corner of Hancock and School streets, formerly occupied by him.

He has just received a good stock of

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES,

Doeskins and Vestings,

which he is prepared to make into first-class custom garments FOR A FAIR PRICE.

A good fitting garment guaranteed.

Quincy, Jan. 5.

Summary of News.

One hundred thousand Londoners live on canal boats and barges.

France has penny savings banks for schoolboys.

Spain can't pay the interest on the $2,500,000,000 which she owes.

One million railway men in England are obliged to work on Sunday.

"None but the brave deserve the hair," is the way the Indians put it.

A petition was presented to the board of aldermen last Monday, signed by 7451 ladies of East Boston, in aid of the petition for a new location of the Highland street railway to and in East Boston.

A correspondent asserts that Theodore Tilton allows his wife $2,000 a year.

A beautiful young Austrian damsel traveled all the way from Vienna to Fort Worth, Texas, to marry her sweetheart.

Here is what just one canning factory has done at Lambertville, N. J. It has put up 300,000 cans of tomatoes during the present season. It required 17,000 bushels of tomatoes to do it, most of them being grown in Hunterdon county.

The sale of American dairy products abroad amounts annually to $500,000.

Next to nothing—a girl walking with the average dandy.—Yonker's Gazette.

Adelaide Neilson's apartments in her New York hotel have the appearance of a conservatory, so numerous have been the floral gifts since her arrival from Europe.

There are three persons in the Augusta, Me., jail for debt. One is a well educated young man, whose father died twenty years ago, leaving him an estate worth a million dollars.

The garrison of Fort Independence has been removed to Fort Warren, the latter fort possessing superior accommodations, and there being no available troops to station there except those now in Independence. The latter fort will be used as an ordnance depot.

Miss Ruth Richmond of Brownington, Vt., 94 years old, has given up her pipe, after smoking constantly for thirty years, and thus far has experienced no ill effects.

One million, two hundred thousand letters pass through the Post Office in Paris on an average each day.

Five thousand barrels of apples have been shipped from Amesbury during the past three weeks.

He said he wanted her to be his helpmeet, and she replied that she could never be more than a sister to him.

Early next year the railroad from the Naples observatory to the foot of the cone of Vesuvius will be opened.—A steam-engine at the summit will draw the cars up by a windlass.

The life-saving stations along the New Jersey coast are thoroughly equipped for winter. Each one will be manned by six patrolmen besides the captain. They will be supplied with new and improved life-cars and life-line carriers, and a new patrol lamp, which is warranted to keep lighted in the heaviest gale.

The most foolish married couple we have heard of lately reside in Cincinnati. They abide in the same house, they eat at the same table, but have not spoken to each other for sixteen years. The wife's refusal to sign a deed angered the husband, and during all those years they have communicated through a daughter only. Now the daughter has died, yet the obdurate couple live on in silence, untouched, apparently, by this calamity.

Whose Father?

A little shoe-black called at the residence of a clergyman and solicited a piece of bread and some water; the servant was directed to give the child some bread from the crumb basket, and as the little fellow was walking slowly away, sifting the gift between his fingers for a piece large enough to chew, the minister called him back and asked him if he had ever learned to pray. On receiving a negative answer, the minister directed him to say, "Our Father," but he could not understand the familiarity.

"Is it our Father—your Father—my Father?"

"Why, certainly."

The boy looked at him awhile, and commenced crying, at the same time holding up his crust of bread, and exclaiming, between his sobs:

"You say that your Father is my Father; aren't you ashamed to give your little brother such stuff to eat, when you have got so many good things for yourself?"

CYRUS PATCH,

—DEALER IN—

FRANKLIN COAL,

OF LYKEN'S VALLEY;

LEHIGH, LACKAWANNA

And Best Quality of

SHAMOKIN COAL.

—ALSO—

CUMBERLAND COAL,

For Blacksmiths' and Steam Purposes.

HARD AND SOFT WOOD,

SAWED AND SPLIT.

WHARF AT QUINCY POINT.

OFFICE.—At S. H. Spear's Furniture Store on Hancock Street, where orders, large and small, may be left at all hours of the day.

Small quantities of Wood and Coal will be kept at this Store to supply immediate demand.

All orders promptly attended to.

A share of public patronage solicited.

CYRUS PATCH.

Quincy, May 1.

FAMILY COAL

COAL, WOOD & HAY.

Genuine Franklin Coal,

OF LYKEN'S VALLEY.

SHAMOKIN,

White Ash and Cumberland Coals.

Nova Scotia and Pine Wood,

Sawed and Split

TO SUIT CUSTOMERS.

PRESSED HAY.

Orders left at E. A. Adams', George Saville's, or with the subscriber, will receive prompt attention.

D. HOWARD BILLS.

Quincy, March 22.

SOMERSET

COAL COMPANY,

GRANITE ST., NEAR ROBERTSON'S BLK.

CHAS. H. WINSLOW, Ag't.

Coal, Wood, Hay & Straw,

BEST QUALITY OF

Lackawanna, Shamokin

Old Company's Franklin Coal,

—OF—

LYKEN'S VALLEY;

A Specialty.

Coal delivered at lowest market rates in lots to suit customers.

HARD AND PINE WOOD,

Slabs & Kindlings.

Wood Sawed and Split to order.

Pressed Hay and Straw constantly on hand.

Office hours from 6 A.M. to 7.30 P.M.
Saturdays till 8.30 P.M.

CHAS. H. WINSLOW, Ag't.

Quincy, July 12.

LIVERY STABLE.

THE subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons that he is now located at his

NEW STABLE ON HANCOCK STREET.

DEAR OF MESSRS. TIRRELL'S SHOP.

where he is prepared to furnish Horses and Carriages at short notice.

He would take this opportunity to thank the public for their liberal support, and hopes by furnishing good teams at reasonable prices to continue to receive their patronage.

JOHN HALL.

Quincy, June 20.

BEST OF JOB PRINTING

AT THIS OFFICE

The Quincy Patriot.

SUPPLEMENT.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1879.

A STAY-AT-HOME. The Biddeford (Me.) Journal says: "This item will make a strong draft upon the credulity of our readers, and yet it is true, every word of it. Mr. Mark Smith lives near the Methodist Episcopal church in this city, and was seventy-two years old last May. He was never inside a railroad car or street car; never visited Old Orchard beach, three miles away; never drank a glass of intoxicating liquor in his life, while there hasn't been a day for forty years when there has not been rum enough in Biddeford to float a 74 gun ship from Cathance Landing to Holmes' Hole; never has attended a show; and never saw the inside of a photograph gallery until last Saturday, when he had a handsome likeness of himself taken. If any of our exchanges can beat this, let him make it manifest in the natural way."

It is expected that the tenth Federal census report will be a decided improvement upon those of former years. Hitherto it has been the custom to begin the work of gathering statistics for the census in the month of June—a time of year when it has been very difficult, and often impossible, to obtain accurate information. But new methods have been adopted by Superintendent Walker and agents are already at work in various parts of the country gathering data upon subjects of interest, which it is believed will be more reliable than any yet published.

How many travellers have any definite idea of the expense of building railroad cars? Ordinary passenger cars cost about $4200; the last built for the Hudson River road cost $5400, which included a heater and some extra fixtures. The cheapest style of Wagner's drawing-room cars varies in price from $8000 to $12,000, which includes the furnishing. Ordinary mail cars cost from $2000 to $3000, and baggage cars about the same. The average price of box cars is from $400 to $450.

Women vote in Wyoming and are well treated by the men; and the married women don't always vote as their husbands do, neither. It is noted, further, that the women are sure to vote against candidates of dissipated or immoral habits.

An Englishwoman recently contrived to look prettier than any of her guests without dressing showily by decorating her rooms with white and purple clematis, and wearing a dress of white foulard, draped over violet silk.

On a recent Sunday evening 1,200 persons in St. John's Roman Catholic Church, Rochester, Minn., stood up and repeated after Father Turner, a solemn pledge of abstinence from all intoxicating drinks for one year.

Between five and six hundred men are now employed on the New York approaches to the East River Bridge, and on an average about 90,000 bricks are laid daily.

In 1877 the people of the United States spent on the average for each person $1.02 for religion, $2.11 for education, and $17.60 for liquor. Isn't this a glorious Christian nation?

There are now five ladies in the school of Theology of the Boston University. In the College of Liberal Arts there are eleven ladies in the Freshman Class.

The lightning-rod man must be allowed a good profit, for when he sells out his business he never can get much for the good-will.

P. T. Barnum says that the reason he is young and hearty in his seventy-first year, is because he uses neither rum nor tobacco.

The New York elevated railroad companies claim that they have added $100,000,000 to the taxable value of the property of New York city.

The Gate City Guards of Atlanta, Ga., while at Hartford, Conn., were presented with six woodey nutmegs made from the charter oak.

Eighty-nine young women have recently been admitted to the Massachusetts State Normal school at Salem.

Fashion Notes.

Tiger-skin muffs are a recent novelty. The new greenish-blue is known as Juponais.

Walking dresses are short enough to show the shoes.

Fichus will be more worn this winter than ever before.

Fancy feathers are the leading feature in bonnet trimmings.

The hair is generally worn low, whether it is becoming or not.

Bits of tinsel, jet and many jet beads are added to feather ornaments.

New muffs to match costumes are in reticule shape, trimmed with lace or fringe.

Silk with jet beads interwoven in the fabric comes for combining with black satin and velvet.

Silk plush of the same shade as the dress makes a handsome trimming when applied in panels and as revers, collars and cuffs.

A new style of dress pocket is cut in square-cornered shape and attached to the edge of the basque, where it hangs like a bag.

Dress seams are now frequently curved to the arm-hole, after the fashion of a few years back. It is claimed that the long seam, reaching to the shoulder, makes the waist appear large.

A new idea in kid gloves is the Foster glove, fitting the hand as a shoe does the foot, laced with a cord between a double row of buttons, thus enabling a lady to wear the smallest possible size.

Silk-faced cloakings, with fur backs, have the upper side of silk in armure or matelasse designs, or else soft repped silk or Sicilienne, while the reverse is of soft, thick fleece, almost as warm as fur.

Frosted flowers are coming into fashion for evening dresses. An easy way of frosting those which have lost their freshness is to touch them lightly with white of egg and then scatter frosting powder, which is merely powdered glass over them.

MONEY!!

BLANKETS, Flannels, Dress Goods and Small Ware VERY CHEAP FOR CASH, at 66 Hancock street.
Quincy, Nov. 1. E. CLAPP. tf

NOTICE.

THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the Public that he has hired Rooms over the Store of E. B. Souther.

And is prepared to do all kind of

BOOT and SHOE MAKING,

AND REPAIRING.

And would respectfully solicit its patronage.

Discarding the time-honored practice of appealing on the strength of age, experience in business, &c., he will let the work done be its own advocate.

Hoping by honest work and honorable dealing he may be worthy of your custom.

Entrance between Mr. Souther's Periodical Store, and Mr. Spear's Clothing Store, up stairs, left of the Billiard Room.

HUGH MUNDY.

Quincy, Jan. 25. tf

BOOTS AND SHOES,

Made and Repaired.

THE undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has moved to the shop corner of

HANCOCK AND GRANITE STS

where he is prepared to Make and Repair Boots and Shoes, in a neat manner, at a reasonable price.

Prices for Repairing:

1-2 Soles, Heels, hand-sewed, $1.25

1-2 Soles, Heels, pegged, 1.00

Heels, .35

1-2 Soles, pegged, .65

1-2 Soles, sewed, .85

BOYS:

1-2 Soles, Heels, .85

LADIES:

1-2 Soles, Heels, .65

1-2 Soles, Heels, Misses, .50

1-2 Soles, Heels, Children, .40

PATCHES from 10 to 15 Cents.

NATH'L NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, May 8. tf

JOB PRINTING.

EVERY VARIETY OF PRINTING neatly and promptly, and accurately executed, at the very lowest cash prices, at the

PATRIOT OFFICE

To Inventors and Mechanics

PATENTS and how to obtain them. Pamphlet of 60 pages free, upon receipt of stamps for postage. Address

GILMORE, SMITH & Co.,

Solicitors of Patents, Box 31,

Washington, D. C.

Quincy, Dec. 14. tf

FALL GOODS

GREAT BARGAINS.

20 Pieces Dress Goods,

12 1-2 Per Yard.

PLAID DRESS GOODS.

12 1-2 Per Yard.

WATERPROOF CLOTHS,

IN PLAIDS, ALL WOOL,

$1.00 Per Yard.

25 Different Styles,

CREPE DE LISSE,

New Patterns from New York.

Housekeeping Department.

A Large Line of

Goods for the Ladies,

AT LOW PRICES.

Ladies and Children's Underwear,

For Fall and Winter,

VERY CHEAP.

New Styles of Buttons

SILK FRINGE.

Worsted Goods,

Plaid Trimmings.

THE BEST CORSET,

For 50 Cts.

Sewing Machine

NEEDLES.

The Eighme Patent

Shirts and Bosoms.

Agent for

Madame DEMOREST'S

Reliable Patterns.

G. T. DEFREES,

Robertson's Block.

Quincy, Oct. 4. tf

A New Arrival

Goods Suited to the Season

REED'S SHOE STORE.

Quincy, Nov. 1. tf

HAIR WORK!

MISS M. A. BELLEW, invites her old customers and friends to call at the Fancy Store of Miss Jillson, in Pierce's Block, where they will find her ready to attend to the making of Hair Works, in all of its branches.

Ladies can have their hair shampooed or dressed in the latest style, at short notice.

M. A. BELLEW.

Quincy, Aug. 2. tf

REMOVAL.

The Quincy Dye-House

—AND—

STEAM LAUNDRY,

Has been removed to the Store formerly occupied by KEATING & SPEAR, on

Washington Street,

WHERE the subscriber is prepared to do all kinds of

DYEING,

in the best manner, at the shortest notice, and at reasonable prices.

CLEANSING OF ALL KINDS, done at short notice.

We are better prepared than ever to do

LAUNDRYING

IN ALL ITS BRANCHES,

in the highest style of the art, and hope by strict attention to business, to merit a liberal patronage.

ORDER BOX at E. B. Souther's, at the Depot, and at Wollaston Post Office.

C. W. GEORGE, PROPRIETOR.

Budget of Fun.

"I should have no objection to my wife's reigning," said an affectionate husband, "if it were not for the fact that when she reigns, she is apt to storm also."

"We are going out with the tide," said a young man to a friend, as he fled down the church aisle after a wedding. "In that case," said a lady in front, "you can afford to get off my train."

Solon was one of the seven wise men of Greece. He never stopped to argue when his wife told him to get out of his warm bed and build a fire in the kitchen stove.—Wheeling Leader.

"Joshua," said a Yankee mother to her hopeful, at breakfast, "what is an heir-apparent?" "There's one on the butter, mother," replied the unflinching youngster. And the old lady "lit" upon him with the coffee-pot.

"Why did you set your cup of tea on the chair, Mr. Jones?" said his landlady. "Well, to tell you the truth, dear, it was so weak, I thought I would let it rest a little before I drank it."

In a circus at Paris, Ill., a suddenly crazed young lady ran into the ring, embraced the clown, and declared that he must become her husband. The audience said it was the first original joke they had heard in a circus ring for more than twenty-five years.

"Now, Mr. Robinson," said a fair young city visitor to the kind-hearted farmer, "won't you show us your watermelon orchard?" "I haven't a watermelon tree on the place this year, ma'am; they were all winter-killed," said his questioner wondering why he smiled so pleasantly as he answered.

Theodore who was out riding with his sweet-heart, said:

"What tree, Angelina, bears the most precious fruit?"

ANGELINA. "Oh, Dory, I can't tell, unless it is a cherry-tree."

Theodore looked unutterable sweetness as he gazed into Angelina's eyes and said, "The axie-tree, darling."

A party of Baptist clergymen were blue-fishing off Martha's Vineyard last summer. A question arose as to whether a certain specimen was really a blue-fish.

"We call 'em Baptists," said a native fisherman.

The Baptist clergymen rather eagerly asked why.

"Cause they spile so soon arter they're taken out of water."

Two boys recently had a few hot words and a sudden fight, and one ran away, leaving the other with a bloody nose and a mouth full of "bawl."

"Seems to me," said a pedestrian, who halted, "that you are big enough to lick that boy."

"Course I am," was the reply.

"Then why don't you run after him and do it?"

"Cause—'cause," gasped the lad, "I don't want to get very mad at him until his folks' pears are all gone! After that I'll catch him and most break his neck."

A small boy with a big red cent in his hand stood before Clapp's grocery for a long time yesterday before making up his mind to enter. When asked what he desired, he inquired:

"If a boy should come here and get trusted for a stick of gum, how much would it be?"

"One cent," was the reply.

"And if a boy should come here with the cash, how much would it be?"

"Just the same."

"Then I guess I'll get trusted," quietly remarked the financier, as he slipped the cent down into his pocket.

The editor of the Fort Plain Register has his office and residence connected by telephone. On Monday Mr. Skidd of Little Falls, an old friend, called on the editor and expected to remain for dinner. The editor hurried to the telephone and shouted to his wife:

"Mr. Skidd will be up with me to dinner; lay an extra plate." "Now," said the editor, "Mr. Skidd, you may converse with her." As the gentleman was about to approach the instrument these words were plainly heard:—"You tell Mr. Skidd we don't keep a hotel on wash-day." Mr. Skidd excused himself for a few moments and was next seen eating fried clams in the Rainbow saloon on the corner.

Important to Consumers of Coal!

SOMETHING NEW.

Breed's Chemical Compound.

"FIRE KING."

IT Makes coal last longer; increases the heat; prevents explosions, and it is economical. For these reasons all persons using coal for heating, cooking and manufacturing purposes should try it.

FOR SALE BY
D. Howard Bills.

Quincy, Nov. 1. tf

Something New!

BOSTON BRANCH

TEA, COFFEE

AND

VARIETY STORE,

AT

QUINCY POINT!!

The Undersigned would respectfully inform his friends and the citizens of Quincy and vicinity in particular, that he has opened a Variety Store.

Opposite the Church & Post Office at Quincy Point, for the accommodation of the public, and shall sell first-class goods at Boston prices.

TEAS & COFFEES MADE A SPECIALTY.

Choice Butter, Lard, Flour

SPICES, &c., &c.

CIGARS AND TOBACCO.

A CHOICE ASSORTMENT OF

CONFECTIONERY:

BREAD, PASTRY

And Fancy Crackers.

Soda and Pilot Breads!

He has also connected an ICE CREAM OYSTER and DINING ROOMS.

Oysters served in every style. Also by the quart or gallon.

Picnic parties furnished with supplies at short notice.

CALL AND EXAMINE THE GOODS.

EDWARD CROSS.

Quincy Point, Aug. 13. tf

Provision Store.

THE subscriber, thankful for past favors, would inform his friends and the public that a good supply of

FRESH MEAT, FISH,

AND

PROVISIONS,

usually kept in a Country store, can be found at his establishment.

CANNED BAKED BEANS, just received for Picnic Parties. Try them.

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables

in their season, constantly on hand

All orders attended to with dispatch.

CHARLES CRANE,

Quincy, June 23. tf

Quincy Bakery.

THE subscriber would inform the citizens of Quincy and adjoining towns that he will continue to manufacture at his establishment

Bread, Cake, and Pastry,

and all other articles usually found in any Bakery. Keeps constantly on hand all kinds of

Plain and Fancy Crackers,

GINGER SNAPS, &c.

Hot Rolls every Evening.

WEDDING CAKE furnished to order at Boston prices. CHOICE FAMILY FLOUR for sale at lowest cash prices.

WM. A. HODGES.

Quincy, Jan. 21.

RALPH LOWE

RETURNS his thanks to the public generally for their liberal patronage, and respectfully solicits a continuance of the same.

All orders left will receive prompt attention.

Collar and Harness Making,

—AND—

Carriage Trimmings

IN ALL ITS BRANCHES.

N. B. Every article in the trade made to order, and REPAIRING done in the neatest manner and at the most reasonable rates.

Quincy, Aug. 26. tf

TRY THE

SOLID COMFORT,

5-Cent Cigar,

FOR SALE AT

POST OFFICE STORE.

It Beats All Others.

Quincy, Feb. 1. tf

WEEKLY ALMANAC
Saturday, Sunday, Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Full Moon
Dedham at Dedham evening, Sunday school overflowing half the morning
The build in breadth, ladies' dress, the right, room, the left. The kitchen, the library is in size, and has 300, exclusive stage is well concerts, etc.
A REMA Gershon F. Sunday last family affliction dead are were buried buried in were buried er was buried another brother, La;ville B. Cox Methodist H. whither he year and was his first wife one child w. another in Mt. Auburn two in West DISTRICT sons have this week: Charles L. whose case week, was suit on Joa James W. apoint of being a v. guilty and son at Ded Peter A. for breaking Francis H. S. ed to recog the Grand J. December; C. Stetson; being unan Benjam was arraign C. Lincoln and one gal was sent to six months. Nathan being drunk default was Hiram P. Milton, jun. rope from it valued at $2 the House year. Joseph I. drunk. Fil The W John G. child heart most of An NICHOLAS magazine the officer in the astronomer, a wonder folks, and lighted with be? That little folks the fact the by Delagr the far-awa have a vot from St. H. Rev. H. H. Beginn ber (ready be printed margins, a that the ne two hundr ner volum the same. many brill serial by fied "Jack Box of E. will be giv English an ing-Play Edward E. in time fo tions for in hibitions; etta for c ing Beauty The Nov tiful front page, and tions. In for boys, author of Another been sec Fairport N club, by N NICHOLAS continent. A super

THE QUINCY PATRIOT,
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING.
BY
H. ELIZABETH GREEN
—AND—
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT.
TERMS: $2.50 per year, in advance; $3.00, if paid before the close of the year.
Office: 64 Hancock Street,
OVER MR. CLAPP'S STORE.
Posters, Cards, Billheads,
Circulars, Labels, Programmes, &c.
PRINTED PROMPTLY.
On the Most Reasonable Terms, and Greatly Below Boston Prices.

Charles S. French,
DENTIST.
Office, Hancock and Chestnut Streets.
All operations in Dentistry skillfully performed. Teeth extracted by the use of Norton's or Clark's Forceps.
Office open day and evening.
Quincy, Nov. 28.

DR. F. J. BONNEY,
DENTIST!
—AND—
DR. J. B. CHAFFIN,
DENTIST!
—AND—
DR. W. H. SHERMAN, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
Office, 121 Chestnut Street.
All operations in Dentistry skillfully performed. Teeth extracted by the use of Norton's or Clark's Forceps.
Office open day and evening.
Quincy, Nov. 28.

J. B. CHAFFIN,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
In John Q. Adams' Office.
Quincy, March 15.

Wm. G. A. PATTEE,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
25 FEMBERTON SQUARE,
BOSTON.
Office, 121 Chestnut Street, Quincy.
Quincy, March 15.

A. W. HAYES,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.
Office, 121 Chestnut Street, Quincy.
Quincy, March 15.

W. H. SHERMAN, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon.
Office, 121 Chestnut Street, Quincy.
Quincy, March 15.

Room C. Whitcher's Block.
Quincy, March 15.

JOHN O. HALL,
ACCOUNTANT.
SETS OF BOOKS opened or closed.
ACCOUNTS examined and adjusted.
Office, 121 Chestnut Street, Quincy.
Quincy, March 15.

FRANCIS W. PARKER,
Superintendent of Schools.
Office, 121 Chestnut Street, Quincy.
Quincy, March 15.

WHITMAN & BRECK,
Civil Engineers and Surveyors.
Office, 121 Chestnut Street, Quincy.
Quincy, March 15.

CHARLES HATCH,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor.
Office, 121 Chestnut Street, Quincy.
Quincy, March 15.

BENJ. F. CURTIS,
—AND—
C. S. WHITING,
—AND—
H. FRENCH, JR.,
House and Sign Painter,
IN EVERY VARIETY.
Washington Street, Quincy.
Quincy, March 15.

The Quincy Patriot.

ESTABLISHED IN 1837.

A Family Paper devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

NUMBER 48

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1879.

43D VOLUME.

PRICE 5 CENTS.

CONDITIONS.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.

Advertisements correctly and complacently inserted at the customary rates, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual Advertisements is limited to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents to receive Advertisements for the Patriot:
BOSTON.—S. M. PETERSON & CO., S. R.
NILES, HORACE DODD and T. C. EVANS.
NEW YORK.—S. M. PETERSON & CO.
Geo. P. BOWEN & Co. and FRANK & Co.
ST. LOUIS, Mo.—EDWELL & CHESMAN.

Our Schools.

A Morning in the Quincy Schools.

(Continued from last week.)

In the little talk on musical matters with the principal, I had to note the departure, in Quincy, from the rigorous methods by which music is taught in some other schools, where a fault in naming says a sixteenth note instead of an eighth is visited with as severe moral reprobation, as though a part of the Decalogue had been broken. Remembering the unhappy children in some of our Philadelphia schools who are drilled in lines and spaces and rests as though their future salvation and entire intellectual prospects depended on these, I could not but give thanks for the Quincy method that gets out the singing and the threads of voices without destroying the consciousness. No child is "kept in" at Quincy for short coming in its ledger lines, and thus the singing falls into its true place as a recreation and muscular exercise.

[Note.—In the New York schools that I have visited, much time is given to the drawing of notes on the blackboard and recitation of their relative values, an exceedingly careful mathematical drill, and the cultivation of musical expression, filling a prominent place. But the attached penalty for failure in these makes the music lesson of exaggerated importance. Considering the short time many of these children have to spend in the primaries as the school children, an excessive attention to such details is a barbarous in relation with the same severity that attaches to a moral fault. Quincy has learned the science of value and of relative proportions in the importance of studies. Evidently the first object at Quincy is to teach a child to notice, to think and to express itself in its own way. Its observations and its questions are of more value to it and to all the rest of the class than the mere cataloguing of facts in a text book can ever be. So as the facts come along, by its own reading, by observation, by the teacher's voice, they are met by wide-awakened and active young minds, eagerly receptive. Some of the New York schools again, by their perfect drill and snaps of their method, have the class alert and very ready; but it is apprehension, memory exercise, entirely and exclusively. The deadening results of this parrot drill show themselves in the upper schools, where the springs of all this mechanical training have had time to wear somewhat thin, and where the results, so far as I have seen them, are not minds, but rather uninteresting machines.]

CRITICAL READING LESSON.

The reading lesson, a history and a language lesson had been underlined for me, and the young readers were soon in vigorous "attack" on the chapter on Holland in Sheldon's Fourth Reader, taken, I believe, from Mrs. Dodge's delightful "Hans Brinker." It might have been the newspaper, which comes in as a "Reader" quite often in Quincy, but it happened to be Holland this time.
This was the lowest "grammar" division, the children who had come up at the beginning of the September term from the upper primary. These primaries, by the way, have two more divisions than ours, there being no secondary or intermediate schools. At the close of the first paragraph the teacher, quickly, to a boy in the background—"What country is he reading about? What did he say?" "He said it was one of the quickest countries, because the ocean is pressing up against the land all the time to get in, and it can't." "What keeps it out?" Boys in chorus, "The dikes."
A grand discussion on the nature of dikes and embankments followed; what they were built of; what kind of trees were planted there to bind the earth together. Some of the young Yankees stood out stoutly for pine, others were in favor of oak, cherry trees. "No; I'll leave you that to find out by to-morrow."
—and, if I am not mistaken, there will be considerable interviewing of parents and neighboring farmers on that point.
"How shall we get to Holland from here?" "Cross the Atlantic ocean." "Go draw Holland on the map and show me how." Three boys go to the blackboard, with their chalks, and proceed to draw by square a fair outline map of Europe, very rapidly, rubbing out the quad-ri-laterals and triangles, as they sketch on the true outline. In the meantime the reading proceeds. "The cranking frogs among the canal reeds are nearer to the stars than the storks on the chimney tops." Every child there sees the frogs, and the uplifted marshes of the canals, and the low-lying farm houses below the water level. Teacher, suddenly, to the map architects—"Which is Holland?"

(To be continued.)

A teacher endeavoring to familiarize a little girl with the various countries of the Western Hemisphere, with little evidence of success, finally said—
"If I were to bore a hole through the earth, and you were to go through at this end, where would you come out?"
"Come out?" replied the child; "why I'd come out of the hole, miss."

When does a daughter appear so attractive as when showing her love to father or mother—when employed in lightening their cares or relieving their burdens? It would be far from wrong to say to a young man who is looking with some degree of interest for a life companion—"Would you know what kind of a wife she will make upon whom now you have your eye? Ask what kind of a daughter she is now. If she is indolent, selfish, leaving care and work for father or mother—especially if she is unloving or unkind—beware of her—she is not likely to make you happy. If she is an affectionate and self-denying daughter, if she is intimate and confidential with her parents, you have in that the best promise of happiness in the future."
The eye of mother and father beaming with delight as it rests upon a daughter's form, moving lightly in their presence, is an unspoken recommendation of untold value.

Length of Days.
At Berlin and Lening the longest day has sixteen and a half hours, and the shortest five and a half. At Hamburg, Danzig and Stettin, the longest day has seventeen hours, and the shortest seven.
At St. Petersburg and Tobolsk, the longest has sixteen, and the shortest five hours. At Tornea in Finland, the longest day has twenty-one hours and a half, and the shortest two and a half.
At Wandersborg, in Norway, the day lasts from the 21st of May to the 22d of July, without interruption; and in Spitzbergen the longest day lasts three months and a half.

"My dear," said one of our fashionable ladies, "Louisa has gone through French, Latin, Greek, music and dancing. You must buy her a grammar and other books necessary to complete her English education."

The People's

DRUG STORE

HAS BEEN replenished with a LARGE ASSORTMENT OF PURE DRUGS,
PATENT MEDICINES, FANCY GOODS,
And all other articles usually found in a first-class Pharmacy, all of which will be disposed of at prices corresponding to the times.
A competent clerk will be on hand night and day, for the preparation of Physicians' Prescriptions and the dispensing of medicines of all kinds, while the present proprietor will attend to the constantly increasing medical and surgical practice. Respectfully,
W. H. Sherman,
Whitcher's Block, Temple St.
Quincy, Nov. 1.

German

Leaf

Sage,

—FOR—

DRESSING,

—AT—

SWEETSER'S

MARKET!!

Granite St.

Quincy, Nov. 8.

Receipts, &c.

WEDDING CAKE. Two pounds each of butter, sugar and flour, six pounds of currants, five pounds of raisins, and two pounds of citron, nineteen eggs, two tablespoonsful of cloves, six nutmegs, wine-glass of brandy.

ENGLISH PUDDING. One cup of molasses, one-half cup of butter, one cup of sweet milk, a teaspoonful of soda, a teaspoonful of different spices, one cup of chopped raisins, three and a half cups of flour. Steam two or three hours.

PUM PUDDING. Beat four eggs, stir to them half a pound of flour, and half a pint of milk, half a pound of chopped suet, half a pound of stoned raisins, well floured, and a few currants, a teaspoonful of salt. Boil the pudding four hours, briskly.

TO OBTAIN SLEEP. Sponge the entire length of the spine with hot water for ten or fifteen minutes; this will reduce the circulation, quiet the nervous system, and induce sleep better than any drug.

TO RELIEVE A BILIOUS HEADACHE.
Dissolve and drink two teaspoonfuls of finely powdered charcoal in one half a tumbler of water; it will relieve in fifteen minutes.

"Isn't that your friend, Mrs. S., who is dancing there?" "Yes." "That's a frightfully ill-made dress she has on."
"Yes; but if it wasn't it wouldn't fit her."

An exchange asks:—"Why do the horns of a cow grow up and the tails down?" We suppose it is because the horns do grow down and the tails down we grow up. If this is not the answer we give it up.

A fashion writer tells us that
"the buttoning of dresses in the back is going out of fashion." If your unmarried and still effects that style, you may tell her it is behind the age,—if you dare to.

Never put off till to-morrow what you can do to-day—especially if you want to borrow five dollars. Your accommodating friend might send it himself.

When he is sixteen, the boy is supposed to have outgrown the switch;
but that is just the age when a girl becomes to need one.

Water spots may be removed from black crape by clapping it until dry. If dried before the spot was noticed, it will need to be dampened and then clapped in the hands.

When a cat is so mad that her hair stands on end, she has a fur-straight appearance.

When you think you have got possession of the oldest and quaintest book in the country, you have only to advertise that you will give one hundred dollars for another just like it, to discover that you can fill a two-horse wagon in a week.

Joe Geiger took his pick of the pews in a fashionable church one fine Sunday morning. Later a handsomely dressed man enters and sits at the opposite end with no effect. Then he writes on a card and hands it to Geiger,—"This is my pew." G. bows and returns.—
"Deuced fine pew! How much do you pay?"

Poetry.

The Thanksgiving Bird.

The turkey is an emblem,
In a way, of bigger things
We do not think of angels
When we measure up his wings.
But there's very much that's human
In the way the fellow fares;
And, if you will but listen,
I'll tell you how he shares
The luck of taller bipeds,
Who gobble as they go,
And whose usefulness and trouble
Together come, you know.
'Tis not when he is walking
So grandly up and down,
As if he were a president,
Or thought he owned the town,
That we esteem him highest
Or speak the loudest word
Of praise and commendation
For the proud and lordly bird;
But when they stop his gobble,
And pull his feathers out,
And fill him full of bitterness,
And clothe him round about
With fires of persecution
That melt his grandeur down,
And bring his fair complexion
To a shade of russet-brown.
Thus when he cannot help himself
But lifts a stumpy leg,
As if he gave the matter up,
And only cared to beg,
Then is it that his virtues
The brightest seem to shine;
'Tis then he stands the highest
In your regard and mine.
Then, full of admiration,
We stretch him on the plate,
And deem that any turkey
Might glory in his fate.

Miscellany.

Two Thanksgivings in One.

"It never rains but it pours; and when there's a plenty there's always a feast," ejaculated Miss Susan Knapp, as she entered the long, low kitchen, where her two sisters, middle aged spinsters
like herself, with their cousin, Miss Prississy Prosser, were busily occupied with the preparations for the morrow's Thanksgiving feast to be celebrated in their own home, the old stone house on the hill,
known and designated by all old
Burndales, as the "Napp gibbles."
"Aunt Mandy Pomfret's sent this with her regards," said Miss Susan, depositing at the same time upon the soapstone cupboard a heaping pan of poultry
livers, hearts and gizzards.
"Sail'em over, Betsey. 'Twon't do
for me to leave my pumpkin sauce
another minute."
"Dear saikes!" exclaimed Miss Betsey, "the third great pan 'killing's this blessed day. I sh'd think it was a donation party. What does it mean, I wonder?"
"Yes, Betsey—yes, Patty and Prissy," answered Miss Susan, wiping her hands
and grasping the sauce ladle. "Just what I say—a feast or a famine. Here's Captain Gobble ready stuffed and truss-
ed, between a brace of ducks and chickens, for company sake, and no end of pigeons and partridges for the pie, not to speak of the vegetables and sauces
and dessert; and lo! here, first the Times must send over a load of sassa-ge and spare rib, and the Belles bring down enough head cheese and pig-feet
to keep us all a month, and now Aunt Mandy's giblets! It beats all, I don't wonder you want to know what it means. It means something, depend upon it, if we can only find out. 'Twon't
do to let victuals go to waste, and I don't see but that we'll have to keep two Thanksgivings in one, and send up and bid that lank-looking crew lately come to Bijah's forty."

"Deary me!" sighed Miss Patty,
"I'm sure, if we're to have two Thanksgivings, there's such a host of them.
And I don't believe the spoons and the little glass preserve dishes would go
'round. Wouldn't it be better to send them apportioned? Bijah says they're as poor as Job's turkey."

"How things do happen!" chirped
Miss Betsey who was briskly salting
the fresh giblets, and quite heedless of her timid sister's suggestion; "all in bunches, so to speak. You wouldn't,
maybe, think, Prissy Prosser, judging from present appearances, that we three girls have seen the days, right here in this kitchen, when a plateful of either sassaige, spare-rib, or giblets would have been as welcome to our eyes as it's possible for a good dish to be to the folks
on Bijah's forty, and they as poor as they may be. It's true as preachin' though.
While we were carryin' on all that lawin'
with the Pitkin's heirs about that disputed claim, that is never likely to be settled now, and I s'pose we shall be in hot water over it to the end of our days,
see that paper never can be found—
yes, while we were scrippin' and scraw-ling, to pay lawyers for provin' what one sight at that missin' paper would have made as clear as day, I assure you.
Prissy many's the night we've gone to bed hungry and wakened up faint, to our sloppy tea and butterless bread, and no son or daughter of Adam ever sent us
a scrap of a bone."

"But, Betty," said gentle Miss Patty,
"why should they have sent in things?
They didn't know we were so cramped."
"To be sure—to be sure," responded
Miss Betsey; "folks can't be omniscient.
I was just thinkin' how queer things happen. Well, there's Scripture for it—
'To him that hath shall be given,' you know. But, land's sake! It's anythin' but agreeable to lack good food when body's hungry. How many was it we reckoned the two long tables would seat comfortably? Let me see—five and twenty, wasn't it? And we've asked nineteen, outside of ourselves. We couldn't squeeze in the Pullums edge-
wise no way?"

Miss Betsey turned her dapper little
figure toward her sister, and every line
of her rosy face as well as the tones of her cheery voice were interrogatory.
The Pullums were that very lank
crew on Bijah's forty.
"Thanksgiving day comes only once a year, and bein' so poor once ourselves ought to make us more considerate of these Pullums, just because they are poor. Put on your wraps, Patty, and step up there and invite them. 'Tain't bad to think twice when you mean to do a kind deed. Tell 'em the minister's folks and some of our kinspeople are comin'
home with us from meetin' to-morrow,
and we'll be glad to have them all join
the party."

So, complacently, Miss Patty set out upon her errand, and the sisters and cousin continued the line of duties.
The well-celled kitchen exhaled odors rich
and spicy, and the rapidly filling pantry shelves gave abundant promise that the morrow's feast would prove no niggardly affair.

"I'm glad you thought to mention the Pullums, sister Sukey. Now I come to think, I remember Jared Briggs tellin' Min's folks how they all been down with jaundice since they moved on the forty, and their sweet 'latones had got touched with the frost afore they was bang their hair."

There was much gumption evinced by that particular darkey, whose master was a surgeon, who had performed on another darkey an operation requiring a high degree of skill. This latter darkey was well-to-do, and the surgeon charged twenty-five dollars for the operation.—
Meeting the doctor's servant afterward,
this dialogue occurred:—
"Dat was a mighty steep charge of de doctor's for cutting on de tadder
day?"
"How much did de boss charge?"
"Well, Julius, he charge me twenty-
five dollars."

"Go 'long, niggah, dat ain't much charge."
"Well, he wasn't more dan three or four minutes' doin' it, and I tink five dollars was all he oughter took!"
"Look-a-beat Sam; you don't un'stan'
'bout dat ting. You see de boss here to spend a great many years learnin' how to use dat knife, an' it cost him heaps of money. Now de fact an dat he only charge you five dollars for de operation;
de under twenty he charge for de know
how."

Girls with freckled foreheads
bang their hair.

Two Thanksgivings in One.

Two Thanksgivings in One.

"It never rains but it pours; and
when there's a plenty there's always a feast," ejaculated Miss Susan Knapp, as she entered the long, low kitchen, where her two sisters, middle aged spinsters
like herself, with their cousin, Miss Prississy Prosser, were busily occupied with the preparations for the morrow's Thanksgiving feast to be celebrated in their own home, the old stone house on the hill,
known and designated by all old
Burndales, as the "Napp gibbles."
"Aunt Mandy Pomfret's sent this
with her regards," said Miss Susan, depositing at the same time upon the soapstone cupboard a heaping pan of poultry
livers, hearts and gizzards.
"Sail'em over, Betsey. 'Twon't do
for me to leave my pumpkin sauce
another minute."

"Dear saikes!" exclaimed Miss Betsey, "the third great pan 'killing's this blessed day. I sh'd think it was a donation party. What does it mean, I wonder?"
"Yes, Betsey—yes, Patty and Prissy," answered Miss Susan, wiping her hands
and grasping the sauce ladle. "Just what I say—a feast or a famine. Here's Captain Gobble ready stuffed and truss-
ed, between a brace of ducks and chickens, for company sake, and no end of pigeons and partridges for the pie, not
to speak of the vegetables and sauces
and dessert; and lo! here, first the Times must send over a load of sassa-
ge and spare rib, and the Belles bring down enough head cheese and pig-feet
to keep us all a month, and now Aunt Mandy's giblets! It beats all, I don't wonder you want to know what it means. It means something, depend upon it, if we can only find out. 'Twon't
do to let victuals go to waste, and I don't see but that we'll have to keep two Thanksgivings in one, and send up and
bid that lank-looking crew lately come to Bijah's forty."

"Deary me!" sighed Miss Patty,
"I'm sure, if we're to have two Thank-
sgivings, there's such a host of them.
And I don't believe the spoons and the little glass preserve dishes would go
'round. Wouldn't it be better to send them apportioned? Bijah says they're as
poor as Job's turkey."

"How things do happen!" chirped
Miss Betsey who was briskly salting
the fresh giblets, and quite heedless of her timid sister's suggestion; "all in bunches, so to speak. You wouldn't,
maybe, think, Prissy Prosser, judging
from present appearances, that we three girls have seen the days, right here in this kitchen, when a plateful of either sassaige, spare-rib, or giblets would have been as welcome to our eyes as it's possible for a good dish to be to the folks
on Bijah's forty, and they as poor as they may be. It's true as preachin' though.
While we were carryin' on all that lawin'
with the Pitkin's heirs about that disputed claim, that is never likely to be settled now, and I s'pose we shall be in
hot water over it to the end of our days,
see that paper never can be found—
yes, while we were scrippin' and scraw-
ling, to pay lawyers for provin' what
one sight at that missin' paper would have made as clear as day, I assure you.
Prissy many's the night we've gone to bed hungry and wakened up faint, to
our sloppy tea and butterless bread, and no son or daughter of Adam ever sent us
a scrap of a bone."

"But, Betty," said gentle Miss Patty,
"why should they have sent in things?
They didn't know we were so cramped."
"To be sure—to be sure," responded
Miss Betsey; "folks can't be omniscient.
I was just thinkin' how queer things happen. Well, there's Scripture for it—
'To him that hath shall be given,' you know. But, land's sake! It's anythin' but agreeable to lack good food when body's hungry. How many was it we reckoned the two long tables would seat comfortably? Let me see—five and twenty, wasn't it? And we've asked nineteen, outside of ourselves. We couldn't squeeze in the Pullums edge-
wise no way?"

Miss Betsey turned her dapper little
figure toward her sister, and every line
of her rosy face as well as the tones of
her cheery voice were interrogatory.
The Pullums were that very lank
crew on Bijah's forty.
"Thanksgiving day comes only once
a year, and bein' so poor once ourselves
ought to make us more considerate of these Pullums, just because they are poor. Put on your wraps, Patty, and
step up there and invite them. 'Tain't
bad to think twice when you mean to do
a kind deed. Tell 'em the minister's folks
and some of our kinspeople are comin'
home with us from meetin' to-morrow,
and we'll be glad to have them all join
the party."

So, complacently, Miss Patty set out
upon her errand, and the sisters and
cousin continued the line of duties.
The well-celled kitchen exhaled odors rich
and spicy, and the rapidly filling pantry
shelves gave abundant promise that the morrow's feast would prove no niggardly
affair.

"I'm glad you thought to mention the Pullums, sister Sukey. Now I come to think, I remember Jared Briggs tell-
in' Min's folks how they all been down
with jaundice since they moved on the forty, and their sweet 'latones had got touched with the frost afore they was
bang their hair."

There was much gumption evinced by that particular darkey, whose master was
a surgeon, who had performed on another darkey an operation requiring a high degree of skill. This latter darkey was well-to-do, and the surgeon charged
twenty-five dollars for the operation.—
Meeting the doctor's servant afterward,
this dialogue occurred:—
"Dat was a mighty steep charge of de doctor's for cutting on de tadder
day?"
"How much did de boss charge?"
"Well, Julius, he charge me twenty-
five dollars."

"Go 'long, niggah, dat ain't much
charge."
"Well, he wasn't more dan three or four minutes' doin' it, and I tink five dollars was all he oughter took!"
"Look-a-beat Sam; you don't un'stan'
'bout dat ting. You see de boss here
to spend a great many years learnin' how to use dat knife, an' it cost him heaps of money. Now de fact an dat he only charge you five dollars for de operation;
de under twenty he charge for de know
how."

Girls with freckled foreheads
bang their hair.

There was much gumption evinced
by that particular darkey, whose master was
a surgeon, who had performed on another darkey an operation requiring a high degree of skill. This latter darkey was well-to-do, and the surgeon charged
twenty-five dollars for the operation.—
Meeting the doctor's servant afterward,
this dialogue occurred:—
"Dat was a mighty steep charge of de doctor's for cutting on de tadder
day?"
"How much did de boss charge?"
"Well, Julius, he charge me twenty-
five dollars."

"Go 'long, niggah, dat ain't much
charge."
"Well, he wasn't more dan three or four minutes' doin' it, and I tink five dollars was all he oughter took!"
"Look-a-beat Sam; you don't un'stan'
'bout dat ting. You see de boss here
to spend a great many years learnin' how to use dat knife, an' it cost him heaps of money. Now de fact an dat he only charge you five dollars for de operation;
de under twenty he charge for de know
how."

Girls with freckled foreheads
bang their hair.

Two Thanksgivings in One.

Two Thanksgivings in One.

"It never rains but it pours; and
when there's a plenty there's always a feast," ejaculated Miss Susan Knapp, as she entered the long, low kitchen, where her two sisters, middle aged spinsters
like herself, with their cousin, Miss Prississy Prosser, were busily occupied with the preparations for the morrow's Thanksgiving feast to be celebrated in their own home, the old stone house on the hill,
known and designated by all old
Burndales, as the "Napp gibbles."
"Aunt Mandy Pomfret's sent this
with her regards," said Miss Susan, depositing at the same time upon the soapstone cupboard a heaping pan of poultry
livers, hearts and gizzards.
"Sail'em over, Betsey. 'Twon't do
for me to leave my pumpkin sauce
another minute."

"Dear saikes!" exclaimed Miss Betsey, "the third great pan 'killing's this blessed day. I sh'd think it was a donation party. What does it mean, I wonder?"
"Yes, Betsey—yes, Patty and Prissy," answered Miss Susan, wiping her hands
and grasping the sauce ladle. "Just what I say—a feast or a famine. Here's Captain Gobble ready stuffed and truss-
ed, between a brace of ducks and chickens, for company sake, and no end of pigeons and partridges for the pie, not
to speak of the vegetables and sauces
and dessert; and lo! here, first the Times must send over a load of sassa-
ge and spare rib, and the Belles bring down enough head cheese and pig-feet
to keep us all a month, and now Aunt Mandy's giblets! It beats all, I don't wonder you want to know what it means. It means something, depend upon it, if we can only find out. 'Twon't
do to let victuals go to waste, and I don't see but that we'll have to keep two Thanksgivings in one, and send up and
bid that lank-looking crew lately come to Bijah's forty."

"Deary me!" sighed Miss Patty,
"I'm sure, if we're to have two Thank-
sgivings, there's such a host of them.
And I don't believe the spoons and the little glass preserve dishes would go
'round. Wouldn't it be better to send them apportioned? Bijah says they're as
poor as Job's turkey."

"How things do happen!" chirped
Miss Betsey who was briskly salting
the fresh giblets, and quite heedless of her timid sister's suggestion; "all in bunches, so to speak. You wouldn't,
maybe, think, Prissy Prosser, judging
from present appearances, that we three girls have seen the days, right here in this kitchen, when a plateful of either sassaige, spare-rib, or giblets would have been as welcome to our eyes as it's possible for a good dish to be to the folks
on Bijah's forty, and they as poor as they may be. It's true as preachin' though.
While we were carryin' on all that lawin'
with the Pitkin's heirs about that disputed claim, that is never likely to be settled now, and I s'pose we shall be in
hot water over it to the end of our days,
see that paper never can be found—
yes, while we were scrippin' and scraw-
ling, to pay lawyers for provin' what
one sight at that missin' paper would

Short communications and items of news earnestly solicited from friends and patrons. Anonymous communications will not be published.

TAKE NOTICE. Although the Patriot bears this week its usual date of publication, (Saturday,) it is printed and issued on Wednesday, which will account for some of the notices which appear in its columns, and the reading of others.

The Cantata.

The Cantata of Esther, which was given in the Town Hall on Wednesday and Thursday evenings of last week, passed off in a manner highly satisfactory to all concerned in it and to the audience.

The principal soloists were as follows: Mr. S. M. King, as Mordecai; Miss M. J. King, as Esther; Mr. G. T. Elliot, as King Ahasuerus; Mr. S. A. Battison, as Haman; Miss S. H. Peakes, as Zeresh. Mr. King's rendering of the solo, "Go thou unto the King," "Woe is me" and "To Thee O Lord," was admirable, calling forth enthusiastic applause.

Miss King's impersonation of Queen Esther was very good; she being well fitted for the part, both in her dramatic action and in the quality of her voice. She deserves great credit for the manner in which she sustained her part all through the second act, in her dialogues with Mordecai; also in act five, scene three, in her supplication of the King, and her denunciation of Haman.

The acting between Haman and Zeresh in act five, scene two, before his departure to the banquet and also in scene three, same act, during the farewell previous to his being led out to execution was very fine, especially in the latter; the audience being held spell-bound until the close of the quartette, "Do I wake or am I dreaming," when they broke into hearty and continued applause.

Mr. Elliot, as King, performed his part in a very acceptable manner. His denunciation of Haman, "O! Base ungrateful man," being one of the best rendered solos of the entertainment.

In passing over this scene we must not omit to speak of the action of Queen's Maids of Honor, their countenances displaying the most intense hatred of Haman, as well as triumph at his downfall.

Mrs. Whitman in her solo, "Therefore will we never fear, gained a well merited encore, both by her action and by her singing.

The wait by the little Misses—Fannie Wood and Minnie Pratt—at the Queen's banquet was beautifully executed, the audience insisting on a recall.

The chorus consisting of between thirty and forty voices, under the direction of Mr. A. D. Albee, rendered the many choruses in a manner which reflected great credit on themselves and on their leader. Several of their accompaniments to the soloists being exceptionally fine; especially noticeable were those to Mordecai in "To Thee O Lord" and to Mordecai and Esther in the duet and chorus "Israel O! Israel," both of which elicited great applause.

One of the most brilliant portions of the whole cantata was the Triumphal March, during which the entire chorus, led by Human, marched before the King to pay honor to Mordecai, singing "Thus shall it be done, unto the man, &c." Immediately following came a semi-chorus of boys, which after marching and counter-marching sang the chorus, "The King shall honor the Queen;" then came a semi-chorus of girls, which after performing the same evolutions as the boys, sang, "We have been rambling." This being completed the boys and girls marched together in double file and finally formed on each side of the throne in front of the chorus, the scene closing with a grand tableau, during which brilliant light effects were introduced.

Perhaps the most touching episode connected with the performance was the mute appeal of Idah, Little Mabel L. Benson, to the Queen to spare her father Haman, and her final farewell to him. The piano accompaniments by Mr. T. P. Ryder were very fine and the intervals between the acts were enlivened by choice selections of his own composition, among which was a beautiful arrangement of Bonnie Doon (which we understand was played in public for the first time and is shortly to be published).

At the organ presided Mr. Pinkham, who also had charge of and operated the electric lights and signals. The final "Gloria" from Mozart's 12th Mass, was sung with a volume of tone which we could hardly believe could come from so small a chorus and made a very appropriate ending of the cantata.

Of course there were weak points as there are in all entertainments of the kind, but, taking the performance as a whole we think that those participating in it should feel gratified by their success, and we have no doubt that, should they favor us with another cantata or with a repetition of this one, the hall would be filled three nights instead of two.

THE NEW FACTORY. The new boot manufactory to be built for Mr. John E. Drake on Baxter Place is being rushed along. The building is to be 30 by 70, three stories high, and Mr. Pratt the contractor has promised to have it done in four weeks.

The shop is to be run by steam; one hundred hands will be employed, and about fifty cases of boots will be turned out daily.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE. The union Thanksgiving day service of the First and Second Churches, King's Chapel and Arlington Street Church, will be held this day in the Second Church, on Boston Street, beginning at 11 A. M. Prof. William Everett, L. L. D., of Quincy, will preach.

Local Items.

Service will be held in Christ Church Thanksgiving morning.

The public schools closed yesterday for the week.

A new well is being dug for the Robertson House.

G. F. Wilson has at his store a live turkey weighing twenty-six pounds.

Thanksgiving services will be held in the Congregational Church Thanksgiving forenoon.

Rev. S. Kelley officiates at the Sailors' National Home, Thanksgiving morning.

The Wollaston disaster cost the Old Colony railroad about $350,000. A pretty expensive blunder.

Read the time table and note the change in the time on the Old Colony road on and after Monday next.

Professor W. H. Niles delivers his lecture on "Holland and its People," on Thursday evening, Dec. 4th.

Mr. Ebenezer Adams will sell a quantity of chestnut wood at auction on Monday next.

Mr. Henry Chubbuck arrived in Quincy on Monday last. He has been in Colorado about eight months, and has enjoyed the trip. He is looking nicely.

Mrs. J. C. A. Page, one of the school committee, with two of the grammar school teachers of Needham, visited the schools in this town last week.

D. B. Stetson has just received an odd lot of men's, boys', youths', and children's thick boots, which will sell from ninety cents to two dollars.

There will be a Union Thanksgiving service held in the First Baptist Church Wollaston, Thanksgiving morning.

The High School Association holds its annual reunion next Wednesday evening. It promises to be one of the most fashionable gatherings of the season.

The "Social Club" connected with the First Church will have a tea party, Friday evening, Dec. 5th, 1879. Supper at 6.30. The entertainment later in the evening consist of vocal and instrumental music. Free to members.

Dr. J. H. Gilbert has a new carriage which is very comfortable looking. The carriage is a close one and the doctor can now visit his patients, however stormy it may be, without being exposed to the weather.

The favorite town pump near our office has of late been at a discount; water could not be had from it even at a premium. The Town Fathers have laid awake many a night thinking how they can remedy the evil, but their brains are puzzled.

Mrs. Patrick Garrity, an insane inmate of the almshouse, attempted suicide on Saturday evening. She took off her shoes and stockings and got out of a back window at the almshouse, and went to Brackett's wharf, a distance of about one-quarter of a mile, and jumped into the water. Her cries were heard by some boatmen near by, who rescued her.

The Highway Surveyor for the Centre District has a big job on hand. For some time a granite block has been growing out of the ground at the corner of Coddington and Spear streets, and many a good person has tumbled over it, and some not so good. It is directly on the side-walk, and trips a person up easily, as our good robust Surveyor knows from experience, one dark night recently. It will probably break some one's limb before spring, and the town will have to pay the bill.

Are any of the street crossings to be improved before winter sets in?—One is much desired in the rear of the Stone Church. Persons residing on Washington street, wishing to go to the depot, Town House, or the Church, are obliged to wade through mud, ankle-deep in sloppy weather, to cross. A crossing at this point would also accommodate the residents of Coddington, Spear and Newcomb streets in their daily journey to the Post Office. What can our Surveyor do to accommodate the people?

JURORS. Messrs. Elisha Packard and James T. Penman have been drawn to serve as Jurors for the December term of the Superior Court for Norfolk County Criminal Session.

ANNUAL MEETING. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Old Colony Railroad was held in Middlebury Tuesday, the attendance of stockholders being very large. President Choate called the meeting to order, and the following gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year:—Charles F. Choate, Cambridge; Fred. L. Ames, Easton; Thos. J. Borden, Fall River; John S. Bryon, Fall River; Uriel Crocker, Boston; Samuel L. Crocker, Taunton; P. B. Hayes, Boston; Jacob H. Lord, Plymouth; George Masson, New Bedford; William J. Rott, New Bedford; Royal W. Turner, Randolph; Elisha W. Willard, Newport, R. I.; Eph. N. Winslow, Hyannis.

Mr. Faxon of Quincy, moved that the Directors be instructed to report in writing why in the face of the resolution of the stockholders to the opposite effect made November 27, 1877, liquor was permitted to be sold in the station of the Old Colony Road in Boston.

President Choate said, in explanation of the matter, that, although a first-class victualler's license was granted, nothing was sold there of a more intoxicating nature than mild beer, with the sale of which the directors did not see fit to interfere. Mr. Faxon said that he was perfectly satisfied with President Choate's explanation.

Mr. J. H. Benton of Boston offered the following motion:

"That the directors are hereby authorized to locate, construct, maintain and operate a railroad from a point on the line of the railroad of the company in Hingham or Cohasset to Nantasket beach in the town of Hull."

President Choate said, in explanation, that the proposed line will be two miles in length, and the estimate made of the cost three years ago was $30,000. The depot will be not far from the Rockland House. After some discussion Mr. Benton's motion was passed.

The Republican Banquet.

The reception given to distinguished officers elected on the fourth instant, by the Young Republican Club of this town, at the Town Hall on Monday evening, was a very pleasing and successful affair. There was a very large attendance and good order prevailed. The music by the Belmont Band was unusually good, and received numerous applause. Among the gentlemen who occupied seats upon the platform were noticed, His Honor, John D. Long, Governor-elect, Attorney General Marston, District Attorney Asa French, Councilor William O. Taylor, Councilor John P. Spaulding, Senator Nathaniel Wales, Representatives Edwin B. Pratt, Nathan D. Canterbury, Louis A. Cook; Judge E. C. Bumpus, Judge E. G. Pratt, County Treasurer, C. C. Churchill, Hon. C. W. Slack, Hon. A. W. Beard, Rev. E. Frank Howe, Hon. J. W. Belcher, Hon. F. A. Hobart, Adjutant J. P. Jordan, Deputy Sheriff French, Special Commissioner Field, Col. F. W. Parker, and Charles F. Adams, Jr.

The meeting was called to order at about 8 o'clock by Warren W. Adams, who introduced our townsmen, Charles F. Adams, Jr., as President of the evening.

Mr. Adams said that, although at first unable to discover the reason why he had been invited to preside at a gathering of Young Republicans, he had finally fathomed the secret, and he believed it to be because he was neither very young nor very Republican. [Laughter.] He felt certain that, if no one knew who was Governor until after election, surely every citizen did know who was chosen when the verdict of the voters had been announced; and, possessed of that knowledge, the Governor should be received by every man as the head of the State, and not as the head of a party.—"I shall presently introduce to you, therefore with confidence, a gentleman for whom I had the honor of voting [applause], even when in so doing I was forced to vote against my own brother. [Laughter.] One thing, however, I wish to be told by the gentlemen who are to speak, I want to know how it was that the Republican party, with a record so full of honor, found, in the last two campaigns, so much to apologize for." Mr. Adams then introduced Governor-elect Long, who was greeted with prolonged applause.

Mr. Long, in opening, said that Mr. Adams' remarks showed that while he had voted all right, he had neglected to read either the campaign speeches of himself [Mr. Long] or his associates.—"For, had he done so, he could not have seen much of apology for the Republican party's course. The party needed no apology, its record spoke for it, and had placed Massachusetts as the best-governed State in the world. I think he said, that you do well in getting together for the purpose of having a good time, and I thank you for the honor which you do to me and to my fellow associates, in allowing us to come and rejoice with you. If we were to stop over a mere rejoicing over the bare victory it would be hardly worth while. This annual election would be of very little consequence if it were only to enable us to celebrate some party triumph when it is over. Our election is a stepping-stone of progress of interest to all citizens. The experiment of republican government has never been tried until within the last few years, when the condition of the population has changed from the rural agricultural communities of our forefathers to a condition where more than half the population is in 19 cities, and there is the growing distinction between rich and poor, the increase of foreign population, and there have been other disturbing influences at work. There have been evil consequences, but that result has been upon the whole so good, we have cause for congratulation very much more than over mere party triumphs. Mr. Long alluded to the importance of absolute fairness in voting and counting, and of respecting the local and individual rights of the body politic, and then said to the Young Republicans, "I am glad to believe that these gatherings are a part of the political education upon which the safety of our republican institutions rest. I trust that in the future, always adhering to good, sound political principles, and always conducting yourselves with some party which stands for the best interests of the institutions of the nation, you will have many victories even braver than that which you have just achieved. I will not detain you with a long speech, as this is an occasion for neighborhood politics, but will bid you, with great heartiness, good-night."

Mr. Long's speech was greeted with loud applause, which was renewed when Miss Gracie Spear, a little daughter of Mr. J. Edward Spear, stepped upon the platform and handed him a handsome bouquet.

Attorney-General Marston was introduced as "a genuine Yankee from Cape Cod." He said that he wasn't aware that the typical Yankee could be found in his section of the State, but he would remind his hearers that the Republican faith was preserved there, and the straight ticket voted during the last campaign would be regarded as the triumph of principles, rather than party. Speaking of the indications of the victory of the fall, he said it showed that Massachusetts would stand by her principles in spite of determined opposition.—"I am pressing a belief that the Republican party represented the best principles of the country, he hoped the Young Republicans would continue their organization; he said that the victory was the voice of Massachusetts for the national campaign of next year."

Collector Beard, who followed, said he never apologized in his speeches for the Republican party, and when the time comes for him to do so, he will look about for some other party, with which to ally himself. Alluding to the work before the new Legislature, the speaker said it needn't meddle much with retrenchment, but should grapple with the question of taxation. "I believe in taxing a man upon what he owes, and not for what he owes." [Prolonged applause.] He expressed a disbelief in biennial elections, and said that the national issue in the campaign was, not the violation of State rights, but the preservation of national rights. He said Congress ought to give immediate and serious attention to the currency question, and closed with a high commendation of the President in maintaining his policy in the face of an opposing Congress.

Hon. F. A. Hobart of Braintree, was the next gentleman introduced by the Chairman. He said he had been a Republican for twenty-three years, and gloried in the good work the party had accomplished.

Hon. Charles W. Slack was the next speaker, and in the few minutes allotted gave an eloquent and patriotic address, setting forth the advantages every boy born in America had, over those born in other countries. The most lowly by industry, honesty and perseverance could rise to honor and distinction.

Judge Bumpus, of Weymouth, was next called out by Mr. Adams. He read from the diary of John Adams, showing the love for office in those days. How Mr. Adams and one Cleverly planned for the election of a Selectman. Although this Cleverly's name was not spelt Faxon. He said there still remains in the breast of many a gentleman a love for office, even if it did not exist in the descendants of this gentleman.

The speaking in the hall was concluded with remarks by Rev. E. Frank Howe of Newton, who said, among other things, that he believed it was the duty of clergymen to take part in politics, and that he always advised his parishioners, when there was a caucus and a prayer meeting the same evening, to attend the caucus.

In response to an invitation by the president, the invited guests adjourned to the lower hall, where, after partaking of a substantial supper, Mr. Charles H. Porter was introduced as toastmaster. The following toasts were offered, and appropriately responded to by the gentlemen named:—

Our Past Representatives—Gentlemen whom we delight to honor.

Responded to by Mr. E. W. Marsh.

Our Representatives elect—They will always be sure to vote right.

Responded to by Mr. E. B. Pratt.

Our Irrepressible Citizen—Always ready with his word to push on the right.

Responded to by Mr. Henry H. Faxon.

Our Late Resident of Wollaston, now a Resident of Boston—May his shadow never be less.

Responded to by Capt. J. P. Jordan.

Our Public Schools—The grand preparation for the future.

Responded to by Col. F. W. Parker, superintendent of schools.

The Man who by Personal Popularity Won a Victory from a Democratic District.

Responded to by Mr. John P. Spaulding.

Our Fellow-Townsmen, so Successful upon the stump.

Responded to by Mr. C. A. Foster.

Our Members-elect—They will always vote right.

Responded to by Mr. Lewis A. Cook.

This concluded the entertainment.

School Report.

The following is the official report of the Quincy Public Schools for the month ending Nov. 21st:—

|             | Average Number. | Average Daily Attendance. | Total Attendance. | Proficiency. |
|-------------|-----------------|---------------------------|-------------------|--------------|
| High,       | 98              | 95                        | 97                | 5            |
| Adams,      | 307             | 329                       | 95                | 17           |
| Coddington, | 219             | 210                       | 96                | 5            |
| Quincy,     | 164             | 152                       | 94                | 23           |
| Washington, | 213             | 198                       | 95                | 23           |
| Willard,    | 420             | 397                       | 96                | 12           |
| Wollaston,  | 138             | 129                       | 95                | 6            |
| Total,      | 1559            | 1510                      | 95                | 92           |

RE-OPENED. The Robertson House, which has been closed to the public the past few weeks, has been re-opened under the management of Messrs. Frank & Steward. It has been newly papered, painted, and furnished in a first class manner, and will compare favorably with many of our large city hotels. Messrs. Frank & Steward are both adepts in their line, and will endeavor to please their patrons.

An unoccupied house at Wollaston owned by Patrick McDonnell was to undergo some repairs and on Tuesday last, some lumber was sent there for that purpose. James Sproule, the driver of the lumber wagon hearing a noise inside the house called out to know where he should leave the lumber but received no answer. He was surprised to see two men make a sudden exit from the house, and take a big bag. On examination of the premises it was found that the fellows were without doubt going to remove the plumbing work and if they had not been disturbed would have done hundreds of dollars of damage.

No more cheerful sight than an open fire, with a bright Turkey Rug spread before it; no better place to buy that rug than at John H. Pray, Sons & Co's.

The locomotives of the Old Colony railroad are to have a patent attachment fixed to their safety valves to prevent the escaping steam making such a deafening and hideous noise, which has been the cause of so many accidents.

District Court. The following cases have been disposed of this week, before the Judge at his Thanksgiving dinner:—

Charles A. Litchfield of Cohasset, for an assault on Charles E. MacPherson. The plaintiff acknowledged satisfaction the defendant was discharged on payment of costs.

Edwin F. Dee of Weymouth, for an assault on Jerome F. Donovan. Found guilty and fined $10 and costs.

Edwin F. Dee and Daniel Hogan, for an assault on Jerome F. Donovan. Each fined $5 and costs.

Doric White of Weymouth, for an assault on Edwin F. Dee. Discharged.

Jerome F. Donovan of Weymouth, for an assault on Edwin F. Dee. Fined $10 and costs, for which sentence he appealed.

Doric White of Weymouth, for keeping a white nuisance, on complaint of Edwin F. Dee. Discharged for want of evidence.

Owen Sweeney, of Cohasset, for assault on John J. Dunn. Discharged.

Thanksgiving Spice.

Buy your turkey to-day. He's gobbled his last gobbler.

One kin you are pretty sure to meet to-morrow—pump-k-in.

To-morrow's motto: So fair and yet so fowl a day I have not seen.

The owl is a wise bird, but about this time the turkey is the sager of the two.

A presentation of plate will be made in many a family gathering to-morrow.

Our markets are just crowded with gobbles who have gone the way of all the earth.

Now is a good time to pity the poor to the extent of going down into your pocket. A ten pound turkey does excellently in that line.

John Carter the first governor of New England, will be kindly remembered to-morrow. He invented Thanksgiving carving, John did.

Advice to the young man who intends to preside for the first time at the Thanksgiving table: Have the turkey roasted to the platter. It may save a fifteen dollar pair of pantaloons.

"There will be a turkey buried at my house on the 27th. You are respectfully invited to attend," is the latest and most fashionable way of inviting a friend to Thanksgiving.

The Loiter Nuisance.

Several weeks ago a spasm of reform came over our Police force and printed notices were profusely hung in stores and offices warning loafers to beware the terrors of the law—but what a fare! Our sidewalks and public places are still infested with the same tobacco spitting, vulgar and profane collections. Ladies are insulted and storekeepers and residents annoyed. Boys of eight to a dozen years of age are hanging about our streets, learning all that is bad, at hours when older people should be in bed. On Sunday evenings particularly are the side walks from the centre of the town to the railroad bridge on Adams street, promenade by some of the most obscene, filthy and profane loafers that ever cursed a town.

This state of affairs calls for the serious attention of our Chief of Police and the placing on duty of an officer or officers who know and are not afraid to do their duty. We have had edicts on the street long enough.

SPORTING. A contest took place at Walnut Hill Range on Saturday last, between the sportsmen, for the silver ware matches, at 200 and 300 yards off hand. Mr. E. B. Sauter of this town took part, and he succeeded in finding the bull five times with two close "centres" in seven shots, closing for 33 out of 35, and heading the list in the trial. He was followed by Mr. Richardson and Mr. Griffin for 33 each. Mr. Souther outranking them. Each gentleman proved himself by his score to be a capital off-hand shot.

THE POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT. The report of the auditor of the treasury for the post office department for the fiscal year ended the 30th of June has been handed to the Postmaster General. It shows that the actual cost of the postal service to the general treasury during this period was only $3,031,455, a remarkably small deficit, which is nearly $1,600,000 less than that of the preceding year. The total revenues of the post-office department during the fiscal year were $30,641,962, an increase of $763,345, and the total expenses, $33,345,347, a decrease of $1,061,647 in comparison with the preceding year. Of the last-named amount $745,612 was saved by the law, which changed the basis of the postmasters' compensation from commissions on stamps sold to a commission on stamps canceled, and the remainder by a reduction of the compensation allowed to railroads. The States returning the largest revenues were, New York, $5,140,310; Pennsylvania, $2,732,993; Illinois, $2,398,627; Massachusetts, $2,087,228; Ohio, $1,976,440; Missouri, $1,124,555, and Michigan, $1,004,487.

Sunday Services.

CHRIST CHURCH. Rev. Thaddeus A. Snively, Rector. Services at 10.30 A. M. and 7 P. M. The Sunday School will meet at 12 o'clock. Service in the Chapel Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

There will be service at Christ Church, Thursday, the 27th being Thanksgiving day at 10.30 A. M.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. Preaching by the Pastor at 10.30 A. M.; Sabbath School and Bible Class at 11.45 A. M. Young people's service at 7 P. M. Praying meeting every Friday evening in the Chapel at 7.30 o'clock.

Sermon on Thanksgiving day at 11 A. M.

SPIRITUAL MEETING. Mr. Joseph D. Sibley will speak at Temple-street Hall, Granite street to-morrow, at 2 o'clock.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. by Rev. E. A. Pettit. Sunday School immediately following.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Sabbath Service at 10.45 A. M. Sermon by Rev. Augustus Copen. Sunday School and Pastor's Bible Class at 2.30 P. M. Evening service at 7.30. All are welcome.

A UNION Thanksgiving Service will be held at the First Baptist Church Wollaston, Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. Service by Rev. Dr. Hague.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH AT WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Services at 10.45 A. M. and 7.30 P. M. Sabbath School at 2.30 P. M.

METHODIST CHURCH, WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. and 7 P. M. by Rev. S. Kelley, pastor. Sunday School follows morning service. Praise service at 7 P. M. with a sermon.

UNIT CHURCH, QUINCY POINT. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. and 7 P. M. by Rev. S. Kelley, pastor. Sabbath School follows morning service. Praise service at 7 P. M. with a sermon.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, QUINCY POINT. Sabbath School at 10.30 A. M. Preaching every Sunday, at 2.30 P. M. at Mr. H. H. Storey. Rev. George B. Lawton, Pastor. Prayer meeting Sunday evenings at 7 P. M. Tuesday evenings at 7.30.

WEST QUINCY METHODIST CHURCH. Rev. R. W. Harlow, Pastor. Preaching at 10.15 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sabbath School at the close of the morning service.

A LONG JOURNEY. One of our subscribers, who resides in Braintree, informs us that after a careful reading of his PATRIOT each week he mails it to a relative in Fall River. Here it is enjoyed for a brief period and then it is dispatched to California. Again it is perused and some of its receipts copied, and then it is sent on a journey to the Sandwich Islands.

THAYER ACADEMY. We have received a catalogue of the Thayer Academy for the years 1879-80. In glancing over the names of its pupils we find that Quincy has nineteen misses and masters, among its pupils. The design of this school is to furnish thorough instruction, and provide the substantial element of a good education.

WANTED,

A GIRL would like a situation to do general housework in a private family. Inquire for ten days at T. RYANT NIGHTINGALE'S, Centre St., near G. W. Brooks'. Quincy, Dec. 29.

FOR SALE.

ROAN HORSE, Strong, Sound and good rider. Apply to W. P. PARKER. Quincy, Nov. 29.

Wanted, Immediately,

GOOD CROCHETERS. Apply Tuesday or Thursday—9 to 12 o'clock, A. M., to Mrs. W. H. JONES, Beale Street, Wollaston. Quincy, Nov. 22.

WANTED.

A Good Second-hand Piano; price $100.00. Also a good Piano. Apply to the Patriot Office, giving price, and the name of the maker of the Piano. Quincy, Nov. 22.

Cape Turnips!

THE Subscriber has just received a lot of those excellent Cape Turnips. They are of a superior quality. CHARLES CRANE. Quincy, Nov. 22.

WANTED,

EXPERIENCED Coat Makers. Apprentices on Coats. Also an experienced hand to do repairing. FRANK A. SPEAR, Custom Clothing, 36 Hancock Street. Quincy, Oct. 18.

EBENEZER ADAMS, - - - ACTUOSER

The Quincy Patriot.

SUPPLEMENT

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1879.

The Heirs of the Great Hyde Estate in England.

During the last quarter of the last century there came to this country two brothers, from England—John and William Hyde. They were compelled to leave their native land on account of their espousal of liberal principles. A few years after their settlement here their father died, leaving an exceedingly valuable estate. The bonds and moneys of the estate were deposited in the Bank of England to await disposal by the Court of Chancery. At the beginning of this century one of the brothers—John—died. He lived in New Jersey, and married a lady living at Kingston, a small town near Princeton. William was residing in the West.

In 1829 the amount deposited in the Bank of England had accumulated until it reached the sum of £32,000,000. William died a few years later, but his heirs seem to have been indifferent to the fortune left for them on the other side of the Atlantic. The papers in the hands of the English court, however, and were doing good work. Nothing more occurred until last fall, when the court declared that foreign heirs might inherit personal property in the British possessions. The news came across the ocean and awoke to activity the apathy of Mr. Hyde's heirs. The first to move were the heirs of William, who were before so listless, and under the leadership of ex-Governor of New Mexico, they traced their lineage, and put their claims into proper shape.

Great expedition was required, as the court said that unless the claims were presented by the 1st of next January, the property should revert to the Crown. John's heirs are now very busily engaged in arranging their papers. The "Hyde Association" has issued papers with blank spaces for the names of the ancestry, and these are distributed among the various families who claim legal descent. There are seven of these families on John's side of the house, the two principal ones being the Holmes and Joneses of Hunterdon county, N. J. The estate is now valued at $390,000,000. The heirs of each son get $180,000,000. Dividing this among the seven lineal lines from John it gives each family about $26,000,000, and each child, no matter if they are plentiful, will receive several hundred thousand dollars.

NEW YORK TICKET SPECULATORS.—During steamboat navigation the best state-rooms are taken up by speculators. In winter the same class devotes itself to the theatres, in purchasing the best seats. When an extraordinary attraction occurs, half the house may be taken in advance, and those who wish to see the performance can do so by paying a premium. The managers say the case is hopeless; they cannot refuse the seats to any one who offers the price. The speculators show great tact. They make opera and star engagements their harvest, and $250 have been made in one night. The speculator knows the capacity of every theatre and the attractive power of every performer. This, with a capital of $200, enables him to make a handsome living. There is no remedy except for theatre-goers to buy tickets early, but this is seldom done, and hence the speculator may be considered a permanent institution. Some of them have been years in business, and find it easy to make a good living, as their profits average $100 a night through the season.

The road-master on the Boston and Providence Railroad makes his journey of inspection on a velocipede, which he propels along the track with apparent ease at a high rate of speed. It has two wheels fitted to run on one rail, and another attached to a sort of strapper, which rolls along on the parallel rail and keeps the balance of the vehicle.

William Martin of Lyman, N. H., celebrated his 90th birthday by sawing and splitting a lot of wood. From the 25th of June to the 1st of August he had four acres of corn and potatoes, and made twelve baskets.

Importers and jobbers of small wares in Boston, are giving orders for silk stockings, costing to import as high as $120 a dozen. Such high costing goods have never before been imported direct to that city.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION

is called to our stock of

STOVES & RANGES

including the

HIGHLAND, AUBURN

And Royal Ranges.

These Ranges have extra large tops, and the flues are so arranged that all the holes are available, and are supplied with Reed's Regulator, which saves Coal and keeps the fire under perfect control. They are mounted in the most perfect manner and are supplied with all Modern Improvements.

Other patterns of RANGES

FROM $18 UPWARDS

Also, the celebrated

"STEWART"

PARLOR STOVES!

"HIGHLAND," "ROYAL," "WELL DONE," And Other Patents.

The "Berkley" Open Stove IS THE BEST.

The "Splendid" Base Burner

is without exception the most Perfect Stove in the market

IN FURNACES,

we shall recommend the Best, and will guarantee Perfect Satisfaction. Any pattern of Stove or Furnace supplied at Manufacturers' Prices. Also, a full assortment of custom-made

TIN WARE

Kitchen Furnishing Goods.

Furnaces, Ranges and Stoves repaired at short notice.

Pumps Set and Repaired. IRON SINKS, LEAD PIPE, SHEET LEAD AND ZINC, always in stock.

We shall continue to keep a full stock of DRAIN PIPE, at Lowest Cash Prices.

PIERCE & SANBORN,

HANCOCK STREET.

Quincy, Dec. 1. if

The Best Stoves in the Market!

G. W. WALKER'S

Crawford and Franconia

DOUBLE-OVEN RANGES,

Warranted to bake in both ovens at the same time, and First-class in every respect. Also, Sole Agents in Quincy for the celebrated

STEWART

PARLOR STOVES.

The subscriber has on hand, and is prepared to furnish

Cook, Parlor, and Office STOVES

OF THE BEST PATTERNS. AT REASONABLE RATES

Any STOVE, not in stock, will be obtained at short notice.

Jobbing promptly attended to.

E. S. FELLOWS,

Hanock Street.

Quincy, Feb. 8. if

REMOVAL

ROBERTSON'S BLOCK.

THE Subscriber would inform his friends and the public that he has moved his stock to ROBERTSON'S BLOCK.

Where he will keep a good supply of

Provisions & Vegetables

Also, Pastry, &c.,

WHICH WILL BE SOLD LOW.

A. W. HICKS.

Quincy, March 29. if

FRENCH

AMERICAN CHINA!

A FULL assortment of these beautiful goods just received and for sale very cheap by

E. CLAPP.

Quincy, April 19. if

NEW

FALL and WINTER GOODS.

I HAVE now in Stock a large supply of goods for gentlemen's wear, which were bought for CASH, and am prepared to sell the same at the very lowest prices.

SHAKER SOCKS,

From 15 cents upwards.

A FEW DOZEN PAIRS OF HAND KNIT

Socks, Mittens and Gloves.

ALL WOOL

UNDERSHIRTS AND DRAWERS.

LATEST STYLES

HATS AND CAPS.

White, Colored and ### Woolen Shirts.

CARDIGAN JACKETS.

Overcoats, Pants, &c.

CELLULOID COLLARS.

ARGROSSY SUSPENDERS.

And in fact almost everything for gentlemen's wear. GIVE ME A CALL.

C. A. SPEAR,

86 Hancock Street,

Quincy, Oct. 25. if

OVERCOATS.

A large and fresh stock of

Overcoats for Men,

Overcoats for Boys,

Overcoats for Youths.

In Fine, Medium and Cheap Grades.

A large stock of

Men's, Youths and Boys'

SUITS,

VERY CHEAP.

George Saville's,

90 Hancock Street.

Quincy, Nov. 1. if

BUSSELL'S

PHOTOGRAPH

ROOMS!!

CHESTNUT STREET.

Quincy, Oct. 18. if

THE JUICE OF FRUIT FOR SALE!

THE Subscriber has the juice of eleven kinds of fruit, each and all preserved and refined with sugar, call it what you please, Syrup or Wine. It is very nice for cooking purposes and will prevent or cure many complaints of the Human System, such as Dyspepsia and Kidney Complaints, &c., and will almost restore youth to old age.

G. SPEAR

Quincy, Oct. 18. if

NATIONAL HOTEL,

CORLANDT Street, Near Broadway, NEW YORK.

ROTHKRIS & POND, Proprietors.

ON THE EUROPEAN PLAN. The restaurant, cafe and lunch room attached, are unsurpassed for cheapness and excellence of service. Rooms 50 cts. to $2 per day, $3 to $10 per week. Convenient to all ferries and city railroads. New Furniture. New Management.

Fashion Notes.

Bridal veils are now in the shape of the Spanish mantilla.

Flaring shaped bonnets are worn by fastidious leaders of fashion.

The new Parisian muffs are made to match the bonnet, not the costume.

Roses and poppies of dyed goose feathers are pretty and expensive novelties.

Metal butterflies ornament the newest French bonnets. They look like the real thing.

At a New York wedding the other day, a lady appeared in a dress made out of a camel's hair shawl.

African lynx is a new fur that will be very popular for trimmings and sets as the season advances.

Fewer felt bonnets are shown than at previous seasons, as the preference is given to lustrous beavers or satins.

Embroidered waists are very stylish and very popular. The embroidery takes very expensive and showy designs.

Three trousseaux for New York ladies came over from Europe in the Bothnia the other day. Three papas paid $1200 duties.

At church weddings at New York, the bride and her party are now met at the church by the groom, with or without his best man.

Pure white trimmings are again used on black bonnets; for instance, a black velvet bonnet will be trimmed with white watered ribbon and white plumes.

In ball costumes the low corsage is to be retained and as much display of neck and arms as the modesty of our refined young ladies will permit.

Mask veils are revived and have the finest of fine jet beads sewed upon them, in order to help the business of eye doctors, suggests the New York Mail.

Woolen corduroy is a favorite material for cloaks for young girls; it is light, soft and warm, and comes in the pretty ecru and gray tints that are so fashionable this winter.

At a recent society wedding in New York, the bride and groom wore sprays of faded orange blossoms that bedecked the groom's mother on her wedding day, twenty-seven years ago.

The new changeable velvets are used for rich bonnets in quaint contrasts of color, trimmed with a scarf of cashmere-figured silk in which are many gold threads; others are trimmed with plush-striped ribbons that change in different lights to show contrasting colors.

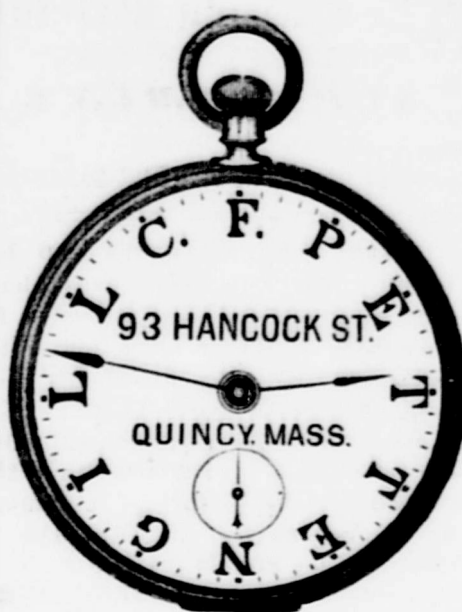

Feather turbans are in favor at the present time. A soft crown of silk, velvet or of any material that matches the costume is surrounded by any of the handsome breasts or wings that are worn this winter. More expensive turbans have the large flat crown covered with jet.

For dress bonnets white brocaded satin with sometimes embossed velvet figures is used for the crown, while the brim will be plain velvet of a contrasting color. The softest curled ostrich plumes resembling willow feathers are used on these, also the heads of birds with closed eyes as if asleep.

The novelty for the head is the toque, which is really a hat, but is worn as a bonnet, with strings or without, according to fancy. The crown is small and quite round, and the brim is enlarged in a curve all around it just like a bowl, somewhat in the shape of the helmet hats worn by gentlemen. It is very handsome when made with a satin crown and the brim covered with plush with deep pile like fur, or else real seal-skin, beaver, or other is used.

Contrasts of color and picturesque corsages copied from old paintings are other features of imported evening dresses. Worth combines lavender satin with yellow brocade in very rich dress, while a white satin waist and train have the flat front breadths of silver brocade strewn with roses; the waist has sharp points front and back, with armor puffs on the top of the sleeves. Other sleeves are gathered at the elbows, and trimmed there with rosettes.

French ladies have thrown fashion overboard in the matter of coiffure. They dress their hair how they like, but there is a marked tendency to discard chignons and false hair. False hair has been proved to be unhealthy. It causes headache, heat, and prevents the perspiration of the head. The best way to obtain an abundance of hair is to cut it frequently, and above all, to give it plenty of air and light.

JUST RECEIVED

A Fresh Stock of Clocks,

WHICH I WILL SELL

AS CHEAP,

As at any place in town.

Watches, French Clocks and Jewelry

REPAIRED

at reasonable rates.

C. F. Pettengill.

Quincy, Oct. 18. if

MILLINERY!

MISS S. H. HUSSEY,

HAS just received a beautiful assortment of NEW GOODS, to which will be added fresh selections in all grades.

Straw & Felt Hats and Bonnets,

Velvets, Satins, Ribbons.

Feathers, Flowers & Jets.

All orders promptly and satisfactorily executed.

HANCOCK ST.,

Opposite Hotel.

Quincy, Oct. 4. if

NEW MILLINERY

—AND—

DRESS MAKING STORE.

THE Undersigned wishes to inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, that she has opened a

First Class Millinery,

—AND—

Dress Making Establishment,

In the Store recently occupied by Mr. Joseph W. Lombard, in ROBERTSON'S BLOCK, on HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, where she will be pleased to suit all the ladies who may favor her with their patronage. Latest Imported Fashions always on hand.

Also, Dress Trimmings, Buttons and Fancy Articles.

MRS. F. A. LAPHAM.

Quincy, Sept. 11, 1879. if

MISS C. S. MILTON

Is now prepared to furnish the Ladies with the latest styles in Hats, Bonnets and Frames, Velvets, Satins and Fancy Feathers. Hats ready trimmed or trimmed to order.

Gossamer Waterproofs,

Warranted for $4, which cannot be bought in the city for less than $6.

STAMPING

Embroidery and Braiding,

DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Over S. H. SPEAR'S STORE.

Quincy, Sept. 27. if

Job Printing

Neatly Done at this Office

Golden

Liniment!

White Label for the Human Family.

COLORS LABEL FOR

Horses, Cattle and Sheep.

—AND—

INVALUABLE FOR

Rheumatism, Sprains,

Sciatica, Stiff Joints,

And Lameness of all Kinds.

Used with Great Success the last 5 years

It will Recommend Itself!

BY THE GROSS, DOZEN OR SINGLE BOTTLE.

W. C. DANIELS,

South Braintree, - - - Mass.

March 22. if

The Quincy Patriot.

SUPPLEMENT.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 29, 1879.

GOVERNMENT ESTIMATES AND REPORTS. The department heads have generally completed their estimates for the coming fiscal year, to be transmitted to Congress with the President's message. The grand aggregate of the estimates is $136,347,129 against $162,404,648, which included $25,000,000 and $3,000,000 for the District of Columbia. For the coming year the War Department calls for $29,319,794 for the military establishment, and $7,557,034 for public works; the Navy Department, $14,509,148; Indian service, $4,992,846; foreign intercourse, $1,185,135; collecting internal revenue, $4,075,000; tenth census, $2,750,000.

The Postmaster General in his annual report recommends an increase of the appropriation for railway service for the coming fiscal year to $10,000,000, and favors an amendment of the laws regulating the compensation on the "star routes"—those where the mails are transported by horses and ordinary vehicles. He also recommends the enlargement of the foreign mail service.

After having completed the translation of the New Testament into the Japanese tongue, the Rev. Dr. N. Brown, missionary in Japan of the American Baptist Union, says that he doubts "if there is any Eastern language into which the New Testament could be translated in a shorter time, or one capable of expressing more naturally and truthfully the thought of the original."

Within a month sugar has taken a forward leap, the advance amounting from two to three cents on the pound. Various causes are assigned, but the presumption is that the advance is due to speculation. Housekeepers will now have to retrench in the saccharine department of their domains.

An excellent old well on the homestead of Andrew Wiggin, in Stratton, N. H., having been dry last summer, he sunk it ten feet more, and now finds that he has a supply of mineral water, about like that of the White Sulphur Springs of Virginia.

The Lowell Courier, which says that its information comes from "a source close to the throne," reports that General Butler's campaign expenses for the last two years will reach $275,000.

A wealthy Norwich, Vt., woman has just been married to the man of her choice after waiting 20 years for him, and against the determined opposition of her relatives.

Charles E. Tilton, the millionaire of the town of Tilton, N. H., has given the town a $20,000 public building, and will endow a library and reading-room.

Summary of News.

Woonsocket brags over twenty-seven telephones.

James G. Ross, of Quebec, has received a contract from France for the manufacture of 1,000,000 pairs of shoes.

One man in Middleboro' has dug over forty wells in that town.

David E. Webb of Lebanon has made and sold 1160 boys' sleds this season, and has 500 more under way.

Virginia's first colored lawyer has just been admitted to the bar in that State.

An Oregon teacher, Miss Yocum, has taken up a land claim, fenced it, built a house and raised this year 612 bushels of grain, besides teaching her school.

Gen. Grant has made eighteen speeches since his return.

A petrified eel, twenty-eight inches long and averaging seven inches in circumference, was ploughed up in one of the fields of Hiram H. Clark at Branford, Conn.

The Trout river (Vt.) tub factories are turning out 8000 tubs per week, or 400,000 annually.

A Milford, Del., factory has canned 25,000 pumpkins and wants more.

A blight has struck the orange trees of Florida, and thousands of them are dying.

Twenty-one savings banks in Vermont have a surplus of $312,000.94, and more than 30,000 depositors.

The glory of a 124 pound pumpkin sheds a halo over the town of Troy, Tenn., and a potato weighing nineteen pounds diffuses a sweet aroma in the parish of St. Landry, La.

J. R. WILD,

Manufacturer and Dealer in

CARRIAGES,

Express Wagons,

SLEIGHS, PUNGS, &c.

ALL BRANCHES OF

REPAIRING!

neatly and promptly done.

ALSO, THE BEST

HORSE - SHOEING

— BY —

SKILLED WORKMEN.

RELIEF FOR

Lameness,

Stumbling,

Overreaching,

Interfering

Quartercracks,

Corns, &c.

46 and 48 Hancock St.

Quincy, March 22.

tf

SOMETHING NEW!

A MAN in the Carriage business, who dares to do work for a reasonable price at the cost of the displeasure and loss of friendship of men in the same business, who says he is running down prices.

JOHN GORDON,

Thanks his friends and the public for their very liberal patronage and encouragement which they have shown him for the very short time he has been in business, and begs leave to say that he is better prepared than ever before to give perfect satisfaction to all work entrusted to him, having just finished a two-story building next to Dr. GORDON'S and near the Academy, on HANCOCK STREET.

I warrant all my work to give perfect satisfaction or no charge will be made. Do not think I do not mean what I say, but try and see for yourself, or ask some of your neighbors for whom I have done work.

I have also employed one of the BEST HORSE SHOEERS AND JOBBERS in the country who told me to warrant to stop (with twice shoeing) the worst case of interfering that can be produced or no charge will be made and he would bear the expense.

Painting and Trimming also done. Work taken to and from shop at request of owner, free of charge. Quincy, Oct. 4. 3m

Hancock Street DINING ROOM.

In Old P. O. Building.

THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the Public that he has purchased the Dining Room recently conducted by Mr. Merrill, and is prepared to furnish meals at all hours of the day, or board by the day or week, on the most reasonable terms. He will also keep for sale.

Oysters, Fruit, Ice Cream, Confectionery, &c.,

With experienced Cooks, and careful attention to the wants of patrons, the subscriber hopes to merit a liberal share of patronage. J. H. JONES. Quincy, Aug. 9. tf

P. A. WALES & SONS,

MANUFACTURERS OF

LOG PUMPS

RANDOLPH, Mass.

ORDERS from abroad, whether given by letter or in person, will receive prompt attention; and all work done will be warranted satisfactory, and secure from action of frost. The Pumps are put in sections, and furnished with metallic chambers, if desired.

Also, Pumps made with closed heads for use in public places. Randolph Sept. 27. 3m

BOOTS & SHOES,

Made and Repaired.

THE subscriber would inform his friends and the public that he has enlarged his shop, and is now better prepared than ever to do their work at short notice, and on reasonable terms. PEREZ JOYCE. Quincy Avenue, near Liberty Street. Sept. 25. tf

1000 GALLONS Pure Cider Vinegar,

FOR SALE AT

N. B. FURNALD'S.

Washington Street. Quincy, Aug. 25. tf

Poster Printing, Cheap!

At the Patriot Office

Selectmen's Meetings.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in the Town House every SATURDAY from 2 to 4 o'clock, P. M., until further notice. Persons having business with the Town will please present it on those days.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Selectmen
WILLIAM N. EATON, of Quincy.
CHARLES H. PORTER, of Quincy.
Quincy, March 8. tf

NOTICE!

THE Assessors of the Town of Quincy, give notice that they have delivered to GEO. H. LOCKE, Collector of Taxes, a correct list of the Taxes, together with a warrant, in due form of law, for collecting the same, and that by a vote of the town, all persons who shall pay their taxes on or before the 15th day of SEPTEMBER, 1879, a discount of four per cent. will be made. By a vote of the Town all taxes are due and payable on the first day of November, and the Collector is required to pay interest, on all taxes not paid before December 1st, 1879.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Assessors
WILLIAM N. EATON, of Quincy.
CHARLES H. PORTER, of Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 13, 1879. tf

$15.00 Reward!

WHEREAS, a large number of guideboards and Street Lamps have been wantonly and maliciously broken in this town, the undersigned offer the above reward to any person who will furnish evidence sufficient to convict the person guilty of said offense. Also, For Breaking Glass in windows of buildings belonging to the town.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Selectmen
WILLIAM N. EATON, of Quincy.
CHARLES H. PORTER, of Quincy.
Quincy, March 8, 1879. tf

State Aid.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in the Town House, on the last MONDAY in each month, from 3 to 4 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions of the law of 1879.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Selectmen
WILLIAM N. EATON, of Quincy.
CHARLES H. PORTER, of Quincy.
Quincy, March 8. tf

Scarlet Fever, Small Pox, Diphtheria, Measles, &c.

Office of the Board of Health.

QUINCY, MARCH 5, 1879.

THE Board of Health issues the following notice:—That on and after Monday, March 10th, 1879, the following provisions of Chapter 26 of the General Statutes will be strictly enforced:—

Sec. 47. When a household knows that a person within his family is taken sick of any disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the board of health of the town in which he dwells. If he refuses or neglects to give such notice, he shall forfeit a sum not exceeding $100.

Sec. 48. When a physician knows that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with any disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the board of health of the town; and if he refuses or neglects to give such notice, he shall forfeit for each offense a sum not less than $50, nor more than $100.

The Board considers the above sections to apply to scarlet fever, small pox, diphtheria, measles and whooping cough.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Board of Health
WILLIAM N. EATON, of Quincy.
CHARLES H. PORTER, of Quincy.
Quincy, March 8. tf

BEST OF JOB PRINTING AT THIS OFFICE

POST OFFICE STORE.

A Fine Stock of

Fancy Goods, Small Ware.

Stationery, Confectionery,

Cigars, Tobacco, &c.

Each and all are the BEST

OF THEIR KIND.

Try Our BEST 5 Cent Cigar

Havanna Filled.

Made expressly for us, and sold over no Counter, but our own.

THE BEST CIGAR EVER SOLD FOR

5 CENTS

POST OFFICE.

MAILS CLOSE FOR

New York and South and West, 7.15 A. M.
Boston and North, West and East, 7.35 " "
Cape Cod, direct by O. C. R. R., 7.45 " "
Boston, and all other places, 7.50 " "
Quincy Point, 8.20 P. M.
" " " " 8.40 P. M.
" " " " 9.10 P. M.
" " " " 9.15 P. M.

Domestic and British Money Orders issued.

MAILS DUE FROM

Boston, and all other places, 7.20 A. M.
New York, South and West, 7.30 " "
Boston, and all other places, 7.40 A. M.
" " " " 7.50 " "
" " " " 8.00 " "
" " " " 8.10 " "
" " " " 8.20 " "
" " " " 8.30 " "
" " " " 8.40 A. M.
" " " " 8.50 P. M.
" " " " 9.10 P. M.
" " " " 9.15 P. M.

JOHN R. BASS, P. M.
Quincy, July 5. tf

Budget of Fun.

Fast men, like fast rivers, are apt to be very shallow.

A bad little boy calls himself Compass, because he is boxed so often.

Time is a ship which never casts its anchor.

The N. Y. people says that since the decline in cotton one meets a great many well-developed girls on the street.

There is no widow so utterly widowed in her circumstances as she who has a drunken husband; no orphan so destitute as he who has a drunken father.

We knew a man in Whitehall, who is so ticklish that his tailor can never measure him for a suit of clothes without first administering chloroform.

In Connecticut people have been expecting that a hen, which was setting on a dozen apples, would hatch out a barrel of cider.

What becomes of dogs when they die? " was what a juvenile in Burlington asked his pa. " They go to the happy land of canine," his pa quickly replied.

Pupil. " I know how many days there are in a year—365 1-4.

Parent. " Is that so? Where does the fourth come in?"

Pupil. Fourth of July.

A little four-year-old at Eaglewood saw a man drive in a sulky, and remarked: " Oh, mamma, look at the man sitting on a horse's tail and two wheels running 'long side of him."

An Iowa paper tells the story of a lady who took her child into a cemetery for the first time, and upon showing him the marble figure of a lamb upon a grave was appalled to hear him exclaim: " I suppose an old sheep is buried there."

Lady Tourist. " Are the sheets well aired?"

Chambermaid. " Troth and they are, ma'am; for the sayson is three months begun, and they've been well used since."

A young gentleman remarked to his female companion, the other evening. " Ah! the most beautiful evening in my recollection. Luna looks peculiarly beautiful."

" Was that her just went by?" quickly asked the young lady.

The Taunton Gazette records this horrid mark: " Pilkins says the first time his wife's mouth has been shut for ten years was Saturday when she passed a house with a red flag hanging out. It was an auction sign, but the effect was the same."

" Will you always trust me, dearest?" he asked, looking into her large blue eyes with unspeakable affection. She was a saleswoman at an up-town shirt store, and she said to him: " Business is business, and you'll have to pay cash every time."

" That's a favorite stream for trout, friend," observed a piscatorial devotee the other day to a sprig from the Emerald Isle, who was whipping away at a well-known subscription pool. " Faith, and it must be that, sure enough!" returned Pat. " Deuce a one of 'em 'ill stir out of it!"

A man brought before a justice of the peace in Vermont, charged with some petty offence, pleaded in extenuation a natural infirmity. " I should have made a considerable figure in the world, Judge," said he, " if I hadn't been a fool; it's a dreadful pull-back to a man."

It is said that a New Jersey editor, about making a pilgrimage to Long Branch lately, requested his better half to pack up his traveling valise with the necessary articles. On arriving at the sea-side he found that a bundle of exchanges and a bottle of whiskey were the only articles his wife deemed necessary to his comfort.

" It must be a beautiful, dreamy sort of life you live here in the country," was the remark of a city boarder to Farmer Robinson, as he sat in the shade waiting for his dinner. " Well not very," was the reply. " You see we get up before daylight and work till after dark and get so used up and tired that we sleep right through, soundly. Why, I haven't had a respectable sort of a dream since the planting season began."

H. W. HOSIE'S QUINCY & BOSTON EXPRESS.

Successor to Bowditch & Co.

Boston Offices:—91 Kilby Street, and Court Square.
Quincy Office:—S. H. Spear's Store.
ORDER BOXES:—Railroad Depot, Quincy, and Store of A. Keating, C. W. George and Edward A. Adams.
Quincy, Nov. 22. tf

WINSLOW'S Quincy & Boston Railroad Express.

BOSTON OFFICES:—

24 Court Square, leave at 2.00.
25 Kilby Street, " 3.00.
77 Bedford Street, " 3.30.

ORDER BOX: 10 Faneuil Hall Square, leave at 2.00.

Calls to be made or goods to be forwarded by this express should be left only at either of the above-named offices to insure prompt delivery.

QUINCY ORDER BOXES:—
Railroad Station, E. B. Souther's, E. Bent's, E. A. Adams', So. Quincy.
Leave Quincy Square at 8.30 and 12.30, sharp.
Quincy, May 18. tf

BILLINGS' Quincy & Boston Express.

THE Subscriber will personally attend to the prompt delivery of all orders or packages entrusted to his care.

Offices in Boston, 48 Kingston Street, and 4 North Market Street.
Offices in Quincy, at Newcomb's Store on Elm Street, formerly Totman's, and at E. Clapp's Store.

Quincy, Aug. 9. R. F. BILLINGS. tf

WILLIAM GARRITY'S Quincy & Boston Express.

Formerly Fernald & Shea's.

THE subscriber having purchased the good will of the Route recently managed by Messrs. Spear & Ramsell, is prepared to convey Freight and Parcels between Quincy and Boston, and hopes by strict attention to business to merit a share of public patronage.

N. B. Furniture Moved and Parties accommodated at short notice.

Leaves Quincy at 9 o'clock, A. M., and Boston at 2 1/2 P. M.

Quincy—Orders may be left at Whitely & Nash's, D. Baxter & Co., E. Bent's, and the Stable.

Boston—131 Washington Street, 3 Devonshire Street, 4 1/2 South Market Street, and Faneuil Hall Square.

Quincy, Sept. 7. tf

PETER McCONARTY'S Quincy & Boston Express.

Order Boxes at S. F. Newcomb's store, Quincy Neck, Post Office and Mr. Hall's store, Quincy Point; W. W. Ewell's and Daniel Baxter & Co.'s, Quincy; and 10 Faneuil Hall Square, Boston.

Leaves Quincy Neck at 8.00, Quincy Point at 9.00, and Quincy at 9.30 A. M. Returning Leave No. 4 Central St., Boston, at 2.30 P. M. Quincy, Jan. 13. tf

GOOD Goods and LOW Prices

REED'S SHOE STORE.

Quincy, Nov. 1. tf

FOR SALE, Granite Quarry

IN QUINCY.

THE Well-known Granite Quarry situated on Willard Street, owned and worked the past Forty Years by

O. T. ROGERS & Co.,

Containing about Twelve Acres, with Docks, Sheds, Shops, Office and Two Dwelling Houses.

A large outlay having recently been made upon the Quarry, the whole establishment is now in complete working order. A rare chance is offered to succeed the old firm of O. T. ROGERS & CO.

For further information, please inquire of either of the remaining members.

JESSE BUNTON, SAMUEL BABCOCK, Post Office Address, East Milton, Mass. Sept. 13. tf

B. JOHNSON,

Souther's Wharf, Quincy.

DEALER IN

LONG AND SHORT LUMBER.

Frames, Worked Flooring,

Covering Boards, Shingles,

Clapboards, Pickets,

Laths, &c.

FRAMES SAWED TO ORDER.

Orders may be left with RICHARD NEWCOMB, Washington St., Quincy. Aug. 2. tf

Seaweed for Sale.

DELIVERED to any part of Quincy and neighboring towns. Orders left at Post Office will be promptly attended to. Quincy, Nov. 1. W. G. FRESCHOTT. tf

New Plaids and Flannel

Single Copies 5 cents.

For Sale at
The Quincy Patriot, Boston,
No. 100, North Quincy,
Quincy, Mass., and at
all the principal stores, and at
the following places:

| For Sale at                            | For Sale at                         | For Sale at                        |
|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Quincy, Nov. 29, 11:45 12:00 5:02 P.M. | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:15 12:30 5:47 " | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:45 1:00 6:45 " |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:00 1:30 7:47 "       | Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:45 3:00 8:51 "    | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "      | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "   | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |

For Sale at
The Quincy Patriot, Boston,
No. 100, North Quincy,
Quincy, Mass., and at
all the principal stores, and at
the following places:

| For Sale at                            | For Sale at                         | For Sale at                        |
|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Quincy, Nov. 29, 11:45 12:00 5:02 P.M. | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:15 12:30 5:47 " | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:45 1:00 6:45 " |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:00 1:30 7:47 "       | Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:45 3:00 8:51 "    | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "      | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "   | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |

For Sale at
The Quincy Patriot, Boston,
No. 100, North Quincy,
Quincy, Mass., and at
all the principal stores, and at
the following places:

| For Sale at                            | For Sale at                         | For Sale at                        |
|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Quincy, Nov. 29, 11:45 12:00 5:02 P.M. | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:15 12:30 5:47 " | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:45 1:00 6:45 " |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:00 1:30 7:47 "       | Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:45 3:00 8:51 "    | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "      | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "   | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |

For Sale at
The Quincy Patriot, Boston,
No. 100, North Quincy,
Quincy, Mass., and at
all the principal stores, and at
the following places:

| For Sale at                            | For Sale at                         | For Sale at                        |
|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Quincy, Nov. 29, 11:45 12:00 5:02 P.M. | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:15 12:30 5:47 " | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:45 1:00 6:45 " |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:00 1:30 7:47 "       | Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:45 3:00 8:51 "    | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "      | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "   | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |

For Sale at
The Quincy Patriot, Boston,
No. 100, North Quincy,
Quincy, Mass., and at
all the principal stores, and at
the following places:

| For Sale at                            | For Sale at                         | For Sale at                        |
|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Quincy, Nov. 29, 11:45 12:00 5:02 P.M. | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:15 12:30 5:47 " | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:45 1:00 6:45 " |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:00 1:30 7:47 "       | Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:45 3:00 8:51 "    | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "      | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "   | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |

For Sale at
The Quincy Patriot, Boston,
No. 100, North Quincy,
Quincy, Mass., and at
all the principal stores, and at
the following places:

| For Sale at                            | For Sale at                         | For Sale at                        |
|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Quincy, Nov. 29, 11:45 12:00 5:02 P.M. | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:15 12:30 5:47 " | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:45 1:00 6:45 " |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:00 1:30 7:47 "       | Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:45 3:00 8:51 "    | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "      | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "   | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |

For Sale at
The Quincy Patriot, Boston,
No. 100, North Quincy,
Quincy, Mass., and at
all the principal stores, and at
the following places:

| For Sale at                            | For Sale at                         | For Sale at                        |
|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Quincy, Nov. 29, 11:45 12:00 5:02 P.M. | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:15 12:30 5:47 " | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:45 1:00 6:45 " |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:00 1:30 7:47 "       | Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:45 3:00 8:51 "    | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "      | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "   | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |

For Sale at
The Quincy Patriot, Boston,
No. 100, North Quincy,
Quincy, Mass., and at
all the principal stores, and at
the following places:

| For Sale at                            | For Sale at                         | For Sale at                        |
|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Quincy, Nov. 29, 11:45 12:00 5:02 P.M. | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:15 12:30 5:47 " | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:45 1:00 6:45 " |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:00 1:30 7:47 "       | Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:45 3:00 8:51 "    | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "      | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "   | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |

For Sale at
The Quincy Patriot, Boston,
No. 100, North Quincy,
Quincy, Mass., and at
all the principal stores, and at
the following places:

| For Sale at                            | For Sale at                         | For Sale at                        |
|----------------------------------------|-------------------------------------|------------------------------------|
| Quincy, Nov. 29, 11:45 12:00 5:02 P.M. | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:15 12:30 5:47 " | Quincy, Nov. 29, 12:45 1:00 6:45 " |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:00 1:30 7:47 "       | Quincy, Dec. 1, 2:45 3:00 8:51 "    | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |
| Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "      | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "   | Quincy, Dec. 1, 3:30 3:45 11:04 "  |

GLOBE. Salisbury's Troubadours are playing a week's engagement at this house, presenting "Cross Purposes," and "The Brook." There are fair combinations "on the road," made up of such bright and vivacious artists, and their programme is, barring some instances of which we might complain, highly mirth-provoking and enjoyable. "Cross Purposes" is a romantic farce about a rich old bear of two wards to two cousins, but as the boys do not "hop" quick enough to suit "garity," he tells them he will give his money to the first one who gets a favorable answer from either of the girls; the cousins set to work to give each other a bad character to the girls, who swap the stories told them to general confusion. After many ludicrous scenes all is made right, and the girls say yes simultaneously.

"The Brook" is like its name, a rollicking, dashing stream of fun, without beginning or ending, like the fellow born in the middle of the week, looking both ways for Sunday. Take either end, it represents a party of Actors in picnic, and after making their coffee with the bait, putting salt into jam and pepper into the pie, they proceed to amuse themselves and the audience, with songs and imitations; we hear "The Brook," "Echo Song," "Laughing Song," and from Bohemian Girl, Giorio Giorio, Revels, Horrors, "I was with Grant," "The Tramp," and many others. I would deprecate Nellie McHenry indicating in action too much wine in the head; it is a blotch, unpleasant, and quite unnecessary. Many of their selections are not quite so pleasing as when I last heard them. They give two performances Thursday and Saturday. Next week Ada Cavendish in legitimate.

Boston. A new Catholic church has been completed in East Weymouth. On Sunday morning this neat edifice was dedicated, Archbishop Williams performing the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Father Barrett, of Weymouth, and Rev. Father J. A. McQuade, of Abington. The Rev. Father J. A. McQuade, of Abington, delivered the sermon, taking for his text Genesis, viii. 1.

Mr. D. E. Smith, the largest landowner in the South, died recently in Richmond county, Va. She measures across the shoulders and weighs 600 pounds. The coffin in which she was placed was necessary to move, and when it was brought to the house it could not be carried through the doorway, and the corpse had to be carried out and placed in it.

LOTTERIES. The post office department, in renewing its war upon lotteries, is doing a good work, but it would have a better work to do if all journals and all themselves respectable would do to advertise these nefarious swindlers. All lotteries are swindles, and no newspaper should sell itself to this wickedness at any price.

John McLean Holmes, who has been a resident of East Bridgewater, but belongs in Duxbury, was a short time taken to the almshouse in Duxbury, and his wife, from whom he had been separated for six years on account of some disagreement, has also come to the almshouse, and they are living happily together after a separation of three years.

A Hartford shoe dealer has received an order for a pair of slippers to be made for an Ohio girl and a pattern of the shoe of the said arrived with the order. The girl is said to be twenty years old and her foot according to the dimensions furnished is 14-1/2 inches long and 4-1/2 inches wide in the broadest part.

It said that the trial of Gunn, the assassin murderer, will take place at the court of the Superior Court, to be held the last of January. He is now confined in his cell at Plymouth, awaiting such of his time in reading.

The Weymouth Advertiser says, "It is from good authority, that the risk of either in the shoe factories at the present time, is the largest ever known at once."

A Mr. FEAR. Edwin W. Cain, of the Weymouth, raised a Duchess pear tree which is 14 inches in circumference and weighs one pound ten ounces. Next!

THE QUINCY PATRIOT. Read the advertisement of this favorite newspaper of New England. It is a wide-awake, new, and thoroughly practical. Its valuable news from Washington, New York, and other places are worth alone the price of the subscription. The reports are fresh and very reliable.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT. This Journal is published every sixth year, and we are pleased to note that although its circulation is widely scattered, it is in a most prosperous condition. Its editorial is in his labors by correspondents from neighboring towns. He has many improvements in view, and he will doubtless receive the encouragement and patronage due a live, wide-awake journalist. May its future be marked with success.

THE NURSERY FOR DECEMBER. With the number of this children's favorite comes to its thirteenth year. It now appears as a new out of type, and its illustrations are not equal to those of any former number. The commencement of a new year is a good time to subscribe, and whatever else the kind parent purchases during the holidays for the members of the family he should be sure that the little ones are provided with the Nursery for the next twelve months. We think the child who would not forget all troubles and be both pleased and instructed by being the fortunate owner of the Nursery cannot be found.

For the Holidays.

The Best Stock of Fresh Goods AND LOW PRICES, EVER OFFERED TO THE PEOPLE.

Pure Confectionery, 20 Cts. per Pound. Chocolate Creams, French Mixtures, Peppermints, Acid Drops, Franklin Mixed, Broken Candy, Lozenges, Jelly Drops.

A Large Assortment of Nuts. Almonds, 22 cts. lb. Castanas, 10 cts. lb. English Walnuts, 17 cts. lb. Shellbarks, 8c. qt., 50c. pk. Filberts, 15 cts. lb. Peanuts, 8 cts. qt. Pecans, 15 cts. lb.

A Choice Stock of Wines and Liquors. We have a choice assortment of New Teas. Oolong, 40 cts. per pound. Japan, 40 cts. per pound. Choice Oolong, 50 cts. per pound. Best Oolong, 60 cts. per pound. Best Japan, 60 cts. per pound.

TEAS. COFFEES. We have a choice assortment of New Teas. Oolong, 40 cts. per pound. Japan, 40 cts. per pound. Choice Oolong, 50 cts. per pound. Best Oolong, 60 cts. per pound. Best Japan, 60 cts. per pound.

Very Best Tea, Imported, 70 cts. per Pound. The best stock in town of Cigars, Tobacco and Pipes!!

VEGETABLES & PROVISIONS. OF ALL KINDS. Foreign and Domestic Fruits. Flour. Flour. Flour.

Fancy Groceries a Specialty. Malaga Grapes, New Figs and Havana Oranges. RECEIVING FRESH EVERY DAY. Best Creamery and Dairies of Butter and Cheese, at GEORGE F. WILSON'S, QUINCY, MASS.

PLEASE REMEMBER D. B. STETSON Bought his large Stock of Winter Goods before the advance in price, so that he can sell them at less than Wholesale Prices.

We Keep a Larger Stock of BOOTS AND SHOES, Than all the stores added together in this part of the town, so that you can get almost any kind of Boot or Shoe that you may wish.

Our Goods are All Warranted. WE HAVE RECEIVED OUR FALL and WINT' Boots and Rubber Goods, And are prepared to sell them at LESS PRICE than can be bought at any other place.

WE KEEP CONSTANTLY ON HAND A GOOD ASSORTMENT OF LADIES' MISSES' AND GENTS' HOSIERY, And sell at low prices.

RENO--Dressing for Ladies' Boots, Paste Blacking, Shoe Brushes, Brazilian Gum Rubber Soling, Patching, Leather Cement, Shoe Findings and a great variety of goods to numerous topaz carlize. Our Bragats are Made to Order and GIVE PERFECT SATISFACTION.

D. B. STETSON, Washington St., Quincy. Still they RUSH down to the Old Store where they are SELLING OUT!!

We have quite a Stock yet and urge Upon the People to come in and supply themselves with Tea, Coffee, Starch, Oil, &c., and get the Benefit of the REDUCTION.

People flock to get some of our Tea and we have PLENTY OF IT NOW ON HAND, and shall sell at the SAME LOW FIGURES STILL CLOSED!

Nice Sliced Dried Apples, 4 cts. a lb. Molasses still holds out 35, 40, 50 cts. a gal. Silver and Satin Glass Starch, 8 cts. a package. COCOA SHELLS, 4 CTS. A POUND. Paraffine Candles, 20 Cents a Pound.

We have received a little more Haynes' Balsam, 8 cts. a bottle; 4 for 25 cts. 2 Wagons, 1 Pung, 1 Carryall, 2 Horses, 2 Light Harnesses, 1 Heavy Harness, 1 Wilder Safe and Store Fixtures which are to be SOLD CHEAP before Dec. 10.

Yours respectfully, E. H. & F. W. POORE, Washington St., near Canal. Eben Bent's Old Store, - QUINCY

All the News of the Day, And a large amount of Entertaining and Instructive READINGS, for less than THREE CENTS A WEEK.

A NEW VOLUME BEGINS WITH THE NEW YEAR. Now is the time to RENEW SUBSCRIPTIONS.

No Premiums, No Chromos, No Forced Circulation.

But Liberal Reductions to Clubs, Cash Commission to Agents.

TERMS FOR 1880: Subscription Price Only $1.50 per year. To Clubs $1.20.

One copy by mail, including postage, $1.50. Five copies (all to one address) 6.00. Ten copies (all to one address) 12.00. And a copy FREE to get-up of club of 10. Twenty copies (all to one address) 24.00. And 2 copies FREE, or 1 of semi-weekly. Fifty copies (all to one address) 60.00. And 5 copies FREE, or 1 of daily year FREE. For larger clubs $1.20 per copy, and one copy FREE for every Ten subscribers, or a commission of 10 per cent. Single copies 4 cents; 52 cts. per hundred.

The WEEKLY JOURNAL for 1880 will retain the GENERAL FEATURES

Which have made it so popular all through New England for more than forty years. These are THE NEWS OF THE WEEK, carefully arranged and classified, and brought down to within an hour of its publication.

NEW ENGLAND INTELLIGENCE, gathered through its special news bureaus and agents, and through the agency of the Associated Press, and representing a very complete summary of all local happenings of interest.

EDITORIAL ARTICLES, discussing with fairness and candor topics of practical interest, and importance.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE from the national capital, from New York, from central points in New England, and from Europe.

MARKET REPORTS, prepared for its columns, and giving fresh and full quotations of the cost of products in the leading business markets.

SPECIAL ARTICLES upon agriculture and domestic topics, sketches of travel and adventure, and interesting news items.

The year 1880 will be

The Presidential Year, And will witness a popular struggle between the two great parties of opposing earnestness and importance.

The Canvass for Nominations, The Result of the National Conventions

Progress and Issue of the Campaign

Are some of the stirring political events which will engage the attention of the people during the year. All these will be fully and promptly reported and discussed in the columns of THE WEEKLY JOURNAL. The contest is one upon which will depend the fate of the nation for many years to come. The questions whether the control of the nation is to be continued in the hands of the party which exalted it, or be given over to the party which sought its overthrow, whether the party of the Union and the freedom of the country are to be preserved, whether this is a Nation, or a mere conglomeration of independent States, without cohesion and without common interests, common responsibilities and a common destiny—these are questions concerning which no thoughtful and patriotic mind can be indifferent. The JOURNAL will continue to give its influence for the Nation and social advancement, for the party of the Union and against corruption and violence, and for the maintenance of Republican principles, sound finance and an honest currency. The Washington Correspondence, By telegraph and mail, will be sent as heretofore by "Perley," a correspondent of long experience and information, seated in the heart of the nation, whose signature is already a guarantee of the truth and value of the JOURNAL's reports.

The Young Farmer, Whom the reader of The Journal can use as one of the most original and charming writers upon topics connected with the soil, and with travel, will contribute a series of sketches, entitled "THE BELTED WORLD."

OR THE Cruise of the Flery Cross, Describing a voyage to the Philippine Islands and China, Becoming incidents on shipboard and scenes on shore, and describing in his lively and off-hand style all that is new and interesting in the countries visited.

MR. EDWARD KING, Will continue to furnish correspondence from Paris and other European capitals. Mr. King stands in the front rank of European correspondents, and his long residence abroad, and his extensive knowledge of political and social movements, give him special qualifications for this service. This year promises to be one of unusual interest in Europe and Mr. King will keep the readers of The Journal informed upon all events connected with European diplomacy, politics and social life.

Each issue of THE WEEKLY JOURNAL contains Thirty-Six Long Columns. Specimens copies sent on application to any address.

All Remittances should be by Post Office Order, Registered Letter or Bank Check.

Address, Publishers Boston Weekly Journal, Boston, Mass. No. 264 Washington Street.

FOR THANKSGIVING AND THE HOLIDAYS.

The Largest Stock, the Freshest Goods, AND LOW PRICES.

TEAS. COFFEES. We have a large stock of Fine New Teas, bought of THE FIRST PICKING of the New Crop, and BEFORE THE RECENT Advance, so that we are able to give our customers the Best Goods at the Old Prices. A Trial will convince anyone of the Superiority of our Teas.

COFFEES. Coffee depend largely upon being FRESH for their DELICATE FLAVOR. We have them ROASTED FRESH EVERY WEEK, Not Ground Until Sold. We warrant them the best to be had.

PRICE LIST. Prime Oolong, 35 cts. per pound. Prime Japan, 35 cts. per pound. Prime Eng. Breakfast, 35 cts. per pound. Extra Formosa, 50 cts. per pound. Extra Japan, 50 cts. per pound. Extra Eng. Breakfast, 50 cts. per pound. Very best teas imported 75 cts. per pound.

Best Rio, 25 cts. 5 lbs. $1.00. Best O. G. Java, 35 cts. 3. Best Arabian Mocha, 35 cts. Mocha and Java, 35 cts. 3. Vienna Breakfast, 9 cts. 13. Taraxacum, 15 cts.

Pure Confectionery, 20 cts. per lb. French Almonds, Lozenges, Chocolate Creams, Cream Dates, Peppermints, Gum Drops, Fruit Candy, French Mixed, Molasses Drops.

NUTS OF ALL KINDS. Almonds, 22 cts. per pound. Shellbarks, 8 cts. per quart. Naples Walnuts, 18 cts. per pound. Peanuts, 8 cts. per quart. Filberts, 15 cts. per pound. Castanas, 12 cts. per pound. Pecans, 15 cts. per pound.

GOODS IN GENERAL. Baker's Chocolate, 42 cts. a lb. Good Laundry Starch, 7 cts. a lb. Cox's Gelatine, 18 cts. a lb. Condensed Milk, 23 cts. a can. Kingford's Starch, (silver gloss), 9 cts. a lb. Extract Lemon, 10 cts. a bottle. Daryens Starch, (satin gloss), 9 cts. a lb. Burnett's Lemon, 20 cts. a bottle. Corn Starch, 8 cts. a lb. Burnett's Vanilla, 25 cts. a bottle. Kingford's Corn Starch, 10 cts. a lb. Best Pea Beans, 8 cts. a quart. Imported Castile Soap, 16 cts. a lb. Best Medium Beans, 7 cts. a quart. White Castile (imported), 25 cts. a lb. Green Peas, 8 cts. a quart. Portland Salt Matches, 50 cts. a gr.

Best Creamery and N. Y. and Vt. Dairies of Butter At Wholesale Prices, - AT - Boston Branch Store, Robertson Block, - Hancock Street. Quincy, Nov. 22.

CHARLES B. TILTON, 19 Hancock Street, Opposite the Public Library. Hardware, Cutlery and Kitchen Furnishing Goods. Brushes of All Kinds. Shovels, Axes, Saws and Saw Horses, Coal Hods, &c.

NEW STOCK AT BOTTOM PRICES. JUST RECEIVED A NEW STOCK OF GLASS WARE in all the Latest Styles. LAMPS, BURNERS, CHIMNEYS and LANTERNS.

CALL AND EXAMINE GOODS, AND OBTAIN PRICES. CHAS. B. TILTON, 19 HANCOCK ST., Next to Hodges' Bakery. Quincy, Nov. 15.

Rubber Mouldings, Just Received! 2d-HAND GOODS. 1-foot standing Office Desk. 1 Large Sofa, suitable for a Barber's Shop or Saloon. 2 Mahogany Card Tables. 2 Large Chests of Drawers. 1 Open Grate Parlor Stove. Office Chairs. Black Walnut Chamber Chairs. Common Chairs, Tables, Bedsteads, Mattresses, Pillows, &c. Also, 1 Double-barrelled Gun, a good shot. A. KEATING. Quincy, Nov. 22.

Nothing has yet been discovered so fully adapted to the wants and General or Specific Improvement of HORSES and CATTLE, as STANFORD FOOD. It greatly increases the Flesh; Prevents Indigestion and Colic; Removes Worms and Humors; Softens and Loosens the Skin; Aids in the Cure of the Cough, and greatly increases the animal's value. 100 lbs. 400 feeds, $6.00. 50 lbs. 200 feeds, $3.25. 25 lbs. 100 feeds, $1.65. OF 500 LBS. 2000 feeds, $25.00. Investigation solicited. For sale by FRENCH & COPPIN, Boston. W. W. EVELL & CO., Quincy. ALSO BY A. E. & CO. Manufacturers, 91 KILBY ST., Boston. Nov. 15.

STANDARD FOOD. The undersigned would respectfully ask the public that he has moved to the shop corner of HANCOCK AND GRANITE ST. where he is prepared to Make and Repair Boots and Shoes, in a neat manner, at a reasonable price. Prices for Repairing: 1/2 Sole, Heels, hand-sewed, $1.25. 1/2 Sole, Heels, pegged, 1.00. 1/2 Sole, Heels, sewed, .75. 1/2 Sole, Heels, BOYS, .85. 1/2 Sole, Heels, LADIES, .65. 1/2 Sole, Heels, MISSES, .50. 1/2 Sole, Heels, Children, .40. PATCHES from 10 to 15 Cents. NATH'L NIGHTINGALE, Quincy, May 8.

STANDARD FOOD. THE SUBSCRIBER would respectfully announce to the Public that he has hired Rooms over the Store of E. B. South, and is prepared to do all kind of BOOT and SHOE MAKING, AND REPAIRING, And would respectfully solicit its patronage. Discarding the time-honored practice of appealing to the strength of age, experience in business, &c., he will let the work done be its own advocate. Hoping by honest work and honorable dealing he may be worthy of your custom. Entrance taken from "Southern" Periodical Store, and Mr. Spear's Clothing Store, up stairs, left of the Billiard Room. HUGH MUNDY, Quincy, Jan. 25.

STANDARD FOOD. THE SUBSCRIBER would respectfully announce to the Public that he has hired Rooms over the Store of E. B. South, and is prepared to do all kind of BOOT and SHOE MAKING, AND REPAIRING, And would respectfully solicit its patronage. Discarding the time-honored practice of appealing to the strength of age, experience in business, &c., he will let the work done be its own advocate. Hoping by honest work and honorable dealing he may be worthy of your custom. Entrance taken from "Southern" Periodical Store, and Mr. Spear's Clothing Store, up stairs, left of the Billiard Room. HUGH MUNDY, Quincy, Jan. 25.

STANDARD FOOD. THE SUBSCRIBER would respectfully announce to the Public that he has hired Rooms over the Store of E. B. South, and is prepared to do all kind of BOOT and SHOE MAKING, AND REPAIRING, And would respectfully solicit its patronage. Discarding the time-honored practice of appealing to the strength of age, experience in business, &c., he will let the work done be its own advocate. Hoping by honest work and honorable dealing he may be worthy of your custom. Entrance taken from "Southern" Periodical Store, and Mr. Spear's Clothing Store, up stairs, left of the Billiard Room. HUGH MUNDY, Quincy, Jan. 25.

STANDARD FOOD. THE SUBSCRIBER would respectfully announce to the Public that he has hired Rooms over the Store of E. B. South, and is prepared to do all kind of BOOT and SHOE MAKING, AND REPAIRING, And would respectfully solicit its patronage. Discarding the time-honored practice of appealing to the strength of age, experience in business, &c., he will let the work done be its own advocate. Hoping by honest work and honorable dealing he may be worthy of your custom. Entrance taken from "Southern" Periodical Store, and Mr. Spear's Clothing Store, up stairs, left of the Billiard Room. HUGH MUNDY, Quincy, Jan. 25.

On and after Monday, Dec. 1, 1879, Trains leave Quincy for Boston,

6:06, 6:54, 7

THE QUINCY PATRIOT, PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING BY M. ELIZABETH GREEN AND GEORGE W. PRESCOTT. TERMS: $2.50 per year, in advance; $3.00, if not paid before the close of the year. Office: 64 Hancock Street, OVER MR. CLAPP'S STORE. Posters, Cards, Billheads, Circulars, Labels, Programmes, &c. PRINTED PROMPTLY, in the Most Reasonable Terms, and Greatly Below Boston Prices.

GEORGE T. ELLIOT, TEACHER OF Vocal and Instrumental Music! WOLLASTON, MASS. 204 Washington Street, Boston. Nov. 8.

Mr. Henri Perabeau, Organist at St. John's Church, Has located in QUINCY, AND WILL GIVE LESSONS ON THE PIANO, CHURCH ORGAN, &c. Wollaston, Mass. He is the privilege of practicing on the St. John's Organ in St. John's Church. Also—Lessons given in HARMONY. Mr. Perabeau is a half-brother of Prof. Ernst Perabeau, the celebrated Pianist of Boston, and his teacher. Residence, corner of Elm and Mechanic Streets, Quincy, Sept. 27.

DRAWING & PAINTING. MISS E. MERRILL, a pupil of the Boston School of Fine Arts, will receive pupils in Drawing and Painting in Oil, Water Color, or on China. Apply at house on Ed. W. St. for information, or at the Boston Branch Store, Robertson Block, Quincy, Oct. 18.

Wm. G. A. PATTEE, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law, 26 PEMBERTON SQUARE, BOSTON. Residence, South Street, Quincy, June 14.

A. W. HAYES, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law, 26 PEMBERTON SQUARE, BOSTON. Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and 6 to 8 P. M. WITCHER'S NEW BLOCK, Quincy, June 22.

J. B. CHAFFIN, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law, In John Q. Adams' Office, Quincy, March 12.

JOHN O. HALL, ACCOUNTANT. SETS OF BOOKS opened or closed. ACCOUNTS examined and adjusted. ADDRESS—Box 184, Quincy P. O. July 19.

FRANCIS W. PARKER, Superintendent of Schools. OFFICE HOURS. Mondays and Saturdays, From 8 to 12 A. M. Office in the National Granite Bank Building, Quincy, May 8.

WHITMAN & BRECK, Civil Engineers & Surveyors. CORNER OF DEVONSHIRE & WATER STREETS, BOSTON. Entrance 85 Devonshire and 16 Water Sts. Particular attention paid to Land Surveying, staking out private grounds, and the general improvement of Real Estate. Plans and working drawings of public and private buildings carefully prepared. H. T. WHITMAN, C. E. C. BRECK, Dec. 14.

CHARLES HATCH, Civil Engineer and Surveyor. OFFICE AND RESIDENCE ON Railroad St., near Quincy Station. Surveys, Plans and Details made of Real Estate. Estimates furnished for the building of structures of all kinds. Measurements of work made for contractors and mechanics. Owner of notes and plans recently belonging to M. J. E. STARKBUSH. All orders promptly attended to. P. O. BOX 141. Quincy, Aug. 22.

JOS. W. LOMBARD, Auctioneer and Real Estate Agent, Hancock Court. Quincy, Sept. 21.

BENJ. F. CURTIS, DEALER IN Hemlock, Spruce and Pine Lumber. A full assortment constantly on hand. CIVIL WHARVES!! Quincy, Jan. 19.

NOTICE! S. N. MULLONEY, STONE MASON AND CONTRACTOR, would inform the public that he is ready for business again. Stone Work in all its branches. Well dig and stone to order. Particular attention given to setting Cemetery Work of all kinds. Work done in a skillful manner. All orders left at his residence, Robinson Street, West Quincy, Mass., or at P. O. Box 26, will receive prompt attention. Quincy, March 1.

NOTICE! T. H. SHERMAN, Dealer in all kinds of FRESH FISH, OYSTERS, QUINCY AVENUE, QUINCY. June 29.

The Quincy Patriot.

ESTABLISHED IN 1837.

A Family Paper devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

NUMBER 49 QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1879. PRICE 5 CENTS.

43D VOLUME.

CONDITIONS.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrearages, unless at the option of the Publisher.

Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary rates, and will be charged until ordered out.

The privilege of annual advertisements is limited to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents to receive Advertisements for the PATRIOT.

BOSTON.—S. M. PETERSON & Co., S. R. NILES, HORACE DODD and T. C. EVANS.

NEW YORK.—S. M. PETERSON & Co. Geo. P. ROWELL & Co. and PEARCE & Co.

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—ROWELL & CRESSMAN.

FOR THANKSGIVING AND THE HOLIDAYS.

The Largest Stock, the Freshest Goods, AND LOW PRICES.

TEAS. We have a large stock of Fine New Teas, bought of THE FIRST PICKING of the New Crop, and BEFORE THE RECENT ADVANCE, so that we are able to give our customers the Best Goods at the Old Prices. A Trial will convince anyone of the Superiority of our Teas.

COFFEES. Coffees depend largely upon being FRESH for their DELICATE FLAVOR. We have them ROASTED FRESH EVERY WEEK, AND NOT GROUND UNTIL SOLD.

PRICE LIST.

|                         |                   |                     |                       |
|-------------------------|-------------------|---------------------|-----------------------|
| Prime Oolong,           | 35 cts. per pound | Best Rio,           | 23 cts. 5 lbs. $1.00 |
| Prime Japan,            | 35 cts. per pound | Best O. G. Java,    | 35 cts. 3 "           |
| Prime Eng. Breakfast,   | 35 cts. per pound | Best Arabian Mocha, | 35 cts. 3 "           |
| Extra Japan,            | 50 cts. per pound | Mocha and Java,     | 35 cts. 3 "           |
| Extra Eng. Breakfast,   | 50 cts. per pound | Vienna Breakfast,   | 9 cts. 13 "           |
| Very best teas imported | 75 cts. per pound | Taraxacum,          | 15 cts.               |

ROASTED AND GROUND.

|           |                   |
|-----------|-------------------|
| Shelbark, | 8 cts. per quart  |
| Peanuts,  | 8 cts. per quart  |
| Castanas, | 12 cts. per quart |

Pure Confectionery, 20 cts. per lb.

French Almonds, Chocolate Creams, Cream Dates, Peppermints, Gum Drops, Cough Drops, Fruit Candy, French Mixed, Molasses Drops.

NUTS OF ALL KINDS.

|                  |                   |           |                   |
|------------------|-------------------|-----------|-------------------|
| Almonds,         | 22 cts. per pound | Shelbark, | 8 cts. per quart  |
| Apples, Walnuts, | 18 cts. per pound | Peanuts,  | 8 cts. per quart  |
| Pecans,          | 15 cts. per pound | Castanas, | 12 cts. per quart |

GOODS IN GENERAL.

|                                    |               |                      |                  |
|------------------------------------|---------------|----------------------|------------------|
| Baker's Chocolate,                 | 42 cts. a lb. | Good Laundry Starch, | 7 cts. a lb.     |
| Cox's Gelatine,                    | 18 cts. a lb. | Condensed Milk,      | 23 cts. a can    |
| Kingsford's Starch (silver gloss), | 9 cts. a lb.  | Extract Lemon,       | 20 cts. a bottle |
| Duysen's Starch (satin gloss),     | 9 cts. a lb.  | Burnett's Lemon,     | 25 cts. a bottle |
| Corn Starch,                       | 8 cts. a lb.  | Burnett's Vanilla,   | 25 cts. a bottle |
| Kingsford's Corn Starch,           | 10 cts. a lb. | Best Pea Beans,      | 8 cts. a quart   |
| Imported Castile Soap,             | 16 cts. a lb. | Best Medium Beans,   | 8 cts. a quart   |
| White Castile (imported),          | 25 cts. a lb. | Green Peas,          | 8 cts. a quart   |
| Portland Star Matches,             | 50 cts. a gr. | Split Peas,          | 8 cts. a quart   |

Best Creamery and N. Y. and Vt. Dairies of Butter At Wholesale Prices, Boston Branch Store, Robertson Block, Hancock Street, Quincy, Nov. 22.

DR. F. J. BONNEY, DENTIST! ANKON'S BLOCK, CHESTNUT STREET. All operations in dentistry faithfully performed. Teeth extracted by the use of either Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. Office open day and evening. Quincy, Feb. 23.

Charles S. French, DENTIST. Cor. Hancock and Chestnut Streets. All operations in dentistry faithfully performed. Teeth extracted by the use of either Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. Office open day and evening. Quincy, Nov. 16.

W. H. SHERMAN, M. D. Physician and Surgeon. WOULD respectfully inform the people of Quincy and vicinity that he is permanently located at Room C, Whitcher's Block, Temple St. and is prepared to treat both surgical and medical diseases either at his office or at the houses of his patients. S. R. Wednesday of each week Dr. Sherman will give his services free of charge. Quincy, Sept. 20.

The People's DRUG STORE HAS been replenished with a LARGE ASSORTMENT OF PURE DRUGS, PATENT MEDICINES, FANCY GOODS, AND all other articles usually found in a first-class Pharmacy, all of which will be disposed of at prices corresponding to the times. A competent clerk will be on hand night and day, for the preparation of Physicians' Prescriptions and the dispensing of medicines of all kinds, while the present proprietor, well attended as formerly to the constantly increasing medical practice. Respectfully,

W. H. Sherman, Whitcher's Block, Temple St. Quincy, Nov. 1.

C. S. WHITING, DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF FRESH FISH, OYSTERS, QUINCY AVENUE, QUINCY. June 29.

Poetry.

Be Careful What You Say.

In speaking of a person's faults Pray don't forget your own; Remember those with homes of glass Should seldom throw a stone; If we have nothing to do Than talk of those who sin, 'Tis better to commence at home, And from that point begin.

We have no right to judge a man Until he's fairly tried; And if it won't fall well, Should we not like his company? We know the world is wide. Some may have faults, and who has not? The old as well as the young. Perhaps we may, for aught we know, Have fifty to their one.

I'll tell you of a better plan, And if it won't fall well, To try my own defects to cure 'Ere others' faults I tell; And though I sometimes hope to be No worse than some I know, My own shortcomings bid me let The faults of others go.

Then let us all when we begin To slander friend or foe, Think of the harm our word may do To those we little know. Remember curses, sometimes, like Our chickens' "roost at home," Don't speak of others' faults, until We have none of our own.

Receipts, Mit, &c.

APPLE PUFFS. Pare and slice six tart apples, stew them and strain them through a colander, sweeten and add a pinch of salt; let this cool while you make your paste, of two spoonfuls of butter worked into eight spoonfuls of flour; add ice water to make consistency of bread dough, put on the molding board and roll quite thin, and dredge with flour, then fold it up and roll quite thin again, repeat this operation any number of times, always rolling the paste into something like a square form. Cut the paste into pieces four inches square, put a small spoonful of sauce on one-half of the square, moisten the paste around it with water, and fold the other half over on to it. Make the edges perfectly smooth. Bake in a dripping pan lined with paper in a quick oven. When you take them from the oven sift a little powdered sugar over each puff.

TO SOFTEN PUTTY. To remove old putty from broken windows, dip a small brush in turpentine or kerosene, and brush it over the putty. When the putty is soft, it can be scraped off with a putty knife.

TO WASH FLANNEL. Never rub soap upon it. Make a suds by dissolving the soap in warm water; rinse in warm water. Very cold or hot water will shrink flannel. Shake it out several minutes before hanging it to dry. Blankets can be washed in the same way.

DR. F. J. BONNEY, DENTIST! ANKON'S BLOCK, CHESTNUT STREET. All operations in dentistry faithfully performed. Teeth extracted by the use of either Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. Office open day and evening. Quincy, Feb. 23.

Charles S. French, DENTIST. Cor. Hancock and Chestnut Streets. All operations in dentistry faithfully performed. Teeth extracted by the use of either Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. Office open day and evening. Quincy, Nov. 16.

W. H. SHERMAN, M. D. Physician and Surgeon. WOULD respectfully inform the people of Quincy and vicinity that he is permanently located at Room C, Whitcher's Block, Temple St. and is prepared to treat both surgical and medical diseases either at his office or at the houses of his patients. S. R. Wednesday of each week Dr. Sherman will give his services free of charge. Quincy, Sept. 20.

The People's DRUG STORE HAS been replenished with a LARGE ASSORTMENT OF PURE DRUGS, PATENT MEDICINES, FANCY GOODS, AND all other articles usually found in a first-class Pharmacy, all of which will be disposed of at prices corresponding to the times. A competent clerk will be on hand night and day, for the preparation of Physicians' Prescriptions and the dispensing of medicines of all kinds, while the present proprietor, well attended as formerly to the constantly increasing medical practice. Respectfully,

W. H. Sherman, Whitcher's Block, Temple St. Quincy, Nov. 1.

C. S. WHITING, DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF FRESH FISH, OYSTERS, QUINCY AVENUE, QUINCY. June 29.

Miscellany.

DAVID SWAN.

Could we indeed know all the vicissitudes of our fortunes, life would be too full of hope and fear, exultation or disappointment, to afford us a single hour of true serenity. This idea may be illustrated by a single page from the secret history of David Swan.

We have nothing to do with David until we find him at the age of twenty, on the high road from his native place to the city of Boston, where his uncle, a small dealer in the grocery line, was to take him behind the counter. Be it enough to say that he was a native of New Hampshire, born of respectable parents, and had received an ordinary school education with a classic finish of a year at Gilmanton Academy. After journeying on foot from sunrise till near the noon of a summer's day, his weariness and the increasing heat determined him to sit down and await the coming of the stage coach. As it happened on purpose for him, there soon appeared a little clump of maples, with a delightful recess in the midst, and such a fresh bubbling spring that it seemed never to have sparkled for any wayfarer, but David Swan. Virgin or not, he kissed it with his thirsty lips, and then flung himself upon the brink, pillow his head upon some shrubs and a pair of pantaloons tied up in a striped cotton handkerchief. The sunbeams could not reach him; the dust did not rise from the road, and the heavy rain of yesterday, and this grassy lair suited the young man better than a bed of down. The spring murmured drowsily beside him; the birds floated across the blue sky overhead, and a deep sleep, perchance hiding dreams within its depths, fell upon David Swan.

While he lay sound asleep in the shade, other people were wide awake, and passing to and fro on horseback, and in all sorts of vehicles, along the sunny road by his bed-chamber. Some looked neither to the right nor the left, and knew not that he was there; some merely glanced that way, without admitting the slumberer among their busy thoughts; some laughed to see how soundly he slept; several whose hearts were brimming full of scorn ejected their venomous words upon David Swan. A middle-aged widow, when nobody else was near, thrust her head a little way into the recess, and vowed that the young fellow looked charming in his sleep. A temperance lecturer saw him, and wrought poor David into the texture of his evening discourse, as an awful instance of dead-drunkness by the roadside. But censure, merriment, praise, scorn and indifference were all one, or rather all nothing to David Swan.

He had slept only a few moments when a brown carriage drawn by a handsome pair of horses, bowled easily along, and he was brought to a stand-still nearly in front of David's resting place. A linchpin had fallen out, and permitted one of the wheels to slide off. The damage was slight, and occasioned merely a momentary alarm to an elderly gentleman and wife, who were returning to Boston in the carriage. While the coachman and a servant were replacing the wheel, the lady and gentleman sheltered themselves beneath the maple trees, and there capied the hobbling fountain and David Swan asleep beside it. Impressed with the awe which the humblest sleeper sheds around him, the merchant chafed so lightly as the count would allow; and his spouse took good heed not to nuzzle her silk gown, lest David should start up all of a sudden.

"How soundly he sleeps!" whispered the old gentleman. "From what a depth he draws that easy breath! Such a sleep as that, brought on without an opiate, would be worth more to me than half my income; for it would argue health and an untrodden mind."

"And you besides," said the lady. "Health and quiet age does not sleep thus. Our slumber is no more like this than our wakefulness."

Thus did this elderly couple feel interested in the unknown youth, to whom the wayside and the maple were as a secret chamber, with the rich gloom of damask curtains brooding over him. Perceiving that a stray sunbeam glimmered down upon his face, the lady contrived to twist a branch aside, so as to intercept it. And having done this act of kindness, she began to feel like a mother to him.

"Providence seems to have laid him here," whispered she to her husband, "and to have brought us hither to find him, after our disappointment in our cousin's son. Methinks I can see a likeness to departed Henry. Shall we waken him?"

"To what purpose?" said the merchant, hesitating. "We know nothing of the youth's character."

"That open countenance!" replied the wife, in the same hushed voice, earnestly. "This innocent sleep."

While these whispers were passing the sleeper's heart did not throb, nor his breath become agitated, nor his features betray the least token of interest. Yes, fortune was bending over him, just ready to lay a burden of gold. The old merchant had lost his only son, and had no heir to his wealth except a distant relative, with whose conduct he was dissatisfied. In such cases, people sometimes do stranger things than to act the magician, and awaken a young man in splendor who fell asleep in poverty.

Our Schools.

A Morning in the Quincy Schools.

(Continued from last week.) NO SABBING.

One of the Hollands was a little out in drawing, which was promptly pointed out by the class. And just here I made a mental note. In all the reading exercises which it has been my fortune to witness in our Philadelphia public schools, the class, if a lively class, has been all ready to pounce on the slightest default in inflection, pronunciation of the closely-watched reader—so intent on manner indeed, that it was scarcely to be believed that the meaning of what was read could be getting any attention. I have heard a paragraph that had very little in it to begin with, read down a line of six or eight children, only for a certain sharpness of enunciation. At Quincy, class criticism, something apart from the teacher's, was directed to substance rather than form, to ideas rather than inflections. The inflections and the intonations came along, but only along, the point was the meaning of what was read, the opinion, the lively remarks of the class, and there was no dreary reading and re-reading of a paragraph by an entire row until the exact nicety of expression was struck. They got at what it meant, first, and the expression followed as a matter of course. In evidence—one child, I noticed, said instid for instead. There was no smirking of the class, no lifting of the hands to call attention conspicuously to the fault. The teacher quietly wrote instead on the board. "How do you pronounce this word?" Class in chorus, including the delinquent, "instead!" It was a polite way of correction, instead of hypercritical snapping up of each other's slips that makes overrighteous little critics. I fear, of some of our school children, and it was another witness to the way in which, as Miss Morse had said, "the class brings the duller ones along with it." As the reading proceeds—"Put in another word for 'localities.'"

Child reads the sentence again and says "place" as he goes on without stopping, to the end. The teacher makes this synonym exercise, I notice, at all the hard words, and the substitute is made as the reader goes on, showing that the entire paragraph is understood. Something following about the water in Holland being older than Adam, and yet the Dutchman cannot drink it—"Why is this?" "Who's Adam?" "Why cannot they drink the canal water?" "Because it is salt and dirty." "Can you think of any other situation in which people would have nothing to drink? Here it says, 'Water; water everywhere, and not a drop to drink.'" "Caspian Sea," calls out a boy, going far inland for a comparison. "They have to carry all the water on shipboard, and they might use it all up before they ever got to land," explains another. "A shipwreck." Pointing back to the line above quoted, "What do those marks mean?" "A quotation—Somebody else wrote it." "Anybody know who wrote it?" "Nobody did." "Find out at the library." Again reverting to the main subject, "Our ships at Quincy don't come up to Mr. Wilson's store. How is it that these boats do in Holland come to the store doors to unload?" "Canals; the streets are canals." "Any other place in Europe where the streets are water?" Boy locates Venice on map, and makes a dot. His neighbor makes his dot, for it at Sicily. "How many," pointing to this last, "think this is right?" "Nobody rises!" "How many don't know?" "Three or four rise, not in the least ashamed to be ignorant, but evidently 'wanting to know.' The majority of the class, however, rose to the opinion that the first draughtsman had put his Venice in the right place, and the second one, thus corrected, but not snubbed, made his repairs accordingly. "What should we see people walking on in Holland?" "Sticks." "No, that's in Sweden," says a class critic. "Wooden shoes?" "Any other place in Europe where the people wear wooden shoes?" "Constantinople," "Russia." "French peasants." "Any part of our country?" "There are boots," said slowly a junior Emerson, "in Mr. —'s store window with wooden soles about an inch and a half thick." Finally it was brought out that in Canada you could still see and hear wooden shoes among the French farmers around Quebec.

Shell Dress-Buttons.

It may be of interest to know that the gilt and colored shell dress-buttons that are so prettily adapted to the new styles of dress goods are all ornamented by hand, and very largely by young girls who are developing a genius for the brush and palette. The buttons are cut from a large shell, which is principally gathered along the coast of Japan. The shells are cut into small squares, which are sliced in halves and then from these two graded button-forms are sawed, polished, and the eyes soldered on, ready to be sent to the decorators. So far the work is done largely in and about Philadelphia, but the decorating is principally done in Brooklyn and New York, although some is done in Boston. The colors, figures, flowers, etc., which are placed upon them are painted on with a brush, and when dried the color has become indelibly into the pores of the shell. The decorators earn from fifty cents to nine dollars a gross, and the skill of the American girls in this business has established the fact that the choicest styles of fancy pearl buttons are not now imported. Within a year a button for calico dresses has been sent into the market made of mud and shellac, which they are now shown in various combinations of color mixed with the dust and particles from the refuse Japan shell. This is sprinkled on after the mixture has been dropped into the mold, and the whole solidified by hydraulic pressure.

Saving for Old Age.

No one denies that it is wise to make provision for old age and that it is best to lay up. Certainly we shall want a little money, for a destitute old man is indeed a sorry sight. Yes, save money, by all means. But an old man needs just that particular kind of strength which young men are most apt to waste. Many a foolish young fellow will throw away on a holiday a certain amount of nervous energy which he will never feel the want of till he is seventy; and then how much he will want it!

It is curious, but true, that a bottle of champagne at twenty, may intensify the rheumatism at three score. It is a fact that overtasking the eyes at fourteen may necessitate the aid of spectacles at forty instead of eighty. We advise our young readers to be saving of health for their old age, for the maxim holds good with regard to health as to money; waste not, want not. It is the greatest mistake to suppose that any violation of the laws of health can escape its penalty. Nature forgives no sin, no error. She lets off the offender for fifty years sometimes, but she catches him at last, and inflicts the punishment just when, just where, just how it feels it most. Save up for old age, but save more than money; save health, save honor, save knowledge, save the recollection of good deeds, and innocent pleasures; save pure thoughts, save friends, save love. Save rich stores of that kind of wealth which time cannot diminish, nor death take away.

The Steamship Mosel arrived in New York on Monday, with $1,300,000 American gold coin and British gold bars.

Our Schools.

A Morning in the Quincy Schools.

(Continued from last week.) NO SABBING.

One of the Hollands was a little out in drawing, which was promptly pointed out by the class. And just here I made a mental note. In all the reading exercises which it has been my fortune to witness in our Philadelphia public schools, the class, if a lively class, has been all ready to pounce on the slightest default in inflection, pronunciation of the closely-watched reader—so intent on manner indeed, that it was scarcely to be believed that the meaning of what was read could be getting any attention. I have heard a paragraph that had very little in it to begin with, read down a line of six or eight children, only for a certain sharpness of enunciation. At Quincy, class criticism, something apart from the teacher's, was directed to substance rather than form, to ideas rather than inflections. The inflections and the intonations came along, but only along, the point was the meaning of what was read, the opinion, the lively remarks of the class, and there was no dreary reading and re-reading of a paragraph by an entire row until the exact nicety of expression was struck. They got at what it meant, first, and the expression followed as a matter of course. In evidence—one child, I noticed, said instid for instead. There was no smirking of the class, no lifting of the hands to call attention conspicuously to the fault. The teacher quietly wrote instead on the board. "How do you pronounce this word?" Class in chorus, including the delinquent, "instead!" It was a polite way of correction, instead of hypercritical snapping up of each other's slips that makes overrighteous little critics. I fear, of some of our school children, and it was another witness to the way in which, as Miss Morse had said, "the class brings the duller ones along with it." As the reading proceeds—"Put in another word for 'localities.'"

Child reads the sentence again and says "place" as he goes on without stopping, to the end. The teacher makes this synonym exercise, I notice, at all the hard words, and the substitute is made as the reader goes on, showing that the entire paragraph is understood. Something following about the water in Holland being older than Adam, and yet the Dutchman cannot drink it—"Why is this?" "Who's Adam?" "Why cannot they drink the canal water?" "Because it is salt and dirty." "Can you think of any other situation in which people would have nothing to drink? Here it says, 'Water; water everywhere, and not a drop to drink.'" "Caspian Sea," calls out a boy, going far inland for a comparison. "They have to carry all the water on shipboard, and they might use it all up before they ever got to land," explains another. "A shipwreck." Pointing back to the line above quoted, "What do those marks mean?" "A quotation—Somebody else wrote it." "Anybody know who wrote it?" "Nobody did." "Find out at the library." Again reverting to the main subject, "Our ships at Quincy don't come up to Mr. Wilson's store. How is it that these boats do in Holland come to the store doors to unload?" "Canals; the streets are canals." "Any other place in Europe where the streets are water?" Boy locates Venice on map, and makes a dot. His neighbor makes his dot, for it at Sicily. "How many," pointing to this last, "think this is right?" "Nobody rises!" "How many don't know?" "Three or four rise, not in the least ashamed to be ignorant, but evidently 'wanting to know.' The majority of the class, however, rose to the opinion that the first draughtsman had put his Venice in the right place, and the second one, thus corrected, but not snubbed, made his repairs accordingly. "What should we see people walking on in Holland?" "Sticks." "No, that's in Sweden," says a class critic. "Wooden shoes?" "Any other place in Europe where the people wear wooden shoes?" "Constantinople," "Russia." "French peasants." "Any part of our country?" "There are boots," said slowly a junior Emerson, "in Mr. —'s store window with wooden soles about an inch and a half thick." Finally it was brought out that in Canada you could still see and hear wooden shoes among the French farmers around Quebec.

Shell Dress-Buttons.

It may be of interest to know that the gilt and colored shell dress-buttons that are so prettily adapted to the new styles of dress goods are all ornamented by hand, and very largely by young girls who are developing a genius for the brush and palette. The buttons are cut from a large shell, which is principally gathered along the coast of Japan. The shells are cut into small squares, which are sliced in halves and then from these two graded button-forms are sawed, polished, and the eyes soldered on, ready to be sent to the decorators. So far the work is done largely in and about Philadelphia, but the decorating is principally done in Brooklyn and New York, although some is done in Boston. The colors, figures, flowers, etc., which are placed upon them are painted on with a brush, and when dried the color has become indelibly into the pores of the shell. The decorators earn from fifty cents to nine dollars a gross, and the skill of the American girls in this business has established the fact that the choicest styles of fancy pearl buttons are not now imported. Within a year a button for calico dresses has been sent into the market made of mud and shellac, which they are now shown in various combinations of color mixed with the dust and particles from the refuse Japan shell. This is sprinkled on after the mixture has been dropped into the mold, and the whole solidified by hydraulic pressure.

Saving for Old Age.

No one denies that it is wise to make provision for old age and that it is best to lay up. Certainly we shall want a little money, for a destitute old man is indeed a sorry sight. Yes, save money, by all means. But an old man needs just that particular kind of strength which young men are most apt to waste. Many a foolish young fellow will throw away on a holiday a certain amount of nervous energy which he will never feel the want of till he is seventy; and then how much he will want it!

It is curious, but true, that a bottle of champagne at twenty, may intensify the rheumatism at three score. It is a fact that overtasking the eyes at fourteen may necessitate the aid of spectacles at forty instead of eighty. We advise our young readers to be saving of health for their old age, for the maxim holds good with regard to health as to money; waste not, want not. It is the greatest mistake to suppose that any violation of the laws of health can escape its penalty. Nature forgives no sin, no error. She lets off the offender for fifty years sometimes, but she catches him at last, and inflicts the punishment just when, just where, just how it feels it most. Save up for old age, but save more than money; save health, save honor, save knowledge, save the recollection of good deeds, and innocent pleasures; save pure thoughts, save friends, save love. Save rich stores of that kind of wealth which time cannot diminish, nor death take away.

The Steamship Mosel arrived in New York on Monday, with $1,300,000 American gold coin and British gold bars.

Our Schools.

A Morning in the Quincy Schools.

(Continued from last week.) NO SABBING.

One of the Hollands was a little out in drawing, which was promptly pointed out by the class. And just here I made a mental note. In all the reading exercises which it has been my fortune to witness in our Philadelphia public schools, the class, if a lively class, has been all ready to pounce on the slightest default in inflection, pronunciation of the closely-watched reader—so intent on manner indeed, that it was scarcely to be believed that the meaning of what was read could be getting any attention. I have heard a paragraph that had very little in it to begin with, read down a line of six or eight children, only for a certain sharpness of enunciation. At Quincy, class criticism, something apart from the teacher's, was directed to substance rather than form, to ideas rather than inflections. The inflections and the intonations came along, but only along, the point was the meaning of what was read, the opinion, the lively remarks of the class, and there was no dreary reading and re-reading of a paragraph by an entire row until the exact nicety of expression was struck. They got at what it meant, first, and the expression followed as a matter of course. In evidence—one child, I noticed, said instid for instead. There was no smirking of the class, no lifting of the hands to call attention conspicuously to the fault. The teacher quietly wrote instead on the board. "How do you pronounce this word?" Class in chorus, including the delinquent, "instead!" It was a polite way of correction, instead of hypercritical snapping up of each other's slips that makes overrighteous little critics. I fear, of some of our school children, and it was another witness to the way in which, as Miss Morse had said, "the class brings the duller ones along with it." As the reading proceeds—"Put in another word for 'localities.'"

Child reads the sentence again and says "place" as he goes on without stopping, to the end. The teacher makes this synonym exercise, I notice, at all the hard words, and the substitute is made as the reader goes on, showing that the entire paragraph is understood. Something following about the water in Holland being older than Adam, and yet the Dutchman cannot drink it—"Why is this?" "Who's Adam?" "Why cannot they drink the canal water?" "Because it is salt and dirty." "Can you think of any other situation in which people would have nothing to drink? Here it says, 'Water; water everywhere, and not a drop to drink.'" "Caspian Sea," calls out a boy, going far inland for a comparison. "They have to carry all the water on shipboard, and they might use it all up before they ever got to land," explains another. "A shipwreck." Pointing back to the line above quoted, "What do those marks mean?" "A quotation—Somebody else wrote it." "Anybody know who wrote it?" "Nobody did." "Find out at the library." Again reverting to the main subject, "Our ships at Quincy don't come up to Mr. Wilson's store. How is it that these boats do in Holland come to the store doors to unload?" "Canals; the streets are canals." "Any other place in Europe where the streets are water?" Boy locates Venice on map, and makes a dot. His neighbor makes his dot, for it at Sicily. "How many," pointing to this last, "think this is right?" "Nobody rises!" "How many don't know?" "Three or four rise, not in the least ashamed to be ignorant, but evidently 'wanting to know.' The majority of the class, however, rose to the opinion that the first draughtsman had put his Venice in the right place, and the second one, thus corrected, but not snubbed, made his repairs accordingly. "What should we see people walking on in Holland?" "Sticks." "No, that's in Sweden," says a class critic. "Wooden shoes?" "Any other place in Europe where the people wear wooden shoes?" "Constantinople," "Russia." "French peasants." "Any part of our country?" "There are boots," said slowly a junior Emerson, "in Mr. —'s store window with wooden soles about an inch and a half thick." Finally it was brought out that in Canada you could still see and hear wooden shoes among the French farmers around Quebec.

Shell Dress-Buttons.

It may be of interest to know that the gilt and colored shell dress-buttons that are so prettily adapted to the new styles of dress goods are all ornamented by hand, and very largely by young girls who are developing a genius for the brush and palette. The buttons are cut from a large shell, which is principally gathered along the coast of Japan. The shells are cut into small squares, which are sliced in halves and then from these two graded button-forms are sawed, polished, and the eyes soldered on, ready to be sent to the decorators. So far the work is done largely in and about Philadelphia, but the decorating is principally done in Brooklyn and New York, although some is done in Boston. The colors, figures, flowers, etc., which are placed upon them are painted on with a brush, and when dried the color has become indelibly into the pores of the shell. The decorators earn from fifty cents to nine dollars a gross, and the skill of the American girls in this business has established the fact that the choicest styles of fancy pearl buttons are not now imported. Within a year a button for calico dresses has been sent into the market made of mud and shellac, which they are now shown in various combinations of color mixed with the dust and particles from the refuse Japan shell. This is sprinkled on after the mixture has been dropped into the mold, and the whole solidified by hydraulic pressure.

Saving for Old Age.

No one denies that it is wise to make provision for old age and that it is best to lay up. Certainly we shall want a little money, for a destitute old man is indeed a sorry sight. Yes, save money, by all means. But an old man needs just that particular kind of strength which young men are most apt to waste. Many a foolish young fellow will throw away on a holiday a certain amount of nervous energy which he will never feel the want of till he is seventy; and then how much he will want it!

It is curious, but true, that a bottle of champagne at twenty, may intensify the rheumatism at three score. It is a fact that overtasking the eyes at fourteen may necessitate the aid of spectacles at forty instead of eighty. We advise our young readers to be saving of health for their old age, for the maxim holds good with regard to health as to money; waste not, want not. It is the greatest mistake to suppose that any violation of the laws of health can escape its penalty. Nature forgives no sin, no error. She lets off the offender for fifty years sometimes, but she catches him at last, and inflicts the punishment just when, just where, just how it feels it most. Save up for old age, but save more than money; save health, save honor, save knowledge, save the recollection of good deeds, and innocent pleasures; save pure thoughts, save friends, save love. Save rich stores of that kind of wealth which time cannot diminish, nor death take away.

The Steamship Mosel arrived in New York on Monday, with $1,300,000 American gold coin and British gold bars.

Our Schools.

A Morning in the Quincy Schools.

(Continued from last week.) NO SABBING.

One of the Hollands was a little out in drawing, which was promptly pointed out by the class. And just here

Short communications and items of news earnestly solicited from friends and patrons.

Thieves and Rogues.

Since our last issue, the day before Thanksgiving, there has been an unusually large amount of mischief committed in our midst. House entering in the night time appears to be the chief pursuit of rascals, not only in Quincy but in other places. We think if one or two could be shot while in the act it would help put a stop to it. The following is a summary of what we have gathered this week:

The former residence of W. F. Lakin at Wollaston, a few rods west of the depot, now occupied by Rev. Mr. Litchfield, was entered on Friday evening, Nov. 28th. Mr. Lakin's sons were awakened by the noise and inquired what was wanted, when the rogue decamped.

The same evening the residence of Mr. S. D. Ramsdell, at Atlantic, was entered and a small sum of money and two coats carried off. The thief entered by a back window, and took the coats from the sitting room and carried them out doors. There the pockets and pocket books were ransacked, but their contents, except a few dollars, were left for the owners.

An entrance to the residence of our Representative, Edwin B. Pratt, Esq., on Hancock street, was attempted about two o'clock on Saturday morning last. The burglar climbed upon the piazza by the aid of a lightning rod, on the north side of the house, and walked around to the southerly side, where he attempted to open a blind. Mrs. Pratt who heard the steps on the shingles, got up and went to an end window about twelve feet from the window where the rascal was trying to open the blind, and in rolling up the curtain, attracted the thief's attention, who, without stopping to introduce himself, leaped off the piazza, which is some ten or twelve feet high, and ran out of the yard.

The stable of Rev. F. A. Friguglietti, rear of the Catholic Church, on School street, was entered between five and six o'clock last Saturday evening, and about $30 worth of ladies' shoes was carried away. The thief entered by a window on the south side. The rogue covered the glass with muckilage and then stuck a newspaper on the same before breaking it, so as to deceive the noise. But a family living in a house close by, about thirty feet off, heard the noise, got up and lighted a lamp; also a boot maker sleeping in the basement of Dr. French's building, only a few feet away, also heard the noise, and lighted a lamp.

The thief packed up a large quantity of goods, but seeing one or both of these lights thought it best to make a hasty retreat.

On Wednesday morning, about three o'clock, the same store was again entered by the same window. Officer Garrity heard a noise, while standing near Messrs. Whitney & Nash's store, and after waiting a few moments saw a man cross the street from Mr. Reed's store to the Orthodox church. He started towards him, and the man went back of the church. Mr. Garrity thought he would head him off, and accordingly went around the other side. When the rogue saw him, he dropped his bag of goods and ran, and soon got out of sight. Mr. Garrity called for help, and Mr. Cornelius Kellier, who works nights at Col. Packard's lead foundry, heard his cries and came to his assistance. Being unable to find the rogue the officer went to Mr. Reed's residence, at South Quincy, about half a mile, to notify him of the robbery. Mr. Kellier however, kept on the watch, and about an hour afterward seeing a light in the store, went to see who was there; thinking the rogue had perhaps returned, but found Mr. Reed. He then started for his place of business, and as he was going through John A. Pratt's yard, which joins Col. Packard's, he met the thief who was loitering on the street, and he would smash his brains out with a club he had in his hand. The thief covered before his adversary, and was soon secured. Great praise is due Mr. Kellier for his perseverance and bold action.

On Thanksgiving afternoon the barn of James W. Pierce on Granite street, was entered by three boys, who stole a quantity of poultry left there by the Hyde Park baker, who puts his team up at this place when in town. The catables were owned by Mr. Farnsworth of Hyde Park, and the boys are known, and if they do not settle the matter in a few days they will be brought before the District Court.

One or more attempts have been made during the last ten days to get into the residence of Mrs. Robinson on Foster street. Five windows were tried, but without success. Mrs. Robinson has recently had the new patent hook attached to the fastenings on the top of the lower sash, which prevents burglars from undoing the same. The rogue also tried the front door and succeeded in turning the key in the lock, but Mrs. Robinson had taken the precaution of having a button put on which stopped his progress.

Early yesterday morning, Mr. William Savage, who resides on Water street, saw a man stealing his clothes line, and a few things thereon. He gave chase and succeeded in stopping him, and found the thief had his line and garments rolled up in a rubber coat which he carried. Mr. Savage sent for Officer Parker, who arrested and took him to the lock-up. He gave his name as John Morse, alias William Daggett. At nine o'clock he was brought before Judge Bumpus, found guilty, and sent to the House of Correction for nine months. The Judge said he felt it his duty at the present time to give a heavy sentence so as to stop if possible the thieving carried on so extensively in this vicinity.

Mr. Morse was employed in this town last summer by Mr. W. G. Prescott in carrying ice. He was married a few months ago and moved, we learn, to Lynn. He said he returned to Quincy on Thursday night, and gave as a reason for this deed, that he had been drinking considerable beer.

We have since learned that Morse had a companion with him at the time of the robbery, who succeeded in making his escape.

A number of other citizens have noticed persons prowling about their residences at night, but have not succeeded in finding out what they wanted or who they were.

Local Items.

Pettengill has received another new lot of fancy clocks.

Mr. William D. Burns of West Quincy, is rusticating in New York.

A furnished chamber in the house of Mrs. E. B. Bent, Cottage Avenue to let.

Any lady desiring a seamstress will find Mrs. Richards on Cottage Avenue.

Probate Court will be held at the Town Hall, on Wednesday morning next, at nine o'clock.

A special course of lectures will be given every Sunday evening during this month, at Christ Church.

George N. Nash drew the twenty-six pounds turkey purchased by Mr. Wilson. He shook forty-eight in three shakes.

The weather is very mild and pleasant. There is little or no frost in the ground and the farmers are ploughing.

Mr. Michael Elcock, an old resident of West Quincy, returned from Ireland on Sunday last, where he had been spending several months.

Col. F. W. Parker delivered a very interesting lecture on educational topics in Melrose, on Wednesday evening. He was listened to with much interest.

The Hook and Ladder company held their monthly meeting on Monday evening; after their usual business was transacted a bottle of cold meats, bread, pie, &c., was served.

Prof Pierce of Andover is stopping a few days in town, endeavoring to earn a nimbler quarry by telling his patrons how to get well and keep so without the use of medicine.

The Wollaston Wharf and Dock Company, by Samuel M. Quincy, clerk, have petitioned for alteration of charter to enable it to hold 200 acres of land in Quincy in addition to what it is now authorized to hold.

The old and favorable place on Washington street, known as Bent's store is advertised to let to-day. It has been a successful stand for about half a century, and offers inducements to an active business man.

Mr. Henry F. Crane returned to the home of his boyhood last week to pass Thanksgiving with his parents. He made his annual visit to this office and renewed his subscription to the Patriot to Feb. 1881; over a year in advance.

Mr. Geo. O. Langley has an excellent window fastener. It comes cheap and can easily be applied to the fastenings usually placed on the top of the lower sash. It is a very valuable article in these times when so many burglars are about.

The Highway Surveyor for the center district has done nobly this week. He has caused the street crossings to be repaired, and he has certainly the thanks of many citizens. It is a pity in a town so full of granite as ours, a few stone crossings could not be laid.

Some remarkably fine shooting was done by the Carver Rifle Club, last week. The "old veteran" capturing the prize lamp by a clean score of twenty-five game balls. Gordon McKenzie took the prize clock, by the brilliant target score of six successive bull's eyes.

P. A. Wales, the veteran pump maker of Randolph, has been fixing this week the town pump, front of Robertson's Block, one of the most necessary articles in town. It has needed repairs for many weeks and has caused great inconvenience.

We think we never saw a more beautiful display of Pampas plumage grass, than is now to be seen in Mr. E. Clapp's store. It was grown in Santa Barbara, California by Mr. Richard Hales' sons. These young men cultivate this grass on their ranch, and these specimens are sent to their old home in Quincy, that their friends here may see what lovely grass can be raised in that beautiful country. Our friends will accept our thanks for their present for two most beautiful ones.

PARALYSIS. Mr. Daniel Nightingale, an aged citizen of this town, had a severe shock of paralysis on Thanksgiving morning, while in Mr. Frederick Hardwick's store. He was apparently in good health that morning, but while conversing, probably felt unwell and started for the door. He was seen to catch at the side of the door, as if faint, and on going to his assistance it was found that he had had a severe paralytic shock. He was carried to the residence of Mr. Hiram Hunt on Cottage Avenue, where he died on Wednesday evening.

VESSEL LOST. The Schooner Hector, Capt. Higgins, from Philadelphia for Boston, was totally lost on Jones' Beach, L. I., Nov. 21st. She was a good vessel of about 420 tons, built at Providence in 1871, and was owned partly in this town by Messrs. Lemuel Baxter, Joseph W. Robertson, I. G. Whiton, P. P. Kittredge, Jacob Hersey, Capt. Daniel Higgins, her commander, and others.

Wendell Phillips' Lecture.

The lecture on Tuesday evening the 25th ult., in the Town Hall, entitled "Daniel O'Connell," delivered by Wendell Phillips, found a large, appreciative and enthusiastic audience.

Mr. Phillips, with the power born of genius, excited in his hearers—chiefly Americans—an interest in the affairs of Ireland, present and past—most marvelous, when it is considered how little thought is bestowed upon the concerns of other nations, by the average thoroughbred Yankee.

In this lecture the audience was entranced, and in listening to the smoothly flowing periods of the silver-tongued orator, held in abeyance all thought of criticism. The magic of his words sufficed for the time, and no sound was heard that evening, save for praise for the matchless eloquence of the speaker.

A night's repose, and then with the new dawn came the "second sober thought," and the lecture of the previous evening came to the crucial test—of truth—not alone in its statement of facts, but in their arrangement and presentation. And now that the spell was broken, and the magician gone, and the audience escaped from the hot and ill-ventilated room (and apropos of the latter, 'twould be a good maxim to ventilate the hall as Sir Joshua mixed his paints—"with brains, Sir,"), we are disposed to smile at the illusions of the preceding evening, and really wonder how we could have supposed Mr. Phillips was in earnest. "Why," said a gentleman the next day, "I have seen something of Ireland during this period of which the orator has spoken, and I saw nothing of this intolerance of his who spoke."

Said another, born in Ireland, "The like law against smoking in the street, virtually void and without effect—this penal code of Ireland."

But let this article be drawn to a close with a hearty expression of thanks to the enterprise of the managers of the lecture course, who have given us so thoroughly an enjoyable evening.

Lecture on Holland.

The lecture given by Professor W. N. Niles, in the G. A. R. course, last Thursday evening, was one of the most interesting and instructive to which it has been our good fortune to listen. After a brief introduction, the Professor pointed out the physical features of Holland upon a large map. Much of the land lies lower than the surface of the water in the rivers, canals and sea. One might catch a fish, and if he dropped from the hook, as fish sometimes will, he might drop down the chimney of some house, and thus into the frying pan, without being dressed for the occasion. In Holland water is everywhere. Though one may see water without land, land without water can never be seen.

Holland was built by the Rhine, for this river brought down and deposited the vegetable mold that accumulated in the forests along its course. Hence its exceeding richness. As it was low, damp, and hence cold, man was compelled to make ingenuity and labor to make it inhabitable, and to cause it to become so productive.

Innumerable windmills are found in Holland. By them the water is pumped out of the low lands, thus making them available for farms.

The Hollanders are a race of seamen, and at one time were privileged to carry a broom at the mast-head as a sign that they swept the seas. In farming, in hydraulic engineering, and in seamanship, the world has sat at the feet of Holland.

So much have the Hollanders done for the land by ditching, digging, pumping, etc., that it may be said that it was left unfinished by its Creator, and that man finished it to suit himself.

The Professor gave a very amusing account of the dairy arrangements of this curious people. He found muslin curtains and pictures in cow stalls, and took a meal in a calf-pen! Yet such was the exquisite neatness that there was no feeling of inappropriateness. In our own country milk cans last but a short time. In Holland, those three and even four hundred years old are still in use, and look as bright and good as new. Made of brass they are not so easily jammed, etc., as the American can.

The Hollanders have been compelled to fight not only the elements, not only overflowing and erratic rivers, the water that permeated the land, the waves of the ever stormy North Sea, &c., but also the cruel and vindictive Spaniard who waged long and terrible war upon these people to make them accept his yoke, customs and religion. But they were not to be conquered by man more than they had been by waters.

The Professor closed the lecture with a bit of brilliant description and impassioned declamation. The subject of this was the heroic defence of the city of Leyden, and what seemed to us the miraculous coming of an equinoctial storm. This storm drove the waves of the North Sea through the cuts made for this purpose in the dikes, thus bringing to the starving city the richly laden provision ship, and at the same time driving away the besieging Spaniards.

If any would like to read a fuller account of this curious and striking historical fact, depicted with all the graphic power of a master hand, let them read chapter 2, part 4, of Motley's Rise of the Dutch Republic.

Next Grand Army Entertainment.

The Germania Band, with eminent soloists, will give the next entertainment in the Grand Army Course. The concert will be of the highest order, and worth twice the price of admission. Fill the house good people of Quincy, and show the soldier boys that you appreciate such a treat. We are authorized to say that a house full will clear the immense expense of this course, and give the managers courage to try another, fully as good, next winter.

Guy Brothers, 33 Bedford street, Boston, are now opening a large variety of fancy goods of their own importations. New and splendid patterns.

Our Boston Correspondent.

Business Boom. The National Banks a success. Dividends. Zeal in the City Election of next week. Serious state of matters growing out of the Election in Maine. Meeting of Congress at Washington. The Message.

From the best advice and unmistakable indications the business community is on the eve of an era of prosperity as we have never known in this generation.

Whatever opposition there may be to the National Bank system, over fifteen years' experience has proved it a success by its unflinching safety to bill holders. The National Banks are inseparably interwoven with all business movements; and it is certain they are operating largely, and that too on a more conservative and safer basis than at any former period. The rates of discount have materially advanced since August last. The present demand for money is active, owing in some measure to recent extensive speculations in stocks here and in New York. This gambling mania has been very rampant of late, and many lucky adventurers have made sudden fortunes. Semi-annual dividends of three per centum at least are sure of declaration by all banks of good standing. But their net earnings will be more than six per cent. per annum to the stockholders. Commerce is thriving, and manufacturers of all kinds are on the high road to prosperity. Real estate is surely, but in a slow degree steadily advancing in price, in many but not all localities.

The approaching municipal election is the daily topic of conversation here—many of the leading politicians having axes to grind. From appearance, good fortune's chance is a very serious matter. Whatever technicalities or omissions may exist as to the returns of the election, the Republican party is in the practical control of the State government of 1880, as much so as Samuel R. Tilden was chosen President instead of Mr. Hayes. The opposition parties have been very much discouraged by the popular voice, or it will be fatal to all hopes of future success. The great fraud of Louisiana in 1877 should not be copied in the Fine Tree State.

From all accounts Congress came together very pleasantly on Monday last, free from any present excitement, its members good natured all around. The President's Message was well received and favorably commented upon by the press. An epitome of which you will doubtless give to the readers of your interesting weekly.

INSTALLATION. The officers elect of Rural Lodge of Masons will be installed on Thursday evening next. The services will be performed by Right Worshipful Charles E. White, of Boston, assisted by Charles E. Pierce, of Marshfield. The Quartette will render the installation music in full. The installation will be public to members of the Order, together with such number of ladies as they desire to bring.

VISITATION. About seventy-five members of the A. O. U. of Weymouth, paid a visit to the Hibernians of West Quincy, on Friday evening of last week. They were escorted to the Band Hall, on Cemetery street, where they were pleasantly received by their host and hostesses. After the usual congratulations were over, supper was served which was done justice to. After enjoying the collation, the meeting was called to order by the President of the West Quincy order, Mr. Timothy Fitzgerald, who spoke for a few moments, after which speeches were made by many members present. At a late hour the party left for their homes, highly pleased with the evening's festivities.

VIEW OF QUINCY. E. B. Souther has some of the finest views of Quincy, we have ever seen. He has at great expense employed an excellent artist, who has done nobly. Handsome views of our public streets and buildings we think were never taken. We advise lovers of pictures to call at his periodical store and examine the collection.

SUNDAY SERVICES. CHRIST CHURCH. Rev. Thaddeus A. Snively, Rector. Services at 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M. The Sunday School will convene at 10 o'clock. Service in the Chapel Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. Preaching by the Pastor at 10:30 A. M.; Sabbath School and Bible Class at 11:45 A. M.; Evening service at 7 o'clock. Theme: Christian Missions and our Indian Problem. Prayer meeting every Friday evening in the Chapel at 7:30 o'clock.

FIRST CHURCH. Rev. D. M. Wilson, pastor; Sunday School at 9:30 A. M.; Church services at 10:30 A. M.; Communion; practical lecture at 7:30 P. M. Subject: "Election affinities."

SPIRITUAL MEETING. Mr. Joseph D. Stiles will speak at Temperance Hall, Granite street to-morrow, at 2 o'clock.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. by Rev. E. A. Perry, Sunday School immediately following.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Sermon by the Pastor, Rev. Wm. Hogue, D. D. at 10:45 A. M. Sunday School and Pastor's Bible Class at 2:30 P. M. Evening Missionary Concert at 7:30. All are welcome.

UNION CHRISTIAN CHURCH, QUINCY POINT. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sabbath School immediately at the morning service. Communion at 2:30 P. M. All are invited.

METHODIST CHURCH, WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. by Rev. S. Kelley, pastor, followed by Sunday School. Sermon by Rev. Mr. Truett D. D. at 2:30 P. M. Praise exercise at 7 P. M. followed by a sermon from Pastor.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH AT WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Services at 10:45 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Sabbath School at 2:30 P. M.

WEST QUINCY METHODIST CHURCH. Rev. W. W. Harlow, Pastor, Preaching at 10:12 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sabbath School at the close of the morning service.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, QUINCY POINT. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sabbath School at 2:30 P. M. over Mr. Hall's store. Rev. George B. Lawton, Pastor. Prayer meeting Sunday evenings at 7 P. M. Tuesday evenings at 7:30.

Contested Seat.

The Weymouth Gazette says,—"Mr. George A. Cushing, Independent candidate for Representative from this district, has notified the Secretary of State and the Town Clerks of Weymouth and Quincy, that he will contest the seat of Mr. Louis A. Cook in the House, as he claims that there was a mistake of 63 votes in the Quincy count, which would have elected him. The alleged mistake he says was in the Adams ballot, which bore Mr. Cushing's name for Representative, and the claim is that there was no scratching on that ticket, while the 63 which would have been thrown for Mr. C. do not appear to have been recorded in his favor."

The Chairman of the Selectmen and the Town Clerk of Quincy, both believe the count to be correct. But if Mr. Cushing is not satisfied he can have the votes recounted at a proper time by the Committee on Elections.

BLACKSMITHING. Mr. John C. Brown has taken the sign at East Milton candidly carried on by the late P. F. MacKay. He guarantees satisfaction to those wishing to have their horses shod or jobbing done.

WALKING MATCH. The grand tennis walking match, which occurs at the Town Hall this evening will be worth going to see by those fond of this kind of sport. Besides the walk, Mr. Michael Gallagher will swing the Indian clubs, in which he has but few equals. There will also be other attractions to amuse those present. Good order will be maintained.

ENTERTAINMENTS. On Monday and Tuesday evenings next, Miss Kittie Lougee and her company will perform at the Town Hall. On Monday evening they will give the beautiful play, entitled, "Divorced, or Lost and Won," on Tuesday, the Irish drama, "Kathleen Mavourneen." Miss Lougee is spoken of very highly by those who have witnessed her superior acting. She possesses great ability and is said to be pretty, dashing and bewitching.

GLASS BALL SHOOT. The Merry Mount Club held a glass ball shoot on Thanksgiving day, at Quincy Woods. Each man shooting at twenty balls, at eighteen yards fired.

| Singles             | Rotary | Double | Total |
|---------------------|--------|--------|-------|
| John Curtis, 20     | 4      | 5      | 19    |
| Albert Keating, 4   | 5      | 7      | 16    |
| Thomas Curtis, 4    | 5      | 7      | 16    |
| George Monk, 4      | 5      | 7      | 16    |
| Forrest Gaudin, 4   | 5      | 7      | 16    |
| S. H. Spear, 4      | 5      | 7      | 16    |
| Ashton White, 4     | 5      | 7      | 16    |
| Edward Hardwick, 4  | 5      | 7      | 16    |
| Charles Cummings, 4 | 5      | 7      | 16    |
| W. Mitchell, 4      | 5      | 7      | 16    |
| N. Nightingale, 4   | 5      | 7      | 16    |
| G. L. Prescott, 4   | 5      | 7      | 16    |
| W. L. Souley, 4     | 5      | 7      | 16    |
| W. W. Baxter, 4     | 5      | 7      | 16    |

DISTRICT COURT. The business before the Court has been a little more lively this week, owing to the numerous robberies in this town; although only a few cases have appeared for trial.

James Cummings of Boston, on complaint of Officer Garrity, for the larceny of boots and shoes, the property of Charles T. Reed of Quincy. He was held in the sum of $5000 to answer before the Superior Court, in April next, for burglary.

John Morse, alias William Daggett, of Lynn, on complaint of Officer Garrity, for larceny of a clothes-line, the property of William Savage of Quincy. Sent to the House of Correction for nine months.

Seth Reckard of Weymouth, for keeping a disorderly house, found guilty, and fined $50 and costs. He appealed. Peter Higgins and John Cronin, of Weymouth for being drunk were each committed $3 and costs. In default were committed.

William Shea, of Braintree, was arraigned for an assault on Naaman L. White Esq. of Weymouth, said Shea received an examination and was held in the sum of $2000 for his appearance before the Grand Jury at Dedham.

ORIENTAL Rugs AND Carpets AT IMPORTER'S PRICES

John H. Pray, Sons & Co.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

558, 560 Washington Street,

Boston, Nov. 29, 1879. 3w

TRUBEE'S BURGLAR-PROOF Window Fastener!

A Simple and Effective Safeguard against Thieves and Burglars. Costing only $1.50 per dozen, and put on without extra charge. All orders promptly attended to.

ADDRESS: GEO. O. LANGLEY, P. O. Box, 533.

Quincy, Dec. 6. 4w

E. C. PEBBLES, Quincy and Boston Express,

Leave Quincy at 9 A. M., and Boston at 1 P. M.

ORDERS left at F. F. Brewer's, West Quincy, and Charles F. Pierce's, Granite street, Quincy, will be delivered.

All Parcels Promptly Delivered.

Quincy, Dec. 6. 1m

Turkeys & Chickens. 13 to 25 cts. per lb.

Boneless Pie Beef, 6 cts. per lb. 12 pounds Leaf Lard, $1.00 13 pounds Salt Pork, 1.00 13 pounds Fresh Pork, for Salting, 1.00 Sausage Meat, in one pound bags, only 12 cents per pound.

Sweetser's Market, 6 GRANITE STREET. Quincy, Nov. 22. 1f

FRENCH AND AMERICAN CHINA!

A FULL assortment of these beautiful goods just received and for sale very cheap by

E. CLAPP. Quincy, April 19. 1f

WANTED.

A YOUNG Man to milk one cow, and do light work. Inquire at the PATRIOT OFFICE. Quincy, Dec. 6. 1f

WANTED. MRS. RICHARDS wishes employment as a Seamstress. Will go out by the day. Apply at MRS. E. B. BENT'S, Cottage Avenue, Quincy, Dec. 6. 1f

WANTED. A GIRL, would like a situation to do general housework in a private family. Inquire ten days at T. BRYANT NIGHTINGALE'S, Centre St., near G. W. Brooks'. Quincy, Nov. 29. 2w

Wanted, Immediately, GOOD CROCHETERS. Apply Tuesday or Thursday—9 to 12 o'clock, A. M., to MISS W. H. JONES, Beale Street, Wollaston. Quincy, Nov. 22. 1f

WANTED. A third Second-hand Piano; price not to exceed $100. Apply at the Patriot Office, giving price, and the name of the maker of the Piano. Quincy, Nov. 22. 1f

Piano Forte Lessons. A TEACHER of experience, would like a few more scholars in Wollaston or Quincy. Special care taken with beginners.—Terms reasonable. Address, MISS H. A. C. 26 Commercial street, Boston, Mass. Dec. 6. 1f

TO LET, A FURNISHED Chamber, very pleasant. Inquire of Mrs. RICHARDS, in Mrs. BENT'S Home, Cottage Avenue, Quincy, Quincy, Dec. 6. 1f

TO LET, COTTAGE HOUSE, on Gay street, 9 rooms, very convenient for two families. Formerly occupied by William H. Mitchell. Apply to LIBA LITCHFIELD. Quincy, Dec. 6. 1f

TO LET, FOR Professional or other purposes, two rooms, finished in oil, in the Robertson House, suitable for a number of guests. DANCE HALL, open for engagements. Apply to FRANK & STEWARD, Proprietors. Quincy, Dec. 6. 1f

National Mount Wollaston Bank, QUINCY, MASS.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Stockholders of the National Mount Wollaston Bank of Quincy, will be held at their Banking Rooms on TUESDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 1/2 o'clock, P. M., for the election of Directors and the transaction of any other business that may legally come before them. HOBART B. SPEAR, Cashier. Quincy, Dec. 6, 1879. 5w

The National Granite Bank, QUINCY, MASS.

THE Annual Meeting of the shareholders of this Bank will be held in their Banking Room, on TUESDAY, Jan. 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., to choose directors for the ensuing year, and transact such other business as may legally come before them. R. F. CLAFIN, Cashier. Quincy, Dec. 6. 6w

STORE TO LET! OLD STAND! A Grand Chance for Business.

THE Store occupied for many years by Mr. E. BENT, at the head of the Canal, Washington Street, Quincy.

It is pleasantly located in a thickly portion of the town, and offers rare inducements to an active and experienced man to engage in a permanent and profitable business. For terms, see, &c., apply to BENJ. F. CURTIS. Quincy, Dec. 6. 4w

PETITION. QUINCY, DECEMBER 3, 1879.

TO the Honorable Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, respectfully petition the W

The Quincy Patriot.

SUPPLEMENT.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1879.

Registration of Women.

Boston has in one instance been benefited by a recent act giving women a right to vote for school committee. A certain gentleman, living in one of the outlying wards of the city, and in apparent good circumstances, has been for some years past in the habit of paying simply a poll tax. This year he was somewhat astonished at receiving a tax bill to the amount of $1100. Upon visiting the assessors to ascertain what it meant, they, to his astonishment, commenced interrogating him in relation to the ownership of certain mortgages, stocks, etc., and when pushed to the wall, he confessed that they belonged to him, and that the tax bill was all right. In reply to his persistent inquiries as to who had furnished them with the information, they finally informed him that his wife had been registered as a voter, and when questioned as to her qualifications, had enumerated the various taxable properties of her husband. He departed, muttering curses, not loud, but deep, against the Legislature for passing such an act. Put yourself in his place, reader, and then in charity draw the curtain between curious eyes, and the scene that occurred between him and the partner of his joys and sorrows upon his arrival at his home.

A Heroic Lad.

In a little town of Iowa, the other day, two children were found frozen to death, the girl wrapped in the coat of the boy. "The winter's cold," says a Brooklyn paper, "has taken many a life, but one of the unfortunates were found in such an attitude as this. It was not in the heat of conflict that this boy died; there was no shrieking life nor rattling drum to stir his thickening blood, nor comrade's eye to mark his heroic fall; nothing to rouse his young enthusiasm. But the little coat folded carefully about the girl's form, and his own naked breast, told of the quiet courage and self-sacrifice with which he met the pitiless blast that blew as cold on him as on her; and not when the snows have melted and the birds are twittering over the grave that holds them both shall the memory of his fine chivalry die away among the selfish incidents of life, or be without its influence on the thought and action of those who are older than he—of many far older than he."

The young men who stand around the church doors on earth, watching the people come out, and smiling on the girls in an amicable sort of way, will some day hang around the gates of heaven while decent people go in, and the first thing they know the gate is shut forever, and they will get accommodations elsewhere.—Stoughtonville Herald.

Eight years ago a man who was ready to be married was sentenced to the Western Pennsylvania Penitentiary, and on Thursday, 22d ult., when his sentence expired, the faithful woman stood at the prison door to receive her lover, and there he found wedding garments which friends had provided.

General Butler's expenses were known to be very heavy during the last campaign, and from reliable sources we learn that the printing bill was in the vicinity of eighteen thousand dollars, while there was paid to the Government for postage stamps, nearly four thousand dollars.

Mr. Northey of Scituate, the owner of the well in which hung "The old broken bucket," of Woodworth's ever memorable verse, has opened a book in which visitors to the place are requested to record their names, that the number each season may be ascertained.

Owing to the failure of the hop crop in England the price of American hops has advanced four hundred per cent since July. Brewers of malt liquors will advance their prices. Over 20,000 bales have been shipped to Europe the past two months.

There is to be a conference at Washington, on the 8th of January, of the representatives of the National and the Labor Greenback organizations of the country, to fix the time and place of holding a national convention.

"Spot cash" is the term a Colorado miner uses for "pay in advance."

TOOTH BRUSHES!

NAIL BRUSHES.

Hair Brushes.

CLOTH BRUSHES.

Flesh Brushes.

Infant Brushes.

BOOT BRUSHES.

A. G. Durgin's Drug Store

Corner Hancock and Granite Sts.

Tooth Brushes.

NAIL BRUSHES.

Hair Brushes.

Cloth Brushes.

FLESH BRUSHES.

INFANT BRUSHES.

BOOT BRUSHES!

Quincy, Nov. 15.

J. W. LOMBARD, — WITH — VAN POND & Co., Men's, Youth's and Boys' CLOTHING!!

No. 361 Washington St.,

(Near Old South Church,

BOSTON.

Boys' Clothing a Specialty.

Boston, Oct. 11.

REMOVAL. JOHN A. HOLDEN, MERCH'NT TAILOR,

WOULD announce to his friends and patrons that he has removed to the building corner of Hancock and School streets, formerly occupied by him.

He has just received a good stock of

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES,

Doeskins and Vestings,

which he is prepared to make into first-class custom garments FOR A FAIR PRICE.

A good fitting garment guaranteed.

Quincy, Jan. 5.

To Inventors and Mechanics

PATENTS and how to obtain them. Pamphlet of 60 pages free, upon receipt of stamps for postage. Address

GILMORE, SMITH & Co.,
Solicitors of Patents, Box 31,
Washington, D. C.

Quincy, Dec. 14.

FALL GOODS

GREAT BARGAINS.

20 Pieces Dress Goods, 12 1-2 Per Yard.

PLAID DRESS GOODS. 12 1-2 Per Yard.

WATERPROOF CLOTHS, IN PLAIDS, ALL WOOL, $1.00 Per Yard.

25 Different Styles, CREPE DE LISSE, New Patterns from New York.

Housekeeping Department. A Large Line of Goods for the Ladies, AT LOW PRICES.

Ladies and Children's Underwear, For Fall and Winter, VERY CHEAP.

New Styles of Buttons — AND — SILK FRINGE.

Worsted Goods, Plaid Trimmings.

THE BEST CORSET, For 50 Cts.

Sewing Machine NEEDLES.

The Eighe Patent Shirts and Bosoms.

Agent for Madame DEMOREST'S Reliable Patterns.

G. T. DEFREES, Robertson's Block.

Quincy, Oct. 4.

HISTORY — OF — OLD BRAINTREE — AND — QUINCY,

— BY —
WILLIAM S. PATTEE, M. D.

THE Publishers of this excellent work are pleased to announce that bound copies are now

FOR SALE AT THE PATRIOT OFFICE.

The history is being bound at the book binding establishment of AMOS K. ALLSTINE, in Chelsea, and the publishers are happy to say that he is doing this work in an excellent manner. On the cover is stamped in gold a view of Mount Wollaston as it appeared in 1840.

The book contains nearly 700 octavo pages, and is illustrated by numerous engravings.

| PRICES:                                      |        |
|----------------------------------------------|--------|
| In Cloth, - - - - -                          | $3.50 |
| Extra English Cloth, bevel boards, - - - - - | 3.75   |
| Half Turkey Morocco, and paper, - - - - -    | 4.00   |
| “ “ “ cloth, - - - - -                       | 4.25   |
| Half Turkey Morocco, gilt edges, - - - - -   | 5.00   |

Copies will be sent by mail, postage prepaid, at the above prices.

GREEN & PRESCOTT,

Publishers

Fashion Notes.

The Deep Russian collar of fur is seen on the new fur-lined circulars.

Ball dresses have lace under the arms, and are open neither at the back nor in front.

Bonnets are more showy than any other part of the toilet. They are trimmed with all kinds of materials.

English girls use dark blue Cape birds and humming birds, instead of flowers, to festoon skirt draperies.

Satin embroidered with iridescent beads and strung pearls is used for the richest wedding dresses this season.

Some of the English fashion-plates indicate a return to the old-fashioned "waterfall" style of arranging the hair.

Fashionable winter clothing this season is made with more than usual regard for the comfort of the wearer in cold weather.

Heavy cords and tassels are again used for ornamenting costumes and wraps, and when tastefully used are very handsome.

Worth has been using Roman silk scarfs for entire waists of some ball dresses, and in others has gone back to his old favorite combination of maize and poppy color.

Very novel fringes and embroideries are made of iridescent beads on a gold thread; these are also sometimes called cachemire beads. All the colors of the prism are reflected on a gold ground.

The fashionable barmoral skirts are a revival of the old-time quilted skirts, and are shown in cardinal satin, in dark blue, brown or black, wadded lightly, and quilted in most fanciful designs with borders.

Little girls from two to four years of age, when their parents do not care to dress them in white, wear box-plated blouses made of dark navy blue or gendarme flannel. A wide belt of the flannel is strapped on low down on the hips.

The demand for cream-colored tablecloths increases with the fancy for bright lined china, and nearly all the patterns to be found in dead white are reproduced in the cream tints, and there are more lunch and tea cloths in this color than in plain white.

A Paris letter says fashion admits of much tinsel—gold, colored beads, jet, and many bright colors—but all these merely as accessories, and always on a foundation of neutral tint or very faded in color. This combination is the rule in everything appertaining to dress. The foundation, the mass of color, is of a soft, faded tint, while the detail, on the contrary, is of a bright, sometimes conspicuous color.

A great novelty which can at present only be obtained at one Parisian house is the cuirass Veronese. This cuirass is of silk elastic material, manufactured expressly for this purpose, and having the appearance of heavy faille or glace silk. The secret of this waist is that it fits in to the figure over the bust and hips without a crease. It is worn without a belt. This is a most beautiful style, and will likely soon be in general favor.

Summary of News.

Jay Gould is worth $65,000,000.

There are one hundred millionaires in San Francisco.

Cotton is worth $10 a bale more than it was a year ago.

Mexico wants a telegraph cable across the gulf of Mexico to the United States.

Edison says his electric light is almost perfected, and he will let it shine some day—date not set.

A new town in Lauderdale county, Tenn., is named Pilljerk.

A Maryland farmer has raised 564 chickens from 15 hens this year.

One of the curiosities of San Antonio, Texas, is a boy born without arms.

The County Commissioners advertise for a janitor for the County Court House at Dedham. Salary $800 per annum.

Many Lowell factory girls and women are snuff-dippers.

The close of registration in Boston showed the enrollment of about 1000 women.

President Rutherford B. Hayes cast his first vote in Cambridge. He was then a law student.

It is believed that a practically inexhaustible bed of emery has been discovered near Peekskill, N. Y. The only other place in the United States where it is found in a sufficiently pure state to be marketable is near Chester, Mass.

Nothing has yet been discovered so fitly adapted to the wants and General or Specific Improvement of

HORSES and CATTLE,

STANDARD FOOD.

It greatly increases the Flesh;
Prevents Indigestion and Colic;
Removes Worms and Humors;
Softens and Loosens the Skin, Adds Richness to Color of the Coat, and greatly increases the animal's value.

100 lbs. 400 feeds, $6.00
50 lbs. 200 feeds, 3.25
25 lbs. 100 feeds, 1.65
Or 500 lbs. 2000 feeds, $25 del'd.

Investigation solicited. For sale by FRENCH & COFFIN, Boston,
W. W. EWELL & CO., Quincy.

ALSO BY AME & CO., Manufacturers, 91 KILBY St., Boston.

ISAIAH WHITE, DEALER IN FOREIGN and DOMESTIC FRUIT OF ALL KINDS,

Jellies and Preserves, CANNED GOODS, &c.

100 Tremont Street, Boston.
(Under Horticultural Hall.)
May 31.

NOTICE.

THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the Public that he has hired Rooms over the

Store of E. B. Souther,

And is prepared to do all kind of

BOOT and SHOE MAKING, AND REPAIRING,

And would respectfully solicit its patronage.

Discarding the time-honored practice of appealing on the strength of age, experience in business, &c., he will let the work done be its own advocate.

Hoping by honest work and honorable dealing he may be worthy of your custom.

Entrance between Mr. Souther's Periodical Store, and Mr. Spear's Clothing Store, up stairs, left of the Billiard Room.

HUGH MUNDY.

Quincy, Jan. 25.

BOOTS AND SHOES,

Made and Repaired.

THE undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has moved to the shop corner of HANCOCK AND GRANITE ST where he is prepared to Make and Repair Boots and Shoes, in a neat manner, at a reasonable price.

Prices for Repairing:

|                                         |        |
|-----------------------------------------|--------|
| 1-2 Soles, Heels, hand-sewed, - - - - - | $1.25 |
| 1-2 Soles, Heels, pegged, - - - - -     | 1.00   |
| Heels, - - - - -                        | .35    |
| 1-2 Soles, pegged, - - - - -            | .65    |
| 1-2 Soles, sewed, - - - - -             | .85    |

BOYS:
1-2 Soles, Heels, - - - - - .85

LADIES:
1-2 Soles, Heels, - - - - - .65
1-2 Soles, Heels, Misses, - - - - - .50
1-2 Soles, Heels, Children, - - - - - .40

PATCHES from 10 to 15 Cents.

NATH'L NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, May 8.

JOB PRINTING.

EVERY VARIETY OF PRINTING neatly and promptly, and accurately executed, at the very lowest cash prices, at the

PATRIOT OFFICE

RALPH LOWE

RETURNS his thanks to the public generally for their liberal patronage, and respectfully solicits a continuance of the same.

All orders left will receive prompt attention.

Collar and Harness Making,

Carriage Trimmings

IN ALL ITS BRANCHES

N. B. Every article in the trade made to order, and REPAIRING done in the neatest manner, and at the most reasonable rates.

Quincy, Aug. 26.

Golden Liniment!

White Label for the Human Family.

COLORS LABEL FOR

Horses, Cattle and Sheep.

INVALUABLE FOR

Rheumatism, Sprains,

Sciatica, Stiff Joints,
And Lameness of all Kinds.

Used with Great Success the last 5 years

It will Recommend Itself!

BY THE GROSS, DOZEN OR SINGLE BOTTLE.

W. C. DANIELS,

South Braintree, - - - Mass.

March 23.

Demand for Pennies.

There is a prospect of a dearth of pennies. Under the act of Congress $2,000,000 must be coined every month, and, as the capacity of the mints at San Francisco and New Orleans is limited, the bulk of the work falls upon the one in Philadelphia. The result is that Colonel Snowden has been compelled to discontinue the coinage of what are known as minor coins—cents and three and five cent pieces—much to the annoyance of would-be purchasers, who, in person, or by letter, besiege the cashier's office day after day. It was stated on Saturday at the mint that $35,000 worth of pennies could be disposed of inside of a week, so great is the demand. A month ago, before the coinage was suspended, from $1000 to $1500 worth were sold daily, and the books are now filled with orders from all parts of the country. The officers were taken aback on Saturday by the receipt of a request from San Francisco for pennies to the amount of $1000. This is stated to be the first order from that part of the country for many years. Various parts of the South are also beginning to take some stock in cents, large orders having been received from Georgia and Alabama within the last few days.—Philadelphia Record.

General Bidwell is one of the richest men in California. In his plantation are forty miles of drives, lined on either side with trees, either fruit or nut-bearing. His place is a Spanish grant of one hundred and forty miles. Mrs. Bidwell is a woman of great culture, and their home is the rendezvous for all savants from the States or Europe who visit the Pacific slope. Three of the most famous flowers of that section have been named in her honor "Anna Bidwell," by botanists from abroad who were enthused by her knowledge of botany.

Mr. James Gordon Bennett has contracted with Ward, Stanton & Co., of Newburg, for an iron steam yacht, which is to be finished next July. It is to be the fastest yacht ever built, and is to cost about $150,000. How nice it is to be rich! James Gordon Bennett's father was born before him. We believe that is the case with all fathers; but they are not all as prosperous as old Jamie, who left young Jamie in such prosperity that if he failed he would be a greater blockhead than we take him to be.

During the last six months the Old Colony Railroad and Steamboat Company has carried more passengers than ever before, aggregating nearly four hundred thousand in that time. Out of this great number no accident has happened to an individual for which the corporation was to blame, and not a piece of property checked baggage has been lost.

There is a young man at Cadiz, Ky. of such a susceptible and sympathetic physical composition that he was forced at one time to abandon a position in a drug store for the novel reason that he could not handle any kind of medicine without being affected with all the consequences it was calculated to produce on the party for whom it was intended.

The cranberry crop the entire length of Cape Cod is very large, Provincetown being the only exception, where the crop is fully one-third short of last year. The fruit is large and of fine flavor. Abijah Doane, of Harwich, gathered 98 1-2 barrels of cranberries from half an acre, selling them at $7.50 per barrel.

Ireland's potato crop is small and poor; and the rains have prevented the getting in of peat. These are ugly facts, and the Irish winter prospect is a bad one. Mr. Parnell says that the immediate aim is to keep the people from starvation and emigration; and the ultimate aim, to obtain the land for the actual tillers.

The Voice of Angels having published a spiritual communication purporting to come from late Capt. George Taylor of Nantucket, diligent inquiry has been made and it has been found that no such person lived on the island within the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

Wheat can be raised in the western United States and shipped by rail to the Atlantic seaboard, and thence by steamer to Europe, cheaper than the Russian farmer can deliver it in Odessa.

GEORGE SAVILLE,
90 HANCOCK STREET.

Has in consequence of his largely increasing

Boot and Shoe Business,

Enlarged his Store to nearly double its old capacity,—has also purchased a large and desirable stock of FRESH GOODS, and is now prepared to show the

Largest, Finest and Best selected Stock of
BOOTS, SHOES AND RUBBERS

Ever shown in Quincy or vicinity, and at the lowest prices. He has and will keep constantly on hand a large assortment of

Gents' and Boys' Ready Made Clothing,

To which he calls your Special Attention.

A VERY LARGE STOCK OF NEW AND NOBBY STYLES OF

Hats and Caps in great Variety.

Also a fine line of GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS

of New and Desirable Styles at VERY LOW PRICES.

The continued and increasing patronage from the Citizens generally and the flattering inducements presented, have assured him that an enlargement of his rooms and proportionate increase of his stock in trade, will not only be profitable to him, but advantageous to his customers and the public. He is therefore resolved to keep constantly on hand a full and complete supply of all goods in his line of trade, and solicits the continued patronage of his friends and customers, to all of whom he will endeavor to give entire satisfaction.

George Saville, 90 Hancock Street.

Quincy, Oct. 11.

TIRRELL & SONS
MANUFACTURERS AND DEALERS IN
CARRIAGES
OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.
Express and Milk Wagons,
Double and Single Runners,
Express Sticks, &c., &c.
Repairing of all kinds,
TRIMMING, PAINTING, &c.
Done at short notice and at reasonable rates.
HARNESSES MADE TO ORDER.
Also on hand, a fine assortment of HORSES, BLANKETS, WHIPS, and other goods to be found in a well-regulated Harness and Carriage Shop.
Consistently on hand, consisting of BREWSTER, COMBINATION, HUTTON, and BIGG
PHAROS, EXTENSION TOP, and STRAND
ING TOP CARRIAGES, EXPRESS WAGONS, &c., &c.
Carriages and Sticks Stored.
No. 57 Hancock St., Quincy, Mass.
Quincy, April 12.

Something New!
BOSTON BRANCH
TEA, COFFEE
—AND—
VARIETY STORE,
—AT—
QUINCY POINT!!

The undersigned would respectfully inform his friends and the citizens of Quincy and vicinity in particular, that he has opened a Variety Store,
Opposite the Church & Post Office at Quincy Point, for the accommodation of the public, and shall sell first-class goods at Boston prices.

TEAS & COFFEES MADE A SPECIALTY.
Choice Butter, Lard, Flour
SPICES, &c., &c.
CIGARS AND TOBACCO.

A CHOICE ASSORTMENT OF
CONFECTIONERY!
BREAD, PASTRY
And Fancy Crackers.

Soda and Pilot Breads!
He has also connected an ICE CREAM
OYSTER and DINING ROOMS.
Oysters served in every style. Also by the quart or gallon.
Picnic parties furnished with supplies at short notice.

CALL AND EXAMINE THE GOODS.
EDWARD CROSS.
Quincy Point, Aug. 13.

Quincy Bakery.
THE subscriber would inform the citizens of Quincy and adjoining towns that he will continue to manufacture at his establishment

Bread, Cake, and Pastry.
and all other articles usually found in any Bakery. Keeps constantly on hand all kinds of

Plain and Fancy Crackers,
GINGER SNAPS, &c.
Hot Rolls every Evening.

WEDDING CAKE furnished to order at Boston prices. CHOICE FAMILY FLOUR for sale at lowest cash prices.
WM. A. HODGES.
Quincy, Jan. 21.

Poster Printing, Cheap!
At the Patriot Office

Funeral and Furnishing UNDERTAKER.

THE subscriber would respectfully inform the public that he is fully prepared to execute all orders in the Furnishing Undertaker's business, at his establishment.

No. 51 Hancock Street.
Constantly on hand, a FULL ASSORTMENT OF
CASKETS, COFFINS,
Robes and Habits.

Having had several years experience in the Undertaking business, the subscriber hopes by strict attention to the wants of all callers to merit a share of patronage.
JOHN HALL.
Quincy, March 10.

Provision Store.

THE subscriber, thankful for past favors, would inform his friends and the public that a good supply of

FRESH MEAT, FISH,
—AND—
PROVISIONS,

usually kept in a Country store, can be found at his establishment.

CANNED BAKED BEANS, just the article for Picnic Parties. Try them.

Fresh Fruits and Vegetables
in their season, constantly on hand.

All orders attended to with dispatch.

CHARLES CRANE.
HANCOCK STREET.
Quincy, June 23.

IRA LITCHFIELD,
Carpenter and Builder.
PEARL STREET,
SOUTH QUINCY.
Feb. 14.

NEW YORK SHOPPING.

Everybody delighted with the tasteful and beautiful selection made by MRS. LAMAR, who has NEVER FAILED to please her Customers.

New Fall Circular just issued.
SEND FOR IT.
Address MRS. ELLEN LAMAR,
577 Broadway, New York.
Nov. 22.

Budget of Fun.

A countryman seeing the sign "Hands off," innocently asked if they had gone on a picnic.

Depend upon it, "there's a time for all things." The time to leave is when she asks you how the walking is.

It is very easy for a man to break-fast in bed if he will be satisfied with a few rolls and a turn over.

The fashionable young lady with her hair in style, is the proprietor of a she-bang.

The time is coming when a buffalo robe will cover two hearts that beat as one. And four soles with but a single thought, to wit: How cold!

A Boston child remarked after gazing earnestly at a man who was bald, but had heavy whiskers: "His head was put on up side down, wasn't it?"

"Who brayed there?" asked a member of the Canadian House of Commons of the persons who were trying by interruption to silence him. "It was an echo," retorted a voice.

A young man who sneers at a girl's false teeth hasn't got a well-balanced head. Let him marry a girl who has toothache and neuralgia, and he will see where he was lame.

Where does the head of a pin go to when it gets mixed up with a fellow's collar? You can't miss the point; but the head is neither on one side or the other.

"Pardon me," said Bob, when he stepped on the girl's foot in the dance. "Don't apologize," said she; "beaux on the shoes are fashionable, and we can stand anything that is style."

A poetess sings: "Tho' I were dead my heart would beat for thee." This would certainly be a "dead beat," and it strikes us the poetess assumes too much poetic license.

Larger (to witness).—"Did you say that an incompetent man could keep a hotel just as well as anybody?"

Witness.—"No. I said an inexperienced man could."

A young girl one day asked: Do tell me why it is cupid continues so long after the invention of powder to use arrows? To avoid the report of fire arms which would attract the jealous, was the reply.

A lazy man having a wife named Hope, whose custom it was to pull off her husband's boots every evening, was wont to exclaim on such occasions:—"How truly it is said, 'Hope is the yankee of the sole.'"

"There is nothing like settling down," said a retired merchant, confidentially, to his neighbor. "When I gave up business I settled down, and found I had quite a comfortable fortune. If I had settled up, I shouldn't have had a cent."

You never see a woman button anything that she can pin, and you never see a man pin anything that he can tie with a string. You would have trouble making some men believe that they couldn't tie a button-hole into a wrist-band with a piece of twine.

"Has this cooking book any pictures?" asked a young lady of the bookseller.

"Not one," replied the dealer in books.

"Why," exclaimed the witty miss, "what is the use of telling us how to make dinner if you give us no plates?"

"Gentlemen of the jury," said an eloquent Chicago advocate, "you have heard the witness swear he saw the prisoner raise his gun; you have heard him swear he saw the flash and heard the report; you have heard him swear he saw the dog fall dead; you have heard him swear he dug the bullet out with his jack-knife, and you have seen the bullet produced in court; but what, gentlemen—where, I ask you, is the man who saw that bullet hit that dog?"

A little Court street Miss, who has an eye for the beautiful, made a funny suggestion the other day, and not so far out either. Scanning the features of a newly born brother, with a hardly satisfied air she exclaimed: "Yes! he's nice, and cunning, and I love him dearly, but why didn't father pay a quarter of a dollar more and buy a prettier one." How often twenty-five cents economy spoils a trade!—Old Colony Memorial.

Insurance Agency,
Established in Quincy in 1849
W. PORTER.

INSURANCE EFFECTED in reliable and safe STOCK AND MUTUAL OFFICES—by
W. PORTER & CO.,
At No. 2 STATE STREET, BOSTON.
Residence, QUINCY, corner Adams and Hancock Streets.
Quincy, April 9.

JOHN HARDWICK & CO.
Real Estate & Insurance
AGENTS.

Granite Street, Quincy.
Insurance secured in any reliable Office.
Quincy, Feb. 10.

Quincy Mutual
Fire Insurance Company.

CASH FUND, April 1, 1879,
$367,000.00,
Surplus over Re-Insurance, over
$160,000.00.

50 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring 5-year policies, 30 per cent. on 3 years, and 20 per cent. on all others.

This Company has been in operation over 24 years, has paid over $1,300,000 in losses (256,808 25 of which was at the "Boston fire," of Nov. 1872) and over $500,000 in dividends to policy-holders.

None but the safer classes of risks taken.
I. W. MUNROE, Pres. and Treas.
CHARLES A. HOWLAND, Sec'y
Quincy, April 1, 1879

DORCHESTER.
Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

P. O. NEPONSSET, Mass.
Ward 16, Boston, Mass.
E. J. BAKER, Pres't. W. F. TEMPLE, Sec'y

STATEMENT, JANUARY 1, 1879.

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |                 |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------|
| Amount Insured by 6,723 Policies,                                                                                                                                                                                                      | $10,854,125.00 |
| Liabilities.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                 |
| Cost to Re-insure,                                                                                                                                                                                                                     | $92,410.00     |
| Unpaid Losses,                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 1,750.00        |
| Cash Assets.                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |                 |
| Real Estate, (Brick and Stone Dwelling),                                                                                                                                                                                               | $31,900.00     |
| Notes and Mortgages,                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 25,000.00       |
| U. S. 5-20 Bonds ($4,100),                                                                                                                                                                                                            | 4,100.00        |
| U. S. 4-1-2 per cent Bonds ($20,000),                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 21,000.00       |
| Old Colony Railroad Bonds ($5,000),                                                                                                                                                                                                   | 5,275.00        |
| Boston & Lowell Railroad Bonds ($5,000),                                                                                                                                                                                              | 5,200.00        |
| 213 Shares Boston & Albany R. R. Stock,                                                                                                                                                                                                | 27,500.00       |
| 140 Shares Old Colony Railroad Stock,                                                                                                                                                                                                  | 12,500.00       |
| 167 Shares Boston National Bank Stock,                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 17,112.00       |
| Policies in course of collection,                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 5,274.40        |
| Cash deposited in N. E. Trust Co.,                                                                                                                                                                                                     | 12,075.00       |
| " " Eliot National Bank,                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 2,109.46        |
| Interest due and accrued to date,                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 2,002.35        |
| Furniture of Office, Stores and Halls,                                                                                                                                                                                                 | 1,000.00        |
| Loan to Town of Foxboro',                                                                                                                                                                                                              | 6,000.00        |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | $172,611.16    |
| Amount of Deposit Notes available to pay losses,                                                                                                                                                                                       | 246,577.44      |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        | $419,188.60    |
| $74,038.57 Cash Surplus, and $324,621.44 available surplus over amount required to re-insure all our risks.                                                                                                                          |                 |
| The Company continues to insure the safe class of property at current rates, and to pay out Premiums on terminated policies at 40 per cent. on five-year policies, 25 per cent. on three years, and 15 per cent. on one-year policies. |                 |
| Neposset, Feb. 8.                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |                 |

LIVERY STABLE.

THE subscriber would respectfully inform his patrons that he is now located at his

NEW STABLE ON HANCOCK STREET.

BEAR OF MESSRS. TIRRELL'S SHOP, where he is prepared to furnish Horses and Carriages at short notice.
He would take this opportunity to thank the public for their liberal support, and hopes by furnishing good teams at reasonable prices to continue to receive their patronage.

Quincy, June 20.
JOHN HALL.

HAIR WORK!

MISS M. A. BELLEW, invites her old customers and friends to call at the Fancy Store of Miss JILLSON, in Pierce's Block, where they will find her ready to attend to the making of Hair Work, in all of its branches. Ladies can have their hair shampooed or dressed in the latest style, at short notice.

M. A. BELLEW.
Quincy, Aug. 2.

REMOVAL.

The Quincy Dye-House
—AND—
STEAM LAUNDRY,

Has been removed to the Store formerly occupied by KEATING & SPEAR, on

Washington Street.

WHERE the subscriber is prepared to do all kinds of

DYEING,

in the best manner, at the shortest notice, and at reasonable prices.

CLEANING OF ALL KINDS, done at short notice.

We are better prepared than ever to do

LAUNDRYING

IN ALL ITS BRANCHES.

in the highest style of the art, and hope by strict attention to business, to merit a liberal patronage.

ORDER BOX at E. H. Souther's, at the Depot, and at Wollaston Post Office.

C. W. GEORGE, PROPRIETOR.

With capacity for doing of more than seven rods, and fourteen feet and six inches, to land formerly of Job Faxon; and thence southerly on

CORTLANDT Street, Near Broadway
NEW YORK.
HOTCHKISS & POND, Proprietors.
ON THE EUROPEAN PLAN
The restaurant, cafe and lunch room situated are unsurpassed for cheapness and extension of service. Rooms 50 cts. to 52 per day. $4 to $10 per week. Convenient to all ferries and city railroad.
New Furniture. New Management.
Feb. 4.

THE PUBL
M. E.
TERM
On Post
On the Mutu
E. J. B.
Amount
Cost to R
Unpaid
Read Edi
Notes an
C. S. 3-$25.00
Old Colo
2133 Share
140 Share
187 Share
Policies
Each des Interest
Furniture Loan to Amount
pay $74,000 surplus
The Co
of prop Premium great 12 per Nepose
Fire
CAS
Surpl
50 per 5-year per cent
This C
24 years of the T
of Nov.
to policy
None b
CHAIR
Quincy
JOH
Real
Gr
in Quincy
In Estab
V INSUR safe S
At Residen
cock & Stru
Quincy
Sel
THE S the T to 4 E-2
lease pro
JOH
WIL
CH
Quincy
THE A noting
H. LOCK of the T form of la to the tax EMER will be su re due au
at, all 1879.
JOH
WIL
CH
Quincy
$
WHERE be rator
he unde person wh
convict th
Alto, pulling b
JOH
WIL
CH
Quincy
THE S
the T each mont purpose an wers or th under the JOH
WIL
CH
Quincy
Carte
Dig ome
THE B
NOTICE
th, the of the C
Sec. 47
person with 2 years
health, he the - such as licensing $10
Sec. 48
person who ible health
and justice, he less than to ad magies and JOH
WIL
CH

such lightning calculators. The points were brought out that you couldn't divide minutes by apples, even if you could succeed in eating fifty-two apples in a day, and the lesson was kept well down to numbers simple. So far as I could see, the reason was at work quite as much as the rule.

On the Superintendent.

Colonel Parker. One of those happy men to whom God has given the grace of inclosing a splendid, big boy, and a wise, good man in one skin. His long experience as a schoolmaster in New England and in Ohio, and as a soldier in the field, has done more than his two years' study in Germany to make him the fine American superintendent we now wish. He is an expert in the methods of new education, but is also an expert in that rare common-sense which understands that the methods are for the child, not the child for the methods. Thus, while in a general way, his methods of primary and grammar-school instruction do not differ essentially from those of the best normal schools in New England and New York, now so largely adopted in all the leading cities and towns of the Northern States, we see in Quincy a beautiful development of freedom and inventiveness in the teachers, which comes from the familiar and human way in which these methods are put to them by their superintendent.—National Journal of Education.

Q. He played truant from school, and after his father had taken him across his knee and administered some stern admonition he said, "My son, why will you be such an idler? Why don't you follow the example of the ant and be industrious?" "Well, eg I do," blushed the boy, "ain't a tru-ant?"

The Quincy Patriot.

With Supplement.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1879.

The Republican Club.

The Young Men's Republican Club of this town held their regular monthly meeting at their headquarters on Granite street, on Monday evening. The attendance was quite large, and a number of new members admitted. After the usual business of the evening the following resolution was handed in by a member, which will be discussed at their next meeting:—

"This Club unqualifiedly endorses the recommendations of President Hayes, with respect to Civil Service Reform and the retirement of the Greenback Currency."

There are many able speakers in the Club, and a very interesting and profitable discussion is anticipated.

REUNION. The thirteenth annual reunion of the Quincy High School Association, which was held on the 3d instant, was a very pleasant affair. The attendance was not large, owing probably to two causes, namely:

First, There is a tendency to over-dress, which has the effect of keeping many of the former schoolmates away, and prevents the reunions being the hearty and jovial gatherings which they were intended.

Second, The officers failed to give any public notice, as to who would be the orator or poet on this occasion; and even failed to announce the excellent music.

The oration, poem and music were good,—nothing to be ashamed of; and will compare favorably with those of former years. The oration was by Henry Lunt, Esq., and the poem was written by Mr. George Randall, and read by Miss S. Addie Souther. We have had the promise of the oration and poem, and when received shall be pleased to place them before our readers.

THE REFORM CLUB. The annual meeting of the members of the Quincy Reform Club was held at their hall on Canal street, on Monday evening last. The following list of officers was chosen for the ensuing year:—

President, John D. Nutting.

Vice Presidents, William S. Leavitt, James E. Tirrell and J. M. Gilson.

Secretary, Henry Chubbuck.

Treasurer, John L. Maxim.

Directors, Theophilus King, Jr., J. M. Gilson, George Vezzie and William S. Leavitt.

Sergeant-at-Arms, Robert Wadmore. Marshal, George W. Penniman. Assistant Marshal, Wm. T. Curtis.

A vote of thanks was passed to Wm. S. Leavitt, Esq., for his valuable services as President the past three years. Remarks were made by Henry H. Faxon, J. M. Gilson, James E. Tirrell and others. Several new members were voted in, and the indications were that the Club for the year to come would be more prosperous than it had been for the year past.

THE KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS are arousing from their lethargy. They initiated an applicant last Wednesday evening, and have another for next Wednesday. It is a sign of more prosperous times. When the social, religious, and brotherly organizations are ably supported, it is a sure indication that work is more plenty, and business better rewarded. The last fifteen months has been a hard time for societies in this town.

INSTALLATION. There was a public installation of officers of Rural Lodge, on Thursday evening, at their Lodge-room in Robertson's Block. The Weber Quartette rendered the installation music in full. Many ladies were present and witnessed the ceremonies. At the conclusion of the services, the company repaired to the lower hall and enjoyed a social dance.

PERSONAL. Professor Bush and wife of this town, are visiting at Fort Plain, New York. The Professor gave a very interesting lecture at that place on Friday evening of last week, on his travels in foreign lands. The local paper says, "his style is easy and pleasing, and he has the faculty, which few possess, of making word pictures which his auditors cannot fail to appreciate."

PLEASURE TRIP. Mr. George Saville, one of our enterprising merchants, left here on Thursday evening for a short and pleasant trip to Florida. He was accompanied by his brother, Edwin H. Saville, Esq., late of St. Joseph, Mo. They have the best wishes of their many friends that their excursion may prove one of great pleasure.

ADDITIONAL ACCOMMODATIONS. The Old Colony Railroad Company is determined to accommodate its patrons. It commenced running this week a late train on Sunday evening. Our citizens can now go to Boston on Sunday evenings to attend lectures, and return at 10 o'clock, or our city friends can remain in our suburban village, until nearly 11 o'clock, before they are obliged to leave for home.

WALKING MATCH. The walking match at the Town Hall on Saturday evening last, between Messrs. Harry and Shedd, was well attended. The race was an exciting one up to the eighth mile, when Harry was taken with a severe pain, and was forced to retire. Shedd finished the race in 1 hour, 24 minutes and 30 seconds. Fred Johnson then gave a two-mile spin in 14 minutes and 30 seconds; after which there was a three-mile goose-peddle, which was won by Messrs. Larkin and Mitchell.

One of the best places to buy crockery and glass ware in Boston, is at Guy & Brothers', on Bedford street. Their stock is very large, and the utmost confidence can be placed in their word. Read their advertisement in to-day's issue.

DISTRICT COURT. The business before this court of justice has been quiet this week.

A Frank Dyer, who has charge of a clock room at South Weymouth, was fined $50 and costs for keeping a liquor nuisance. He appealed.

John Robinson, of Braintree, for malicious mischief. Fined $5 and costs. Appealed.

Andrew Tracy, of Weymouth, for a second drunk. Fined $5 and costs.

John Sullivan and Enoch Chilton, of Boston, for being vagabonds at Quincy. They were sent to the House of Correction for four months, each.

Local Items.

We have had a spell of October weather this week.

Turkeys this week have been plenty and cheap.

Who has a nice cow for sale for cash?

M. Hernandez Ricard will give a reading on Thursday evening next, at Methodist Chapel, Wollaston.

Auctioneer Lombard sells a small lot of furniture on Monday evening, under Russell's Studio.

Mr. William R. Brown plucked a dandelion blossom by the roadside on Friday last.

A splendid assortment of goods suitable for Christmas presents can be found at the store of George Saville.

Very mild weather this week. It was sixty above zero at sunrise, on Thursday morning.

Look at A. G. Durgin's funny advertisement in our columns to-day.—He has a large collection of articles for Christmas.

Sailed Dec. 10th, Schooner Helen E. Russell, Capt. McHaffy, for New York, with granite from J. Q. Wild and others.

David Warren sold 11-2 acres of land with buildings, on Winter street, Quincy Neck, to Thomas Wells, for $1221.

H. F. Doble has just received a splendid lot of eastern horses, which he is selling cheap. Let those in want improve the chance.

The Temple of Honor will hold their anniversary meeting on Monday evening next. The supper tables will be spread in Bent's store under their hall.

Mr. Maloney has completed this week a splendid wall for the Robertson House. It never ought to be dry, for it has about fifteen feet of water.

Among the many visitors to our schools this week, was a son of the late Horace Mann, the distinguished friend to the public schools.

The iron foundry at Wollaston is under full blast. Some forty men are employed, and the Company has numerous orders ahead.

Our readers will find a large and beautiful stock of rubber jewelry, suitable for Christmas presents, at the store of Messrs. Josselyn & Conant, 24 School street, Boston.

Those in want of a good yacht next season, for pleasure or profit, should order one now, and have it already when Spring opens. A. B. Lelois' card appears in our columns.

There is a growing demand for houses. We are informed that there are only two houses unsold at Wollaston at the present time. Something that has not occurred before for several years.

A council of the American Legion of Honor will be instituted at Knights of Pythias' Hall, on Tuesday evening next, at 7 o'clock. All signers of the petition are expected.

A valued subscriber in a distant town, who had the misfortune to have her Patriot mislaid recently, writes us, "from choice I would try and live on one meal a day, rather than not have my Quincy Patriot."

At the request of many people of Quincy, Dr. Everett has kindly consented to deliver in the First Church, Quincy, next Sunday evening, the lecture on "Education," which he delivered in Boston, on Thanksgiving day.

The ladies will find a rich stock of goods, suitable and acceptable for a Christmas present, at the store of G. T. Defrees. You will not have to pay cash and high prices for presents, if you purchase them in Quincy.

The Merry Mount Granite Company have purchased the shed, tools, &c., recently owned and occupied by Mr. Jonathan Williams, near the Quincy Adams station, and have commenced business.

It will be seen by our advertising columns that our townsmen, Mr. Robert Josselyn, and Mr. H. L. Conant have purchased the oldest rubber store in Boston, and are prepared to furnish their customers with anything in the rubber line.

Mr. Charles T. Reed packed up and started for Boston on Monday, believing he had done about enough business in Quincy for the present. He intends to keep a shoe store at the south end.

The "Fire king" is the latest discovery in household economy. We have tried it, and like it much. It gives to the coal a beautiful blaze, and causes it to give more heat from the same quantity of fuel. It is for sale in Quincy, by D. Howard Bliss.

Braintree. Died in South Braintree, Nov. 23rd, Mr. Warren Mansfield, aged 76 years and 6 months. Mr. Mansfield was born in Braintree, and resided in Quincy for more than fifty years ago in the south part of the town as a wheelwright and blacksmith, and has transacted business most of his life in Quincy.

The first set of American wheels ever used in the Sandwich Islands were made by him. He has filled various orders from South America and whilst the Mexican war was in progress our own government and also Santa Anna were prepared to furnish their customers with anything in the rubber line.

A large order for Porton wagons was filled by him under the direction of the late Gen. Sylvanus Thayer, and in the fall of 1864 he had large orders for ambulances and various other carriages from our government. It may truly be said of him that, during his business career, he received orders from almost all parts of the world. His life work is now done and the places that once knew him will know him no more.

On Wednesday evening of this week a stranger called at the home of Mrs. Cynthia Smith on Taylor street and requested supper and lodging for the night, and would probably want board for the present, as he had no other means of business in this place as a baker. Mrs. S., who keeps a boarding house, entertained him in her usual good style.

The next morning Mrs. S. found the baker did rise himself, if not his bread, quite early, and was gone, taking with him a new suit of clothes and an overcoat which belonged to one of the family. The police are after the baker, and if caught his cake will be all dough sure.

Harvey S. Paige and W. A. Keene made a fine show in their new stores in Dudley Block. The building is quite an ornament to the place, and gives much credit to the builder, Mr. M. L. Tupper.

For the Patriot.

Wendell Phillips' Lecture.

DEAR PATRIOT:—A writer in last week's Patriot, in commenting on the eloquent lecture on O'Connell, remarks that little thought is bestowed upon the concerns of other nations by the average Yankee. This idea may be correct, but the writer should not make his own want of knowledge of the subject, the groundwork of a charge of falsehood against the lecturer. Every one who is at all acquainted with Irish history, or has had personal knowledge of O'Connell's times, knows that Mr. Phillips rather understated, than exaggerated the case. When Daniel O'Connell was born, a Catholic was dead in law. His condition worse than that of the Southern Negro, for the black man was recognized in law as a chattel, and had at least the protection given to a beast of burden. A Catholic Irishman had no such protection; he could hold no land, own no property; give no vote; carry no arms; receive no education himself, nor teach another; he was denied the consolations of religion, and forbidden to worship God; he was even compelled by law to repeat himself at an English meeting-house at stated periods, and heavy penalties were provided for non-compliance. In O'Connell's young days the pitch cap was a common amusement, in which the pets of Dublin Castle indulged.

That a people could live and keep their independence of thought for several generations under such a horrible code, is the wonder of the civilized world, and is to day a source of honest pride to a true Irish Catholic.

The pressure of disastrous circumstances upon England compelled the government to relax this infernal code at times. When the American Colonists revolted, and appealed to the Irish people for aid, the English let up a little; again, when the French revolution shook Europe to its centre, the English let up a little more; but it was O'Connell who created the power, as Phillips stated—out of the mud of Irish slavery, that crushed this monster iniquity.

The gentleman who had "Seen something of Ireland during this period of which the orator has spoken, and saw nothing of the intolerance of which he spoke," must have a very curious pair of glasses through which he looked.—O'Connell commenced his agitation on a small scale in the year 1800; in 1810 he had thoroughly aroused the people that time. The other gentleman, born in Ireland, who compares the English laws as administered in Ireland, to the city ordinance again, smoking in the streets, if not totally demerited, must be an object of pity to his friends. He is a poor authority for the writer to depend on against Wendell Phillips.

When O'Connell renewed his agitation for a repeal of the legislative Union, in 1831, the English Parliament promptly passed "The Act of Union," a political penal law, by which was made session for any number of Irishmen to hold a public meeting for any purpose. This law was strictly enforced, and the Marquis of Anglesbury promptly dispersed several by force. O'Connell was arrested for sedition, and if I remember aright, was convicted of the charge. How can the Irish born gentleman, forget the blood shed at Ballinacorney, and Newtownbarry, unless he is a very young man. It is only as yesterday when the suspension of the Habeas Corpus act was removed. Hundreds of men have suffered years in prison, and were at last turned out without hearing any charge against them. At the present moment, three Irish gentlemen are placed in peril of their liberty, on a charge of sedition, under one of these obsolete laws which your correspondent thinks no harm.

Even the Irish born gentleman is likely to be arrested to-morrow and imprisoned if he should visit Cork, Dublin, or Galway, and he should inadvertently wear a soft hat and a pair of square-toed boots. One statement made by Mr. Phillips so strongly corroborates a favorite maxim of O'Connell's, that "England's difficulty is Ireland's opportunity, and is so apropos to present times, that it ought not to be lost sight of by American statesmen, nor by Irish patriots. It is said that at the time of the English public opinion, three Irish gentlemen are placed in peril of their liberty, on a charge of sedition, under one of these obsolete laws which your correspondent thinks no harm.

Even the Irish born gentleman is likely to be arrested to-morrow and imprisoned if he should visit Cork, Dublin, or Galway, and he should inadvertently wear a soft hat and a pair of square-toed boots. One statement made by Mr. Phillips so strongly corroborates a favorite maxim of O'Connell's, that "England's difficulty is Ireland's opportunity, and is so apropos to present times, that it ought not to be lost sight of by American statesmen, nor by Irish patriots. It is said that at the time of the English public opinion, three Irish gentlemen are placed in peril of their liberty, on a charge of sedition, under one of these obsolete laws which your correspondent thinks no harm.

Even the Irish born gentleman is likely to be arrested to-morrow and imprisoned if he should visit Cork, Dublin, or Galway, and he should inadvertently wear a soft hat and a pair of square-toed boots. One statement made by Mr. Phillips so strongly corroborates a favorite maxim of O'Connell's, that "England's difficulty is Ireland's opportunity, and is so apropos to present times, that it ought not to be lost sight of by American statesmen, nor by Irish patriots. It is said that at the time of the English public opinion, three Irish gentlemen are placed in peril of their liberty, on a charge of sedition, under one of these obsolete laws which your correspondent thinks no harm.

Even the Irish born gentleman is likely to be arrested to-morrow and imprisoned if he should visit Cork, Dublin, or Galway, and he should inadvertently wear a soft hat and a pair of square-toed boots. One statement made by Mr. Phillips so strongly corroborates a favorite maxim of O'Connell's, that "England's difficulty is Ireland's opportunity, and is so apropos to present times, that it ought not to be lost sight of by American statesmen, nor by Irish patriots. It is said that at the time of the English public opinion, three Irish gentlemen are placed in peril of their liberty, on a charge of sedition, under one of these obsolete laws which your correspondent thinks no harm.

Even the Irish born gentleman is likely to be arrested to-morrow and imprisoned if he should visit Cork, Dublin, or Galway, and he should inadvertently wear a soft hat and a pair of square-toed boots. One statement made by Mr. Phillips so strongly corroborates a favorite maxim of O'Connell's, that "England's difficulty is Ireland's opportunity, and is so apropos to present times, that it ought not to be lost sight of by American statesmen, nor by Irish patriots. It is said that at the time of the English public opinion, three Irish gentlemen are placed in peril of their liberty, on a charge of sedition, under one of these obsolete laws which your correspondent thinks no harm.

Even the Irish born gentleman is likely to be arrested to-morrow and imprisoned if he should visit Cork, Dublin, or Galway, and he should inadvertently wear a soft hat and a pair of square-toed boots. One statement made by Mr. Phillips so strongly corroborates a favorite maxim of O'Connell's, that "England's difficulty is Ireland's opportunity, and is so apropos to present times, that it ought not to be lost sight of by American statesmen, nor by Irish patriots. It is said that at the time of the English public opinion, three Irish gentlemen are placed in peril of their liberty, on a charge of sedition, under one of these obsolete laws which your correspondent thinks no harm.

Even the Irish born gentleman is likely to be arrested to-morrow and imprisoned if he should visit Cork, Dublin, or Galway, and he should inadvertently wear a soft hat and a pair of square-toed boots. One statement made by Mr. Phillips so strongly corroborates a favorite maxim of O'Connell's, that "England's difficulty is Ireland's opportunity, and is so apropos to present times, that it ought not to be lost sight of by American statesmen, nor by Irish patriots. It is said that at the time of the English public opinion, three Irish gentlemen are placed in peril of their liberty, on a charge of sedition, under one of these obsolete laws which your correspondent thinks no harm.

Even the Irish born gentleman is likely to be arrested to-morrow and imprisoned if he should visit Cork, Dublin, or Galway, and he should inadvertently wear a soft hat and a pair of square-toed boots. One statement made by Mr. Phillips so strongly corroborates a favorite maxim of O'Connell's, that "England's difficulty is Ireland's opportunity, and is so apropos to present times, that it ought not to be lost sight of by American statesmen, nor by Irish patriots. It is said that at the time of the English public opinion, three Irish gentlemen are placed in peril of their liberty, on a charge of sedition, under one of these obsolete laws which your correspondent thinks no harm.

Even the Irish born gentleman is likely to be arrested to-morrow and imprisoned if he should visit Cork, Dublin, or Galway, and he should inadvertently wear a soft hat and a pair of square-toed boots. One statement made by Mr. Phillips so strongly corroborates a favorite maxim of O'Connell's, that "England's difficulty is Ireland's opportunity, and is so apropos to present times, that it ought not to be lost sight of by American statesmen, nor by Irish patriots. It is said that at the time of the English public opinion, three Irish gentlemen are placed in peril of their liberty, on a charge of sedition, under one of these obsolete laws which your correspondent thinks no harm.

Even the Irish born gentleman is likely to be arrested to-morrow and imprisoned if he should visit Cork, Dublin, or Galway, and he should inadvertently wear a soft hat and a pair of square-toed boots. One statement made by Mr. Phillips so strongly corroborates a favorite maxim of O'Connell's, that "England's difficulty is Ireland's opportunity, and is so apropos to present times, that it ought not to be lost sight of by American statesmen, nor by Irish patriots. It is said that at the time of the English public opinion, three Irish gentlemen are placed in peril of their liberty, on a charge of sedition, under one of these obsolete laws which your correspondent thinks no harm.

WANTED,

A GOOD FAMILY COW.

Apply to J. L. WHITON, 1w.

By JOSEPH W. LOMBARD, AUCTIONEER, Office, 361 Washington Street, Boston.

Furniture at Auction.

Will be sold at Public Auction, on MONDAY EVENING, Dec. 15th, at 7 o'clock, a small lot of Household Furniture, in the building on the corner of Chestnut Street, under Russell's Photograph Salon.

HOME-MADE SAUSAGE MEAT

At Sweetser's Market.

Quincy, Dec. 13.

TO LET,

HOUSE containing six rooms, on Spear Street, about three minutes walk from Depot. Ready for occupancy, January 1st. Enquire of FRANKLIN HARDWICK.

WANTED,

MRS. RICHARDS wishes employment as a Seamstress. Will go out by day. Apply at MRS. E. R. BEST'S, Cottage, Avenue, Quincy, Dec. 6.

HOLIDAY PRESENTS.

THE Subscriber has a nice lot of CHOICE SONGSTERS.

PRICE $2.50 EACH, WARRANTED.

Bird Supplies Furnished.

F. W. FRENCH, Quincy, Dec. 13.

JUST RECEIVED!

A LOT OF

MAINE HORSES!!

SUITABLE for work or travel, which will be sold cheap. Any one desiring a nice driving horse, can now be accommodated.

Apply to H. F. DOBLE, West Quincy, Dec. 13.

A. B. LELOIS,

YACHT and BOAT BUILDER.

Storage for Boats.

YACHTS BOUGHT AND SOLD.

River Street, Quincy Point.

Dec. 13.

The Closing Lectures

under the auspices of

Paul Revere Post, 88, G. A. R.,

TOWN HALL, QUINCY,

ARE AS FOLLOWS:

On Thursday Eve., Dec. 18th,

Mr. F. A. HILL.

Subject, Mound Builders.

On Tuesday Eve. Dec. 30th,

Prof. M. C. O'BRIEN.

Subject, Irish Language.

Single Admission, 35 cts.

Doors open at 7.15. Commence at 7.45.

Quincy, Dec. 13.

W. H. SHERMAN, M. D.,

Physician and Surgeon,

AND PROPRIETOR OF

THE PEOPLES

DRUG STORE,

Which's Block, Temple Street.

Prices very reasonable.

N. B. Night calls promptly answered.

Quincy, Dec. 13.

Rubber Goods

AT

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

THE UNDERSIGNED would respectfully inform the Citizens of Quincy and vicinity, that they have purchased the stock, fixtures and good will of the Oldest Rubber Stand

in Boston, and added a large and selected stock consisting of

RUBBER CLOTHING, HORSE COVERS, HOSPITAL CUSHIONS, BED PANS, HOT WATER BOTTLES (a splendid thing for cold feet, neuralgia, and a thousand aches and pains), RUBBER BELTING, PACKING and Every Article manufactured from Rubber; which they will sell at the LOWEST MARKET RATES.

Orders sent by mail promptly filled.

A large line of

Ladies' Waterproof Circulars.

Newports and Ulsters,

Always on hand.

RUBBER JEWELRY,

Consisting of Ladies' and Gents' Watch Chains, Ladies' Pins, Ear Rings, Bracelets, &c., which will be sold at less than manufacturers prices.

Josselyn & Conant,

21 SCHOOL STREET,

Boston, Mass.

HOME-MADE SAUSAGE MEAT

At Sweetser's Market.

Quincy, Dec. 13.

HOLIDAY GOODS.

USEFUL

ORNAIMENTAL.

A CHOICE SELECTION

CHRISTMAS CARDS,

Japanese Boxes.

HANDKERCHIEFS,

NECKTIES, &c., &c., &c.

PRICES

FROM

2 CENTS TO 2 DOLLARS.

C. S. Hubbard's,

91 Hancock Street.

Quincy, Dec. 13.

C. T. DEFREES.

Grand Opening

of Holiday Goods

I Shall Open on

MONDAY, December 15th, 1879,

A very Select and Choice Assortment of

FANCY GOODS,

Which I shall sell Low.

GOODS AS FOLLOWS:

LADIES' AND GENTS' HANDKERCHIEFS

In Hemstitched and Fancy Borders.

SILK HANDKERCHIEFS, 12 1-2, 25, 37 1-2 AND 50.

LACE GOODS

Ties, Collarettes and Bibs!

A very fine Lace Bab, in Bretonne, as low as 25 cents; this Bab is Cheap for 50 Cents.

GAITERS.

FOR LADIES AND MISSES.

ONE LOT OF CHILDREN'S HOODS, 25 CTS.

JAPANESE GOODS IN DIFFERENT STYLES!!

G. T. DEFREES,

Robertson's Block, - - Quincy.

Dec. 13

Spend Your Money and Have Something to Show for it.

Useful Presents for the Holiday.

GLASS and CROCKERY in all the Latest Styles.

LAMPS, the thing for a Present.

TABLE CUTLERY of All Kinds.

We invite your attention to our large stock of goods at Boston Prices.

CHAS. B. TILTON, 19 HANCOCK ST.,

Next to Hodges' Bakery.

Quincy, Dec. 13.

Make the Children Happy.

$1.50 THE NURSERY, $

The Quincy Patriot.

SUPPLEMENT.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1879.

Paper Barrels.

It is claimed that the new paper flour barrels are not only cheaper but more tight and durable, as well as lighter, than those of ordinary construction. By an improved method of manufacture, these barrels are composed of straw, paper pulp, which is run into a mold made into the shape of one-half of a barrel cut vertically. The pulp is subjected to a powerful hydraulic pressure, and, when reduced to the required thickness the ends of the halves are cut off; the pieces are then placed in a steam drier, the sides are trimmed evenly and the substance thoroughly dried. It comes from the drier ready for making up into barrels. There are three heavy wooden hoops and two hoops fastened together, and, into grooves cut in the staves, the paper halves, which have an average thickness of three-sixteenths of an inch, are slid. The ends of the barrel are made of paper of a similar thickness, constructed on the same principle as the sides. The barrels are manufactured entirely by machinery, and the halves are cut so true that two pieces of the same size will readily fit together.

The Way to Health.

The only true way to health is that which common sense dictates to man. Live within the bounds of reason. Eat moderately, drink temperately, sleep regularly, avoid excess in anything and preserve a conscience "void of offence." Some men eat themselves to death, some drink themselves to death, some wear out their lives by indolence and some by over exertion, others are killed by doctors, while not a few sink into the grave under the effects of vicious and beastly practices. All the medicines in creation are not worth a farthing to a man who is constantly and habitually violating the laws of his own nature. All the medical science in the world cannot save him from a premature grave. With a suicidal course of conduct, he is planting the seeds of decay in his own constitution, and accelerating the destruction of his own life.

At a large public funeral of a citizen of Delhi, (N. Y.) the other day, all the mourners were dressed in white, instead of the customary black. This was done in approval of the wishes of the deceased, who, while living, was strongly opposed to the inevitable heavy and expensive "mourning," and requested them to dress in simple white at his funeral, especially if they believed him to have entered a happier world.

The government is piling up silver dollars in its vaults, and cannot get rid of them. They are simply a burden, the carrying of which costs nearly two million a year. Yet we suppose that Congress will not have courage and common sense enough to stop the coinage.—Boston Herald.

THE LETTERS.
The following verse contains every letter in the alphabet:—
Except with zeal we strive to win
God's just and holy love,
We cannot conquer strife and sin
Nor walk with Him above.

W. J. Blackwell, the tobacco manufacturer of Durham, N. C., pays, it is said, more taxes to his government than any other man in the world. They amount altogether to about $500,000 a year.

The temperance women of Utica, N. Y., provide coffee at the polls on election days, as a regular thing, and this year they furnished 4,000 cups, which left their treasury 79 cents behind.

Bachelor and millionaire Peter Golet, of New York, aged 80, has just died, leaving property estimated anywhere from $10,000,000 to $20,000,000 to be divided between his nephews and nieces.

The Universalists of Provincetown are to celebrate their semi-centennial anniversary Tuesday next, the 16th instant.

The American $20 gold piece is superseding the English sovereign as the current gold coin of the world, says a New York dispatch.

Fox hunting is still popular with gunners in Foxboro; a good sized fox was shot Wednesday by D. C. Ashby.

GEORGE T. ELLIOT, TEACHER OF Vocal and Instrumental Music!

WOLLASTON, MASS.

594 Washington Street, Boston.

Nov. 8.

Mr. Henri Perabeau, Organist at St. John's Church, Has located in QUINCY.

AND WILL GIVE LESSONS ON THE
PIANO, CHURCH ORGAN, &c.

WITH the privilege of practicing on the fine Hook's Organ at St. John's Church. Also—Lessons given in HARMONY.

Mr. Perabeau is a half-brother of Prof. Ernst Perabo, the celebrated Pianist of Boston, and also his teacher.

Residence, corner of Elm and Mechanic streets, Quincy, Sept. 27.

6m

DRAWING & PAINTING.

MISS E. MERRILL, a pupil of the Boston School of Fine Arts, will receive pupils in Drawing and Painting in Oil, Water Color, or on China. Apply at house on Washington Street for information, or at the Branch Store, Robertson Block, Quincy, Oct. 18.

FRANCIS W. PARKER, Superintendent of Schools.

OFFICE HOURS.

Mondays and Saturdays,

From 8 to 12 A. M.

Office in the National Granite Bank Building.

Quincy, May 8.

BAILEY & BAXTER, Carpenters and Builders CORNER SCHOOL AND PLEASANT STS.

CONTINUE to give attention to Carpenter Work of all descriptions.

All orders promptly attended to and faithfully executed.

Bells Hung to Order.

Door and Window Screens a specialty. Now is the time to get them ready for Summer use.

Slat Ropes Repaired in the best manner. Don't go to Boston for repairs when it can be done cheaper at home. Also, Light Turning and Scroll Sawing. Locks repaired, Keys fitted. Skates ground and Saws filed.

H. BAILEY. J. S. BAXTER.

Quincy, Jan. 4.

1y

CHARLES HATCH, Civil Engineer and Surveyor.

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE ON

Railroad St., near Quincy Station.

Surveys, Plans and Deeds made of Real Estate. Estimates furnished for the building of structures of all kinds.

Measurements of work made for contractors and mechanics.

Owner of notes and plans recently belonging to Mr. J. E. STUBBINS.

All orders promptly attended to.

P. O. BOX 111.

Quincy, Aug. 23.

3f

WHITMAN & BRECK, Civil Engineers & Surveyors CORNER OF DEVONSHIRE & WATER STREETS, BOSTON.

Entrance 85 Devonshire and 16 Water Streets.

Particular attention paid to Land Surveying, laying out private grounds, and the general improvement of Real Estate. Plans and working drawings of public and private buildings carefully prepared.

H. T. WHITMAN. C. E. C. BRECK.

Dec. 14. April 15.

ESTABLISHED 1839.

FREDERICK & FIELD. Granite Monuments, Cemetery and Building Work, OF ALL DESCRIPTION.

Light, Medium and Dark Blue

QUINCY GRANITE.

FROM OUR OWN QUARRIES.

Or any other variety New England Granite furnished.

STEAM POLISHING WORKS.

Granite Statuary executed in the most Artistic Manner.

Bronze Statuary furnished to order.

Quincy, July 12.

tf

AIR SLACKED LIME — FOR SALE BY — J. Loud & Co., — AT THE — QUINCY GRAIN STORE.

The best Disinfectant for Purifying

Stables, Privies, Cesspools,

AND SPRINKLING IN CELLARS.

Quincy, July 26.

tf

H. FRENCH, JR., House and Sign Painter, IN EVERY VARIETY.

Washington Street, Quincy.

Feb. 10

tf

A. W. HAYES, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.

Assistance rendered in Probate matters.

Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and 6 to 8 P. M.

WHICHER'S BLOCK.

Quincy, June 23.

J. B. CHAFFIN, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law, In John Q. Adams' Office.

Quincy, March 15.

tf

Wm. G. A. PATTEE, Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law, 26 PEMBERTON SQUARE, BOSTON.

Residence School Street, Quincy.

June 14.

1y

Charles S. French, DENTIST. Cor. Hancock and Chestnut Streets.

ALL operations in Dentistry skillfully performed. Ether or Nitrous Oxide Gas administered. Office open day or evening.

Quincy, Nov. 16.

tf

DR. F. J. BONNEY, DENTIST! FAXON'S BLOCK, - CHESTNUT STREET

ALL operations in dentistry faithfully performed. Teeth extracted by the use of Ether or Nitrous Oxide Gas.

Office open Day and Evening.

Quincy, Feb. 23.

tf

C. S. WHITING, DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF FRESH FISH, — AND — OYSTERS, QUINCY AVENUE, QUINCY.

June 29.

tf

JOS. W. LOMBARD, Auctioneer and Real Estate Agent, Hancock Court.

Quincy, Sept. 21.

tf

BENJ. F. CURTIS, — DEALER IN — Hemlock, Spruce and Pine Lumber.

A full assortment constantly on hand.

CANAL WHARVES!!

Quincy, Jan. 19

1y

Job Printing

Neatly Done at this Office.

NOTICE!

THE Subscriber would inform the citizens of Quincy, that he has purchased a tract of land on South Street, Quincy, known as the Baxter Pasture, which will enable him to supply a variety of Wood, such as Oak and Pine, in any quantity.

He still holds himself prepared to do general work, — Carting, Digging, Cleaning Cesspools, &c.

TERRANCE KEENAN,
Cor. of South and Main Sts.

Box 540, Quincy Post Office.

N. B. All persons heretofore committing trespass on above land, and all others are hereby warned to cease from depredations.

Quincy, Oct. 18.

tf

NOTICE! S. N. MALONEY, STONE MASON AND CONTRACTOR, would inform the public that he is ready for business again. Stone Work in all its branches. Wells dug and stoned to order. Particular attention given to setting Cemetery Work of all kinds. Work done in a skillful manner. All orders left at his residence, Robertson street, West Quincy, Mass., or at P. O. Box 76, will receive prompt attention.

Quincy, March 1.

1y

Just Received! 3d-HAND GOODS.

14-foot standing Office Desk.

1 Large Sofa, suitable for a Barber's Shop or Saloon.

2 Mahogany Card Tables.

2 Large Chests of Drawers.

1 Open Grate Parlor Stove.

Office Chairs.

Black Walnut Chamber Chairs.

Office or Hall Clock.

Common Chairs, Tables, Bedsteads, Mattresses, Pillows, &c.

Also, 1 Double-barrelled Gun, a good shooter.

A. KEATING.

Quincy, Nov. 22.

tf

HANDSOME SHELF PAPER DIFFERENT SHADES, Two Sheets for 1 Cent, — AT THE — Quincy Patriot Office.

Budget of Fun.

The great senses taker—Rum.

"Two for assent."—A bridal couple.

"Even a barrel-hoop will turn when trod upon."

A man who undertakes to weep for everybody soon loses his eyesight.

The man who doesn't hang out his shingle and advertise dies and leaves no sign.

"Dying in poverty," says a modern moralist, "is nothing; it is living in poverty that comes hard on a fellow."

A young lady in Utica is so refined that she invariably alludes to a Spitz as a "cuspadore dog."

A wag says a lady's cheeks remind him of a span of horses; "one each side of a wagging tongue."

Why is it that a person, after reading the medical advertisements, in a newspaper, involuntarily glances at the column of deaths?

A man in Maine applied for five gallons of rum for "mechanical purposes."

"For what mechanical purposes?"

"For raising a barn," was the reply.

A recent marriage notice ends with the singular expression, probably added by a waggish friend: "May their future troubles be little ones!"

Before a man deliberately makes up his mind to be a rascal he should examine himself closely to see if he is not better constituted for a phool.—Josh Billings.

An Irish gentleman, hearing of a friend having a stone coffin made for himself, exclaimed:—"By me sowl, an' that's a good idea! Sure, an' a stone coffin 'ud last a man his lifetime."

"In choosing a wife," says the Phrenological Journal, "be governed by her chin." That's just the trouble. Too many men are governed by their wives' chin.

An editor being asked, "Do hogs pay?" says a great many do not. They take the paper several years and then have the Postmaster send it back marked "refused."

A little four-year old girl visiting a neighbor was asked if she would have some bread and butter.

"No," she replied, rather sharply, "my ma said I musn't ask you for bread and butter," then suddenly brightening up she said, "have you got any cookies?"

The average Detroit boy sees his opportunity in winter as well as in summer and he makes the most of it. Yesterday afternoon, as an old man was driving a stout sled up Michigan avenue, having two or three kegs of beer in the box, a boy called out to him:—

"Say there! Wheel's coming off!"

The old man pulled up, looked around, and the boy said:—

"You'd better look out—hind wheel's coming off."

The driver got down, looked his sled all over, felt of the braces, and inspected clear to the dash board, and then asked:—

"What you say? What broke?"

"I said that your hind wheel was coming off," replied the boy.

The man made another inspection, gave the sleigh a shake, and all at once called out:—

"Why, dere is no hind wheel on here."

He heard the boys' snickering as he climbed into the sled, but he didn't look back.—Detroit Free Press.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION

is called to our stock of

STOVES & RANGES

including the

HIGHLAND, AUBURN

And Royal Ranges.

These Ranges have extra large tops, and the flues are so arranged that all the holes are available, and are supplied with Reed's Regulator, which saves Coal and keeps the fire under perfect control. They are mounted in the most perfect manner and are supplied with all Modern Improvements.

Other patterns of RANGES

FROM $18 UPWARDS

Also, the celebrated

"STEWART"

PARLOR STOVES!

"HIGHLAND," "ROYAL," "WELL DONE,"

And Other Patents.

The "Berkley" Open Stove

IS THE BEST.

The "Splendid" Base Burner

is without exception the most Perfect Stove in the market

we shall recommend the Best, and will guarantee Perfect Satisfaction. Any pattern of Stove or Furnace supplied at Manufacturers' Prices.

Also, a full assortment of custom-made

TIN WARE

Kitchen Furnishing Goods.

Furnaces, Ranges and Stoves repaired at short notice.

Pumps Set and Repaired.

IRON SINKS, LEAD PIPE, SHEET LEAD AND ZINC, always in stock.

We shall continue to keep a full stock of DRAIN PIPE, at Lowest Cash Prices.

PIERCE & SANBORN,

HANCOCK STREET.

Quincy, Dec. 1.

tf

The Best Stoves in the Market!

G. W. WALKER'S

Crawford and Franconia

DOUBLE-OVEN RANGES,

Warranted to bake in both ovens at the same time, and First-class in every respect. Also, Sole Agents in Quincy for the celebrated

STEWART

PARLOR STOVES.

The subscriber has on hand, and is prepared to furnish

Cook, Parlor, and Office

STOVES

Of the BEST PATTERNS.

AT REASONABLE RATES

Any STOVE, not in stock, will be obtained at short notice.

Jobbing promptly attended to.

E. S. FELLOWS,

Hancock Street.

Quincy, Feb. 8.

tf

STANDARD FOOD.

P. H. GAVIN,

PLUMBER.

98 Hancock Street, Quincy.

Store formerly occupied by T. G. Emerson, in Adams' block.

Orders addressed to Box 75 Quincy Post Office, will receive prompt attention.

EVERY VARIETY OF PLUMBING WORK done at lowest prices.

Quincy, Jan. 28.

tf

REMOVAL

TO

ROBERTSON'S BLOCK.

THE Subscriber would inform his friends and the public that he has moved his stock to ROBERTSON'S BLOCK,

Where he will keep a good supply of

Provisions & Vegetables

Also, Pastry, &c.,

WHICH WILL BE SOLD LOW.

A. W. HICKS.

Quincy, March 29.

tf

The Quincy Patriot.

SUPPLEMENT.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1879.

A Rich Man on Riches.

The following story is told of Jacob Ridgway, a wealthy citizen of Philadelphia who died many years ago leaving a fortune of five or six millions dollars:

"Mr. Ridgway," said a young man with whom the millionaire was conversing; "you are more to be envied than any gentleman I know."

"Why so?" responded Mr. Ridgway. "I am not aware of any cause for which I should be particularly envied."

"What, sir!" exclaimed the young man in astonishment. "Why, are you not a millionaire. Think of the thousands your money brings you in every month!"

"Well, what of that?" replied Mr. Ridgway. "All I get out of it is my victuals and clothes, and I can't eat more than one man's allowance, or wear more than one suit at a time. Pray, can't you do as much?"

"Ah, but," said the youth, "think of the hundreds of fine houses you own, and the rentals they bring you!"

"What better am I off for that?" replied the rich man. "I can live in only one house at a time; as for the money I receive for rents why, I can't eat or wear it; I can only use it to buy other houses for other people to live in; they are the beneficiaries, not I."

"But you can buy splendid furniture, costly pictures, and fine carriages and horses to fact anything you desire."

"And after I have bought them," I can only look at the furniture and pictures, and the poorest man who is not blind can do the same. I can ride no easier in a fine carriage than you can in an omnibus for five cents, without the trouble of attending to drivers, footmen and bootlers; and as to anything I desire, I can tell you young man, that the less we desire in this world the happier we shall be. All my wealth cannot buy me a single day more of life—cannot buy me back my youth—cannot purchase exemption from sickness and pain—cannot procure me power to keep afar off the hour of death; and then, what will all avail when, in a few years at most, I lie down in the grave and leave it all forever! Young man, you have no cause to envy me."

AN UGLY KING. One day a peasant woman took a basket of eggs to the house where the royal party was lodged. At the door she met an individual who greeted her politely, and on finding out her errand carried the basket to the kitchen, which door he returned with a handful of small coins. Emboldened by so much condescension, the good woman mustered up courage to mention her great desire to set eyes on King Victor Emmanuel. "Why, that's me!" said the person with whom she was speaking. She looked at him scrutinizingly; then, after some seconds of mute contemplation, she exclaimed: "Oh, never! You won't get me to believe that. Such a sweet and beautiful woman as the Queen would never have married a man of heart!" The King (for it was he) dismissed her with an extra piece of money, and proceeded in all haste to seek some peasants what was the meaning of it. "So ugly!" was the reply. Victor Emmanuel related this small incident with the greatest gusto.

CURIOSITY. The year 1881 will be a mathematical curiosity. From left to right and from right to left it reads the same; 18 divided by 2 gives 9 as a quotient; 81 divided by 9 and 9 is a quotient. If 1881 is divided by 209, 9 is the quotient; if divided by 9, the quotient contains a 9; if multiplied by 9, the product contains two 9s. One and 8 are 9; 8 and 1 are 9. If the 18 be placed under the 81 and added, the sum is 99. If the figures be added thus, 1, 8, 8, 1, it will give 18. Reading from left to right is 18, and reading from right to left is 18, and 18 is two-ninths of 81. By adding, dividing and multiplying nineteen 9s are produced, being one 9 for each year required to complete the century.

Thurston Weed was eighty-two years old Saturday week. His health is remarkably good, and he continues to take a lively interest in all matters relating to religion, politics and the stock market.

The son of Col. Colt, the revolver man, has just come of age, and into a net sum of $2,000,000 cash, besides the business and enough more property to save him from the poor house.

FOR CHRISTMAS, AND THE HOLIDAYS.

The Largest Stock, the Freshest Goods, AND LOW PRICES.

TEAS.
We have a large stock of Fine New Teas,
bought of
THE FIRST PICKING
of the New Crop, and
BEFORE the RECENT Advance,

so that we are able to give our customers the Best Goods at the Old Prices. A Trial will convince anyone of the Superiority of our Teas.

PRICE LIST.

|                         |                   |
|-------------------------|-------------------|
| Prime Oolong,           | 35 cts. per pound |
| Prime Japan,            | 35 cts. per pound |
| Prime Eng. Breakfast,   | 35 cts. per pound |
| Extra Formosa,          | 50 cts. per pound |
| Extra Japan,            | 50 cts. per pound |
| Extra Eng. Breakfast,   | 50 cts. per pound |
| Very best teas imported | 75 cts. per pound |

COFFEES.
Coffees depend largely upon being
FRESH
for their
DELICATE FLAVOR.
We have them
ROASTED
FRESH EVERY WEEK.

Not Ground Until Sold.

We warrant them the best to be had.

ROASTED AND GROUND.

|                     |                       |
|---------------------|-----------------------|
| Best Rio,           | 25 cts. 5 lbs. $1.00 |
| Best O. G. Java,    | 35 cts. 3 "           |
| Best Arabian Mocha, | 35 cts.               |
| Mocha and Java,     | 35 cts. 3 "           |
| Vienna Breakfast,   | 9 cts. 13 "           |
| Taraxacum,          | 15 cts.               |

Pure Confectionery, 20 cts. per lb.

|                   |                 |
|-------------------|-----------------|
| French Almonds,   | Lozenges,       |
| Chocolate Creams, | Cough Drops,    |
| Cream Dates,      | Fruit Candy,    |
| Peppermints,      | French Mixed,   |
| Gum Drops,        | Molasses Drops, |

NUTS OF ALL KINDS.

|                 |                   |            |                   |
|-----------------|-------------------|------------|-------------------|
| Almonds,        | 22 cts. per pound | Shelbarks, | 8 cts. per quart  |
| Naples Walnuts, | 18 cts. per pound | Peanuts,   | 8 cts. per quart  |
| Filberts,       | 15 cts. per pound | Castanas,  | 12 cts. per pound |
| Pecans,         | 15 cts. per pound |            |                   |

GOODS IN GENERAL.

|                                     |               |                      |                  |
|-------------------------------------|---------------|----------------------|------------------|
| Baker's Chocolate,                  | 42 cts. a lb  | Good Laundry Starch, | 7 cts. a lb      |
| Cox's Gelatine,                     | 18 cts. a lb  | Condensed Milk,      | 25 cts. a can    |
| Kingsford's Starch, (silver gloss), | 9 cts. a lb   | Extract Lemon,       | 10 cts. a bottle |
| Duryea's Starch, (satin gloss),     | 9 cts. a lb   | Burnett's Lemon,     | 20 cts. a bottle |
| Corn Starch,                        | 8 cts. a lb   | Burnett's Vanilla,   | 25 cts. a bottle |
| Kingsford's Corn Starch,            | 10 cts. a lb  | Best Pea Beans,      | 8 cts. a quart   |
| Imported Castile Soap,              | 16 cts. a lb  | Best Medium Beans,   | 7 cts. a quart   |
| White Castile (imported),           | 25 cts. a lb  | Green Peas,          | 8 cts. a quart   |
| Portland Star Matches,              | 50 cts. a gr. | Split Peas,          | 8 cts. a quart   |

Best Creamery and N. Y. and Vt. Dairies of Butter
At Wholesale Prices.

Boston Branch Store,
Robertson Block, - Hancock Street.
Quincy, Nov. 22.

PLEASE REMEMBER

— THAT —
D. B. STETSON

Bought his large Stock of Winter Goods before the advance in price, so that he can sell them at less than Wholesale Prices

We Keep a Larger Stock of
BOOTS AND SHOES,
Than all the stores added together in this part of the town, so that you can get almost any kind of Boot or Shoe that you may wish.

Our Goods are All Warranted.
WE HAVE RECEIVED OUR
FALL and WINTER Boots and Rubber Goods.

And are prepared to sell them at LESS PRICE than can be bought at any other place.
We Keep Constantly on Hand a GOOD Assortment of
LADIES', MISSES' AND GENTS' HOSIERY,
And sell at low prices.

ALSO—Dressing for Ladies' Boots, Paste Blacking, Shoe Brushes, Brazilian Gum Rubber Soling, Patching, Leather Cement, Shoe Findings and a great variety of goods to numerous to particularize

Our Brogans are Made to Order and GIVE PERFECT SATISFACTION

Come one, Come all, and see our goods and judge for yourselves.
N.B. RUBBER AND LEATHER BOOTS AND SHOES REPAIRED AT SHORT NOTICE.

D. B. STETSON, Washington St., Quincy.

Fashion Notes.

Ribbed velvet is much worn.
Bridal wreaths are in diadon form.
English walking jackets will be worn again.
The long dolman is the cloak of the season.
Panties are rarely seen on Paris dresses.
Trains are of various lengths and dimensions.
Saskin continues to be the fur most in demand.
Two sizes of buttons are used for most costumes.
Bridal veils are now in the shape of the Spanish mantilla.
Feather trimmings are much used for ornamenting evening dresses.
It is now fashionable to border mourning handkerchiefs with black lace.
Small shaded ostrich tips are worn on colored shot velvet and satin bonnets.
Fichus are worn with all costumes, and in a variety of shapes and materials.
Red or old gold silk plush is the novelty for lining cloaks of black satin or of velvet.

Feather roses and poppies of dyed goose feathers are pretty and expensive novelties.

Large hats are worn in the French provincial towns, but in Paris small hats are preferred.

Saskin will be worn by all ages, from little children of eight to dowagers of eighty, this winter.

Black silk dresses are usually combinations of faille and satin, with jet trimmings and passementeries.

Real butterflies' wings mounted on chemise bodies are worn in the hair and outside of evening bonnets.

Soft plush silks are used for folded fichus, laid in bias folds to wear with plain black or sober tinted dresses.

Boas will not be much worn this winter on account of the general use of fur bands and linings on wraps of all kinds.

The latest novelty in kid gloves for evening or full dress toilet has alternate bands of kid gloves and lace insertion extending from the wrist to the elbow, where the last strip of kid is finished with a wavy ruffle of lace; black lace is used for black kid, and white lace for white and pale colored kid gloves.

Summary of News.

Coinage in November amounted to $6,439,421.

The project to have a mint in New York is revived.

San Domingo's revolutionists are closing their work with victory.

An attempt to renew the income tax will be made at the present session of Congress.

General Butler says he shall be a candidate for the office of Governor of Massachusetts, in 1880.

One hundred women are studying law in this country, and several hundred are in medical colleges.

The Montreal Witness says the Canadian government is steadily advancing towards independence.

A Missouri doctor paid a patient 402 visits, and squared the bill for a barrel of cider and a load of bricks.

It is said that a private watchman snores louder than a regular policeman, but this is doubtless a slander.

An exchange says that "Jay Gould controls fourteen Western railroads, embracing 5000 miles of track."

An artesian well at Brockton is now being bored at the rate of five feet a day through solid rock, the hole being six inches in diameter.

It is said that seventeen hundred shares of the Old Colony Railroad stock are held singly, and that a large proportion of these are owned on Cape Cod.

A Paris urchin recently tossed a lighted cigarette into a cask of petroleum and then put his eye to the bung-hole to watch the effect. It was his last experiment.

It is now said that complete returns show that the Republican candidate for the office of Lieutenant-Governor of New York has 287 majority over the Democratic candidate.

The amount of fractional currency still out is almost $16,000,000. As it is seldom seen, probably much of it is held by persons who can afford to sink money in the form of curiosities.

Hayti's coffee crop is small, being only about 55,000,000 pounds. They pay too much attention to pistols in that island to admit of much success there in coffee. Yet Hayti ought to be able to produce the greatest crops of coffee and sugar the world ever dreamed of.

Important to Consumers of Coal!

SOMETHING NEW.

Breed's Chemical Compound.

"FIRE KING."

IT Makes coal last longer, increases the heat, prevents explosions, and it is essential for heating, cooking and manufacturing purposes should try it.

FOR SALE BY
D. Howard Bills,
Quincy, Nov. 1.

CYRUS PATCH,

FRANKLIN COAL,

OF LYKEN'S VALLEY.

LEHIGH, LACKAWANNA

And Best Quality of

SHAMOKIN COAL.

CUMBERLAND COAL,

For Blacksmiths' and Steam Purposes.

HARD AND SOFT WOOD,

SAWED AND SPLIT.

WHARF AT QUINCY POINT.

OFFICE.—At S. H. Spear's Furniture Store on Hancock Street, where orders, large and small, may be left at all hours of the day.

Small quantities of Wood and Coal will be kept at this Store to supply immediate demand. All orders promptly attended to.

A share of public patronage solicited.

CYRUS PATCH,

Quincy, May 1.

FAMILY COAL

COAL, WOOD & HAY.

Genuine Franklin Coal,

OF LYKEN'S VALLEY.

SHAMOKIN,

White Ash and Cumberland Coals.

Nova Scotia and Pine Wood,

Sawed and Split

TO SUIT CUSTOMERS.

PRESSED HAY.

Orders left at E. A. Adams' George Sargent's, or with the subscriber, will receive prompt attention.
D. HOWARD BILLS,
Quincy, March 22.

SOMERSET

COAL COMPANY,

GRANITE ST., NEAR ROBERTSON'S BLK.

CHAS. H. WINSLOW, Ag't.

Coal, Wood, Hay & Straw.

BEST QUALITY OF

Lackawanna, Shamokin

Old Company's Franklin Coal,

LYKEN'S VALLEY.

A Specialty.

HARD AND FINE WOOD.

Stabs & Kindlings.

Wood Sawed and Split to order.

Pressed Hay and Straw constantly on hand.

Office hours from 6 A.M. to 7.30 P.M.

Saturdays till 3.30 P.M.

CHAS. H. WINSLOW, Ag't.

Quincy, July 12.

T. G. ...
E. H. ...
George ...
Southern ...
T. H. ...

WEEK
ALMAN

Saturday,
Sunday,
Monday,
Tuesday,
Wednesday,
Thursday,
Friday,
First Q

The reg bate Cou Wednesd business w

George
eph Ewell of Weymo mouth; C mouth; 1
mouth; C
Sias Can

John Q
the estate
Quincy; b executor
Powers o
Nathan H
John W.
Canterbur
Canterbur
000. Sam
the estate
set: bond utrix of th
Holbrook of the will
ham. Ab of the esta hasset; bo executor o rell of We

Joseph to be exec
W. Newco
livan, gra
Weymouth
ing to end
a widow's
James Ken Burrell, to will of Joh Sarah M. M ministrat
Mansfield

ACCO Hornes of Elijah
Belcher, g
Randolph of the esta dolph. Wi will of Nat
Richard C ling and Al of Charles William H. L
elder, trust
C. Bachele
nel Curtis, of Sophia
renzo D. C
the estate
Quincy. Ch
than W. Pa
Charles Pa

INVEST Estate of Simeon E and John late of Es
George C
James S
Susan Han Bates, Phil coin, appra Chipman of son, Richa Cushing, a able Night
Jones, Elth
comb, app
Bourne of Caleb F. N appraisers.

Our Bo

The Stearn pletion. In sequences, day. Trini to circum
In passing Boston on notice great on the east Neponset ri sewerage or a portion o harbor. El prominent years or mo Ans at a re of drainage far as carry tum was con
Moon Islan
mously exp edly lead to and disast sequence.
London on lower after pendure.
Thames in has not been mense depos the navigat grounds. T bor with its almost ince building the would be n dollars. An terest could Squantum, prove and re es, waste la Quincy. Th
a sanitary North Quin
the tunnel land, furth tried with th
The City Tuesday las by a major Aldermen, Councilmen
crats, 30. S
crats, 5.
crats. It w
that no ladi the Board should have Weymo

MUSICAL Spring port

UT & DRUGS,

The Quincy Patriot.

Established in 1837.

A Family Paper devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

NUMBER 51.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1879.

43D VOLUME.

PRICE 5 CENTS.

CONDITIONS.

No subscription or advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the Publisher. Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary rates, and will be charged until ordered off.

The privilege of annual advertisement is limited to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents to receive Advertisements for the Patriot.
BOSTON.—S. M. PATTENBELL & Co., 8 N. NILES, HORACE DODD and T. C. EVANS.
NEW YORK.—S. M. PATTENBELL & Co.
GEO. P. ROWELL & Co. and PEARL & Co.
ST. LOUIS, Mo.—ROWELL & CREWMAN.

Our Schools.

A Morning in the Quincy Schools.

(Continued.)

THE LANGUAGE LESSON.

Is considered of great importance, as quickening observation out of school an expression in class. There were quite young children, in the fifth primary. The talk was about the cow. A child starts up: "I would call the cow an animal." Another: "We would call the cow an animal." "Every cow is an animal." "What you mean the cow was called an animal?" "The cow is a tame animal." "The cow is a domestic animal," and so on, each child making a new sentence and all enjoying the rapid game of changing sentences. Teacher: "We will write the name of the cow. Is this right?" putting a small "i," a small "e," and an interrogation mark. "No, we are not asking a question; we are telling something; we don't want that mark." "What, then?—this, 'i'?" "No, only a period."

Also directed, she writes a capital T and C. "What is a capital?" "A head letter." Now, we shall write down all that we can recollect about the cow. "What does recollect mean?" "To bring together again." First we shall write the color. "What is the color of your cow?" to a small girl, who immediately responded that the color of her cow was pure white. Teacher writes white at edge of board, making white with the next line, but is reminded by the class that it cannot be divided, no more than can. "What shall I do, then?" "Leave the space, if there isn't room for it all, and put it all in the line below." Then again the cow was tossed from bench to bench. "The color of my cow is clear black." "My cow is pale red and white." "The cow I saw this morning was black and white." "That cow is black." "Is the color of your cow red?" "The cow I had was brown." "Is your cow tan, like mine?" "Why don't I call that horse a cow?" This was the turn for a new series of observations. "You can tell it by the noise it makes." "A horse hasn't got any horns." "It hasn't any bag." "You can tell it by the hoofs." "The cow's hoofs are split." "Did you ever notice how funny the cow's hoofs look?" "My cow has eleven feet—eleven means split." "The cow's hoofs have the same substance as our finger nails."

"Cow's hoofs always cover their toes." "My cow's hoofs are not perfectly round." "All animals have split hoofs except the horse," was one contribution from a boy who hadn't got his summary quite clear. Instantly there was a chorus: "A dog! A dog has no hoofs!" "A cat!" "A rabbit hasn't any." "A mouse." "A pig!" "A pig has hoofs." So the teacher got out the picture of a pig to satisfy the demand, holding up successively an ox, and a turkey, a dog, and so on to set the animal philosopher right in his summary and on his feet again. "You can tell that a cow isn't a horse by the horns, you say?" "Let us talk about the horse." "My cow's horns turn outward first and then inward." "I think the Chinese finger nail looks like horns." "It hurts to saw off a cow's horn—it will bleed." "What is the use of horns?" "To make comb out of." "Cows don't make comb out of their horns. What is the use of horns to the cow?" "Oh, to hook with." "When a dog goes at her she will bite." "She can't bite anything but grass—she has to look dogs."

TALK ON WHAT THE CHILD SEES. The various points that were brought out were written on the board by the teacher, as the talk went on, but the main object, to get a varied expression of a familiar subject, in a class of quite young children, was shown in the rapid tossing of sentences from one to another, and no repetition or stammering in the class. The horses and cows talked about were in view from the window of the school room, to be sure, but the city child can be taught to get its observations from the car horses, the animals in the Zoo (which ought to be open free to public school children for their object lessons, at certain times) and from all the variety of our street scenes.

The three hours spent at the Quincy school were all too short, although much of its method was shown in that time. They were long enough, as visits to other school rooms have shown, by contrast, to demonstrate that the noon bell found children, visitors and teachers all fresh, instead of drained and dull by text-book and dull routine. The teacher is the only text-book, and I was anxious to learn the effect of the new system on these young girls and mature women. "Does it exhaust you to be giving out so much to your classes, instead of hearing recitations?" "On the contrary," they severally replied, "it is not half so wearing as keeping up the attention to the printed book and going over the recitations by rote. The children are fresh all the time, and that keeps us so." "Do you have any difficulty in keeping up discipline by this system?" "Not nearly so much as by the old. The children are all busy and interested. They have their chances to talk out what they are thinking about the lesson. There is room for their activity, and naughtiness in school-rooms comes more from over-repression than

Why, it was the very happiest holiday season that Richard and Jane had ever known. They were really excited over it. They shut the wondering children off in one room, while they arranged the tree and the presents on the table in the other. A tree, strings of popcorn, lighted candles, a dolly in a cradle, jackstraws, a bedstead all furnished, a set of dishes, a red and black ball, a gingerbread man and horse, a whistle, and nuts and candy. And only twenty-five cents spent. Then there were pipes; their didn't make much show just then; their glory was to come afterward.

At the last moment Richard Flint brought in an armful of green twigs, which had been swept out of the gateway of St. Luke's when the decorating was done. And he and Jane dressed their own little room with fir and cedar, to welcome blessed Christmas, but they had to do it in a great hurry, for little voices were calling, the other side of the door, and little hands were knocking to be let in.

"Come, darlings!" cried the father and mother, opening the door. And then wasn't it beautiful, and weren't the little child-hearts as happy as any in the land? There were breathless Oh's of admiration, and shouts of joy, and then delighted appropriation one thing after another. The ball began to bound, the cradle began to rock, the whistle began to whistle, the dishes were set out, the nuts began to crack, and Oh, it was such fun for Bessie, Janie, and father and mother, too!

A very useful and significant Christmas present was a broom presented to a young bride with these lines: This trifling gift accept of me; To use I would commend; In sunshine use the brushy part In storm the other end.

Poetry.

Hanging the Stockings.

Three little worsted stockings hanging all in a row,
And I have patched two scarlet heels, and darned a crimson toe.
Over the eyes of snow, over the eyes of brown,
It seemed as though the eyelids could never be coaxed fast down.

I sang for a good long hour before they were shut quite tight;
For to-morrow will be Christmas, and St. Nick comes to-night;
We laughed as we dropped the candles into heal and toe.

For not one little stocking was missing from the row.
But oh, the empty cradles—the tears that pillows wet,
The voice of Rachel crying—my soul cannot forget.

For there is no child to-night in many a house
I know,
Where a little stocking was hanging only a year ago.

And when our work was ended, we stood a little apart,
Silently praying the Father to soothe that which weeps.

Who looks on unworn stockings amid her falling tears,
Whose darling is keeping Christmas in Christ's eternal years.

Receipts, Wit, &c.

TO ROAST A CHRISTMAS TURKEY.

Wash the turkey very clean, and let it lie in weak salt and water over night.—
When ready to put to roast, rub it dry in the inside, and sprinkle in a little pepper.
Make a dressing of two-thirds wheat bread and one-third corn bread, rubbed fine, and softened with butter and beaten yolk of egg, and seasoned with salt, pepper, parsley and celery. Mix the dressing well together, and fill the turkey. Rub the breast of the turkey with salt, pepper, and butter. Have water and lard in your dripping pan, and baste often. It will require three hours to roast. Cranberry sauce is almost indispensable with this dish. Celery, too, is usually an accompaniment.

MINCE PIES FOR CHRISTMAS. Pound five pounds of beef with three pounds of apples; one-third pound chopped raisins, add three tablespoons spice and cook three minutes; add three tablespoons cinnamon, and stir three times;
add mace, and pepper and caraway, and cloves, and coriander and dried gooseberries, and salt and citron, and keep tasting till you are sure it is right; then set the pan in a chair and add one quart bottled cider, one teaspoon vinegar, two dozen prunes without the stones, a gill of white brandy if you can get it, a wine-glass of rosewater and four pulverized nutmegs; next add two cups butter and one cup salt; cook fifteen minutes, taste and put the spoon back; if you have anything else in the house you would like to put in you can do so, only exercise discretion in all your experiments; bake in the oven and set away in the cellar until your mother-in-law comes to visit you at Christmas.

CHRISTMAS CANDY. One quart sugar, molasses, half cup vinegar, one cup sugar, butter the size of an egg, one teaspoonful saleratus. Dissolve the sugar in the vinegar, mix with the molasses and boil, stirring frequently, until it hardens when dropped from the spoon into the cold water, then stir in the butter and soda, the latter dissolved in hot water. Flavor to your taste, give one good final stir, and pour into buttered dishes.

She put the children early to bed, and sat waiting for Richard, while at the same time she slipped up some old bead trimmings she had once had on a cloak.
He came in at last, with a gloomy face enough, and her heart sank.

"I've stood about all day," he said,
"and the only thing I could get to do was to carry a pile of wreaths half a dozen yards, from the pavement into St.
Luke's church. And there's twenty-five cents to keep Christmas with!"

He tossed it to her as he spoke. She didn't cry, nor even look gloomy. On the contrary, her face grew bright.

"All we want is to make them happy," she said cheerfully, "and I guess
we can do that with twenty-five cents!"

"All right, go ahead," he replied, brightening as she brightened. She got up, and put on her shawl and hood.

"I'm going shopping," she said, laughing; "only just round in the avenue. You stay here, Rich, and if you want work, ravel out that old stocking leg!"

Then down she sped and hurried to the street corner where she had seen an old German woman selling little Christmas trees. Very little they were, only about ten inches high, but they were true green cedar, and set in a solid round foundation. And there were two small white wax doves lodged in the twigs.

Only five cents for a Christmas tree!
She made her selection, had it wrapped up with care and then stepped into a neighboring grocery, where she bought an ear of popcorn and two clay pipes.
Three cents more for all that! Then she paused.

"I will just step round to the penny stand in the avenue," she said to herself, and directly she became one of the hurrying throng of eager happy people, who were all out getting ready for Christmas. At the first stand she bought a little penny doll, a penny cradle and a penny whistle. Then she went on some distance and paused again at a stand where a girl was selling tiny wax candles, a penny apiece. She bought two, a blue one and a red one.

QUINCY VIEWS!!

Stereoscopic and Cabinet,

SOUTHER'S PERIODICAL

FANCY GOODS STORE,

88 Hancock Street,
QUINCY.

I HAVE at great care and expense, had prepared by one of the best out-door Photographers in the country, a large number of Views in the town of Quincy, which I now offer at low prices, consisting in part as follows:

Five views from the belfry of the Unitarian Church; Four views of Hancock street; Two views of Unitarian Church; One view of Christ Church; One of St. John's Catholic Church;
Congregational Church; President Adams's Birthplace; Adams Academy; Collingwood and Adams Schools; Large and small Town House;
Two views of C. H. Hartwick & Co.'s Quarry;
One of J. Q. A. Wild's Quarry, and Robertson
Block. These pictures make

Excellent Presents
FOR THE HOLIDAYS.

And should be in
EVERY HOUSEHOLD.
PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE.
E. B. Souther.
Quincy, Dec. 6.

OVERCOATS.

A large and fresh stock of

Overcoats for Men,
Overcoats for Boys,
Overcoats for Youths.

In Fine, Medium and Cheap Grades.
—ALSO—
A large stock of Men's, Youths and Boys'

SUITS,
VERY CHEAP.
—AT—
George Saville's,
90 Hancock Street.
Quincy, Nov. 1.

P. A. WALES & SONS,
MANUFACTURERS OF
LOG PUMPS.
RANDOLPH, Mass.

ORDERS from abroad, whether given by letter or in person, will receive prompt attention; and all work done will be warranted satisfactory, and secure from action of frost.
The Pumps are put in sections, and furnished with metallic chambers, if desired.
Also, Pumps made with closed heads for use in public places.
Randolph Sept. 27.

Hancock Street
DINING ROOM.
In Old P. O. Building.

THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the Public, that he has purchased the Dining Room, recently conducted by Mr.
Hills, and is prepared to furnish meals at all hours of the day, or board by the day or week, on the most reasonable terms. He will also keep for sale.

Oysters, Fruit, Ice Cream,
Confectionery, &c.,
J. H. JONES.
Quincy, Aug. 9.

MONEY!!
BLANKETS, Flannels, Dress Goods and the finest WARE VERY CHEAP FOR CASH, at 66 Hancock Street.
Quincy, Nov. 1.

HOGS! HOGS!
THE subscriber would inform the public that he is prepared to DRESS HOGS,
in the best manner, and at short notice. Orders will receive prompt attention by being left with ELISHA HUBBART, Pearl Street, or WILLIAM HUBBART, Pearl Street.
Quincy, Oct. 11.

FRENCH
—AND—
AMERICAN CHINA!
A FULL assortment of these beautiful goods just received and for sale very cheap by
E. CLAPP.
Quincy, April 19.

LAND FOR SALE
—IN—
NORTH QUINCY
THE Lot of land is situated at the corner of Hancock Street and Glover avenue and contains
ABOUT 355,000 FEET.
Being a part of the estate of the late JOHN J. GLOVER.
For particulars apply to CHARLES HUNT, at Seponset, or E. J. BAKER, Trustee.
Milton, Nov. 1, 1879.

ISAIAH WHITE,
DEALER IN
FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC FRUIT
OF ALL KINDS,
Jellies and Preserves,
CANNED GOODS, &c.
100 Tremont Street, Boston.
(Under Horticultural Hall.)
May 31.

Photographs!! Photographs!!!

—FOR—

THE HOLIDAYS!!

HAVING employed a first-class SCENIC ARTIST for the past few weeks to paint several fine backgrounds, we are more than ever prepared to make first-class Photographs
of every description.

Fine Interiors, Snow Houses,
Coasting and Skating Scenes, and Rustic Scenery.

We are prepared to make the
NEW PANEL PICTURE,
Fine Scenic, Cabinet & Card Pictures.

—ALSO—
Rustic Views for Children.
CHILDREN'S PICTURES a Specialty.
BRING YOUR BABIES.

We spare no pains to make
SATISFACTORY PICTURES!
Pictures of every description. Copied, Enlarged and finished in INK, INK, CRAY-ON, OIL or WATER COLOURS.

CHEAPER THAN ANYONE ELSE,
For First-Class Work.

We make a nice HOLIDAY PICTURE
AND FRAME for $3.00.
First Class CLUE PICTURES at reduced rates.

The public generally are cordially invited to call and inspect our work and new accessories, before getting elsewhere.

A. FRANK BUSSELL
Photographic Artist,
QUINCY, MASS.
Studio on Chestnut St.
OPPOSITE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.
Quincy, Nov. 29.

STANDARD FOOD.
The Best Stoves in the Market!

G. W. WALKER'S
Crawford and Franconia
DOUBLE-OVEN RANGES,
Warranted to bake in both ovens at the same time, and First-class in every respect. Also, Sole Agents in Quincy for the celebrated

STEWART
PARLOR STOVES.
The subscriber has on hand, and is prepared to furnish

Cook, Parlor, and Office
STOVES
OF THE BEST PATTERNS,
AT REASONABLE RATES.

Any STOVE, not in stock, will be obtained at short notice.

Jobbing promptly attended to.

E. S. FELLOWS,
Hancock Street.
Quincy, Feb. 8.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION
is called to our stock of STOVES & RANGES
including the
HIGHLAND, AUBURN
And Royal Ranges.

These Ranges have extra large tops, and the flues are so arranged that all the holes are available, and are supplied with Rod's Regulator, which saves Coal and keeps the fire under perfect control. They are mounted in the most perfect manner and are supplied with all the modern improvements.

Other patterns of RANGES
FROM $18 UPWARDS

Also, the celebrated
"STEWART"
PARLOR STOVES!
"HIGHLAND," "ROYAL," "WELL DONE,"
And Other Patterns.

The "Berkley" Open Stove
IS THE BEST.

The "Splendid" Base Burner is without exception the most Perfect Stove in the market

—IN FURNICES.
We shall recommend the Best, and will guarantee Perfect Satisfaction. Any pattern of Stove or Furnace supplied at Manufacturers' Prices.
Also, a full assortment of custom-made

TIN WARE
—AND—
Kitchen Furnishing Goods.
Pumps Set and Repaired.
IRON SINKS, LEAD PIPE, SHEET LEAD
AND ZINC, always in stock.

We shall continue to keep a full stock of DRAIN PIPE, at Lowest Cash Prices.

PIERCE & SANBORN,
HANCOCK STREET.
Quincy, Dec. 1.

Mr. Henri Perabeau,

Organist at St. John's Church,

Has located in QUINCY,
AND WILL GIVE LESSONS ON THE
PIANO, CHURCH ORGAN, &c.

WITH the privilege of practicing on the Hood's Organ in St. John's Church.
—ALSO—
Mr. Perabeau is a half-brother of Prof. Ernst Perabo, the celebrated Pianist of Boston, and also his long and intimate friend.

Residence, corner of Elm and Mechanic streets,
Quincy, Sept. 27.

GEORGE T. ELLIOT,
TEACHER OF
Vocal and Instrumental Music!
WOLLASTON, MASS.
304 Washington Street, Boston,
Nov. 8.

DRAWING & PAINTING.
MISS E. MERRILL, a pupil of the Essex School of Fine Arts, will receive persons in Drawing and Painting in Oil, Water Color, or on Canvas. Apply at her residence, 254 State Street for information, at the Boston Branch Store, Robertson Block,
Quincy, Oct. 18.

FRANCIS W. PARKER,
Superintendent of Schools,
OFFICE HOURS.
Mondays and Saturdays,
From 8 to 12 A. M.
Office in the National Granite Bank Building,
Quincy, May 9.

THE PROPRIETORS
—OF THE—
ROBERTSON HOUSE,
QUINCY.

Believe us to be the best place for the public to generally that the house is now open for guests.

Special accommodations for sleighing and driving parties.

FRANK & STEWARD.
Quincy, Nov. 22.

BAILEY & BAXTER,
Carpenters and Builders
CORNER SCHOOL AND PLEASANT STS.,
Work of all descriptions.

ALL orders promptly attended to and faithfully executed.

Belts Home to Order.
Just out of France, a specialty. Now is the time to get them ready for Summer use.
Shirts, Shirts, Shirts, Shirts, Shirts, Don't go to Boston for them, if it can be done cheaper at home. Also, Light Turning and Sewing. Look! Look! Keys Resided, Skates ground and Sewed.
H. BAILEY, J. S. BAXTER,
Quincy, Jan. 4.

NOTICE.
To Granite Dealers and Others!
William Thomas Burn, MONUMENTAL ARTIST.

Lately in the employ of the Mitchell Granite Works of this town, is prepared to design
MAUSOLEUMS AND TOMBS,
Monuments, Cemetery Enclosures, &c.

Full sized Details or WORKING DRAWINGS, Ornamental Work, Models,
ALL KINDS OF LETTERING,
And take out Quantities for BUILDINGS OF ALL DESCRIPTIONS.

Parties wishing any of the above work executed, will please address P. O. Box 437.
Quincy, Nov. 15.

C. S. WHITING,
DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF FRESH FISH.

—AND—OYSTERS,
QUINCY AVENUE, QUINCY.
June 29.

JOS. W. LOMBARD,
Auctioneer and Real Estate Agent,
Hancock Court.
Quincy, Sept. 21.

IRA LITCHFIELD,
Carpenter and Builder,
PEARL STREET,
SOUTH QUINCY.
Feb. 14.

NOTICE!
S. J. McILROY,
STONE MASON AND CONTRACTOR.

Would inform the public that he is ready for business again. Stone Work in all its branches. Walls dug and stoned to order.
Particular attention given to setting Cemetery
Work of all kinds. Work done in a skillful manner. All orders left at his residence, 250
Box 76, will receive prompt attention.
Quincy, March 1.

NOTICE!
TERRANCE KEENE,
Cor. of South and Main Sts.
Box 540, Quincy Post Office.

S. B. All persons heretofore committing trespasses along said road, and all others are hereby warned to cease from depredations.
Quincy, Oct. 18.

STANDARD FOOD.

THE QUINCY PATRIOT,

PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING

BY —

M. ELIZABETH GREEN

—AND—

GEORGE W. PRESCOTT.

TERMS: $2.50 per year, in advance; $5.00, if paid before the close of the year.

OFFICE: 64 Hancock Street,
OVER MR. CLAPP'S STORE.

Posters, Cards, Billheads,
Circulars, Labels, Programmes, &c.
PRINTED PROMPTLY,
in the Most Reasonable Terms, and Greatly Below Boston Prices.

A. B. LELOIS,

YACHT and BOAT BUILDER.

Storage for Boats.

YACHTS BOUGHT AND SOLD.
River Street, Quincy Point.

W. H. SHERMAN, M. D.,
Physician and Surgeon,
AND PROPRIETOR OF
THE PEOPLES
DRUG STORE,
Wheeler's Block, Temple Street.

Two very reasonable.
N. B. Night calls promptly answered.
Quincy, Dec. 13.

DR. F. J. BONNEY,
DENTIST!
HARDY'S BLOCK, CHESTNUT STREET

Operations in dentistry faithfully performed. Teeth extracted with the use of Ether or Nitrous Oxide Gas.
Office open Day and Evening.
Quincy, Feb. 25.

Charles S. French,
DENTIST.
42 Hancock and Chestnut Streets.

J. B. CHAFFIN,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
In John Q. Adams' Office.

Wm. G. A. PATTEE,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law,
26 PEMBERTON SQUARE,
BOSTON.

Residence School Street, Quincy,
June 14.

A. W. HAYES,
Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.

Assistance rendered in Probate matters.
Office hours from 7 to 9 A. M., and 6 to 8 P. M.
WHICHER'S NEW BLOCK.
Quincy, Nov. 25.

CHARLES HATCH,
Civil Engineer and Surveyor
OFFICE AND RESIDENCE ON
Railroad St., near Quincy Station.

Survey Plans and Deeds made of Real Estate. Estimates furnished for the building of structures of all kinds.
Measurements of work made for contractors
and mechanics.

Plans of houses and plans recently belonging to MR. J. E. STARKBUSH.
Orders promptly attended to.
P. O. BOX 141.
Quincy, Aug. 23.

WHITMAN & BRECK,
Civil Engineers & Surveyors
CORNER OF
DEVONSHIRE & WATER STREETS,
BOSTON.

Particular attention paid to Land Surveying,
wiring on private grounds, and the general improvement of Real Estate. Plans and working drawings of public and private buildings carefully prepared.
J. H. WHITMAN, C. E. C. BRECK,
Nov. 14.

ESTABLISHED 1839.
FREDERICK & FIELD.

Granite Monuments,
Cemetery and Building Work,
OF ALL DESCRIPTION.

Light, Medium and Dark Blue
QUINCY GRANITE,
FROM OUR OWN QUARRIES.

Any other variety New England Granite furnished.

STEAM POLISHING WORKS.
Granite Statuary executed in the most
Artistic Manner.
Bronze Statuary furnished to order.
Quincy, July 12.

AIR SLACKED LIME
—FOR SALE BY—
J. Loud & Co.,
—AT THE—
QUINCY GRAIN STORE.

The best Disinfectant for Purifying
Stables, Privies

from anything else. Here the child is free. It is not afraid to talk to me, and it is free to whisper to its neighbors. It is much easier for us to keep order than it used to be."

HER M. MARK.

The Quincy Patriot.

With Supplement.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1879.

Short communications and items of news are solicited from friends and patrons. Anonymous communications are not published.

CHRISTMAS.

Before another issue of the Patriot, the joyous Christmas festival will have passed, and the pleasant salutation of "I wish you a merry Christmas" will have been heard everywhere. The Patriot extends to its many friends and patrons, the kindly greeting of a "Merry Christmas to all."

Christmas trade bids fair to be lively in town. The store windows are beautifully decorated, and a fine display of handsome articles, suitable for presents, can be found in many places. For full particulars, we refer our readers to our advertising columns.

Services will be held on Christmas day in the Catholic churches; the programme for services at St. John's church will be found in this column.

At Christ church appropriate services will be held in the morning at half-past ten o'clock. The church will be handsomely decorated as usual at this season. The Christmas tree festival takes place on Wednesday evening at five o'clock.

On Wednesday evening, at seven and one-half o'clock, there will be a Christmas tree at the Union church, Quincy Point. There will be a Sabbath school concert Sunday evening in connection with the above. Parents and friends of the children of the school are cordially invited.

At the Congregational church, Wednesday evening, a beautiful Christmas tree will be handsomely decorated with gifts. Addresses appropriate to the occasion will be made.

A Christmas tree festival will be held at the Baptist Church, Wollaston, on Wednesday evening.

The Universalist Sunday School will have a Christmas gathering at Faxon Hall.

On Christmas morning the services at St. Mary's church, West Quincy, will be solemn and impressive. Mozart's seventh mass will be sung by the choir, under the leadership of Miss Nellie McDouell. In the evening musical services by Est will be rendered by the choir.

Christmas at Catholic Church.

The services at St. John's Catholic church for Christmas, will be of a very high order, and will be under the direction of Dr. Henri Perabau. The following are the pieces selected for high mass:—

Mozart's First Mass, Offertorium; Corrigiani's, Padre Nostro. The Adagio Fugato, will be sung during collection, and at the conclusion of mass.

At the vesper service, the following chants and hymns will be sung:— Mercantini's Dixit and Magnificat; Perabau's Confiteor; Deus vir; Laudate Dominum and Gloria Patri. The vesper hymns, Alma Redemptoris, by Mercantini; Tantum Ergo, by Rossi; O Salutaris, by Mercantini.

Dr. Henri Perabau is organist and director. The following talent are the principal singers for this occasion:—

Miss Kate Garrity, soprano; Misses Henrietta and Jessie Perabau; Mr. King Perabau and Mr. John Avery; Tenors: Misses Cahill, Chance, Sullivan and Cahill, Alto; Mr. Mischer, Bass.

BLOW UP. On Tuesday afternoon last about 4 o'clock, quite an explosion occurred at the ledge of Messrs. Wilson & Co. A large blast had been prepared in the quarry, and the workmen sought a place of safety from the falling stones. After the blasting was done the workmen started to return, when they were startled by a terrific explosion, and the air was filled with pieces of wood, stones, &c. When the smoke cleared away, the cause of the explosion was seen, as a large powder-house, which stood a short distance from the quarry, was nowhere to be seen, and in which was stored fifteen kegs of powder, several of which had not been opened. The cause was seen in the shape of a large piece of granite which had been blown from the quarry, crushing the building and igniting the powder. Fortunately no one was injured, and it seemed almost a miracle, as the men were not more than thirty feet away from the building.

THE REPUBLICAN CLUB. The platform of the Young Men's Republican Club, reported by its Committee on Constitution, is as follows:—

The object of this Club shall be to support the historic principles of the Republican Party, to promote the advancement of these principles, and by organized effort and in all legitimate ways, to endeavor to secure their adoption in the Nation's organic law. "With malice toward none, and charity for all," this Club will ever prize political principles above party expediency, and will encourage every honest endeavor to purify the field of politics and ensure the welfare of men.

ROBBERIES. There have been a little more robberies in this place, the past fortnight. Mr. Charles F. Newcomb, who resides on Adams street, had a nice harness and blanket stolen on the 7th instant.

The wolf robe which was stolen from Mr. Michael J. Carey on the 5th inst. has been returned.

The Catholic Church, being built at North Weymouth, was entered one night recently and a lot of carpenter's tools, belonging to John J. Downs were stolen.

RECKLESS. On Saturday morning last a horse attached to a carriage belonging to Mr. Stedman Williams became frightened and ran away. As he passed down Chestnut street he made things pretty lively. The occupants, Mr. Williams' son and the driver of the team, were thrown out, but were fortunate in escaping injury.

Local Items.

The public schools of this town closed yesterday for the holidays.

Winter has appeared more in earnest this week.

Rooms and board can be had by applying at Mrs. Hubbard's.

Mr. William B. Worster left on Wednesday for Denver, Colorado.

A woman is desirous of securing a situation as house-keeper.

Tirrell & Sons have some splendid sleighs for sale.

The Public Library will be closed Christmas eve and the day following.

We have received the oration delivered at the Quincy High School reunion and will publish it at an early day.

Mr. Jonathan Williams left on Thursday evening for the West, on a business tour.

Don't forget to call at Pierce's Block and see old Santa Claus with all his nice presents for the little folks.

The stockholders of the Citizen's Gas Light Company hold their annual meeting January 8th.

Quilp's advice in choosing a Christmas turkey. "Choose a hen turkey," he says, "it is likely to be better."

A special communication of Rural Lodge will be held on Friday evening next.

The next Assembly under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society will be held on New Year's Eve.

G. F. Wilson calls the reader's attention to a large stock of pocket-knives and cutlery; also his extensive assortment of groceries and confectionery.

Two Quincy maidens were married on Thursday afternoon and started immediately for New York with their gallant supports.

Tilton has some splendid skates and sleds. Also, nice cutlery, and many useful articles suitable for Christmas presents.

One of the Justices of the District Court has had on his hands this week a case that has bothered many a gentleman,—matrimony.

Mr. Albert Hayden of Fitzwilliam, formerly of this town, is raising a fine Dutch calf. It is six months old and weighs five hundred and sixty pounds. Who has got a better one?

Geo. W. Penniman lectured in South Yarmouth, last week. The Yarmouth Register says:—"He ably handled his subject and we recommend Lyceum committees to give him a call."

If you want to make your friend a valuable Christmas present buy the history of Old Braintree and Quincy. It is illustrated and will be found full of interesting events. For sale at the PATRIOT Office.

The Young Men's Republican Club will discuss on Monday evening next, the following resolution:— Resolved, That this Club thoroughly endorse President Hayes' recommendations with respect to Civil Service Reform.

From an earnest desire of many citizens interested in the welfare of the old town of Quincy, we would request our honored townsman C. F. Adams, Jr., to repeat in the Town Hall, at an early day, the eloquent and instructive lecture lately delivered by him before the National Library Association.

There being no legal business before the Court yesterday morning, the Judge addressed the jury in a poetical strain, which created considerable amusement. It appeared that an associate justice had "stolen" a daughter of one of our respected citizens, and cleared for New York, which called out the witty effusion. We should have been pleased to have published the poem, but our reporter was only able to catch a few words, such as hat, Pratt, rat, cat, &c. Perhaps the author can be induced to write it in full for our columns.

JUDGES. Messrs. Henry McGrath and William D. Glover have been drawn as Jurors for the Civil Session of the December term of the Superior Court for Norfolk County.

NATICK. The Natick Citizen, one of our new country newspapers, commences its third volume this week. It is a live and new sheet, and we doubt not it is well appreciated by its readers.

NEW PRESS. We have added a large new Acme press to our office this week. Like all new machinery it runs hard, and has not done so nice work as it is capable of doing, after we become more acquainted with it. Our readers will therefore please overlook any imperfections in the printing this week.

LOCAL CIRCLE. The third meeting of the Quincy Point Local Circle, held on Thursday evening, was well attended, and all present seemed much interested in the course of reading, which they are pursuing. The following is the PROGRAMME:—

Reading of Poem, Thanatopsis. Miss Grace H. Collier. A Talk on the Republican Period of Roman History. Mr. L. F. Hall. Ten Facts Concerning the Life of Cicero. Mrs. J. L. Whitton. Questions on Student's Review Outline, of Roman Text Book. Answered by the Circle.

DIAMETREE. The annual meeting of the Braintree High School Association was held on Tuesday evening last, in the committee room, town hall building. The treasurer's report showed a cash balance on hand of $96.33. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—President, A. E. Sproul, (re-elected); Vice-President, W. W. Mayhew; Secretary, Miss S. M. Reed; Treasurer, P. A. Bates; Directors, (who with the president and vice-president, constitute the executive committee), Miss S. L. Burnham, C. G. Sheppard, Miss S. M. Reed, P. A. Bates, C. W. Hollis and Henry T. Anglin. The annual reunion will occur in the town hall, on Thursday evening, Jan. 29th, 1880, and it was voted to slightly increase the price of admission tickets to those not members of the association, with a view to diminishing the "crush" of last year.

For the Patriot.

Class Reunion.

It is often to be regretted that the graduates of our High School do not meet each other more frequently after they leave the school. The members of a class are usually scattered in the various parts of the town, and therefore meet only by chance; but we are glad to see that one class at least tries to be more sociable, by the formation of an association which will have several meetings during the year. This class is the one that graduated in 1877. It will be remembered that last summer this class had an excursion to the Hedge Hill Farm and Hunnewell's beautiful grounds in Wellesley, and had a very enjoyable time.

Invitations were recently issued to the members and teachers for a class reunion, which was held at the house of Mr. F. Wesley Fuller, on the 12th instant. The evening was a delightful one, and nearly all of the class, and one of the teachers, were present. During the evening the old school songs were sung, the host furnished an excellent supper, and, not least, an association was formed by the election of a board of officers. A committee was appointed to form a code of by-laws, who will report at a future meeting to be held in a few months, so it will be seen that the association will be run on a business basis. The members of this class may look forward to good times, and we hope that other classes will follow their example and form into associations.

"F. F. F."

Braintree.

Mr. Charles Melton realizing the truth of words contained in the good book, "it is not good for man to be alone," and having noticed in the Patriot that he had taken a companion for the journey of life, was made the recipient of a fine present by his shop-mates on Friday afternoon of last week, and in this way it was done: Mr. M., who works in the manufactory of W. A. Ross, was called into an adjoining room expecting to receive some orders connected with his work, when Mr. S. M. Hobart in behalf of his fellow workmen, with a few well chosen words, presented him with a very handsome clock. Mr. M. being taken by surprise, could only return thanks in few words, but will always prize this token of esteem from his friends, who wish him much happiness in his new connection.

Wednesday evening of this week, a number of the Brothers of Puritan Lodge, I. O. O. F., of which Mr. Melton is a member, paid him a visit at his home, and after enjoying a good time went home at a seasonable hour by the new clock.

Our periodical store has met with a change; the business has been removed from the old stand to the store in Rosendell's building. F. P. Lathrop & Co. are now the proprietors. Mr. Lathrop is from East Stoughton, and is well known here, and will have the confidence of all who patronize him.

Nute Bros. are now making it lively in the old store of Kane & Waite, having commenced the manufacture of shoes, and are proposing to do a large business in their line, and when the Big Shop (as it is called,) is taken by some enterprising firm and used as it is intended to be when it was built, Braintree enterprise will let so favorable a location for business and so convenient a building for good business remain idle much longer.

Washington Letter.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16th, 1879.

That is a remarkable dinner party which Mr. Geo. W. Childs had arranged for General Grant in Philadelphia. It is remarkable because so many of General Grant's old companions in civil and military life are invited, among them being ex-Secretary Fish, Boutwell, Robinson and Bore, and ex-Attorney General Pierpont. Probably General Grant will pass through Washington in a few days on his way to Cuba, but it is said he will have a special car, and will not stop here at all.

Society people here, say that the social season so far is the gayest ever known here, and that the dullness of Congress will be more than made up by the liveliness of social events to come from now until Lent begins. Among those who are expected to take leading parts in entertaining after the holidays, are Mrs. Blaine, Mrs. Senator Cameron, and the families of Cabinet ministers. It is given out that many frequenters of the watering places, who have not been in the habit of coming here winters, will make this winter home here. The capital is going to be the fashionable, as well as the political centre of the country.

The death of Judge J. M. Edmunds postmaster of Washington had hardly been announced before applicants for his place began to swarm about the White House. Among those who are prominently named in that connection are Ex-Senator Conover of Florida, Assistant-postmaster Tullock, Major A. C. Richards and Colonel S. S. Snoot. A dead man's shoes are not allowed to get cold in these days.

The Democrats will probably pass a bill to take the public printing away from the Republicans, by providing that the public printer shall be elected by the Senate. It is doubted however if the President will sign the bill. Franklin Rives, an old printer, well known here years ago, has offered to take the public printing much cheaper than it is now done.

The news of the counting out of the Republican majority of 36 in the Maine legislature creates great excitement here. Many Democrats have advised against that course, but their advice was not heeded. They are apprehensive lest it should cause a re-action.

The Pension and Fortification appropriation bills have been passed, and that seems to satisfy Congress in the way of labor, for on Friday it will adjourn for twenty days. Both parties are afraid of the political consequences of going to work in real earnest. MERRILL.

For the Patriot.

A Mistake.

A report is now current that one of our present School Committee has lately made the public declaration, that "before he was a member of the Board, the examinations of the schools were mere shams"; that "during the force the committee sat as silent spectators, and the teachers conducted the exercises in any manner and on any subject that would make the greatest display."

If such a statement has been made, I pronounce it absolutely untrue; and in this assertion I am supported by every past member of the School Board that I have had an opportunity to see.

NOAH CUMMINGS.

For the Patriot.

Fraternal Meeting.

The members of Prohibition Division, No. 9, were very agreeably surprised on Thursday evening by the arrival of visitors from Dorchester Division, Milton Lower Mills. Interesting speeches were listened to from Brothers Frank E. Wilkins, G. S. Karcher, Hutchinson and Hawes of Dorchester Division, and from Bro. Arthur E. Noyes, P. G. C. of Massachusetts Division, Boston; also from Bro. William S. Leavitt, of Prohibition Division, Sister Alice Black, of Dorchester Division, favored the audience with a very interesting reading, which was well received. The meeting was very interesting, and we trust it will soon be repeated.

R. S.

SHIPPING. Arrived at Quincy Point, Dec. 13th, Schooner Maria Theresa, Capt. Kallcock, from Clark Island, with granite to J. Thompson & Sons. Arrived, Dec. 17th, Schooner Ida May, Capt. Falkenberg, from New York, with red ash coal for Cyrus Patch.

DISTRICT COURT. The following criminal cases have been before the Court this week:—

Thomas W. Ford, of Weymouth, for being drunk. Fined $3 and costs. For non-payment was committed.

Thomas A. Kelley, of Weymouth, for keeping a liquor nuisance. Case continued until this morning.

William F. Mahoney of Randolph, for an assault. Fined $5 and costs, and ordered to recognize in $100 to keep the peace for one year. Appealed.

Fabian Miller, of Quincy, for keeping a nuisance. Discharged.

Joseph Smith, of Abington, for an indecent exposure at Braintree. Held in $700 for his appearance before the Grand Jury. Also, for being drunk; fined $3 and costs. For non-payment was committed to the House of Correction.

John McCarty, of Rockland, for being drunk. Fined $3 and costs.

Patrick Kellher, of Randolph, for an assault. Discharged on payment of costs.

Thomas McCue, of Quincy, for assault on James Gallagher. Discharged.

Henry F. Rooney, of Randolph, for an assault on Charles T. Sumner. Also for breaking glass. Fine $5 and costs on each complaint.

Charles C. Smith, of Colasset, for selling intoxicating liquors. Fined $5 and costs.

The first edition (75,000) of the Christmas number of "St. Nicholas" was exhausted in twenty-four hours.

SEE A WOMAN! In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines; excellent for ladies and invalids.

Wanted.

Sherman & Co., Marshall, Mich., want an agent in this county at once, at a salary of $100 per month and expenses. For full particulars address as above.

Sunday Services.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. Preaching by the Pastor at 10:30 A. M. Services appropriate to Christmas. A collection will be taken to defray expenses of Children's Festival. Sabbath School and Bible Class at 11:45 A. M. Sabbath School Concert at 7 P. M. Prayer meeting every Friday evening in the Chapel at 7:30 o'clock.

FIRST CHURCH. Rev. D. M. Wilson, pastor; Sunday School at 9:30 A. M. Church services at 10:40 A. M.—Lecture at 7 P. M.; subject,—"Forefather's Day."

UNION CHRISTIAN CHURCH, QUINCY POINT. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M., by the Pastor. Sabbath School immediately after the morning service. All are invited.

CHRIST CHURCH. Rev. Thaddeus A. Snively, Rector. Services at 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M. The Sunday School will meet at 12 o'clock.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. by Rev. E. A. Perry. Sunday School immediately following.

SPIRITUAL MEETING. Mr. Joseph D. Stiles will speak at Temperance Hall, Granite street to-morrow, at 2 o'clock.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Sermon by the Pastor, Rev. Wm. Hague, D. D. at 10:45 A. M. Sunday School and Pastor's Bible Class at 2:30 P. M. Evening service at 7:30.

METHODIST CHURCH, WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. by Rev. S. Kelley, pastor, followed by Sunday School. Praise exercise at 7 P. M., followed by a sermon from Pastor.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH AT WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Services at 10:45 A. M. and 7:30 P. M. Sabbath School at 2:30 P. M.

WEST QUINCY METHODIST CHURCH. Rev. W. W. Harlow, Pastor. Preaching at 10:30 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sabbath School at the close of the morning service.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, QUINCY POINT. Sabbath School at 10:30 A. M. Preaching every Sunday at 2:30 P. M. over Mr. Hall's store. Rev. George B. Lawton, Pastor. Prayer meeting Sunday evenings at 7 P. M. Tuesday evenings at 7:30.

25 SLEIGHS, New and Beautiful.

SINGLE AND DOUBLE, Upholstered and Unupholstered, FOR SALE CHEAP BY

Tirrell & Sons. Quincy, Dec. 20.

CLOCKS, For Christmas Presents!

At PETTENGILL'S.

Quincy, Dec. 20.

NOTICE!

THE Library will be closed

CHRISTMAS EVE, and CHRISTMAS DAY.

—AND—

NEW YEAR'S DAY.

Per order of the Trustees.

Quincy, Dec. 20.

Orders received for Rhode Island Geese,

MONGREL GEESSE,

MOUNTAIN GEESSE,

BRAHMA GEESSE,

COMMON BARN-YARD GEESSE,

—AND—

SWEETSEK'S

MARKET!!

Quincy, Dec. 20.

HOLIDAY GOODS.

I HAVE received a supply of Christmas Goods, including a large stock of

WOODEN WARE,

China, Wax and Indestructible Dolls.

Mechanical Toys,

Writing Desks,

Port Folios,

Scholars' Companions, &c.

Also a large stock of CUTLERY!!

Which I am selling at a

VERY LOW MARGIN.

I give particular attention to Smokers, having on hand a Fine Assortment of Meerschaum, Briar & Clay

PIPES.

Call at once and Examine.

—AT—

E. B. SOUTHER'S,

88 Hancock Street.

Quincy, Dec. 20.

Good News. Good News.

FOR THE

GIRLS AND BOYS,

—FOR—

SANTA CLAUS

Has Come to Town,

WITH HIS BOUNTIFUL PACK,

TO SUPPLY THEIR WANTS.

Bring Fathers, Mothers, Sisters and Brothers, Grandpas and Grandmas, and don't forget

THE BABIES.

Bring everybody to see the Good Old Gent.

IT COSTS NOTHING TO LOOK IN THE WINDOW,

AND SEE HIM.

—AND—

ONLY A SMALL SUM,

To go in and Purchase.

SOME OF HIS

Pretty and Useful Articles.

DON'T FORGET THE PLACE.

—AT—

MRS. LAPHAM'S,

ROBERTSON'S BLOCK.

Quincy, Dec. 20.

CHRISTMAS

—AND THE—

HOLIDAYS!

Just Received a Large Stock of Toys, Picture Books,

AND DOLLS.

—ALSO—

A choice lot of Confectionery,

For Sale Cheap at PIERCE'S BLOCK.

MISS M. J. BELLEVILLE.

Quincy, Dec. 20.

Situation Wanted!

A WOMAN would like to secure a situation as house-keeper, or would do general housework in a small family. Address Mrs. M. Wollaston Heights. Quincy, Dec. 20.

1w*

NOTICE.

THE Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the CITIZEN'S GAS LIGHT CO. for choice of officers, and the transaction of any other business, will be held at the Gas Works, THURSDAY EVENING, January 8th, 1880, at 7 o'clock.

E. H. DEWSON, Treasurer.

Quincy, Dec. 20.

Shawl and Bar Pins!

FOR CHRISTMAS PRESENTS, —AT— PETTENGILL'S.

Quincy, Dec. 20.

TO LET.

HOUSE containing eleven rooms, on Chestnut Street, formerly occupied by F. W. Moore. About three minutes' walk from depot. Ready for occupancy, January 1st. Enquire of Mrs. George Crane, Dec. 20th.

Rooms and Board.

TO LET—Unfurnished Rooms for House Keeping. Also, Furnished Rooms, from one dollar to three dollars per week. Apply to MRS. A. S. HUBBARD, next door to D. B. Stetson's Boot and Shoe Store, Washington Street.

N. B.—A few persons can be accommodated with board.

Quincy, Dec. 13.

CUFF BUTTONS,

Selectmen's Meetings.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in the Town House every SATURDAY from 2 to 4 o'clock, P. M., until further notice. Persons having business with the Town will leave present it on those days.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Selectmen
WILLIAM N. EATON, of
CHARLES H. PORTER, Quincy.
Quincy, March 8. tf

NOTICE!

THE Assessors of the Town of Quincy, give notice that they have delivered to GEO. H. LOCKER, Collector of Taxes, a correct list of the Taxes, together with a warrant, in due form of law, for collecting the same, and that by a vote of the town, all persons who shall pay their taxes on or before the 15th day of SEPTEMBER, 1879, a discount of four per cent. will be made. By a vote of the Town all taxes are due and payable on the first day of November, and the Collector is required to pay interest, on all taxes not paid before December 1st, 1879.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Assessors
WILLIAM N. EATON, of
CHARLES H. PORTER, Quincy.
Quincy, Sept. 13, 1879. tf

$15.00 Reward!

WHEREAS, a large number of guide-boards and street lamps have been wantonly and maliciously broken in this town, the undersigned offer the above reward to any person who will furnish evidence sufficient to convict the person guilty of said offence. Also, for Breaking Glass in windows of buildings belonging to the town.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Selectmen
WILLIAM N. EATON, of
CHARLES H. PORTER, Quincy.
Quincy, March 8, 1879. tf

State Aid.

THE Selectmen will meet at their Office, in the Town House, on the last MONDAY in each month, from 3 to 4 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of paying State Aid to those Volunteers or their families, who are entitled to it under the provisions of the law of 1879.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Selectmen
WILLIAM N. EATON, of
CHARLES H. PORTER, Quincy.
Quincy, March 8. tf

Scarlet Fever, Small Pox, Diphtheria, Measles, &c.

Office of the Board of Health.
QUINCY, MARCH 5, 1879.

THE Board of Health issues the following notice:—That on and after MONDAY, March 10th, 1879, the following provisions of Chapter 26 of the General Statutes will be strictly enforced:—

SEC. 47. When a householder knows that a person within his family is taken sick of any disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the board of health of the town in which he dwells. If he refuses or neglects to give such notice, he shall forfeit a sum not exceeding $100.

SEC. 48. When a physician knows that any person whom he is called to visit is infected with any disease dangerous to the public health, he shall immediately give notice thereof to the board of health of the town; and if he refuses or neglects to give such notice, he shall forfeit for each offence a sum not less than $50, nor more than $100.

The Board considers the above sections to apply to scarlet fever, small pox, diphtheria, measles and whooping cough.

JOHN CHAMBERLIN, Board
WILLIAM N. EATON, of
CHARLES H. PORTER, Health.
Quincy, March 8. tf

STANDARD FOOD.

BOOTS AND SHOES,
Made and Repaired.

THE undersigned would respectfully announce to the public that he has moved to the shop corner of HANCOCK AND GRANITE ST where he is prepared to Make and Repair Boots and Shoes, in a neat manner, at a reasonable price.

Prices for Repairing:

|                               |        |
|-------------------------------|--------|
| 1-2 Soles, Heels, hand-sewed, | $1.25 |
| 1-2 Soles, Heels, pegged,     | 1.00   |
| Heels, - - - - -              | .50    |
| 1-2 Soles, pegged,            | .50    |
| 1-2 Soles, sewed,             | .50    |
| BOYS:                         |        |
| 1-2 Soles, Heels, - - -       | .85    |
| LADIES:                       |        |
| 1-2 Soles, Heels, - - -       | .65    |
| 1-2 Soles, Heels, Misses, -   | .50    |
| 1-2 Soles, Heels, Children, - | .40    |

PATCHES FROM 10 to 15 Cents.

NATH'L NIGHTINGALE.

Quincy, May 8. tf

NOTICE.

THE Subscriber would respectfully announce to the Public that he has hired Rooms over the

Store of E. B. Souther,

And is prepared to do all kind of

BOOT and SHOE MAKING,
AND REPAIRING,

And would respectfully solicit its patronage.

Discarding the time-honored practice of appealing on the strength of age, experience in business, &c., he will let the work done be its own advocate.

Hoping by honest work and honorable dealing he may be worthy of your custom.

Entrance between Mr. Souther's Periodica Store, and Mr. Spear's Clothing Store, up stairs, left of the Billiard Room.

HUGH MUNDY.

Quincy, Jan. 25. tf

BOOTS & SHOES,

Made and Repaired.

THE subscriber would inform his friends and the public, that he has enlarged his shop, and is now better prepared than ever to do their work at short notice, and on reasonable terms.

PEREZ JOYCE.

Quincy Avenue, near Liberty Street.
Sept. 25. tf

DRESS MAKING.

THE Subscriber would announce to the ladies of Quincy and vicinity that she is prepared to do Dress Making, at their residences or at her home on Quincy street. Orders left at Mr. Thomas Elcock's, where she may be found, will be promptly attended to.

JOSEPHINE FLYNN.

Quincy, Nov. 15. tf

HAIR WORK!

MISS M. A. BELLEW, invites her old customers and friends to call at the Fancy Store of Miss Jilison, in Pierce's Block, where they will find her ready to attend to the making of Hair Work, in all of its branches. Ladies can have their hair shampooed or dressed in the latest style, at short notice.

M. A. BELLEW.

Quincy, Aug. 2. tf

MILLINERY!

MISS S. H. HUSSEY,

HAS just received a beautiful assortment of NEW GOODS, to which will be added fresh selections in all grades.

Straw & Felt Hats and Bonnets,

Velvets, Satins, Ribbons,

Feathers, Flowers & Jets.

All orders promptly and satisfactorily executed.

HANCOCK ST.,

Opposite Hotel.

Quincy, Oct. 4. tf

NEW MILLINERY

—AND—

DRESS MAKING STORE.

THE Undersigned wishes to inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, that she has opened a

First Class Millinery,

—AND—

Dress Making Establishment,

In the Store recently occupied by Mr. Joseph W. Lombard, in ROBERTSON'S BLOCK, on HANCOCK STREET, QUINCY, where she will be pleased to suit all the ladies who may favor her with their patronage. Latest Imported Fashions always on hand.

Also, Dress Trimmings, Buttons and Fancy Articles.

MRS. F. A. LAPHAM.

Quincy, Sept. 11, 1879. tf

MISS C. S. MILTON

Is now prepared to furnish the Ladies with the latest styles in Hats, Bonnets and Frames, Velvets, Satins and Fancy Feathers. Hats ready trimmed or trimmed to order.

Gossamer Waterproofs,

Warranted for $4, which cannot be bought in the city for less than $6.

STAMPING

—FOR—

Embroidery and Braiding,

DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.

Over S. H. SPEAR'S STORE.

Quincy, Sept. 27. tf

B. JOHNSON,

Souther's Wharf, Quincy,

—DEALER IN—

LONG AND SHORT LUMBER.

Frames,

Worked Flooring,

Covering Boards,

Shingles,

Clapboards,

Pickets,

Laths, &c.

FRAMES SAWED TO ORDER.

Orders may be left with RICHARD

NEWCOMB, Washington St., Quincy.

Aug. 2. tf

RALPH LOWE

RETURNS his thanks to the public generally for their liberal patronage, and respectfully solicits a continuance of the same. All orders left will receive prompt attention.

Collar and Harness Making,

—AND—

Carriage Trimmings

IN ALL ITS BRANCHES

N. B. Every article in the trade made to order, and REPAIRING done in the neatest manner and at the most reasonable rates.

Quincy, Aug. 26. tf

NEW YORK SHOPPING.

Everybody delighted with the tasteful and beautiful selection made by MRS. LAMAR, who has NEVER FAILED to please her Customers.

New Fall Circular just issued.

SEND FOR IT.

Address MRS. ELLEN LAMAR,

877 Broadway, New York.

Nov. 22. tf

The Quincy Patriot.

SUPPLEMENT.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1879.

22- The growth of traffic on railways is indicated by the fact that the tonnage from 1868 to 1878 increased 15,373,766 tons.

23- There has been a surprising development of the gold fields of Georgia. From a yield of $100,000 in bullion four years ago, the yield has risen to over $1,000,000 per annum and is rapidly increasing.

24- A glance at the almanac shows that the month of February next will have five Sundays—an event which occurs only once in twenty-eight years. In 1880, Washington's birthday, Decoration day, and the Fourth of July, all come on Sunday.

25- It has been ascertained in Scotland that marriage is productive of longevity. Out of 100,000 married persons, 625 die in the course of each year; while out of a similar number of unmarried persons between the same ages no less than 1261 die in each year. It is believed that this will hold good throughout the world. It is an awful warning to bachelors!

CONGRESS. The Fortification Appropriation bill, passed last week, contains an appropriation of $250,000 for heavy guns. This is a matter in which Boston is largely interested, as a large share of the money will go there to be expended for guns cast at the foundry at South Boston. The appropriation is regarded by Massachusetts as totally inadequate to the requirements of our coast defences. An effort will be made to have a good share of the money appropriated used to strengthen the forts about Boston harbor.

THE NEW CABLE. The new Atlantic cable, having its terminus in this country at North Eastham, Cape Cod, is in good working condition. Its European terminus is at Brest, in France.—This makes five cables that connect Europe with America.

The four previously laid are under a consolidated management which equalizes the cost of despatches. The privilege of landing the new one was granted by the U. S. Government on condition that the company should never consolidate with any other line, or enter into any combination for the purpose of regulating rates. This will result in reducing the cost of messages on all the lines which heretofore ruled very high.

Fashion Notes.

The handsome silk brocades used in millinery are called "Nubienne" brocades.

A cat's head carved in black pearl is one of the prettiest of the new buttons.

Pretty little capes of jet or other beads are called "coats of mail," and are designed to be worn with any costume.

The latest hanging hat racks are in the shape of an immense horseshoe, and are of ebony, with huge steel nails to form the hooks.

Long gloves have bands of silver and gold braid inserted in the wrists instead of lace, and the effect is better than that of bracelets.

Cheneille scarfs are used this winter for trimming bonnets. They are placed across the back of the bonnet, and fall at the sides to form the strings.

Buttons play an important part in costumes this winter. Among the latest importations are some of real tortoise-shell inlaid in the handsomest designs.

Gloves of yellow and red dogskin, and kid gloves of medium colors are preferred by gentlemen for street wear.—Pearl is a favorite color for evening occasions.

Little vases for the buttonhole bouquets placed beside dinner plates have their stems opened so as to leave a circular space in which the napkin can be inserted.

The common brown owl's head is the fashion of the moment in Paris for trimming the side of hats, instead of the pompon, which has been so long popular; an owl's head is also fastened to the muff that is worn with the hat.

Feathers are more than ever in demand. Both dyers and curlers diversify plumes to the utmost; some of the last novelties are shaded in blue on one side of the stem, and in red, yellow, or some strongly contrasting hue on the other.

FALL GOODS

—AT—

GREAT BARGAINS.

20 Pieces Dress Goods,

12 1-2 Per Yard.

PLAID DRESS GOODS.

12 1-2 Per Yard.

WATERPROOF CLOTHS,

IN PLAIDS, ALL WOOL.

$1.00 Per Yard.

25 Different Styles,

CREPE DE LISSE.

New Patterns from New York.

Housekeeping Department.

A Large Line of

Goods for the Ladies,

AT LOW PRICES.

Ladies and Children's Underwear,

For Fall and Winter,

VERY CHEAP.

New Styles of Buttons

—AND—

SILK FRINGE.

Worsted Goods,

Plaid Trimmings.

THE BEST CORSET,

For 50 Cts.

Sewing Machine

NEEDLES.

The Eighme Patent

Shirts and Bosoms.

Agent for

Madame DEMOREST'S

Reliable Patterns.

G. T. DEFREES,

Robertson's Block.

Quincy, Oct. 4. tf

REMOVAL.

The Quincy Dye-House

—AND—

STEAM LAUNDRY,

Has been removed to the Store formerly occupied by KEATING & SPEAR, on

Washington Street.

WHERE the subscriber is prepared to do all kinds of

DYEING,

in the best manner, at the shortest notice, and at reasonable prices.

CLEANING OF ALL KINDS, done at

short notice.

We are better prepared than ever to do

LAUNDRYING

IN ALL ITS BRANCHES.

In the highest style of the art, and hope by strict attention to business, to merit a liberal patronage.

ORDER BOX at E. B. Souther's, at the Depot, and at Williston Post Office.

C. W. GEORGE, PROPRIETOR.

Quincy, Jan. 21.

Quincy Bakery.

THE subscriber would inform the citizens of Quincy and adjoining towns that he will continue to manufacture at his establishment

Bread, Cake, and Pastry,

and all other articles usually found in any

Bakery. Keeps constantly on hand all kinds of

Plain and Fancy Crackers,

GINGER SNAPS, &c.

Hot Rolls every Evening.

WEDDING CAKE furnished to order at Boston prices. CHOICE FAMILY FLOUR for sale at lowest cash prices.

WM. A. HODGES.

Quincy, Jan. 21.

DORCHESTER.

Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

P. O. DEPARTMENT, Mass.

Ward 16, Boston, Mass.

E. J. BAKER, Pres't. W. F. TRIPLE, Sec'y.

STATEMENT, JANUARY 1, 1879.

Amount Insured by 6,723 Policies, $10,000,000

Liabilities, $10,000,000

Cash Assets,

Real Estate, Brick and Stone Dwellings, $1,000,000

Notes and Mortgages, 2,000,000

U. S. 5-20 Bonds, $1,000,000

U. S. 4-1/2 per cent Bonds, $1,000,000

Old Colony Railroad Bonds, $1,000,000

Boston & Lowell Railroad Bonds, $1,000,000

211 Shares Boston & Albany R. R. Stock, 2,000,000

148 Shares Old Colony Railroad Stock, 2,000,000

107 Shares Boston National Bank Stock, 1,000,000

Policies in course of collection, 1,000,000

Cash deposited in U. S. R. Trust Co., 1,000,000

Interest due and accrued to date, 1,000,000

Furniture of Office, Stores and Halls, 1,000,000

Loans to Officers of Firemen, 1,000,000

Amount of Deposit Notes available to pay losses, $172,000,000

Surplus over amount required to pay losses, $172,000,000

THE COMPANY continues to insure the safe fire of property at current rates, and to pay claims promptly on forfeited policies at 40 per cent on five-year policies, 25 per cent on three-year, and 15 per cent on one-year policies.

September, 1879.

Quincy Mutual

Fire Insurance Company.

CASH FUND, April 1, 1879,

$367,000.00,

Surplus over Re-Insurance, over

$160,000.00.

50 per cent. dividend paid on all expiring

5-year policies, 30 per cent on 3 years, and 20

per cent. on all others.

This Company has been in operation over

24 years, has paid over $1,000,000 in losses,

$25,000 of which was at the "Boston fire,"

of Nov. 1872; and over $500,000 in dividends

to policy-holders.

None but the safer classes of risks taken.

I. W. MUNROE, Pres. and Treas.

CHARLES A. HOWLAND, Sec'y

THE QUINCY PATRIOT,
PUBLISHED EVERY SATURDAY MORNING
BY
M. ELIZABETH GREEN
AND
GEORGE W. PRESCOTT.
TERMS: $2.50 per year, advance; $3.00, if not paid before the close of the year.
Office: 64 Hancock Street,
OVER MR. CLAPP'S STORE.
Posters, Cards, Billheads,
Circulars, Labels, Programmes, &c.
PRINTED PROMPTLY,
on the Most Reasonable Terms, and Greatly Below Boston Prices.

The Quincy Patriot.

ESTABLISHED IN 1837.

A Family Paper devoted to Morals, Education, Agriculture, News and General Literature.

NUMBER 52.

QUINCY, MASS., SATURDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1879.

43D VOLUME.

PRICE 5 CENTS.

CONDITIONS.

No subscription nor advertisement will be discontinued previous to the payment of all arrears, unless at the option of the Publisher.
Advertisements correctly and conspicuously inserted at the customary rates, and will be charged until ordered out.
The privilege of annual Advertisers is limited to their own immediate business.

Advertising Agents.

The following gentlemen are authorized Agents to receive Advertisements for the PATRIOT.
BOSTON.—S. M. PATTINGILL & Co., S. R. NILES, HORACE DODD and T. C. EVANS.
NEW YORK.—S. M. PATTINGILL & Co.
GEO. P. ROWELL & Co. and FRANK & Co.
ST. LOUIS, Mo.—ROWELL & CRENSHAW.

FOR CHRISTMAS, AND THE HOLIDAYS.

The Largest Stock, the Freshest Goods, AND LOW PRICES.

TEAS.
We have a large stock of Fine New Teas,
bought of
THE FIRST PICKING
of the New Crop, and
BEFORE THE RECENT ADVANCE,
so that we are able to give our customers the Best Goods at the Old Prices. A Trial will convince anyone of the Superiority of our Teas.

COFFEES.
Coffees depend largely upon being
FRESH
for their
DELICATE FLAVOR.
We have them
ROASTED
FRESH EVERY WEEK,
AND
Not Ground Until Sold.
We warrant them the best to be had.

PRICE LIST.
Prime Oolong, 35 cts. per pound
Prime Japan, 35 cts. per pound
Prime Eng. Breakfast, 35 cts. per pound
Extra Formosa, 50 cts. per pound
Extra Japan, 50 cts. per pound
Extra Eng. Breakfast, 50 cts. per pound
Very best teas imported 75 cts. per pound

Pure Confectionery, 20 cts. per lb.
French Almonds,
Chocolate Creams,
Cream Dates,
Peppermints,
Gum Drops,
Lozenges,
Cough Drops,
Fruit Candy,
French Mixed,
Molasses Drops.

NUTS OF ALL KINDS.
Almonds, 22 cts. per pound
Walnuts, 18 cts. per pound
Peanuts, 15 cts. per pound
Pecans, 15 cts. per pound
Shelbarks, 8 cts. per quart
Peanuts, 8 cts. per quart
Castanas, 12 cts. per quart

GOODS IN GENERAL.
Baker's Chocolate, 42 cts. a lb.
Cox's Gelatine, 18 cts. a lb.
Kingsford's Starch, (silver gloss), 20 cts. a lb.
Barnett's Lemon, 20 cts. a lb.
Barnett's Vanilla, 25 cts. a lb.
Duryea's Starch, (satin gloss), 9 cts. a lb.
Corn Starch, 8 cts. a lb.
Kingsford's Corn Starch, 10 cts. a lb.
Imported Castile Soap, 16 cts. a lb.
White Castile (imported), 25 cts. a lb.
Portland Star Matches, 50 cts. a gr.

Best Creamery and N. Y. and Vt. Dairies of Butter
At Wholesale Prices,
Boston Branch Store,
Robertson Block, - Hancock Street.
Quincy, Nov. 22.

Ho! for the Holidays!
The BEST Place to Buy Presents for Christmas and New Years.

SKATES, SLEDs, KNIVES, SCISSORS, CUTLERY, &c.
See the variety in Skates; Nos. AD, H, AX, N, Y, Club, BB, BX, B, Acme and Nikel Skates. Any style of skate furnished if desired.
SLEDs at from 60 cts. to $1.50. CUTLERY of all grades.
Before purchasing elsewhere please call and examine goods and obtain prices.

CHARLES B. TILTON,
19 Hancock Street, Opposite the Public Library.

PLEASE REMEMBER
— THAT —

D. B. STETSON
Bought his large Stock of Winter Goods before the advance in price, so that he can sell them at less than Wholesale Prices.
We Keep a Larger Stock of
BOOTS AND SHOES,
Than all the stores added together in this part of the town, so that you can get almost any kind of Boot or Shoe that you may wish.

Our Goods are All Warranted.
WE HAVE RECEIVED OUR
FALL and WINTER Boots and Rubber Goods,
And are prepared to sell them at LESS PRICE than can be bought at any other place.
We Keep Constantly on Hand a GOOD Assortment of
LADIES' MISSES' AND GENTS' HOSIERY,
And sell at low prices.
Also—Dressing for Ladies' Boots, Paste Blacking,
Shoe Brushes, Brazilian Gum Rubber Soling,
Patching, Leather Cement, Shoe Findings and a great variety of goods to numerous topnotch cutlery
Our Boots are Made to Order and GIVE PERFECT SATISFACTION
Come one, Come all, and see our goods and judge for yourselves.
RUBBER and LEATHER BOOTS and SHOES REPAIRED AT SHORT NOTICE.
D. B. STETSON, Washington St., Quincy.

E. C. PEEBLES,
Quincy and Boston Express,
Leave Quincy at 9 A. M., and Boston at 1 P. M.
ORDERS left at F. E. Brewer's, Wm.
Quincy, and Charles F. Pierce's, Hard ware store, Quincy; Boston, 28 Devonshire street, 16 Exchange street, and 40 North Market street, Quincy Post Office, Box 181.
All Parcels Promptly Delivered.
Quincy, Dec. 6.

B. JOHNSON,
Souther's Wharf, Quincy,
DEALER IN
LONG AND SHORT LUMBER.
Frames,
Worked Flooring,
Covering Boards,
Shingles,
Clapboards,
Pickets, &c.
FRAMES SAWED TO ORDER.
Orders may be left with RICHARD
NEWCOMB, Washington St., Quincy.
Aug. 2

HAIR WORK!
MISS M. A. BELLEVUE, invites her old customers and friends to call at the Fair-State of Miss Johnson, in Pierce's Block, where they will find her ready to attend to the making of Hair Wigs, in all of its branches.
Ladies can have their hair shampooed or
dressed in the latest style, at short notice.
Quincy, Aug. 2. M. A. BELLEVUE.

REMOVAL.
JOHN A. HOLDEN,
MERCHANT TAILOR,
WOULD announce to his friends and patrons that he has removed to the building, corner of Hancock and School streets, formerly occupied by him.
He has just received a good stock of
CLOTHS, CASSIMERES,
Doeskins and Vestings,
which he is prepared to make into first-class
custom garments AT A LOW PRICE.
A good fitting garment guaranteed.
Quincy, Jan. 5.

Photographs!! Photographs!!!
— FOR —
THE HOLIDAYS!!
HAVING employed a first-class SCIENTIFIC ARTIST for the past few weeks to paint the finest background, we are now ready to ever prepared to make first-class Photographs
of every description.

Fine Interiors, Snow Houses, Coasting and Skating Scenes, and Rustic Scenery.
We are prepared to make the
NEW PANEL PICTURE.
Fine Scenic, Cabinet & Card Pictures.
— ALSO —
Rustic Work for Children.
CHILDREN'S PICTURES a Specialty.
BRING YOUR BABIES,
We spare no pains to make
SATISFACTORY PICTURES!
Pictures of every description. Copied, Enlarged and finished in INK, CRAY-
ON, OIL or WATER COLOURS.

CHEAPER THAN ANYONE ELSE,
For First-Class Work.
We make a nice HOLIDAY PICTURE
AND FRAME for $3.00.
First Class CLUB PICTURES at reduced
prices.
The public generally are cordially invited to call and inspect our work and new accessories, before going elsewhere.

A. FRANK BUSSELL
Photographic Artist,
QUINCY, MASS.
Studio on Chestnut St.
OPPOSITE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.
Quincy, Nov. 29.

QUINCY VIEWS!!
Stereoscopic & Cabinet,
— AT —
SOUTHER'S PERIODICAL
— AND —
FANCY GOODS STORE,
88 Hancock Street,
QUINCY.

I HAVE at great care and expense, had prepared by one of the best out-door Photographers in the country, a large number of Views in the town of Quincy, which I now offer at low prices, consisting in part as follows:—
Five views from the belfry of the Unitarian Church. Four views of Hancock street. Two views of Unitarian Church. One view of Christ Church. One of St. John's Catholic Church.
Congregational Church. President Adam's Birthplace. Adams Academy. Codding and Adams Schools, large and small. Town House.
Two views of C. H. Hanwick & Co's Quarry.
One of J. Q. A. Wild's Quarry, and Robertson
Block. These pictures make

Excellent Presents
FOR THE HOLIDAYS.
And should be in
EVERY HOUSEHOLD.
PLEASE CALL AND EXAMINE.
E. B. Souther.
Quincy, Dec. 6.

FALL GOODS — AT — GREAT BARGAINS.

20 Pieces Dress Goods,
12 1-2 Per Yard.

PLAID DRESS GOODS,
12 1-2 Per Yard.

WATERPROOF CLOTHS,
IN PLAIDS, ALL WOOL,
$1.00 Per Yard.

25 Different Styles,
CREPE DE LISSE,
New Patterns from New York.

Housekeeping Department.
A Large Line of
Goods for the Ladies,
AT LOW PRICES.

Ladies and Children's Underwear,
For Fall and Winter,
VERY CHEAP.

New Styles of Buttons
— AND —
SILK FRINGE.

Worsted Goods,
Plaid Trimmings.

THE BEST CORSET,
For 50 Cts.

Sewing Machine
NEEDLES.

The Eighth Patent
Shirts and Bosoms.

Agent for
Madame DEMOREST'S
Reliable Patterns.

G. T. DEFREES,
Robertson's Block.
Quincy, Oct. 4.

NEW MILLINERY
— AND —
DRESS MAKING STORE.

The undersigned wishes to inform the Ladies of Quincy and vicinity, that she has opened a
First Class Millinery,
— AND —
Dress Making Establishment,
In the State recently occupied by Mr. Joseph
W. Lombard, in ROBERTSON'S BLOCK,
on Hancock Street, Quincy, where she will be pleased to suit all the ladies who may favor her with their patronage. Latest imported Fashions always on hand.
Also, Dress Trimmings, Buttons and Fancy Articles.
MRS. F. A. LAPHAM.
Quincy, Sept. 11, 1879.

MISS C. S. MILTON
Is now prepared to furnish the Ladies with the latest styles in Hats, Bonnets and Frames, Vel-
vets, Satins and Fancy Feathers. Hats ready trimmed or trimmed to order.
Gossamer Waterproofs,
Warranted for $4, which cannot be bought in the city for less than $6.

STAMPING
— FOR —
Embroidery and Braiding,
DONE AT SHORT NOTICE.
Over S. H. SPEAR'S STORE.
Quincy, Sept. 27.

MILLINERY!
— MISS S. H. HUSSEY,
HAS just received a beautiful assortment of
FRESH SELECTIONS in all grades.

Straw & Felt Hats and Bonnets,
Velvets, Satins, Ribbons,
Feathers, Flowers & Jets.
All orders promptly and satisfactorily executed.
HANCOCK ST.,
Opposite Hotel.
Quincy, Oct. 4.

DRESS MAKING.
THE Subscriber would announce to the ladies of Quincy and vicinity that she is prepared to do Dress Making, at their residences or at her home on Quincy street—Orders left at Mr. Thomas E. Cook's, where she may be found, will be promptly attended to.
JOSEPHINE FLYNN.
Quincy, Nov. 15.

Poetry.

The Death of the Year.

Feeble and faint, and grim and gray,
In his last dark hour the Old Year lay;
And heavily came his parting breath,
And his eyes grew dim in the mists of death.
Yet a few months past, when the Spring-time smiled,
This gray Old Year was a merry child;
And he rivalled the lark as it cleft the air,
And brightly buds in his golden hair.
Then the Summer came, and the buds were flowers,
And the nightingale sang in the blooming bowers;
And, a pensive youth, he loved the night,
And the silent stars, and the pale moonlight.
Still the months rolled by, and the Autumn now,
Gave its golden tints to his withered brow.
And with mild nature, he had reached, at length,
The full perfection of many strength.
But the leaves grew sear, and the Autumn passed,
And the tall trees bent to the wintry blast;
And he gazed on the glass in his withered hand,
And the weary Old Year lay down to die.
Feeble and faint, and grim and gray,
In his last dark hour the Old Year lay;
And heavily came his parting breath,
And his eyes grew dim in the mists of death.
Yet not alone for Old Time stood there;
He watched at his side with paternal care;
And he gazed on the glass in his withered hand,
And joyously counted each ebbing sand.
Nay not alone for a company vast,
The shades of the numberless Years of the past,
Encircled the couch where the dying year lay,
And mournfully beckoned his spirit away.
Then suddenly tolled from a crumbling tower,
The solemn strokes of the midnight hour—
And the ghost of the gray Old Year was free,
With the shadowy past, in eternity!

Receipts, Etc.

CHOCOLATE CAKE. Two cups of sugar, one cup of butter, one cup of sweet milk, three and a half cups of flour, three whole eggs and the yolks of two more, one teaspoonful of cream tartar, one-half teaspoonful of soda—Frosting for the same—whites of two eggs beaten with sugar quite stiff, three tablespoonsful grated chocolate, teaspoonful of vanilla.

SILVER CAKE. Two cups of flour, the whites of four eggs, one cup of sugar, one-half cup of sweet milk, one teaspoonful of tartar, one-half teaspoonful of soda. Flavor to taste.

TEA CAKE. One cup sugar, one cup milk, one tablespoonful butter, one egg, two and one-half cups flour, two tea-spoonfuls cream tartar, one teaspoonful soda, flavor to taste.

For burnt and scalds take equal parts of sweet oil and the white of eggs, mix well together, and bind cotton wool in the preparation to the wound.

Smith wants to know what good the new French cable is going to be to people who don't understand French.

At the Christmas dinner her papa said to her, "Nellie, will you have some of the turkey?" "Yes, papa," was the reply of the four-year-old as she looked at the stuffing, "but I won't have any of the hash."

Warning to young gentlemen in a ball-room—Look out for the train.

The boy who was kept after school for bad orthography said he was spellbound.

"Well," said a doting uncle to his little nephew, who had been fishing all day—"Well, did you catch a good many nice fish?" "No, uncle, but I drowned a good many worms," was the reply.

An old commodore was spinning a yarn for the benefit of an old lady of serious views, and arousing her sympathies by telling her how the sea ran mounds high, and taxed the utmost endeavors of the crew to manage the ship. "Ah, but you see, sir," said the old dame, laying her hand softly on his arm, "there was one at the helm—" "Lor, bless you ma'am!" he exclaimed, energetically slapping his knee, "sometimes there were five or six."

An Irishman who recently waited at the Cardinal's table in Dublin on a Friday, when there were seventeen courses of fish, was quite unable to repress his astonishment. "Bedad," he exclaimed, "if that's what ye call fishin' it's meself that could stand Lent all the year round."

When you go to Kolozvar, Hungary, tell the newsboy to give you a copy of the Ossakassito Trolldomortortelna Lopak, which everybody calls for when they are in a hurry to see the news. It is a Magyar paper, and it will Magyar jaws ache to pronounce it.

Some wicked man asserts that it was a great mistake that potato bugs weren't introduced into the Garden of Eden, since their presence there would have kept Adam and Eve so busy that they wouldn't have had time to go foraging for pippins.—Yonkers Gazette.

"Anything pite you dere?" inquired one Dutchman of another, while engaged in angling. "No, nottings at all," "Vell," returned the other,
"notting pite me, too."

Letter from a boy spending his vacation in the country:—"We dug a woodchuck out of his hole; it was a skunk. We slept in the barn that night."

Miscellany.

The Parson's Lesson.

Deacon Slocum, as had been his custom for years, had prepared a fine, fat turkey as a New Year's present to his minister, and he called his son Tom to carry it over to the parsonage, but Tom objected.
"How now, my son?" demanded the deacon. "You know this is my custom.
You carried a turkey to the parson last year, and your elder brothers have done it in the years before you were big enough."
"And," retorted Tom, "Parson Grum-mer was never the man to say thank ye.
He takes it as a matter of course. I don't set well on my stomach to have a man snub me when I'm doing him a favor."
"But, Tom, you must remember that Parson Grummer is a peculiar man. He means well."
"And so I s'pose does old Brindle mean well enough when she whisks her tail in your eye; but I've noticed you didn't seem to like it."
The good deacon smiled and patted his son on the shoulder.
"Carry the turkey to the parson, Tom,
and if he don't thank you for it, I will."
Tom shouldered the fowl—fat, fair and large—and carried it to the minister's house, when he found the host in the sitting-room with a number of clergymen for company.
"Mr. Grummer," said Tom, depositing his burden on the table with a thump,
"there's a father sent to you. He told me to bring it, and I've brought it."
And with this he turned upon his heel to leave the room, but the minister called him back.
"Thomas, you did right to obey your father. Obedience is a good thing; but you might improve upon the manner of obedience. You might have done your errand more respectfully."
"How?" asked Tom, curiously.
"Wait. You will imagine you are the parson and I am the boy."
The parson took up the turkey and went out. Presently he returned, took off his hat, laid the fowl carefully upon the table, and then with a low bow, said:
"Parson Grummer, here is a turkey which my father sent you, and begs that you will accept it with the compliments of the season."
Tom stepped forward and turned the turkey over.
"It is a fine turkey," he said, "and I am not only grateful to your good father for it, but I am very grateful to you for having brought it. Tell your father that I am not unmindful of the many favors
I received at the hands of himself and family. And now, Thomas, if you will carry this down into the kitchen and give it to the cook, I will call Mrs. Grum-mer and bid her give you a twenty-five cent piece."

The parson for a moment looked blank, but the audible smile of his clerical guests stirred up his good humor, and he accepted the lesson and sent the lad off with a piece of silver.

Expense of Railroad Cars.
The following figures are given regarding the cost of car building by one of the leading firms engaged in this branch of manufacture. The average price of a box car is from $100 to $450, while in 1875 they were as high as $1,200.
A milk car costs about $100 more. A baggage car truck and a passenger car truck are about the same expense. The price of a baggage car varies from $2,000 to $2,500. The cheapest style of Wagner's drawing-room cars may be made for $8,000; the usual price being $12,000.
This includes all the furnishing. The cheaper drawing-room cars, four wheels, are made for $10,000, while the ordinary mail cars cost from $2,000 to $3,000; distributing cars are more expensive. Cars for the New York Elevated Road cost from $2,500 to $3,500. The ordinary passenger cars cost $4,200; the last built for the Hudson River Road cost $5,400, which include a heater and some extra fixtures. Small cars for carrying ore cost $200.

All About Dimples.
Dimples are perpetual smiles of nature
— the very cunningest device and lurking place of love. When earth is dimpled with hills and valleys, it always seems to laugh; when the ocean is dimpled by the breeze, it sparkles with joy beneath the sunshine of heaven. We cannot look for frowns on a dimpled face; frowns and dimples do not associate together. How soft, how roguish, how beautiful are the dimples in the shoulders, and the pretty hands and the feet of rosy babes. Mothers dote upon these darling dimples and delight to kiss them. But perfectly enchanting dim-ples, at least to the eyes of an enthusiast, young man, are those which come peeping out of the cheeks around the mouth of "sweet seventeen," when sweet seventeen essays some arch, provokingally peeping out and flying away the moment after, coming and going with the mouth bewitching coquetry.

A family is like an equipage.
First, the father, the draught-horse;
next, the boys, the wheels, for they are always running around; then the girls, they are surrounded by fellows. The baby occupies the lap-board; and the mother—well, what's a wagon without a tongue, anyhow?

For the Patriot.

Sunny Side.

I cannot recall just now if it were John Bunyan or the author of "John Halifax," who so beautifully said,—
"There are very few of us who can remember the first time we ever saw a mackerel;" but I seriously doubt if any of us can recall the first time we were genuinely surprised. Fortunately or unfortunately for you, dear reader, I have a vivid recollection of my very first and very last surprise party. The first a pusillanimous and unmitigated failure;
the last, an emphatic and happy success. I will relate them in the order in which they occurred. Twenty-two years ago, last Cattle Show-day, I was quite a small lad, and had scraped together from various sources a quantity of old iron, bones, rubber boots, &c., and after a shrewd bargain with a perambulating junk man, found myself possessed of sufficient funds to "do" the Cattle Show in quite a prodigal way.
I remember, it was after I had strolled among the tents and feasted my eyes upon the "six legged calf," the "girl with two heads," the "enormous ali-gator," (four inches long,) and the "educated pig," that my attention was attracted by what I supposed to be, the singing of a lovely-voiced mocking bird, but upon approaching the spot from which the sound proceeded, was surprised to find that it was produced by a middle-aged gentleman with a countenance as bland and blond as a sage pudding. He was standing in a light open wagon, and with a small whistle made of tin and leather was filling the air with the most lovely and brilliant imitations of a great variety of singing birds, and I confess when he extended to me a handful of the whistles and offered me his choice for the pithy sum of ten cents each, or three for a quarter, my heart was filled with gratitude, and I could not help feeling that he was a public benefactor and deserved a niche in the temple of Fame.
In the exuberance of my enthusiasm (boy like), I expended my last cent and bought nine of these precious whistles, which he assured me a baby could operate as well as himself, and wrapping them carefully up he added, you had better not undo them until you get home, lest they get broken; and I, poor credulous little lad, took his advice, and never tried them until the day of my never-to-be-forgotten first surprise party.
It was briefly this:—My dear Mamma had the Sewing Society, and in the evening
I pinned a curtain across one corner of the dining room, got behind it with my whistles, and my brother invited all the company in to hear a "South American Oriole" sing. The company came in and while waiting in silence and expectancy, I placed a whistle in my mouth and blew;—not a sound! One after another, I tried the whole nine, and the only sound that possibly produced was best described by an old lady, who said in a solemn tone,
"Seems to me, there's a cat choking somewhere!"
I blew until I was red—yes, purple in the face, but all in vain—not a sound could I produce, while the tears of chagrin and mortification rolled down my face. I felt just as that unhappy person in the Old Testament must have felt when he said, "I am like the owl of the wilderness and like the pelicans of the desert." So ended my first surprise party.

It was with a feeling of immense relief that I reach the recital of my very last surprise party, which was no longer ago than last Saturday evening, and was quite as pleasant as the first was distasteful.

It is the custom in the winter season for the choir of the Wollaston Baptist Church to hold rehearsals at some convenient residence on Saturday evening, and our last rehearsal was at the house of Mr. Albert G. Olney, our popular and efficient director. After singing until nearly ten o'clock, and mastering the difficulties of a very pretty anthem, we were about to adjourn, when the genial wife of our director, who is quite an artist, invited us into the dining room to inspect some porcelain she had recently decorated. You can, perhaps, imagine how completely surprised we were to find a long table literally covered with porcelain and china dishes, which were very temptingly and tastefully decorated with steaming hot oysters, cake, pie, fruit, and all the requisites of a first-class menu. Then our hostess blandly informed us it was her husband's either thirty or sixty-fourth birthday. I did not hear distinctly which.

Dear reader, I have sung in the choir nearly two years, and I tell you in strict confidence, I never before saw them change from Moderato to Allegro, and almost to Allegretto, with such unanimity and precision before, in all that time.
Even the tenors, Messrs. Seeley and Olney, who are somewhat addicted to drugging, were, as nearly as I, in my preoccupied condition could estimate, nearly a beat and a half ahead of the regulation Tempo. And as to Mr. Chas.
Fiskham, the organist!—well, those of you who saw how rapidly he touched off lights in the "Esther Cantata," can well imagine how an oyster supper would fare under those deft fingers. But the worst!—the worst!—The soprano singers and alto; how can I describe it?
My fond and tender ideal had always pictured them as delicate, ethereal, gossamer-like creatures, fairy and brilliant, as the beautiful and intricate frost-work tracery which the great Author of all beauty and purity embosses upon our window-panes these cold nights, and then hangs up his radiant sun to glorify, at early dawn! But now, alas!—how all these cherished illusions fade in the merciless light of ocular demonstration! The subject is too painful, and my heart grows tremulous with unshed tears.

As a medical student, years ago, the opinion had obtained in my mind, that the human stomach had certain well-defined limits; but now—even that illusion has faded like a dream; and I can only think that if ever in his travels, Satiety, meets one of these innocent looking song birds, he will have a hard tussle to overcome them.

A robust appetite is, I believe, one of the characteristics of this village, owing, doubtless, to its elevated situation. And I have recently learned that the air of Wollaston is so permanent and warmthricity, that mothers are obliged to wear lightning rods on their babies to keep them quiet.

After supper and dessert, which lasted nearly two hours (and even then the tenor, Seeley, had the temerity to propose singing, "Hold the Fort,") we adjoined to the music room, where Miss Flossy Olney, a very bright-eyed little Miss, favored us with a piano solo, and one of the contraltos (I don't see how she could) sang a very beautiful "Waltz
No. 1," and, as near Sunday morning as they thought Dr. Hague would approve of, the song birds took their flight, each one hoping that the next time Mrs. Olney decorated her porcelain they might be invited to inspect it,— which wish was heartily endorsed by that bald-headed freak of nature who sometimes signs himself
DR. McFOSSETT.

For the Patriot.

New York Letter.

That ladies too broad by many inches should adopt costumes which cause them to look broader by as many more, is one of the most lamentable facts of the day.
The attempt to give you an idea of the results produced would be to describe that which is indescribable, and therefore it is left to your imagination. Now to a slender form, there is nothing more becoming than the panier style of dress, but that seems hardly a reason why it should be chosen by some matrons already weighed down by the consequences of advancing years. It can only be accounted for on the ground of that idea of self-sacrifice which is so prominent in the female mind—that devotion to duty which is so beautiful a trait. Doubtless that woman's husband likes her to be in the fashion, and to please him she makes a very caricature of herself.
Yet if we would only think about it, we would find that there is always some means of avoiding a duty, and going yet deeper into the matter, we should discover that there is generally a loop hole somewhere, if we but have the wit to find it. And such is the fact, for just here we have the Decorette style of dress, which is straight and close-fitting at the sides, although bouffant at the back.

CHILDREN'S OUTFITS.

For a little boy of from five to six, the Beaufort suit is jaunty and becoming, consisting of a box-plaited shirt and half-fitting jacket. The Collie costume would be pretty for a school girl, and is suitable for almost any material of the day. With this as a street covering, the Meroa jacket, of medium length, with loose, double-breasted fronts and half-fitting back, is at once stylish and simple, and can be made up in either cloth or suits. The Nina coat would be a tasteful out-door garment for a little girl.
And finally, though scarce, perhaps appropriate for this heading, I must give some description of an elegant costume worn by Mme. Ambrose of the Magnificent Opera Company. It was a Regena dress of dark blue satin, plain and broad-based. The front was trimmed with a number of flounces over which was tied a brocade scarf with deep-fringed ends. The overdress was cut away and the train attached at the back by a deep shirred heading, corsage square, elbow sleeves.

Short communications and items of news are solicited from friends and patrons. Anonymous communications are not published.

Farewell Old Year.

Before the issue of another PATRIOT the dirge of the old year will have been sung, and the merry anthem of the new one will have rung out in joyful glee. To glance backward and note the many changes that have taken place during the year just closing, would be a very difficult task, but we should not doubt that the pleasures and sorrows were evenly balanced, and the sunshine and shadow equally divided, and there would be no reason to complain of a surplus of troubles or joys.

The PATRIOT has received, during the year, many new friends, beside the host of old ones, who are constantly welcoming us onward, which makes our labors more pleasant and less burdensome. To all we would extend the compliments of the season and wish them one and all a happy new year.

Next week we shall enlarge the PATRIOT about eight columns, hoping thereby to have room sufficient to give our readers a still better sheet. We have been so generously patronized by our advertisers that we have been obliged to omit many articles which we believed would have been read with pleasure.

We have dropped our Supplement this week so as to make the necessary arrangements for enlarging the PATRIOT, and consequently have left out between three and four columns of advertisements, but we hope our advertisers will bear with us, and we will endeavor to commence the new year in better shape.

CHRIST CHURCH. This Church was full of brightness and attraction on Wednesday evening; the Christmas tree festival was held at 7 o'clock. In spite of the bad weather, the Church was comfortably filled.

The Rector, Mr. Snively, read a Scripture lesson, said a prayer, and made a short address before the distribution of presents. The tree was indeed beautiful in its rich profusion of gifts and ornaments.

The attraction of the evening was really, however, the singing of the carols. The Sunday School outdid themselves, which is saying a great deal.

Christmas morning there was service, at which there was a very good congregation. The Rector preached from St. Luke 2: 15: "Let us even now go into Bethlehem."

The music was, as usual on Christmas, suited to the season, and was very beautiful. The selections displayed great taste and the execution was evidently the result of very great care and industry. The choir of Christ Church maintained its well-earned reputation, which is so well known in Quincy. The Church was beautifully decorated and with the most exquisite ecclesiastical consistency. All harmonized in every detail with the architecture of the Church. It was a beautiful design, well carried out. Mr. Henry H. Hunt planned it all, and had the help of the many young men of the Parish.

CONGREGATIONAL CHAPEL. The festival at the Congregational Chapel on Christmas Eve, was a very pleasing affair. A handsome tree beautifully ornamented and bearing an abundance of rich fruit was greatly admired, and pretty tableaux from Mother Goose made up the entertainment. A little daughter of Mr. Elwood Litchfield came before the audience and recited "Little Jack Horner," and as she concluded, the curtain arose, and there set J. Oliver Williams before a basket which represented a huge pie, and the little fellow was fishing for a plum. Mr. Edward Southworth's son was then taken by Santa Claus and placed on the platform where he repeated the little verse of "Peter, Peter, pumpkin eater," when the curtain arose and the second tableau was presented by Miss Cora Knapp smiling from a large pumpkin.

Mr. Charles W. Carter personated Santa Claus, and his rotund proportions showed that he had stuffed considerably of late to portray the character. Miss Annie Bumpus took the part of Santa Claus's wife, and was beautifully dressed in white wadding. Miss Bumpus entertained the audience with some fine singing.

At the conclusion of the tableaux the presents from the tree were distributed. Notwithstanding the unpleasant state of the weather, the chapel was well filled, and all seemed to enjoy the entertainment.

CHRISTMAS. The Universalist society had a very gay Christmas at Faxon Hall. The afternoon was more especially for the Sunday School, and the evening for the Society.

The children had a jolly time dancing, singing and games until about five o'clock, when they were invited down stairs, where they found tables loaded with good things that tempted the appetite.

About dark the parents began to gather and they were invited to tea; still the tables were kept loaded from the bountiful supply furnished by the ladies.

After supper the evening was very pleasantly spent. The entertainment consisted of speaking, singing, reading, dancing, etc. A young miss from Charlestown, Etta Williams, was loudly applauded for her excellent singing.

A PLEASANT AFFAIR. The Unitarian Society had a jolly good time at Faxon Hall on Christmas Eve. Good music, dancing, singing and speaking occupied the evening very pleasantly. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Wilson received from the Society a beautiful marble clock, valued at $50, for a Christmas present. The presentation speech was made by Mr. Charles A. Foster, which was very appropriately responded to by Mr. Wilson.

It is proposed to establish several local deed letter offices in Boston, New York and other large cities, to facilitate business.

Local Items.

Fine sleighing yesterday.

A heavy gold earring has been lost.

The afternoons are six minutes longer.

Next in order—preparations for New Years.

A first-class billiard table is advertised for sale.

Sharp weather,—only five degrees above zero yesterday morning.

The thermometer registered five above zero last Sunday. Pretty cold.

There were fourteen hundred visitors to our public schools for the month ending Dec. 21st.

Billings' Quincy and Boston express has been sold, we learn, to Mr. Peter McConarty.

Mrs. Emma A. Burrell of this town, gave readings at North Weymouth on Christmas evening.

Henry H. Faxon, Esq., has donated $100 to the State Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Deacon Clapp was made the recipient of an elegant chair for a Christmas present, by his family.

Rev. Phillips Brooks of Boston will preach at Christ Church, Sunday evening. Service at 7 P. M.

The first real good snow storm of the season occurred on Monday. About four inches of snow fell in this vicinity.

The W. M. French Hose Company holds its fourth family reunion at the Hose House on Thursday evening next.

The drizzling rain of Wednesday made the streets almost impassable, and put quite a damper on the Christmas trade.

Mrs. Isaac M. Holt left here on Wednesday for Florida. She intends passing the winter in the land of orange blossoms.

The sleighing was quite good on Tuesday, and those owning fast nags improved the opportunity to enjoy a delightful ride.

Charles S. Dean, a much respected young man, who resided with his parents on Washington street, died on Christmas morning.

On Friday morning of last week Miss James E. Tirrell returned home from a very pleasant visit of about two months in the West.

The estate of the late William A. Stiles, on Phillips street, will be sold at public auction, on Tuesday next, by order of the administrator.

Master Walter M. Packard has our thanks for a very handsome catalogue of printing types, &c., by the New England Type Foundry Company.

One of the Sabbath School classes connected with the Congregational church presented their penny collection of the year, to a poor but deserving family, for a Christmas present.

Public Christmas trees were not so common in Quincy this year as formerly. Many of the religious societies held social gatherings and suppers, and dispensed with trees.

Overcoats, overshoes and gloves are in fashion, colds in the head are all the rage, and the man who has a touch of catarrh is probably a new arrival.

It is about four months since the granite cutters of this town struck because a non-union man, obnoxious to the Union men, was employed; and the prospect now is that it will last till spring.

Professor M. C. O'Shea will deliver the last lecture of the course, under the auspices of Paul Revere Post, on Tuesday evening next. His subject is to be the "Irish Language."

The gutter on the east side of Hancock street, in front of E. Clapp's store, is a perfect nuisance. It was impossible to cross the street after passing J. W. Child's blacksmith's shop until you got opposite the savings bank, on Wednesday last.

The Eureka Hook and Ladder Company of East Weymouth has accepted an invitation to partake of a turkey supper with the Hook and Ladder Company of this town on the first Monday of the new year.

The Weymouth Advance says: "Preparations for the Active Fair are being rapidly made, and donations are coming in fast. Samuel Graves donates an elegant bed lounge; Cyrus Patch of Quincy Point, one ton of Franklin coal."

In view of the appearance of a few cases of small pox in the State, the State Board of Health urges the importance of thorough vaccination, and urge the Selectmen of Quincy to see to the enforcement of the law with regard to the same. Let our citizens see that their families are vaccinated.

Lieut. Henry J. Gore, of Santa Fe, New Mexico, late of the United States Army, and son of Mr. Henry Gore, of this town, has been appointed Division Master of the Royal Mail, between La Junta and Los Vegas.

A grand camp fire and installation will be held by Paul Revere Post, on Wednesday, January 14th. The Post desires to decorate the hall on that occasion with uniforms, flags and relics of the late war. Those who are willing to lend anything for that purpose will please notify Mr. I. M. Holt.

Deputy Sheriff French arrested Michael Doyle, and brought him before Judge Bumpus, for snowballing persons passing along our street. We learn that Officer French intends to put a stop to this rude sport, and we would caution those who have indulged in it, to stop such disgraceful acts at once, or they will be locked up.

A man in Shrewsbury, Mass., recently found a quail's nest with sixteen eggs in it, placed them under a bantam hen, which twelve days afterward left her nest with sixteen little quails around her.

ST. MARY'S CHURCH. Services at St. Mary's Church, West Quincy, on Christmas day, were solemn and impressive. The church was handsomely trimmed and the altar tastefully decorated with flowers, candles, &c. The singing by the choir at the several masses during the day was excellent, and vespers were sung in a manner that called forth praise from those present. Under the guidance of Miss Nellie McDonnell they will be able to sing with any choir for miles around.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH. There were three services at St. John's Church on Christmas day. The first mass at five o'clock, the second at ten; the ten o'clock mass was celebrated by Rev. F. A. Friguglietti. In the evening the vesper services were rendered by the choir under the direction of Prof. Perabean, and were sung with fine effect. The church was crowded with earnest admirers.

METHODIST CHURCH, WOLLASTON. A very pleasing Christmas tree festival at the Wollaston Methodist Church, was enjoyed by the parishioners of Rev. Mr. Kelley, on Christmas eve. Some very fine presents were on the tree, among which was an elegant gold watch and chain, for Mrs. Israel Waterhouse.

BAPTIST FESTIVAL. At the Baptist Church, Wollaston, Rev. Mr. Hague, pastor, on Christmas Eve, there was a family gathering, the old and young mingling together in the pleasing festival. The audience were highly entertained with some excellent readings by Miss Gurney. A handsome tree, richly loaded with pleasing gifts, was greatly admired, and when the fruit was harvested all hearts were made glad. An elegantly illustrated Bible, one of the gifts—it was presented to a young couple.

PRESENTATION. The members of the choir of St. Mary's Church, completely surprised Miss Nellie McDonnell, the leader of the choir, and her sister, Miss Mary A. McDonnell, at their residence on School street, on Wednesday evening last, by presenting the former with an elegant jewel case, and the latter with a handsome cologne fountain, as a token of their esteem for the young ladies. The evening was happily spent in games, &c., until a late hour, when the surprised wished the surprised a Merry Christmas and a happy New Year, and departed for their homes.

PRESENTATION. Mr. Michael Walsh, our efficient keeper of the Quincy lock-up, was presented with a handsome sum of money on Tuesday evening, by his host of friends, as a testimonial of their regard for him.

SHIP BUILDING. The ship yard of Mr. Keene, at North Weymouth, is beginning to show signs of activity. Large trees are being hauled from Hingham and Scituate, and workmen are engaged in heaving them into ship timbers.—Advance.

PERSONAL. F. M. Adlington, whose poetical productions have graced the columns of the PATRIOT for nearly forty years, celebrated his 90th birthday on Christmas Eve.

The Gazette says his health is good, and it is our wish that he may enjoy many more of these yearly gatherings.

"SUNNY SIDE." On the first page will be found a very spicy and interesting article from the pen of Dr. McFossil, headed "Sunny Side." Owing to a press on our columns, we have been obliged to defer its publication for a few weeks, but feel sure that it has lost none of its goodness by the delay.

VEPERS. Christmas vespers will be celebrated at the First Church, next Sunday evening, beginning at 7 o'clock. The following musical programme is to be rendered:—

Organ solo, "While shepherds," Pastoral Anthem, "Come unto me," Solo, "O holy night," A. Adams Anthem, "Blessed is he that cometh," Barnaby

MERRY MOUNT CLUB. This club held a glass ball shoot at Quincy Woods, on Christmas day, each man shooting at twenty balls, with the following result:

|                    | Single | Rotary | Double | Total    |
|--------------------|--------|--------|--------|----------|
| George Monk,       | 4      | 5      | 9      | 18       |
| Charles W. Carter, | 4      | 5      | 9      | 18       |
| Thomas Curtis,     | 4      | 5      | 9      | 18       |
| W. Mitchell,       | 4      | 5      | 9      | 18       |
| Robert Redding,    | 4      | 5      | 9      | 18       |
| H. O. Studley,     | 4      | 5      | 9      | 18       |
| Forest Chubbuck,   | 4      | 5      | 9      | 18       |
| Charles Cummings,  | 4      | 5      | 9      | 18       |
| W. Nightingale,    | 4      | 5      | 9      | 18       |
| Total,             | 1585   | 1510   | 94     | 108 1400 |

School Report. The following is the official report of the Quincy Public Schools for the month ending Dec. 21st:—

|             | Average Number. | Average Daily Attendance. | Per Cent Daily Attendance. | Total. | Visitors. |
|-------------|-----------------|---------------------------|----------------------------|--------|-----------|
| High,       | 96              | 93                        | 97                         | 1      | 15        |
| Adams,      | 347             | 328                       | 96                         | 24     | 219       |
| Coddington, | 221             | 212                       | 96                         | 2      | 380       |
| Quincy,     | 159             | 149                       | 94                         | 27     | 101       |
| Washington, | 213             | 203                       | 95                         | 25     | 138       |
| Willard,    | 407             | 380                       | 96                         | 21     | 472       |
| Wollaston,  | 142             | 136                       | 96                         | 8      | 95        |

PAUL REVERE POST. Last Saturday evening Asst.-Adj. General Meech visited town to inspect Paul Revere Post. He reported the Post to be in excellent condition, and made some very complimentary remarks to that effect. After the business meeting, a collation was served which was partaken of with a zest. Col. F. W. Parker, Rev. E. A. Perry and others made short and spicy speeches. There are about sixty-five members belonging to the Post at the present time. The following gentlemen have been recently chosen officers:

Commander, Col. F. W. Parker. Senior Vice-Com., John A. Pratt. Junior Vice-Com., John R. Graham. Quartermaster, William P. Martin. Chaplain, Rev. E. A. Perry. Officer of the Day, Samuel B. Turner. Officer of the Guard, Warren B. Munroe.

Adjutant, Edward A. Spear, 2d.

There is a project on foot in Philadelphia and New York to raise by subscription a grant of $250,000, and present it to Gen. Grant.

A HANDY WORK. We have received from the New England News Company, a very pretty little annual, styled the Lady's Almanac and Note Book. It is a very convenient book for a lady's work table, as it contains not only a memorandum but ruled leaves which will be found very useful for an every day journal.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

Three Houses entered Christmas Morning.

QUIET SLUMBERS DISTURBED.

Some of our citizens have had their joyous festivities slightly disturbed this week by the entrance of burglars. Early on Christmas morning, the residence of Mrs. William S. Morton on Spear St., was entered by a window and several rooms were passed through by the burglar, whose noise aroused the inmates, and the roused, taking with him a few articles—gold-bowed spectacles, pocket-book, and about one dollar in money.

The next residence visited was that of Mr. Edward A. Spear, 20, on Faxon Avenue, about fifteen rods from Mrs. Morton's. The burglar examined Mr. Spear's pants carefully, but found only a little change,—between one and two dollars,—the most of his money, by good luck, happened to be in his vest pocket, which was not meddled with.

The thief also took for his midnight tramp a pair of good home-made knit socks. Mr. Spear thinks the burglar must have got frightened, or he would have taken more.

About five o'clock the same morning, the home of Mrs. Geo. Spear, near Mr. William Field's residence, on Adams street, was entered by a burglar.

The thief entered the sleeping room of Mrs. Spear and her daughter, and took a box which had some jewelry in it, and carried it to the setting room, where it accidentally fell to the floor, waking the slumberers, who gave a shout, and the burglar fled.

On Christmas Eve, between eight and nine o'clock, an aged man by the name of Callahan, of Mattapan, was returning home, when he was stopped by three robbers on Adams street, near where the brick chimney now stands, and formerly known as the "Cherry Tavern," who quickly unseated his horse from the wagon, and commenced rifling his pockets. They succeeded in getting his watch, when Mr. William N. Eaton and his brother came along and they took to their heels, over North Common.

Christmas at Wollaston. The pleasure afforded our little folks by the Christmas of 1879, was really to send a groan through the entire Colony of Massachusetts Bay in 1840. The Baptists led off in these "vanities" Christmas Eve. Our new and excellent neighbor, Mrs. Litchfield, with her sister, treated the happy gathering to several recitations; and a dialogue by the young misses of the society, which reflected much credit on the projectors.

The whole performance and absence of a grizzly and boorish Santa Claus, in passing out the presents, was a decided improvement.

The fair in the same place, last week, realized a handsome amount of cash to the society, which was never more prosperous. The genial and scholarly Dr. Hague, with an ardent desire to serve God rather than the denomination, has done much since his advent here for denominational harmony.

The young folks at the Congregational Church had a Christmas supper Thursday evening, when many pairs of bright eyes opened with pleasing surprise at seeing the "goodies" which loaded the tables. The ladies of this society know just how to get up a good time for young folks, and they did it.

Last Sabbath, Rev. Mr. Dutton, of Boston, refreshed the audience with two excellent sermons, entirely free from the Lethargic dew with which some preachers sprinkle an audience. We understand the society look favorably on his settlement among them.

A recently free, officially connected with politics here, mentioning the writings of a conscience of Governor Garcelon and his Council in Maine. May it lead to a quickening of conscience and thorough repentance all through the dominant party of the country.

Merry Mount Festival. There will be a public installation of officers of Merry Mount Lodge, Knights of Honor, of this town, at Faxon Hall, on Friday evening next. The installation services will commence at 7.30. Supper at nine o'clock, followed by dancing. The Grand Officers will be present. This is the first sociable by this Lodge, and the indications are that it will be a very pleasant affair.

The order of the Knights of Honor was established in June, 1863, and grew slowly at first, numbering in September, 1874, about 500. Since that time the growth has been more rapid, extending over thirty States, and now numbering upward of 60,000 members of whom about 6,000 are in Massachusetts. The full death benefit paid to the survivors of a member is $2,000. The total number of benefits paid up to January 1st, 1879, was 455, and the grand total disbursed for the benefit of widows and orphans in four years is $904,063.

That Address. To the Publishers of the Patriot:—

I was pleased to see in your last paper a call upon our eloquent and cultivated townsman to repeat before the citizens of Quincy, the admirable address lately delivered by him before the American Library Association.

If he cannot answer the call, I hope he will at least furnish for publication in your paper such portions as are suited to the meridian of Quincy.

I would also suggest that he publish in connection therewith such extracts from the last ten (?) years Reports of the Public Library as will dovetail with the subject matter of his invaluable discourse.

For the Patriot. Many seasons have passed since the "Spectacular" has received such a production as is reached in "Enchantment" at the Globe Theatre. The eye is dazzled from first to last with a series of marvellously gorgeous, bewildering, intermingling, ever changing pictures which glide from one into the other verily as if by magic; the illuminations, groupings, transformations are wonderfully complete; the costumes suggest dreams of Arabian Nights, and the Alhambra,—gorgeous, appropriate, and harmonious; underlying all, is quite an interesting plot, pleasing the mind and ear, although the dialogue is not above ordinary. The Land of the Ephemeral, where the monarch beast are born, grow old, and die in twelve hours, is a new and novel stage attempt, and alone worth seeing. The ballet is full, graceful, and devoid of any objectionable or suggestive actions.

Manager Abbey of the Park, evidently "struck oil," and rare good oil at that, when he brought together and perfected his "Humpty Dumpty Pantomime Troupe," and has selected a most appropriate time and place for its first appearance. He has collected an amazing amount of the best talent in clown, pantaloon, juggler, and ad libitum specialties from this country; artists whose reputations are established, and whose faces and names are familiar to old and young. Plot, Humpty Dumpty has none. It is a string of real, solid, clean, wholesome fun and amusing tricks. The scenery is all new and appropriate, and in some scenes dazzlingly brilliant. The costumes are rich and tasteful. The Corps de Ballet, without question, the best which has appeared before our public for years, is led by Mile. Bonfanti, and Mile. Menzies, and is the poetry personified; and baring flesh-colored thighs, which I shall always take occasion to condemn, cannot offend the most fastidious taste. Matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

The regular company of the Boston are appearing in legitimate this week.—Next Monday evening, Mapleson opens the Italian Opera season, of two weeks, with Mile. Marimon as Prima Donna. The repertoire is "La Sonnambula," "Marta," Tuesday; "La Figlia Del Reggimento," Wednesday; "Aida," Thursday; "Linda Di Chamouni," Friday; grand matinee, Saturday.

GAZETTE. The Tourists have found good company, and intend to stay for awhile longer; any of our readers troubled with the blues, are advised to see them immediately, and they will be shaken to their heart's content, literally and metaphorically.

MUSEUM. "Our Girls" is receiving splendid representations by the company and delicacy of the company of the house, who do not stint their support or applause. The great Irish-American Bourcault, is to appear here shortly.

OBITUARY. We notice by the Rome Sentinel, that Mr. Isaac Singleton, for many years a resident of Quincy, died suddenly in that city on the 12th inst., of heart disease.

Mr. Singleton came to Quincy in 1856, and worked for about six months for Mr. Joseph W. Whiting. He was then employed by Mr. Alvin Rogers, as foreman of his currying shop, for eight years. Mr. William Pantou then secured his services for two years; after that he went into business for himself for a short time. Being unsuccessful in business he let himself to Mr. William Giesler for four to five years.

At the time of his death he was an Alderman at Rome, N. Y., and the Mayor and Common Council attended his funeral in a body. He leaves a widow and seven children to mourn his loss.

A family pet, a cat aged nineteen years, named Puk, owned by Horace Abercrombie, Esq., of Braintree, a brother of our late townsman, Wyman Abercrombie, died a few days ago.

Sunday Services. FIRST CHURCH. Rev. D. M. Wilson, pastor; Sunday School at 9.30 A. M.; Church services at 10.50 A. M.—Christmas Vespers at 7 P. M.

CHRIST CHURCH. Rev. Thaddeus A. Snively, Rector. Services at 10.30 A. M. and 7 P. M. The Sunday School will meet 12 o'clock. The Friday evening service will be omitted until further notice. The Rev. Phillips Brooks will preach next Sunday evening. All are welcome.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. and 7 P. M. by Rev. George E. French. Sabbath School and Bible Class at 11.45 A. M. Prayer meeting in the Chapel every Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. by Rev. E. A. Perry. Sunday School immediately following.

For the Patriot.

The Drama.

Roston, December 26, 1879. Many seasons have passed since the "Spectacular" has received such a production as is reached in "Enchantment" at the Globe Theatre. The eye is dazzled from first to last with a series of marvellously gorgeous, bewildering, intermingling, ever changing pictures which glide from one into the other verily as if by magic; the illuminations, groupings, transformations are wonderfully complete; the costumes suggest dreams of Arabian Nights, and the Alhambra,—gorgeous, appropriate, and harmonious; underlying all, is quite an interesting plot, pleasing the mind and ear, although the dialogue is not above ordinary. The Land of the Ephemeral, where the monarch beast are born, grow old, and die in twelve hours, is a new and novel stage attempt, and alone worth seeing. The ballet is full, graceful, and devoid of any objectionable or suggestive actions.

Manager Abbey of the Park, evidently "struck oil," and rare good oil at that, when he brought together and perfected his "Humpty Dumpty Pantomime Troupe," and has selected a most appropriate time and place for its first appearance. He has collected an amazing amount of the best talent in clown, pantaloon, juggler, and ad libitum specialties from this country; artists whose reputations are established, and whose faces and names are familiar to old and young. Plot, Humpty Dumpty has none. It is a string of real, solid, clean, wholesome fun and amusing tricks. The scenery is all new and appropriate, and in some scenes dazzlingly brilliant. The costumes are rich and tasteful. The Corps de Ballet, without question, the best which has appeared before our public for years, is led by Mile. Bonfanti, and Mile. Menzies, and is the poetry personified; and baring flesh-colored thighs, which I shall always take occasion to condemn, cannot offend the most fastidious taste. Matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

The regular company of the Boston are appearing in legitimate this week.—Next Monday evening, Mapleson opens the Italian Opera season, of two weeks, with Mile. Marimon as Prima Donna. The repertoire is "La Sonnambula," "Marta," Tuesday; "La Figlia Del Reggimento," Wednesday; "Aida," Thursday; "Linda Di Chamouni," Friday; grand matinee, Saturday.

GAZETTE. The Tourists have found good company, and intend to stay for awhile longer; any of our readers troubled with the blues, are advised to see them immediately, and they will be shaken to their heart's content, literally and metaphorically.

MUSEUM. "Our Girls" is receiving splendid representations by the company and delicacy of the company of the house, who do not stint their support or applause. The great Irish-American Bourcault, is to appear here shortly.

OBITUARY. We notice by the Rome Sentinel, that Mr. Isaac Singleton, for many years a resident of Quincy, died suddenly in that city on the 12th inst., of heart disease.

Mr. Singleton came to Quincy in 1856, and worked for about six months for Mr. Joseph W. Whiting. He was then employed by Mr. Alvin Rogers, as foreman of his currying shop, for eight years. Mr. William Pantou then secured his services for two years; after that he went into business for himself for a short time. Being unsuccessful in business he let himself to Mr. William Giesler for four to five years.

At the time of his death he was an Alderman at Rome, N. Y., and the Mayor and Common Council attended his funeral in a body. He leaves a widow and seven children to mourn his loss.

A family pet, a cat aged nineteen years, named Puk, owned by Horace Abercrombie, Esq., of Braintree, a brother of our late townsman, Wyman Abercrombie, died a few days ago.

Sunday Services. FIRST CHURCH. Rev. D. M. Wilson, pastor; Sunday School at 9.30 A. M.; Church services at 10.50 A. M.—Christmas Vespers at 7 P. M.

CHRIST CHURCH. Rev. Thaddeus A. Snively, Rector. Services at 10.30 A. M. and 7 P. M. The Sunday School will meet 12 o'clock. The Friday evening service will be omitted until further notice. The Rev. Phillips Brooks will preach next Sunday evening. All are welcome.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. and 7 P. M. by Rev. George E. French. Sabbath School and Bible Class at 11.45 A. M. Prayer meeting in the Chapel every Friday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

UNIVERSALIST CHURCH. Preaching at 10.30 A. M. by Rev. E. A. Perry. Sunday School immediately following.

SPIRITUAL MEETING. Mr. Joseph D. Slites will speak at Temperance Hall, Granite street to-morrow, at 2 o'clock.

ATLANTIC UNION MISSION. Preaching at two o'clock by Rev. C. Baker, theme, "Christ Crucified." Followed by Sabbath School. Praise and prayer meeting at seven o'clock, at C. H. Hall's, Squantum street.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH WOLLASTON HEIGHTS. Sermon by the Pastor, Rev. Wm. Hague, D. D. at 10.45 A.

The Quincy Patriot.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1879.

Single Copies 5 cents.

For Sale at
The Old Colony Railroad Depot, Boston,
T. H. Duggan & Co's Store, West Quincy,
George H. Smith, North Braintree, Smith's Periodical Store, and at
The Patriot Office.

| WEEKLY    | ALMANAC   | Full Sea   | Moan       |
|-----------|-----------|------------|------------|
| Dec. 27   | 10:45     | 11:00      | 6:45 A.M.  |
| Dec. 28   | 11:15     | 11:45      | 6:45 A.M.  |
| Dec. 29   | 12:00     | 12:15      | 5:41 P.M.  |
| Dec. 30   | 12:30     | 12:45      | 6:45 A.M.  |
| Dec. 31   | 1:00      | 1:15       | 7:51 A.M.  |
| Jan. 1    | 1:45      | 2:00       | 8:57 A.M.  |
| Jan. 2    | 2:15      | 2:30       | 10:04 A.M. |
| Full Moon | Dec. 28th | 10:44 A.M. |            |

New Switch.

We notice by the Concord, N. H., that the new switch patented by our townsman, John A. Duggan, is being successfully tried in that city. We give the following description:—

"The Concord Railroad put in a new switch just before the signal at the lower end of the station to-day, which attracted much attention, and promises to be an important and safe improvement in railroading."

It is known as Duggan's Patent switch, and consists of an eight-foot compound rail, that revolves half way around within chairs, that also hold the rail of the main track, which is fastened immovably to the sleepers. The rail is constructed that it is impossible to be a wheel off of it, passing over it in either direction, and is made of iron metal.

The switch was patented last year and is now coming into general use. It is a combined switch and guard rail, easily operated, and without strain upon the switch rod. The inventor, J. A. Duggan, of Quincy, Mass., is superintending the work. Another of these switches is to be put in at the corner of the station, and the Northern Railroad will have some in their railroad yard."

Braintree.

John Cavanaugh has been moving the large carriage house bought by Lyman B. Morrison at the auction sale of buildings of the late James P. Thordike. The size of the building is 28x40, and for which Mr. Morrison paid $140.

Business at the tannery is still very active. The machinery runs both night and day. They are finishing 2000 sides per week, which is a large increase on production at this season. Mr. Drinkwater has about 10,000 sides in process of being finished. He gets the most of his stock from California, where the tanning process is performed. There has been a rise on the quality of leather since the manufacture of about $2.50 per side.

A. S. Morrison & Brothers, woolen manufacturers, have been and are still busy. They have ordered a new set of machinery which they intend to put into their new mill. This, when started, will obviate the necessity under which they have labored of running the machinery nights as well as in the daytime. There has been a great rise on wool. The same quality of wool which cost 36 cents per pound in March, now costs 60 cents per pound.—Observer.

Two beautiful tablets have recently been placed upon the grave of Col. Wm. S. Hamilton, son of Alexander Hamilton, which has for a long time been unmarked in the cemetery at Saratoga. The stones are of polished Quincy granite, the headstone bearing the following inscription: "Col. William S. Hamilton, son of Gen. Alexander Hamilton, born in New York Aug. 4, 1797, came to California in 1849, and died here Oct. 9, 1859. In size and feature, in talents and character, he most resembled his illustrious father. A friend erects this stone." The friend is Cyrus Woodman, of Cambridge, Mass.

Eighty-five years ago, The South Carolina and Georgia Almanac for 1784, a copy of which has fallen into the hands of the Charleston, (S. C.) Free Press, contains a table in which the populations of the chief cities of the United States are set down as follows: Philadelphia, 42,520; New York, 30,000; Charleston, 20,000; Boston, 18,000; Baltimore, 15,500; Newport, 6,000. At that time the entire population of the country was less than 4,000,000.

Father Kelley of the Catholic church in Randolph, is working wonders in the temperance cause in that town. Through his efforts hundreds have taken the pledge, and the liquor business has been closed up. Most of the night rowdism has been abolished, the public reading room opened by Father Kelley, affording an agreeable resort for those who have heretofore been tempted into the rum-shops.

A large pond at South Carver, which covers an area of some six hundred acres, within two or three weeks has commenced rising without any apparent cause, the water having previously been at an unusually low stage. In a single week the rise was four inches.

The total value of merchandise and specie exports of the United States for the month of November, 1879, and excess of exports over imports of $125,412,514. The decrease of exports excess over the corresponding period of 1878 was, however $75,000,000.

PHRENOLOGY. We have received from the publishers, S. R. Wells & Co., New York, the Illustrated Annual of Phrenology and Health Almanac for 1880. It is an interesting and valuable work, and should be found in every household. Price 10 cents.

It appears that there are twenty-nine parochial Roman Catholic schools in Massachusetts, with a total of 15,439 pupils. Of these twenty-nine schools ten are in the city of Boston alone, and ten are in Worcester and other towns in the western part of the State.

Carrollton, Ga., charges a license $2.50 for the privilege of selling liquor in that town by the quart or less, and $2.00 for selling in amounts more than a quart.

Our Boston Correspondence.

DECEMBER 24, 1879.

The war on popular rights in the State of Maine. Condemnation by honest men of all parties. Activity of the Republicans to reduce the great outrage. The sudden approach of winter on the State. Shipping curtailed. An easy market with slight business depression. The close of 1879.

The most exciting topic of the week commented at large by the public press, is the political muddle in the State of Maine. At the time of my writing, matters look very serious in the Pine Tree State. But the Republican party are on the alert, and mean to turn the tables upon the conspirators. The Democratic party of Maine is loud in its condemnation of the "counting out" process of Gov. Garcelon and his seven associates. Serious as matters look to-day, we believe that the evil will be corrected, and the popular will sustained. The evidence of fraud and duplicity on the count out process has clearly come to light, and the great steel meets with emphatic denunciation by honest men of all parties. The popular will can never be set aside without retribution, and any party that attempts that game will be sure to meet with condign punishment. Governor Garcelon's course is a repetition on a smaller scale of the great fraud by which in 1876, Tilden was cheated out of the presidency, to which he was legally elected.

The Republicans of Maine are acting with great vigilance and activity to redress the great wrong there on popular rights, and mean to place the State Government at all hazards into the custody of their party, where it belongs. This is commendable. Had the Tilden party pursued the indignation course in 1876, as now in the full tide of operation by the Republicans of our sister State of Maine, Mr. Tilden would now be President of the United States.

Winter has at length come among us, but with a slight warning of its severity since Sunday last. The thermometer reaching in many places to zero. Sleight in Boston and its environs is good, and the merry sleigh bells resound in all quarters. There is a little temporary business just now, but it is only temporary. The money market is easier than the past fortnight and the year is likely to wind up with more satisfactory balances of accounts than for some time past. Your old correspondent X, heartily wishes a Merry Christmas to the Editors and patrons of the Quincy Patriot, one and all.

Weymouth Correspondence.

For conduct unbecoming a member, the Delphic Council have ordered that Miss P. Garvey of East Weymouth be expelled from the order.

The street leading from Elliot to Hunt's avenue, has been widened and graded. A petition to the Selectmen is in circulation for the widening of Hunt's avenue.

The tenth anniversary of the Delphic Lodge of K. of P. was observed at Washington Hall on Friday evening, Dec. 19th. At eight o'clock the hall was filled with members and invited guests to the number of three hundred and twenty-five. Your correspondent being one of that number, is able to report the following order of exercises. After a fine overture by White & Langford's orchestra, the Chaucerian Commander S. Daecy, announced G. V. C. Wilson, who gave an address of welcome; following, little Miss Daisy Cushing, but seven years old, was called upon, and gave a fine selection in reading entitled "Poor Little Joe," which was generously and justly applauded by the audience, and in response to the second call she read "Aunt Tabitha." She was followed with a song by Mrs. Jennie Worster, Mr. W. Burrell accompanist. After which followed a song by Mrs. Eva Baker; Mr. Louis E. Tilden presided at the organ. The ninth in order, Mrs. W. E. Cushing, the talented recitator of East Weymouth, read a choice selection. To an encore she responded with another fine selection, entitled "Money Musk," which received great applause. A song followed, by Mrs. Ida Burrell, which received much attention. After which a banjo solo was given by Mr. G. L. Shaw in a very artistic manner. Mr. Nate Wheeler was then called upon and gave one of his humorous songs. Thirteenth, music by the orchestra; after which a vocal duet by Mrs. Ida Burrell and Mrs. Benson. Nate Wheeler was again called and gave another song. Rev. Mr. Nordell and Alverdo Mason made brief remarks. Chaucerian Commander Daecy then invited the guests and members to the banquet hall, where a first-class turkey supper was in waiting, spread by caterer George Davis, who says that he always gives a plenty.

At the sound of the cornet the lower hall was soon filled with gay dancers, who held the fort until 2 o'clock, when the pleasant company, with best of feeling, dispersed, all saying that this was the best of the ten anniversaries given by the Lodge.

Services appropriate were held at the Baptist Church last Sunday afternoon. After voluntary on the organ, the Christmas anthem was sung by the choir. The Rev. Mr. Nordell then delivered an appropriate sermon from a portion of the first chapter of Luke. After which, quartette singing by Mr. E. W. Arnold, E. Graves, Mrs. Eva Baker and Newcomb; prayer and benediction.

SONG. We have received from Spear & Debnhoff, music printers, 717 Broadway, N. Y., a beautiful piece of music entitled, "My heart bleeds for Old Ireland." Words by B. C. Curtis, music by F. A. Stadler.

NUMBER OF PIECES. There are 22, 640 pieces in a ton of stove coal, so says the Arlington Advocate. About fifty persons competed for three prizes offered by George S. Dulano of Medford, Mass., for the nearest guesses as to the number.

A. A. Child at Oppenheim, near Johnston, N. Y., six years old, has an upper lip extending below the chin. When fed he is obliged to raise the lip with a spoon. He was not born so, but the lip has grown. Otherwise he is like other children.

Summary of News.

DECEMBER 24, 1879.

A lead mine has been discovered in Wrentham. A black fox has been seen in the woods at South Orleans. A history of Weymouth is being prepared for publication. A Chinaman at Little Rock, Ark., has a book printed in 1203.

Postal cards now almost universal, started in Austria, in 1855. Scarlet fever of a malignant type is very prevalent at Fall River. American commerce to China has nearly doubled in the last year.

A Madison (Ind.) flour mill has a German order for 20,000 barrels. Forty degrees below zero at St. Paul's, Minnesota, on Christmas morning. A ton of pure gold is worth just $602, 700.21, and pure silver $37,704.84.

The Phoenix House, at Dedham, has recently sold at auction for $2,000. A few over 1000 women are registered in Boston as school committee voters.

St. Louis has received orders to export 1,500,000 bushels of wheat to Germany. The first gold mine in the United States was discovered in South Carolina, in 1790.

Sunday was the 200th anniversary of the landing of the Pilgrims—Forefathers' day. A large piece of rock fell from the centre of the Horseshoe Fall at Niagara last week.

Arkansas has 3,397 miles of navigable watercourse regularly traversed by steamboats. There are now 125 inmates in the prison at Dedham, 90 of whom are bottoming chairs.

There are seven hundred saw mills in Maine, established because capitalists are not willing to invest in the State.

A dividend of three dollars a share will be paid by the Old Colony Railroad Corporation Jan. 1.

Thursday was the one hundred and first anniversary of the first Universalist Church. It was built in Gloucester. Twelve years ago, Texas shipped only 75,000 bales of cotton. Last year she shipped 1,000,000 bales.

Eggs exported all the way from Chicago last month, were eaten at Dublin breakfast tables two weeks later. The great cathedral at Cologne has been burning for six hundred years, and is not yet completed.

There are 1070 women in Worcester who pay a tax on $24,275.378 of property, and 124 more who own bank stock which is taxed.

The annual exports of Texas, as reported by the Houston Telegraph, are $50,000,000, of which $30,000,000 is brought in through cotton alone.

The ceremonial opening of the Boston, Hoosac Tunnel & Western Railway, known as "Gen. Bart's route," took place at North Adams, on Monday last.

Denis Kearney, the agitator from California, arrived in Boston last Monday. He appeared about the same as he did a year ago, while stumping the state in the interest of Gen. Butler.

The Austrian emperor has forwarded as a present to the new Roman Catholic cathedral of Boston an altar worth $1000. It is to be sold at auction for the benefit of the building.

Wachusett mountain with the carriage road and the hotel at the summit, has been sold by the assignee of the Wachusett Mountain Company to Charles Brigham of Pittsburgh, for $7000.

DISTRICT COURT. The following criminal business has received prompt attention at the Court Room this week: William H. Kennedy, of Haverhill, for disturbing a meeting at Haverhill. Found guilty and fined $5 and costs.

Thomas A. Kelly, of Weymouth, for keeping a liquor nuisance, was fined $50 and costs. The liquor seized from Seth Record and Michael L. Cushing, of Weymouth, by the officers of that town, was declared to be forfeited to the Commonwealth.

A hearing was had in reference to liquor seized from Edward Prior, 24, of Weymouth, and then the case was continued for two weeks.

James Riley, of Boston, for vagrancy at Quincy. Sent to the House of Correction for three months.

John McDonnell, of Boston, for vagrancy at Quincy. Found guilty and sent to Dedham for four months.

Curtis I. Randall, of Quincy, for an assault on William F. Loud. Fined $5 and costs.

Potaska, the great Specific for Diphtheria. Potaska cures all Sore Throats. Potaska cures Croup. Potaska cures Sudden Cold. Potaska cures Coughing in the Throat. Potaska is readily taken by Children. Potaska is invaluable to Public Speakers and Sold by all druggists.

Births. In this town, Dec. 21st, twin sons to Mr. and Mrs. Albert T. Rodman.

Marriages. In this town, Dec. 24th, by the Rev. W. Harlow, Mr. Edward C. Corliss to Miss Jennie Smith, both of Quincy. In this town, by the Rev. D. M. Wilson, Mr. Wm. Jabez Wilson to Miss Amelia Ann Davis, both of Braintree.

Dec. 18th, by the Rev. Mr. Wilson, E. Granville Pratt, Esq., to Miss Henrietta B. daughter of Mr. Seth Pratt.

Deaths. In this town, Dec. 25th, Mr. Charles S. Dean, aged 21 years, 6 months and 2 days. Funeral from his father's residence, this afternoon, at 2.30.

He was a young man of more than ordinary mental endowments, and will be painfully missed not only by his parents and relatives, but by his numerous associates and friends, whom he has often made glad by his kind and joyous spirit.

Special Notices. G. A. R. The regular meetings of Paul Revere Post, No. 88, are held at Rev. Hall, (over H. W. Gray's store), on the 23rd and 4th Wednesday evenings of each month, at 7.30 o'clock. P. W. PARKER, Commander. EDWARD A. SPEAR 24, Adjutant. Quincy, Jan. 11

Spend Your Money and Have Something to Show for it.

Useful Presents for the Holiday.

GLASS and CROCKERY in all the Latest Styles. LAMPS, just the thing for a Present. TABLE CUTLERY of All Kinds. We invite your attention to our large stock of goods at Boston Prices.

CHAS. B. TILTON, 19 HANCOCK ST., Next to Hodges' Bakery.

Quincy, Dec. 13.

THE MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO. offers the largest assortment of the best and cheapest Calfeon and Hamlin Organs in the world. The lowest prices for every style of organ. Awarded such as: two highest medals at Paris Exposition, 1876. One to twenty one stops. $125, $150, $175, $200, $225, $250, $275, $300, $325, $350, $375, $400, $425, $450, $475, $500, $525, $550, $575, $600, $625, $650, $675, $700, $725, $750, $775, $800, $825, $850, $875, $900, $925, $950, $975, $1000. Also, grand and pipe organs, and every style of organ. Sent by express, freight and cartage free. MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., 124 Tremont Street, Boston, Dec. 27-28.

1880. HARPER'S BAZAR. Illustrated. This popular periodical is pre-eminently a journal of the household. It is supplied with every number with the latest information in regard to fashions in dress and ornament, the latest and most approved patterns, with descriptive articles derived from scientific and original sources, while its stories, poems and essays on social and domestic topics, give variety to its columns.

The volumes of the Bazar begin with the first number for each year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of the order.

HARPER'S PERIODICALS. HARPER'S MAGAZINE, One Year, $4.00. HARPER'S WEEKLY, " " 4.00. HARPER'S BAZAR, " " 4.00. THE THREE ABOVE-NAMED PUBLICATIONS, One Year, 10.00.

Any TWO above named, One Year, 7.00. HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE, One Year, 1.50. Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States or Canada.

The Annual Volume of HARPER'S BAZAR, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by mail, postage paid, or by express, free of expense (provided the freight is paid by the subscriber), for $7.00 each. A complete set of each of the rate of $2.25 per volume, "right of the expense of purchase."

Cloth Cases will be sent by mail, postage paid, for $1.00 each. Enclosures should be made by Post Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

1880. HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE. Illustrated. The efforts of sensational literature for the young are well known, and the want of an antidote has long been felt. This is supplied by HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE, a beautifully illustrated weekly journal, which is equally devoted to the interests of the young and the young people, and of that moralizing tone which breathes the youthful spirit.

The volumes of the Young People begin with the first number, published in November of each year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of the order.

HARPER'S PERIODICALS. HARPER'S MAGAZINE, One Year, $4.00. HARPER'S WEEKLY, " " 4.00. HARPER'S BAZAR, " " 4.00. THE THREE ABOVE-NAMED PUBLICATIONS, One Year, 10.00.

Any TWO above named, One Year, 7.00. HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE, One Year, 1.50. Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States or Canada.

INDUCEMENTS FOR 1880 ONLY. Thirteen Numbers of HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE will be furnished to every yearly subscriber to HARPER'S WEEKLY for 1880, or HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE and HARPER'S WEEKLY will be sent to any address for one year, commencing with the first Number of HARPER'S WEEKLY for January, 1880, on receipt of $5.00 for the two Periodicals.

Remittances should be made by Post Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss. Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

1880. HARPER'S WEEKLY. Illustrated. This periodical has always, by its able and scholarly discussions of the questions of the day, as well as by its illustrations—which are prepared by the best artists—exerted a most powerful and beneficial influence upon the public mind.

The weight of its influence will always be found on the side of morality, enlightenment and refinement.

The volumes of the Weekly begin with the first Number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of the order.

HARPER'S PERIODICALS. HARPER'S MAGAZINE, One Year, $4.00. HARPER'S WEEKLY, " " 4.00. HARPER'S BAZAR, " " 4.00. THE THREE ABOVE-NAMED PUBLICATIONS, One Year, 10.00.

Any TWO above named, One Year, 7.00. HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE, One Year, 1.50. Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States or Canada.

The Annual Volume of HARPER'S WEEKLY, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by mail, postage paid, or by express, free of expense (provided the freight is paid by the subscriber), for $7.00 each. A complete set of each of the rate of $2.25 per volume, "right of the expense of purchase."

Cloth Cases will be sent by mail, postage paid, for $1.00 each. Enclosures should be made by Post Office Money Order or Draft, to avoid chance of loss.

Newspapers are not to copy this advertisement without the express order of HARPER & BROTHERS.

1880. HARPER'S WEEKLY. Illustrated. This periodical has always, by its able and scholarly discussions of the questions of the day, as well as by its illustrations—which are prepared by the best artists—exerted a most powerful and beneficial influence upon the public mind.

The weight of its influence will always be found on the side of morality, enlightenment and refinement.

The volumes of the Weekly begin with the first Number for January of each year. When no time is mentioned, it will be understood that the subscriber wishes to commence with the Number next after the receipt of the order.

HARPER'S PERIODICALS. HARPER'S MAGAZINE, One Year, $4.00. HARPER'S WEEKLY, " " 4.00. HARPER'S BAZAR, " " 4.00. THE THREE ABOVE-NAMED PUBLICATIONS, One Year, 10.00.

Any TWO above named, One Year, 7.00. HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPLE, One Year, 1.50. Postage Free to all subscribers in the United States or Canada.

The Annual Volume of HARPER'S WEEKLY, in neat cloth binding, will be sent by mail, postage paid, or by express, free of expense (provided the freight is paid by the subscriber), for $7.00 each. A complete set of each of the rate of $2.25 per volume, "right of the expense of purchase."

HOLIDAY GOODS.

—AT—

G. F. WILSON'S.

—O—

We just received a large stock of Pocket Knives, Razors & Cutlery.

Smoke Wilson's Free and Easy Cigar, 5 cts.

—O—

TEAS. TEAS. TEAS.

Oolong, 40 cts. per lb. Japan, 40 cts. per lb. Fine Oolong, 50 " " Fine Japan, 50 " " Choice Oolong, 60 " " Choice Japan, 60 " " Best Oolong, Imported, 70 " " Best Japan, Imported, 70 " " English Breakfast, 70 " " Young Hyson, 70 " "

A fine assortment of Ale, Lager Beer, Cider, Wine & Liqueurs.

—O—

Coffee. Coffee. Coffee.

Best O. G. Java, 35 cts. per lb. Best M. B. Mocha, 35 cts. per lb. Good Java, 30 " " Maricabo, 25 " " Rio, 20 " " Caspe, 25 " " Rio, Best, 25 " " New Era, 15 " "

For the best 10 cent Cigar in town, smoke SMUGGLER.

If you want to make a friend a present call in and look at our stock of MEERSCHAUM and BRIAR PIPES, HOLDERS and CIGAR CASES.

—O—

Flour. Flour. Flour.

W. L. St. Louis, $8.50 per bbl. Jack Frost, $10.00 per bbl. Illinois Central, 9.00 per bbl. Choice, 10.00 per bbl.

—O—

ALL KINDS OF Bread, Pastry, Plain and Fancy Crackers.

Pure Confectionery, 20 Cts. per Pound.

Franklin Mixed, Cream Almonds, Chocolate Drops, Peppermints, French Mixture, Fig Paste, Cigarettes, Caporals, Vanity Fair, Old Judge & Gems.

—O—

PROVISIONS. PROVISIONS.

Mutton, Lamb, Beef, Veal, Chickens, Turkeys, Sausages, Fish, Pork, Sausages, Hams, Butter, Lard, Cheese, Tripe, Liver, Sausage Meat, G. C. C. Quails, Partridges, Eggs, Oysters, Dutch and Pine Apple Cheese, Breakfast Bacon, Tongues, Dried Beef.

A large stock of Oranges, Lemons, Figs, Nuts and Canned Goods.

—O—

FANCY GROCERIES.

Toilet Soap, Bay Rum, Cologne, Rose Water, Extracts, Blackings, Sardines, Olives, Pickle Limes, Salad Oils, Mustard, Sliced Corn, and a large assortment of Imported Goods too numerous to mention. Call and examine our Stock. We are selling out our stock of Tobacco and Cigars at cost prices.

—O—

GEORGE F. WILSON.

Quincy, Dec. 20.

—O—

TO LET.

FOR Professional or other purposes, two rooms, finished in oil, in the Robertson House, Quincy. Rent, $1 per week. Apply to J. H. HOBART, Secretary. Quincy, Nov. 15.

TO LET.

FOR Professional or other purposes, two rooms, finished in oil, in the Robertson House, Quincy. Rent, $1 per week. Apply to J. H. HOBART, Secretary. Quincy, Nov. 15.

TO LET.

FOR Professional or other purposes, two rooms, finished in oil, in the Robertson House, Quincy. Rent, $1 per week. Apply to J. H. HOBART, Secretary. Quincy, Nov. 15.

TO LET.

FOR Professional or other purposes, two rooms, finished in oil, in the Robertson House, Quincy. Rent, $1 per week. Apply to J. H. HOBART, Secretary. Quincy, Nov. 15.

TO LET.

FOR Professional or other purposes, two rooms, finished in oil, in the Robertson House, Quincy. Rent, $1 per week. Apply to J. H. HOBART, Secretary. Quincy, Nov. 15.

TO LET.

FOR Professional or other purposes, two rooms, finished in oil, in the Robertson House, Quincy. Rent, $1 per week. Apply to J. H. HOBART, Secretary. Quincy, Nov. 15.

TO LET.

FOR Professional or other purposes, two rooms, finished in oil, in the Robertson House, Quincy. Rent, $1 per week. Apply to J. H. HOBART, Secretary. Quincy, Nov. 15.

TO LET.

FOR Professional or other purposes, two rooms, finished in oil, in the Robertson House, Quincy. Rent, $1 per week. Apply to J. H. HOBART, Secretary. Quincy, Nov. 15.

TO LET.

FOR Professional or other purposes, two rooms, finished in oil, in the Robertson House, Quincy. Rent, $1 per week. Apply to J. H. HOBART, Secretary. Quincy, Nov. 15.

Old Colony Railroad.

DEPOT CORNER OF SOUTH AND KNEELAND STREETS, BOSTON.

On and after Monday, Dec. 1, 1879.

Trains leave Quincy for Boston.

6:0

Poetry.

Album Lines.

Like the violet dew bespangled,
Unobscured by mortal care,
Crowned with modest, radiant beauty,
Your life seems a work of art.

Happy as a sparkling brooklet,
Onward flowing to the sea,
Winning all life's rarest jewels,
Ever be my wish for thee.

DR. C. A. McFARLAND.

Agricultural, &c.

Market for Canned Beef.

Up to the present time, all the cattle that have been shipped from this country to England have been heavy, choice, ripe steers; but even while this has been going on, we have been sending a large amount of beef, taken from the lower grades of our cattle, to the same foreign markets that we have been supplying with our choice cattle. We refer to the canned beef that has been shipped from different portions of the United States to Europe within the past two or three years. It seems that this canned beef has now become firmly established as an article of foreign commerce. We learn, upon good authority, that an agent of the Russian government has lately offered to take every pound of canned beef that one of the largest canning establishments in Chicago could possibly furnish for a term of years. The offer, however, was declined, for the reason that the general market is good enough for this kind of meat, so that it is no object for the parties to enter into any such contract. This canned beef trade is yet in its infancy; but there is now no doubt that the business is to cut as important a figure in the matter of helping to absorb our large cattle supply as the shipment of beef on the hoof and in the carcass.—Dr. J. J. Journal.

A LARGE YIELD. It having been lately stated that Gen. Gibson, of St. Paul, Minn., that 100 bushels of wheat had been raised on an acre in the Territory of Montana, and his statement having been doubted, he wrote to the President of the First National Bank in Helena for proof. In reply the General received the certificate of the president and secretary of the Territorial Fair Association that James L. Ray, of Lewis county, was awarded first premium for the best acre of wheat, being one hundred and two bushels to the acre. This is believed to be the largest yield of wheat on record.

The matter of windows in stables is one of vastly more importance than some farmers think. Animals no more than vegetables, can thrive in the dark. Our long winters are sufficiently trying to the constitutions of our farm stock, under the best circumstances, and an animal upon which the sun scarcely shines at all for five or six months of the year, even in the spring in a bad state of health, even though the feed and ventilation and the temperature have been all right.

An old poultry-raiser who believes in milk for fowls, says: "It is both meat and drink. Some of the finest chickens I ever saw were raised upon the free use of milk with their food. Hens lay as well, or better, when furnished with this than upon any known article offered them."

More than 5,000,000 cans of corn are now packed in Maine, annually, and sold in every part of the world, yielding a business to that State of about $1,250,000, and giving profitable employment from 8,000 to 10,000 people during the packing season.

The best time to feed grain to cattle is after a frost of day.

Potatoes weighing four and a quarter pounds are common in Georgia.

Yellow corn is the most nutritious.

Anecdotes.

"Have you any pneumonia in the house, ma'am? It's excellent for clauding point," said Maggie the other day to her mistress.

"You mean ammonia, don't you, Maggie?"

"No indeed, ma'am; I mean what I say. I have had an education as well as any other body," vigorously answered the domestic, as the villain came down upon the shirt bosom with renewed vigor.

"What shall I bring you for a desert, sir?" said a polite waiter at a fashionable hotel, as he commenced to remove a formidable array of empty dishes from before a guest, evidently from the rural districts.

"Now, young man," said he, "just you give me time; all you've got to do now is to fill all those dishes up again the same as they were before, and bring 'em here; by-me-by we'll talk about your pies and your puddings."

"Mountain, said a five-year-old the other day, "I wish you wouldn't leave me to take care of baby again. He was so bad that I had to eat all the sponge cake and two jars of raspberry jam to amuse him."

Creditor.—"How often must I climb three flights of stairs before I get the amount of this little account?"

Debtor.—"Do you think I am going to take a place on the first floor to accommodate my creditors?"

An Irishman was accused of stealing a handkerchief of a fellow-traveller, but the owner, on finding it, apologized to Pat and said it was a mistake.

Arab's jewel, retorted Pat, "it was a two-sided mistake—you took me for a thief and I took you for a gentleman."

One evening as Elsie, three years old, was saying her prayers to her mamma, she said:

"Oh, mamma, mayn't I say the 'Spider and the Fly' instead of 'Gentle Jesus, for a change'?"

Deservedly popular. We mean Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, for it never fails to cure a Cough. Physicians recommend it. Price only 25 cents a bottle.

MEDICINAL WINE. Physicians from the New York Board of Health, have visited the Vineyards and Wine Cellars of Alfred Speer of New York City; he is known to be one of the most extensive producers and dealers in Pure Medicinal Wines and Brandy in the United States. He makes a Superior Port Grape Wine, which took the highest premium at the Centennial. It is extensively prescribed by physicians as the most reliable Port for medicinal purposes. It is sold by A. G. Durgin, druggist.

SEE A WOMAN! In another column, picking grapes for SPEER'S WINE. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals and by the first-class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to European or California Wines; excellent for ladies and invalids.

Sherrin & Co., Marshall, Mich., want an agent in this county at once, at a salary of $100 per month and expenses paid. For full particulars address as above.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR. LIVER DISEASE and indigestion prevail to a greater extent than probably any other malady, and relief is almost invariably secured. Indigestion or watery stools, the liver causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Bad Taste in Mouth, Bilious attacks, palpitation of the heart, depression of spirits or nervous prostration. SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has been discovered for the ailments just named. It is mild, effective, and being a simply vegetable compound, can be used with safety in every case. It has been used for forty years, and hundreds of thousands of the country will vouch for its virtues.

of Alabama, Gen. John R. Gordon, of L. Mott, of Columbus, Ga., are among the hundreds to whom we have received a letter from Mr. Alexander H. Stephens, dated March 8, 1872: "I have used your SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR, with good effect. It is mild, and suits me better than most active medicines."

REGULATOR. It is not the quantity of food taken that gives strength, life, blood and health. It is the thorough digestion of the food taken that gives strength, life, blood and health. Therefore, do not starve the stomach with food, but rather assist digestion after eating by taking SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR. ORIGINAL AND GENUINE, MANUFACTURED ONLY BY J. H. ZEILIN & CO., PHILADELPHIA PA. Price $1.00. Sold by all Druggists.

Make the Children Happy. THE NURSERY. $1.50

A Monthly Magazine for Youngest Readers. STUNNING ILLUSTRATIONS. Sent 10 cents for a Sample Number and Premium List. JOHN L. SPOREY, 36 Broadway, New York, N.Y.

DIO LEWIS' SANITARIUM. (For the CURE OF INFLUENZA) at Arlington Heights, Mass.

STANDARD FOOD. Commonwealth of Massachusetts. PROBATE COURT.

TO the Heirs-at-Law, Next-of-Kin and all others interested in the Estate of GEORGE W. NEWCOMB, late of Quincy, in said County, deceased.

Whereas, certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased has been presented to said Court for Probate, to which Court said instrument has been referred for examination, and the Court has determined that said instrument is the last will and testament of said deceased, and that the executors therein named.

You are hereby directed to appear at a Probate Court to be held at Quincy, in said County, on Monday, the second day of January, next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, against the said instrument.

And said Petitioner is directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once a week, for three successive weeks, in a newspaper published in said County, prior to said day, the last publication to be two days, at least, before said Court.

Witness, GEORGE WHITE, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this tenth day of December, in the year one thousand eight hundred and seventy-nine.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE. NOTICE is hereby given that the subscriber has been duly appointed Administrator of the Estate of PRUDENCE S. WOOD, late of Quincy in the County of Norfolk, widow, deceased, and has taken upon himself that trust by giving bonds, to the said Court.

All persons having demands upon the estate of said deceased are required to exhibit the same; and all persons indebted to said estate are called upon to make payment to the said Administrator.

JOHN Q. A. FIELD, Administrator. Quincy, Dec. 10, 1879. 2w

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate. BY virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain Mortgage Deed given by Edm. M. Sparrow to the Weymouth Savings Bank, dated March 27th, 1876, and recorded with the County of Norfolk, in Book 445 and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section 2, in said County of Norfolk, and bounded northerly by said mortgage, and for the purpose of foreclosing the same, will be sold at public auction on the premises hereinafter described, on MONDAY, January 6th, 1880, at 3 o'clock, P. M., all and singular the lands and tenements therein described, to-wit: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon, situated in that part of Quincy, called 'Wollaston,' being Lot 1 in Block 4, of Section